Rodenberger Essay Published In 'Women And Texas History'

ABILENE — Dr. Lou Rodenberger, associate professor of English at McMurry University, has had an essay published in the new anthology, "Women and Texas History."

Rodenberger's essay was entitled "Women and Literary Participants in Contemporary Events."

The book, co-edited by former McMurry University history professor Fane Downs, came out of a 1990 conference, "Women and Texas History," sponsored by the Texas State Historical Association. Thirteen of the best essays from that conference are included in the book.

The "milestone" publication, notes Downs in her introduction to "Women and Texas History," represents "the emerging maturity of the field of Texas women's history; moreover, these essays add significantly to our knowledge of the complex and diverse history of Texas."

McMurry University, a four-year liberal arts institution which opened its doors in 1923, is located in Abilene, Texas. Owned and operated by the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences of the United Methodist Church, McMurry has an average enrollment of 1,500 students from diverse heritages and backgrounds. Forty-two majors and eight pre-professional sequences are offered through seven baccalaureate programs. McMurry welcomes the application for admission, and for financial assistance, of all qualified students regardless of sex, age, race, color, national origin, religion, or handicap. Contact the Office of Admissions at 1-800-477-0077; in Abilene, call 691-6402.

Dr. Lou Rodenberger, a native of Eastland County, Texas, earned the Bachelor of Arts Degree and Bachelor of Science Degree from Texas Women's University in 1947 and earned a Master's of Arts Degree in 1967 and Ph.D. in 1975 from Texas A&M University.

Kiwanis Program Of The Year Held

A total of 46 people, including members and guests, attended the Kiwanis Program of the Year given by the Bonehead Club of Dallas. Nine Boneheads from Dallas journeyed to Cross Plains on Tuesday/Friday, July 13-

16, to present their weekly program before the local audience.

The Club is most famous for its Bonehead-of-the-Year Award given to the individual who pulls the biggest "boner" of the year. Recipients have been famous personalities such as Ross Perot, N.B. and Hubert Hunt, Lamar Hunt, U.S. Treasury, Bobby Unser, first girl Boy Scout of America and many others. The greatest distance the club has traveled in one day is to Monterrey, Mexico. Their program was held in the Grand Ancera Hotel lobby for the mayor of the city. Only two programs have been held away from Dallas.

Membership is available in the Bonehead Club for only those individuals interested in total relaxation, light comedy, and personally insulting close friends. More information about membership may be secured by contacting Roy Stambaugh, local member of the Kiwanis Club. In the meantime, membership is also available in the Cross Plains Kiwanis Club, which has almost as much fun and nearly as many Boneheads. The Kiwanis meets every Tuesday morning, Collum's Restaurant at 7 a.m.

Area Teacher Studies In Spain

Longtime Eastland resident and Spanish teacher for Cross Plains High School, Robbye Fullen, has recently returned from Barcelona where she spent two weeks studying with fourteen other teachers from across the United States. The special workshop for teachers of Spanish was arranged through Phillips Academy of Andover, Maine, in conjunction with School Year Abroad. The course offerings included an overview of Spanish history from ancient times through the present day, with special emphasis on the 20th Century and on the Franco years in particular. In addition to the historical background, teachers were exposed to the many varied architectural edifices of which Barcelona boasts. An in-depth study of the Gothic period extended from the classroom to Barcelona's famed Barrio Gotico, an area of the city where Gothic age buildings are still used as shops and homes today.

This artistic study also included works of the Modernist, Antoni Gaudi. Gaudi's magnificent buildings are scattered throughout Barcelona. According to Ms. Fullen, the famed Sagrada Familia is a spectacular work of art. The enormous structure was begun in the late 19th Century and was only partially completed when Gaudi was killed in a tram accident in 1929. His plans for this church, the size of an entire square block, included two "faces". One side of the building dons several sculptures of scenes depicting the birth of Christ. All these sculptures are Gaudi's. The other "face" includes sculptures of scenes which depict the death of Christ. This second face has been completed by a contemporary artist, following Gaudi's original plans. People from all over the world have donated money to help finish this church. It is estimated that construction will last well into the 21st Century. Also, several of the teachers took side trips to the towns of Girona and Tarragona in order to view ruins dating back to the Roman and the Ahrab occupations of Spain.

