Student Enrollment Is Up In Cross Plains Schools

Student enrollment is higher at three of the four Callahan County school districts, it was reported this week.

Student enrollment is up at Clyde, Eula and Cross Plains, while Baird ISD reports enrollment down from the opening day of school last year.

Eula ISD leads the way with an enrollment jump of 27 students to 595. That's an increase of 4.75 percent over last year's enrollment.

Eula ISD Superintendent Ted Bedwell said enrollment at Eula High School this year is 185 students. Eula Middle School enrollment is 148 students and Eula Elementary School enrollment is 262 students.

Supt. Bedwell said he believes Eula ISD enrollment to go over 600 students by Labor Day.

Clyde CISD reports 1,530 students enrolled this year, up two students from 1995.

Clyde High School reports a drop of four students from last year to 446 enrolled. Clyde Elementary School reports an increase of 19 students this school year. Clyde Junior High School enrollment is down seven students from last year to 243. Clyde Intermediate School, with grades four, five and six, reports a drop of four students. Hamby Elementary School reports three students less than last year with 87 enrolled.

Clyde CISD continues to have more students enrolled than the other three school districts in the county. Clyde CISD's enrollment of 1,530 is above the 1,483 students enrolled at Eula, Baird and Cross Plains.

Cross Plains ISD reports one more student enrolled this year than last school year. Cross Plains has 450 students enrolled in the district.

Cross Plains has 225 students enrolled in kindergarten through sixth grade and 225 students in 7-12.

Baird ISD is reporting 438 students enrolled this year—a decrease of 52 students from the start of school last year. Baird school officials also report enrollment lower than the end of school last year. Baird ISD had 454 students at the end of school last year.

Baird officials report 240 students enrolled in Pre-K through sixth grade and 198 students in grades 7-12.

Blood Drive For Timothy Peevy A Tremendous Success

The blood drive that took place in Cross Plains August 19 for Timothy Peevy really showed what a caring community Cross Plains really is. There was 29 units of blood drawn from citizens in and around Cross Plains.

The Meek Bloodmobile was also in Rising Star last week and collected 28 units of blood from people in that area for the same cause.

Timothy Peevy is the 5-year-old son of Darrell and Kerry Peevy of Cross Plains. He will be undergoing brain surgery Friday, August 23, to control seizures.

To help speed is recovery and also to keep him from being so homesick, well wishers are asked to please send cards, letters, etc. to Timothy Peevy, c/o Children's Medical Center of Dallas, 1935 Motor St., Dallas, TX 75235 or you may call at (214) 640-2000.

Prayers are also a big help in his recovery, so keep Timothy and his family in your prayers.

1996 CROSS PLAINS HIGH SCHOOL BUFFALOES

BUFFALO FOOTBALL BEGINS TONIGHT

By GREG TURNER

The time has come when highway traffic begins to pick up on Thursday and Friday nights due to the highly exciting game of high school football.

Football will begin here tonight with a scrimmage against the Ranger Bulldogs at 6:00 p.m. starting with the JV and followed by the varsity team. This year's varsity will consist of 17 returning lettermen, 8 offensive and 9 defensive. The Cross Plains Buffaloes this year had 40 young men to participate in the two a day practices, 9 Freshman, 11 Sophomore, 13 Juniors and 7 Seniors.

I encourage you to begin this journey each week and show your support for the school, coaches, and players as I am looking forward to an exciting year of football.

Also on Thursday night you will be able to meet a couple of new coaches Lenny Jackson and Mike Cavender. After meeting them, I am looking forward to their excited attitude to be distributed among the players and fans. The cheerleaders for the 1996 year will be presented and you know the work they have already done in preparation for this year.

After the game ice cream will be served to everyone to give us time to re-establish friendships among each other and also with our returning coaches, Athletic Director Bill Boyd, Head Coach Cord Woerner and Assistants Mitchell Atchley and Mack McConal.

See You There!!

C.P. Chamber of Commerce To Honor Billie Loving & Clara Nell Spencer Fri., Aug. 23

The Cross Plains Chamber of Commerce will be hosting a reception for Billie Ruth Loving and Clara Nell Spencer Friday, August 23 at 10:00 a.m. at West Side Restaurant. They will be presented an award for outstanding leadership and community service. These ladies were unable to attend the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet and accept this recognition. Everyone is invited to come by and congratulate these two for their hard work and accomplishments.

RECEIVING HIGH PERFORMER AWARD—Allen and Johnnie Bland have recently attended the Texas Housing Association conference in Fort Worth. There they attended sessions on Housing Management and Maintenance. The programs were put on by Housing Authority Leaders and HUD employees told of many changes in rules and regulations.

The Cross Plains Housing Authority received the Certificate of Excellence in Management Operations. This was in recognition of exemplary performance for Fiscal Year 1995 under the Public Housing Management Assessment Program.

Presenting the award to Johnnie Bland (right) is Mary Ann Russ, Deputy Assistant Secretary For Public and Assisted Housing Operations, HUD Washington.

lunch, so bring salads and desserts to go with the barbecue.

