Why A $900,000 Bond Issue And How It Will Be Spent

By RICHARD GOODROW

It costs money to grow and progress, and because the Muleshoe area is constantly growing and progressing in all areas of endeavor, its citizens will be faced with a $900,000 bond issue on April 4th.

Today Muleshoe's schools are operating at peak capacity. Classrooms are jam-packed with the area's youth fighting to obtain one of the nation's most precious heritages — public education, which will prepare them to take their places in a rapidly advancing technological society.

The Muleshoe Independent School District can and is presently giving area children the advantages of public education. However, its physical capacity is limited, and today it has reached the point where there is no room for next year's children, not to mention the children coming after them.

The plain facts are that the Muleshoe area's schools are now inadequate to provide education to the area's children next year. There just isn't room.

It might be possible to further overcrowd already overcrowded class rooms. It might be possible to further overload, already overloaded teachers schedules and get by on the cheap.

However, the voter must examine himself and decide two things.

1. Is the saving worth a second class education for Muleshoe's children?
2. Would such a saving only act as only a temporary stop gap and end up actually costing more in a year or two?

The question really is not: Do the citizens of the school district wish to spend $900,000 and raise school taxes 15 percent? The answer to that is obviously no.

The real question voters will face on April 4th is what type education do the area's citizens want for their children — first or second class.

Without hedging, the school board says present facilities can not provide a first class education for the area next year.

—ADD TO WHY A—

The group who studied the situation in detail for two years.

The studies show a steady and consistent growth pattern of between three and nine percent in the school population each year. During the 1963-64 school year there were 2,072 students attending schools designed to hold just over 2,000 students.

The next increase in students between the 1960-1961 school year and this year was 194, an average of 65 students per year.

A survey made by C. Lyman Ellis Jr., a consultant architect, to evaluate the use and condition of present buildings states:

Mary De Shazo Elementary:

Two old buildings and a functional cafeteria are located on the old site. It is prohibitive with the possible exception of the gymnasium located in the old building on the West end of the campus.

Junior High School:

The maintenance on this building will necessitate a capitol outlay from time to time because of the type of materials used.

Richland Hills Elementary

This unit is located on an adequate campus, has good drainage and accessible streets. Again, maintenance on this building will necessitate a capitol outlay from time to time because of the type of building materials used.

Hilltop Elementary:

This building seems to be adequate for the number of pupils enrolled.

Senior High School:

This seems to be a very functional building and in general is well maintained.

Suggestions made by the report to bring the area's school system to first class are:

The following are offered for the consideration of the board of trustees and the administration:

1. Employ an architect and a financial advisor on a contingent basis.
2. Develop long-range plans to care for building needs the next ten years.
3. Remove the old buildings on the Mary De Shazo campus with the exception of the cafeteria and the gymnasium.
4. Add classrooms and a physical educational facility to the Junior High School and in so doing acquire additional campus area on the East.
5. Remove the present agricultural building.
6. Construct vocational shops including agriculture on the South side of the Senior High School adjacent to the gymnasium.
7. Build a new cafeteria in the general area of the present agriculture building to accommodate a minimum of five hundred.
8. Develop a comprehensive program on the high school level to train those youth not going to college as well as decrease drop outs.
9. A vocational survey to determine the courses best adapted to the needs of the community.
10. Secure a site within the next few years for another elementary school.
11. A 5-3-4 type organization after the building program is completed.
12. Avoid cheap buildings but build economical ones.
13. Provide a climate controlled environment in the new cafeteria.
14. Convert present cafeteria into a homerooms department.

Tentative building plans adopted by the school board of trustees include:

Vocational Shops

1. Present Vo-Ag building built in 1948 as a temporary structure.
2. It is beyond economical repair.

Presently, pupils are being transported by bus to Mary De Shazo Gym for Physical Education. The DeShazo gym does not meet the accreditation standards as set up by the State for health and physical education.

The eight additional junior high school classrooms are expected to cost about 102,000. The new gym will cost $139,500.

New 2nd Classroom Elementary School Unit.

