Heating And Cooling For The Future

One of the most innovative heating and cooling systems in the Southern United States was recently installed in the Cross Plains area. Called a Pond Loop System, it is part of a relatively new home heating and cooling concept which relies on the constantly moderate temperatures of the earth as a source of indoor climate control.

Ground source systems heat the home in the winter by taking natural heat from the earth by circulating water in pipes which have been placed underground. In summer the same method is used to take heat from the home and circulate it underground to cool it.

The Pond Loop System uses an existing pond or lake to regulate temperatures instead of the earth. Seventeen tons of ground source heat pumps were installed to serve a 6,000 square foot home in this area.

The pipes (or loops) were installed in the pond by attaching them to a raft which was then weighted down with cinder blocks. The system was filled with a mixture of water and glycol, pressurized and sealed.

Operating costs of the system are expected to be less than that of most homes the same size. Ground source heat pumps are becoming economically feasible in homes and commercial buildings. This latest installation is the fourth ground source system in this area.

Users of such systems don't just see a lower heating and cooling costs. They also report savings for water heating averaging almost 60 percent or more because the system can be designed to include the water heater.

At present time there are over 70,000 ground source units operating in the United States. This figure is expected to increase by 25 percent a year.

Ground source units have operated successfully without supplemental heat as far north as Healy, Alaska where temperatures fall to minus 40 degrees. This home was presented the energy innovation award in 1988 by the Department of Energy.

Cross Plains certainly has made its mark on the map today with its energy saving technology of the future.

Down Home

'Little Folks'

By VANDA KING
Editor

The 2 to 4 year olds at the Little League Baseball games make sure there is NEVER a dull moment. You find yourself caught up in these little ones before you realize. I've been guilty of missing some good plays while preoccupied by their activities.

Jonathan Hopkins, Clayton Thomas, and Rainey Bacon provide their own three ring circus. Busy with their individual play they are amazing, but when they interact with each other it is darling. Telling on each other is a great pastime and the expressions on those faces tell it all.

Patricia Hopkins remarked one night, "I know I've been to many baseball games when Jonathan starts calling other ladies, Moma." Of course, Jonathan is loved by everyone. The kids come by and hug him and give him a little twirl, always careful not to harm him.

The adults have a certain attachment to Jonathan, also. He has been through many surgeries since his birth and unfortunately is facing yet another. We all hope the very best for him.

He talks and also signs. Patricia, Peggy Brame, and Matt Sowell are able to communicate with him in sign language. His precious little smile lets you know he is happy, as he wears it all the time.

Clayton is a cute little cotton-top full of energy. He calls my daughter, Eah — pretty close to Leah. He talks so big for his age and expresses his wishes well. You need a pair of track shoes just to keep up with him. His mother, Debbie, stays close behind him.

Then there is pretty little Rainey, daughter of Jeff and Debbie Bacon. With long blonde hair and blue eyes, she always looks like a little model. She calls her Aunt Peggy, "Poppy," and she can communicate well.

Playing in the sand pile and scurrying about, these kiddos kept us all entertained.

This will be the final year for my son, Kye. It is hard to believe that he started in Pee Wee Baseball and has already completed Little League.

We may not be spending as many hours at the ball park next year, but we will be back to watch some of the others. The Pee Wee players are cute, and I was impressed at their skills in the sport already.

The Little Leaguers were capable of making fantastic double plays and great hits and catches. The theory of Pee Wee baseball does improve the quality of players later on.

Congratulations to the Buffs and the Angels and good luck in the All-Star games and the Pee Wee Tournament!

City Council Minutes

June 4, 1991

This was a regular meeting of the Cross Plains City Council. Members present were Mayor Ross Gerking, Ted McKeehan, Gary Childers, Betty Lewis, and Edwin Weiss. Joe Holland was absent. The meeting was called to order at 6:30 p.m. The minutes of the last meeting were postponed until later in the morning due to the amount of business on the agenda.

Mr. Harold Womack met with the council to discuss a drainage problem he faces on his property. Mr. Womack was informed that the city employees would look at his problem and do what the city could to help alleviate his problem.