All paper goods and eating utensils, ice and tea will be furnished.

The Classes of 1926, 1936 and 1946 will be honored.

C.P. Roping Club Play Days Rescheduled

Due to the recent rains, the Cross Plains Roping Club play days have been rescheduled. Two of the play days have been scheduled for Friday and Saturday evening at 7:30 at the arena, and the other two days will be announced at a later date.

Relatively New Disease Diagnosed In County

A relatively new disease, Ehrlichiosis, is being diagnosed more frequently in the Callahan County area. Although canine ehrlichiosis was once considered to be a rare entity in our area and in the United States, recent evidence suggest the disease is on the increase. Since the disease is transmitted primarily by tick infestations, we are anticipating diagnosing more cases of ehrlichia.

The progression of canine ehrlichiosis has been shown to consist of an incubation period of one to three weeks, an acute phase of four to six weeks and a chronic phase which may last indefinitely or until death. One should suspect this disease if a wild or domestic dog is severely infected with ticks and is feble, anemic, weak or exhibiting a nose bleed. A low grade pneumonia with weight loss may be seen in chronic stages. If death occurs it is normally from depletion of clotting factors and hemorrhage or secondary infections from exhausted bone marrow activity.

In suspected cases of ehrlichia, good supportive care such as fluid therapy, proper nutrition, antibiotics, and vitamins are necessary. In extreme cases, blood transfusions may be the treatment of choice. The Veterinary Diagnostic Lab at Texas A&M can confirm the infection, but in most cases it takes 5-7 days.

Dogs treated successfully for Ehrlichiosis are fully susceptible to reinfection. Strict tick control measures are necessary to eliminate this major natural reservoir.

Changes Announced In Child Support Collection Agency

AUSTIN (August 16)—This morning the House Juvenile Justice and Family Issues Committee before a full hearing room on a 4 to 3 vote recommended that the legislature move the child support collection, IV-D agency from the Attorney General's office and create a separate family support agency. The motion was made by Leticia Van De Putte (D-San Antonio) and seconded by John Cook, Vice Chairman of the Committee.
The child support division of the attorney general's office has 2,619 employees statewide. All members of the committee agreed that children and families are the primary concern and the need to better coordinate collection and expenditure of state and federal funds was required. Representative Cook in his second of the recommendation stated that he reluctantly did so and that the committee efforts were not a reflection on Dan Morales as Attorney General but the problems which have continued in the program and the prospect of changes resulting from the new changes in the federal welfare legislation.

Over the past six years there have been six directors of the child Support Division. The computer information system has been delayed in implementation for years and the deadline promised by outside consultants has been continually extended. Cook stated that "In recommending this change we may be getting out of the frying pan into the fire, but the children and families of Texas and taxpayers deserve some relief."
Moving the office is not a foregone conclusion, because legislation passage is not assured and funding decisions will have to be made.

By KAY DENNIS MOSLEY

Have you noticed???

SCHOOL HAS STARTED!!

A few monarch butterflies are to be seen fluttering about. Spring and summer clothes are going on sale to make way for the new line of fall clothing. There's black-eyed peas to be picked. It's too late for "SPRING" cleaning. The sun is still shining and my hair is getting grayer. Grandpa is out of the hospital. The television is immensely prolific with RERUNS, reruns, and more r-e-r-un-s! Plus now the political conventions are on and on. The fish are biting.

I have noticed!!

My better?? half is now older than I am until December. Haha! Haha! Heh! Heh!!! My flowerbeds badly need "degrassing" and weeding, since we have been cruisin' around Texas most of the month of July and part of August. My memory is getting shorter and my naps are getting longer! It is lots cooler, inside under the air-conditioner than it is outside in the heat. That Cross Plains is a friendly and peaceful community in which to live.

Are you aware that summer will soon be over and very soon FALL will be in the air? September is fast approaching.

We've had lots of visitors this summer. Our most recent visitors, the last weekend of July, was my sister and spouse, Ann and Sonny Bounds of Crosbyton and my uncle, Wayne Dennis of Dallas, formerly a longtime resident of Cross Plains. Also visiting the same weekend was my cousin and wife, Donnie Wayne and Juanita Dennis of Laredo, plus two more cousins, Glenda Dennis Davis of Balch Springs and her sister Vickie Dennis Stevens of Dallas.

Visitors in our home for my husband's birthday the first weekend of August, was my husband's mother and step-father Marie and Jack Sykes of Fort Worth.

Listen to the songbirds; store up their melodious songs in your memory. Enough to last you through the winter soon to come.

"Til next time ---- Stay Happy! "C" "U".

UNUSUAL PLANTS GROWN LOCALLY—Upon their return home, two of our local citizens noticed unusual plants growing in their flowerbed. After close examination, it was determined that the plants resembled White Tail Deer antlers. In another location, growing plants resembling deer hooves were found.

It is presumed these plants should mature about the first weekend of November.

