EDITOR'S NOTE: A beautiful poem entitled "Memories" has been composed by a local lady expressing fond recollections of her home. Everyone will relate to her emotions and touching descriptions.

Last night when everything was still,
I made a journey back across the intervening years,
And saw again the shack
I first called home.

It stood there like a sentinel, its stark walls bleak and bare.
No sign of life was anywhere,
just loneliness and dark despair,
No loved one there.

I looked around, the old rail fence had fallen to the ground, and lay o'er grown by grass and weeds,
In isolation bound,
so quiet and still.

There was the well, its curb caved in,
the rope and pulley gone.
The oaken bucket on the ground where it had lain so long,
'twas naught but staves.

Sadly, I turned back to the house and stepped inside the door, to wander 'round from room to room.
Recalling memories o'er,
some long forgot.

Now the old rooms were not the same as in the days of yore,
for sunshine through the battered roof,
laid patches on the floor.
All 'round about.

The tiny window panes were gone,
so were the window sashes.
The hearths were crooked and sunken now, concealed by dust and ashes.
Through long neglect.

The doors from rusty hinges sagged,
the doorsteps were both gone.
The air seemed heavy with decay, because all life had flown.
I was alone.

'Twas then I hastened to escape,
through an open outside door.
For I felt an utter loneliness I ne'er had felt before,
and so bereft.

Then I awoke — 'Twas but a dream!
The old home is no more.
It only lives in memory,
and in tales of family lore.
I'll ne'er forget.

Keep Cross Plains Growing

You may not be aware that Higginbotham Bros. Department Store in Rising Star officially closed as of May 31. However, the Higginbotham Funeral Home remains in operation. The closing of a major store in a small town can be devastating and the reality of it happening in a neighbor-community is frightening.

Over the past few years Cross Plains has continued to grow, even with the oil disaster. With the addition of new businesses and a revitalized appearance, the community has a progressive outlook.

Let's remember to patronize local businesses and hopefully prevent closings. Try hometown stores first to aid the local economy.

High School Offices Closed June 26-30

Cross Plains ISD High School offices will be closed the week of June 26 through June 30 for repairs inside the building. All offices will re-open July 3 and close July 4.

Local Business Women Hear Bob Bullock

Dora Smith, local Real Estate Broker, and her sister, Nora Odum, attended a special luncheon for the Abilene Board of Realtors at Briarstone Manor on June 5. Guest speaker, State Comptroller Bob Bullock, discussed the state and local economies with optimism about the future.

Introduced and recognized as honored guests, Ms. Odum and Ms. Smith had the pleasure of personally meeting Abilene Mayor Ferguson, Senator Temple Dickson, and Representative Rick Perry, as well as Bob Bullock and many of his state and local staff. With them, the two business women discussed such issues as education, taxes, real estate markets and trends, and economic forecasts and projections.

Both ladies have already received personal letters from Mr. Bullock thanking them for their interest and opinions. They urge everyone to get involved to help make the recovery of our state's economy faster and healthier. Mr. Bullock has recently announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Do You Know How To Obtain Blood From Community Bank?

Various volunteers have diligently worked to obtain blood donations for Cross Plains residents over the years, and the community is credited with a supply at Meeks Blood Bank in Abilene. It has been discovered that many have not benefited from the supply because they did not authorize the use.

Just being from Cross Plains does not automatically obtain the blood for a patient. You must authorize the transfusions through the Citizens State Bank or Rolan Jones.

Jones, as a member of the Emergency Medical Service and the Justice of the Peace, is readily available in case of emergencies and can be located by radio, etc. easily.

If you have a surgery scheduled, please call ahead and make arrangements for the blood to be credited to your name.

The purpose of the blood bank is to be of assistance to the community, so please remember the procedure and use the service.

Thankful For Abundant Rains

By VANDA KING
Editor

The generalized rains over the last couple of weeks supplied a drought-stricken area with much needed rainfall. Surrounding communities of Pioneer, Sabanno, Burkett, Rowden, Atwell, Cottonwood, and Cross Cut all reported approximately 9 to 10 inches of moisture. Cross Plains proper did not receive quite that amount.

