'Happy Campers'

By VANDA KING
Editor

"Load 'em up and move 'em out," was the order of the day when we started on a weekend camp out. My parents had worked for weeks preparing the camping trailer and organizing everything for the trip.

The question was where do we go? After checking out some campgrounds, we decided on Lake Proctor. It was just an accident that the lake was open for the first time since the flood.

We drove into Promontory Point and made reservations for a spot with a covered table that was just perfect. As it turned out, we had the whole little peninsula to ourselves for the entire time.

The number of campers was limited since many were unaware of the opening. The kids could swim right at the camp site in one area and you could fish from another.

A beautiful view of the lake and dam was so peaceful and the breeze off the water refreshing. I understand why so many people rush to the lakes on the weekend. The tranquility of not answering a telephone or performing another chore was indeed relaxing.

Lake Proctor is an extremely clean recreation spot with lots of trees and scenic views. The flood was evident in the number of trees drowned around the edge of the water. You could tell the depth the water reached and it was unbelievable. The destruction of bath houses and some picnic tables was obvious.

We did have a few mishaps, however. While we were exploring on the other side of the lake, a little thunderstorm came up with strong winds and rain.

Daddy was asleep in the camper when it hit and the rocking of the camper woke him. He said the wind filled the canvas sides of the camper to the point it looked like a hot air balloon. Then all of a sudden one side of the camper started to fall.

He couldn't get everything back into place with the wind blowing so fierce and rain pouring in, so he just stood and held the one end up. He said he always wanted to go on a hot air balloon ride and he thought he was going to have an opportunity to do so.

By the time we returned, he had everything back in place but he was exhausted. His description of the incident was hilarious and one not long forgotten.

The fish were not biting and you had to be a really patient fisherman to stick with it. Finally, two nice channel cats were reeled in. They were left on a stringer overnight and the next morning we discovered both the fish and stringer were gone. Whoever took the fish didn't have to spend much time in catching them.

Sitting in the moonlight under the stars, we listened to stories about the good ol' days. Children had to use their imaginations and creativity back then, as there were few toys and nothing like video games of today. I think kids were probably happier because they had to use their own ingenuity.

Saturday, we drove to Stephenville in hopes of attending the flea market, but it was the wrong weekend. We visited the Antique Mall instead. It was fun looking at the glassware, furniture, and remembrances of the past. I always find items that I recall my grandmothers having. The value of various pieces are remarkable. I went home treasuring some of my antiques even more.

It wasn't discovered until their arrival home, that the camper was not locked down on the bumper hitch. Thank goodness the weight of the

Callahan County Ordered To Pay Back Sales Taxes On Tires

A state audit revealed that Callahan County did not have the authority to allow employees and others to buy tax-free tires. The county has been ordered to pay $1,145 in back sales taxes. The county was informed that they would have to pay a 10 percent annual interest fee, plus a 10 percent penalty fee of $114.

Tracy Hargrove, an auditor with the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, stated that the county should have been charging a sales tax on discount tire sales to employees.

Commissioners voted to pay the $1,145 back immediately to avoid further accumulation of interest rate fees. It was also voted that all the people listed on the audit for the back sales taxes be billed, plus penalty and interest.

The county approved an order that allowed employees to buy tires at a discount on August 12, 1985, as long as they had written permission from Sheriff Bill Skinner or a commissioner court member.

The order was intended to allow only the sheriff's deputies — not dispatchers and jailers whose names were included on the audit.

The 1985 order stated that the county must be reimbursed for the tires the same day they were purchased, but Treasurer Dora Hounshell stated that camper kept it on. The safety chains should have held it if it had been released.

It turned out to be a fun adventure and one I hope my children will always remember. We are planning to go again, just as soon as we recuperate!

SWEARING IN CEREMONY — Ben Jasek, MSC Manager/Postmaster,

Fort Worth Management Sectional Center, reads the oath to Norma Evans finalizing her appointment as Postmaster at Cross Plains.

