EDITOR'S NOTE: Flower gardening is a popular hobby around Cross Plains, as evidenced in the many lovely yards. Here is some information concerning a new bedding plant, which will be hearty in this area, and the Texas A & M Extension Service Department had released the following article. Vanda King

"New Plant to Rival Periwinkle in Texas Landscapes"

By MARY M. PORTER

DALLAS — A newly developed bedding plant called firebush promises to join the traditional periwinkle as a colorful favorite in North Texas gardens.

North Texas nurseries are marketing firebush for the first time beginning in mid-May. The hardy plant with bright red blossoms resists heat, drought, insects and diseases and blooms non-stop from June to November.

"This plant is ideal for hot dry summers in Texas," said Dr. Steve George, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Firebush (Hamelia patens) is an evergreen shrub or small tree native to tropical and subtropical America. Testing by Texas Agricultural Extension Service horticulturists adapted the plant from a perennial in far South Texas areas to an annual for North Texas.

"Not only are the firebush blooms a dramatic addition to the landscape with their scarlet tubular blossoms and deeper red throats, the foliage turns a deep red color in the fall," George said.

Planted in full sun in well-drained soil, this long-blooming, heat-loving annual reaches a height of 18-30 inches. Firebush is equally at home in beds or in containers. George noted that it is particularly striking when planted as background in contrast to low-growing annuals with white blossoms, such as carpet petunias.

A special firebush fact sheet developed by the Extension Service is available at participating nurseries as the new plant is introduced in North Texas.

Dr. Jerry Parsons, Extension Service horticulturist in San Antonio, first collected the native plant for commercial development in the San Antonio area three years ago. Based in Dallas, George and Texas A & M Research horticulturist Dr. Tim Davis have conducted research into propagation and growing techniques for commercial production of firebush, a plant George calls "the new superstar of the summertime garden."

George said commercial growers have been looking for an alternative to another Texas hot-weather favorite, the periwinkle. Many periwinkle plantings in recent years have been plagued by a fungal disease that causes them to wilt and die.

Firebush is available now in the Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio areas. George said tests will be conducted in other parts of the state to determine the plant's adaptability elsewhere.

CODY WINFREY
...CMNT miracle child

Winfrey Child Tabbed A Miracle Child

A little miracle lives in Cross Plains!!

Cody Winfrey, son of Tony and Paula Winfrey, has been selected as a "Miracle Child" for Hendrick Medical Center as part of the Children's Miracle Network Telethon, broadcast June 2-3, on KTAB Television.

Hendrick chose seven children to represent the thousands of children who are treated at Hendrick Medical Center. They are children who met a medical crisis at Hendrick and won.

Diagnosed at 18 months old, Cody suffers from esophageal varices. The blood vessel leading to Cody's liver is too small, restricting the blood flow. When the blood won't flow appropriately, it backs up and is released through the blood vessels in his esophagus. As he begins to hemorrhage, the blood goes to his stomach and he then begins to vomit large quantities of blood. These episodes of "bleeding" are often severe and require hospitalization.

The Children's Miracle Network Telethon is a national event of the Osmond Foundation at Salt Lake City, Utah. Hendrick Medical Center and KTAB Television will broadcast 20 minutes during each of 13 hours live from the Tom Roberts Conference Center at Hendrick. Cody's miracle story and an interview with the Winfrey family will be included in the broadcast.

All proceeds from the telethon raised through the Abilene broadcast will benefit the Meek Children's Hospital and other children's services at Hen-

Project Pride Honors Mr. And Mrs. L. Sprague de Camp

Two world-renown authors spent most of Wednesday in Cross Plains, where they visited the former home of Robert E. Howard which is now in the process of being converted to a museum.

L. Sprague de Camp, regarded as the American dean of fantasy writers, was here with his wife, Catherine Crook de Camp, who collaborated with him and the late Jane Whittington Griffin in the writing of "Dark Valley Destiny," a biographical story of Howard's life and literary creations.

