'The Rest Of The Story'

By VANDA KING
Editor

For the past four years I have written many stories about the local Emergency Medical Service in an effort to promote their heroic actions in times of need. During those interviews it was always from an outsider's viewpoint, as I am not a member of the EMS volunteers.

The last time I photographed the EMS vehicle I was impressed by its updated interior and medical capabilities. I made the comment to Rolan Jones that I hoped I would never have to experience the use of the equipment personally, but felt that it was very efficient.

I barely got the words out of my mouth before I had a personal experience. Recently, I was rushed to Hendrick Medical Center with symptoms of high blood pressure, difficulty in breathing, and drawing and tingling of extremities and face.

Knowing both the volunteers, Guy Evans and Rolan Jones, was a comfort to me, but I am sure that being acquainted with the patients makes the duty much more stressful for them.

The professionalism and speed with which they delivered me to the emergency room was impressive. I feel that the oxygen that was used on the trip was responsible for the lowering of my blood pressure 20 points, due to its calming effect and ability to improve breathing.

I also applied a relaxation technique which I learned many years ago at a twirling school. It consists of telling your body to physically relax beginning at your toes to the top of your head. Then you think only of calming and pleasant past events that remove consciousness from the present circumstances. This process has come in handy on several occasions, so maybe you can benefit from the simple procedure in a stressful situation.

However, I have to tell you that I did a lot of praying on the journey. I kept thinking I just wanted to live to raise my children, Blandye, Leah and Kye. At one point, I suddenly recalled the verse concerning two or three gathered together in the name of the Lord. I requested Guy to pray with me and he graciously did so, and understood completely. There have been so many times in my life that individual praying and prayer groups have made the difference for my family. I want to give God the glory for every blessing.

After blood tests, etc., the physician determined that I had an allergic reaction caused by combining aspirin and a prescription medication I take regularly. In some cases these can be fatal, but I feel that the quick thinking of the EMS volunteers and with help from above, I was very fortunate.

I have learned that the Cross Plains EMS is one of the most dedicated and well trained in the area since the incident, and we are so lucky to have them in our community. The time they spend on call alone is very demanding and expresses their feelings toward their fellow men.

I have never made the trip to Abilene in such a short time, and probably never so bumpy, but I was just thankful to be alive. The personal attention I received will always be remembered, as I am appreciative of their kindness.

Keeping the EMS strong and active is of utmost importance to the residents of Cross Plains. Thanks for being there for me.

Blood Drive Today

A Blood Drive for the Meek Blood Bank in Abilene is scheduled for today, April 19, from 3-6 p.m. at the Cross Plains Community Center. The Senior Citizens are proudly sponsoring the service, which will allow all the blood donated to be used by local residents in time of need.

Only 30 minutes of your time is required to perhaps save a life or prolong a productive life. The following will provide some food for thought on the important subject:

Thoughts From A Blood Drive Chairman

"I'm giving my blood. Christ already gave His. I'll give a meager pint. Christ gave His all. My needle was small, sharp and sterile. His nails were large, dull and surely unclean.

My table is soft, comfortable. His cross was rough, painful. My attendants are gentle, kind. His soldiers were harsh and cruel. My community applauds the deed. "They that passed by reviled Him." Mine is for O positive. His, for positively all.

Mine, at best, prolongs this life... but only for a while. His always produces newness of life... that lasts forever."

Perhaps the availability and gift of our pints may lead someone to receive the redemption of His all. Think about it.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

My good neighbor, David, who brought me the new burn barrel, knew better than to leave it so it would catch water. He had it prepared to drain immediately.

This Easter holiday weekend has been very special to me, in more ways than one. My daughter, Joan Elizabeth, came here on Friday and took me home with her to Cleburne. Their two sons and their wives were with us through the weekend. Bob brought me home Sunday afternoon.

My son, C.V. Jr., Karen and those three precious girls came up from Longview for the weekend. We all went to church Sunday morning and thoroughly celebrated the Holy Day!

