

60 MORE GO BACK TO WORK HERE

HOMIE TOWN GOSSIP

No doubt you've heard unusual fish stories but did you ever know of a person landing two at one time on the same hook? Such was Mack Underwood's luck, out at the Phil Pe Co Club, first of this week.

He caught a 14 inch Bass, just as the fish was in the act of swallowing a perch half his size. Mack's hook caught the bass in the gill and the bass refused to release the perch, hence both were landed successfully.

No, this is no 'fish story' there were four witnesses to the unusuality.

Embarrassing moments, regardless of how mortified they may make one feel at the time, are usually funny after it's all over.

Afton Adams tells this department that his most embarrassing moment came some time ago. He was out courting his wife and they decided to to theater one bright Sunday afternoon. Afton approached the ticket window with ample dignity and poise saying, "two please." The lady at the booth glanced at the couple and handed him an adult and a child's ticket. "Boy! you could have knocked me down with a napkin." Afton declares.

A similar incident happened to the scribbler of this sheet the other day. We entered a theater in company of several local dignitaries, were seated and enjoying the picture immensely--WHEN--someone called attention to the fact that we had been sitting there 20 minutes and had forgotten to remove our hat. Selah, it just 'sorta' makes your face turn red, 'chass' all.

'Skeezix' Ramsey tells this department that being a father amounts to more than just buying candy and appearing dignified. Since the arrival his week old daughter, 'Skeezix' has had to look up a Justice of the Peace and report the child's complete genealogy. He says that its a legal requirement and that he was almost fined for not being more prompt.

And that perhaps explains for his cutting up about the Chevrolet place here the other day, when he amused customers and loafers with a headstand in a pile of grease on the floor of the garage. The Cottonwood mechanic attempted to explain that he had been shocked by an electrical current, but frankly, we know that the anxiety of parenthood just got the best of his nerves and he went 'daffy' for a spell.

DeLeon and Albany meet in a Bi-District championship football game at DeLeon today. We are picking the Lions to lick the Bearcats.

Whoops! What a place to work. The rats are terrible around this Review office. A grandfather of perhaps no less than 50 good size rodents just jumped out of a drawer of the desk

TOWN WILL BE DECORATED FOR CHRISTMAS

COLORED LIGHTS AND STORE DISPLAYS GIVE YULETIDE APPEARANCE

Lighting Cost This Year Is Less Than Seventh Of Charge Made Last Christmas

Cross Plains will take on the Christmas aspect within the next few days as colored lights are strung over Main Street and merchants decorate their windows in keeping with the yuletide motif. Streamers of colored lights will be extended over four blocks of Main Street within the next few days. The movement is sponsored by Cross Plains Lions.

Stores are already being decorated in keeping with the Christmas motif. Higginbothams had a truckload of cedar trees hauled in the first of the week and are making Christmas displays throughout all departments.

The lights which are to be strung this year will either be paid for by Lions or a nominal sum from each Cross Plains concern. It was understood yesterday that the West Texas Utility Company was furnishing the service this year at less than one seventh of the charge last Christmas.

Arthur Mitchell, local manager, told the Review Thursday that the light would probably be strung by Monday night if not before.

Parker Baum Is Now With Davis Produce

Parker Baum is now employed by Davis Feed and Produce Company here and is handling the buying and selling of country produce for the firm. Mr. Baum is exceptionally well known throughout the Cross Plains trade territory having lived here all of his life. He has moved his family into town from a farm five miles West of here.

H. O. COOPER IS BETTER; KNEE INJURY IMPROVING

H. O. Cooper, high school student, has returned from the Sealy hospital Santa Anna, where he was for some time with an injured knee. He is reported to be recovering normally. His mother, Mrs. Kate Cooper said yesterday that he was completely out of danger and would be up, she thought, within the next few days.

H. O. was a member of the high school football team but was unable to play in any of the last several games due to his injury.

George Lamar was in Waco last week end attending Grand Lodge of the Masonic order.

J. S. ERWIN SHOWS NEW FAD IN CORN GROWING

Corn is a pretty popular subject, now that the country is heatedly engrossed in the subject of prohibition repeal. But we wish to call your attention to another angle of the corn situation.

It is sometimes used for stock feed also. One of the most unusual ears ever seen in this section was shown the Review Saturday by J. S. Erwin.