LAKWOOD NEWS

Lakewood Recreation Center would like to remind its members, as well as non-members, that since the start of school we have closed the swimming pool on week days. We will be open on Saturdays and Sundays as long as weather and attendance permits.

The pool is available during the week for private parties at the rate of $75 for a three hour period. Bring your special occasions to us, and while you are here, try your diving skills on our 16 foot springboard.

We would also like to remind you that although the season for the swimming pool is drawing near, we still have a fine golf course to enjoy. As most of you are aware, we have been experiencing financial difficulty in the past. The people of the surrounding communities have really pulled through for us this year. However, we still need your support so that we may continue to improve your facilities. There are many improvements to be made, and we ask that all members please stay with us during the upcoming fall and winter months.

This is a non-profit organization and all proceeds go to the improvement of the club. We cannot do it without your continued support.

Thank you very much,
The Staff at Lakewood

"Brown Bag It" Next Time You Have Complete Physical Exam

HOUSTON (August 13)—The next time you go for a complete physical exam, "brown bag" it.

"Sweep all prescription and over-the-counter medications from the bedside table and medicine cabinet into a paper bag and take them to your physician," said Dr. Isaac Kleinman, associate professor of family medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"This is especially important when you're accompanying elderly family members who are treated by several specialists to be sure their drugs are not incompatible, unnecessary or outdated," he said.

Also, take along notes on your health history. Make a list of major illnesses, surgeries and immunizations you have had and the years they occurred, and not serious health problems that have run in your family.

"The patient's medical history is the most important part of a health checkup," Kleinman said. "Most diagnoses are based on this information."

During the physical exam, your doctor should:

- * note weight, blood pressure, pulse and temperature
- * inspect the eyes, ears, nose and throat
- * listen to the heart and lungs for unusual sounds
- * test for sensation in fingers and feet

- * check reflexes and balance
- * check the abdomen, lymph nodes and breasts for swelling or lumps
- * inspect the skin for lesions, rashes or other abnormalities
- * do a rectal exam (including a check for prostate cancer in men)
- * order a blood and urine analysis
- * check for blood in the stool.

Women should also have a Pap smear, pelvic exam and mammogram. Men should have a testicular exam.

Remember that your life-style, age and other health problems will affect which lab tests the physician requests and the need for additional procedures, such as sigmoidoscopy (viewing the lower colon through a tube inserted in the rectum).

Kleinman recommends that healthy adults get a full physical every five years, starting at age 20. A blood-pressure check, Pap smear and breast exam should be done every year. Starting at age 40, you should have a rectal exam and a test for blood in the stool every year and get you eyeball pressure checked for glaucoma every two years. Starting at age 45, women should have a mammogram annually.

"Always ask your doctor to explain anything you don't understand," Kleinman said. "Be sure to find out how whether your lab results will be reported to you by phone, letter or in person during your next visit. Don't assume there's nothing wrong if you don't hear from your doctor."

One Arm Dove Hunt Sept. 6 & 7

Olney's 25th Annual One Arm Dove Hunt, the most unusual event in the state of Texas, will take place September 6 and 7, in Olney, Texas, friendly North Texas community located thirty-five miles south of Wichita Falls. This is the time of year that the citizens of Olney prepare for and welcome all arm and hand amputees to Olney for an unusual two day event. It is an event you will never forget.

The two one arm Jacks (Jack Northrup, City Administrator, and Jack Bishop, retired County commissioner) started the event in 1972 over a humorous cup of coffee. The two Jacks share passions for hunting, teasing, and out-talking each other. The two Jacks say, "If you take two one arm politicians, add Texas tall tales, couple of shotguns, high-flying doves -- then you have the ingredients of a one arm dove hunt that has become a tradition for a quarter-century old."

The actual hunt has become secondary. The centerpiece now is a big reunion with wonderful fellowship that helps each of us to a better life. The two Jacks correspond with about 500 arm and hand amputees across the Nation.

The two-day event is filled with great fellowship, plenty of food, one arm jokes and tales, the biggest liar, right and left hand glove swap, entertainment, one arm shoe tying contest, one arm golf tournament, one arm pool tournament, one arm horseshoe pitching, story telling, 10-cents a finger breakfast, one arm trap shooting, cow chip chunk'n contest (amputee vs politician), auction (items donated by citizens, amputees and celebrities), gun raffle, and the dove hunt. There will be three awards: above the elbow, amputee below the elbow, and double arm or hand amputee.

For more information about the One Arm Dove Hunt Association, contact Jack or Jack at P.O. Box 582, Olney, Texas 76374 or call (817) 564-2102 or Fax (817) 564-5496.

Prescription To Over-The-Counter

In order for prescription medicine to become an over-the-counter product it must be approved by the FDA. It is usually approved if it can be used safely and effectively after reading instructions, if it is safe at high doses, if there is no potential for abuse, and if it doesn't interact badly with other medicines. Most OTC drugs are sold at lower doses with less frequent use than the prescription. You have responsibility when taking OTC drugs. They are intended for short-term use. Insurance coverage is usually not the same for OTC as for prescription drugs.