Betty Beggs reports that there was splendid attendance at First Baptist Church Sunday morning — and many in Sunday School earlier. They had an "Easter Egg Hunt" for Rex Lee's and Edith's children, Nikki, Ashley and Tony — they all stayed for supper. Betty attended our W.M.U. on Tuesday last week. L.W. and Jeannette Mitchell went to the Beggs' home late Saturday, and they all went to the cellar during the storm threat.

Sally and Bob Roady visit Ms. Nettie Roady at the nursing home nearly every day. Their daughter, Cindy, recently cut her arm rather seriously. The doctor removed the stitches this past week. Their visitors during the past week were Bob and Sue McNeil of Baird and also N.A. and Ghetti Roady of Baird. Billy and H.A. Freeman of Cross Plains visited on Tuesday. George Roady of Dallas came in on Saturday for the weekend. The family talked on the telephone with their son, Joe of Brownwood, on Friday.

On Saturday, a cousin Sally didn't even know she had came from from Spokane, Washington. She learned of several family members she had not known. George and Reba Fortner (a Hicks cousin) spent about three hours with them during the weekend.

Ms. Jewel Foster had numerous family members visiting during the holiday weekend. A grandson, Don Anston and family of Houston, Charles and Lucille of Clyde, Eugene and Norma of Pioneer, and a granddaughter, Stephanie from Texas Tech (Lubbock) visited the families here.

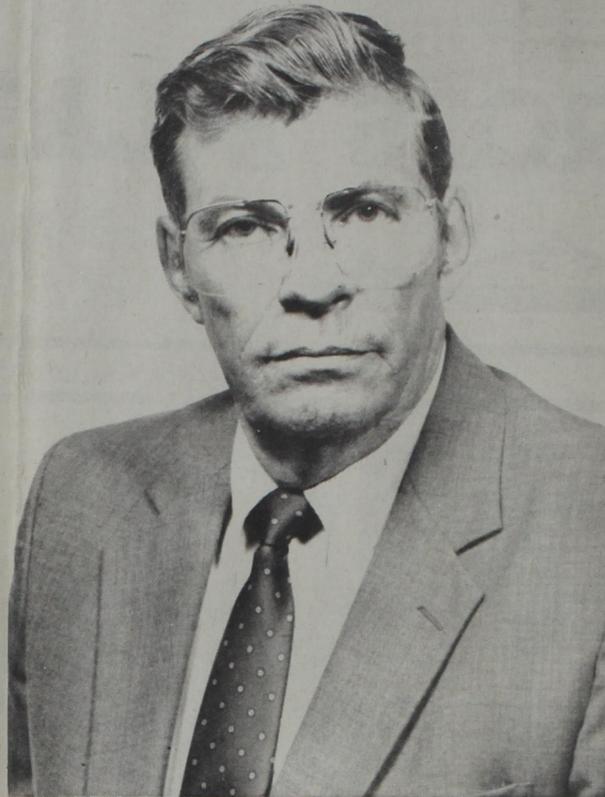

Nell and Joe Fleming enjoyed a very busy weekend. Their visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fleming of Pampa, also Alton Watson of Pampa, Brian Fleming of Amarillo, Mrs. Julie Robinson and children of Midland, JoVeda and Bill Watson of Byrd's Store, Jim and Charlene and family, and Alan Fleming of Stephenville. They all enjoyed a huge fish fry on Sunday afternoon.

Please forgive me, friends, if I have skipped someone who should be covered in this column — and call me anytime. You all are very dear to me!

PERSONALS

Mrs. Suma Dill's visitors were Wanda Walker, Blanche Moore, Alton McCowen, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thompson, of the community, and Mr. and Mrs. Ike Watts of Cisco.

Visiting in Jean Fore's home over the Easter weekend were her nephew and wife, Garrison and Myrtle Harlow, and Mrs. Harlow's mother, Mrs. Marrow, all of Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Milford Milwee of Big Spring stopped by Monday afternoon.

Secretary Of State George Bayoud Says Primary Runoff Turnout Highest Since 1972

AUSTIN — Texas recorded its highest primary runoff election turnout since 1972 on Tuesday when more than 1.2 million people cast ballots in the Democratic and Republican party runoffs, Secretary of State George Bayoud said.

The runoff turnout is the highest since 1972 when more than 2 million Texans went to the polls to nominate candidates for governor and other offices.

