County Holidays Set For New Year

Callahan County Commissioners Monday, January 11, in a regular monthly meeting, set 13 days as holidays with the county courthouse closing on those dates.

Commissioners set January 1, February 15, March 2, April 1, May 30, July 4, September 5, October 10, November 11, November 24, November 25, December 23, and December 26 as holidays for the 1988 year.

In other agenda items:

—Named Roy Neil Tatom of Cisco, Gerald Holcomb of Rt. 3, Clyde, and Donald E. Vanhooser of Rt. 4, Clyde to serve on the 1988 Salary Grievance Committee.

—Requested permission for Precinct 1 Commissioner to advertise for bids to sell a used trailer.

—Voted to fix the salaries of county and precinct officers.

Present at the meeting were commissioners Joe Ingram, F.P. Shackelford, Lowell Johnson, Eugene Kitchens and county judge Mack Kniffen.

SS Cost-of-Living Given

According to Putt Brandon, Veterans County Service Officer for Callahan County, the Social Security Administration has recently announced a cost-of-living increase of 4.2 percent in Social Security benefits, effective December 1, 1987. Accordingly, the Veterans Administration has amended its regulations to implement corresponding VA benefit increases in Pension under Public Law 95-588 (New Improved Pension); the maximum annual income limitations in Pension programs in effect on June 30, 1960 (Old Law Pension) and on December 31, 1978 (306 Pension); and the maximum annual income limitations and the rate formulas applicable to Parents' DIC.

Since these rates were effective December 31, 1987, beneficiaries should notice the adjustments in their Pension checks beginning with the January 1, 1988 check.

Provisions for an increase in VA Compensation and DIC benefits have not yet passed Congress. Currently it appears that Congress will award an increase of 4.1 percent to those veterans in receipt of Compensation and to those widows and children of deceased veterans in receipt of DIC. Though a date of passage cannot accurately be projected, it is thought that the effective date of increase when passed by Congress and signed by the President will be December 1, 1987.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This is a very gloomy morning — I can hardly see the gate on the highway. I guess that fog will lift soon. I can't keep my windows clear enough to let the sunshine in. Guess I'll just create my own sunshine.

I had problems with my car last week. My radiator was not holding the water. Bobby Roady came by and showed me the problem. Later, my sweet neighbor, Cheryl Goble, west of me, saw me standing out there by the car with the hood up. She drove down here, put a bottle of water in the radiator, and hurried me off to the service station. Cliffy remedied the situation and I've had no problems since.

I had a sweet letter from my dearest friend, Elvia Keck of Abilene, except that she is now in the state of Virginia with her son and family. To me, that is far, far away!

David and Sara McGowen are remodeling their home. On Saturday his parents, Howard and Charlene, were by to check on their progress. On Sunday, Sara's parents, Robert and Edra Butler of Rising Star were by to see them — and the house.

Sally and Bobby Roady visited with his mom on Tuesday. His sister, Betty of Oklahoma, was there. Also Billie and H.A. Freeman were there. On Sunday, they took Ms. Nettie and went to Anson to visit N.A. and Gettie Roady.

I talked a moment with Reggie Stover. Dianne is recovering nicely.

My daughter, Joanie, called me on Saturday. Right after I hung up my son, C.V. Jr., called me. It was good to talk to them — I'm so glad they care enough to check on me often.

A friend brought me an article from a paper which showed a picture of my niece, Artie Frances (Cox) Mitchell. She was the first woman to be admitted into the Kiwanis organization.

BURKETT NEWS

Delbert and Emma Boyle celebrated their 65th Wedding Anniversary at their home Sunday, January 31, 1988, from 2 to 4 p.m. Those in charge of arranging the anniversary party were their son and wife, Arthur and Wanda Boyle of Emory, their daughter and husband, Bonnie and Tommie Strickland of Snyder, and Emma's sister, Lucille Cross of Burkett.

Arthur and Wanda and Tommie and Bonnie furnished two beautifully decorated cakes.

Refreshments of cake, punch, nuts, and mints were served by their granddaughters, Sandra Golson, Debra Boch, Donna Garvin, and Daphne Blevins to the host of guests.

Several friends called the Boyles to wish them well. Among those that called were Wanda (Jenning) Nichols of San Antonio and Jim and Roberta Coffey of Arizona.

The Burkett-Adams Cemetery has received the following gifts since last reported in this column.

Mrs. Oleta Thate, in memory of Pearl Burkett, $20; Jack and Zora DeBusk, in memory of Veda DeBusk, $10; Jack and Zora DeBusk, in memory of Bill Mayfield, $10; Montie Jennings, $10; Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Gould, in memory of Ann Edington, $10; Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Gould, in memory of Bill Mayfield, $10; Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Gould, in memory of Curtis Strickland, $10; Martha Cavanaugh, in memory of Pearl Burkett, $20; a gift from the Burkett Community Center Fund, in memory of Pauline Burns, $25; and two anonymous gifts totaling $30.