Norma Evans Sworn In As Postmaster

By VANDA KING
Editor

A large crowd of friends and well-wishers, approximately 70, gathered at the Cross Plains Post Office to witness the swearing in ceremony of Norma Evans as Postmaster. Ben Jasek, MSC Manager/Postmaster, delivered a brief introduction of postal employees present in the front lobby of the building. Norma introduced local businessmen and women of the community.

Mr. Jasek stated that he knew he made the correct decision appointing Norma as postmaster because she was from Cross Plains and had been working in the post office effectively over the years.

The swearing in ceremony was formally held beneath the United States Flag on the lawn. A reception of homemade cookies and punch followed.

Norma graduated from Cross Plains High School in 1971 with honors as salutatorian, and attended Commercial College at Odessa.

She was employed at the Chamber of Commerce at Odessa as the public relations branch secretary; executive secretary for the president of Aquilla, Inc., an airport maintenance company in Odessa; and served as executive secretary for insurance adjusters for G.A.B., Inc. in Odessa.

Moving back to Cross Plains, she was employed at the Dairy Queen in the evenings and at the post office during the day. She started at a casual position for three months in January 1977 and became a career clerk, now having 13½ years service with the Cross Plains Post Office.

Norma remarked, "I am honored to have this position and I hope the public will feel that they are receiving the best service possible. I have some big shoes to fill because of the excellent postmasters in the past. I credit receiving this position to the instructions and training of Joe Hanke, retired Postmaster."

Being postmaster is a challenge that she is eager to meet. She commented that she still had higher goals ahead, and desired to serve the Postal Service to the utmost.

Norma is very proud of the employees at the post office which include Polly Beeler, clerk; Billie Kelly, Rural Route 1 carrier; Alvin Hutchins, Rural Route 2 carrier; substitute carriers James O. Koenig and Dorthie Zedlitz; Deanna Strickland, contract cleaner; and Dwayne and Jean Wilson who have been carrying the mail since Bailey Wilson's illness. She noted that they all enjoyed working for the Postal Service and demonstrated good rapport.

On a personal note, Norma stated that each member of her family is starting out in a new direction and was striving toward different aims. Her husband, Max, was recently employed by Silverbrook Ranch and the family has moved 17 miles southwest of town. Her daughter, Tina, who graduated from Cross Plains High School last May and has been employed at Citizens State Bank, will be attending Tarleton State University in the fall. Glenda, her second daughter, has just started her first year in high school and is active in the Buffalo Band. Norma has the prospects of the new position ahead and her family is anticipating many bright outlooks.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

There's not a leaf stirring out there this Monday morning — such a calm we seldom witness here. Of course, it could be a 'calm before a storm'. But let's not knock it — we could use a rain.

I mentioned a letter from my son last week — I had a sweet letter from my daughter this past weekend. They were making plans for the Labor Day weekend.

We had a good group of ladies in my Sunday School class, with Louise Foster leading us. There were about 230 in the whole Sunday School attendance. The pastor brought a beautiful message!

I appreciated a 'special' greeting from Rex Beggs on Sunday morning. I enjoyed a brief chat with Betty. She didn't have any special news — they had been busy putting up peas, okra, tomatoes, and peaches. Doesn't that sound 'good'!

Sally Roady's brother, Gene Hicks of Rising Star, visited them one day recently. They talked to their son, Joe, on the telephone. He is in the Navy Reserve and just might be called up any day. They visited Mr. Mack Childers in Cross Plains one day. They enrolled grandson, Charlie, in school this week.

Jewel Foster didn't answer her telephone this morning, but she was in Sunday School and church on Sunday morning.

Nell Fleming didn't have any special news — they are quite well and staying busy. I always enjoy talking with her.

I'm going to make 'pear preserves' this week. I have only a few pears and I don't want them to go to waste.

Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau Sponsor Putnam Volunteer Fireman

Ronald Green, volunteer fireman of the Putnam Volunteer Fire Department attended the 61st Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 22-27. Attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, was held on the Texas A & M University campus.