On Tuesday, Texas voters at the statewide level nominated Democratic Party candidates for governor, treasurer, the Texas Supreme Court and Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and Republican Party candidates for land commissioner and agriculture commissioner.

The runoff turnout represents 15.2 percent of the state's 8.3 million registered voters. In the March 13 primary, 28 percent of the state's registered voters cast ballots. The March 13 turnout was the highest primary election turnout ever in a non-presidential election year and the second highest total for any primary election in Texas history.

"The runoff turnout exceeded our expectations," said Bayoud, the state's chief elections officer. "I am particularly pleased that we have reversed a historical trend in which runoff turnouts drop substantially from primary turnouts."

Historically, the drop in turnout from the primary to the runoff is at least 50 percent, election records indicate.

Bayoud encouraged all Texans who are eligible to vote to do so in the November 6 General Election. The deadline to register to vote in that election is October 7.

"If you are not registered, you have plenty of time to do so between now and the registration deadline," Bayoud said. "It's imperative that as many Texans as possible participate in the democratic process by registering and voting."

Project Family

Clay Milstead, General Manager of KTXS, has announced a new, on-going campaign at KTXS called Project Family. "It is a public service campaign that KTXS, along with their sponsors, will provide to audiences. This locally produced campaign will target all aspects of family life with stories about parenting issues, teen pressures, and aging.

It will run the full spectrum of issues and concerns that arise in a family." Milstead noted that KTXS will run three prime-time specials along with this campaign. These specials, along with other KTXS events, will fall under the umbrella of Project Family.

The first prime time special will be April 19. Tentatively, it will be called "Project Family — Families Under Siege" and will be hosted by Liza Burgess, Greg Beatty, and Dr. Paul Falkner of the Abilene Christian University Marriage and Family Institute.

During the one-hour special which will air from 7 to 8 p.m., Liza Burgess will do a story about the evolution of the family. Steve Kosted will report on the pressures children face in our competitive society.

Greg Beatty will report on the strains of making marriages work. Jim McKenna will explain what happens when family pressures become too much to handle and cause family violence, and Kevin Marks will report on growing old and senior citizen concerns.

Club Lambs For Crippled Children

Jim Alexander, Chairman of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center's Round-Up for Crippled Children, announced today the appointment of Allen Turner of Ballinger as Chairman of the Club Lambs for Crippled Children.

The first auction of Club Lambs for Crippled Children, a new phase of the annual benefit, is scheduled for July 14, 1 p.m., at the West Texas Fair Grounds.

Donating one or more lambs for this sale will enable additional individuals to participate in providing rehabilitation for disabled individuals served by the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Rehab officials announced that a cash premium will be paid for any County Show Grand or Reserve Champion lamb that was purchased through the Club Lambs for Crippled Children sale.

Pledges of wether, ram and ewe lambs are already being received from breeders in Texas and Oklahoma.

The West Texas Rehabilitation Center, with facilities in Abilene and San Angelo, serves more than 13,000 individuals annually.

For further information, contact Mike Galaway at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene (915) 691-7200, or Allen Turner, (915) 365-5036.

Financial Help For Disabled Children

A common concern among parents with disabled children is whether there will be enough money for them throughout their lives. The Social Security and supplemental security income (SSI) programs can do much to lessen this concern. These two programs can assure some economic security to disabled children of all ages.

Although there are differences between the programs, both pay monthly cash benefits to disabled people. And someone who receives Social Security or SSI will usually be eligible for Medicare or Medicaid, that will help pay the costs of health care expenses.

The Social Security program pays benefits to the children of retired or disabled people receiving Social Security benefits. Benefits can also be paid to children of workers who died. Any child under 18 may be eligible for benefits. And a child over 18 may get benefits if he or she is disabled and the disability began in childhood — before the age of 22.

The disabled child need not have started getting benefits before age 18. Benefits can start at any age since entitlement to benefits depends on the parent's death, disability, or retirement. For example, suppose John Smith, who has a 40-year-old developmentally disabled daughter living with him, is planning to retire. Chances are his daughter would be able to collect benefits when he retires. She probably could also get benefits if he died or became disabled.