Everyone is thankful for the rainfall for crops, pastures, gardens, and yards. Locally there were no flood situations nor tornadoes, for which we are grateful. The seige of intermittent thunderstorms caused some concern, but no severe damage was assessed. Hail west of town did break some windows and damage to vehicles and gardens.

The moisture was refreshing and plants have already shown new growth. However, rising temperatures and hot gusty winds are already drying the ground.

I think the folks at Clyde who prayed for rain did an excellent deed, and it stopped just before prayers were needed for a halt.

Twin Sister Of C.P. Lady Hendrick Home Honoree

Christene Holley Cooper has recently been named the Ex of the Year at the Hendrick Home for Children's 50th anniversary celebration. She served as president of the Hendrick Home exes for three years.

In 1939, when the home opened, Cooper and her twin sister, Charlene Holley Chesshir, were taken there reluctantly by an older sister, Irene Harbin, but didn't stay.

They returned home with their sister and her husband. The girls' mother had passed away and their father had been gone since they were five years old.

One year later the twins were taken back to the home just one week before their 13th birthday.

For 49 years they have had a strong attachment to Hendrick Home which provided for their needs.

Their sister visited them every Saturday and now Cooper stated that she visits her sister, Irene, and cares for her in a retirement home.

Christene and Charlene formed a close relationship to the Hendrick Home family which still remains.

Charlene stated, "We only spent 4 years there, but it changed our lives. We would have never had the opportunity to even finish high school without Hendrick Home. I love it still!"

State Trooper Applications

Applications for TEXAS STATE TROOPER are now being accepted for the next trooper-trainee school, scheduled to begin on September 12, 1989.

"Our field recruitment personnel are informing interested persons about the professional and dependable nature of this state agency," according to Colonel Joe Milner, DPS Director. "The DPS has a national reputation of excellence in law enforcement, and we're looking for people who are good enough to help us maintain this tradition."

More than 100 applicants will be accepted for the 22-week trooper education program at the DPS Academy in Austin. A major part of the Department's recruiting goal is minority and female hiring.

"We earnestly seek qualified minority persons for employment with the DPS," Colonel Milner pointed out. "And, as in the past, we will do our best to start the recruit class with at least 40 percent minority enrollment."

Milner also indicated that his agency offers competitive salaries.

"The Texas Legislature recently authorized a five percent increase in salaries for state employees, including the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel of the DPS. This action will increase the pay for trooper-trainees to $1,622 per month. Also, our training does not end on the day of recruit graduation. Throughout the careers of our officers, we offer quality instruction in the DPS Academy to keep them at the top in their law enforcement profession," Colonel Milner noted.

The DPS Director also had a few comments regarding the commissioned ranks.

"Our troopers have many opportunities to advance in responsibilities and rank. And we make every effort to make sure that our officers have equal promotional opportunities."

The deadline for submitting an application for the next trooper-trainee school is Friday, July 28, 1989. Colonel Milner requested that interested persons contact the local state trooper during the business hours of Monday through Friday for additional information.

Weekly Health Tip

WHOLE WHEAT

When milling white flour, the kernel's heart (wheat germ) is discarded — also the bran casing. The germ, only 2.5% by weight, contains 67% of the thiamin and 25% of the riboflavin and vitamin B-6. The bran, 14% by weight, has most of the fiber, contains 3/4 of the B-6, 1/2 the pantothenic acid and riboflavin, and 1/5 the protein. 'Enrichment' restores thiamin, riboflavin, niacin and iron, but many vitamins and minerals are lost in enriched flour, which also lacks fiber. For health, emphasize whole wheat.

A second designation, "Distinguished Student," recognizes students who earned a 3.25 to 3.74 GPR while registered for 15 semester credit hours.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Holmes of Cross Plains.

Rowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

Some rain fell earlier in the week, but it has all stopped as of Saturday. Most all of the stock tanks are brim full of water. June has produced around nine inches of rain fall for the Abilene area.

John D. Montgomery had his fields plowed and fertilized for peanut planting on the Moon place. The sand has been blowing due to the flat surface.