Firemen choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Firemen Green was sponsored by Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President S.M. True Jr. of Plainview. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Putnam Volunteer Fire Department to better serve the residents of Callahan/Shackelford Counties."

I'm Not Taking Sides For Governor

By DON TABOR
Publisher

Before I get started, let me say that I'm not taking sides.

It's just that only one governor candidate showed at an AARP State Legislative Committee meeting I attended last week in Austin.

The show-up was State Treasurer Ann Richards. The no-show was West Texas oil-businessman Clayton Williams.

The Williams campaign wrote that he had prior commitments and could not attend, but Richards in her speech to us took a different view. "A lot of it has to do with the fact I'm here," she said.

Being as she was talking to an AARP group, Richards dwelled quite a bit on how she will help the elderly should she win. She listed protecting the homestead act and holding down utility rates as two of her priorities.

She touched a figurative nerve when she said the state legislature should "quit passing down mandates without also passing down the money to pay for them." She said almost always the cost of new programs are "borne on the backs of (local) property owners." "If you can't fill the till, don't pass the bill," she said.

She also directed some shots at the insurance industry. "We need insurance policies that are written in Texas English," she said, adding that insurance policies are worded purposely "to confuse policy holders."

She commented that when in a money crunch the past few governors have wanted to take money from the reserves of the retirement systems of teachers and state employees. "That has got to stop," she said.

She was asked her view on a state income tax. She answered that "it's very difficult for me" to see how such a tax would not be abused by the rich who have the money to pay CPA's and lawyers to keep them from paying it.

She was asked if she, a Democrat, would have as strong a voice with President Bush as Williams, a Republican. "The state needs a voice with Congress more than it does with George Bush," she answered.

She also claimed there has been no serious efforts to "sell Texas" under Gov. Bill Clements. "All boots and no cattle won't get it anymore," she said.

Richards said if elected she will train watchdogs to look past the self-serving information now given out by state bureaucrats. "Man, we've had the tail wagging the dog in this state for a long, long time," she said.

She said the state "needs someone who understands the system" rather than a private businessman as governor. "People who make a lot of money borrow a lot of money. The state can't do that," she said.

Someone asked her why she had not seemed to get her message across to the voters. "To get a message across requires spending a half million dollars a week on television," she answered, indicating she couldn't afford that.

Richards was critical of the early-parole policy of the prison system. She said it has gotten so bad that "most (inmates) are not eligible for the reading program in prison because they are not there long enough to participate."

I had my hand up to ask the last question of Richards before the session ended, but a lady in back got the nod to do it instead.

The lady turned out to be my wife, Betty Joe, who asked about the snail's pace of horse-racing development in Texas. Richards answered she was flabbergasted about it.

The strange thing was that I was going to ask the same question my wife did. Great minds run in the same gutter, I guess.

Becoming An Informed Voter; Finding Information On Candidates And Issues

Election-related information is readily available so that you can make informed decisions before casting your ballot.

A number of organizations print information that may provide insight into candidates and ballot measures. The League of Women Voters prints ballot proposition analyses and candidate platforms. The political parties can also provide a wealth of information about candidates and issues. And the candidates themselves usually provide information about their platforms.

During each Texas constitutional amendment election, explanatory statements are printed in newspapers all over the state. Additionally, a free copy of the explanatory statements will be provided to anyone who makes such a request. Public feedback from this practice has been very positive.

Have you ever wondered who to call to find out where you vote? Where you can find a voter registration card? What hours the polls are open? Here are the answers to most commonly asked election-related questions.

Where is my polling place? Call your county clerk, voter registrar, or elections administrator if you cannot find the location of your polling place. The telephone numbers are listed in the government pages of most phone books. Many Texas newspapers also publish a list of polling places.

When are the polls open? They're open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Election Day.

Where can I find a voter registration application? You may call the toll-free registration hotline at 1-800-252-VOTE (8683) to obtain information or applications, or your county voter registrar can tell you the many locations throughout your area where you can obtain an application.