Approximately one week of the culture study included lectures and museum tours of such noted artists as Picasso, Miro, and Dali. Ms. Fullen was most surprised and impressed with Picasso's early works. He painted excellent realistic portraits as young as fourteen. His "modern art" works came much later in his life. It is said that Picasso was quite the ladies' man, and each time he changed loves he changed his style of painting. A tour through the Picasso Museum proved to be a fascinating revelation to the workshop participants.

Teachers in the program were enrolled in a "home stay." Each participant was housed with a different family in Barcelona. Only Spanish-speaking families provided homes for the Americans in order for them to have optimum practice using the language. The two-week program was conducted entirely in Spanish, and teachers continued this practice during leisure time activities.

SOAPBOX: Did you see Dan Rather's CBS show on Wednesday, July 14?? The show covered the Mississippi flood, focusing attention on several communities and the efforts of citizens to protect their homes and towns from the flood. It showed how much people can do when they work together for a common cause.
No one was ridiculing the efforts of those working or bad mouthing "them" or what "they" were doing.

None of the people were waiting for the city, the county, the state or the feds to help — they were rolling up their sleeves and doing what had to be done themselves.

What a wonderful thing it would be if all our county communities would show such a strong spirit and pitch together to clean up our streets, yards, and homes, and then offer to help with projects for making our towns grow and prosper.

Please remember that the world is filled with "leaners" and "lifters". We should all want to be known and remembered as a "lifter" rather than as a person that never turned a hand to help, a "leaner".

QUESTION: I am a 50% Service-Connected Disability Veteran with a wife and one dependent child. Can I draw any additional compensation to help with their support?

ANSWER: Yes, Veterans rated 30% or more because of Service-Connected disease or injury are entitled to additional compensation for dependents. In your case, you are entitled to draw 50% of the amount allowed for a 100% S-C Veteran.

You would receive 50% of $174.00
(spouse and 1 child) or $87.00 per month.
D-DAY ANNIVERSARY: Your
Veteran's Office is receiving literature regarding trips to England, France, and Europe as the 50th Anniversary (6-6-94) nears. Please drop by or call to learn what is available, (915) 854-1520.

Volunteer Firemen Attend School

Jimmy Brooks Jr., volunteer fireman of the Moran Rural Volunteer Fire Department of Moran, Texas, is attending the 63rd Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 19-24. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus this week.

Firemen can choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Brooks is being sponsored by Callahan/Shackelford County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the state-wide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President S.M. True, Jr. of Plainview. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Moran Rural Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Callahan/Shackelford County."

On May 29 — June 2, Memorial Day weekend, 84 family members gathered for the 2nd annual Woody Retreat at Coleman Lake. Four days of fun and food. There was boating, skiing, swimming, fishing, water balloon fights, early and late night pow-wows and fishing trips, singing, volleyball, horseshoes, and lots of talking and laughing. Teachers Retirement System News

The Teacher Retirement System of Texas is looking for former annuitants — widows or widowers of deceased members or retirees — whose survivor benefits stopped when they married prior to 1980. A new Texas law has now restored their benefits.

State law previously required that benefits stop when a surviving spouse remarried. That law was changed in September 1980 permitting benefits, in future years, to continue for surviving spouses who remarried; however, those who had already lost benefits before that date were not included.

The 73rd Texas Legislature this spring rectified that inequity and passed House Bill 2711 restoring payments to those beneficiaries whose benefits stopped when they remarried.

TRS, however, does not have record of these individuals since their names were dropped from the system database when their benefits ended 13 or more years ago. The retirement system is looking for these individuals so that benefits can be restored to them.

Persons who believe they qualify to have survivor benefits restored should contact the Claims Department of the Teacher Retirement System for information on how to apply. The new law will be effective September 1, 1993. Payments can begin after that date and within one month after an application is filed and approved.

TRS can be reached by calling toll-free 1-800-223-8778 or, for Austin-area calls, 397-6400.

SENIOR CITIZENS STATS

By MARIE HORTON

Our Seniors have survived the wind. We are still needing rain. The Lord will send it when he sees fit, and we will be thankful for it.