Robert and Dorothy Watson were in Waco on a business trip Friday. He will be building a house in that area.

Kyle Watson of Amarillo was home for the weekend and celebrated his birthday.

While in Baird Friday, this writer met up with a former Rowden resident, Roberta Smedley, who was buying extra food for her family that will be home this weekend. Also met up with her son, R.L. Smedley of Blackwell, who was in the store.

It had been several years since seeing him, but each recognized the other. He had his family with him. It was good to see former neighbors.

Chris and Colby Reynolds of Midland have spent the week with their grandparents, Jon and Betty Hardwick in Baird and James and Dorothy Reynolds. The children have more outside room to play out here, but like the swimming pool in Baird.

Vernie Belle Mauldin visited Ima Gibbs in Baird during the week.

Dorothy Reynolds visited Lizzie Burks and Emma Johnson on June 12, Lizzie's birthday. She sang happy birthday and presented her with a gift. Pansy Jo Johnson of San Antonio came to visit her mother and brought a cake and gifts for Emma. Other visitors in their home this week were Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Anderson of Rising Star and Lyn Lawrence and his son, Eric of Fort Worth. They were camping out over the weekend. Leona Gary was a visitor and Ricky Kelly of Cross Plains.

This writer and her grandchildren were in Abilene Friday and visited friends, Truitt and Oddie Dawkins in Hendrick Hospital. He has been a patient there since last week.

Roland Mauldin and his son, Douglas of Irving, visited in the Gene Mauldin home Friday.

The Gibbs place is being taken over by squirrels, they run through the trees onto the house and back through the trees. It keeps one busy picking up tree twigs they knock off the trees. Some blackbirds and quail like the yard and today a humming bird was seen for the first time. The house cat has four look alike kittens that she will not let be moved to a better home. Grandchildren are good help when grass mowing needs to be done. All of this activity makes the weeks go by fast and is enjoyable, too.

Douglas Gibbs, son of Ima Gibbs of Baird, passed away Sunday morning in Fort Stockton. He had been ill with cancer. Our sympathy is extended to this family. Three brothers survive, W.B. of Baird and Dean and Dale of Abilene; his wife, Flora; and two children.

Andrews Family Reunion

The Andrews Family Reunion was held at Hordes Creek Lake Saturday and Sunday, June 3 and 4, with lots of food, visiting, picture taking, and live music.

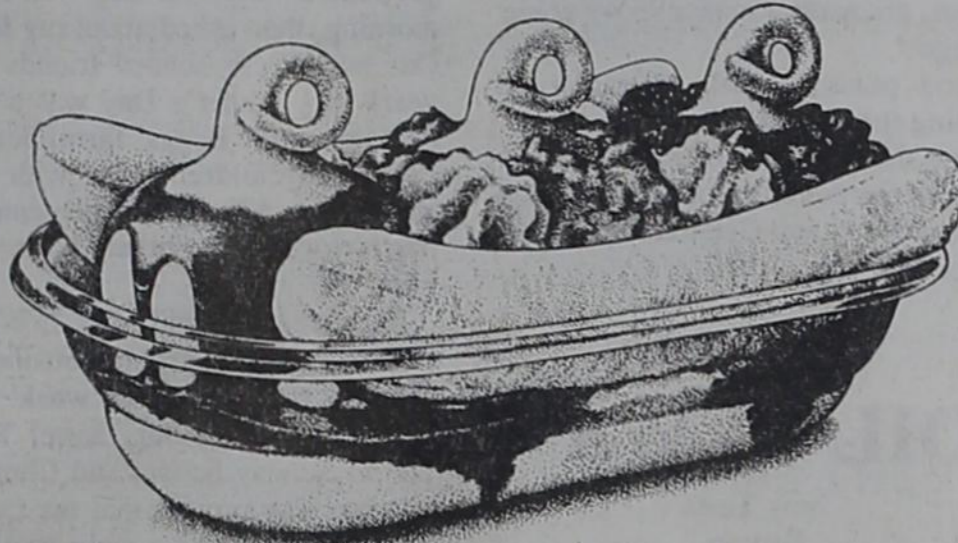

Attending the reunion from Coleman were Britt and Geneva Andrews, Linda and Bill Kerr, Wayne, Terri and son, Zack Moore, Monnie Andrews, Carl and Margaret Jane McDonald, Anita Monroe and children, Lesli and Jeremy, and Brenda and Tommy Ray Summers.