I am away at school. Do I use my address at college or my parents' address for purposes of registering? For residency purposes you can only use one address, whichever you consider your place of residence.

I am in the military. How do I register to vote? You may register using your base residence, or a previous home in Texas to which you intend to return, to determine your county of residence. If you are from out of Texas, however, and wish to maintain your permanent residence in another state and vote absentee in that state, you cannot register or vote in Texas elections. For more information, call the Texas Secretary of State's election hotline at 1-800-252-VOTE (8683). The toll-free number can be used from all 50 states and the Virgin Islands.

For information about your rights or grievance procedures, contact the Title IX Coordinator, Margie Sowell, at Cross Plains Elementary, (817) 725-6123, and/or the Section 504 Coordinator, M. Lee Thompson, at Cross Plains High School, (817) 725-6121.

BUFFALO BAND

Buffalo Band Outlook

The "Pride of Cross Plains" High School Marching Band has begun work on another award-winning year — shooting for a third straight first division at marching contest. With close to 70 in the band this year, the Sweepstakes Award is a very definite possibility also.

Under the leadership of new director, Bill Strickler, the group has already worked out several times as a total band as well as some sectional work. Evening practices will begin shortly after school starts.

The increased size of the band has increased the importance of every parent participating in the Band Boosters organization. Other non-parent members are just as warmly welcomed. The purpose of the Band Boosters is to help the bands and the Director in a variety of ways; all designed to strengthen the entire band program from beginners up through high school.

Obviously, a lot of financial support is necessary for a group of this size, so considerable effort must go into fundraising projects. In addition to operating the concession stand at home football games, the Boosters offer the Annual Christmas Store. Boosters are encouraged to start thinking about small gift items that can be made or purchased for the project.

Membership dues for one year are $5 per couple and $3 per single person. Your membership offers you the opportunity to become involved with and for our young citizens and future leaders.

The clip and mail section below can be sent to Band Boosters, P.O. Box 14, to indicate your preference of involvement.

- I wish to become a member. Money enclosed.
- I will work in the concession stand.
- I can travel with the band as a chaperone.
- I can help at the Christmas Store.
- I can help with receptions, parties, etc.

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated that as many as 40 persons could be killed in traffic accidents across the state during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday period.

"Last year during this end-of-the-summer holiday, 48 persons died in traffic accidents, with another four persons dying later of injuries received during that time," said DPS Director Col. Joe E. Milner. "Our estimate for this year is below that final count of 52, and we hope the actual number of deaths this year will be much lower than this estimate."

The holiday counting period begins at 6 p.m. Friday, August 31, and continues until midnight on Monday, September 3. As it does each Labor Day, and on certain other major holidays, the DPS will have all available Troopers on the highways to ensure that motorists have as safe a holiday as possible.

"Since drinking and driving, along with speeding, are the leading causes of traffic fatalities, we hope we can hold the Labor Day deaths down by our increased presence on the highways," Milner said. "We certainly don't want to discourage people from having a good time during the Labor Day holiday, we just want motorists to drive safely."

Last year's Labor Day statistics support the Department's concern over drinking and driving and excessive speed. In 1989, 62 percent of those killed in Labor Day holiday traffic accidents died in mishaps connected either to alcohol or driving too fast.

"Something else our Troopers will be watching for during the Labor Day holiday period is whether motorists are wearing their seat belts," said Dudley Thomas, Chief of the DPS Traffic Law Enforcement Division. "Last Labor Day, 77 percent of those victims who were occupants of cars or light trucks had not been wearing restraints when they were killed. The message is obvious: Seat belts save lives."

"Helmet use by motorcycle riders has definitely increased since the helmet law took effect in September of last year," Thomas said. "However, there will be some riders who will disregard the statute and wear helmets that do not meet federal safety standards. The Troopers also will be watching for this violation."

As in past years, the DPS will issue periodic reports on traffic fatalities throughout the Labor Day weekend.