The couple were honored guests at a reception hosted by Project Pride members and held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott. Sixty-two people attended, many of whom later retired to the old Howard homeplace on Highway 36 on the western edge of town. There the visitors were shown progress thus far and told what is plan-

Other WTU employees who worked on the project were Melissa Richards, Henry Edington, John Childers, and David Tharp. Dannes Dickson, secretary of the Little League Baseball Association, was also

Midyear Crop And Livestock Reports

AUSTIN — Beginning June 1, representatives from the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state to help set the 1990 planted acreage estimates and midyear livestock inventories.

State Statistician Dennis Findley emphasized that information from these surveys will help producers adjust their production and marketing plans for 1990. "Good marketing requires good information and advanced planning. Information from these surveys will provide Texas producers with solid facts and figures they can use when making their marketing plans.

"There are many uncertainties facing agriculture," Findley added, "and accurate, reliable figures will give producers a chance to make sound production and marketing decisions during the coming year."

Results of the confidential interviews, conducted by telephone or in person by field enumerators, will be published later this summer. The 1990 planted acreage report will be released June 28 and the U.S. cattle inventory will be released July 27.

To reduce survey costs, Findley is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. Individual reports will be combined with other reports to state estimates.
"Remember, these are sample surveys, so if you are contacted it is important to provide the requested information, since your one report represents similar operations of the same size and type. Our estimates can be no better than the numbers producers provide," Findley added.

Pecan Tree Spraying Suggestions

Surveys for pecan nut casebearer eggs in the area indicate that May 29 — June 2 is going to be the probable spray date for Callahan County, says Greg Gerngross, County Extension Agent.

The economic threshold for casebearer based on eggs is 1-2 percent of the clusters infested with eggs. Casebearer eggs are just visible of the naked eye and are greenish white when first deposited. They then become reddish before hatching. The eggs hatch in about 4-5 days and larvae migrate to buds below the nutlets where they feed for 1 to 2 days before entering the nutlets.

Homeowners and producers should inspect 100-200 clusters before making a decision on spraying. Spraying should be done 5-8 days after eggs are found.

Several choices of chemicals are available including Malathion, Zolone, and Sevin. Zolone has been removed from the market, but producers who have it on hand may use it this year.

Zinc sulfate, NZN or other zinc mixtures added to the spray solution will decrease rosette problems in pecan trees and allow them to produce higher quality nuts.

Blood Pressure Clinic Held June 5

The blood pressure clinic will be held at the Multi-Purpose Center on Tuesday, June 5, from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m. This service is free of charge.

Contact Lens Cosmetics: An Eye-Opening Look

Burning, stinging, watery, itchy eyes: Fifty percent of the 14 million women who wear contact lenses experience makeup-related problems. Tiny deposits from makeup can build up on lenses, clouding vision. That's why it's so important for contact lens wearers to choose cosmetics created especially for their needs.

Many women who wear contact lenses have looked into the benefits of Aziza Contact Lens Cosmetics. All products—including Contact Lens Mascara, Eyeliner, Eye Makeup Remover and Eyecolor—are tested by ophthalmologists on contact lens wearers. They're gentle and irritant-free—even thimerosal-free, the preservative commonly found in makeup products that irritate the eye. Like all the company's products, they're hypoallergenic as well.

Hint: Discard eye makeup after it's been opened for six months—four months for mascara. Handle your lenses with your fingertips. Long nails can tear your lenses or even scratch your cornea.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

There's a big meeting coming up in a hour, you have three deadlines to meet, the work is piling up and the clock keeps ticking away. What should you do first? Stop, take a breather and relax, say the experts. Now's a good time to close the office door, put your feet up for a minute or two and slowly sip a nice cup of your favorite hot tea. By slowing down just a bit, you may find that you're becoming less tense and you can think more clearly. That may help you finish all your tasks much more quickly and easily!

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This early Monday morning is dark and gloomy — clouds so low, one can just reach up and touch them! I hope to obtain some "sunshine" from my neighbors quickly!

It has just dawned on me that this is a "significant anniversary" for me — the 60th on June 2nd — sixty years ago I received my college degree — from what was called at that time "C.I.A." — College of Industrial Arts. It is now called "Texas Women's University (TWU). I still enjoy wearing my senior ring.