Well, I want to mention someone special this week and that's the men at our Center that volunteer to do dishes or whatever needs doing. There's Frank Rone. Have you ever realized how much he helps each day? And I'll tell you right now, no one can handle the trash bag like he can. Dick Dillard, Chuck Woody, John McFerrin, John Masey, Jay Kirkham, August Garlitz, Roy Tatom, Doyle McMillan, Clyde Linker, and Arnold Horton all help with pots and pans, silverware and dishes, and Nash Tucker helps with our kitchen cleanup also. We couldn't make it without them. Some of them lead us in our Blessings for our food.

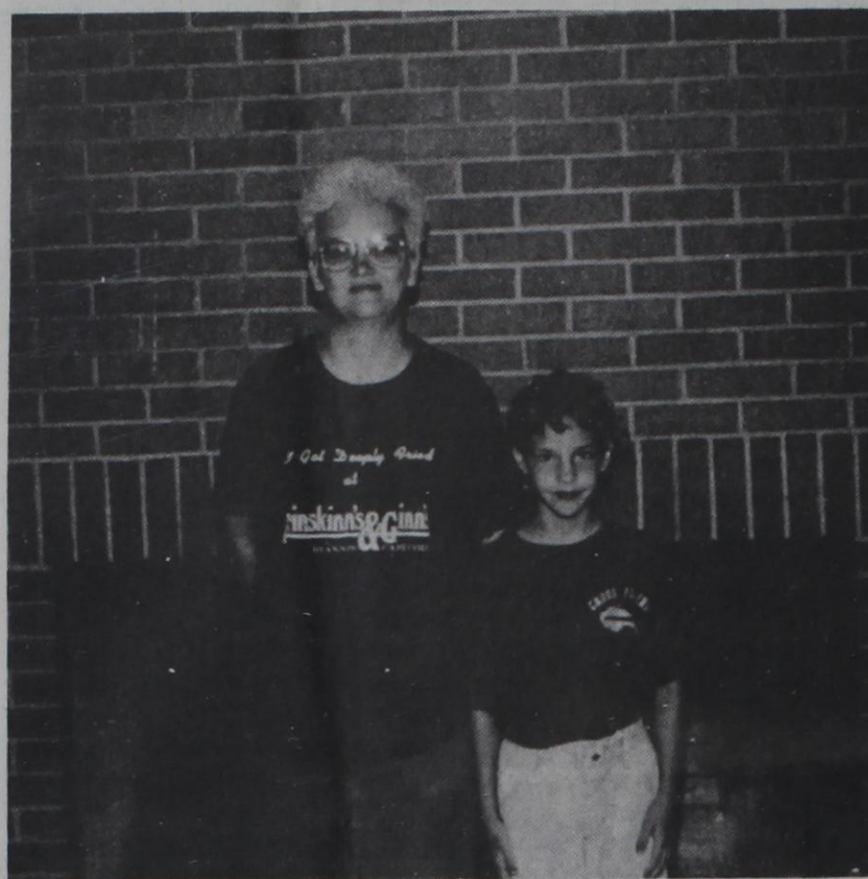

We want to thank J.R. and Alma Key for the delicious tomatoes they brought for us to enjoy.

Our July birthday people are Marie Dillard (6th), Pauline Switzer (8th), Mickie Dillard (9th), Wayne Odom (10th), Melba Cathey (15th), A.B. Rowan (25th), and our volunteer Chris (30th).

Have many more. Hope they will all be happy ones.

Vicky took Paula, Minnie, Delores, Ruby, and Fay to have hot chocolate with Faye Chambers, as she has been unable to come to the Center. She invited us all to her house. That was so nice of her.

Arnold and Marie Horton's grandson, John Dickson, was here this past week and he really enjoyed coming to the Center.

DAUGHTER/MOM PARTICIPATION — Daisy Girl Scouts and their moms went to Camp Wood Lake on June 19. Activities included swimming, hiking, a craft, a cookout, and an evening campfire. All were tired and ready for bed on Saturday evening! Jane (left) and Marie Besselaar of Cross Plains attended.

