HOME TOWN GOSSIP

Bill Weiler got right youthful Sunday and began copying Elliott Bryant's 'stuff'. He upset his ancient Studebaker in a ditch, East of town, in an attempt to make the old bus show off by hurtling a highway culvert.

The car like Joe, was just a bit too decrepid for such juvenile pastime and ended up on its side in an eight foot ditch.

Harley Neel's altruistic and profitable mind has given birth to the following idea, which he says will not only make enormous profits but will do away with unemployment.

He plans, so he says, to organize a and operate a cat and rat ranch, near Cross Plains.

"To start with", he informs, "I will collect about 100,000 cats. Each cat will average about 12 kittens a year. I will kill the cats and skin them, selling the pure black hides for seventy-five cents and the white ones for ten cents. Estimating 12,000,000 skins a year this will give me an income of $100,000 a day gross."

"A man can skin 50 cats a day and I'll pay the men $2.00. It will take 100 men to operate the ranch, and therefore the net profit will be $9,800.00 a day.

"I intend to feed the cats on rats by starting a rat ranch nearby. The rats will multiply four times as fast as the cats and if I start with a million rats, I will have four rats per day for each cat."

"I will feed the rats on the carcasses of the cats from which the skins have been taken, giving each rat one-fourth of a cat per day. Thus you can see that the business is self sustaining and automatic all the way through. The cats will eat the rats and the rats will eat the cats and I get the skins, selling them, for a profit of $9,800.00 a day."

Harley's idea should work successfully if he gets the brand of cats that have the nine lives.

Did you know that; Edwin Neeb's middle name is Columbus; Porter Davis' is Jewell; Carlton Powell's is Issack; Mary Massa's is Ursula; Martin Neeb's is Henry; Broad Bond's is Bunyon; Fill Anderson's is Ross; Dr. John Rumph's is Grady, or that Willis Brown's is James.

One Japan newspaper has 75 reporters covering the Olympic games in Los Angeles this week. Simmons University, at Abilene, is the oldest institution of higher learning in Texas, West of Fort Worth. It will soon enter into its fifth decade. There are over 1,100 graves in the Cross Plains cemetery.

Aubra Dodson Gives Political Hot Shots From State Capitol

"Well here I am in the capitol city. Everything looks about usual. I was by the capitol building a few minutes ago and it appears to be house cleaning time there. They are putting down new carpets and brushing up in general. But at that it still looks natural, with Robert E. Lee standing at the right as you go in. And incidentally the old cowboy is still riding the bronc with his left spur up at the left shoulder and his hat in his hand, you know out on the grounds just West of the building.

You know the old pioneers that built the capitol sure were some far-sighted old birds and even if they did give a lot of land for it, you have got to admit they didn't build a shack. It is some beautiful piece of work. That soft reddish brown granite certainly does stand out richly, and I believe it is credited with being the finest and most beautiful state capitol in America.

Politics are pretty warm here. I believe Austin is pretty well divided on the Governor's race.

It seems that whoever is writing the checks on the state's bank account has 'kinda' got balled up and put out more checks to state employees than there is money. The employees

BAPTISTS BEGIN ANNUAL REVIVAL SUNDAY

PASTOR WILL DO THE PREACHING, DENNIS CONDUCTS SINGING

2 Services Scheduled Daily. Morning At 10 A. M. And Evening At 7:30

Cross Plains Baptist will begin their annual Summer revival Sunday night, when the pastor returns from a Wilson, Texas, where he has been conducting a series of meetings.

The meeting will consist of two services a day and last through two weeks. The morning service will begin at 10 each morning and the night at seven thirty.

Sunday morning service will be conducted by the Rev. John Holder, of Cisco.

"The Baptist annual revival will begin here Sunday night August 21. That Sunday morning after the Sunday School period a general discussion on the subject of, "Can Cross Plains Have An Old Fashioned Revival?" will be lead by Russell Dennis. Rev. Darby will return here that afternoon in time for the night service.

JOE WEILER MADE NEW REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN

Joe Weiler is the new Republican county chairman for Callahan county, according to an announcement from Dallas late Thursday morning. He succeeds W. B. Baldwin to the post.

Weiler attended the state convention at Dallas Tuesday and was appointed on the resolutions and platform committee, considered one of the most important of all committees. He returned home Wednesday.

He will serve two years.