Sally Roudy just "makes my day" each Monday — she is always so cheerful. Her family covers several generations and she is so close to them all. They visited Ms. Nettie nearly every day. They visited Mr. Mack Childers one day. They visited her brother, Gene Hicks in Rising Star, one day. Their son, George, came in from Dallas for the weekend. They visited Joe and Beverly in Brownwood on Tuesday. Their granddaughter, Kari, graduated from Bangs High School last weekend. On Sunday, they visited in Abilene with Art and Bertie. George goes back to Dallas today (Monday).

On Friday of last week, J.T. and Betty Beggs went to the home of Rusty and Reba near Temple to celebrate Danyl's graduation from high school. They enjoyed meeting many of their friends. During the week Ashley and Toni visited the grandparents. On Saturday, Nikki and Brandi Monsey of Cross Plains visited J.T. and Betty.

I enjoyed talking to Sara McGowen. They recently visited with Danny in Andrews. They were in Cross Plains for the graduation of Chad Bagley from high school.

My new friend, Clayton Goble, mowed for me on Friday of last week. He did a great job in a very short time, and I appreciate his good work. His parents came to pick him up — I enjoyed seeing them.

Just recently, I drove out to my pear trees. I don't really know what I expected to see. There were "clusters" of pears — they are so small, they look more like grapes than pears. But I guess they will have a long time to grow — I think they ripen in the fall months.

You can't argue with success! Thanks!

An Award Overlooked

By C.A.

In last week's C.P. Student Review, it was reported that there was an awards assembly held at Cross Plains High School to recognize a number of junior high and high school students for their outstanding academic achievements during the year. One award was accidentally not reported with the others.

This award went to graduating Senior, Eric Sims, as top student in the Vocational Adjustment Class. It was through this class that Eric was involved in a work program in which he worked part time at Colonial Oaks Nursing Home. Eric also received Employee of the Month honors while he worked there.

Texas Historical Commission Announces Grant Application Deadline

The Texas Historical Commission is accepting preliminary applications for 1991 Survey and Planning Grants. Grants may be used to support local preservation planning activities and to identify cultural resources eligible for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places. Preliminary applications must be submitted by June 29, 1990.

Projects eligible for grant funding include surveys of historic resources, National Register nominations, publications, and resource protection plans. Grant funding priorities in fiscal year 1991 will emphasize phased projects currently underway, surveys of historic resources in endangered areas, and preparation of National Register multiple property nominations.

Cultural resources addressed by the projects, including buildings, sites, structures, and objects, must predate 1945 and should be significant in American history, architecture, archeology, or culture. Projects should treat resources on a community-wide basis. THC staff is available for consultation with applicants to devise preliminary scopes of work and cost estimates for proposed projects.

The THC expects to award approximately $50,000 in grants, contingent on the availability of state and federal funding in fiscal year 1991. Grant awards must be matched on a one-to-one basis at the local level. Other federal sources of funding, with the exception of Community Development Block Grants and revenue-sharing funds, may not be used to match

Survey and Planning Grants. Federal regulations also strictly prohibit unlawful discrimination in federally-assisted programs on the basis of race, color, and/or national origin.

As the official state agency for historic preservation, the THC administers a wide variety of programs that protect the cultural and historical heritage of the state. For information and grant application materials, contact Bruce Jensen, THC, National Register Programs, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, TX 78711. (512) 463-6094.

Early symptoms of the disease include body rash and flu-like symptoms, with long term serious effects such as arthritic pain and swelling, heart damage, and immunological disorders possible. If you have concern that you may have contracted Lyme Disease, a simple blood test at the doctor's office can determine its presence and an antibiotic medication is available to effect a cure. Early detection is important.

Cottonwood News

By BEVERLY BROWN

Temperatures cooled down in the community on Memorial Day after a weekend where the thermometer climbed into the upper nineties. Conditions are dry around the area and folks are asked to use caution in burning.

Dr. and Mrs. J.O. Williams were at Cone Oasis Baptist Encampment in Mexico last week. They worked 60 miles in the interior of the River Mission. On Thursday evening while at Nuevo Progreso, they met several of the Texas Baptist Mission Commission. Dr. William Pinson, Executive Secretary Southern Baptist Convention; James Semple; Elam Howell, Director of River Ministry; and Joyce Fenner, former State President of the W.M.U. were touring from El Paso to Brownsville River Commission Encampments.