'Jungle' Yields Unusual Pet Variety

By HARRIETTE GRAVES
Features Editor
Brownwood Bulletin

The Pet Jungle at 910 Main is, as the name implies, an honest-to-goodness jungle comprised of traditional and exotic pets.

Within its doors are housed numerous birds such as Breezy, a Green Wing McCaw, love birds, parakeets, finches, and canaries.

Other species are reptiles, boa constrictors, pythons, iguanas, Chinese water dragons, frogs, and hermit crabs.

Also in the jungle store are Camen alligators, sailfin dragons, mountain boomers, turtles, small snakes, ferrets, hamsters, mice, gerbils, and guinea pigs. Tropical fish have their place in a tank of fresh water, while other fish swim around in salt water.

Keepers of the Pet Jungle are Delbert and Terri Green, assisted by their children, Steven, 10, and Joshua, 10.

"It all started when my son, Steven, wanted a python for a pet. We called trying to get one and were told that pythons are only sold to pet stores," she said. "That night while we were trying to figure out how to get a python in Brownwood, we realized there wasn't a pet store here, so we just opened one."

The Pet Jungle get its pets, which also include dogs and cats, from either local residents or wholesale houses.

"Reptiles are our biggest sellers and our wholesale suppliers provide food for all of our pets, from dogs to turtles," she said.

The Pet Jungle has been open since May 1.

"We love the work and the challenge of taking care of our exotic creatures. Those who stay with us for any length of time begin to recognize us when we bring the food," she said.

Mrs. Green emphasized that none of the pets in the store are dangerous to the human race.

Other species at the pet jungle include savannah monitor, Cuban Knight Aboles, scorpions, tarantulas, newts, cockatiels, doves, and bunnies.

"Opening the store and moving in the pets wasn't the easiest thing we had every done," she said. "Had it not been for our families, we would have never made it."

Terri is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Pringle of Cross Plains.

2 Cases Of Poultry Virus Detected

Two cases of the Avian Influenza virus have been detected in Texas. One is in a rhea in Brazoria County, and the other is in an emu in Lampasas County. (These birds are similar to ostriches). Avian influenza does not affect humans. There are many strains of the virus, and some may cause death losses in susceptible birds in poultry flocks, including ostrich-type birds, chickens and turkeys.

The Texas Animal Health Commission, which is the state's livestock health regulatory agency, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service are advising poultry owners that the cases are under investigation by two federal veterinarians and a TAHC animal health inspector. Dr. Terry Beals, TAHC executive director, and Dr. Paul Jensen of the USDA in Austin, are encouraging producers of chickens and turkeys to boost routine biosecurity practices for added flock protection.

Biosecurity measures are common procedures that should be practiced on a daily basis to ensure the health of poultry flocks. They include disinfecting rubber boots prior to entering poultry houses; wearing clean overalls and head covering in each poultry house; and restricting visitors. Additionally, the tires of feed and supply trucks should be disinfected before making deliveries on poultry operations.

Owners of ratites, the technical name for birds such as ostriches, emus and rheas, should also take routine care. This includes isolating newly acquired birds prior to adding them to an existing flock, keeping an eye out for health problems in the birds, and practicing biosecurity practices similar to those of poultry operators.

Avian influenza is a virus diagnosed by culturing a "swab" from the bird. Signs of the disease include birds with red, running eyes, rasping cough, and heavy congestion. If any of these symptoms are noted, producers should contact their private practitioner and Dr. Paul Jensen at the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service in Austin at (512) 482-5551.

This information is needed to assist the agencies in determining if any other infection exists in the state. Currently, laboratory tests are being completed to measure "pathogenicity," or the ability of this strain of the virus to cause disease.

Cross Cut Homecoming Held

The Cross Cut annual third Sunday in July homecoming was held in the Cross Plains Community Center on Sunday, July 18, 1993. Fifty-seven (57) present and former Cross Cut neighbors and friends gathered for a truly outstanding noon buffet, which followed the invocation given by Roy Stambaugh.

President Luke Hawkins Eaton recognized the individuals who had not previously attended the homecoming and those who had not attended in several years. Those attending for the first time included Dorothy Moore Hemphill, Cecil Moore, and Carla Chambers Limmer, daughter of Carl and Peggy Chambers. They were pleased that Colby and Courtney Gibson, grandchildren of Ella Wayne and Roy Neil Tatom, could visit with them again. Also, Ferrell Newton of Eastland and Wimpy Westerman of Cross Cut had not attended for several years.