Harold Shaw, architect for the prospective physicians wanting to locate in Cross Plains met with council to propose their plan for the old City Hall building. Betty Lewis moved to lease the old City Hall building to the physicians for $1 per year for 3 years with the stipulation that they pay the utilities and insurance. Edwin Weiss seconded and motion carried unanimously.

Edwin Weiss moved to accept the release of the old City Hall building from the Chamber of Commerce. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried.

Mayor Gerking entertained a motion to pay Debbie Gosnell for the Judge's work done for the month of May since the resignation of then City Judge, Jim Irwin. Ted McKeehan moved to pay Gosnell for this work. Edwin Weiss seconded and motion carried.

Ron Trenary met with the council to discuss the council firing City Chief of Police, Steve Williamson. It was Mr. Trenary's opinion that the council should fire Mr. Williamson because he felt that the Chief had not properly investigated an altercation his son had been involved in. Mr. Williamson pointed out that he had informed Trenary that if they wanted to file charges in the case, he should come down to City Hall and do so. Williamson also informed the council that the Trenarys never came to City Hall to file any charges, therefore the need to investigate was null. The mayor told the Trenarys that if they wanted the incident investigated, they must file charges. The Trenarys indicated that they did want to file charges and would be down the next morning to file.

Ted McKeehan moved to pay the bills. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried.

By general consent the council instructed Gosnell to contact Don Clark and advise him that the City still denies removal of the 8-10 inch post oak tree from his property. If he feels further action needs to be taken, he will need to take the necessary steps.

Steve Williamson, Chief of Police, met with the council to discuss several police matters. He had statistics from area towns comparing the crime rate to that of Cross Plains, in comparison to the amount of officers for those towns. He also discussed the condition of the patrol car. He asked the council to consider hiring another patrolman on a 6 month trial basis. He thanked the council for their time.

Kathryn Tunnell asked the council if they were going to read the minutes of the last meeting and should they have read them at the first of the meeting. The council informed her why they had waited, because of the length of the agenda. Gosnell read the minutes of the last meeting. Ted McKeehan moved to accept the minutes as read. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried. Mrs. Tunnell stated that that cleared up several matters. The council pointed out that those minutes had been in the paper.

Ted McKeehan moved to take bids on an intermediate and full size patrol car. Edwin Weiss seconded and motion carried.

Ted McKeehan moved to accept applications for a second patrolman for the police department on a 6 month trial basis. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried.

Edwin Weiss moved to appoint Ted McKeehan as Mayor Pro Tem. Betty Lewis seconded and motion carried.

Betty Lewis moved to go into executive session. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried.

Discussion was held on the applicants for city judge, judge's salary, and city employees' salaries.

Ted McKeehan moved to go out of executive session. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried.

Ted McKeehan moved to raise the judge's salary from $200.00 monthly to $300.00. Edwin Weiss seconded and motion carried.

Betty Lewis moved to appoint Bob Hill as City Judge. Ted McKeehan seconded and motion carried. The Judge's position will be evaluated every 6 months. His term will run concurrent with the Mayor's term.

Ted McKeehan moved to give Mark Norris $100.00 per month raise, and to raise his maximum salary to $1,600.00. Gary Childers seconded and motion carried.

Betty Lewis moved to give Roger Wilson $100.00 per month raise and to raise his maximum salary to $1,600.00. Edwin Weiss seconded and motion carried.

Edwin Weiss moved to give Bill Hedrick $100.00 per month raise and raise his maximum salary to $1,700.00. Ted McKeehan seconded and motion carried.

Gary Childers moved to give Steve Williamson $100.00 per month raise. Betty Lewis seconded and motion carried.

Mission Hotel Landmark Most Remember

(PUBLISHER'S NOTE:) There were quite a few comments after the article and pictures about Putnam appeared in this space a few weeks back. The one landmark most people remember most about the far east Callahan County town is the now-gone Mission Hotel. The other day, Evalyn Scott brought in a history of the hotel written in the 1950's by the late John Berry. I'm reprinting it here along with a photo of the old hotel furnished by Carl White. (DON TABOR)

THE MISSION HOTEL IN PUTNAM, TEXAS

In about 1907 or 1908 a group of men connected with the Texas & Pacific Railroad began the construction of this hotel. After Hettie Green acquired the Jay Gould interests, Hettie's son and his wife were guests there for some time.