The Cemetery Board appreciates these many gifts for the upkeep of the cemeteries, and uses this means of acknowledging them by the Board secretary-treasurer, Freeda Burkett, who expresses her personal appreciation along with the entire directorate. They also express their sympathy to the families and other loved ones of the deceased ones mentioned above.

Doug Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richey Adams, sustained an injured finger at school recently. The nail of his right ring finger was mashed off and the tip of the finger was broken while he was moving a heavy weight and tripped on a rope that was on the floor. He missed three days of school, but is doing alright now.

Freeda Burkett spent Friday night of last week with her sister and husband, Clint and Clairene of Millersview, and then visited her other sister and husband, Brig and Celesta Young of Zephyr, Monday. The Burketts are leaving this week for a trip to the Texas Valley.

Dub and Mildred Lowe were in Abilene recently to visit his sister-in-law, Violet Lowe, a patient at Hendrick Medical Center. She has returned to her home in Coleman since their visit.

Guests of the Lowes last week were Richard and Tanya Beloit and Amber of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Adams are the parents of a 7 lb., 8 oz. girl, Brittany Nicole, born Sunday, January 24. The mother and baby are doing fine, and grandmother, Billie Adams, says baby Brittany Nicole is a very beautiful one! Mrs. Adams' mother, Nita Phillips, of near Alpine, spent a few days with them and took their two small sons, Aaron and Zack home with her for a while.

Bobby and Flechia Armistead and Sady of San Angelo visited Grace Green over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jody Whitley of San Saba and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strickland visited Mr. and Mrs. Lat Mountain Sunday.

ASCS To Set Maximum Rental Rate For CRP Acres

The Callahan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee will establish a maximum county rental rate that does not exceed the prevailing local rental rate for land in the county. The Secretary of Agriculture will announce a maximum acceptable rental rate (MARR) for bid pools and the maximum county rental rate shall not exceed the poll MARR, according to ASCS official Scott Odom.

In addition, for each bid, the COC will determine whether the bid exceeds the prevailing local rental rate for an acre of comparable land.

Previously, USDA established rental rates for pools which included many counties with uniform agriculture.

"This is one of the legislative changes made in the program effective with the opening of signup on February 1, 1988," Odom said.

Highly erodible cropland that enters the CRP will be ineligible for farming for 10 years and must be planted with permanent vegetative cover. To compensate producers for retiring this land from crop production, Odom said the CRP authorizes annual rental payments. The program also authorizes the Commodity Credit Corporation to pay 50 percent of the cost of planting grass on the acres placed in the program.

"Non-federal organizations are encouraged to provide additional incentives to bring eligible acres into the

DRUGS SUPPRESS IMMUNITY

Our immune system keeps us alive — a complex system that fights infecting organisms. Recent studies link recreational drugs, including smoking, alcohol, marijuana, morphine, etc. to decreased immunity. Some experts also think such drug use may increase vulnerability to the AIDS virus. Drug users may be setting themselves up for flu, herpes, even cancer — a good reason to avoid the habit.

ROWDEN NEWS

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

Well, the groundhog did not see his shadow here last Thursday, February 2, and that should mean that spring will arrive on schedule. This week has brought snow, mist, and no sunshine except for a few minutes Saturday afternoon.

It was said on TV that Groundhog Day originated in the country of Germany and the animal there was a badger.

When the Harris home was called for news, Lori reported that she and Tommie had been sick with the flu this week, but are now much better.

Robert and Dorothy Watson were in Abilene Friday where they visited Dr. Joe Temple in his home.

Emma Johnson and Lizzie Burks' only company this week were Ricky Carouth, who brought hay for their cattle and Leona Gary, and also Pete Golson, who delivered fuel that was needed to keep their house warm.

To celebrate Dorothy Watson's birthday Saturday the 30th, Robert invited Bud and Nancy Young to eat out with them in Abilene. On Sunday, Robert and Dorothy were in Ranger where they met her brother, Sterling Thames, and his wife of Fort Worth for a family visit.

James and Dorothy Reynolds were in Clyde Sunday for a program of singing at the Cherry Heights Baptist Church.

Edna Dye attended a two day seminar on Porcelain Art work at 407 South 11th in Abilene. Speaker and demonstrator was Lolita de Smith of Corpus Christi, but a native of Venezuela. While there Edna spent one night with Tommy and Erlene Dye and Friday night was spent with Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hollowell.

