Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

This is the day that Mrs. Dodd dreamed up back in 1910. Her full name is Sonora Dodd, a lively and active septuagenarian living in Spokane, Wash. She's the woman who dreamed up Father's Day, and it was in her home town, Spokane, that the first Father's Day was ever held. Now it's a world-wide observance.

So, this is the day when father gets a pair of stretch hose and a sport shirt and or a bright red tie. (The bright red tie, I might add, will come from a female member of his family. Bright red ties are manufactured for women to buy for their men since no man in his right mind ever buys a bright red tie on his own.)

So, as I said, this is the day when father gets these nice little goodies — and on the first of the next month gets the bill for them. Nothing is too good for the old man, especially if he's paying for it.

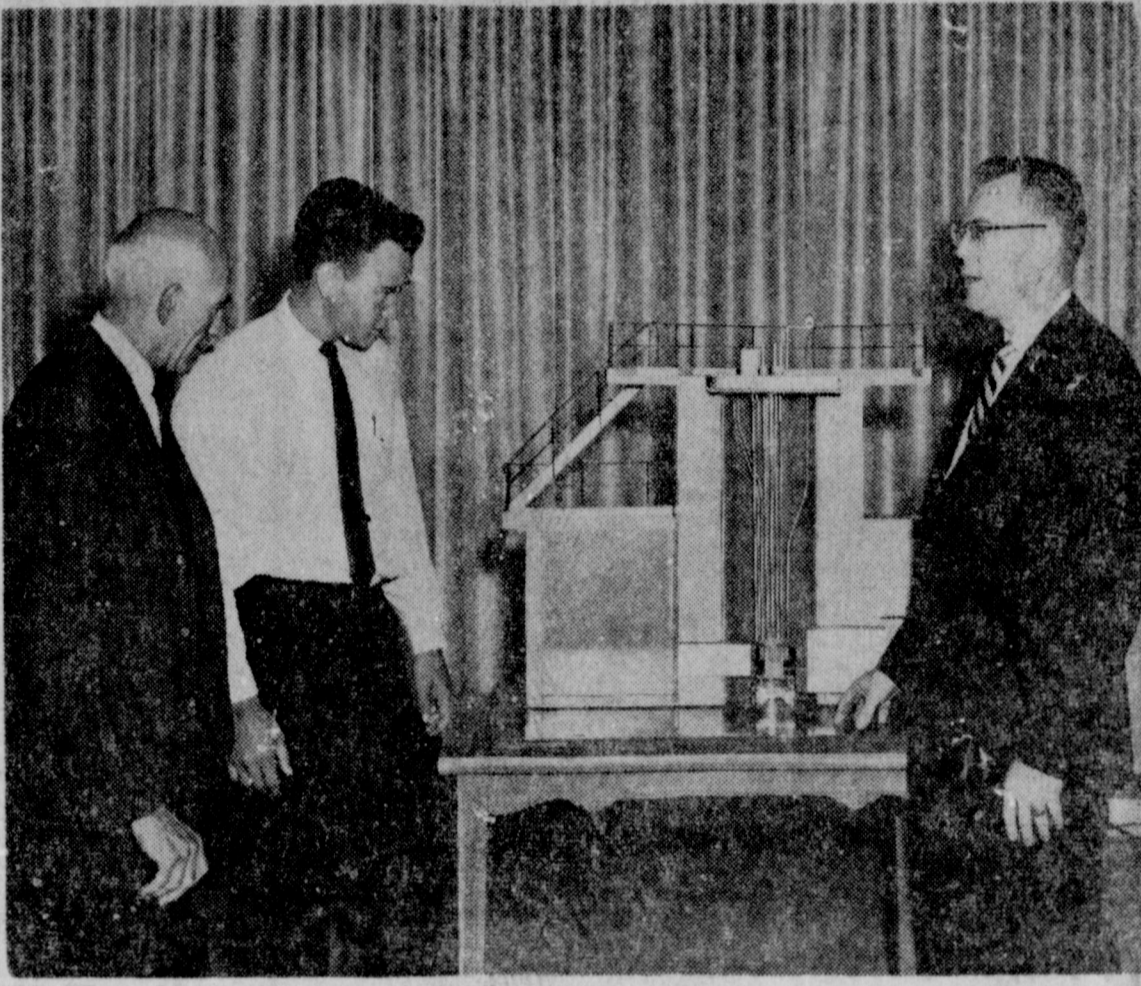

Sometimes father also gets a pretty new billfold — not that he will have any money to put in same, once he has paid for it. But the gesture is nice, and besides it's embarrassing when he drags out that old beat-up model he's been carrying all these years, drags it out right in front of the whole family to pay for the meal at a nice restaurant. The meal, incidentally, is also a part of the Father's Day courtesies extended him.