"The Country Preacher" (Cartoons by Jim Martin Graphics) specializes in one sentence sermons -- like: "Living the Christian life is kinda like shaving -- no matter how well you do it today, it needs to be done again tomorrow."

We men who must shave every day can relate to that. And anyone who has seriously explored the textbook on Christianity must agree w/the "Country Preacher" that no matter how well we live the Christian life today, it needs to be done -- and -- well -- again tomorrow.

Now a man may skip shaving one day -- because it's Saturday, because of illness, or because of being on vacation -- but a Christian must not skip even one day in living the Christian life for any reason. It's not just a Sunday thing, part-time thing, or on a week, off a week thing.

Jesus cautioned some who said to Him that they were ready to follow Him anywhere, then making excuses for time-outs, saying, "No one, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God," Luke 9:57-62.

Paul reminded Christians that the day of sacrifices and sacrificing didn't end with Old Law, that we are still to offer our bodies/lives as a living one, Romans 12:1. Unlike the dead sacrifices of the Old Law, however, we have a tendency to want to "crawl off the altar" for a time-out -- rather than being the full-time one of "living the Christian life again tomorrow, regardless of having done it well today."

Whether shaving or living the Christian life, let's keep a "clean face" every day!

Fortune Kind To Tech's Brown

Division I the heights for senior

By DOUG HENSLEY
Sports Editor
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

From Class 1A to Division I football, Jody Brown admits he's been fortunate enough to live a dream.

"I'll tell you what, it has always been a dream of mine to play college football," Brown said following Texas Tech's Tuesday morning workout. "A lot of guys from smaller schools sometimes don't get this opportunity. I really consider myself lucky. This is a dream come true."

Brown, a 6-foot, 200-pound senior, arrived at Tech from Cross Plains in 1992. For the past few seasons, though, he has seen only limited duty at the raider position behind All-American Marcus Coleman.

"It feels great to wear the black jersey," said Brown, referring to his spot on the first-team defense. "I was behind Marcus for a couple of years, and that was frustrating at times. But he was a tremendous athlete. Now I have my chance to see if I can help the team out."

Brown was used primarily as a nickel back by the Raiders last season, although he also occasionally spelled Coleman at the raider position. In addition, he has been one of Tech's most consistent performers on special teams the past two years.

"Jody saw a lot of action last year," said outside linebackers coach Larry Hofer. "Marcus was the starter, but Jody did a great job behind him. He's picked up right where he left off, and he worked hard throughout the summer. We have a lot of confidence in him because he does have good experience."

Brown said the experience of last season should be beneficial in terms of what he can expect.

"I think that helps a lot," he said. "Even when Marcus was in there last year, I watched him and learned from how he reacted in certain situations."

Brown, who was in on 28 tackles and had one pass break-up a year ago, said Tech's outside linebackers rely on each other and learn from each other.

"Marcus was really helpful last year," he said. "All of the guys at outside linebacker, they help each other out and try to make sure that everyone does the best he can."

Brown also is among Tech football players to receive pre-season recognition. He has been named to the All-American Farm Football Team by an agricultural publication. Players whose families have one-half or more of their income generated by the sale of agricultural goods, are eligible for the team.

"Tony Daniels was telling me about it, and I asked him what he was talking about," Brown said. "He said

I was up for a farm All-America team. I bet him lunch over it because I thought it sounded kind of crazy."

Although the recognition is nice, Brown said he was more interested in team goals.

"I just want to win a championship," he said. "I don't really have any personal things I want to accomplish besides doing the best I can and helping this team win ball games any way I can."

"It makes a difference having someone step in who played in a lot of ball games last year," Hofer said of Brown's experience factor. "That really helps provide a settling influence."

For his part, Brown plans only to be himself.

"I want to do the best I can," he said. "I know Marcus was a great player, and he stepped up and made some great plays during his career here. I feel some pressure because of that. But I can only be myself, not Marcus Coleman. I'll be Jody Brown and do the things I know I can do."

Which should be fine with the Raiders.

Editor's Note: Brown is the son of Jim and Valeta Brown. He is remembered for his outstanding athletic abilities at Cross Plains High School.

Information On ADHD

HOUSTON (August 16)—Girls are less likely to be identified as having attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) than boys, according to a child psychiatry expert.

"That's because girls tend to demonstrate more of the inattention symptoms and are less noticeable than boys who are more prone to be hyperactive," said Dr. Matthew Brams, of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Children with ADHD fall into three categories: those with attention deficit disorder only, those who are mostly hyperactive, or a combination of both. Attention deficit disorder (ADD) and hyperactivity were once categorized as separate disorders but now are included under ADHD.

"Ages 6 to 9 are the peak years for diagnosis," said Brams, an assistant professor of psychiatry at Baylor. "It's three times more prevalent in boys, which is another reason teachers and parents may be more tuned to the symptoms in boys."

Brams says that children who display attention deficit symptoms fail to follow instruction closely in class, do not listen well, often lose things, make mistakes in school work and during play, are easily distracted, and are often forgetful.

