10-Year-Old All-Star Team Wins 2nd Place in District V

The Cross Plains 10-Year-Old All-Star team recently earned second place in the District V Little League All-Star Tournament. The double elimination tournament was held in Cisco July 8-18. Team members were Ryan Aitchison, Ryan Beauchamp, Tony Beggs, Joseph Plard, Seth Fortune, Brandon Gilliam, Dan Higginbottom, Jason James, Aaron Morris, James Ross, Kevin Wilson, manager Donnic Dillard, and Coach Mark Norris.

On Friday, July 8, Cross Plains got a big win in its opening game with Albany by a score of 12-4. Then on Monday, July 11, Cross Plains and Clyde battled to a 1-1 tie at the end of the regulation six innings. That forced a sudden-death playoff with Clyde Tuesday night, with Cross Plains winning 23-20 after playing the 7th inning.

Thursday, July 14, Cross Plains faced a very tough and talented Sweetwater team, who was also undefeated. Cross Plains was handed its first loss by a score of 14-1. The loss moved Cross Plains into a game Friday, July 15, with Anson, whom they defeated 19-17.

The win over Anson placed Cross Plains into a rematch with Sweetwater on Monday, July 18, for the tournament championship. The Cross Plains team was ready for them this time, but lost in a heart-breaker by the score of 18-17. The win by Sweetwater moves them into the next level of competition in Plano.

Cross Plains was the smallest city entered in the tournament, and these young men represented our town very well. We can all be proud of their accomplishments.

Stunt Pilot Failed Navy Jet Training

DALLAS (AP) — A stunt pilot had flunked his Navy jet training program before forming a company that took an Oklahoma television reporter on a fatal plane ride, a broadcast report says.

Navy records released Wednesday show that pilot Maurice "Skip" Stevens failed the second phase of his flight training two times, according to Dallas television station KDFW.

The National Transportation Safety Board met Wednesday (July 20, 1994) with investigators from the Federal Aviation Administration on the July 5 crash that killed Stevens and Kathy Jones, a reporter for Oklahoma City Station KFOR who was born and raised in the Callahan County town of Cross Plains.

The KDFW report said Stevens could not safely land an A-6 jet on an aircraft carrier's deck, with the Navy calling the first attempts "inadequate" and the second showing "no improvement."

"His marginal performance ... underscored the fundamental lack of the skills necessary to function as a naval aviator," said R.Y. Weber, a Navy Department spokesman, in the report.

"I do not believe that Lt. j.g. Stevens had the aeronautical ability to safely fly high performance aircraft."

Tommy McFall, the NTSB's regional director, told KDFW that Stevens had considerable difficulty landing the A-6 on a carrier.

"He also experienced difficulties in the training command on carrier landing training or carrier landing ability, and he also had some below-average performance in other areas," said McFall.

The station was shown the Navy report but a copy was not immediately available to The Associated Press. The NTSB office at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport did not immediately return a telephone call to the AP today.

McFall said last week that investigators could not find a pilot's license for Stevens, 38, or valid medical certification in Federal Aviation Administration files.

Navy personnel records for Stevens show he was discharged as a lieutenant in January. But officials will not disclose whether he was honorably discharged, citing federal privacy laws.

The pilot and others at his McKinney, Texas-based Air Strikes International had said that he was a 15-year Navy veteran who flew A-6 attack planes on combat missions during the 1991 Persian Gulf war.

But the KDFW report said Stevens failed to demonstrate to the Navy he could make daytime shipboard landings, so he never qualified for nighttime training.

In the fatal crash, Steven's plane slammed on its belly into a riverbed. The wreck, about 45 miles northwest of Oklahoma City, was captured on videotape.

Gramm Announces Funds For Callahan Co. Tornado Damage

WASHINGTON — U.S. Senator Phil Gramm announced today that farmers in Callahan County are eligible for low-interest emergency loans to help recover from damages and losses due to a tornado, rain and hail which occurred on May 29.

The funding is provided by the Farmers Home Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Specifically, the senator said, the low-interest loans are available to those who cannot obtain credit through normal channels.

In addition to Callahan County, seven other counties are named as contiguous counties. The counties affected by the tornado, rain and hail are Brown, Coleman, Eastland, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens and Taylor.

The FmHA is charged with providing aid to the farmers and ranchers in order to assist their economic recovery from natural disaster.

Correction To Presbyterian Church History

One of the highlights of the Presbyterian Church history was a revival in January 1914 held by Horace Erwin, a minister from Sabanno. He was assisted by his brother Albert Erwin, who was a trombonist and Albert's wife played the piano. Rev. Erwin was the minister who requested the song, "Tell Mother I'll Be There" and asked everyone who lost their mother to wave.
Last week's article misspelled the Erwin family name and it needed to be corrected for historical reasons.