This is also the day when he is deliberately allowed to eat the white meat instead of the back and wings. After all, it's his day and nothing is too good for the old man, even if he eats the white meat for a change.

Like most people who have been around this old sphere for a number of years, I've known all three kinds of fathers — handsome, wealthy and majority.

My own dad never did set the world on fire. He was born in Arkansas, went to a country school and later walked many miles each day to attend a college which long ago closed its doors permanently at the insistence of the school's creditors. Just in case anybody is interested, that old college was called Quitman College, but then I knew all along that you never would have heard of it.

Often wondered what ever became of his diploma from old QC. It was an elaborate thing, hand written with a flourishing pen and signed by a half dozen teachers (maybe all the staff) from that school. It was genuine sheepskin, and was as large as the sheep itself. I remember that sprawling diploma hung in a gilt-edged frame that was as elaborate as the diploma itself. As we moved from town to town after I came along and Dad followed the school superintending business where the pay was best, the first thing ever unpacked was that big

AT SCIENCE SYMPOSIUM—E. M. Dobbs, left, a Muleshoe high school science teacher, and Nickie Landers, Muleshoe student, were guests of Southwestern Public Service Co., at the third nuclear science symposium for high schools on the University of Texas campus last week. Dobbs and Landers are shown listening to an explanation of an atomic reactor model by Howard Drew, executive vice president, Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. The four-day meeting was a venture of the University and the Foundation. Southwestern Public Service is a member of the foundation.

Two Tiny Misses Find Jail Easy Pickings!

Too young Michigan women, whose combined weight is only 185 pounds, broke through the paper-thin walls of the county jail atop the courthouse this past week, and then spent the night on the roof, chatting through the windows with men prisoners.

Come morning, they crawled back through the hole which they had made in the walls, and returned to their cells. But had they as desired, they could have tied blankets together and climbed

County School Board to Meet

Bailey county school board is to meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. for a three-purpose meeting, it was announced Saturday.

The county school board will act on applications for transfers of pupils from one school to another; will approve bus routes, and will classify schools.

On the county board are Tye Young, President; Clarence Jones, precinct 1; Harold Mardis, precinct 2; E. A. Kenley, precinct 3; and John Hubbard, precinct 4. Deadline for transferring pupils from one school to another for the coming school year was passed June 1.

Library Fund Gets $46 Gift

Dorcas Circle of the First Methodist Church, has donated $46 to the Bailey County library fund, it was announced this week. The donation was made as an outgrowth of the Circle's study for the past year, "Today's Children in Tomorrow's World," a study led by Mrs. E. T. Ford who is the new chairman of the Circle.

Mrs. Ray Daniel is the present year's chairman. Members felt that a donation to the library fund would be the circle's way of helping today's children in tomorrow's world, members explained.

Appraiser's Work on U.S. 84 Running 'Ahead of Schedule'

Bailey county commissioners have received a progress report from Dan MacNaughton, the county-appointed appraiser for U. S. 84 widening northwest of Muleshoe. In essence the report says work is proceeding "in a very satisfactory manner and is several weeks ahead of schedule."

County Judge Glen Williams said MacNaughton tells the commissioners that he has completed field investigation on "many individual farm tracts located in the general vicinity of the road, on many small acreage tracts located near Muleshoe, and a number of small tracts in and near Progress."

This survey, the appraiser says, had provided a great many comparable sales that will be used in arriving at appraisal values. MacNaughton has made a complete field inspection and measurement of all improvements, together with a catalog of the on-site improvements — such as underground lines, irrigation wells, shrubbery and the like on each parcel involved in the project. The improvements have been measured and plotted, pictures have been taken of about

Muleshoe to Integrate High School This Fall

The following statement was handed to The Bailey County Journal shortly before noon Saturday, by John Smith, president of the Muleshoe school board:

"The Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District voted unanimously to integrate Muleshoe High, grades 9-12, on September 1, 1963, at a special board meeting held June 13, 1963.

"The Board has been studying this problem at various times during the past few months because of a notification from the Sudan Public Schools that they would probably be forced to integrate because they were unable to meet the accreditation standards of the Texas Education Agency with their Negro High School. They stated further that they would be unable to accept the Negro transfers from Muleshoe, if they officially integrated.

"There are 10 Negro High School students living in the Muleshoe School District that attend the Sudan Negro School on an official transfer basis.

"On Monday, June 10, 1963, the Sudan School Board officially integrated their schools in grades 7-12. This action left the local school board with the responsibility of providing high school educational facilities for 12 Negro high school students.

"The cost of providing a new school and employing seven teachers to meet accreditation standards was prohibitive.

"The board investigated the possibilities of transferring and transporting these students to Olton; This would involve the purchase of a new bus; a long bus route that would extend as far as Needmore, back to Muleshoe and on to Olton, thus making it impossible to meet the time schedule of classes at Olton. All this expense would come from local tax funds. The Lazbuddie schools turned down our Negro transfers last year.