We wish to express our sincere sympathy to the family of Lorene Price Crain in the loss of their loved one. She was a long time member of the Cottonwood Quilting Club and the Cottonwood Baptist Church. Mrs. Crain passed away on Monday, May 21. Funeral services were held at the Higginbotham Funeral Home in Cross Plains. Reverend Knox Waggoner officiated the services. Interment was at the Cottonwood Cemetery.

American Hero Tells His Story

For one man, retirement is more than traveling, golfing and luncheons with friends. For former Army Lieutenant Colonel Matt Urban, retirement means fulfilling a dream—a dream to share with the American people a sense of pride and devotion to the men who fought and struggled to preserve freedom and democracy.

Urban is a true American hero. His bravery, inspiration and heroic actions during World War II earned him the nation's highest decoration for bravery. More than 35 years after his nomination was misplaced at the Pentagon, Urban was presented with the Congressional Medal of Honor by President Jimmy Carter.

"Being designated as an American hero was very unexpected. It's a title that must be shared equally with every GI who ever fought for this country," said Urban.

Urban led his men of the 9th Division to victory against overwhelming odds while repeatedly risking his life to save others. He was actively involved in six major campaigns in five countries, served 20 months in front-line action and was wounded seven times. Urban played a key role in defeating German General Erwin Rommel's army. For his war efforts, Urban received 29 medals of bravery including the Congressional Medal of Honor, Silver Star, Bronze Star, Legion of Merit, seven Purple Hearts, the international Croix de Guerre and the Fourragere. He is one of America's most decorated combat soldiers.

For the past 10 years, Urban has devoted much of his life to recreating and capturing the true essence of World War II in his book, "The Matt Urban Story." It is a story of personal valor and heroism that pays tribute to all the soldiers of the 9th Division, many of whom gave their lives for freedom.

"I want people to understand the impact the United States and individual military men had in keeping freedom and democracy alive," said Urban.

"The Matt Urban Story" is a unique chronology of field actions, victories and setbacks of World War II and the agony of Urban's final battle—one that put a bullet through his throat. From the miraculous Silent March in Sicily to the St. Lo Breakthrough in Normandy, readers become emotionally involved with the "do or die" and "kill or be killed" combat actions. Blank diary pages appear intermittently so other veterans can record their own memories and experiences to pass on to younger generations.

For more information on how to receive an autographed copy of "The Matt Urban Story," call 1-800-937-5797, or write Lieutenant Colonel Matt Urban, United States Army, Retired, P.O. Box 2004, Holland, MI 49422-2004. The hard-cover, limited edition book costs $20, plus $3 shipping and handling.

ned in building the museum, which is intended to be a memorial to the Cross Plains native who won universal fame with his writings of heroic fantasy. It is said that more than 100 books have been written about the man who died with a self-inflicted bullet to the brain here in 1936. The de Camps handed Project Pride officials a check for $250 to help in the museum undertaking.

The de Camps, both of whom are 82, spoke briefly at the reception. They told of how they first became interested in the Cross Plains-reared writer and the hundreds of local people, as well as fantasy writers around the world whom they interviewed or contacted in writing the Howard book.

Older Cross Plains residents remember Robert E. Howard as the only child of an early-day local doctor and his wife. The youth attended school here and in Brownwood. He evidenced rare talent as a writer and

THE PIONEER PATCHWORK

By IRMA MILLER

Frankie and Oliver Smith went to Eastland to the concert at First Baptist Church Monday night and enjoyed it very much. It was a song festival.

Lottie Sooter's children, Don Sooter and his wife, Fran, and their family of Abilene came to visit Lottie on Mother's Day.

Jim and Marla Alexander and their family of Richardson spent Memorial weekend with their parents, James and Jean Alexander.

John and Irma Miller went to Dallas Sunday the 27th and visited their children.

The quilting ladies worked on the beautiful Fan and a pink Bow Tie was put into its frame.