Out-of-town family members were Charles and Kathy Andrews of Burkett; Reynard and Bertha Andrews, Juanita and Leslie Gideon, Paul, Michelle Bailey and children, Zack and Kyleigh, Jimmy Agular of Odessa; Amy Neeb of Walnut Springs; James and Ruby Clark, Jimmy and James Ray Clark of Clyde; Max and Nelda Harding, Gary, Texas, and Shea McDonald of Abilene; Junior and Genetha Andrews of Comanche; Buck and Joan Brown of Cross Plains; Howard Andrews of Farmington, New Mexico; and Kathy Dawson and sons, Michael and Kevin of Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Music was furnished by Derriel and Polly Wornock, Don and Martha Pritchard, Gayla and Maegan of Santa Anna; Jean Robins of Blanket; James Lasyone of Brownwood; and Zach Moore of Coleman.

At the end of the reunion Sunday all voted to repeat the celebration next year on the first weekend of June, 1990 at Hordes Creek Lake.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This past week has been a very different kind of week out here. My house was cleaned from top to bottom — drapes cleaned — my huge grass area was mowed in fine shape.

Our church services were different, also, on Sunday morning. In the absence of our pastor, Marvin Sanders, Music-Youth Minister, directed the musical program — then brought a beautiful proclamation, entitled "Worship! Why Worship?" A very interesting program.

My longtime friend, Betty Beggs, gave me a "big bear hug" on Sunday morning, then asked about my family. Our sons were school friends many years ago. Father's Day was a happy occasion at the Beggs' farm. Son Rex, Edith and children were with them, showering J.T. with presents and much love. The other boys called home.

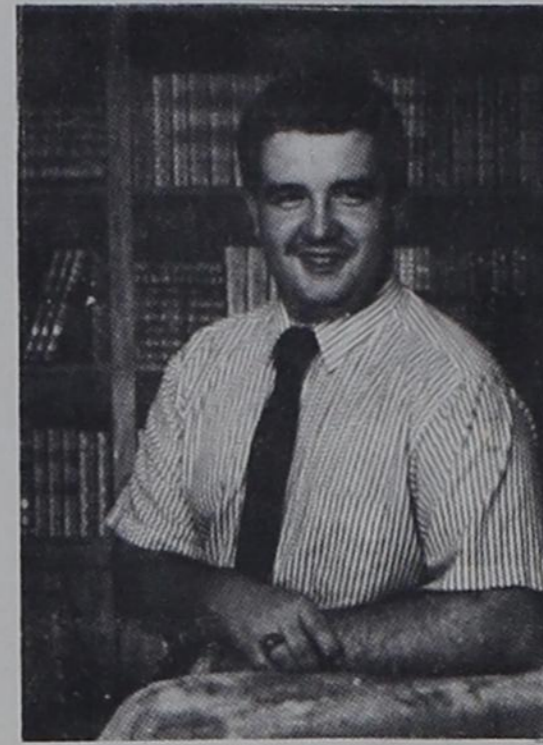

Betty and Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Mitchell were in Baird on business on Tuesday morning of last week.

My good neighbor, Jewel Foster, was in Sunday School and Church on Sunday. She reports that the Quilting Club will be active only two more Tuesdays, then take off July and August.

Helen Tillotson reports that their families had a special weekend. Mrs. Ronnie Hutchins and son, Clinton of Odessa, also Mrs. Dee Burselson of De Leon spent the weekend in this area, visiting the various families. Their Clinton was three in March, and he is very 'special' to all the families.

The Roody's did not answer this morning — I'm anxious to know how Sally is getting along — she has had so many problems with her knees. Bless her heart! She bears up bravely, from day to day.

Benny Callaway came out early this morning and worked on my water-pipes in the bathroom. They had been leaking badly for several days, losing many barrels of my 'precious' water.