Instead of the cob protruding at each end as corn ordinarily grows, grains had grown in each end and the cob was completely hidden. Now if that's not a new wrinkle in corn growing, Mr. Erwin is ready to hear one better

PRESBYTERIANS TO HAVE SUPPER HERE TONIGHT AT CHURCH

Members of the Presbyterian church here will hold a get-together supper in the basement of the church Friday night, according to an announcement from Mrs. C. F. Hemphill yesterday.

"All members of the church are invited to attend. We wish they would also bring something for the Reynolds Presbyterian Orphans Home, near Dallas. Either money, canned goods or clothing will be appreciated", Mrs. Hemphill declared.

The supper is an annual affair among Presbyterians here.

P. T. A. IS ORGANIZED TUESDAY AT PIONEER

Patrons and instructors of Pioneer school met in the high school auditorium there Tuesday afternoon and completed plans for the reorganization of a Parent-Teachers Association. Mrs. W. B. Gunn, president of the organization last year, was reelected.

Several committees were appointed and plans outlined for the parents to work in connection with teachers throughout the remainder of the year toward promoting school activities and scholastic progress.

Mrs. Lee Thompson had as her guest the past week end Mrs. E. F. Agnew of Rising Star and Mrs. Ray Lambreth of Plainview.

Mrs. Ben Welch spent a few days in Kilgore, Texas, with her son, C. H. McDaniel on her way to Kilgore. She spent a few days with her son, W. C. McDaniel and his family in Cisco.

Orian Williams was a Coleman visitor Thanksgiving.

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE READY FOR CHRISTMAS

19 more shopping days until Christmas. Cross Plains merchants have announced that their yuletide merchandise has arrived and that they are now ready to supply Christmas demands. Evidences of this fact are shown by the bid for business that local merchants are making through advertising in this week's issue of the Review.

Be sure to read and examine this week's advertisements. Several of the greatest values offered in years are listed.

LOTIEFS INAUGURATE BIG CHRISTMAS SALE SATURDAY MORNING

Lotief Dry Goods Company will inaugurate Saturday morning its annual Christmas sale. C. A. Lotief, manager, returned from Dallas markets and reports that he has the largest stock in history now on display at the store.

"A new deal to every customer by Christmas", said Mr. Lotief, "is the plan that we will follow throughout this sale." "Never before have we had good, standard merchandise marked so cheap," he concluded.

A double page advertisement appears on pages five and six of this issue of the Review.

The store will be closed all day Friday and until nine o'clock Saturday morning when the sale formally opens, according to the announcement set forth in the advertisement in this paper. Extra clerks have been added to accommodate the increased business that is expected.

BABY GIRL BORN TO MR. AND MRS. C. V. RAMSEY

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Ramsey, Jr., are parents of an eight pound daughter, born Wednesday morning November 23. The child had not been named at 'press time' Thursday.

Both mother and baby were doing nicely yesterday. Mrs. Ramsey was formerly Miss Verna Mae Hill.

LOCAL GIRL CRITICALLY ILL

Miss Lorena Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ford of this place, is in a Santa Anna hospital suffering with blood poisoning. She is said to be in a critical condition.

Carl Lamont Childs, student in Brantley Draughtons Business College at Fort Worth, spent the week end with relatives and friends in Cross Plains

REPAIRING LATERAL ROADS AND BRIDGES LEADING INTO TOWN

Money Is Furnished Precinct By Reconstruction Finance Corporation

Construction and repairing of lateral roads and bridges leading into Cross Plains put 60 men back to work here the past week. The crew was working on the Cross Plains-Oplin road yesterday, widening right-of-ways and clearing underbrush.

County Commissioner Clifton who has charge of the work told the Review that it would probably last several months. The plan that is being used is to distribute employment among jobless as much as possible. New men will replace at least a part of those now working sometime within the near future.

The money being spent, was recently issued this county from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and thence divided among the four commissioners precincts. Callahan asked for $40,000 and although it was first understood that that amount would be granted, it was learned late last week that probably no more than 20,000 would be appropriated.

The money comes from federal highway funds and is to be used for employment only. Materials can not be bought with the appropriation.

Rising Star is building a municipal gas company with their money received from this source. Putnam is constructing sidewalks it was learned Thursday. Cisco is repairing their cemetery and other cities have similar projects on foot.