"This exhausted all possibilities the Board had to furnish educational facilities for those students (See NEGRO, page 5)

Funds Boost Running Water Draw Project

The proposed six-county Running Water Draw Watershed Project, which sponsors hope will provide flood-stopping dams, received two boosts this past week when Hale County and Parmer County commissioners set aside funds to further the program, F. (Flip) Calhoun, one of the leaders of the program, announced.

The Hale county board took the lead by allocating $12,500 to pay that county's share of the proposed planning party costs. By unanimous vote, the commissioners agreed to enter into the project, Calhoun said Saturday.

Still another step was taken when Parmer county commissions voted their $12,500 share of the cost. "We just wish the dams had been completed before the recent rains; they might have been full by now. We can't see the need for the project in our county," Farwell area had had more than seven inches of rainfall during the past few weeks.

With the appropriation of the Parmer county funds, only $12,500 is lacking to complete the $70,000 trust fund, Calhoun said. Lamb and Castro counties have taken no action to date on their shares of the costs.

In commenting about the program, Plainview's mayor, M. B. Hood, said: "The main thing the council is interested in is getting the project done as quickly as possible."

Floods on Running Water Draw have done extensive damage to Plainview in the past.

In Parmer county, Judge Loyd Brewer said $4,500 has been set up in a trust fund with the balance of $8,000 to be paid as it is needed to finance the planning party when it is secure. He commented: "We just wish the dams had been completed before the recent rains; they might have been full by now. We can't see the need for the project in our county." Farwell area had had more than seven inches of rainfall during the past few weeks.

Calhoun said funds allocated

Warrants Issued For 4 Persons

Warrants were issued late this week by Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn against two men from Dallas, one from Clovis and one from Idalou for failure to appear after being given traffic tickets in Bailey county last month. All were charged with speeding, and were given tickets by the highway patrol.

Charged in separate cases are Robert Isbell, Clovis; Lynn Flowers, Dallas; Gary Crawford, Idalou, and George Knifflis, Dallas. Roberts and Knifflis were instructed to appear May 14, Flowers, May 8 and Crawford May 23. None of the four appeared, the justice says.

Persons who fail to appear, he said, are subject to a $20.50 fine for speeding, plus another $20.50 fee for failure to appear when ordered to do so. Thus each defendant now faces two charges in Judge Vaughn's court.