DESDEMONIA HOST TO ANNUAL HOMECOMING

Desdemonia will be host today and tomorrow to old settlers throughout this section in a second annual homecoming. The entertainment program will consist of candidates' addresses, baseball games and rodeos.

The affair was started last year and attracted statewide attention. Several Cross Plains people are planning to attend.

Review 'Ed' Finds Cross Plains Has 2 More Namesakes

Cross Plains, like Jones, Brown and Smith, is a popular name. At least four cities in the United States have post offices that bear that designation. They are located in Indiana, Wisconsin, Tennessee and Texas.

Three weeks ago the Review editor in search of material for a feature story, examined an unofficial list of United States post-offices and found several towns and communities in this trade territory to have namesakes in other states. A story headed, "Belle Plaine, Cottonwood, Cross Plains And Clyde Have Namesakes In Other States," was published in The Review. A copy of the paper was sent each of the out-of-state places mentioned.

Several days later a paper from Cross Plains, Wisconsin, was received at the Review office. So interesting was the contact made between the two cities of same name that the Review scribe was prompted to look through a later, and official, list of United States post offices and see if there was a possibility of there being other towns with the same name as this one. The discovery was that there are places with the name Cross Plains in Indiana and Tennessee, as well in Wisconsin and Texas.

A full page illustration on another page of this paper had already been prepared to be sent the Wisconsin town to acquaint citizens there with their namesake down south when it was learned that there were also places with 'our' name in Indiana and Tennessee. Copies of today's paper will be mailed to each of the four out-of-state namesakes.

LAST 7 DAYS HAVE MOVING WEEK HERE

The past seven days have been moving week in Cross Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Freeman have moved from the Preston home in the South part of town to the A. R. Clark residence, on North Main Street, just Southwest of the school buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carmichael and family have taken the Preston home, moving from Ninth Street, near the Baptist Church, the first of the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burkett have moved into the Tom Anderson residence, which was occupied by the Aubra Dodson family until their recent removal to Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Robebrts have taken the Clyde Durringer home on North Main Street formerly occupied by the Burketts.

REVIVAL MEETING BEGINS AT COTTONWOOD TONIGHT

A Church of Christ revival meeting will begin at Cottonwood Friday night. Evangelist Everett O'Doud will do the preaching. Members of all other denominations have been extended a cordial invitation to attend the services.

Mrs. F. A. Lane has returned home after several months in New Mexico vacationing and recouping in health. She is greatly improved.

Mrs. Lonnie Ray visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Haley, the past week.

Austin Newton of Walnut Spring was in Cross Plains the past week end.

M'DERMITT ANNUAL SUMMER PICNIC WILL BE HELD AUGUST 20

Friends Asked To Meet Sunday Afternoon At Stock Pins To Formulate Plans

McDermitt's annual summer picnic and old settlers' reunion will be held at the ranch, seven miles West of town, Saturday, August 20, according to an announcement from Hugh McDermitt, yesterday.

The entertainment program will include dinner on the ground and rodeo attractions. Several thousand people attend the celebration each year, which is given on, or about, Hugh McDermitt's birthday. It was begun a number of years ago.

The custom is for everyone to bring a basket and spread together it at noon in a large grove on the ranch. The day is usually spent in reminiscing by the old timers, fancy and bronc riding by youngsters and wholesale visiting among people throughout this entire section.

Mr. McDermitt said in a statement to The Review yesterday, "Everyone is invited and especially the old settlers are urged to attend. Bring a well-filled basket and help to make the day enjoyable and successful."

He said that he would appreciate having as many interested people as possible meet him at the stock pins, on the ranch, Sunday afternoon August 14, at three o'clock, and assist in the formulating of plans to make this year's celebration the best in history. Committees will be appointed at that time to inform old-timers in various sections of the state and to make other arrangements.

A complete list of the program will be published in next week's issue of The Review. Copies will be mailed scores of people who usually attend from outside this immediate area.

The barbecue served at the McDermitt picnics is reputed to be the best cooked in this section. The Review was informed yesterday that this year the meat would begin cooking Friday afternoon, before the picnic the next day, and would remain on the fire until noon Saturday.

CAR STRIKES CULVERT, TURNS OVER IN BITCH

Bill Weiler received minor cuts about the face and body bruises when his large sedan slipped from the highway, two miles West of town, Sunday afternoon and overturned in a ditch. The injuries were not serious however. He was coming to Cross Plains from the East, when something is reported to have gone wrong with steering apparatus, causing the machine to strike a culvert and turn over in a ditch, along the highway. The front of the car was almost demolished.