Children with hyperactivity or combination symptoms tend to fidget, talk excessively, interrupt and have difficulty playing quietly.

Symptoms for ADHD are usually observed both at home and in school before a diagnosis is made.

ADHD runs in families, although no single genetic defect has been identified. Other possible causes of the disorder could include prenatal health complications such as Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, low birthweight, malnutrition during infancy, exposure to toxic substances such as lead poisoning, metabolism disorders like phenylketonuria (PKU), or brain injury from trauma, infection or tumor.

Brams says that families can impact the effects of ADHD, either positively or negatively.

"Events like child abuse, neglect, dysfunctional family settings and mismatched parent-child temperaments do not cause ADHD, but they can make the picture worse for a child with ADHD," he said. "Conversely, a stable, supportive family environment can allow a child with mild ADHD to do quite well."

Treatment for the disorder includes therapeutic drugs such as ritalin and dextroamphetamine and behavior therapy.

"Children who are thought to have ADHD should receive a physical exam, possibly an EEG, lab studies, psychological testing and a psychoeducational evaluation," said Brams. "Treatment can make life and school more successful for children with this disorder."

State's Anti-Tobacco Campaign To Tell It Like It Is

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) and the Texas Cancer Council have combined resources for an innovative, multi-media advertising campaign to combat a recent upswing in youth smoking rates.

Intended to educate Texans about facts the tobacco companies fail to mention in their advertising, the campaign's billboards, posters, and radio and television public service announcements blend tobacco use prevention with health education messages. The title for the multifaceted campaign is, "Tell It Like It Is."

The focal point of the campaign's billboards and posters is an array of eye-catching cigarette packs labeled not with glamorous brand names but with names suggesting tobacco's negative side. Examples of some of the fictitious products are: "Breath Rotters," "Cancerettes" and Phlegm Balls."

According to Dr. David R. Smith, Texas Commissioner of Health, more media attention to the dangers of tobacco use is needed. "We need more such messages to change the social climate which makes smoking look acceptable to kids," he said.

Emily Untermeyer, executive director of the Texas Cancer Council, stressed that the campaign focuses on tobacco use prevention among youth. "We hope that these media messages will make the point to young people that negatives surrounding tobacco use far outweigh the positives," she said.

The "Tell It Like It Is" campaign borrows from some successful media messages created by other health departments throughout the country. The billboard and poster illustrations, for instance, were developed by the Minnesota Health Department, using suggestions from young people on how best to prevent smoking among their friends. The television and radio spots were first developed by the Massachusetts and California health departments, as part of extensive media campaigns that were funded by increases in those states' cigarette excise tax.

The Dallas-based advertising firm, KWGC, Inc., Advertising & Design, is managing the Texas campaign through varied Texas media outlets. The campaign will include more than 115 billboards, as well as announcements on radio and television stations in Texas communities such as Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and others. Also, some 50,000 posters, with a design similar to that of the billboards, will be distributed to Texas schools, worksites, health care provider offices, and community organizations.

Sharon Kohout, director of the TDH Office of Smoking and Health, said, "We plan to meet the tobacco industry on its own turf—the advertising outlets. The tobacco companies spend more than $6 billion yearly to promote the leading preventable cause of death in this country—a product that kills more Texans than alcohol, AIDS, heroin, cocaine, auto accident, suicides, handgun murders, and fires combined. It's time that we told the general public the real story about tobacco."

Kohout said that community coalitions concerned about tobacco issues, particularly with the alarming increase in the numbers of young Texas smokers, have voiced support for the combined efforts of Texas Cancer Council and TDH.

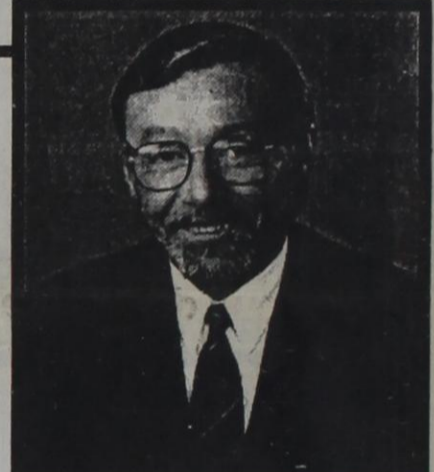

For more information about participating in the "Tell It Like It Is Campaign," or for copies of posters or other campaign materials, individuals may call the Office of Smoking and Health at 1-800-345-8647.

NOTICE OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATE, ESTIMATED UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES, AND DEBT SCHEDULE

1996 property tax rates in the following school districts: Baird ISD, Clyde ISD, Cross Plains ISD. This notice concerns 1996 property tax rates for the taxing units shown above. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the school district used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes and state funds by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

6th Annual Property Values Higher

Trail Ride For Rehab Slated For September

Property values for 1996 are up in all taxing entities in Callahan County expect one, according to Central Appraisal District's Chief Appraiser Rodney Lewallen.

Lewallen reported 1996 property tax values increased in the county due to increases in the real estate market, utilities and railroad appraisals.