A man named Burke was active in the enterprise and Mr. Fred Cotton of Weatherford tells me that his father sold the furniture to Mr. Burke to furnish the hotel. Other men interested in the project were a Mr. Carter and a Mr. Holland. The hotel was first called the Carter-Holland. About the time the hotel was finished a charter was granted for a bank at Putnam. It was the red brick building diagonally across the street northeast from the hotel. Mr. Carter was also interested in the bank and worked there for some time.

It was an impressive structure for this country at that time. Among other items it took 230,000 bricks to build it. Trains at this time carried a heavy passenger traffic and all trains stopped at Putnam. The place became famous for its meals and services and the trains stopped there at meal times and waited on the siding while the passengers ate. When all had finished the engineer tooted the whistle and all loaded up and proceeded.

But change always comes. Automobile travel increased, dining cars were used more, the trains quit "stopping" and the place went into a decline.

One strata of the water sand at Putnam carried a water that tasted very bad. After much trial and error it came to be believed that this water had a therapeutic value, and stories of its healing powers grew with the telling. This was probably based on the old hard-shell premise that what was unpleasant was good for you.

A Dr. Milling, a rubbing doctor, became interested in the place and purchased it with the intention of developing a spa. Dr. Milling was a picturesque character and willing to put forth effort and time to add to the picturesqueness and to remain a character. He was a handsome man with a distinguished air about him. He wore a frock-tailed coat and his long hair reached to his shoulders. He was a convincing talker and was a striking figure. An orchestra was kept to furnish background music for all occasions and to help soothe the nerves of the many patients who came to drink the water and take the baths and treatments. Various groups negotiated with them to play for dances, usually held on Saturday night or on special occasions. The ball room floor was of maple. It was beautiful and also very slick when a little commel was added. There was no air conditioning but the windows were large and arched at the top. The bottoms of these huge windows were hinged on the sides and latched in the center. On hot nights they were opened back and one could step through them by stepping over the low sill. This also made a good seat.

At that time Baird was a division point on the Texas & Pacific. Baird people would hire a passenger coach on Saturday afternoon. About dark everyone who wanted to go to the dance would get on and a freight train would take them to Putnam, leave the coach on the switch, and proceed. When the dance closed, always at midnight Saturday night, everyone went back to the coach and all had a big time visiting until the midnight train which came through about 1 a.m., if it was not late, picked them up and took them back to Baird. These were gay parties.

Change came again. Gradually the activity and the gayety began to diminish. Fewer and fewer patients came. The old place began to doze again. Dr. Milling sold out to the Paynes and in 1919 they sold to Mrs. Mary Guyton, a charming lady, who is the present owner.

Then came the oil boom and the old place woke up with a start. People came from everywhere. It was filled to overflowing and was headquarters for the oil crowd. These are the times that I remember. In the cool shade of the evening the long veranda on the east was crowded. I remember the stories they told up and down that old porch and the trades they made. They swept the dust off the old maple floor, sent a kid down the street after a quarter's worth of meal, and started dancing again.

It was a motley crowd that gathered there. The oil men themselves were of no fixed pattern, and added to this were cowboys and farm boys from Deep Creek, Turkey Creek and the Bayou, a few town boys and occasionally a cedar cutter from the Callahan divide, with his best girl.

Abe Brennan, the old heavyweight prize fighter was there. He was for years a top contender but never a champion. He said that Jack Johnson was not knocked out by Willard but that he was fat and lazy from soft living and just quit. Had a picture to prove it showing the referee counting him out while he lay on the mat shading his eyes from the hot Havana sun with his gloved hand. He told us just about the time, years ago now, when Tom Sharkey fought Jefferies. Old Tom was a sailor, had fought on the water-fronts of the world and had never been whipped. He hit Jefferies harder and harder knowing after each lick that he hadn't hurt him one bit. Finally he hit him so hard he broke his arm and with his arm his heart. This was the first man he had ever seen that he couldn't hurt. He crawled through the ropes with his broken arm and his broken heart and never fought again. Old Abe never quite reached El Dorado. It was always just beyond his grasp, a little further on. He went back to New Jersey and was Police Chief at Trenton. For years he sent a Christmas card to Mrs. Guyton; then they quit coming. These were the hotel's gayest and most prosperous times.