Control Brush While It's Small, Cheap

COLLEGE STATION — When plants develop full foliage in early summer, many farmers and ranchers notice an increasing density of brush in their fencerows and pastures. It's also a good time to do something about it, says Dr. Tommy Welch, Extension range brush and weed control specialist.

Left alone, brush eventually decreases forage production of a pasture and can destroy fences costing $3,500 or more per mile to replace. It's usually easier, cheaper and more effective to treat brush when it's small and scattered — before it grows into a bigger problem, Welch says.

For treating fencerows and scattered stands of brush, a method called "high volume foliar application" is both handy and effective, the specialist says. With this method, a diluted solution of a herbicide is hand-sprayed directly on the leaves of the target plant until they're dripping wet. Only the targeted plant is sprayed.

Getting good control with this method requires spraying foliage when it's receptive, covering the plant thoroughly with enough herbicide solution, and using a herbicide that's effective on the targeted plants.

Brush plants are most susceptible when they're actively growing. For best results, spray after the leaves have matured, and turned from light green to dark green. The foliage should be healthy, not damaged by disease or insects. Spray before leaves develop a waxy layer as they will later in the summer, Welch recommends. In Texas, optimum conditions usually are in mid-May through late June.

Getting good coverage of the plant usually is easier with a handgun sprayer. Welch says pump-up and backpack sprayers may work well on small and scattered plants, but power sprayers are quicker and make it easier to cover larger, thicker brush.

The choice of foliar herbicides should depend on the brush species to control, Welch says. Combinations of active ingredients — either in a commercial premixed product or in separate products you mix yourself — generally will broaden the spectrum of control.

Selective range and pasture herbicides readily available for foliar use include Grazon ET, Grazon PC, Grazon P+D, Banvel and Crossbow. Used at recommended rates, these selective herbicides won't harm grasses. Susceptible species and directions to mix effective herbicide combinations with these products are on the individual product labels, Welch advises.

Be aware of any potential for drift, and avoid herbicide contact with any desirable plants in the area. Using a coarse spray and a drift control agent can help. Carefully read the herbicide label, and follow any recommended safety precautions.

After spraying, affected foliage should "brown out" within two weeks. Be prepared to go back and respray any brush that escaped control the first time, Welch suggests.

Volunteer Firemen Attend School

Eddie Morrow, volunteer fireman of the Albany Volunteer Fire Department, is attending the 60th Annual Firemen's Training School, July 23-28. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus this week.

Firemen can choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Morrow is being sponsored by Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureau and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President S.M. True, Jr. of Plainview. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Albany Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Callahan-Shackelford County."

Arthritis Foundation Expand Services With Toll-Free Number

The Arthritis Foundation, Northwest Texas Chapter, recently announced the installation of a toll-free number to give people throughout the Chapter easy access to arthritis information and services.

"There are approximately 462,000 people in the 102 counties we serve, who have arthritis," said Marty Cook, Executive Director. "We hope this new toll-free number will make arthritis information and help as accessible in Lubbock, Midland or Dalhart as it is in Fort Worth, where the Chapter office is located."

The Northwest Texas Chapter presently provides public and patient education programs, the Arthritis Self Help Course, Arthritis Aquatics Program as well as free brochures on specific types of arthritis, treatment programs and how to cope with the disease.

The Northwest Texas Chapter was recently assigned the responsibility to provide programs and services to many counties in the former West Texas Chapter. Development plans are underway to provide direct patient services in those 72 counties. Organizing support groups for people with arthritis is one of the top priorities. The Chapter is seeking volunteers to attend a one-day Support Group Leaders' Training to be held in Lubbock this summer. An Arthritis Self Help Course is designed to give people with arthritis the knowledge and skills needed to take a more active part in their treatment program.

The Northwest Texas Chapter also publishes a quarterly newsletter that provides current information on arthritis, tips to make living with the disease easier and other articles of interest to people with arthritis and their family members.

For more information on arthritis, support groups or other services, contact the Northwest Texas Chapter by calling the toll-free number, 1-800-283-7733, or write: 3145 McCart, Fort Worth, TX 76110.