Callahan County reported the largest property value increase over 1995, up $13 million to $269,861,492.

Eula I.S.D., which has its property appraised by the Central Appraisal District of Taylor County, saw an increase in property values of $5.6 million to $83,029,829.

Property values in Clyde CISD increased $4.8 million to $136,077,416. It is the highest property value reported in the school district since 1986.

Property values within the City of Clyde are $4.1 million higher than last year, according to Lewallen. Lewallen said the $60,038,946 in property values within the city limits of Clyde is the highest since 1988.

Property values within the City of Putnam were the only to decrease from 1995 to 1996. Values in that city dropped around $100,000 to $1,535,671.

Lewallen reports the real estate market is up throughout the county. He reports moderate and low quality housing in the county up five to eight percent over last year. High quality homes in the county are up 10 to 15 percent over 1995 figures, Lewallen stated.

Lewallen said mineral values stayed steady in 1996. He said a barrel of oil sold for $17 this year and sold for $16 a barrel in 1995. Still oil will continue a downward spiral in the county because of no new exploration, Lewallen added.

Lewallen said utility values were up from eight to 12 percent, while railroad values increased $2 million in 1996.

Lewallen said property values in Abilene were reportedly up 17

The sixth annual Trail Ride for Rehab is scheduled for the weekend of September 21 and 22 at Randerbrook Spade Ranch in Coke County near Colorado City. Registration will begin September 20 after 3 p.m. and continues Saturday, September 21 beginning at 8 a.m. Volunteer Trail Ride Chairmen are Kelly Gill, Mac Sayles, and Thomas Hicks.

Expenses for the event are underwritten by Lawrence Hall Chevrolet, which means that participants' free will donations will go directly to West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo.

The weekend will feature a day-long ride on Saturday and a shorter ride on Sunday morning, and three meals will be served. First aid and restroom facilities will be available.

The Spade Ranch is into its second century under the ownership of the same family. The ranch, featured in Steve Kelton's book, A Century Under the Spade Brand, is known for its progressive ranching techniques, sturdy crossbred cattle, Rambouillet sheep, and for its large population of whitetail deer. On Saturday evening entertainment will be provided by Texas Sand, a band from Snyder. Charlie Reynolds will lead a worship service on Sunday morning. Weekend activities also will feature a number of auction items.

To sign up for the trail ride or for additional information, contact John Thomas, (915) 691-7290, or Mac Sayles, (915) 554-7884, after 7 p.m.

Changes In Collection Procedures Will Strengthen Security

WASHINGTON -- The U.S. Postal Service announce August 7, changes in mail collection procedures that will increase security of commercial airlines carrying U.S. Mail.

"The changes are designed to enhance security measures and to protect the traveling public, postal employees and postal contractors who transport U.S. Mail," said Postmaster General Marvin Runyon.

Runyon added that the changes exceed FAA requirements and are one of several important steps the Postal Service is "prepared and willing to take to improve the level of safety and security of the airlines and the mail." Officials declined to discuss all of the security measures planned or already in place.

The typical consumer or business will notice very few changes, nor will there be an impact on service. Express Mail service is not affected.

The changes, effective August 16, affect packages mailed to international or domestic addresses deposited in mail collection boxes, such as street mail boxes, lobby and apartment drop boxes/receptacles, even rural customer mailboxes.

*Customers will have to bring to post offices for entry with retail clerks

*Domestic mail bearing stamps and weighing 16 ounces and over, and

*All international mail or military APO/FPO mail weighing 16 ounces and over and which in some cases may also require a customs declaration form.

The Postal Service will retain a record of the international and military APO/FPO mailing and the customer will be advised of this when the item is mailed.

Packages found in collection boxes will be returned to the sender if the addressee is outside the local area identified for overnight First-Class Mail.

Packages returned to senders will have an accompanying explanation advising them in the future to deposit this mail at the post office. Previously applied postage may be used when the item is re-mailed at a post office.

Committee Seeks Texans' Input On Property Tax

Chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Property Tax Relief

Do you know that Texas property owner contribute $10 billion a year to public schools?

Would you be surprised to learn that property taxpayers pick up 54 percent of the cost of educating children in our public schools, compared to 46 percent of the tab that is picked up by the state?

Or did you know that between 1984 and 1994, the average school property tax rate more than doubled, from 60 cents per $100 property value to $1.39?

The statistics are all true. It's no wonder that throughout Texas, homeowners are ready to throw up their hands in disgust.

That is why Governor George W. Bush in April appointed the Citizens' Committee on Property Tax Relief.

Already, the committee is learning that Texans have no shortage of opinions on this issue. In Tyler, for instance, the manager of a major tire company said his parent firm passed up the Tyler plant for a $100 million expansion because of high property taxes. The expansion and the jobs that would have come with it went to Oklahoma instead.

In El Paso, a homeowner said the dream of homeownership was fading away because of high property taxes.

By conducting the hearings, the committee is looking for answers. How do you feel about the property tax on schools? What affect does it have on you and your family's budget? Do you think it's fair, or do you think there is a better way for Texas to do business?