Couple Married Tuesday Night At M. E. Parsonage

Miss Alwena Koenig and Glen Edington were married at the Methodist parsonage here Tuesday night. Rev. C. C. Armstrong officiated. The couple left immediately for San Antonio and other South Texas points for a bridal trip. They plan to return soon to Coleman where they will make their home.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George Koenig of this place. Both she and the groom are well known in Cross Plains.

Boyce House, staff correspondent for the Fort Worth Star Telegram, was a visitor in the Review office Thursday.

Want To Trade? See Swap Ads On Page 2. Its Free

Through the remainder of August and September the Review will conduct a "Swap Column". Anyone having something to trade may publish it in any, or all, of the next seven issues without cost, so long as no money is involved in the transaction.

Call 114 or bring the advertisements to the Review office for publication. Remember there will be no charge so long as no money is involved in the trade. The column will be carried through August and September.

Advertisements such as for rent, or for sale, where a cash consideration, is required, will still be charged at the regular rate of five cents per line—minimum charge, 25 cents.

Read the "Swap" ads on page three this week. There will be many more in next week's paper. Be sure to include yours.

CROSS PLAINS WILL BE HOST TO RUNOFF CANDIDATES IN RALLY

Cross Plains will be host to all runoff candidates with a political rally on Main Street, here next Thursday night, August 18. One block will be roped off to accommodate the large crowd that is expected, according to an announcement from sponsors of the event yesterday. Paul V. Harrell will preside.

Among the candidates that are being invited to be present and deliver short addresses are: Ross S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, for Governor; Lee Satterwhite and C. V. Terrell, for Railroad commission (six year term); W. Gregory Hatcher and Ernest O. Thompson, for Railroad commission (four year term); Wilbourne B. Collic and Oliver Cunningham, for State Senate; Cecil A. Lotier and B. L. Russell, Jr., for State Representative; W. A. Everett and Wm. J. Evans, for Tax Collector; E. D. Priest and Vernon R. King, for Tax Assessor; B. H. Freeland and George Clifton, for County Commissioner; congressman-at-large candidates and T. E. Mitchell and Ira Loving for Public Weigher.

Mrs. C. R. Cook left Thursday morning for Indiana to visit relatives. She is making the trip with Mrs. Lee Hickey and Miss Ella Lee Hickey, of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson returned the past week end from Liberty Hill.

"Grandma" Kennedy, 88, Cross Plains Oldest Citizen Surprised With Party

Mrs. Nancy Kennedy, Cross Plains' and probably Callahan county's oldest citizen, was honored Sunday with a surprise dinner in observance of her eighty-eighth birthday. Although it was 88 years ago Monday when she was born, Sunday was celebrated when her grandson, C. V. Ramsey and wife and Mrs. C. V. Ramsey, Sr., dropped in for dinner bringing a large cake, decorated with 88 candles. Several other children and relatives were present; extending 'Grandma' Kennedy, as she is lovingly called here, congratulations and many happy returns of the day.

ONE MAY EXTEND FIELD IS BELIEF OF OIL MEN HERE

Garner--Stone And Canyon And F. A. Lane Are Runing Pipe Top Of Sand

Two Burkett wells—setting on what is believed to be the pay sand—are running pipe, prior to drilling in this week end. Both will make good producers, was the opinion of oil men here Thursday.

The Canyon Oil and Gas Company and F. A. Lane, on the E. L. Harris tract, will probably drill, in Friday afternoon. Ben Garner and Frank Stone have also topped the sand and are running pipe. They will probably drill in Saturday.

Mr. Stone told the Review the first of the week that they just accidentally touched the sand before discontinuing drilling and that more than 200 feet of the hole filled with oil. He expects the test to be one of the best in the Burkett area and to extend the pool.

"Should the Garner-Stone test be a good producer, drilling will probably begin in a Northwesterly direction of the established Burkett field", declared a veteran oil producer of this area Thursday morning.

Local Man Attendant In Sisters Wedding

The marriage of Miss Glenn McGowen and W. O. Wylie, Jr., was solemnized Thursday morning in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGowen at Baird.

Rev. Joe R. Mayes pastor of the first Baptist Church was officiate clergyman.

Mendelssohns wedding march was played by Mrs. Will Tucker, sister of the groom.