FURNITURE FEATURED IN JUBILEE SALE HERE

Furniture specials are being featured this week in connection with Higginbotham Brothers and Company's fiftieth anniversary and golden jubilee sale. "We have advertised this week the greatest furniture values that Higginbothams have ever made in Texas", said George R. Neel, manager of the Cross Plains store yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams and daughters, Marie and Loema of Hamlin, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Adams and other relatives here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Adams and son, B. W. of Andrews, visited Mr. Adams' mother, Mrs. E. O. Adams here Thanksgiving.

CHOOSE OFFICIAL TEAM LATER WILL PUBLISH IN REVIEW DECEMBER SIXTEENTH

An official all-conference team will be named in the Review to be issued December 16, when all coaches and scribes, who are to make selections have mailed in their choices.

The official team will be elected by giving one vote to each player named in each first team and one-half vote for mention in second string.

Questionnaires are being mailed all other coaches and scribes in this circuit this week and the selections of those that reply will be published next week. Unless at least six different choices are made, no all conference roster will be compiled. Indications were yesterday however that the desired number would be obtained with several majority.

It's Tie Peddlers This Time

One the heels of a recent sock peddler in town, comes another merchant of the open road. This time it is a tie peddler.

Sooner or later, we must so discourage these house to house, and store to store, sellers so that they will discontinue their coming to Cross Plains to dispense their wares. The way to evict them entirely and permanently is to boycott them completely.

There is no plausible reason why we citizens of this thriving little town should favor an outside concern with our business when there are friends here so well equipped and anxious to supply our needs.

Not long ago a man here, who depends upon the public for his livelihood, told this writer that he never bought his shirts in Cross Plains because he could not get a perfect fit. Consequently he had a solicitor measure him for these needs.

Several months later the man who could not get a fit in his shirts, so he said; needed some other merchandise very badly. In fact it was almost imperative that he have the things to take care of himself and family through the winter. What did he do? He went to one of his friends, a hometown merchant and bought the garments that he needed on credit. His merchant friend favored him in this respect but asked to show him some new shirts that he had recently received. The customer looked and was so completely satisfied, as well as fitted that he purchased two.

The moral to this narrative is simply this. Frequently, almost always, our necessities and desires can be supplied right here in our own home town if we only shop around. And nine times out of ten the price is cheaper and certainly the merchandise is as good if not better, because the local merchants are forced to stand behind their sales.

Let us remember these facts and discontinue buying our shirts, ties, socks, medicines, or what not, from the tramp peddlers. The home town merchants, who are our friends have the things are more than anxious to supply each and everyone of us. Let us give them the business that is justly theirs and a portion of the loyalty will reflect unto us.

A few of the out of town industries profiting through Cross Plains trade, which should be kept at home are; sock peddlers, medicine men, kitchen supply vendors traversing the country, automobile salesmen living out of Cross Plains, and others too numerous to mention.

Let's buy in Cross Plains and watch our town grow and her people prosper.

Hammedfest, Norway, is the farthest north city in the world. Magailanes (formerly Punta southerly city in the world. Both cities have newspapers.

BACK TO NATURE

It seems to us that one of the beneficial results of this long period of depression and industrial unemployment has been to force upon large numbers of people, who had never realized it before, that there is no safety or security for most folks if they get too far away from the soil and the sea.

We were reminded of this by reading that the State of New York has decided to grant fishing licenses free to the unemployed, so that they may at least have the chance of catching part of their food from the rivers and lakes, bays and ponds of the state. We think it would be a good plan to adopt everywhere.

Then we read about the various places all over the country where thousands of unemployed are being encouraged to pan out gold from the soil.

The department of commerce has discovered that Washington has the same altitude, both summer and winter.

THE PHYSICAL JESUS

One day, as Jesus walked in a crowd, a woman pushed forward and touched his garment; and by that single touch was cured. The witnesses acclaimed it a miracle and so it was; but we need some definition of that word. He himself was very reticent about his "miracles." It was perfectly clear that he did not interpret them in the same way that his followers did, nor attach the same importance to them. He was often reluctant to perform them, and frequently insisted that the individual who had been healed should "go and tell no man." And on one celebrated occasion—his visit to his home town, Nazareth—the narrative tells us clearly that the miraculous power was powerless, and for a very interesting and impressive reason.

The people of Nazareth were his boyhood acquaintances and they were skeptical; they had heard with cynical scorn the stories of the wonders he had performed in other towns; they were determined not to be fooled; he might deceive the world, which knew him only as a teacher; but they knew him better—he was Jesus, their old neighbor, the son of the local carpenter. So of that visit the gospel writers set down one of the most tragic sentences in literature. "He could do there no mighty work," they tell us, "because of their unbelief."