We want to find out if there is public will to provide property tax relief by replacing the property tax for schools with some other funding source. The committee will not be looking at how to raise more money. Instead, we are looking at finding new ways to raise the same amount of money for public schools. But the new ways must be fair to Texans.

Earlier this year, a workshop group put together by Governor Bush identified three other ways that schools could be funded. The state could replace or reduce property tax using one or a combination of these sources.

But before the Governor and the Legislature consider any of these options, we want to hear from Texans. Before any change can be made, Texans must say they want the change.

These options are:

- A Business Activity Tax that could be levied on all businesses in Texas. A business would pay a tax on the difference between what it makes in sales and what it costs the business to purchase goods.

- A Business Gross Receipts Tax on all revenue a business receives from within the state. It includes all business and investment income.

- Increasing the state sales tax or expanding the sales tax base. Texas currently has a 6.25 percent sales tax rate and local governments can add as much as 2 percent more for specific items. Texas could increase this rate to provide property tax relief.

Texas also exempts some big-ticket items that other states include in their sales tax, such as food, newspaper advertising, residential utilities, and gasoline. However, Texas does tax several types of services many other states do not.

Officials hope to hear from you at either a hearing or in person. For those of you unable to attend a meeting, please write the committee with your thoughts.

LEGAL MATTERS

BY ATTORNEY GENERAL DAN MORALES

LICENSE SUSPENSION: A YEAR OF SUCCESS

TEXAS FAMILIES and Texas taxpayers are better off this year.

Thanks to the hard work of our Child Support Division and a new law allowing for license suspension, an additional $30 million in child support has been collected since the law took effect last September.

The new law, affecting non-custodial parents who are behind in their child support, gives the Office of the Attorney General the authority to suspend the driver's, professional and recreational licenses of parents who are delinquent in paying their child support.

Best of all, that $30 million received from noncustodial parents is money that does have to come from the pockets of Texas taxpayers.

Serious about child support

The license suspension law was designed to show delinquent parents that the Attorney General is serious about collecting child support. It serves as an important enforcement tool in reaching the most troubling cases involving delinquent parents.

Most of the non-custodial parents whose licenses are suspended have avoided automatic wage withholding for child support by various means, including skipping from job to job, working for cash, or becoming self-employed. They aren't getting away with this anymore.

The process begins

Just before the law took effect, we launched a statewide campaign in late August 1995 to inform delinquent non-custodial parents that their license privileges were in jeopardy. Nearly 50,000 warning letters were mailed to non-paying parents with the message, "Pay your child support or lose your license."

This initial warning period was very successful. In just four and a half months, the threat of license suspension prompted 17,000 delinquent parents to pay $9 million.

Voluntary compliance from all non-custodial parents is what we hoped to receive. We have set up measures to give parents ample opportunity to live up to their child support obligations. After all, our goal is to collect child support, not suspend licenses. However, we are also aware that every day of delay in providing child support is another day some children go without food and clothing.

License suspension

In January 1996, my office filed more than 1,000 petitions to suspend licenses. So far, more than 100 licenses have been revoked, including those held by a funeral director and a dentist.

Our success is measured not by the number of licenses we suspend, but by the number of people who begin to pay. However, for those who continue to shirk their responsibility to their children, we will aggressively pursue the suspension of their licenses.

Delinquent parents have ample opportunity to comply with their child support orders or to work out payment plans with the state before reaching the point of license suspension.

Pay or lose your license

Before the law was enacted, we set a goal to collect $20 million during fiscal year 1996, which ends on August 31. This $20 million would be in addition to the projected $500 million in child support that we anticipate collecting through other enforcement methods during the 1996 fiscal year. In May, we reached our goal, and project that we will surpass it by more than 50 percent at the end of August.

Common-sense minimum goals

I look forward to seeing continued success in the license suspension program in the years to come. Though my office cannot force parents to love, nurture, and guide their children, at least we can do our best to make them feed, clothe and house their children. License suspension is necessary to force some parents to do what they should do willingly — financially support their children.

For more information about the license suspension program, please call our Child Support Division at (800) 252-8014.

KOREAN WAR STORY—The American Legion news for August 1996 carries an article regarding a 10 hour commemorative video being produced by Monumental Productions. As part of the production process, Monumental will review the memories and memorabilia of thousands of Veterans of the war. Any Veteran wishing to make pictures, film diaries, histories, letters or other records available is asked to call 206-259-5400 (that number is in Washington State so remember to figure Pacific time). All submissions should be clearly marked to guarantee their safe return and returns will be made this Fall upon completion of the video series.

The films are being filled with never-before seen footage, graphics, maps, interviews, and experiences from the men and women that were in the midst of combat and behind the scenes during that terrible time. In the making of these films, a trip to Korea is planned to film old battle sites, base camps, the DMZ and more. Col. (Ret.) Eben Porch is Military Liaison for the series.

