THRIFT VS. DRIFT

Are you practicing THRIFT or DRIFT? There's a vast difference. The thrifty individual travels the road leading to success while the person who just drifts along with the tide, so to speak, never gets very far. Thrift and a bank account are synonymous terms—they go hand in hand. Bank with us; we want to help you be thrifty.

PRESBYTERY OF ABILENE IN SESSION HERE

The Presbytery of Abilene of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., met in regular spring session, in the First Presbyterian church of this place last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The moderator, W. H. Cook, of Breckenridge, called the meeting to order and presided until his successor was elected in the person, Rev. S. P. Collins who is also pastor host. The roll call revealed the following ministers present:

J. T. Bryant, Cisco; S. P. Collins, Cross Plains, pastor host; R. W. Dowell, Tuscola; L. R. Hogan, Eastland; V. C. Howard, Baird; H. T. Manley, Snyder; A. L. McClellan, Spur; J. A. Owen, Albany; J. Wood Parker, Post; J. J. Richardson, Painsam; G. D. Robinson, Ranger; Fred S. Rogers, Stamford; H. C. Schneider, Breckenridge; E. B. Surface, Abilene; Jas. H. Tate, Fluvanna; Ben Hallock, Rochester; Geo. W. Fender, Arlington; E. C. Cargil, Seymour; J. W. Brown, Santa Anna; the last three being visiting members.

Congregations were represented by ruling Elders as follows:

T. S. Lankford, Abilene; T. O. Gordon, Albany; J. J. Holden, Avoca; S. E. Settle, Baird; J. H. Williamson, Cross Plains; W. L. Diltz, Merkel; E. C. Tarvin, Zion; W. D. Marshall, Sabalino; A. B. Carrothers, Rochester; A. R. Christopher, Tuscola; Roy Millard, Tye.

At the request of the moderator, Rev. H. C. Schneider, pastor at Breckenridge, preached an inspiring opening sermon.

Delegates, ministers and visitors from various quarters of the Presbytery were arriving during all the afternoon of Tuesday. These were received at the splendid new Presbyterian church, where a well organized group of women served a very palatable supper in the spacious and commodious church basement. In this connection, we will say that similar meals are being served to all in attendance, at noon and evening hours each day. All visitors are being cared for in the homes of the local members of the church above mentioned.

Devotional services were conducted at the opening Wednesday session, by Rev. J. W. Parker of Post City. Following which routine work was taken up. Rev. Jas. H. Tate, pastor at Fluvanna, was appointed assistant stated clerk and reporter.

The committee on foreign missions made report in connection with which telling and inspiring addresses were made by Rev. E. C. Cargil of Seymour, Rev. J. C. Robinson of Ranger, Rev. Geo. W. Fender of Arlington and Rev. E. B. Surface of Abilene.

Following some brief reports, Rev. G. W. Fender delivered the sermon at 11 a. m.

The time is thoroughly filled and the meeting is proving both business like and inspiring to all in attendance.

Jas. H. Tate, Reporter.

CHRYSLER AGENCY OPENED HERE BY C. E. MOTOR CO.

The C. E. Motor Co., Chrysler dealers with headquarters to Coleman and an agency at Rising Star, have established an agency here with service department, located at present at the West Texas Motor Co. under the local management of C. F. Scott, who was with Covington-Shepherd Automobile Exchange at Fort Worth for some time with eighteen salesmen under his supervision, according to J. D. Conner, general manager of the company, of Coleman, who was here Tuesday. Mr. Conner says that he believes Cross Plains offers great opportunities for Chrysler agency. He is favorably impressed with the town and the future possibilities offered. He states that O. F. Martin of Dublin, will be associated with the agency here as salesman. Note their announcement in this issue.

We welcome this new business enterprise to our city and wish them success.

Three New Wells Started Past Week

Craftin-Reynolds are drilling two new wells south of Cross Cut. They are drilling at 300 feet on their J. B. Newton No. 2, south of No. 1, and are drilling at 400 feet on their John Keller No. 1, southeast of Eubank lease.

Tom Bryant spudded in on a wildcat four miles northeast of this city on the Pinkston lease, Wednesday. This will be a deep test.

Storm Damage

Wednesday of last week a tornado swept through the central part of Coleman and Brown counties, taking a path averaging a mile wide, destroying homes, injuring a number of people and causing a property damage estimated at $200,000. The storm traveled like a drunk man, taking a zig zag course, traveling at the rate of about six miles per hour, in a general course northeast. Many people went to their storm cellars, which no doubt saved many lives, as a few who did not were taken to the hospital. Those who have storm houses seem to have a big advantage when a tornado passes by.