PIONEER THIS WEEK

By BARBARA POWELL

Our male painted bunting thinks he has exclusive rights to our oak tree. This is the location of the bird feeder and bird bath. He spent considerable time attempting to chase some cardinals away from the tree this morning. He finally gave up and flew away.

Frankie and Oliver Smith along with Jean Fore took a trip to New Mexico. Upon arrival in Lovington, they dropped off Jean at Paul and Juanita Harlow's. Frankie and Oliver visited with Pat and Rodney Smith (Oliver's nephew). They all played golf and spent the night. The following day they visited with Milton and Wanda Chrisman and met Paul, Juanita, Vi and Jean at the Senior Citizens Club for lunch. After spending the night with the Chrisman's, Frankie and Oliver left for Farmington where they visited with Ralph and Minnie Clara. They spent three days in Farmington. While there, they went to Colorado sight-seeing. They visited 'Four Corners'. Frankie said they were taken to a fancy place to eat. "Too fancy"! They returned home Monday afternoon. They were happy to go but happy to be home.

Jean Fore visited with Paul and Juanita until Thursday when Jean, Paul and Juanita left to visit with their sister Bessie and her daughter Doris Hunter in Alamogordo, New Mexico. Also visiting in the Hunter home was Vi Harlow who had been visiting for two weeks. Doris' son, Frank Hunter, and his friend, John Oakman of Oklahoma City, were also there. They left on Saturday for Artesia, New Mexico where they were treated to a hamburger and ice cream dinner with nephew, John Bedingfield and other relatives. They returned to Lovington that night. Jean and Vi returned to Pioneer on Monday. Paul and Juanita arrived at Jean's Sunday afternoon from a family reunion at Lake Buchanan. Grasson and Myrtle Harlow, along with her mother Velma Morrow, arrived Sunday night and will stay a few days.

I finally met Sharon Walker. She is really enthusiastic about her plans for the 'Heartland Cafe'. I am anxiously awaiting the opening. Pee Wee Pickett stopped by while we were there and it sounds like he is in the hay baling business. I understand Donna Pickett got on full time at the May School cafeteria. We will miss our full time quilter this fall.

Nell Fleming's cousin, Lena McBroom of Grand Junction visited Tuesday afternoon along with friends Billie Shelley of Clifton, Colorado and Maybelle Keck from Cleburn, Texas. Nell's son Glenn from Amarillo came for the weekend. She was really pleased to see him.

The art workshop for young people nine to thirteen years of age held at the Multi-Purpose Center last Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday was sponsored by the Paint and Palette Club of Cross Plains. Three of our own Pioneer artists held the workshop, Ozella Huddleston, Betty Beggs and Laverne Hutton. Sixteen young people finished pictures which will be displayed at the Paint and Palette Art Show the first weekend of November. Ozella, Betty and Laverne appreciated the help received from their six helpers who contributed to a successful workshop.

John Miller came by to visit on Sunday afternoon. We hadn't seen John for a while. He looks great and ten years younger.

Bob and I attended the Rising Star Musical Friday night. Frankie, Oliver and Jean Fore were there. We also saw Vera Powers, Ruby and Gilbert Williams. All of us really enjoyed the wonderful entertainment.

The story is told of an old man in Northern Virginia who stood on a river bank waiting to get across the river. Since it was bitterly cold and there were no bridges, he would have to catch a ride to the other side. After a long wait, he saw six horsemen approaching. He let the first one pass, then the second, then the third — he let them all pass until the last one. As the last rider drew abreast, the old man looked him in the eye and asked, "Sir, would you give me a ride across the river?"

The rider, without a moment's hesitation, said, "Why certainly, get on." Once across the river, the old man slid to the ground. The horseman then asked the old man: "Sir, I could not help but wonder why you let all the other riders pass without asking for a ride, waiting until your last opportunity. Why did you ask me and not the others?" The old man replied, "I looked into their eyes and could not see love and knew in my heart it would be useless to ask them. But I looked into your eyes and saw compassion, love and willingness to help. I knew you would be glad to give me a ride across the river." The horseman said very humbly, "I'm grateful for your kind remarks." And with that, he, Thomas Jefferson, turned and rode off to the White House...

It has been said that our eyes are the windows of our souls. Jesus said, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven," Matthew 5:16. If you had been the last rider, would the old man have asked you for a ride across the river?

Come learn more of the love, compassion and willingness of God as seen through His Son, Jesus. We really do care about you, too!