The SSI program is somewhat different from Social Security. It pays monthly benefits to disabled people with limited income and resources. The age at which the disability started has no bearing. Disabled people of any age who qualify — young or old — can receive SSI benefits.

A disabled child under 18, who lives with his or her parents, can qualify for SSI payments only if the income and resources of his or her parents are limited. However, once a child turns 18, the parent's income and resources no longer count. If the child has little income and few resources, he or she may be able to get SSI checks.

Sometimes disabled children who live in institutions might be able to leave and live outside the institution if they had an income. In many cases, that needed income could come in the form of SSI checks.

If you have a disabled child who may be eligible for either Social Security or SSI benefits, call, write or visit any Social Security office. The people there will be glad to give you more information and assist you in completing an application.

You can call toll free by dialing 1-800-234-5772. The Abilene office address is 142 S. Pioneer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

War On Drugs Does Not Get Community Support

Dear Editor:

Perestroika. Why are certain powerful people promoting it? Just exactly what is involved in this program? Why are Gorbachev and our own President both pushing it?

It is plain to see that something important is going on. Where all this leads is not so plain. The governments of the world seem to be changing. Governments of free countries, including ours, are quietly but continuously becoming more socialist with growing threads of tyranny. Those run by dictatorships, especially the bloody socialist dictatorships, are suddenly putting on a show of turning gentle, of relaxing controls, of becoming more like us. (Unless, of course, when the people dare demand real freedom — then the red hand of brute force shows through the false front of make-believe.)

We are becoming more like them and, they seem to be becoming more like us. What is this play? Is it "premeditated merger"?

The bloodiest government in the world is the USSR. They have exterminated (killed) an average of 800,000 people a year for the last 75 years. The present boss of the "evil empire" is Gorbachev. He is a master of deceit and intrigue with a smiling face and disarming personality. He has now managed to gather to himself more personal power inside the USSR than any one man has ever had before, even Stalin. And at the same time, with the help of some of our politicians and news media, he gives the appearance of doing just the opposite, even losing control.

The governments of the Captive Nations seem to be changing, too. But if you look closely you will see that the dreaded secret police and the army are still controlled by the dictators who can slap the lid on again any time. What looks like "freedom" is mighty shaky. In his article, "Is The Cold War Over?", John F. McManus of the John Birch Society points out that "you can bet your bottom dollar that the arch criminals who have climbed over the corpses of tens of millions to establish Communist-led tyrannies in nation after nation are not going to walk meekly away from their seats of power. Nor are they going to permit real political and economic freedom to challenge their control."

Gorbachev has repeatedly stated that the goal of his perestroika program is to strengthen socialism, world socialism. Socialism is what they have had for years that has resulted in so much misery and horrible bloodshed. (We used to call it "communism" but that is not the style anymore.)

The alarming thing is that our President Bush says that he will "support perestroika". And last year he told the graduating class at Texas A & M University that his objective is to welcome the Soviet Union back into the world order.

I don't believe that the American people want a new world order run by the Soviet Union. Of course not. We don't even want a new world order that collaborates with the Soviet Union. If we stop long enough to think things out, we don't even want a new world order. We want to be free and keep our independence. The John Birch Society slogan: "Not World Government! Keep US Independent!" says it all.

Comments from your readers will be appreciated.

Bruce Taber

People sing about IT.
People preach against IT.
Teachers teach about IT.

The federal government had declared war on IT.
The networks are getting ratings and make money dramatizing IT.
Politicians build platforms based on IT.

Good citizens are outraged by IT.
Bad citizens make money and kill for IT.

Public and private institutions try sobering up those who have abused IT.

Law enforcement spends a lifetime trying to "arrest" IT.

And then, there are those of you, who believe in your hearts, that IT doesn't affect you.

IT, of course, is drugs.

On March 17, our community had the opportunity to support the fight on drugs in our area. About 35 entertainers and volunteers donated not only their fine talents, but their own travel expenses, to raise funds for the West Central Texas Interlocal Crime Task Force. Food and soft drinks were donated to help sustain performers through two performances. Printing of programs were donated; advertising was provided as a community service; volunteers worked for days, weeks and months to put on shows that were outstanding. It was 3 1/2 hours of country music, barbershop singing, bluegrass, comedy and gospel. Proceeds were to provide the desperately needed funds to be able to continue the work of the Task Force to fight the war on drugs.