Winnie Jane Melton of Wichita Falls was the only graduate of the Class of 1943, however, she was not in attendance for her 50th anniversary.

1. Raymond Martin was recognized as the individual who had traveled the greatest distance to attend. He lives in Baytown, TX (340 miles).

2. The oldest man was Bransford Eubank at 95 (to be 96 in August). Bransford explained that he was getting tired of being the oldest man — he wished some of the "younger" men would catch up.

3. Three women were recognized as the oldest because they were so near the same age. Lydia Eubank and Alice Edington had just turned 93 and Elsie Edington Byrd will be 93 in September.

4. Jessica Childers (12 years old), granddaughter of Ruby and Rex Maxwell, was the youngest present at the time of the meeting. Two younger boys and two younger girls, Ella Wayne and Roy Neil Tatom's grandchildren had been present earlier, but had already gone before the recognition part of the meeting.

5. Oneta Byrd and Arcie Hubbard were recognized as the couple in attendance who had been married the longest. Charlie Mae Newton and Charles Kizer were not far behind them in length of marriage.

6. Both the Leroy Byrd family with ten (10) members and the Maxwell family with eight (8) members were recognized as having the most family members present.

7. Louise Newton and Marie Stambaugh were recognized as former teachers at Cross Cut.

8. O.B. Byrd and Ferrell Newton were recognized as former school board members who were present.

President Luke Eaton, who owns an Art and Frame Shop in Graham, donated prints which she gave to those who were recognized at the meeting.

President Eaton asked for a minute of silent prayer in memory of the following: Robert Newton, son of Ferrell and Maxine Newton

Rosie Hubbard, brother of Arcie Hubbard

Mrs. Ray (R.B.) Jones, owner of the property south of the cemetery

R.D. Corley, husband of Dixie Weiss Corley
Duke Mitchell, husband of Dorothy Fossett Mitchell
Glyda Anderson, sister of Howard Newton

Ivan Hemphill, husband of Dorothy Moore Hemphill
Carl Chambers
Dr. James Jolliff, husband of Ann Eubank

Leonard Prater, brother of Herman Prater
Eddie Fowler, husband of Joyce Moore Fowler and Jake Sheppard.

This was a touching and emotional ceremony, as many of the family members were in attendance at the meeting.

Officers of the Cross Cut Homecoming serve a two-year term. 1993 completed the terms of Luke Eaton, President; Annie Mae Wright, Vice-president; and Blanche Byrd, Secretary-Treasurer.

The following officers were elected by acclamation after nominations from the floor and consent by the nominees:

President — Ella Wayne Tatom; Vice-President — Charlie Mae Kizer; and Secretary-Treasurer — Peggy Chambers.

The meeting was then turned over to Roy Stambaugh, President of the Cross Cut Cemetery Association.

The terms of directors Roy Stambaugh, Rex Maxwell, and Carl Chambers, concluded in July 1993. By acclamation Roy, Rex, and Peggy Chambers were elected to serve as directors.

Charlie Mac Kizer, speaking for the group, expressed appreciation to the officers for both the homecoming and the cemetery association for the time and energy they have given to each organization.

Ferrell Newton commended Blanche and O.B. Byrd and Marie and Roy Stambaugh as current members of the Cross Cut community for all the efforts and time they give to the community.

Newman-Blanton To Wed On August 6

Raymond and Jewel Newman are proud to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Samantha Oshell Newman to Eric Wayne Blanton, son of Ronnie and Willie Blanton. The couple plan an August 6 wedding in McGuire, New Jersey. The bride is a former student of Cross Plains High School and will finish her Senior year in Wrightstown, New Jersey. The groom is a 1992 graduate of Cross Plains High School and is now stationed at McGuire AFB. The couple plan to make their home in New Jersey.

Immunization Shots Are Free

"During July and August, all immunization shots are free," according to Janice Widener, R.N. with the Texas Department of Health in Clyde. "These include all required childhood immunizations for Diphtheria, Tetanus, and Pertussis Haemophilus Influenza Type b (Hib). Free adult immunizations for Tetanus/Diphtheria (TD) are also available."