Replace Two Old Buildings at Mary DeShazo Campus

1. Safety is the prime factor in this recommendation.
- a. Electrical fixtures and wiring outdated and sub-standard for present use.
- b. Heating facilities not sufficient.
- c. Plumbing and plumbing fixtures, such as fountains, commodes, gas and water pipes are sub-standard. Conduit pipe used for gas pipe has been dug up, during the past year, around these buildings with tremendous leaks in the pipe.
- d. Sub-standard fire escapes, especially from the second floor areas.
- e. The West building is 38 years old, built in 1926. The East building was built before 1926.
2. Very poor educational environment as compared to neighboring communities and other facilities and campuses in our own school system.
3. Cost — It would cost 2-3 the

4,157 Additional Cotton Acres Reallocated Into Bailey County

Extra Acreage Could Mean $600,000 County Business

As a result of the 1960 law which permits unwanted cotton acres to be reallocated within a state, Bailey County will have an additional 4,157 acres of cotton to plant in 1964. This total represents an increase of about four and one-half percent above the 95,689 acre original allotment for 1964, and brings the total acreage available for planting to 105,352 acres. This figure is considerably more than the 101,195 acres available for planting in 1963.

On a normal year this extra acreage should bring the area some $600,000 in gross income from about $400 bales of added production. (Using $150 average).

A total figure of 140,150 acres gained by the High Plains was compiled from information released by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office at College Station.

The amount compares with only 91,087 such acres in 1963, which is an increase of 34 percent over that year. The law, referred to as Release and Reapportionment, provides for unwanted cotton acres to be released to the ASC committees and then reallocated to those who request increased acreage.

The ASC office first uses released acres to fill requests for additional acres within the county and zone where they were released and the excess acreage is then available for filling applications for increased acreage in other areas of the state. The State ASC Committee slightly rearranged the two zones in Texas for 1964, and this fact accounts for the increase in acres coming to the High Plains area.

Final date for requesting additional acreage through Release and Reapportionment in Zone Two, which covers all of the High Plains, is March 31.

SPEAKER — Dr. John Chappin, agronomist for the rapidly growing Lone Star Producing Company, who spoke to a crowd of area farmers here last week on how to get more production out of local soil. His main point was that farmers here should have their soil tested about every two years and then closely follow the recommendations of the testing lab. The meeting was sponsored by Chief Jones, George Bragg and Hershel Ward.

Canned Deputy Runs For Ex-Boss' Position

The week's most interesting political development took place Thursday when ex-Deputy Sheriff Garland Freeman announced himself as a candidate for the office of Bailey County Sheriff.

Last week Freeman was fired from his position as deputy sheriff. According to Sheriff Dee Clements, the department has no public statement to make regarding the reasons for Freeman's dismissal.

In making his announcement as a candidate for the sheriff's job, Freeman also had no direct comment as to the reasons for his dismissal.

Although it is too late for Freeman to file for the regular May 20 primary election, he can go in as a write in candidate in this coming Fall's election.

Freeman has served in the Bailey County area as a law enforcement officer for more than 12 years, and feels that his knowledge of the area would make him a good sheriff.

Freeman further stated that he had considered filing for the sheriff's post and would have if he had been fired sooner.

Freeman's announcement as a candidate for the sheriff's job, Freeman also had no direct comment as to the reasons for his dismissal.

Wind Whipped Blaze Desolates 1400 Acres

Wind-whipped fire the relentless enemy of the High Plains former-rancher, struck at Bailey County Thursday, and left a path of blackened desolation across about 1,400 acres, eight miles SE of Muleshoe.

According to Fire Chief Earl Ladd, the conflagration began along the Santa Fe Railroad tracks, and was probably caused by a passing train.

The original fire was contained by a small crew with ease, and Ladd was just about to phone in an all clear when he noticed smoke coming over a sandhill about 300 feet from the original fire.

The original fire had jumped the fire line made by the volunteer department and split into three separate ones feeding on waist high dry grass.

The department was unable to contain the blazes and Chief Ladd issued a repeated public call for help and volunteers.

Within minutes the county answered the call in the person of Commissioner Ike Stinson and two road graders whose drivers, with the help of other city equipment, brought to the scene by City Manager Albert Field, turned the tide against the blaze.

The first call was taken at the fire house at 3:15 p.m. The all secure call was received at 6:30.

Chief Ladd later stated, "Without the help of the city, county and other volunteers who answered my call for help, we couldn't have had any chance of controlling the blaze. Not only the department and I, but the entire community are more than thankful."