Kathy and Julie Dye attended the George Strait Concert in Abilene Saturday night. Bob was home watching TV while sitting by the fireplace fire. He had returned from a trip to Blanket, Brady, Mason, and Menard schools, where buildings are being tested for asbestos. He works as an inspector and contractor for the government on these projects.

Edna Dye drove her friend, Fanny Caviness of Abilene, to Odessa on a business trip Monday.

Robert and Dorothy Watson and sons, Cody and Wyatt, attended the Baird School Coronation last week. The boys were chosen as their class favorites.

We have all heard of the expression, fool's gold, which only looks real, but isn't. If you had gone outside after sunrise a few days ago, you would have seen a beautiful sight. Dew drops had frozen on grass tips causing sparkles in any direction. This was like seeing diamonds and not being able to count them. It was almost like viewing sparkling stars on a clear night. You had to stop and enjoy the beauty all around you.

Beneficiaries Should Get SSA-1099

If you're a Social Security beneficiary, you should receive a Social Security Benefit Statement (Form SSA-1099) in the mail sometime this month. The form shows the amount of Social Security Benefits you received or repaid in 1987. You should use the form to help you figure whether any of your Social Security benefits are subject to Federal income tax.

Most Social Security beneficiaries do not have to pay any Federal income tax on their Social Security benefits. If your Social Security check is your largest source of income, you probably won't owe any tax on your benefits. But if you have substantial income in addition to your Social Security benefits, up to half of your annual Social Security benefits may be subject to Federal income tax.

Your Social Security benefits may be taxable if your taxable income plus your non-taxable interest plus half of your Social Security benefits exceeds the base amount. The base amounts are $25,000 if you are single, $32,000 if you are married and file a joint return; or $0 if you are married, live with your spouse at any time during the year, and file separate returns.

Included with your benefit statement will be an IRS notice 703. This notice includes a worksheet you can use to get an idea if any of your benefits may be taxable. If you are married and you and your spouse will file a joint return, be sure to combine your incomes and your Social Security benefits when you fill out the worksheet.

If you have any questions about the worksheet or how to figure your taxable income, call any IRS office. The phone numbers of IRS offices are listed on the back of the Notice 703.

If you have questions about the information on the SSA-1099, you can call any Social Security office. The Abilene office telephone number is 698-1360.

Secretary's Column Puts Importance On Voting

By DON TABOR
Publisher

PUBLISHER'S NOTE: I don't know whether you'll take the time to read the guest column below, but you should. It's by the Texas Secretary of State and tells why we should all register to vote and then do it. The piece is a bit longer than I like to have here, but politicians have never been known for being concise.—
DON TABOR

A FIGHT FOR THE FUTURE OF TEXAS
By Jack M. Rains,
Secretary of State

One of my major objectives as Secretary of State and Chief Elections Officer of Texas is to bring the importance of voter registration and participation to the attention of the people. Our ambitious goal is to sign up 1 million new voters in 1988.

It's a record-setting, nearly impossible goal. But I believe it is critically important to the future of Texas. With cooperation from a broad-based group of Texans, our "Voter '88" plan will work.

Today almost one-half of all Texans eligible to vote are not registered. Of the states contiguous to Texas, we have the lowest percentage of registered voters, and we lag at least six percentage points behind the national average. Texans are a proud lot and need to appreciate the advantages of high voter registration levels and increased participation at the ballot box. Our low level of registration hurts us as a state.

Consider, for instance, the allocation of federal funds. Those are our tax dollars and we are short-changed. Equally important is our ability, or rather inability, to influence federal matters important to Texas, such as energy policy. Further, when we fail to register and vote, a small percentage of citizens decides the future of our cities, counties and states, as well as the policies of our school districts and special government entities such as water districts and mass transit authorities. Registering and voting is quick and painless yet has a significant impact on our quality of life and economic climate.

Texas is third in population, trailing only California and New York, and we will soon surpass New York. But unlike other "super states," the vital interests of Texas are ignored for the most part. For example, when foreign competition threatened Michigan's auto industry, Washington rushed to its rescue and negotiated "voluntary import quotas" to hold down imports of foreign-made cars. When New York City and other decaying urban centers of the northeast faced tough times, Washington came to their rescue with a whole smorgasbord of relief offerings. Whenever a major economic disruption threatens a broad sector, whether Wisconsin's dairy farmers or Iowa's grain exporters, Washington has offered relief.

While oil producing states, including Texas, have been hurt, perhaps crippled, all Washington offers us is rhetoric about the free market mechanism that determines the price of oil. Well, if oil prices are set by a free market, then I am the King of Siam. Washington has ignored the greatest economic devastation of the Southwest since the Great Depression. Even if you discount the damage to the domestic oil industry, cheap oil remains a threat to our national security. Those who want cheap energy today are jeopardizing America's future. It is an outrage. Registering and getting to the polls is the only way to get the federal government's attention.