Immunizations are an important part of preventive health because a number of infectious diseases are almost completely preventable through routine immunizations. The incidence of measles, one such preventable disease, increased twelvefold in Texas from 1988 to 1992. Ms. Widener said, "One of the reasons for this increase is that many preschool children (ages 0 - 5) have not been immunized according to the recommended schedule, therefore these children are at risk of contacting these preventable diseases." The next special immunization clinic will be held at the Texas Department of Health, 111 Oak, Clyde, Texas, on Wednesday, July 14th and Wednesday, July 28th, 1993 from 8:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. An additional special immunization clinic will be held at Multi Purpose Center in Cross Plains, Texas, on August 16, 1993, from 9:00 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 - 3:00 p.m. The clinic staff encourages all Callahan County residents to take advantage of this opportunity to immunize their children and themselves for free.

In these days of economic difficulties, it is nice to know that you have the health services of the Texas Department of Health to depend on. For more information, call the Public Health Clinic at (915) 893-2125, or 1-800-SHOTS 4 U (1-800-746-8748) or drop by the clinic at 111 Oak Street, Clyde, Texas.

Experts estimate that about 21 percent of the world's land surface is farmable, yet only 7.6 percent is actually under cultivation.

What causes a person to feel guilty? A poll was taken among children ages 5-9 on the question, "What is a conscience?" One six year old girl said conscience is the sport inside that "burns if you're not good." A six year old boy said he didn't know for sure but thought it had something to do with feeling bad when you "kicked girls or little dogs." And a nine year old explained it as a voice inside that says "no" when you want to do something like "beat up on your little brother." Well, her conscience had "saved her little brother" a lot of times, at least!

Conscience might be defined as and "unwritten inner code of conduct" — and guilt occurs when we violate our own inner code of conduct. It is a message of disapproval which says, in effect, "You should be ashamed of yourself; you have done wrong."

Of course our consciences must be educated — and there's no better written standard than the Bible, the teachings of the Creator, by which our consciences can and should be instructed. We don't need someone to write a book on morals — it's already written. We don't need to do with feeling bad when you "kicked girls or little dogs." We just need to learn it and ingrain it into our minds — and the minds of our children and young people — and then let our consciences be our guide.

Come learn with us the pattern by which to live. We really do care about you!

Basketball Camp Well Attended

By COACH BILL BOYD

Thirty-seven students participated in last week's No Frills, Just Skills Basketball Camp here in Cross Plains. The early session had students that will be entering fourth through sixth grades. The second session was for students entering seventh through ninth grades.

Shooting and one-on-one skills were emphasized. The students were taught drills in shooting and one-on-one play, then the students put these skills into competition. I personally saw tremendous improvement. Some kids caught on quick to what we were teaching, and some students caught on later in the camp. The younger group's shooting skills were very impressive, while the older group's one-on-one skills was phenomenal.

Thanks to all the parents for sending their kids. Also, thanks to Brandon Smith (also known as Coach Smith) and Peggy Bailey for taking the pictures. I really hope the students will practice what they have been taught. Remember, little things make perfection, but perfection is no little thing!

CANCER BLOOD TESTS

The American Cancer Society, in its first prostate cancer detection recommendation, suggests that men over 50 should get a blood test every year to look for evidence of prostate cancer. The test measures elevated levels of a prostate antigen... which can mean cancer. They also suggest that two higher risk groups, blacks and people with a strong family history of prostate cancer, should begin testing earlier.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This Monday morning is simply ideal — just enough breeze to make it comfortable out there, sunshine not too warm. Yet, I know the heat will rise soon enough. But we won't complain, will we?

J.T. and Betty Beggs were in church Sunday morning. Betty reports that she and Novella Barton were in Brownwood on Friday of last week — had lunch there and did some shopping. She visited the Cecil Bartons Friday afternoon.

I enjoyed my chat with Helen Tillotson. She did not have any special news, only that they are enjoying good health and the warm friendship of family and friends, for which they are grateful.