The bride was given in marriage by the father.

Misses Donna McGowen and Dorothy Mae Scott were brides maids. Mrs. Glenn Saunons of Fort Worth was matron of honor. The grooms attendants were Dr. J. Henry McGowen of Cross Plains and Thaxton McGowen, brothers of the bride.

The bride wore a modish frock of navy blue triple sheer chiffon with accessories to match.

Mrs. Wylie is a graduate of Baird high school and of the piano conservatory of Simmons University at Abilene. She attended T. C. U. last summer and for the past two years has taught music in Baird.

Mr. Wylie is a graduate of Baird high school and of the Smith School of Embalming at Dallas. He also attended Texas Tech, at Lubbock.

Following a short honey-moon trip to Texas points, the couple will make their home in Baird where the groom is associated in business with his father.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Frasier of San Saba were in Cross Plains the past week end visiting friends.

Got Over Weak, Painful Condition By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." For over 50 years, Cardui has been helping women just as this Texas lady describes above. Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

To Acquaint Our Friends Up North With Their Namesake Down South!

The following newspaper cuts have been picked at random to familiarize the citizens of Cross Plains, Wisconsin, with their namesake—Cross Plains, Texas—down South. The Review editor, gathering material for a feature story, discovered among the United States postal records the name Cross Plains, Wisconsin, July 21 and published a story headed, "Belle Plaine, Cottonwood, Cross Plains, Clyde, Have Namesakes In Other States", the following day. A copy of the paper was mailed the Wisconsin town. Last week Joe Dommershausen, news correspondent from Cross Plains, up North, commented at length upon the article and the two towns through his column in the Dane County News, published at Black Earth, Wisconsin. Copies of today's Review are being mailed Mr. Dommershausen and President, Werner B. Esser, of Cross Plains, Wisconsin.

Location

For our friends up north to locate our town when they may be in this state the above diagram of location is self explanatory.

Shown at right are three of Cross Plains churches. The Church of Christ is not included in the group due to the fact that there was no newspaper cut available.

Top left is Baptist church, top right is Presbyterian and bottom middle is Methodist. The three structures represent a cost of more than $70,000.

Legion Too

Cross Plains has one of the peppiest American legion posts of its size in Texas. The boys are public spirited and always sponsoring some measure for community betterment.

The Triumph Of Razenia

SERIES NO. 21

LIKE a great cloud the army of airplanes swooped down upon the enemy den. In a confused mass they turned their flips and sent their loads of ants into the enemy compound.

They immediately hurried off towards their own den after more soldiers. After they brought another two million ants they would have a million more than the enemy.

Four of the fifteen planes had been disabled when they turned the flip. They had either collided with each other or had lost their balance and fallen to the ground.

The enemy ants had been entirely taken by surprise, for they had not expected the enemy from above. They thought the Razenians would try to enter through the weeds, and they had most of their army posted at this point. They were successfully in the compound now. Confused parties of ants were forcing their way into the hole. The ants from the adjoining woods were rushing to join the fray and to try and save their home.

The ants started fighting violently, the enemy army trying to break the rough line that the Razenians had hurriedly formed around the den. The Razenians stood fast, however, and after capturing the small forts that had been left almost unguarded easily repulsed every charge that the enemy made. They even followed them into the jungle and dared them come back.

Then the airplanes returned, bringing with them another two million ants. They had the battle 'cinched' now, although it would have been impossible to reach the den from the outside. The battle had been won by the ants, but they had not truly won it, for had it not been for the Razenian Genius they could not have attacked from above.

The rebels made several futile attempts to reach the den, but even though their number was many times greater than the Razenians they could not gain a position suitable to give them the advantage.

The ants were now piling into the den and surprising the sleeping warriors. They soon had an advantage inside, and they held undisputed sway above. The battle had been won without the loss of a man except the two who had been killed in an airplane crash.

The airplanes, seeing that the ground troops needed no men started back toward their jungle hangout to get rid of their load and come back to take back those that were not left there to keep order and loyalty among the conquered subjects.

The enemy soon surrendered and the large army was transferred from them to the Razenians. It was decided that all the confiscated army would be taken to serve in Razenia where they could be watched, and the Razenian soldiers would be left in this enemy den to see that all went well.

Kara had been among the soldiers directing them all time, and it was through his guidance that they reached the small forts and captured them. The same forts that had been so specially prepared to repulse someone else had been captured and turned upon its builders. All through the aid of the Razenian Genius.