Crow Issues Proclamation

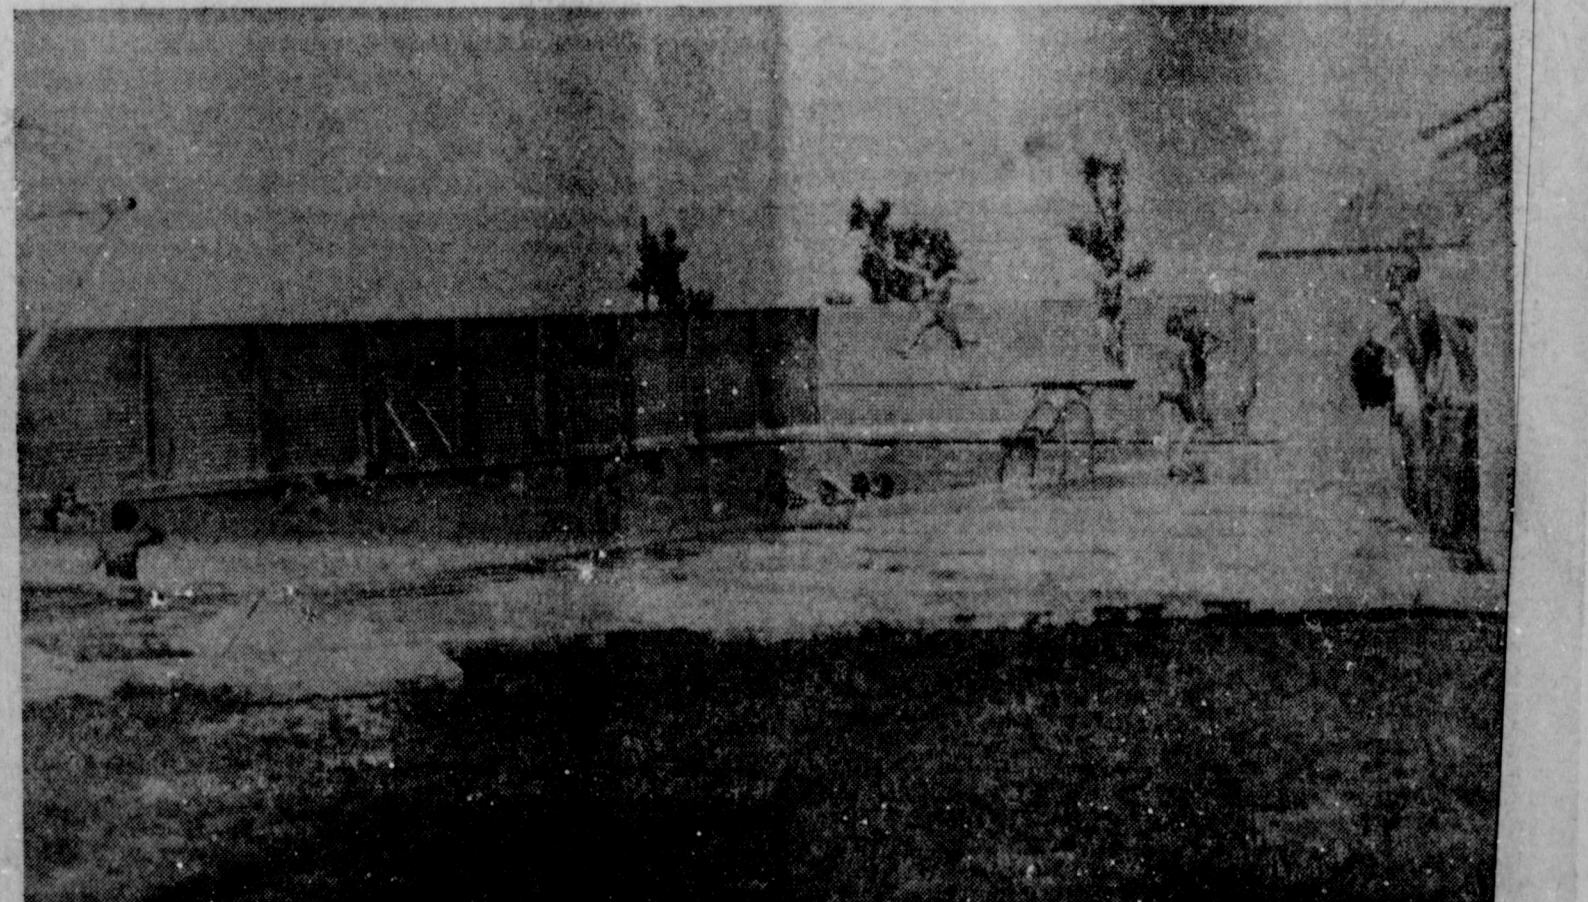

Muleshoe's mayor, Arthur Crow, this past week issued a proclamation asking that bells in Muleshoe be rung for four minutes July 4 to "Make Freedom Ring on the Fourth of July."

The proclamation read: WHEREAS, the General Federation of Women's Club has launched a "Make Freedom Ring on the Fourth of July" campaign among its 16,500 federated women's clubs in the United States

And whereas the organization is urging clubwomen to take an active part in the bell-ringing campaign in their communities to make sure that all possible bells are rung for four minutes in every part of the country.

And whereas the American people enjoy the greatest freedom in the world but seldom take time to consider that freedom which is theirs, and whereas the people of Muleshoe should feel it a privilege to join in this great cause

SIGNS OF SUMMER — Although summer won't officially arrive until next Thursday, in Muleshoe swimming pools already are among the most popular spots in town, especially around noon when weather is warmest. Here are scenes made at the pools. At right is the Muleshoe Country Club pool, while at left is the municipal pool. As the pictures indicate, both pools are enjoying popularity. A Dad's Greatest Job

I may never be as clever as my neighbor down the street; I may never be as wealthy as some other men I meet; I may never have the glory as some other men have had, But I've got to be successful as a little fellow's Dad.

It's the one job that I dream of; it's the task I think of most. If I fail that growing youngster, I'd have nothing else to boast. For though wealth and fame I'd gather, all my future would be sad, if I failed to be successful as that little fellow's Dad. —From the Baptist Bulletin — The Visitor.