Our good neighbor, Ms. Jewel Foster, was in Sunday School and church Sunday morning. She just looks great — her health is good and she appears to be a very happy person.

Mrs. Dale Gary was cheerful and friendly this morning. She did not have any special news, but I always enjoy my chats with her.

I enjoyed my chat with Sally Roady. They visited Ms. Nettie at the nursing home nearly every day. They talked to son, George, on the telephone. Cindy, Charlie, and Jim visited them during the weekend. Sally enjoyed a ride in Jim's truck one day.

There are lots of pears on the ground and in the trees, if someone wants them for their hogs.

seen in the southwest part of the community Friday night, but no rain.

Roland and Faye Mauldin of Denton Valley and their son, Kenneth and his wife, Cristal Mauldin, visited Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin during the week.

Ruth Gibbs of San Diego, California, wife of the late Hugh (Buddy) Gibbs, is here this week visiting relatives, Corrie Lou Darby of Baird and also Ima Gibbs of Baird. Dale Gibbs of Abilene drove the group to the N.V. Gibbs house for a short visit, then on to Cross Plains to eat out, then on to the Cottonwood area where they picked peaches.

Dorothy Reynolds was in Clyde Monday where she attended the funeral of a friend, Ola Lloyd. Dorothy and Carol Maddy sang during the service.

Kathy Dye's sister and brother-in-law, Helen and Bob Smith of San Antonio, spent last weekend in the Bob Dye home. They kept her mother, Anna Denny, while Bob and Kathy helped move the Brian Patterson family to Laurel, Louisiana, where Brian will be an assistant manager of a McCoy store.

Jim and June Binion of Abilene visited Joyce Odom Thursday morning.

Bible School At Pioneer Baptist Church On Aug. 2-6

All 31 state Senate seats are up for election next year, Secretary of State John Hannah said in a memorandum issued last week.

Hannah said he wanted to clear up any confusion caused by the long-running lawsuit on Senate district boundaries.

The districts used when all Senate seats were up for grabs in 1992 were ordered by a federal three-judge panel. Democrats challenged the plan, saying it favored the GOP.

Last March, the panel, which had changed membership, declared an earlier district plan passed by the Democratic-dominated Legislature should take effect, requiring new elections in 1994.

Gospel Music Program At Cross Plains Church Of Christ

The Gospelaire Quartet of Cleburne, Texas will present a program of gospel and sacred songs on July 25 at 7 p.m. at 433 N. Main and 12th Street in Cross Plains.

The Gospelaire Quartet was organized in 1973 and has been actively working in various singing programs since. The members of the Quartet are Jarrel Tunnell, First Tenor; Cliff Holden, Second Tenor; Todd Tudor, Baritone; and B.B. Stevens, Bass. Jarrel and his wife worship with the Midtown Church of Christ in Fort Worth. Jarrel works for the Karl Klement Ford in Decatur, Texas.

Cliff and B.B. and their families worship with Central Church of Christ in Cleburne. B.B. serves as one of the elders, and Cliff is one of the deacons. Both men are actively involved in various programs. Cliff is Vice-President of D.S.A., Inc., a Construction Management Company in Cleburne. B.B. is the owner of Trophies by B.B. in Cleburne. Todd and his wife worship with the Brentwood Church of Christ in Fort Worth. Todd is a CPA and employed by The Banker's Assurance in Arlington. The combined talents of these four men total over half a century of singing with various organizations.

The Gospelaire Quartet has worked extensively in filling invitations to appear on programs among Churches of Christ in singing, banquets, lectureships, youth rallies, children's homes, and singing concerts. They travel many thousands of miles each year filling invitations. They have produced and have for sale eleven (11) separate recordings containing some of their most requested songs. The songs are available on cassette tapes.

The program, presented by the Gospelaire Quartet, will be inspirational and educational. They are firmly committed to the Ministry of the Word through gospel singing. Their program will be so arranged as to present the message of Christ through their singing. Their method of presentation has met with great receptivity, and it is very appealing to their audiences. They feel you will be greatly benefited by attending and enjoying the program presented by the Gospelaire Quartet on July 25 at 7 p.m. at 433 N. Main Street in Cross Plains.