Whatever the explanation of Jesus' miraculous power may be, it is clear that something big was required of the recipient as well as the giver. Without a belief in health on the part of the sick man, no health was forthcoming.

Men followed Jesus, and the leaders of men have very often been physically strong. But women worshiped him. This is significant. The names of women constitute a very large proportion of the list of his close friends. They were women from widely varying stations in life, headed by his mother. Perhaps she never fully appreciated his genius; certainly she was not without her periods of serious doubts as we shall discover later on; yet her loyalty to his best interests remained true. There were Mary and Martha, two gentle maiden ladies who lived outside Jerusalem and in whose home with Lazarus, their brother, he enjoyed frequent hospitality; there was Joanna, a rich woman, the wife of one of Herod's stewards—these, and many others of the type which we are accustomed to designate as "good" women, followed him with a devotion.

The important, and too often forgotten, fact in these relationships is this—that women are not drawn by weakness. Since the world began no power has fastened the affection of women upon a man like manliness.

FRIENDS

BY JACK SCOTT

Of all the assets that men attain,
I think Friends, are the greatest gain.
Those that stick through thick and thin
Are worth the wealth of Croesus kin.

They're seldom bought with money's price
But instead; with smiles and devoted sacrifice.
Like marriage its a proposition of give and take,
When our objective is Friends to make.

The kind that hover about when trouble is near,
Are those that you love in after year.
It is they and their confidence in you
That drives you on, when things look blue.

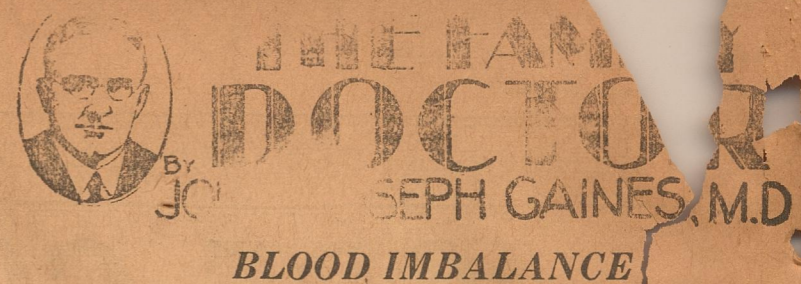

A man that's lived and attached no friends
Is usually one that has striven for selfish ends.
A good rule to follow in your dealings with men
Is simply to remember, you must be a friend.

BLOOD IMBALANCE

Nothing should be appreciated more than perfect circulation of the blood in the body; and, very many times we, physicians, meet with variations from normal, which may be called "imbalance," or engorgements here and there, which may vary from congestions to actual dilatations of the vessels—organic disease.

People with big abdomens are sufferers in varying degree, from blood imbalance. There are many great veins that traverse the abdominal wall and visceral content there situated. Anything that may cause "rush of blood" to these blood-vessels, produces immediate and very evident effect on structures elsewhere. A big meal is an example—overeating; intense determination of blood to the stomach and bowel, depleting the brain for the time being, causing dizziness, cloudy vision, staggering gait, stupor, with heavy feeling throughout the already overfleshed abdomen. The symptoms may amount to a temporary helplessness, a not very enjoyable feeling in elderly persons.

I believe without accurate figures, that one-fourth of the blood volume may flow in a great tidal-wave to a ponderous abdomen, from overexertion, overeating, etc.; and, that this condition reacts heavily upon the heart and brain; of course the veins of such an abdomen become much dilated from the constant sagging, making possible, if I may use the term, "abdominal apoplexy." And here it is that the "tubby" abdomen is a very troublesome luxury.

Methods of correction are slow, discouraging, and are seldom persisted in to get the relief possible. Carefully practiced exercises are productive of results. Of course free daily evacuation of the bowel MUST be maintained. Here it is starches in the diet must be cut down to a minimum. Indeed, the diet must be just what is needed and no more. In chronic cases patients short of breath and who puff with slight muscular exertion, may wear a well-fitted bandage to support the sagging indolent organism.

Bad Taste in Mouth, Sour Stomach

For quick relief from constipation troubles, such as are mentioned below, get a 25-cent package of Theodor's BLACK-DRAUGHT and begin taking it today.