Then the boom began to subside. The exploration was over. The wildcatters, the lease hounds, the gamblers and the hangers-on began to drift out. The fields settled down to routine production. The old place began to doze again and gradually lost occupancy until today no effort is made to operate it as a hotel. Today it is like the poet's school house by the side of the road, "a ragged beggar sunning," changed little from the days when the cluck of wagon wheels were heard on the streets and saddle ponies stood three-legged in the sun along the hitch racks. Its story is one of yesterday, its history a journey into retrospect.

It has been there more than a half century. Mostly gone now are the kind of people the old place knew when it was young, a people sharp along the edges and hostilely independent, determined not to "take nothing from nobody, no time." Gone too are the old ways.

Within a year the highway department will probably acquire the property and Interstate 20 will be built over the site. The old building will be torn down and pass into history. Maybe to be forgotten. I hate to see it go.

School Offices Closed June 24-28

The school offices will be closed June 24 through June 28 for floor maintenance and will reopen on Monday, July 1.

Burkett News

By FREEDA BURKETT

The Burkett School Homecoming was a great success with about 200 in attendance. The building and tables were beautifully decorated with blue and white decorative streamers down the middle of each long table with vases of blue and white (the Burkett School colors), flowers, and blue and white balloons were also used in the decorating.

There was an abundance of delicious food, iced tea, and coffee.

Several classes met on Saturday evening and enjoyed visiting and reminiscing about those schooldays.

The Homecoming board members were Henry Burkett, president, R.L. Cross, vice-president, and Maurine "Punk" (Evans) Clark was secretary-treasurer.

This group did an excellent job picking a speaker for the occasion. He was J. Curtiss Brown, Chief Justice Court of Appeals, 14th District of Houston. He was the eldest son of the late Aubrey and Eva Brown, born in Burkett, and attended his early school years here before his folks moved away. His brother, Jerry Brown of Lovington, was here.

I search, but can't find words to adequately describe a speech so beautifully spoken and holding the attention of the entire audience.

He brought back memories everyone enjoyed and could have listened much longer than time permitted him to speak.

We thank you, Curtiss, and your lovely wife, Lovice, and your children for coming and helping our homecoming be the success it was.

Following the impressive ovation, a short business meeting was held. The first business was to decide where to have the next homecoming. Most, if not all present, wanted to continue having it at the Burkett Community Center, and the time was set for the second Sunday in June 1994.

New homecoming officers elected were R.L. Cross, president; Aleta (Chambers) Coleman, vice-president; and Corene Adams, secretary-treasurer.

Since the roof leaks a lot when it rains, four men were chosen to examine the roof, find out if it can be fixed, and if it can, get an estimate of the cost and report it to the Burkett Community Center board members and also to the School Homecoming Committee to decide if the money can be raised for the necessary repairs. Those chosen for this purpose were Walter Walker, Bill Walker, Virgil Burkett, and Eddie Strickland. There was no other business, so the meeting adjourned and those present did a lot more visiting and picture taking. It was a wonderful fun day for everyone.

Guests in the D.J. Turner home the past week were his niece and husband, Maurine and Maurice Dickey of Sugarland. Their son, Mike and family, Janice and Cliff Turner visited over the weekend and attended services at the Burkett Baptist Church with them Sunday.

Weekend guests of Lanette Burns included Richard Burns, Carlene Sanders, Jessica and Joshua, all of Round Rock, LaFaye Pace of San Antonio, Gerry and Bill Young of Lubbock, and Tommy Gene Burns of Breckenridge.

Guests attending the Burkett Church of Christ Sunday were Hollis Adams of Dallas, his sister, Lucille Bohnstedt of Burkburnett, Texas, Mrs. Floyd Morris of Whon, Verda Brown, former teacher in the Burkett School, and daughter, Zenobia Verner, both of Houston, Mrs. Edna Helms and uncle, Corbett Boyle of Coleman, and Edna's daughter, Joyce Klutts of Smithfield.