He now rushed to his plane, after instructing the commander how to place the soldiers after he left, and flew away towards Razenia. He was soon safe in the little opening in the broom weeds.

He had his large plane towed into the hanger and his little speedy one hauled out.

He got in the cabin, after having twenty guard ants placed in the front cabin.

"Tell the king that I'm going to get some greater and grander dens into our empire, and that I will not likely get back for several hours. We have a room full of food here, should we be forced down," explained Kara as he gave the order for the wasp to get started.

It so happens that Kara flew five miles from the home den, and after demonstrating the flying machine and its flying power, never passed a den without bringing it into the empire. Several like voyages were made in other directions. Every den in the radius of five miles submitted to the Razenians and after being shown that they were to be treated right they became very loyal to their empire. They were taught the use of the airplane, although the controls were covered with the toughest materials so that they could not see how it worked.

However, they did not care how the planes worked, just so they did it. They went still farther, and finally there came dens under the rule of the Razenians as far distant as twenty miles. The outmost dens of the empire sent out airplanes for five miles and took in the dens, then the most distant of these dens did likewise. Many of the Razenian dens had never been seen by a Razenian, although they had sent airplanes there for loyal use. The Razenian Triumph due to the great Razenian Genius.

But empires large do not usually stand long. Neither did this one, but we will leave it prospering and increasing in size. Although sometime later we will again tell of the struggle of the Razenian Genius and the downfall of the Razenian triumph. The Kilinos became selfish and wanted more power than their co-rulers, thus started the "splitting-up" of the empire.

Cross Cut

BY BERNICE STOCKTON

Mrs. Less Wilkins is visiting her mother, Mrs. Joe Bryd at Coleman. George Wright and Ruel Gafford were in Brownwood Tuesday.

Linden Newton, Tie, Clois and Claude Clark and Fred Campbell went fishing Wednesday night. Some rather large buffalo fish were caught, they report.

George Wright, Tie Clark and Ruel Gafford are planning a tour of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana, soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Pressley Atkinson were in Cross Cut Tuesday. They are moving from Blake to Cross Cut.

Bryant Moore and E. E. Vaughn were at the Phil-Pe-Co Country Club Tuesday night.

Emma Baucum and Elva Stockton were in Pioneer Tuesday night.

Frances Hill gave a 'play-party'. Old fashioned ring games were played. For once the game of 'snap' was not included in the entertainment program.

Leatha Byrd of Grosevor is visiting Lila Bright, here.

Nona Prater and Dorcas Pickett were local female tennis champions last week. Don't mention the 'big head.'

Jack Bettis, principal of Cross Cut high school, was here Friday.

Geneva Caldwell of Rockwood and Geneva Atkinson of Santa Anna are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Pressley Atkinson here.

Mrs. H. S. Hensley of Abilene is visiting her daughter here, Mrs. John Clark.

There was a slight wreck here Sunday. No one was seriously injured. Mrs. Luke Clark was hurt slightly. There was a small gash in her forehead, cut by the car mirror.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Clark have returned from Innis, where they spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hughes.

Reduced 30 Pounds Never Felt Better

Safe Way To Lose Fat

Take the case of Miss Madelone Crowley, for instance, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. Just read her letter:

"I have used Kruschen Salts for one year—when I started I weighed 140 pounds—now I weigh 110 pounds and never felt better in my life."

That's the big reason a host of men and women take Kruschen to lose weight—as the fat goes you gain in health—skin clears—eyes grow bright—activity replaces indolence.

Take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar of Kruschen that costs but a trifle lasts 4 weeks—get it at Smith Drug Store or any drugstore in the world—but for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts.

DRESSY CHURCH NEWS

The meeting at Burnt Branch will begin Wednesday evening August 17th, 1932 at 8:30. The Rev. C. C. Armstrong of the Cross Plains Church will do the preaching. The meeting will run for several days. The public is cordially invited to attend all these services. There will be two services each day at 10:30 in the morning and at 8:30 each evening.

The meeting at Victoria Methodist Church will begin on August 24th, and run about one week. Two services each day. The Rev. Cecil Fox will do the preaching. He is now serving the Putnam Methodist Church.

The pastor, the Rev. O. C. Stapleton is helping the Rev. W. V. O'Kelly of the Clyde Charge this week in a meeting at the Denton Methodist Church.