Some American Indian tribes believed it to be good luck to "marry" their fishing nets to little girls.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The CROSS PLAINS ISD will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1989 by 12 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on SEPT. 6, 1990, 8:00 P.M. at CROSS PLAINS HIGH SCHOOL.

FOR the proposal: RON BAGLEY, REX BEGGS, CHARLES CHESSHIR, DONNIE DILLARD, RANDY MONTGOMERY, MONTY RICHARDS
AGAINST the proposal: NONE
PRESENT and not voting: NONE
ABSENT: RANDY FOSTER

(Names of all members of the governing body, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase and, if one or more were absent, indicating the absences.)

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the .5798 tax rate that the unit published on AUGUST 15, 1990. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	18,742	18,742
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	5,000	5,000
Average taxable value	13,742	13,742
Tax rate (proposed)	.62	.65
Tax (proposed)	85.20	89.32

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would INCREASE by $4.12 or 4.83 PERCENT compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would INCREASE by $.03 per $100 of taxable value or 4.83 PERCENT compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Rowden News

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

Thursday afternoon clouds brought over a half inch of rain at the Gene Mauldin place. The Gibbs place barely had enough to measure, but it did cool the hot day.

Dorothy and Robert Watson drove to Sadler during the week and gathered peas, three bushels from which she canned 50 pints, that kept her busy for a while. While there they visited an uncle, Wayne Dossey.

Also during the week, Kile Watson was moved home. He has completed his schooling at Tech and will enroll at the State University in the fall semester. Brad Watson is also a student at State.

Julie, Brian, and Justin Patterson of Copperas Cove were home with her parents, Bob and Kathy Dye.

Friday night, Bob and Kathy Dye were hosts to her mother, Anna Dendy of Mason, and his mother, Edna Dye, for the evening meal in Abilene, followed with a movie which they all enjoyed.

Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin's company this week were Carl and Mable Mauldin from Rogers, Arkansas; their son, David and wife, Karleene and young daughter, Audre of Conroe. Also visiting were Roland and Faye Mauldin of Denton Valley and Willie and Irene Masters and their grandson, Bryan Clifton from Snyder. Irene brought blackeyed peas, so they could all help to fix them for the freezer.

Edna Dye and friend, Exa Williams of Cross Plains, attended a special meeting of the Abilene Art League Painting Club at Day's Inn for lunch and a session of painting followed. Thirteen members were present.

Vernie Belle Mauldin visited Ima Gibbs in Baird during the week.

Robert and Dorothy Watson and sons, Cody and Wyatt, attended scrimmage games in Baird Friday night. Both boys played on the Baird team against Cisco.

Leona Gary and nurses were the only visitors of Emma Johnson and Lizzie Burks. Emma reported receiving a telephone call from her only grandson who has spent the summer in Chile, but is back home in Albuquerque, New Mexico. He will be back in school starting Monday.

This community is divided between two schools, Baird and Cross Plains. Nikki and Corey Barron and Cody and Wyatt Watson are students in the Baird School, while Tonya, Bill and Connie Steele and Lindy Merryman and T.J. Harris are at Cross Plains. Part of this last group will be watching for the big yellow school bus come Monday morning.

Ivon Odom had lunch with his mother, Joyce Odom, Sunday. This writer visited Joyce Friday afternoon.

Sherry Williams of Cottonwood visited Tonya Steele Saturday.

Christian Writers Sought For Publication

By JOEL R. COOK

The American Arts Association is seeking Christian writers who might be interested in getting their works published at no cost. If you have a poem or short story you would like considered, send it to: American Arts Association, 102 Estes Drive, Gulfport, MS 39503.

The American Arts Association is a group of Christian literary artists from Maine to Washington, North Dakota to Texas who enjoy the relating of God's word in the form of poetry and prose. It is through this sharing of God's gifts that we are able to give spiritual and emotional support to missionaries throughout the world. No literary work is printed without a signed release from the author granting one-time publishing rights. We lay no claim on any poem or prose. All rights are retained by the author. The American Arts Association is dedicated to furthering the work of our Lord through assisting Christian writers in getting their literary works printed.