But, there was a shocking lack of support from our community for the cause, for the efforts, and for the need. Tickets were only $5, the price of a movie ticket, a few games of bowling, a quick meal — and every dollar went directly to the Crime Task Force. Out of a 14 county community, consisting of almost 300,000 people, only 200 came to support the event.

Maybe this entertainment is not everyone's favorite. Maybe everyone was busy Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening. Maybe no one in the community has had a son, daughter, mom or dad affected by drugs or drug dealers. Maybe no one in the community has ever been robbed, burglarized, mugged, defrauded, lied to or cheated out of anything because of drugs. Maybe taxes don't go up annually so more people can be hired to deal with the problem. Maybe there is a Utopia. But, chances are you do know someone who has, and taxes do go up every year because of it. There is no Utopia.

Locally, our Crime Task Force must raise 1/4 of their own funds to keep operating and keep the struggle with drugs going. The President's declaration of War on Drugs is only 1/4 of what we need — we in our community are responsible for the rest. In general terms, it translates into only one dollar from each person in our area.

We didn't have an entertainment star or Hollywood name in our corner to raise big dollars and convince everyone this is a good cause — but, we shouldn't have to. We should have been able to carry this off with just keeping the "Main Thing" the "Main Thing" — and that is getting drugs out of our communities.

After all, everyone is talking about what a problem this is and about how "those" people need to do something. Unfortunately, I've discovered that "those" people who are fighting it are getting beat, frustrated and worn out. They're fighting a battle they didn't create for people who seem to not care, under conditions that, at best, are bad enough for the rest of us to avoid working under.

For those of you who do help fight — GOD BLESS YOU!

For those of you who support those who fight it — THANK YOU!

For those of you who are apathetic and tired of hearing about it — I PITY YOU!

Your world is not real and when reality hits, it'll be hard and heartless.

Cross Plains Library Gets County Donation

Callahan County Commissioners, in a regular monthly meeting Monday, April 9, voted to contribute $1,000 to the Cross Plains Library for building repairs.

Commissioners agreed to donate $1,000 to the Cross Plains Library after Joan McCowen met with commissioners requesting the aid. McCowen said that the library needed the donation to make repairs to the library's roof. She stated that several books in the library have been damaged due to the leaking roof.

Library officials reported that a bid of $3,900 was received to repair the library's roof.

Other items brought before commissioner's court included:

— Voted to donate $400 to the Citizens Emergency Medical Service for repairs to the new offices of the EMS in Clyde. Ron Young, administrator for the Citizens EMS, reported that the EMS had received a donated trailer for its new offices located at the city maintenance yard, located on South First Street in Clyde. Young said that the City of Clyde had agreed to give $400 to the EMS and that he will approach the City of Baird to make a contribution of $400. Young said the funds will be used to pay for moving the trailer, underpinning on the trailer and building, permanent steps and other concrete work. Commissioners voted to make the donation from the county's hospital fund.

— Met with Eddie Albrecht, of Cottonwood, to discuss the county using his construction building company to contract road work on county roads. Albrecht told commissioners that his company can do the road work, such as building tin horn drainage and bridges, cheaper than the county can. No action was taken by commissioners.

— Approved a resolution appointing Allene Whitt to take authority for the State Legalization Impact Assistance Grant program. Ms. Whitt is the county judge's secretary.

— Discussed the county's federal commodity program. Commissioners reported that 6,200 pounds of food commodities will be picked up this month.

— Voted to let County Treasurer Dora Hounshell attend a county treasurer's seminar at Texas A & M University in College Station next week.

— Voted to amend the county budget, moving funds from the general revenue fund into different county departments.

American Cancer Society Offer Many Services

County Judge Mack Kniffen, Patient Services Chairman for the Callahan County Unit of the American Cancer Society, stated that the Callahan County Unit served 20 cancer patients last year. Items provided on a free loan basis were 6 hospital beds, 12 wheel chairs, 24 walkers and 24 commode chairs. Also gift items are provided. Monetary value of services provided was $7,028.