The church was saddened because of the sudden death of their minister's father of Baltimore, Maryland. Minister Matthew Morrison and wife, Betty, could not be here, of course. He took an emergency flight to Baltimore to be with his family and attend the funeral. Mike Brady filled in for him with a sermon Sunday morning.

Visitors in the Delbert and Emma Boyle's home Tuesday evening were Lucille Cross, local, and other relatives. Dale Thames and sister, Nancy Blankenship of Shreveport, Louisiana, cousins of Emma and Lueille. They are son and daughter of Carmelita Thames of Brownwood who passed away two weeks ago, and were here today, Tuesday, to attend the funeral of their uncle, Clarence Burkett, brother of their mother.

Virgil and Freeda Burkett spent Thursday night of last week in Zephyr with her sister and husband, D.A. and Celesta Young. The next day Freeda accompanied Celesta to Scott and White Hospital for a checkup and Virgil stayed with David who is unable to be left alone.

Wayne Burks of Granbury visited his uncle, Dalton Gould, Sunday morning and then attended the Burkett School Homecoming.

LeRoy Walker of Colorado Springs, Colorado visited his brothers, William, Walter, and Andrew Walker and their families and his sister, Annie Merle Trent, and husband, H.O., Saturday evening and Sunday morning, and then attended the School Homecoming.

Sympathy goes to the family of Clarence Burkett who passed away at Dennison Hospital Saturday, June 8.

Bennett Annual Reunion Held

The descendants of Cajar Bennett met Saturday, June 8, for their annual reunion. A good time and plenty of good food was enjoyed by everyone at The Arrowhead Estates in Clyde.

Those attending were Gene and Nelda Wilcoxon, John, Kathy, Cody and Courtney Gonzales, Sallie P. Woody, Jim, Thaila Robertson, Matt, David, and Carrie, all of Abilene; Lem and Rosa Yow, Athens; Chuck and Elva Mae Woody, Cross Plains; Willie Mae Cox Henry, Hawley; Marvin Wilcoxon, Jessie Wilcoxon, Cisco; Billy Don, Frances and Billy Dale Bennett, Eula Bennett Hart, Walter R. Wilson, Bruce, Alisa, Thomas, Matt, Tyler, Justin, Jessica and Kayla, all of Three Rivers; Ruby Booth, Rising Star; John and Bobbie Bennett, Jack Hagar, Dallas; Louise Baker, Bedford; Jim and Virginia Willis, Graham; Dorothy Woody, Emma Bennett Woody, Lauren Nigar, Monica, Amanda, Greg Strange, Scott Strange, Jerry, Cheryl Bennett, Shaun, Jason, Kelly, Mike, Kris and Joann Nigar, and Jason and Amanda, and Bud Coats, all of Clyde.

A lot of visiting was done, and everyone enjoyed the day even if it did rain some all day.

Art Club Officer Mistakenly Announced

Wanda Grable is the new Picture Chairman for the Cross Plains Paint and Palette Club. Wanda Merryman was named in last week's newspaper by mistake.

Flowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

Did anyone sleep through the cloud Friday night around 12 p.m.? Thunder rolled from one area to another and strong winds hit with the cloud. The Gibbs place has a new rain gauge that measured 3/4ths of an inch of rain. When the old gauge was checked Saturday, it had a half grown grasshopper and measured 1/2 inch of rain. The grasshopper did not drown, but did get trampled underfoot.

This writer some time last year wrote about a prayer chapel that Robert Watson, with the help of Dorothy Watson, built for their pastor, Rev. Joe Temple of Abilene. The chapel was located on his property at Phantom Lake. Since the death of Joe Temple, the chapel was moved to the Bible Memory Association Camp in Louisiana under the leadership of Joe Temple's son-in-law.

The only visitors of Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin this week were their son and family, Roland Mauldin, Faye and Kenneth.

Lizzie Burks celebrated her 93rd birthday this week. She was sent fresh flowers by her niece, Pansy Johnson, and a lovely bouquet from someone stopping for a few minutes. Emma Johnson did not see the person. Other visitors in the home were Carroll Burks of Abilene, Wayne Burks of Granbury, and Mr. Rabe of Rising Star.