94-Year-Old Edna Baptist Deacon Named 1963 Texas Baptist Father of the Year

EDNA, Texas — A 94-year-old Baptist deacon who has held every position within his church except the pastorate has been named 1963 Texas Baptist Father of the Year. D. B. Cain, a Baptist deacon for 65 years and a retired insurance agent who has lived here since 1944, was selected to receive the award by a special committee of the Baptist Standard and the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Special Fathers Day services today at the First Baptist Church of Edna will honor the Father of the Year. He will be presented with an engraved plaque paying tribute to him for outstanding "contributions to Christianity through his family, church and community." Cain is the father of five sons, three of them now living — Edgar Allen Cain, Brechenridge; Arthur Benton Cain, Yoakum; and Lester Dempsey Cain, Houston. All three are Baptist deacons in their churches. His first wife and youngest son died in a flu epidemic in 1918. He married Watsie Lea Nowlin in 1919. The Baptist Father of the Year, who ironically lives on Church Street in Edna, was nominated by a host of top Baptist leaders throughout the state to receive the award. Nearly a score of influential Baptists wrote letters or sent telegrams urging the committee to select Cain. Included in those nominating Cain for the award were the deacons of First Baptist Church of Edna, the pastor of First Baptist Church, Yoakum, where he was a member and deacon for more than 20 years, the president of both the Southern Baptist Convention and the Baptist General Convention of Texas — Dr. K. Owen White of Houston; the president of the University of Corpus Christi, Dr. W. A. Miller; and the executive director, the chaplain, and a staff physician at Memorial Baptist Hospital in Houston. The energetic 94-year-old grandfather owned and operated a grocery store in Yoakum for 50 years before moving to Edna in 1944. For 48 years he served as unpaid custodian of the First Baptist Church of Yoakum, and was church treasurer for 30 years. His pastor, the Rev. James B. Franklin, said that Cain, like Enoch in the Bible "walks with God. His life is a ministry, his love unrestrained, and his works will endure forever," said Rev. Mr. Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Forbes have recently returned from eight days' vacation to the western states. They visited in Las Vegas, Nev., and San Diego, Calif., with Mrs. Forbes' sisters. They also stopped by to see the Hoover Dam in Colorado. It seems that the Forbes ran into quite a sandstorm while they were gone, and were heard to say, "Wind blows in other places besides Muleshoe."

Jones Selected To Attend Boy Scout Jamboree

Owen Jones has been chosen as one of three men from the George White District to accompany a group of 27 Boy Scouts to the National Boy Scout Jamboree which will be held in July of 1964 at Valley Forge, Pa. The trip will take approximately three weeks, and it will consist of a week of sight-seeing en route to Valley Forge, a week at the camp itself, and a week of sight-seeing coming home. They plan to go into Canada, around by New York City, and back through the southern states. They will go on chartered buses. Tom Hilburn, Littlefield, will be scoutmaster, and Judge Owens, Levelland, along with Jones will be assistant counselors. The boys, along with their leaders, will begin their orientation or preparation meeting in the near future.

Courtesy Honors Yvonne Hendon

Miss Yvonne Hendon, bride-elect of Truman Layman, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath's home Monday afternoon. Guests called from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and were registered in the bride's book by Miss Juanita St. Clair. Dorothy Vinson and LaVon Childs presided at the serving table, which was covered with a floor-length cloth of pink net over taffeta and featured a border of seed pearls and sequins. Appliques of cupid, wedding bells, and a bride and groom were scattered about the covering. The centerpiece, which consisted of a miniature bride and groom beneath an arch of white net trimmed in pink, was flanked by pale pink candles. Strawberry float, mints, nuts, and individually decorated cakes were served on crystal with silver appointment. Included in the large array of useful gifts on display was a steam and dry iron, which was the hostesses' gift. Hostesses were: Mrs. R. F. Parkinson, Mrs. L. C. COMMUNIST WALL

The Berlin of today is hard to visualize unless you have actually been there. Even with a map the view and imagination are strained. Berlin, a city of over three million spreads itself right in the middle of the Soviet zone of Communist East Germany. Berlin lies more than a hundred miles behind the Iron Curtain within the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany. It is not, however, a part of that zone.

In essence, the four major Allies of World War II agreed to hold Berlin as the traditional capital, in trust for a future democratic and united Germany. The Federal Republic (West Germany) comprising the former occupation zones of the Western Allies, is a democratic state. Its 54,000,000 people enjoy self-determination at all levels. West Germany has taken its place in the community of free nations.

By contrast, the 17,000,000 inhabitants of the Eastern Zone are ruled by the Soviet Union through the Communist creation which calls itself the "German Democratic Republic". Berlin is thus surrounded by the G. D. R. Berlin contains four sectors with a 27-mile long wall dividing the city. On the West with 2.1 million people are the U. S., British, and French sectors. On the East with 1.2 million is the Soviet sector. East Berlin and East Germany after the Potsdam Treaty of 1945 were promised free election, peace, and reconstruction. After 18 years neither has come.

Remember June, 1948, when the Soviets totally severed all land and water routes to Berlin from the West? Their undisguised intent was to force the Western Allies out of Berlin and starve the people into the communist fold. Then the heroic airlift. Eleven months — food, clothing, coal, all necessary items for life were flown in. In a total of 277,728 flights, 2,343,301 tons of food and supplies were unloaded at Tempelhof Airport located near the heart of downtown Berlin.

Remember August 13, 1961, when Berliners awoke to find thousands of East German soldiers creating a wall slicing Berlin in two? Before the wall 3,300,000 Germans fled from the East to the West. It is not so easy today. Every device known has been put along the wall, on the wall, in the wall to keep freedom-loving people in slavery.