American Cancer Society offers all cancer patients services and rehabilitation options at no cost to the patient. "Our concern is to ease the suffering and aid the recovery of those living with cancer," Kniffen said.

ON THE CORNER Little Mixed Up

By DON TABOR
Publisher

Let's see, now what was I going to write about this week?

Oh, yeah, I remember now, being forgetful.

My grandkids ask me: "How many years are you, Granddaddy?" I think a few seconds, do a little finger-counting, and then tell them "53."

That is an unfathomable total for a 6 or 7-year-old and it seems like each year I add one to it, it becomes a little harder to remember what the sum is.

I tell my wife I'm not getting more forgetful, it's just that I've got more on my mind. Always the sympathetic ear, she answers: "Bull."

Misery loves company, and I get plenty of that when I talk to friends of my age niche.

In fact, the first lrier doesn't stand a chance. Sometimes, a golf buddy Bob Shoemaker and I get into a fibbing contest over who performs the most outrageous act of forgetfulness. We both forget who finally wins.

Anyway, a lady brought in a poem which sums up the miseries I've been talking about pretty well. It follows:

"LITTLE MIXED UP"

Just a line to say I'm living,
That I'm NOT among the dead;
Though I'm getting more forgetful,
And more mixed up in the head.
For, sometimes, I can't remember,
When I stand at foot of stair,
If I must go up for something,
Or I've just come down from there.
And before the frig' so often,
My poor mind is filled with doubt,
Have I just put food away, or
Have I come to take some out?
And there's times when it is dark out
With my night cap on my head,
I don't know if I'm retiring,
Or just getting out of bed.
So, if it's my turn to write you,
There's no need in getting sore,
I may think that I have written,
And don't want to be a bore.
So, remember — I do love you,
And wish that you were here;
But now, it's nearly mail time,
So I must say, "Good-bye, dear."

There I stood beside the mailbox,
With a face very red,
Instead of mailing you my letter,
I had opened it instead...

Rowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

This area almost had Easter showers early Saturday morning. This is the time of Jesus' death and resurrection that is celebrated the world over. His resurrection gives all who believe in him an eternal home in heaven. His death was 2,000 years ago, but his life on earth was short. He was a great teacher that no one can repeat.

Those that visited in the Gene Mauldin home Saturday and Sunday were children and grandchildren, Stanley and Patti Zwerneman and children of Magnolia, and Roland and Faye Mauldin of Denton Valley and their sons, Douglas of Irving and Kenneth of Stephenville.

Lori Ann Dye of Abilene spent Friday night with her grandmother, Edna Dye.

Visitors of James and Dorothy Reynolds over the weekend were Jim and Crecia Reynolds and sons, Chris and Colby of Midland. Also, Morris and Pam Vannop of Midland visited. The group all attended church services with James and Dorothy at the Cherry Heights Baptist Church in Clyde Sunday.

Kathy Dye spent a day this week with her mother, Anna Dendy in Mason. On Saturday, Bob and Kathy drove to Bend on the Colorado River where they had a fishing trip with their daughter and family, the Brian Pattersons of Copperas Cove.

Nell and Gundy Gunderson were here with her sisters, Claribel Gibbs and Joyce Odom, this week. They were on their way back to Minnesota after living in the Valley during the winter. The three sisters had a shopping day in Abilene with lunch. In the afternoon, they made a visit with relatives, Anna Bell Tabor and Jewel Swanzy in Clyde. Also in Baird, they visited Faye White.

Leigh Harrell was on the sick list and missed a couple of days of school this week.

Lizzie Burks entered the Shady Oaks rest home in Abilene Wednesday. Emma was called this morning that Lizzie and her sister, Alice Willis who has been in the home for some time, were visiting. Emma was the receiver of a beautiful Hydrangea plant given by her daughter, Pansy Johnson of San Antonio, and was delivered by Tim Dillard of Cross Plains. Visitors in the home were Carroll Burks and Sandy Bullock of Abilene and Johnny Wooten and Bobbie Burks.