Liquor Charge

Local officers McMillan and Hamilton arrested a man a few miles north of town, Monday morning and filed charges of transporting whiskey against him. He was taken to Baird later. The officers state that he had two gallons and a half of corn whiskey in his car which was stuck in a mud hole. The man apparently inebriated some of his stock and was wrapped up in a blanket asleep when the officers found him early in the day.

GRAVE OF INDIAN CHIEF IS FOUND

Albany, March 29.—Remains of an Indian, buried with his horse and hunting weapons in preparation for the expected trip to the Happy Hunting Grounds, were unearthed by workmen engaged in building a highway from Albany to Ineders.

The Skeleton was that of a man about six feet tall and beside it were the bones of a horse, bows and arrows, beads and many other trinkets.

A gold band ring was found on a finger. Examination disclosed that it was crudely hammered from gold and molded to fit the wearers finger.

With the horse's skeleton was a Mexican "Jaw-breaker" bit. Many people have viewed the contents of the grave, which are now on display at Sheriff Orien Riggs' office here.

MUCH EXCITEMENT

Much excitement prevailed here for a while Tuesday before noon, as three suspicious characters were taken for probable bank robbers—but nothing happened, and business settled to normal again. The strangers likely will never know the excitement they caused.

Nolan Bransford of Shreveport, La. visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Clark last week.

HOME OWNERSHIP

Are you a home-owner, or do you pay rent? The money that goes to pay the rent is gone, but money invested in a home is saved. There's a big difference. If you would be interested in building a home, we want to figure with you. It has truly been said, "there is no place like home" and every family should be home-owners.

NEW OFFICIALS SWORN IN, BECOME ACTIVE

The new city officials were sworn in last Thursday night by J. W. Westerman, retiring mayor protem. Those to be sworn in were, mayor Martin Neeh; aldermen, Chas. Hemphill, Russell McGowan, Dee Anderson and Ross Wagner. A. C. Dodson was the only member of the old council to carry over this year.

Immediately upon being installed into office, the new council was called on to take some action relative to painting and repairing the big city water tank, and after investigation it found that it needed attention, so a contract was let to Pyle Bros. Iron Preserving Contractors, to clean, paint and repair said tank and to service it for six years. Mr. Pyle stated that a tank of this kind would cost approximately $18,000.00, so it is to the city's interest to take good care of such valuable and necessary property. Some time you can spend a dime and save a dollar, and as the old adage goes, "a stitch in time saves nine", Mr. Pyle has his crew at work on the tank.

Miss Lucile Carter visited in Baird this week.

FOUR SCHOOL TRUSTEES ELECTED, NINE IN RACE

Elmer Vestal, Clyde Walker, S. C. Barr and Gene Atwood were elected school trustees Saturday. The vote was as follows:

W. A. Williams	42
E. I. Vestal	86
Mrs. W. R. Wagner	34
Clyde Walker	57
Jim Settle	56
Gene Atwood	68
S. C. Barr	60
S. C. Sipes	33
A. C. Dodson	34

Jeff Clark, S. R. Jackson and Martin Neeh, carry over this year, being the last members of the old board elected.

The public is urged to co-operate with the school board in every way possible to improve the school.

Budgie Baum and Buster Robertson left for Fort Worth Friday night in a Chrysler coupe owned by Budgie, and just this side of Eastland they turned over, the car catching fire and burning up, while the boys sustained cuts and bruises and Buster's hand was broken.

DRESSY DOTS (By Coker)

The Sunday School children of Dressy community were very much disappointed by the weather on Easter Sunday, as they had prepared a program to be rendered at the M. E. church and planned an egg hunt. It seems that the weather man is no respecter of seasons.

F. W. Stacey received word on Tuesday morning that his mother, Mrs. Fore, who is ill in Cross Plains sanitarium, had made a change for the worse.

Ed Henderson says there is no longer any superstition about him, after losing four games in succession at forty-two, he threw away his asafoetida and announced that he would be back on the next quarter of the moon, which is the 13th, and play the house for the Coconocla.

Mr. Chapman, the village black smith, started in with a full determination to shingle his front porch, but was disappointed to find that he did not have enough chewing tobacco to finish the job.

Mr. Geo. Baum is up and about again. You can't keep a good man down.

Norrell Long and wife spent the blustery weather during the past week with his wife's father. They say "he sure has a swell storm house."