Remember August 17, 1962, when 18-year-old Peter Fechter cast his vote for freedom: only 300 yards from "check-point Charlie"? That's what they say over there when one gives the wall a try: "He cast his vote for freedom." I know; I was there. I saw his blood. I saw flowers by the armfuls on August 18, 1962, at the spot where he fell, shot by East German "vopos," left to die within a long-suffering agonizing hour by men on both sides of the wall. I saw a crude wooden cross, built by freemen, draped in symbolic black. This will stand forever as a monument to one 18-year-old boy. Such monuments are numerous along the 27 miles of shame.

Frankly speaking — Berlin could be one of the greatest shames of our day. The next time you think or feel you have trouble — try to scale "the wall".

Muleshoe Area Farmers Pasturing Irrigated Grasses On Rotation

By GARY L. REED

Soil Conservation Service News — Several farmers in the Muleshoe area are now pasturing irrigated grasses. Some of the important grasses being grazed are midland bermuda, sideoats grama and switch grass.

Management of these grasses may be the determining factor whether it will be profitable or unprofitable for you to establish grass. A systematic grazing plan is necessary for optimum utilization of forage, to prevent excessive forage loss from trampling and allow irrigation and fertilization schedules.

A rotation grazing system is a must for maximum production of grasses. Most farmers in Muleshoe area are using a four block rotation system. Each block is grazed for six days then rested for 18 days.

As soon as a block is grazed down and livestock removed, mow off the old growth refused by the animals, scatter the droppings with harrow and apply fertilizer and irrigation water as needed.

Fertilization is necessary in almost every case for high yields of good quality grass. A 10 ton per acre yield of dry matter removes from the soil about 300 pounds of actual nitrogen, 100 pounds of phosphorus and 300 pounds of potassium. Nutrient removal varies depending on the soil, fertilizer applied, stage of growth at harvest and other factors. Part of these nutrients are supplied by the soil but some must be replaced by fertilizer for sustained high yields.

Nitrogen is the key nutrient in grass production. In the early spring when growth starts, grass should receive about 50 to 80 pounds of actual nitrogen with the needed phosphorus and potassium indicated by soil test. An additional 50 to 80 pounds of nitrogen will be needed after each grazing if good regrowth is desired. Usually three or four nitrogen applications will be needed during the growing season. Irrigation should immediately follow surface application of fertilizer.

Irrigation water required for grass is about 24 to 30 inches per season, depending on rainfall and forage production desired. Two irrigations will be necessary during the rest and regrowth period for maximum production. Irrigate grasses during the winter to prevent winter-killing if it is an unusually dry fall and winter. For information on management of irrigated grasses contact your local Soil Conservation Service office in Muleshoe who assists the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS!

By MEL EVANS,

You are a "Litter Bug." I am a "Litter Bug." We are all "Litter Bugs."

When was the last time you vaded a piece of paper and threw it on the sidewalk? When was the last time you smokers threw a match stick or cigarette on the ground?

Included in litter are items (cans, bottles, etc.) that are actually trash. These objects do not, as a general rule, decompose readily and as a result become a permanent reminder that someone did not care what America looks like.

I recently was at a public recreation area and I saw a trash barrel with a sign by it that stated "I am placed here for your litter, please use me."

Around this barrel was a very complete assortment of all types of litter: beer cans, pop bottles, aluminum foil wrappers, paper, materials that run from one extreme of trash to the other.

The barrel was all but empty. I have personally been in several hundreds of homes that were owned by strangers, but I have never seen a trash receptacle in this condition.

A person, as an individual, who knows he must pick up what misses the receptacle, hits it every time.

The people continually complain about the poor condition of publicly owned recreation areas. It can be a privately owned area and nothing is said.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent annually cleaning up such litter. If the trash was placed in trash containers the cost of area maintenance would be decreased, because it would take less time to clean up after the hoard of people.

Probably 99 out of 100 American citizens are responsible people. If every one of the 99 would pick up their litter and two pieces every day, much of our problem would be eliminated.

Are you or are you not a responsible citizen? I hope so.

CHEMICAL MAY Reduce Soil's Moisture Loss — COLLEGE STATION — Hexadecanol, a commercial alcohol product, has been used in limited experiments to reduce evaporation of moisture from soil by 43 percent.

This finding by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station may point the way toward the solution of one of agriculture's most challenging problems — how to reduce loss of soil moisture from evaporation.

It is estimated that 123 million acre-feet of water evaporates annually from cropped and fallow land in the 17 Western States, where water resources are often inadequate for agricultural and other uses. This loss represents about 43 percent of the water used annually in all homes, industry and agriculture of the continental United States.

In the Colorado tests, hexadecanol was applied to the soil at rates of 600, 3,320 and 16,600 pounds per acre. It was mixed with the surface quarter-inch of soil; mixed uniformly with all of the soil in the container; layered 1 inch below the soil surface and layered 3 inches below the soil surface.