Recent visitors of Joyce Odom were Bud and Dixie Ingram of Cross Plains. Nancy Palmer of Clyde was out for a visit Saturday afternoon.

Tonya and Connie Steele were in Cottonwood Saturday night to play with the school band at their Fire Control meeting and banquet.

Kyle Foster of Texas Tech was home for the Easter holiday with his family, Robert and Dorothy Watson and brothers, Cody and Wyatt.

hello?

At Contel, we know how important a properly functioning phone system is. Sometimes, it can literally be a matter of life or death.

Unfortunately, not everyone understands. Every month--especially in the spring--numerous phone cables are cut in Contel's local serving area due to digging.

Contel posts warnings on telephone line pedestals and along cable routes indicating where cable is buried in the area. A toll-free 24-hour telephone number (1-800-628-2DIG) is printed on those warnings so that anyone planning to dig can call Contel. We will immediately dispatch someone to mark the exact cable location, free of charge.

Please, call Contel before you dig. Because when you cut a phone line, it is more than just inconvenient. A lot more.

Rogers, Rex Beggs (tour guide), Jason Stroud, T.J. Harris, Skeeter Wilson, and Craig Rogers.

Tiger Cubs Tour Fire Department

On Tuesday, April 3, the Tiger Cubs met at the Cross Plains Fire Department. Rex Beggs was kind enough to use his spare time to show these boys around the fire station. He gave them a little ride in the fire truck, showed them how to hold the water hose and the room where the firemen have their equipment stored. Rex gave each child a sticker with a big red C on it to put on their bedroom window. This designates there is a child in this room in case of fire in his or her house.

The Tiger Cubs present for the tour were Charlie Rogers, Cody Reed, Jason Stroud, Skeeter Wilson, and T.J. Harris. Others were Carrie Rogers, Craig Rogers, Sandy Wilson, Evelyn Harris, Carol Rogers, and Debbie Reed.

These Tiger Cubs have met regularly once a month since school started. Their programs have ranged from preparing for emergencies, fitness and sports, caring for your home, taking Valentine cards and fruit to the nursing home, and learning the gathering and growth process of wheat. This has been based on a parent/child participation.

The Tiger Cubs and their parents would like to say thank you to Rex Beggs for giving them a tour of the fire station.

Weekly Health Tip

BABIES THRIVE

Premature infants gently massaged for 15 minutes three times daily, gained weight 47% faster than other infants left alone in their incubator. The massaged infants seemed to mature more rapidly — they became more active, more responsive, and were released from the hospital 6 days earlier than the unmassaged infants. Touching is so critical — its absence retards growth among infants deprived of it. Those hugs of affection that are good for emotional health, also neurologically stimulate physical growth.

Your better health is our concern.

Senior Citizens Easter Parade

By VANDA KING
Editor

Last Thursday, April 12, the Senior Citizens enjoyed an Easter Bonnet and Easter Bunny Contest. The majority of those who eat daily participated in the fun event. Vicky Worley, Director, always plans such cute and original activities for the group. A spirit of light-heartedness and joy was in the air.

Mrs. Worley was dressed for the occasion and her dynamic personality allows all the Seniors to have a great time and feel relaxed.

Frances Rone was the lucky winner of the door prize, which was a decorated Easter egg handmade of yarn by Faye Chambers.

A total of $36.58 was earned on the project to purchase paper plates for the Center.

A.B. Rowan's name was drawn for the honor of presenting candy to everyone as the Easter Bunny of the day. This included her own personal set of "bunny ears" which she graciously wore.

Winners of the Easter Bonnet and Bunny Rabbit Contest were as follows:

- Prettiest Easter Bonnets — Ribbons Awarded
1st Place — Lola Patton
2nd Place — Faye Chambers
3rd Place — Vera Pearl Bunnell
- Bunny Rabbit Contest
Most Tacky — Ruby Harrell
Most Original — Glen Vaughn
Most Creative — Maurine McCuin
Most Hilarious — Paula Mustian
Peter Rabbit — August Garlitz
Petty Rabbit — Ophelia Lawson
Rabbit That Was Called — Minnie

Swann
As Vicky stated, "You were all winners."