NEW ICE FACTORY OPENS, 30 TON PLANT

The Texas Water Utility Co. has just completed a 30-ton ice plant here, with new and modern machinery and equipment throughout. They will start delivering ice from the plant this week. Barry Bros. Storage Plant here and their ice factories at DeLeon, Gorman, Rising Star and Comanche have been acquired by the Texas Water Utility Co. and the storage plant here will be used to handle cream through arrangements with Armour & Co. it is stated.

Everett A. Roberts of Dallas, is here as manager of the company's factory and properties and he believes in the present and future of Cross Plains.

Mrs. F. A. Warren won the breakfast room Suite given away at the Cross Plains Hardware Store Saturday as a climax to a demonstration on Kyauize Varnish and Enamels.

We are pleased to report that Tom Bryant is back home after being confined to hospital at Fort Worth, where he was given special treatment for several days, and he is much improved in health.

BIG SNOW FALLS HERE EASTER SUNDAY

A heavy snow fell here Easter Sunday, but melted as fast as it fell, followed by sleet and rain—an unusual record at this season. Ladies with new Easter frocks ventured out attired in winter furs and coats, while the men wore overcoats instead of straw. Perhaps we will get to see all those beautiful Easter frocks next Sunday, if the weather permits.

The snow flakes fell thick and fast, and they were unusually large. It was an interesting sight and was observed by all—through windows. Some say they have seen snow in May, but many of us saw the record broken Sunday, with in our observation.

CARD OF THANKS

We so thank our many friends for the kind things that were done for us, the words of sympathy and beautiful flowers, that were so much comfort to us in our sorrow.

The Wagner Family.

Tom Marsh and family visited in Eastland Tuesday. Tom attended a Piggly Wiggly Convention there.

LOOKING AHEAD

Are you looking into the future and drawing a mental picture of yourself ten years from now? The person who looks ahead usually provides for those inevitable "rainy days" by saving a part of his income as a "nest egg" to draw on when the reverses come. Are you doing that. If not, start to-day. As bankers, we want to help you grow financially, as well as otherwise.

GONE IN THE DAIRY BUSINESS

(Another Frog Story By Dr. Mary Shelman)

Mrs. John Moore of Cottonwood, tells Dr. Mary the following story:
"With fingers weary and worn and eye lids heavy and dull" from the routine of the days work, roping off calves, milking, breaking up "sot'n" hens, looking after the "biddies" and the "piggies" and a thousand and one other things a farm lady has to do; Mrs. Moore sat down with a sigh—"well I've got a minutes rest. Uh! that churning yet to be done."
Mrs. Moore pulled herself out of her easy chair and made her way to the cellar where the cream was, she lifted the churn, carried it into the kitchen and set it on the floor.
Mr. Moore comes forward, rolled up his sleeves to relieve his wife of this daily task—the churning. Mr. Moore pulled the cloth off the churn, screamed with a backward move.
Mrs. Moore startled at this unusual procedure, preparatory to her husband's daily task, stepped a little closer to investigate her husband's behavior. Lo! and behold there sat a toad on a huge ball of butter, alternately patting it first with its fore feet then patting it with its hind feet.
Mrs. Moore gazed at the frog and the frog gazed at her. The frog winked at Mrs. Moore (affirming his qualification) and Mrs. Moore threw up her hands thanking and praising God for having sent her a helper, as Mr. Moore would be away much in behalf of his political career.
"Thou hast saved us from five hundred strokes with the churn dasher". "Well done Thou good and faithful servant!" "I will make thee master over all the churning".
Mrs. Moore tells she had plenty fresh butter milk and butter for the men's lunch on the rabbit drive; and besides plenty butter for Dr. Mary, Dr. Longbotham and Jeff Clark's Grocery Store to buy her an Easter bonnet.
Mrs. Moore says she is going in the dairy business on a large scale.
Hats off to the frog.
(At this writing Mr. Moore hadn't fully recovered.)

OBITUARY

John Hamilton Hoover, son of John and Adelaide Krider Hoover was born August 16th, 1853, in the farm home at Stephens City, Frederick County, Virginia.

His boyhood days were passed in the turbulent era and troublous times of the Civil War. The family estate fronted on the famous pike, down which at the age of eleven years, the deceased watched Sheridan make his historic ride from Winchester to the battle field at Cedar Creek.

Receiving his preliminary education in a private school in Virginia, he later entered the State University of West Virginia at Morgan Town.

Answering the call of the west he went to Iowa, in 1874 where he entered the office of Dr. McJearry, who became his medical preceptor, as was the custom of those times.