Some of the greatest writers of all time, from Moses, David, and Paul to the present, have come from those who truly love our Lord. We believe there are many more out there.

Date Set For Library Rummage Sale

The annual rummage and book sale to benefit the Cross Plains Public Library has been scheduled for October 5-6. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library, the sale has always been extremely successful as an additional source of financial support for the local facility.

In spite of ongoing problems with a leaking roof and interior damage the last several months, the programs for the children have continued. The "Learn About..." Program for preschoolers is once more in the making, although the budget is pretty slim because of repair expenses.

Donations of your rummage items can help insure the continued learning opportunities for the entire community. So, as you start your fall cleaning, keep the needs of your public library in mind. For more information, please call 725-6879 or 725-7722.

Grandmother And Grandson Toured European Countries

Yuna V. Burkett and her grandson, David Burkett, were in Germany for the Oberammergau Passion Play this summer. The Passion Play is presented every 10 years. The first performance took place in 1634 with a promise to God to continue the performance if the Lord would lift the deadly Black Plague from their community.

They visited five European countries. The Alps in Switzerland were indescribably beautiful. The ice glacier was quite an adventure. The Bavarian wood carving, the black Forest, and walled cities were visited. A boat ride down the Rhine River was fantastic.

Four nights of the tour were spent at Bad Gandersheim, the location of Adolph Hitler's training camp of his SS troops. The buildings cost $5,000,000 to construct but the location was sold to Christ for the Nations, a Bible school located in Dallas for $1,000,000. A German Bible school is very successful on this premise now. (The longest wing of the building is the length of two football fields.) Bad Gandersheim is a beautiful resort town.

In Bavaria is the castle seen in our Disneyland movies. It took 17 years and 2,000 men to construct the castle. Fourteen woodcarvers worked 4 years on the King's bedroom furnishings. A commission ruled the King of unsound mind. He later drowned under mysterious circumstances.

Mrs. Burkett was emotionally moved by Dachau, Hitler's first concentration camp. Jews, clergymen, and political opponents registered 206,000, but many prisoners were not on the files. A total of 16,000 captured Russians were executed on the rifle range. The pictures of the skeletal condition of prisoners were haunting, as well as the crematorium.

However, a beautiful monument

THE PIONEER PATCHWORK

By IRMA MILLER

The Joe Swofford Family singers of Springtown gave a good concert for half a houseful of folks Friday night in the Pioneer Pentecostal Church of which Ruby McCowen is pastor. The listeners expressed high enjoyment at the two hours of song.

Frankie Smith visited her father, Mr. Perry Vinson in Ranger Friday, and had a delicious lunch with her sister, Dorothy Rogers.

Nell and Joe Fleming drove by Myrtle and Jay Kirkham's for a visit, and were in Cisco on business one day last week. JoVeda and Bill Watson of Byrd's Store came to see Joe and Nell Tuesday, along with Alton Watson of Pampa, and had lunch with them.

Jewel Foster went to the concert by the Swofford Family singers at Pioneer Friday night.

John and Irma Miller went to Coleman Sunday to visit Carol and Dean Brannan and Rosanna Copeland and were there for church Sunday night at the Evangel Temple Assembly of God.

Back in the 1930's, in the "Great Depression," Dean Brannan, Irma Miller's "little" brother, was born in Pioneer. Our Dad never farmed the place, but he had trucks and hauled gravel and dirt. We had a wonderful water well. We had no electricity and used a kerosene lamp to read by. My mother had a "cooler" in the window, built by Dad, covered with screen wire, for the milk and other food. My mother dampened cloths and covered the cooler with them. When they got dry, they received another dampening. We washed our clothes with lye soap, on a washboard, on Saturday, and boiled the white ones in a pot on an outside fire. That night we ironed starched clothing for Sunday with irons heated on a wood cook stove.