The meeting at Dressy closed on Sunday evening of August 7th with the Rev. Davenport of Cross Cut doing the preaching. The Rev. Davenport is a Gospel preacher and did some good preaching while in the meeting here with us.

MISS BONNIE MAE MONSEY ENTERTAINS FRIENDS THUR.

Miss Bonnie Mae Monsey entertained her friends with a birthday party Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were served and games were played. It was an enjoyable evening to all present. Contributed.

Miss Sarah Neal of Atlanta, Georgia and Miss Lucille Blitch of Cisco were visitors at the home of the latter's brother, Mr. Joe Blitch, of this city.

Misses Aletha and Melba Mitchell returned from a three weeks visit to Greenville, Texas, Sunday where they had been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ressie Browning of Brownwood were in Cross Plains the past week end to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baum.

Snake-Oil Superstition

The head and tail of a newly killed rattlesnake, boiled in a pot at midnight under the light of a full-moon may serve to work its magic for the prosperity, success and happiness of favored ones in the jungles of Africa, but—there is no magic to peace and plenty in the homes of American citizens who place their faith in the snake oil of indolence and a desire for easy money—Ambition, plus action, with a definite goal of achievements is about the only road to contentment. Spending a little less than the income—and banking the difference . . . soon scores the victory.

CITIZENS STATE BANK

THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

● The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,488,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote safety, preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

● The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation as a whole will surely ensue.

THE TEXAS RAILROADS

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

WHY PEOPLE LOST CONFIDENCE

Situated as I am, at a health resort, I meet folks from all to their reasons for leaving the home over our land. I listen physician, and find out why many employ quacks, just to get "stung." Many times I fear that it is our fault that quackery flourishes; WE DRIVE OUR PATRONS AWAY FROM US.

Here are some reasons why the patient left the home doctor, as I take from my notes:

"My home doctor didn't examine me as I thought he'd ought to."

"My doctor told me there was nothing the matter with me but 'nerves.'"

"He just wouldn't examine my kidneys—and I knewed the seat of my trouble was there."

"Doc didn't do nothin' for me but prescribe—an' I got tired of that; didn't do me no good."

"He just didn't seem to understand my case."

"After the hard times set in I couldn't keep up my payments, and Doctor just seemed to lose interest. . ."

"My doctor ain't a liver doctor—and I know it's my liver."

"O, I got to readin' about this doctor that don't operate; he described my case to a dot—I paid him $250 in advance but I ain't no better yet; he says it will take a long time."

These are typical answers. I wonder if we honest physicians ever stop to think that it may be OUR FAULT that we sometimes lose our patronage?

The meanest patient that you have, Doctor, is entitled to the very best that is in you. If you give him that and he still is disloyal and disobedient, the quicker the quack gets him the better.

Your Electric Power Supply MUST Be Flexible

Electric power, to serve any community adequately, must be flexible. It must meet all requirements, large or small—from a large factory to a small household—at any time and at any place.

Small local plants serving single communities lack this flexibility . . . they lack the variety of volume and demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area by transmission lines, to operate efficiently.

The transmission line delivers larger amounts of power AT ONCE without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the way for a rapid and permanently expanding industrial growth.

The present day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when transmission systems replaced inefficient and expensive small local plants throughout the nation.

The West Texas Utilities Company, through its wide-spread 2,500 mile transmission line network, makes available to 125 progressive West Texas cities and towns over 100,000 horse power of electric energy—ready at the turn of a switch.

We Need Lotief

By J. B. F. Wright
Cisco, Texas.

We need a man that has some brains.
To take our legislative reins;
To guide us off the rocks and reefs,
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

We need a man we can trust,
To represent our cause that's just,
To bring us joy instead of grief;
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

We need a man and not a machine,
To be there when the horse convences,
To tell them we must have relief;
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

Now honest, folk, don't lose your head,
Those awful gas bills that we read
Will thus be tabooed by our chief;
They can't outwit our friend, Lotief.

We need a man to stand between—
A man with life and record clean,
A man to turn another leaf—
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

We need a man that won't be shy,
But show them where they told a lie,
And set about to bring relief;
We have that man, our friend
Lotief.

We need a man to dare to try,
To get right in that bunch's eye;
To be the common people's chief;
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

We need a man with courage bold,
To get that bunch at Austin told,
To point out every crooked thief;
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

We need a man that's aiming high;
A man monopolies cannot buy,
A man that will not bring us grief,
We have that man, our friend,
Lotief.