Have you ever been to Houston to the downtown tour for sight-seers, where they describe the buildings and give lots of information about them? Even the architects show folks around on Thursdays. Now, I'd like to see that. I have been to the IMAX Theater twice, where you get to see and feel the exciting life of an astronaut.

Jewel Foster's guests over the weekend were her daughter, Golda Huston and friend, Genia of Italy, both from Houston. Charles and Lucille Foster of Clyde and Gene and Norma Foster came over.

Nell and Joe Fleming's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fleming and son, Brian, and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Wiley and children, all of Pampa, who spent the weekend with Joe and Nell and Jim and Charlene. They all visited with JoVeda and Bill Watson of Byrd's Store Sunday afternoon. Sam Fleming of Cross Plains visited during the weekend.

The most recent Thursday Game Night had a large attendance with four tables of players and many visitors.

Eligibility For SSI

If you have limited income and resources and are age 65 or older, or blind, or disabled, you may be eligible for monthly Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments. SSI is a federal program that makes payments to persons with limited income and resources who are aged, blind, or disabled.

A blind person whose vision is less than 20/200 with glasses, or who has tunnel vision of 20 degrees or less should consider SSI. But, you cannot have much income nor own much property. But, you can have your own home. There is no minimum or maximum age for people who are blind or have a disability.

You should apply for SSI if you cannot work because of a physical or mental condition that is expected to last at least 12 months or result in death. A child under 18 is eligible if he or she has an impairment comparable to one which would prevent an adult from working.

People can get SSI even if they have other income. Many people get Social Security benefits and SSI. The amount of a person's SSI payment depends on how much other income he or she has. Income includes Social Security benefits, salary or self-employment income, pensions or annuities, or any money received, as well as housing and food paid by another person.

In 1990, a person can have countable income of up to $406 a month and still get some SSI payment. An eligible couple can have income of up to $599 a month and still get some SSI payment. Social Security doesn't count all income, however, so you may be able to get SSI even if you have more income, especially if most of your income is from working.

In addition to income limitations, a person cannot have resources of more than $2,000. The limit for a couple is $3,000. Resources include savings and checking accounts, bonds, stocks, life insurance, real and personal property. Not all resources count, however. The people at Social Security can give you more information about what does and doesn't count.

So, if you think you're not eligible for SSI because of your income or resources, think again. You may be. Contact Social Security to get complete information. The people there can tell you what you want to know. Just call the toll-free telephone number - 1-800-234-5772 for an appointment with a Social Security representative who will help you sign up.

Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers represents all Texas employers. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY, 614, TEC Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Tx., 78778.

Rowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

At 6 p.m. Saturday, the Gibbs thermometer registered 100 degrees. The Gene Mauldin home registered 104 degrees earlier, and in Snyder at the Ralph Trevey home, 107 degrees topped the list. This is all taking place before the month of June starts. Already this area is in need of rain.

Family members visiting in the James Reynolds home Saturday were Jim Reynolds of Midland, Ellen and son, Dalton Carpenter of Azle, and Janet Flippin and son, Drew, and new baby daughter, Erin of Ruston, Louisiana. At the time of this call, Dorothy was enjoying holding little Erin.

Visitor of Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin was Meridith Odom. Vernie Belle visited Ima Gibbs in Baird during the week.

Robert and Dorothy Watson visited his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beck in Ranger, Wednesday. On Tuesday night, they attended the Spring Band Concert in Baird where sons, Cody and Wyatt, played in the band. Brad Watson also attended the concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Springfield of Azle spent Friday and Saturday with this writer. Friday afternoon the group drove to Abilene where they visited relatives, Truitt and Lillian Hollingshead and Elveda Sikes. They also stopped in the Eula area to visit Sam and Ann Sikes. Saturday morning, a visit was made in the Tony Steele home.

Emma Johnson talked with her daughter, Pansy Johnson, Saturday in San Antonio. Johnny Wooten was the only visitors in the Burks home. He has been doing some furniture repair for them. Emma also reported that Mike Bowden of Cross Plains was hauling dirt near their house.

The wildflowers are in full bloom by most of the highways. 283 into Baird from 36 has the most beautiful yellow daisies with a mixture of some that names are not known. A lot of Indian Blanket can be seen along the roadside.