Sunday visitors of Joyce Odom were Ivon Odom of Stephenville and Nancy and Michael Palmer of Clyde.

Don and Maryanna Harrell and daughter, Leigh, and Maryanna's sister and family, Griff and Melissa Andrews and son, Billy of Austin, spent their vacation in Taos and Santa Fe, New Mexico.

THE PIONEER PATCHWORK

By IRMA MILLER

The Quilting Club worked on the Double Wedding Ring and the Puss in the Corner.

This community received .9 inch of rain Friday and another .5 inch Sunday, in two sudden storms. Some residents reported .8 and .9 inches Sunday with a little hail.

Frankie and Oliver Smith attended the Eaves family reunion at Kokomo Community Center and said they had a nice time.

Nell and Joe Fleming received a visit Wednesday from Marie Pancake and Blanche Brooks of the community. JoVeda and Bill Watson and Jim and Charlene Fleming and children helped Joe celebrate Father's Day Sunday.

Billie and H.A. Freeman enjoyed a visit from Henry and Pauline Diehl of Wichita Falls this week.

Friday afternoon and evening John and Irma Miller were in Coleman visiting with relatives and friends.

H. E. And Mary Dennis Descendants Reune

On Saturday, June 15, the descendants of H.E. and Mary Dennis met at the Multi-Purpose Center for their annual reunion. It was well attended, lots of good food, and everyone reported an enjoyable time.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON --A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named product Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 3 weeks on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritionally sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION

AUGUST 10, 1991

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 42 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the newly created county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation a percentage of the market value of the residence homestead of a married or unmarried adult. The percentage exempted could not exceed 20% of such market value, and the amount exempted could not be less than $5,000. The amendment would also authorize county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation not less than $3,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of a disabled person or a person sixty-five years of age or older. Finally, the amendment would authorize elections in county education districts for the taxation of certain tangible personal property exempted from ad valorem taxation by the legislature.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the voters of a county education district to adopt certain exemptions from the district's ad valorem taxation for residence homesteads and to provide for the taxation of certain tangible personal property."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws authorizing Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successor to issue and sell up to $300 million of general obligation bonds to finance educational loans to students. The maximum net effective interest rate to be borne by the bonds would be set by law. The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interest.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide educational loans to students."

Mr. And Mrs. Garland Dale Wheat, Sr. Honored On 50th Wedding Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Dale Wheat, Sr. honored their parents with an open house celebrating their Fiftieth Anniversary on June 13 at the couple's home in Austin.

Dale and Bess met at local NYA activities. Dale, a life long resident of Ranger, and Bess, a life long resident of Rising Star, married July 1941.

With a twenty dollar bill and a three-day pass from the U.S. Army, they went to Weatherford and became husband and wife forever.

World War II raged on; they were destined to spend many days, weeks, months, and even years apart during those early days.

Fifty years have flown by! Strong Christian ties weave the durable fabric of these humble world travelers.

Thousands of miles, exposure to numerous cultures, and three children born to this marriage give evidence of the family that began in the early days of World War II.

Now retired to the rolling hills of Austin, they number their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and other family and friends among their greatest treasures of this life.

SCOUTS ABOUT

By TERRY NORRIS

May and June have been busy months for the scouts. May brought new scouting recruits. New scouts for this year are Matt McGowen, Brian Strickler, Kevin Scott, Cole Koenig, Shane Sharp, Gregory Black, Charlie Clark, Chris Harris, A.J. Carouth, Casey Dudley, and Leighton Wyatt. We welcome them all and the returning scouts for a new year of fun and learning.

The Tiger Cubs had a great day at Nelson Park and the Zoo on May 18. Parents and children competed in various activities all day, then toured the zoo. Cross Plains represented the largest number of scouts for this region.

Receiving badges and prizes for candy sales in February were Johnny Clay, Jason Stroud, Cody Reed, Nicholas Dimitri, Ben Childress, Aaron Norris, Jason James, and T.J. Harris.

The scouts would like to thank Jane and Bob Burke of The Movie Store for their contributions to the Scouts. Also, all the folks at WTU for their help with the can drive. If you have cans to donate call us at 725-6112. We will pick them up anytime.