"I have suffered a great deal from biliousness and constipation," writes Mrs. D. C. Jones, of Waterloo, Ala. "When I get bilious I have a bad taste in my mouth, have sour stomach, my color is bad, and I get dizzy and feel awfully bad. I have headache constantly. When I take Black-Draught it relieves me and I feel like a new person. I don't think there is a better medicine than Black-Draught."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

WHO'S THE WISER?

FIRST MOTORIST: "I buy new tires in the Spring."

IF your tires are pretty smooth right now, the slippery roads of fall and winter make the full grip of new Goodyears a sensible precaution. And new treads last about TWICE as long on cool roads as on hot summer roads. So Goodyears put on now still will be practically as good as new for next spring and summer. You'll be protected from skids and free from the expense or worry of tire trouble all winter. Better buy now!

Center Traction Means Safety!
SEE how Goodyear puts TRACTION in the center—big husky blocks of rubber—keen-edged—deep-slotted—to dig in, grip and hold. More stop! The All-Weather Tread is a big reason why millions more people ride on Goodyear Tires. Come in—we'll demonstrate!

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB AT CROSS CUT HAS NEW PRESIDENT

By Mrs. Leslie Byrd

Cross Cut Home Demonstration Club met at the residence of Mrs. John Conlee, Friday, November 25. Mrs. Bill Wright, new president of the organization, presided at the meeting. Final reports of the year were rendered and plans were made to attend the County Club meeting at Brownwood, Saturday, November 26. Mrs. Robert Gaines and daughter, Leora, of Cross Plains, entertained those present with violin and piano music. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bill Wright, Friday December ninth, an interesting program is being prepared.

SOPHIA PAYNE

In memory of our dear sister who departed this life Sunday, November 20, 1932, at four thirty p. m. to make her home in a Heavenly land. She had been sick for more than two years but her condition did not grow serious until three o'clock Sunday morning. She leaves to mourn her departure two brothers and four sisters, beside other relatives and a host of friends. Her brother are Lee and Pomp Payne of Cross Plains. Her sisters are Mrs. George Ryan of Deaton, Texas, Mrs. Jim McGowen of Odessa, Texas; Mrs. Jesse Womack of Waco, Texas; and Mrs. V. M. Curtis of Forth Worth and a little niece, whom she has kept for the past two years Maxine Clark. We will not say she is dead but just gone on before. Another chair is vacant. But another link is added to that circle over there. She wandered into that Heavenly land The touch of her hand is strayed. Think of her still as the same. She is not dead. She is just gone on before. Just think of the pain she has suffered here of these years of sickness, when God only knows how she has suffered. But God's hand beckoned her and said come on Home you have suffered enough. And as on the wings of wind the call came for her to join her loved ones over there. We visualize the Angels around the Pearly White Throne in Glory and amid that happy throng is her smiling face as she is united with our Mothers and Father and loved ones over there. Pain has been eliminated, suffering is over. We must not grieve for her when we know she suffered here and now her suffering is over. Her mother died when she was only six years old. She being the oldest girl of course the responsibility of the home fell on her while she was so young. Then in September 1901 her step-mother died leaving four small children for her to see after. She was a mother to us giving all her young life to taking care of us and our Father. In 1920 Mr. Schaffner came to our home to board, bringing with him Edward Jr., who was then a small boy. Sophia did every thing in her power to be a mother to him, rearing him up to manhood. We have all lived together here till it seems as if Edward our younger brother. Then in 1929 when her little niece, Maxine Clark lost her Father she took Maxine and has been a mother to her. Her life has been filled with sacrifices like these. We shall greatly miss her for she has been more like a mother than sister to us. Since our father's death four years ago she has been the link that held our home together. We can not find words to tell of the many things she has done in this life, and now she has gone on to her reward. We know there will be many stars in her Crown for she lived for others.

The separation seems sad but we know it only for awhile. And we remember in our Father's teaching that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord. May the hand that led her lead us to that Heavenly Home.

What Are Your Turkeys Worth?

More than you are going to get for them.

There has been only one third of the crop moved and the Eastern Market broke 4 cents on dressed Turkeys in four days. Now don't wait until the last days to sell and don't rush the market when you do sell. When you rush the market and crowd the dressing plants the market breaks. See me first and when I don't have the price I'll send you to the one that has. Ask my customers—I'll make you money whether I buy them or not, for I am here to stay and satisfied customers is what I want.

"Yours for a square deal"