TEXAS PARKS & WILDLIFE—Service-Connected Disability Veterans with a rating of 60% or more OR the loss of a foot or leg are entitled to a Special Resident Hunting license cost of $6.00 or a Special Resident Fishing license cost of $6.00. This compares to the $19.00 each for the regular license cost.

There has been a change in the charges for State Parks entry. A 60% S-C Veteran OR a Veteran with the Service-Connected loss of a foot or leg are still given free entry to State Parks. The change is that all other persons in the Veteran's vehicle must pay individually. Fees range from $1.00 per head to $5.00 depending on the Park entered.

MISSING FORM DD-214—There has been a major reorganization in the Army Reserve Personnel Center in St. Louis. This will affect the requests for replacement DD-214 papers. The ordering system is too lengthy for presentation here so you are advised to contact your County Veterans Service Office if a DD-214 is needed.

EDUCATION BENEFITS—The Survivor's & Dependents Educational Assistance Program (Chapter 35) provides up to 45 months of benefits for dependent children and spouses of: a. Veterans who died or who are permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service-connected disability incurred while on active duty in the military. b. Service persons missing in action, captured in line of duty by a hostile force, or forcibly detained or interned in line of duty by a foreign power. Benefits range from $202.00 per month (1/2 time) to $404.00 (full time). Information on other educational programs is available in your County Veterans Service Office.

THE POWER—The power of one vote can be awesome! In 1776, one vote gave America the English language instead of German. In 1868, one vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment. In 1941, one vote saved Selective Service, just weeks before Pearl Harbor. Your vote does count!

Fine Arts League Of Coleman Co. Painting Demo Sept. 12

The Fine Arts League of Coleman County will meet for its monthly meeting on Thursday, September 12 at 7:00 p.m. at the Coleman County State Bank clubroom.

Doug Prine, noted western artist, art teacher, and demonstrator will exhibit his skillful technique in oil painting. Prine's formal art training came from the Kansas City Art Institute. He is a Vietnam veteran and combat artist. This versatile expert is equally adept in oils, pen, ink, and sculpture. Many of his paintings reflect his interest in the history of the Civil War. He is a member of the 4th Texas Memorial Academy and Terry's Texas Rangers and was a finalist for Texas State Artist in 1991. Prine is also a member of American Rendezvous Artists and is represented by Top of the Line Gallery in Fort Worth, The Art Central Gallery in Carthage, Missouri, The Outlaw Gallery in Kalispell, Montana and Cactus Wren Gallery in Riverside, California. He lives with his family in Nemo located near Glen Rose.

Guests are welcome to attend the demo for a $3.00 charge. A painting workshop will be held by Doug Prine on September 13, 14, and 15 from 9 - 4. Call Judy Needham at 625-5129 or Millie Martin at 636-4477 for more information.

Hunting Lease Income Important To Farmers and Ranchers During Drought

AUSTIN—Hunting lease income for Texas farmers and ranchers will be more important than ever this year with crop losses caused by the drought.

Despite the dry weather, wildlife officials are predicting good deer and turkey hunting through much of the state this fall, said Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry.

"Although ranchers have sold off many of their cattle and other livestock due to a lack of feed, competition among wildlife species for existing forage remains acute," Perry said. "If dry conditions continue, wildlife officials say that a heavier than normal harvest may be required this year, particularly for whitetail deer, to prevent starvation and long-term damage to habitats that support all species."

In Texas, spending on wildlife-related activities reached $3.6 billion, with hunting and fishing accounting for $2.5 billion, according to the latest survey available - the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's 1991 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting and Wildlife Associated Recreation. Perry noted that much of this income goes to agricultural producers, who manage rural properties, and to rural businesses.

"Since the last major drought in the '50s, wildlife-related activities have become big business for farmers, ranchers and rural communities," Perry said. "Increasing numbers of hunters, fishing enthusiasts, birders, hikers and even wildflower admirers are flocking to the small towns of Texas to enjoy the outdoors. But this additional source of income will be threatened if drought conditions continue to affect crops, livestock and wildlife through another year."

Perry noted that urban residents also may be seeing more wildlife as species expand their search for food into cities.

Former Cottonwood Resident Featured at Free-lance Workshop for Writers

The Circuit Writers of Brownwood will be sponsoring a workshop for free-lance writers on Saturday, August 24, at the Golden Corral Meeting Room in Brownwood from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Nancy Robinson Masters, free-lance award winning author, columnist for Abilene Reporter-News, and pilot, will be the featured speaker.

Masters' "Ups and Downs" aviation features appear in publications around the world. She has written hundreds of articles and stories. Nancy was raised at Cottonwood and now resides in Abilene. She is the author of four books.

Ms. Masters will present a program on "Techniques To Building Characters," "No Such Thing as Writing For Children," "How to Make Money From Self Publishing," and "Bleeding, Scrapped and Scarred- Writing The Personal Essay." Fees are Circuit Writers members $10 and $15 for non-members. Call Elaine Coleman at (817) 643-4141 8-5 or (817) 643-2411 after 5 p.m. for additional information.