The 1994 Carlile-Frazier Reunion was held July 16 and 17 at the Cottonwood Community Center with 149 people in attendance. It was one of our best attended in years and was really enjoyed by all. The oldest relative there was 94 year old Lynn White of Clifton. We loved having him there and really do thank his daughter, Lynada and daughter-in-law, Roselyn for bringing him and hope they can be there next year. Others attending were: James Carlile, Margaret Hill, Alice Lee, Maranda and Quinton from Albany. Ronnie and Gena Taylor, Kris and Angela of Borger. Clifford and Lorene Green and Celby from Breckenridge. Nadene Huffman and Howard, Larry and Sandi Holcomb and P.J. of Brownfield. Summer Program: Eighteen students enjoyed learning about China on Wednesday, July 20. They began the morning by seeing pillow covers, wall hangings, writing, and a vest recently brought from Hong Kong by Billie Loving's nephew, and beautiful fabrics brought by Jacque Childress from Taiwan. After a brief discussion of Chinese writing, the group began their tasting spree. Jacque and Judy Luter, leaders for the Chinese experience, provided rice with soy sauce, fortune cookies and shrimp flavored crunchies. The students were all good sports, trying to eat the rice with chop sticks. Place mats, decorated with oriental designs and chop sticks were donated by a restaurant in Abilene. After all the show-and-tell and the tasting, not much time was left for crafts, but students started lanterns and fans and took them home to finish.

The final experience for the summer program will be in Africa. Students who have read most will be honored and four tickets to Fiesta Texas, provided by K-Texas in Abilene, will be given.

Volunteer Firemen Attend School

COLLEGE STATION — Billy Paul Harris, volunteer fireman of the Baird Volunteer Fire Department, is attending the 64th Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 24-29. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus this week. Firemen can choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection and Disaster Rescue Training. Fireman Harris is being sponsored by Callahan/Shackelford County Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 125 County Farm Bureau and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 125 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural area," said President Bob Stallman of Columbus. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Baird Volunteer Department to better serve the resident of Callahan/Shackelford County."

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This is a very pretty Monday morning and I should be in a 'pretty mood' however, I'm in one of my low moods.

First, someone took my pear crop last weekend. The crop was 'stolen' last year and I resent that repeat action very much.

Also, my T.V. is on the blink and I can't get Harold on the telephone. I'll live through all this I'm sure, but I'm really impatient.

Dr. Jim O'Dell visited me one day last week. I truly enjoyed our chat and his prayer in my behalf was beautiful. He preached a tremendous sermon last Sunday morning titled "God's Treasured Possessions".

I appreciate a cheerful 'Good Morning' from Helen Tillotson even though she did not have any special news for this column. They are lovely neighbors.

Betty and J.T. Beggs visited his father at Morton Valley last week. They attended the graveside services for Ms. Elsie Retin at Carbon. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Smith of Fort Worth visited them during the weekend.

Ms. Jewel Foster sounded good this morning. She didn't have any special news except that the men were putting a new roof on her house. That is great news for her.

I haven't had any news from my kids this week but I'm sure they are okay or I would have heard. They don't realize what it means to me to have a message from them.

Baseball '94"

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the sponsors of Pee Wee, Little League, Sr. League and Big League Teams for the '94" baseball season: Stephen's Home Health, Dal-Mar Energy, BFI, Higginbothams, Richeson Dairy Queen, Village Market, Citizens State Bank, W.T.U., Neal Drug, and several other individual donations.

There were approximately 150 youth involved in baseball this season who without you (sponsors) would not have been able to play. Once again a special thank you for your continued support.

I would also like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Deany Dillard for donating all the hamburger patties we cooked this year at the ball park. Also along the same lines, Michael Cowan for donating all the firewood to cook them; I really appreciate the help.

Thanks also to everyone who supported our bake sales and anyone I may have omitted within our little league organization. Thanks to all the coaches who gave of their time to coach and the ladies in charge of concession who worked so hard.

In closing I would like to say a little and clear the air on the 10-year-old All-stars. I resigned as president of Little League to coach these young boys and with the help of Donnie Dillard we begin practicing the last of June. The first day I told the boys, I coached hard and expected 100 percent effort at all times, and win or lose we were a team. After many hot hours of practice we began the Dist. V 10-year-old All-Star Tournament in Cisco. These boys did a great job, being the smallest town there, and sending everyone home but Sweetwater (Anson, Clyde, Breckenridge, Cisco, Albany).

Talking with the coach from Sweetwater he said they picked their All-Stars from 120 boys. Many will say its just a game have fun, and I somewhat agree, but if it ever becomes fun to lose be it U.I.L. spelling to football; you'll lose more than you win. As school soon approaches and 2-A-Days begin, whether academics or sports (hopefully both) give 100 percent.

The talent you have is God's Gift to you what you do with it is your Gift to God.

God Bless,
Mark Norris