Water was added to saturate the treated soil and the amount of water lost by evaporation was recorded for 10 days. This cycle was continued for 14 months. The greatest evaporation reduction, 43 percent, resulted from the heaviest rate of application in the surface quarter-inch of soil.

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

How Community Spirit Built Perryton

Population figures more than double . . . 30 new industries added . . . all since 1950! That is the miraculous record of Perryton in the Texas Panhandle wheat growing area.

When oil was discovered in the early 50's, an aggressive, long-range program was launched by the Chamber of Commerce. An 84-acre industrial tract was secured and platted; its streets were paved and a railroad spur was built.

So successful was this community development that today a second industrial tract has been acquired and plotted.

ced. Perryton, former population 4417, is now known as The Oil Center of the Anardarko Basin, with 9400 citizens. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

at a reasonable cost, other than integrating these students into our present High School."

Earlier in the week, Mrs. M. T. Young, who lives on West 5th street in the Negro section of Muleshoe, had gone to county officials to see what could be done about providing high school facilities for two of her children who are of high school level.

The county officials told her it was a matter for the local board since Muleshoe is an independent district.

She said she had lived in Muleshoe for 21 years. "This is my home and I want to stay here, but I want my children to have a high school education. I'm puzzled about where to turn. I don't want violence. I simply want my children to have an opportunity to attend school where they could have the laboratory, library and gymnasium facilities such as white pupils have."

Mrs. Young says she has two pupils already of high school level—Edith, 19, who will be a senior this year, and James, 16, who will be in the ninth grade. Myron Young, another son, is in the 8th grade and can attend Hilltop school here for another year.

Further complicating the school problem here is the growth of enrollment in Hilltop school, Muleshoe's separate school for Negroes. Neal Dillman, superintendent, said the Negro elementary school is "bulging at the seams."

Third Subteen Night Planned

Muleshoe's summer program for subteens, which started June 6, is off to a good start with some 69 boys and girls signed up for the summer program.

Thursday night's attendance, a game night, was good, and a big turnout is expected next Thursday when a "twist party" is held.

First event was a hayride, held June 6 when nearly 70 boys and girls took part.

Membership cards at $1 are offered to all boys and girls in the fourth through the eighth grades. The subteen planning committee is composed of Mrs. David Wier, Mrs. Horace Edwards and Mrs. Frank Ellis.

MacNaughton says all these details require a great amount of office work. "In fact, it appears that more time will be required to do the office work than the field work," Judge Williams says, adding that MacNaughton expressed his appreciation for the "fine cooperation received, not only from the property owners, but from the county clerk, the tax assessor-collector and the judges' offices."

The judge sums up with: "I personally believe that his is getting off to a good start with the appraisal work, and I want to thank each of the property owners and others involved for their patience, understanding and fine co-operation. We realize it has been a long drawn-out process, but we will move it along as fast as we reasonable can, and will be as courteous and considerate of the people as is humanly possible. We believe this road improvement will be a valuable asset to our community, and we look forward to its completion."

went through a little ceremony: He got out of the car and shook off the dust of the town we were leaving. "Now," he said as he got back into the car, "I can go ahead into my new job with a feeling that I have literally left the old town behind me." And he did just that. In fact, he stayed in that town for years, but as far as I can recall he never went back there, even for a visit. And then later after he left the school teaching business and had gone into an entirely different type of work, he used to say, "Well, I like this work, and it doesn't have the headaches that school administration has, but just the same, I still kind of miss it, even to old Mr. Cackleberry." Mr. Cackleberry, as Dad called him, had been a particularly obnoxious patron who had believed that anything that was good enough for his great, great grandfather was good enough for the children of his day, too. Mr. Cackleberry, I might add, drove a horse and buggy to his dying day, not believing that the automobile was here to stay and would ever replace the horse.

So, there were many compensations to Dad's teaching career. It's a great profession, and I have always had a great respect for the teachers, knowing that even today there are Cackleberrys who make teaching a tough job. I'm glad Mrs. Dodd got over the idea of a Father's Day. I had a great father and I'm glad to honor him today, just as you are honoring your father who also was great!

How Does Your Crop Look?
GIVE IT A BOOST WITH Golden
URAN

Realizing that the weather in recent weeks hasn't been conducive to "tops" in crop growth, we would like to offer a suggestion. Heavy moisture and cool weather have slowed young cotton growth considerably — to counteract this condition in the face of a shortened growing season, we recommend an application of from 5 to 7 gallons per acre of GOLDEN URAN. The nitrate content of this excellent nitrogen fertilizer will provide a quick boost of growth power to the dormant plant. This small amount of nitrogen will in no way affect the maturing of the crop, but will give it added leaf and root growth. IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE MORE UNFORTUNATE WHO HAVE TO REPLANT—WE WOULD LIKE TO SUGGEST THAT YOU APPLY A BOOSTER SHOT WITH YOUR SEED.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

In the future it may be possible for every landowner, with a good sized fishing hole or a satisfactory place to hunt, to borrow money to develop the project.