The Arthritis Foundation is the only voluntary organization devoted exclusively to finding the answer to arthritis. The Arthritis Foundation supports research efforts that have yielded more effective ways to treat arthritis symptoms. In addition to supporting research, the Arthritis Foundation provides programs and services for people with arthritis, that seek to improve the quality of their lives.

The Arthritis Foundation depends on funding from memberships, private and corporate donations, as well as bequests. Through the many services available from the Chapter, people with arthritis receive help for today, and more importantly, hope for tomorrow.

American Cancer Society Establishes Toll-Free Cancer Information Line— Cancer Response System

Residents of Cross Plains now can have all their questions about cancer answered by calling a toll-free number which will be staffed by trained American Cancer Society volunteers with access to a comprehensive database of information, according to Aubrey Loper, President of the Callahan Unit of the American Cancer Society.

The toll-free number is 1-800-ACS-2345 and can be called from anywhere in Texas. Hours of operation are 8:30 a.m. — 4 p.m. (CST).

"People often have a lot of questions about cancer when they find out a loved one has the disease or when they suspect they have a warning sign of cancer or when they have read an article that leaves them with a question. Now anyone in Texas can have their questions answered with just a phone call — and it's free," said Aubrey Loper. Many people may be unaware of the variety of services provided free to cancer patients in Callahan County.

Callers may ask technical questions about the disease, about cancer detection and warning signs, and about treatments. But the unique aspect of the new phone line is that callers can find out about services available to cancer patients and their families in their own city or area.

The American Cancer Society loans equipment to cancer patients and offers free classes and information to cancer patients and their families. Information about these local services, as well as education for public groups, can be obtained by calling this toll-free number.

Stealing electricity is against the law!

Stealing electricity is a felony.

Some people tamper with their electric meters to avoid paying for the energy they use. Stealing electricity is a felony offense in the state of Texas and violators will be prosecuted. West Texas Utilities' Current Diversion Department is working hard to help combat the growing problem of energy theft.

Energy theft is dangerous.

Not only is service theft a crime, but it is also very dangerous. Serious injuries can result from meter tampering.

A crime against you!

When someone steals electricity, they are not only stealing from WTU — they are also stealing from you, as a rate-payer. Just as shoplifting increases the cost of items you buy in the store, power theft increases the cost of your electric service.

WTU will prosecute.

Because we are concerned about the dangers and costs resulting from meter tampering, West Texas Utilities will prosecute energy thieves.

Heartworms On Increase

Heartworms on increase in Callahan County Area. Canine Heartworms is being diagnosed very frequently in our area. An increased incidence is likely to persist due to increased rainfall resulting in an increased mosquito population. This is such a deadly disease that it is well worth reminding ourselves of certain facts:

The net result of heartworm disease is the serious mechanical damage it causes to a dog's heart, lungs, liver and kidneys. But while it is stopping up kidneys and blood flow, there are few outward signs of all the internal damage being caused until the disease is very far along.

Mosquitoes are key carriers of heartworm disease. When an infected dog is bitten by a mosquito, blood is carried away which may include tiny, immature forms of heartworms called microfilariae.

It takes about three months for these larvae to travel through the tissue to the body to enter the heart. Dozens of these larvae (some of which can actually become up to 14 inches long) become adults within another three months. By that time, much of the mechanical damage just mentioned has become fact.

Thanks to research and modern preventive medicine, there is a lot you can do to avoid heartworm in the first place or see that it is successfully treated if it hasn't progressed too far:

A blood test is the only way to detect heartworm disease in its early stages. Since it's possible for an infected dog to have adult heartworms without microfilaria, an X-ray examination and other lab tests may be needed to confirm heartworm infection.

After the disease has progressed, symptoms can include frequent coughing, sluggishness, rapid tiring and finally, labored breathing.

If caught in time, a series of injections of an organic arsenical drug can be used to kill heartworms. Then another drug can be used to get rid of the microfilariae.

No vaccine is available for heartworm disease, but you can give regular doses of a drug which can prevent infective larvae from developing into adult worms. This can be in the form of a daily tablet; another possibility is a new, monthly tablet which has just become available.