Treasury Probe Continues

Travis County prosecutors in a grand jury probe continue to check out allegations that state Treasury employees did fund-raising work for former state Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison during her 20 months in office.

David Criss, former director of policy and planning, last week complied with a state judge's order to turn over unspecified Treasury Department documents sought in a subpoena issued in June.

Travis County First Assistant District Attorney Steve McCleery in a court filing said Criss earlier did not produce all the subpoenaed materials, which included Treasury Department documents, tapes, electronically stored information, videos, and records relating to fund raising and political work Criss did for Hutchison.

Hutchison, a Republican who was elected to the U.S. Senate in June, has said she was unaware of the alleged abuse, and her aides have called the grand jury an attempt by Democrats to discredit her before next year's election.

Workers' Comp Panel

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock has appointed state Sens. Don Henderson, D-Houston; John Montford, D-Lubbock; and Jim Turner, D-Crockett; to the Workers' Compensation Legislative Oversight Committee.

The panel will coordinate various agencies' work toward protecting the income, health and medical care of Texans who are injured on the job.

Bullock said workers' compensation will be a major issue when lawmakers convene in 1995 because the Workers' Compensation Commission is set for sunset review.

13.7% Rate Reduction

Meanwhile, the state board of insurance reduced the rates for workers' compensation for employers who can't get coverage from private insurers.

The 13.7 percent reduction in overall rates will save Texas businesses an estimated $7 million to $13 million.

The decrease was based on reductions in claim costs for the Texas Workers' Compensation Insurance Facility, which provides coverage to about 12,500 Texas businesses that are unable to secure insurance in the open market.

"The 1989 workers' compensation reforms are cutting claim costs dramatically, and employers covered by the Facility should share in the savings," said Claire Koriath, the board's chairwoman.

More Schools Defy Law

More property-rich school districts have decided to challenge the new school finance law.

Lawyers said last week that school boards in Richardson, Andrews, Klondike, Allison and Borden County districts had passed resolutions to join the lawsuit against the school funding law.

The judge who oversees the long-running school finance case has set July 15 as the deadline for filing challenges.

The law gives the state's wealthiest districts several options for sharing wealth with property-poor districts.

Richards Picks Judges

Gov. Ann Richards has appointed two judges, Robert Seerden of Corpus Christi as chief justice of the 13th Court of Appeals, and Joseph Kelly of Victoria as judge of the 24th District Court.

Seerden, who has served on the 13th Court of Appeals since 1984, will replace Paul Nye of Corpus Christi, who resigned. His appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Kelly replaces the late Judge Clarence Stevenson of Victoria.

Other Highlights

Amy Johnson, the state's advocate for insurance consumers, was sworn in for a second two-year term last week by Gov. Richards. Richards said Johnson and her office have saved consumers billions of dollars in premiums. Johnson, who won Senate confirmation last session, earns an annual salary of $65,000.

Texas' school property tax base declined almost one percent from 1991 to 1992, from $627.2 billion to $621 billion, according to state Comptroller John Sharp. Sharp certified the estimates to Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno this month. The Texas Education Agency uses the estimates to determine state aid to schools.

TU Electric Co. customers could see a smaller rate increase than expected if the Public Utility Commission approves a settlement reached last week between the utility and the consumers and cities it serves. TU Electric requested a 15.3 percent rate hike, which would mean an $11 increase on the average residential consumer's monthly bill. If the settlement is approved, the increase will be substantially less, said Public Utility Counsel Luis Wilmot.

Soil Conservation Service Expands Texas Development Program

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Soil Conservation Service has agreed to expand the Leon-Bosque Resource Conservation and Development project, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has announced.

"The Soil Conservation Service has agreed to add Palo Pinto County to the Resource Conservation and Development District," Gramm said.

The district is currently composed of Brown, Callahan, Mills, Shackelford, Stephens, Bosque, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Hamilton, and Somervell counties.

Projects to be undertaken by the district, which can range from soil conservation work to building roads, health centers and other improvements, are locally devised and coordinated.

Many projects may combine direct grant funding with low-interest, long-term loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

"These local programs are intended to focus on erosion control, flood prevention, energy conservation, protection of wildlife habitats and development of the rural economic base," Gramm said.