School Board Selects Books; Ok's Bookkeeper

Aside from the major business of the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees which was the announcement of a $900,000 bond issue, the group approved teacher's contracts for the next school year.

The group held a drawing for places on the ballot of the approaching school board election which is scheduled for April 4th at the Junior High School from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The names will appear in the following order: Horace Edwards, R. L. Scott, Roy Wrinkle.

Ike Stinson Announces For Re-Election

Ike Stinson, commissioner of Bailey County's First Precinct, has formally announced his candidacy for re-election to that office.

In announcing for re-election Stinson stated, "I wish to say to the people of Precinct No. 1, I appreciate your vote and support in 1960. I have entered the race again asking for the second term as your commissioner.

I am asking you to make your decision on my past record — maintenance of roads which you see and know about with expenditures of operating Precinct No. 1 that you do not see. These records are in the courthouse and I invite you to examine them as they will show every penny I have spent and that it was used for maintenance of roads and upkeep of the equipment, etc. in Precinct No. 1 for the past 3 years.

Sesame Growers Schedule Meeting

Muleshoe area farmers, who can boast of the Plains top Sesame grower last year, will get the "latest look" at 1964 Sesame prospects this week.

A special meeting has been arranged by Ray Hodges of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. for Wednesday night, March 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall.

"Muleshoe farmer Richard Engleking produced the top Sesame yield on the Plains last year," reported Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president, Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. "His 12 acres of Margo Sesame made 1236 pounds per acre and returned him $116.85 per acre on a clean weight basis. Other 1000 pound or better yields were produced by area farmers Bob Jones, Orville Burnett, Ted Trieler and Kenneth Sawyer.

"The feed grain diversion program for milo at the 41 to 50 percent level has been 'sweetened' this year," commented Parker "but Sesame payments in the program have also been increased." Farmers who grew Sesame on diverted milo acres last year did real well, and the program is equally good or better this year. For example, Sesame producing 850 pounds per acre on 41 acres out of each 100 diverted acres will make about $2000. More money than milo producing 5500 pounds per acre.

Best yields since the record breaking year 1958, and prices equal to last years top price combined to produce record Sesame income for Plains farmers in 1963.

Two new developments are being watched with great interest by Plains farmers. First, is the continued improvement and use of the one man self feeding combine attachment, which eliminates the combine labor crew. Second, a new combine variety which showed promise in tests at Muleshoe last year may be released for small field trials. The variety was combined direct from the stalk after frost by a regular grain combine. Seed yield and quality appeared satisfactory.

All Muleshoe and surrounding area farmers are invited to attend the Sesame meeting Wednesday night, County Agent J. K. Adams will be in charge, and refreshments will be served.

FIRE — One of three major fires in the sandhill country eight miles SE of Muleshoe which destroyed about 1,400 acres of waist high grass. Here the flame is caught just as it jumped a narrow farm road to start a fourth. It was contained after a three hour battle.

Fashions, Awards Given At Lazbuddie FHA Style Show

A spring fashion review of a senior girl day-dreaming of her forthcoming college debut was the theme of the Lazbuddie Future Homemakers of America style show Friday night, March 6, at the Lazbuddie auditorium.

With setting among trees, flowers and lounge chairs in a fashionable park, the successful show was divided into two parts. About 150 homemaking girl modeled their own garments, either in the class or home experience divisions.

Mrs. Frances Walton, sponsor, introduced FHA girls who have completed outstanding work. They are Pat Chitwood, Young Homemaker of the Year and winner of Betty Crocker; Charlotte Seaton, "Co-ed" magazine correspondent; Marsella Mayfield, Pat Chitwood and Linda Gleason, talent show contestants who will attend area talent show in Amarillo March 21; and Marianna Gammon, Ramona Espinosa and Marcia Aduddell, area chorus representatives to March 21 show.

The three girls receiving top honors in the sewing awards were Marsella Mayfield, first; Katie Blackstone, second; and Linda Gleason, third.

During intermission the girls served refreshments, with Gail Ivy was in charge.

Proceeds from the successful event will go to the FHA fund. Sophomore girls' pre-school garments were modeled by local pre-schoolers. Another highlight of the evening was the Mock garment show, in which 12 girls presented such ensembles as a box coat made out of box springs; a "print" dress bag and shoe made out of newspapers; a candy stripe dress made from peppermint sticks, a "pin" stripe dress with 240 safety pins in row, a cocktail gown with popcorn, pretzel and olives decorations, and other unique and original styles.