June Pack meeting followed a hot dog supper.

Carol and Craig Rogers received an appreciation award for Tiger Cub Coordinator and Craig being Cub Master.

Boys graduating from Tiger Cubs and receiving badges were Kevin Wilson, Jeff Worley, Jason James, and Aaron Norris.

Scouts receiving Wolf Badges and gold arrow points were Cody Reed, Charlie Rogers, T.J. Harris, Jason Stroud, Nicholas Dimitri, and Johnny Clay.

Ben Worley received his Bear Badge. David Reed and Chris Carey will graduate to Boy Scouts.

All of our young men and parents were granted charter membership into the Boys Scouts of America.

We look forward to a new scouting year. It's never too late to join us as we discover and share the world we live in.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. CREVISTON, JR.

Reddick-Creviston Wedding Held On April 20 In Dallas

On April 20 Sharon Reddick of Dallas and John C. Creviston Jr. of Irving were united in marriage. The wedding took place at 9 a.m. in a lovely garden-like setting at Westlake Park in Mesquite. The Rev. David Loy of First Baptist Church of Dallas officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Jessie Reddick of Pioneer and the late Lee Reddick. She is a graduate of Cross Plains High School and Cisco Junior College. She is an insurance underwriter.

The bride's dress was of white silk taffeta. Her corsage was yellow and white carnations. Her bouquet was of spring wild flowers. Her maid of honor was Carolyn Clay of Midland. Carolyn's dress was of lavender silk taffeta. She carried a bouquet of wild flowers.

The groom is the son of Frances Creviston of Mesquite and the late John C. Creviston Sr. He is a graduate of Irving High School and is in Tele-Communications.

A brunch was held in the reception hall at the park. Jessa Cotton of Abilene served at the bride's table. Mattie Bush of Dallas served at the groom's table.

After a honeymoon trip to the coast, the couple is at home in Irving.

Those attending from this area were Jessie Reddick of Pioneer, Roy John Reddick of Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Reddick and children of San Angelo, Jessa Cotton of Abilene, and Billy Gilbreath of Abilene.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This is a beautiful Monday morning — sunshine and a cool breeze. Of course, we are grateful for the nice rains — my freshly-mowed grass needs the moisture.

Sunday's services at First Baptist were inspiring. We had good attendance in our Sunday School class. Ella Dean's daughter, Betty, was with us. After church, a lady whose name I did not get, asked me about a cousin, Ricky Dill. He is one of our younger generation, bless his heart!

I called David and Sara McGowen early (as requested). She reports that Howard is better — he is at home. Her family enjoyed a 'camp-out' this last weekend. Allison has been in a 'cheerleader' camp at Tech (Lubbock) the past week.

Betty Beggs gave me a big 'bear-hug' on Sunday morning, and told me they loved me — just made my week! Betty reports this morning that J.T.'s last checkup was just super, and he doesn't have to go back for another six months. J.T. and Betty took Kim's son, David, to Camp Paluxy in Denver, Colorado on Sunday afternoon.

Sally Roady had a very busy week. She visited nearly every day with Ms. Nettie at the nursing home. She visited her brother, Gene Hicks in Rising Star, one day; also with Billie Hicks and Mr. Mack Childers during the week in Cross Plains. Their daughter, Cindy, came by on Saturday (in a truck) on her way to Laredo. They talked to their son, George, on the telephone one evening.

My dear friend, Elvia Keck in Abilene, called me Sunday afternoon. It is always good to hear her sweet voice. Her friendship means so very much to me.

Marianne and George Mack Taff went to Comanche on Wednesday and spent a couple of days with her aunt. They went on to Mason and visited with her father. Later they went to Brady and visited with George Mack's mother.

OLD "SUPERJOCK"
"With regular aerobic exercise — rapid walking, jogging, bicycling, swimming — the heart of a 70 or 80 year old "superjock" can out-perform that of an average 25 year old," says Dr. Jerome Fleg of Natl. Institute on Aging. In a study of 17,000 Harvard alumni, men who walked briskly 9 or more miles a week had 21% fewer heart disease deaths than men who walked less than 3 miles a week.