Subsequently graduating from the State Medical College at Iowa City, he began the practice of medicine at Clyde, Kansas, later moving to Atchison.

In 1880 he was married to Miss Maggie Sangster, of Luray, Virginia. In 1883 Dr. Hoover located at Haddam, Kansas, where in 1885 his wife died, leaving an infant daughter, Margaret who died at the home of her aunt and foster mother in Winchester, Va., in 1917.

After the death of his wife, Dr. Hoover entered Ensworth Medical College at St. Joseph, Mo., from where he was graduated in 1887.

He was married to Miss Jessie Evelyn Chase, October 10, 1888, and to this union were born four children, Dr. R. Kenneth Hoover of Artesia, N. M., Dr. Roderic C. Hoover of Cross Plains, Texas, Mrs. Henry Pelesky of Haddam, Kan., Dr. Ladd Hoover, Pittsburg, Pa.

The engaged in the practice of medicine for nearly half a century, Dr. Hoover yet found time to fill many public offices and to play his part in the stirring events of the early days of Kansas statehood.

He was the first mayor of the town of Haddam, City and county health officer, examiner for the United States Pension Bureau under Cleveland's administration and though at an advanced age he applied for and received reserve commission in the World War. He was a member of the I. O. O. F.

He was of pioneer stock, his ancestors coming to Virginia prior to the Revolutionary War, his maternal grand-father taking an active part in that conflict.

His adventurous instinct led him to participation in numerous incidents in the pioneer days of the middle-west among them the race at the opening of the Cherokee Strip.

Of aggressive spirit and indomitable will he lived his life to the utmost. He died April 3, 1928, in Cross Plains, Texas, where he was visiting his son. The youngest of four children, he is survived by a brother, Hugh Hoover, a sister, Mrs. Blanche Huber, a niece, Miss Nellie Huber, all of Stephens City, Va., a sister, Mrs. Annie Samsell, having died in 1917. His wife, three sons, a daughter, three small grand-sons, Henry Hoover Pelesky, Lesley Leigh Pelesky, Ladd Rust Hoover.

Friday, April 6, 1928 at 2:30 P. M. after an eloquent prayer and sermon by Rev. S. P. Collins, pastor of the Presbyterian church. His favorite hymns, "Old Rugged Cross" and "Sometime We'll Understand", sung by the choir and the beautiful service of the I. O. O. F. Interment was made in Cross Plains cemetery.

Mrs. Hoover and children wish to express their thanks for and appreciation of the many kindnesses and helpful sympathy, and beautiful flowers received from the people of Cross Plains.

An unusual number of errors appeared in the Review last week. We are at a disadvantage just now; our linotype operator is laid up with a broken leg from a ride on a motorcycle, and we have been "getting by" the best we can until he gets back on the job. In one article last week the same word was spelled three different ways. Yet it could have been worse.

Historic Trees

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S proclamation, setting aside the week of April 22 to 28 as American Forest Week and urging that "where practicable and not in conflict with law or custom, Arbor Day be observed during the course of the week," should make all Americans "tree-minded," in that they should "give thought to the preservation and wise use of our forests." It might be well also to give thought to some of the famous trees which have stood or are still standing on the soil of the United States and which have played their part in the history making of this nation. In fact, so important has been the role of trees in American history that the American Tree association a few years ago established a hall of fame for trees and immediately citizens in all parts of the country, proud of the historic trees in their communities, nominated them for places in this gallery of honor.

Although nearly every state boasts of one or more trees which is well known locally or throughout the state, there are comparatively few which are or have been objects of national veneration. There are three, however, which are probably known to every American. First of these perhaps is the Washington Elm in Cambridge, Mass., under which George Washington took command of the Continental army on July 3, 1775. The long and honored career of this tree, then more than 250 years old, came to an end in August, 1923, when the whole trunk cracked and fell while workmen were pulling a dead branch from it.

Another famous tree of the same species was the Treaty Elm on the banks of the Delaware river under whose branches William Penn and the Indians made "the only treaty between these people and the Christians that was not ratified by oath and that was never broken," an agreement that gave the famous Quaker title to the land which later became the great state of Pennsylvania. The Treaty Elm was blown down in 1810 and its age at that time was estimated to have been 283 years.