A program has been developed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to broaden the lending program of the Farmers Home Administration to increase rural recreation facilities.

FHA now will accept loan applications from family farmers for recreational enterprises to supplement their farm incomes.

These same loans also are available to non-profit associations to cover costs involved in shifting land to new and more economic uses, which will include recreation.

Camping grounds, swimming facilities, tennis courts, riding stables, vacation cottages, lodges, lakes, ponds of water for sports, docks, nature trails picnic grounds and hunting preserves may be provided on family farms through such funds, under the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962.

Maximum amount a landowner may receive for recreational enterprises is $35,000. Amount of real estate development of land and building, including this development for recreational enterprises, is $50,000.

Operating loans are made for up to seven years, but real estate loans are for up to 40 years. Interest rate is 5 per cent.

These funds are available to farm residents who are unable to provide needed funds or who cannot get credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms to finance actual needs. Landowners may get necessary information

Crop Insurance Week Proclaimed

"Crop Insurance Week" June 16-22 is being proclaimed by Texas Gov. John Connally, Ben A. Jordan, Jr., state crop insurance director, announced.

The occasion is the 25th anniversary of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., an agency of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

"Texas participation has doubled since 1961," Jordan said, "and nearly 12,000 Texas farmers now carry more than $30 million FCIC protection on their production costs of cotton, grain sorghum or wheat against disastrous losses from all natural causes."

In Bailey County, Jordan reported, some 98 farmers carry approximately $600,000 in FCIC protection to help return them their investment costs if the crop doesn't.

"This will keep farmers in business despite crop disaster, and will protect townspeople, too, against the economic shock crop failures often cause," Jordan said.

found their bird restocking programs worthwhile.

Naturally if a landowner borrows money from the FHA to equip his place with recreational facilities, same must be provided. If he wants to sell per day hunting for birds, or the use of his fishing lake, the customer must be satisfied. Or if it is a nature trail, a swimming pool or just a restful cabin, then the things expected by the man who pays the bill must be there.

Perhaps the local Chamber of Commerce might be a better approach to the program. Even through Federal money is available to individuals, a community project might fare better.

But it is worth looking into.

Nearly $5 billion has been made available to 6 million veterans as GI loans issued by the Veterans Administration.

20 MULE TEAM WEED KILLERS DO MUCH MORE FOR A LOT LESS

is your lowest cost weed killer for noxious perennial weeds such as: field bindweed, Canada thistle, leafy spurge, bur ragweed, Russian knapweed, etc. Why? Because only 4 to 8 gallons will effectively treat an entire acre of non-cropped land. TRITAC-D contains the added weed killing ingredient 2, 4-D, thus offering you triple killing action: 1. effective deep-root destruction, 2. quick foliage top kill, 3. prevents seeds from developing. TRITAC-D is nonselective, yet safe to handle for easy spray application. Available in 1, 5 and 30 gallon containers.

DRY GRANULAR BENZABOR

is the most effective, nonselective weed killer to use where spray equipment or water are not available. Or where accuracy of rate of application is essential on small scattered patches of these same noxious weeds. Reason: You apply BENZABOR in its dry granular form—straight from sack to soil. The handy PCB Spreader lets you treat up to 1/4 of an acre of non-cropped land in 10 minutes. It also controls a wide range of woody vines and shrubs. And it is non-poisonous, noncorrosive and nonflammable when used as directed.

Quick Treatment of Stock Wounds Urged by Adams

"Ground control (immediate treatment of all wounds regardless of cause) is of major importance in the screwworm eradication program at this time," County Agent J. K. Adams said Saturday. It's that time of year when screwworm cases normally begin a rapid increase and he cautioned all livestock producers "to be even more alert in their checking for possible worm cases."

"The screwworm will be readied by your constant vigilance," Adams said. He advised livestock producers to treat every wound regardless of cause, including those from sheep and goat shearing, docking, dehorning, wire cuts, or others, with approved materials. These include EQ-335 or 5 percent Corlan as smears or 5 percent Co-Ral as a dust. These are recommended for use on all surgical cases, Mr. Adams said. He listed the use of 25 percent sprays for control of livestock Co-Ral or 5 percent Korlan as pests.

The county agent further suggested that all livestock be checked at least once each week and more often if practical for screwworm signs.

He emphasized the need for even better reporting of all worm cases and the importance of taking worm samples from every infested wound. Be extra observant of all new livestock brought onto the farm ranch, J. K. Adams said.