There were many visitors there to view these Easter visions and they were darling. You had to see them in person to really appreciate them. August Garlitz put on quite a show with his top hat with ears and little bunny rabbit tail to match. He was the one that had to stop and scratch during the parade! There was some discussion as to how you call a bunny rabbit...no one seemed to know.

Judges for the parade were Rolan Jones, Susan McNeel, and Becky Guill. They had a tough job, believe me. A chicken and dressing dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by all following the festivities.

Delta Kappa Gamma Meets

By RUTH STEWART

The Beta Upsilon Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met on April 7, 1990 at the Gholson Hotel in Ranger. The society is composed of women educators from Callahan and Eastland Counties.

President Billie Ruth Loving asked for committee reports. Lois Marshall presented nominations for new members: Cynthia Bilby — 3rd grade teacher at Siebert Elementary; Glenda Denison — kindergarten teacher at Cisco Elementary; Dorothy Fisher — language arts teacher at Ranger Elementary; Jo Ann Hatton — teacher/coordinator of alternative class at Ranger I.S.D.; Barbara Jones — instructor at Ranger; Janette Morren — speech therapist with East End Educational Co-op; Sherry Phillips — resource teacher at Siebert Elementary; Alice Saunders — kindergarten teacher at Cisco Elementary; Mary Schustereit — Early Childhood teacher at Cisco Elementary; and Mildred Turner — retired elementary teacher from Eastland I.S.D. All nominations were unanimously accepted by the chapter.

A slate of new officers was presented as follows: President — Kathryn Stapp; 1st Vice President — Patti Dolen; 2nd Vice President — Davene Jeffcoat; Recording Secretary — Ruth Stewart; Corresponding Secretary — Juanita Shaw; Treasurer — Loren Oliver; Parliamentarian — Marilyn Jackson; Immediate Past President — Billie Ruth Loving. The new officers were accepted by a unanimous vote.

Elizabeth Abernethy, Superintendent of Schools at Baird presented the program entitled, "The Robin Hood Syndrome." Theme — Responding to Legal Mandates. She expressed concern about the current legislative quandary about school finances. She urged educators and other interested persons to call their state senators and representatives asking them to vote FOR a bill with "weighted ADA". Smaller schools with high populations of special students would benefit most from such a program.

Refreshments for the day were served by the following hostesses: Ilene Beck, Maria da Rocha, Marilyn Henderson, Marilyn Jackson, Betty Johnson, and Marie Mahaffey.

Members in attendance were the following: Pattie Dolen, Adeline Meridith, Beulah Beth Smith, Lois Marshall, Sandy Sargent, Patricia Tone, Diane Upchurch, Becky Siebert, Eastland; Ruth Stewart, Davene Jeffcoat, Carolyn Page, Bernice Carter, Ruby Lee Pirtle, Lois Whitaker, Miriam Bledsoe, Lela Lloyd, Cisco; Billie Ruth Loving, Juanita Shaw, Marie Stambaugh, Cross Plains; Elizabeth Abernethy, Baird; Marie Mahaffey, Maria da Rocha, Marilyn Jackson, Marilyn Henderson, Ilene Beck, Ranger; Azalee Womack, Rising Star; Opal Little, Olden; and guest, Annie Rendall from Ranger.

Air mail stamps were already in use in 1918. There were three denominations—six cent, 16 cent and 24 cent. The pictures, not surprisingly, were all of airplanes.

*Emmy, eanie, miney, mo,
Grab that birthday, don't let go,
Cause it's the fiftieth in a row.*

*May it be the best one yet,
A special day you can't forget,
With love and joy but no regret.*

*Let there be as many more,
As you can enjoy and not deplore,
Each one better than the one before.*

Were spent on snoozies.*

Were a most perplexing dream.*

*Then came twenty,
With life full of joy and plenty.*

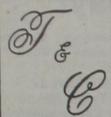

*When she turned thirty,
Everything was mirthy.*

*Then Lordy, Lordy,
She turned forty.*

*Now the time is near...
This is the year!!*

*Though Emmy is now fifty,
She is still quite nifty.*

*So to this most adorable sister, daughter, and mother,