The third in the trilogy of "most famous trees" was not an elm, but what schoolboy does not know the thrilling history of the Charter Oak which once stood in Hartford, Conn. In its hollow trunk it once held the charter of the colony of Connecticut where Capt. Joseph Wadsworth placed it when the lights were suddenly extinguished on that historic occasion in 1687 when Sir Edmund Andros who had been appointed royal governor of New England, demanded that the assembly surrender to him this symbol of their liberties as English citizens. And when the Charter Oak was uprooted by a storm in 1856 the whole state of Connecticut went into mourning, church bells were tolled and this great oak, which was believed to be between 700 and 1,000 years old, is the only tree on record for which "funeral services" were ever held.

Although the following is by no means a complete list of all the historic trees in the United States which have been registered in the tree hall of fame or otherwise honored by the American people, (some of them still

Birds Public Benefactors

Contrary to popular opinion, says the biological survey, various birds eat even the hairy types of caterpillars. Like those of the tussock gypsy and brown tail moths, and the tent caterpillars. That bureau has found forty-five species of birds which feed extensively on the alfalfa weevil, while sixty-six attack the cotton boll-weevil. Orioles will pick weevils out of the squares or flower buds of the cotton while swallows feed on them when in flight and extending their range. Mallard ducks have been effectively used in ponds for mosquito control. Red-eyed vireos seem to be attracted by fall webworms, while cutworms form a large part of the diet of starlings, crows and jacksnaws. Blackbirds help to keep down the number of boll worms and many other pests. Sparrows and other birds have been observed to clean up infestations of termites. Birds should be regarded as an ever-present force that should be kept at a maximum efficiency by protective measures so that their service could be utilized whenever possible.

Book Borrowers, Attention
A borrowed book is like a borrowed umbrella. The only time it recalls itself to the borrower's attention is at the moment when it is too badly needed to be spared. At other times it crawls away and makes itself thoroughly at home in its new environment, until at last it no longer recognizes its own proper master.—Exchange.

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

FRED NIBLO
Photoplay Director, writes:
"To a moving picture director there is no comfort or luxury like a good cigarette. Such a cigarette I have found in 'The Lucky Strike'—and during the filming of big pictures like 'Ben Hur' I smoked 'Luckies' even while directing in the open air thousands of supernumeraries, and never once did I ever suffer from throat irritation."

Modern Suite
Evidently it has remained for California to give the world a new style in architecture. At the recent convention in Detroit, the Georgian, Elizabethan, Roman, Queen Anne, etc., had been discussed as to their relative merits for various parts of the country.

"All very fine," finally interrupted the Californian, "but out our way, we're introducing an entirely new style, to suit our own self-evident needs—a garage for three cars, with a built-in living room."

Diagnosis
"All three doctors found something different wrong with me."
"Didn't they agree on anything?"
"Yes, each charged me $5."

An English inventor's automobile for children is driven by compressed air, having tanks that are filled with a fire pump.

But Very
"Water is a splendid cleaning agent if applied sparingly," says the Woman's Home Companion household editor. "Yes," replied the caustic observer, "tramps discovered this years ago."

If a man has money, he can dabble in science; but if he hasn't, he has to make it pay.

SPELLING MATCHES

We note in the Rising Star Record where they had an old time spelling match at Brooks school house, using the "Blue back" speller. The older people who used the old blue back speller have the younger generation beaten on spelling in spite of our modern system. Not many years ago we saw that thoroughly demonstrated in a spelling match in an adjoining county. After all the seniors and teachers had been forced out of the match, a farmer who learned from the old blue back book was still on the floor, and never missed a word. As the modern boy would say, "he knew his onions."

MILLION DOLLAR SNOW

The Review often reports "million dollar rain" and now we face a new problem. That easter snow was a good one, and Charley Barr wants to know if we are going to call it a "million dollar snow." Well, why not? It probably came near being worth a million dollars than some rains we have reported, but we don't want to get in bad with the ladies.

They were all prepared to step-out in their new easter frocks and that snow played havoc with their plans, so we had better not dwell on the value of that snow, and we believe Charley will agree with us.

LIGHT VOTING

Only 122 votes were polled in the trustee election Saturday. If someone could invent some plan to get folks to vote—it would be worth while. So little interest is ordinarily manifested. Those who do not vote have no right to complain. Many of us appear unconcerned on election day, yet show much interest when some big issue is to be decided relative to the school or the city administrations, after the election. Express yourself at the ballot box first. Several hundred votes should have been cast Saturday, as in the city election.

Miss Ann Epps, teacher, was sick at her home in Brownwood the first of the week, but returned to Cross Plains Tuesday.

Mrs. Watts and daughter, Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. McElroy of Kerville, visited their sister, Mrs. Pat Murphy the past week end.