We had a wonderful one-acre vegetable garden. Dad had cleared the ground with a horse and stump puller. He first cut down the trees for fire wood, larger pieces for the heater and smaller pieces for the cook stove. Then Dad would dig around the stump roots with a grubbing hoe, and hook up the horse and pull the stumps. Dad called that acre "virgin soil." Dad would cool our watermelons in the well, letting the melon down in a bucket close to the water. Dad and Mom and we children wrapped our tomatoes, potatoes, and sweet potatoes in newspaper and stored them in boxes in the cellar, where Mom kept onions, our salted pork, and her canned goods. It was quite cool in that cellar. We children would climb on the peanut hay bales and eat peanuts out of the hay. We also had popcorn to pop.

I went to school in Pioneer from the 4th to the 10th grade, and graduated from Eastland High School.

Tennison Descendants Reune

The descendants of William H. and Nancy Odora Tennison held their second annual family reunion at the Cross Plains Community Center on August 4 and 5, 1990, with five of their eight children being represented. Many started arriving Saturday afternoon for an evening of fun and games while others came Sunday for a day of visiting.

The 72 in attendance were: Jim and Sandy Reeves of Colleyville; Bertha Sears of Seattle, Washington; David and Annette Millard, Emily and Davey of Bothall, Washington; Virgie Baugh and Leon and Billie Irene Griffin of Coleman; J.R. and Anita Shirley, and Eddie "Bo" Hedrick of Baird; Gary and Christi Tennison and children, Rick and Kristy Waldruff and Billy and Marthena McMillan all of Fort Worth; Jackie and Marilyn Tennison and J.J. and James of Robert Lee; Kelly Nix and Winona Garrison of Odessa; Ocey and Doris Mason of Big Spring; Ginger Wellmaker, Bill and Modena Tennison, Misty Flantrapp, Brooke Baily, Robert and Relda Tennison, Louis and Peggy Pecchioni, Bill and Wanda Heatherly, Debbie Smith and Bryan and Gregg, and J.D. Lane all of Abilene; Virginia Childers and Deotis and Lura Tennison of Potosi; Ronnie and Katy Mason and Tiffany of Magnolia; Delbert and Sandra Tennison and Larry Wright of Lawm; Deotis Tennison Jr., Pam Martin, David and Jina of Clyde; and Reba Lane, Lillie and Tracy Dillard, Clarence and Tammy Tennison and Jeremy and Rebecca, C.W. and Mary Tennison, Deborah Christensen, Grady, Buzz and Josh, Jordan Dean Pancake, and Glenn D. Champion all of Cross Plains.

surrounded by many flowers has been built in memory of those who lost their lives there. A group of young people holding an Israeli flag stood by the Jewish memorial singing a doleful song in a minor key.

The great demand for tickets to the Passion Play caused some greedy person to print 40,000 phony tickets. It got him in jail, but the unfortunate buyers were turned away from the play.

Curtis Hines New Restaurant Owners

Curtis and Dena Hines of Clyde have assumed ownership of Jim Ramage's World Famous Bar-b-que restaurant in Clyde.

Hines said that he took over ownership of the restaurant from Jim Ramage on August 1. Ramage plans to student teach physical education in the fall.

The business will keep its name, Hines said, and keep its present location at the south access road of Interstate 20. Hines said the food menu will remain the same.

The Clyde man added that he plans to remodel soon and looks to add more indoor seating.

The restaurant employs four people. Both he and his wife will work at the restaurant. Hines said the business hours are from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

He has had experience operating a business, having owned a business in Las Vegas.

The Hines have lived in Clyde since January of this year. Both he and his wife graduated from Cross Plains School, he in 1975 and Dena in 1977. The couple has been married 14 years. Her parents, W.B. STRONG BONES

For those who have a calcium deficiency, or wish to fend off osteoporosis, a controlled study showed that calcium absorption was greater from calcium citrate supplements than from calcium carbonate. People with a history of kidney stones can safely take calcium citrate, as it actually inhibits the formation of calcium stones, states Dr. Charles Pak, kidney stone expert, U of Texas, Dallas.