Pre-Registration For First Baptist Church V.B.S. June 2

By REV. MICHAEL HALE

Vacation Bible School is always an exciting time at First Baptist Church, and this year it will be even better as we start the school off with "Clowns With a Difference." The clowns will be with us on Saturday, June 2, at 10 a.m. as we pre-register.

This will be an opportunity to meet Gookie and Nindy and their two daughters, Freckles and Conkie (clown names). This clown family has not been involved in clowning for a long time; yet they have already been in various churches.

Rob and Cindy Hough have found a great joy in the Lord Jesus Christ; yet their lives have not always been so joyful. Rob was involved with drugs and a lifestyle that did not say anything about his relationship with Jesus Christ. Yet through several near death experiences at the Chesapeake Bay and Alaska, Rob realized how much the Lord really loves him.

Gookie and Nindy (Rob and Cindy) will be with us on Saturday morning and they will be a part of our Sunday morning worship service on June 3. Don't miss this most unusual couple who Clown for the Lord Jesus Christ. Vacation Bible School is June 4-8 and begins each morning at 8:30 until 11:30.

A group of Senior Citizens from Cross Plains attended the Senior Resources Day in Abilene on Tuesday, May 22. There were about 750 Senior Citizens present. A good program was presented by different centers. An informative talk was made by one of Abilene's doctors on "Heart Diseases and Prevention."

Door prizes were given and seminars were presented on many subjects of interest for Senior Citizens.

We would like to invite the Senior Citizens of Cross Plains to join us in fellowship, games, and eating the noon meal. We have a good time sharing together.

Progress in Paper Recycling

Here's good news for a change: Recycling is getting a healthy boost, thanks to efforts by people in the paper industry to recover for reuse, by the end of 1995, 40 percent of all the paper consumed in this country.

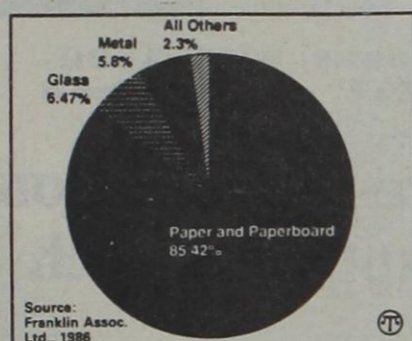

According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Americans generate about 160 million tons of solid waste per year—about four pounds per person per day. As more and more of our landfills reach capacity, we're running out of places to put solid waste. That's why the paper industry's plan to recycle more paper is such a welcome one.

Paper and paperboard products already constitute over 80 percent of all post-consumer material recovered for recycling, reports Franklin Associates in a study for the EPA. According to the American Paper Institute (API), about 26 million tons of waste paper were collected for domestic use and export in 1988. Achieving a 40 percent paper recycling rate by 1995, say experts, necessitates recovering and reusing about 40 million tons of waste paper—a 50 percent increase over the 1988 level.

For its part, the paper industry is committed to a number of actions that will help achieve this 40 percent paper recycling goal, including:

- The rapid increase of paper recycling capacity, with a projected multi-billion dollar investment over the next five years. Already, there are plans for expanding recycling at some 37 facilities, including building as many as eight new plants. This new capacity will add to the 500 or so U.S. paper mills already engaged in recycling.

Paper leads recycling: Percentage of post-consumer waste material recovered for recycling.

- The creation of a national "MatchMaker" database to help communities identify recycling mills and waste paper dealers.

- The development of "how-to" tools that explain and promote comprehensive and efficient source separation and collection programs.

- Sponsorship of a national public education program to promote recycling awareness.

- The expansion of the paper industry's current recycling awards program that recognizes communities, businesses, civic and charitable organizations and individuals that have achieved outstanding collection and recycling programs.

Happily, as more people become aware of the role of recycling in solid waste management, a new and expanded demand for recycled products is emerging. To meet this demand, paper manufacturers say they will need to push collection systems to their limits to recover clean waste paper.

For more information about paper recycling, write: API, 1250 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Suite 210, Washington, D.C. 20036.