Heartworms are on the increase due to mild winters with increased rainfall resulting in more mosquitoes, due to affected dogs traveling with their owners to areas where heartworms are not normally a problem are due to increased awareness of owners which results in increased testing and diagnosis. Our area was once thought to be a low incidence area, but with the rapid increase in the numbers of heartworm cases we must take a more aggressive approach to the situation. Heartworm checks and preventatives must be initiated to decrease the incidence of the disease.

Range And Wildlife Tour Rescheduled

Because of the heavy rains on Monday, June 12, the RANGE AND WILDLIFE TOUR was canceled but it has been rescheduled for Thursday, June 29, at 9 a.m., according to Greg Gerngross, County Extension Agent. The tour participants will meet at the courthouse.

CRP plantings, control burns, mesquite and prickly pear control, wildlife habitat management and other topics will be discussed by various speakers. Several result demonstrations including mesquite and pear control will be looked at during the tour. Dr. Jake Landers will also discuss current and past weather conditions and its influence on mesquite control for 1989. Tour participants will also have the opportunity to look at several mesquite spray plots one and two years old plus some different items related to quail habitat management and quail feeders.

A noon meal will be served following the tour at the Baird Activity Center sponsored by DOW Chemical Co. and the First National Bank of Baird. Producers planning to attend the tour should call the County Extension office at (915) 854-1518 by noon Monday, June 26.

Following the noon meal, producers who are interested in predator control will meet at 1 p.m. to discuss the predator problem and what steps we need to take to solve it. All interested producers are invited to attend the tour and the predator meeting.

For more information on either meeting, call the County Extension office at (915) 854-1518.

USDA Announces 1990 Wheat Program Provisions

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter today announced a required 5-percent acreage reduction and the following other provisions of the 1990 wheat program:

— A price support loan and purchase rate of $1.95 per bushel, a 20-percent reduction from the basic loan and purchase rate of $2.44. This is the statutory minimum and five percent below the 1989 loan and purchase rate of $2.06 per bushel.

— The established target price is $4 per bushel, the statutory minimum, and down about two percent from the 1989 target price.

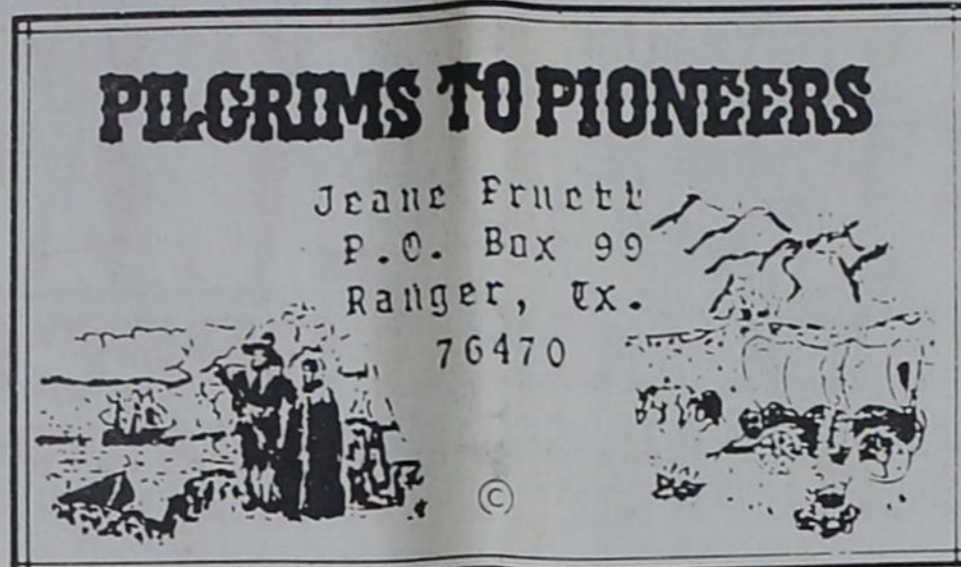

— A paid land diversion will not be implemented.

— No marketing loan or related program provisions will be implemented.