Let's rally to him one and all,
He has no pets among great or small;
He'll do his best for our relief;
Behold the man, our friend, Lotief!
Political adv. pd.

Editorial

Shall The Cemetery Of Our Honored Dead Remain A Weed Patch?

If there is any spot in a community, town or city that should present a tidy, well kept appearance, that place is certainly the cemetery.

We, Cross Plains citizens, have been a bit negligent and have unthoughtfully allowed the last resting place of our yesterday's relatives and loved ones, to go unattended. Weeds are covering and staining the monuments with ugliness and advertised neglect.

Tuesday morning was clean-up day at the cemetery. About 40 people, loyal to friends that have passed on and devoted to their memories, assembled at the cemetery and worked untiringly to rid the grounds of uncleanness. But their limited number prevented finishing more than one-half of the much needed task.

There are in the cemetery, according to one of our oldest residents, about 1,100 graves, a number almost equal to that of our present population. The people buried there were all once, as we are now. They were in a sense the trail blazers and pioneers into this once devastated and isolated West. Their laid foundations, principles and a sturdy network for the civilization that we now enjoy. Theirs was a work that certainly merits our preserving their last resting place in a clean, commendable manner.

The chief reason that no more attended the clean-up day Tuesday was because it simply slipped minds and was not remembered. Too, there are thousands of people residing elsewhere with relatives buried here that were unable to be present. To this posterity of the dead, this editorial is an appeal for them to mail a small contribution to our Mayor, S. P. Collins, to have the graves of their loved ones cleared and sustained in beauty, rather than advertised neglect. Mail in a love offering you people that are away and unable to look after the task that is justly yours. And people of Cross Plains let's get our shoulder to this movement and clean up our cemetery.

Should a fire break out there, every monument might be totally destroyed, which would represent a loss of several thousands of dollars.

Now a capable man has agreed to assume the duties of caretaker and keep the cemetery clean for the small sum of $20. per month. If enough contributions come in to begin that movement he will be engaged. If not, some organization must take up the work and make a stronger appeal, in behalf of our mute city of the dead.

In the name of justice, reverence and all that is fine and good, we beg to stir your emotions. Our cemetery should be spotless of vegetation, save for a few roses, trees and hedges.

McDermitt's Old Time Picnic

The date for McDermitt's annual picnic and old settlers' reunion has been set for Saturday, August 20.

For years this has been one of the most anticipated events of the Summer. The McDermitt family has each year contributed to the happiness of the people throughout this section by being hosts to such a gala event. It is no little task or small burden to arrange and prepare for such occasions.

This year, we should give them our united and individual cooperation, by donating our share of the food for the big meal that is always served. There are also days and days of hard work to round-up stock, repair pins and make ready for the rodeo. Let's those of us equipped to do so lend assistance in this work.

No one asked the Review to solicit the cooperation of the people throughout this area in making the picnic successful as usual this year, but we feel that the McDermitt family is entitled to our best efforts of assistance. They have and are yet doing a noble thing for humanity. The old settlers reunion is the only one of its kind left in this part of Texas. It alone marks the McDermitt picnic the most anticipated event that annually happens near here.

Now Sunday afternoon Hugh McDermitt wants to meet all friends and neighbors interested in making this year's picnic the best in history, at the stock pins on the ranch. Let's all go out and give ol' Hugh a hand.

there and they sure were getting the letters, said they were receiving about eleven hundred per day.

And say I like to forgot, I went by the House of Representatives this morning and picked out a desk for Cecil Lotief. I know there will be a run for them as soon as the election is over and as he being a little low in statue I figured he should be up "kinda" close to the front where he could get the Chairmans attention easier.

I was here one time and saw a Representative away back in the rear. He wanted to talk and was trying to get the Speakers attention. But he was eating an ice cream cone and it was running down his sleeve so badly that he finally had to give up. Anyway I have Cecil all fixed up.

I may get back up there about the 27th. You know I just rather hear the election returns come in at Cross Plains than any place I ever saw. Those birds around there are just good sports which ever way it goes. I did not say goodbye when I left the other day for I have not called it gone for my part yet. Say hello to the gang for me and I may be seeing you about 27th, cause as Cross Plains goes, so goes the State. And I know they will get the votes counted before any other county, so we can tell 'bout how things are going.

Yours truly,