On March 8, 1988, Texas and 19 other states, mostly in the South, will conduct presidential primaries. The press has appropriately dubbed that day "Super Tuesday," the day when we can send Washington a "Super Message." It is well known that the road to the White House runs through Texas, and we must use this opportunity to impress upon every presidential candidate and the national press the importance of energy policy to our state and nation. If every Texan were to register and vote, you can bet your bottom dollar every national politician would be scrambling to "reassess America's energy policy."

Super Tuesday will shift attention to the Southern region and focus the debate on not only energy but an array of other issues important to us. In the past, states like New Hampshire, which vote early in the campaign season, would produce a front runner and, by the time of the May primaries in Texas, the election would be virtually all over but the shouting. By joining together and moving their primaries to the first Tuesday in March, the southern states guaranteed themselves not only a stronger voice in the nomination process, but a chance to direct the focus of election issues, to shape the debate. Voters in the Super Tuesday primaries will select more than 30 percent of all delegates to both the Republican and Democratic conventions. Texas has the biggest bloc of votes of all the states participating in Super Tuesday. Every contender in both parties certainly will be tuned in to the moods of Texas voters.

Our voter registration campaign—Voter '88—will heighten the influence Texans exert on the national political agenda—not only regional concerns, but fundamental national policy and direction as well. Consider this alarming fact: according to a recent study, Texas receives $1.00 in federal money for every $1.59 we send to Washington. Perhaps we could tolerate such inequities during our boom years, but it is high time we stop sending "foreign aid to Yankees." We must demand that Washington send our money back home. It is time we took an aggressive approach in our relationship with the federal government, and the first step is to register every eligible voter in the state. With so many good folks ready and willing to work but no jobs available, when future prospects in Texas are diminished for our children, we cannot fail to act.

Texans are always on the move. Recent economic dislocations have compounded the problem. Everyday there are more single-parent households as well as homes in which both spouses are employed. Consequently, those parents spend very little time at their residences, so to reach our goal we must catch voters at the workplace.

Anyone can register to vote by requesting voter registration cards from their county tax assessor-collector or elections administrator. But Voter '88 will make it easier to register and to vote. In addition to involving organizations that have traditionally fielded voter registration drives, such as political parties, labor unions and the League of Women Voters, the Voter '88 drive will organize around the workplace. If the boss makes registering and voting a priority, it will make it easier for every Texas to exercise their right to vote.

It's time to draw the line, Texas. Stand up and be counted. Register to vote and go to the polls. Make your voice heard.

COTTONWOOD NEWS

By BEVERLY BROWN

The board members of the Cottonwood Regional Community Association will meet Friday, February 12, at 9:30 a.m. in the Cottonwood Community Center.

Mrs. Ethel Anderson and Mrs. Wes Holcomb were in Comanche last Monday to see Wes.

On Sunday, Ethel Anderson went to Abilene with her granddaughter, Vanda King, and children to visit with her son, Darwin and Wanda Anderson. Barbara Sowell, Matt, Mandi, and Malysa had dinner with Ethel on Wednesday evening.

Our first week in February felt like winter time from Wednesday through Saturday: freezing drizzle, icy conditions, and snow fell in the community. The groundhog did not see his shadow and an early spring is predicted.

The Cottonwood Quilting Club will meet Thursday, February 11, at 9:30 a.m. in the local community center. Bring a covered dish for the noon meal. Quilting was cancelled last Thursday due to cold temperature. All newcomers and beginners are welcome to attend.

On Friday, Gene and Nelda Wilcoxon and granddaughter, Carrie of Abilene, were visiting with Mrs. Jessie Wilcoxon and Lillie and Blanton Childers.

Delilah and Cecil Goble came out Saturday and got Jessie Wilcoxon to spend several days with them in Cross Plains.

Satellite News Notes

By TOMMY BROWN

If you're a home satellite dish owner and you're wondering why Satcom F4 and Telstar 302 are not coming in clear any longer, there is a good explanation for the snowy picture. These satellites have been moved one degree to the east in the geostationary orbit parallel with Earth.

Satcom F4 is now located at 82°w and Telstar 302-T2 is located at 85°w positions.

If you have a programable antenna positioner, you may do two things to get clearer reception: (1) reprogram the satellite's new location into the memory or, (2) if your positioner offers a manual east and west feature, you may leave the programming as is and manually move the dish east until clear reception is located.

Any manually operated antenna positioner in which satellites are located digitally can resolve this by simply moving to the east a few more digits until clear reception is located. Record the new digit down for future reference in locating that satellite.

Hand crank jacks in which the satellite position is marked on the tube may clear the reception up by moving east one or more rotations of the hand jack. A new mark on the tube may be desired for future reference.