— Producers will be required to maintain in acreage conservation reserve an area equal to 5.26-percent of program payment acreage.

Yeutter reserves the right to initiate later cost reduction options as outlined in Section 1009 of the Food Security Act of 1985. These options may include reopening or changing a program contract entered into by producers if they voluntarily agree to the change.

Other provisions common to program crops will be announced at a later date.

...NEWS FLASH!!! June 15, 1989: Jodi Head, representative from Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, TX. brought the family histories for the upcoming "Eastland County History Book" to the local book committee in Eastland. Although the committee was very busy proofing these family stories, Mrs. Head took a few moments to speak with me. [JP]

It is estimated the "Eastland County History Book" will have at least 800 pages, their goal is for publication in 1989.

Mrs. Head pointed out "this is a limited edition based on the number of copies pre-sold." She states "you can still get in on the BARGAIN DAYS," but don't wait too long! September 1, 1989 will be the last date to order the book at the price of $52.50 plus $3.68 sales tax. After publication price will be $70 plus $4.90 sales tax. Shipping cost of $5 will remain the same. Purchase before the September 1, 1989 deadline will save $18.72.

It was also mentioned that September 1, 1989 is the predicted deadline for purchase of MEMORIAL and TRIBUTE PAGES, as well as BUSINESS HISTORY PAGES. If you've been meaning to (but just haven't got around to it) purchase a page in "Memory or Honor" of your loved ones, or space to include the "Family Business History," now's the time.

NOTE FROM JEANE: With a reported "over 2100" family stories, this should be a WHOPPER!

...GENEALOGIES OF TEXAS FAMILIES: Biographical Notes of Pioneer Settlers. Genealogies of Texas Families is a collection of brief histories of pre-1900 residents. Confederate veterans, cowboys, farmers and immigrants are covered in this volume.

Alphabetically arranged, most biographies or genealogies are one to three pages in length, followed by the name and address of the submitter. In addition to photographs, Genealogies of Texas Families is illustrated with reproductions from actual documents.

Due to the volume of material submitted for publication, other editions will be issued. All submitters will receive at no charge — a newsletter (released sporadically) with news of other editions, corrections, and changes of address. Through this newsletter, we will provide help by notifying submitters if someone else has submitted material on the same family, or if we have additional information on file.

Pre-publication price: $32.50 (Texas residents add tax, $2.44). Pre-publication orders must be received by 15 July 1989. After this date regular price will be $37.50 (Texas residents add tax, $2.81).

For descriptive brochure including full listing of families and places, and order form, send a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to: DATATRACE SYSTEMS, P.O. Box 1587, Stephenville, TX 76401.

Appointments Only

The Social Security Administration has been conducting most interviews by appointment for over a year. Glyn Hammons, District Manager in Abilene, says the Abilene office policy has been to try to handle all drop in traffic along with the appointments. This is no longer possible. Beginning Monday, June 26, 1989, the Abilene Social Security office will operate by appointment only for seated interviews.

Applications for Social Security numbers, changes of address, general inquiries, and other items that can be handled at the front desk without a seated interview will still be done without an appointment. Provisions will also be made for a few special emergency situations, but in every other case, an appointment will be required.

This should present no problem if everyone will telephone before coming to the office. In Abilene, you can call (915) 698-1360. For other Big Country residents, you can call toll-free by dialing 1-800-234-5772.

In most cases, your business can be handled entirely by telephone and mail without a visit to the office. If a trip to the Abilene office is needed, an appointment will be scheduled as soon as possible, usually within one to two weeks.

When you call, be sure to find out what documents or information you need to complete your business. For example, when you file an application for retirement benefits, the Social Security interviewer will need to see an original or certified copy of your birth certificate, your latest W-2 form or tax return, and will need your bank account number and bank routing number to send checks directly to the bank. If family members will be applying on your record, other documents will be needed. Your specific situation can be discussed when you call for an appointment.

By scheduling your business by appointment, the Social Security office hopes to eliminate the long waiting times that were sometimes involved before an interviewer was available. Every effort will be made to stick to the schedule and give you the best service possible.