I am sure many of you know me better and also know the position I have taken on many issues. I have made mistakes, yes, but I know for the 2nd term, but I know from the 3 year experience as commissioner and member of the commissioners' court it is possible for me to make fewer mistakes in the future.

I am for better county government. I think the bigger part of that rests with the commissioners' court of Bailey County.

William Carrol Bucy and the daughter of a pioneer Roswell doctor and first mayor of Carlsbad, N. M., John W. Kinsinger, died March 11 at the University of Arkansas Medical Center, Little Rock.

She was born May 20, 1888, in Palaski, Iowa, and moved to New Mexico in her infancy. She attended Mt. Carmel Academy, Wichita, Kansas and graduated from St. Mary's Episcopal College, Dallas.

Mrs. Bucy had been a member of the Episcopal Church for 67 years and was a member of the Muleshoe Episcopal Church at the time of her death.

She married Bucy in November 1914, and moved to Bailey County in 1917 where he engaged in farming and was county tax assessor. At the time of his death in 1924, Mrs. Bucy finished his unexpired term and was elected county tax assessor for three terms. She was also associated with the late A. P. Stone, early Bailey County abstractor.

In recent years she has made her home with her daughters, Mrs. Charles L. Lenau, Muleshoe; Mrs. Storm Whaley, Little Rock; and Mrs. Alvin Lenaburg, Enid, Okla.

Other survivors include one sister, Mrs. L. E. Balknap, Long Beach, Calif., and eight grandchildren: Lynn, Pam and Paul Lenau; Carroll Jean, Ann Marie Holly Kay, Brenda and Melinda Lenaburg.

Funeral services were held at the Hillcrest Country Club two and a half years ago.

Memorial donations may be made to the Muleshoe Library Memorial fund, Box 568, or the Muleshoe Episcopal Church, Box 467 according to the family's request.

2. No farm could receive re-allocated acres unless at least 75 percent of that farm's effective 1963 allotment was planted or unless failure to plant the allotment could be explained by weather conditions, illness or other good cause beyond the farmer's control.

The board also approved the selection of new text books as recommended by the local textbook committee. The books were chosen from a list approved by the state board of education.

PV Box Supper Held March 6

By SHERYL STEVENS
The Directors of the Pleasant Valley Community and the Farm Bureau held an old-fashioned pie and box supper at the Community Center Friday night March 6. Pies and decorated boxes were auctioned by Doug Lewis and L. D. Henderson. "Earth" After the boxes were auctioned the contents were spread out and the meal was enjoyed by all.

Western music was furnished by "The Outlaws" consisting of: Ben Higginbotham, Gene Wingham, Dan Atkins, R. B. Chappell, Leon Dove, Eugene Buhrman, and E. K. Angeley. Some $142.88 was made to help pay the expenses of the community. Special guests besides the band were Mr. and Mrs. Luhter Cunningham, Farm Bureau representative from Littlefield.

Balloting for the New Directors of the Chamber was concluded March 6th. Those elected to a three year term of office were: Edward Isaac, Owner of Bovina Dry Goods, T. M. Caldwell, farmer, D. R. Bushnell, manager of Western cotton Warehouse, A. M. Wilson, Owner Wilson Super Market, and Don Sides, Partner-Manager Bovina Gin Co. Officers for the Chamber will be elected Thursday March 12th at the regular Chamber luncheon, and the announcement of those elected will be made at the Banquet.

Speaker for the Fourth Annual Banquet will be Clint Formby, Owner-Manager of Radio Station KPAN in Hereford, Texas. Formby a widely recognized leader in the radio field, as well as civic organizations is one of the most sought-after, past dinner speakers, and comes to us highly recommended. We feel most fortunate to have him as our speaker. Entertainment will be of Eastern New Mexico University, and have also performed at a National Convention in Kansas City.

As in the past this event most probably shall be the Social Event of the year in Bovina, and in keeping with our ideas to make it so, we will again present corsages to the ladies at the door, and will again have a wonderful meal and beautiful decorations for the Banquet.

Ticket sales are going well and we expect a large crowd in attendance on the night of March 19th. Tickets will be available at the door for out of town visitors. Attendance for the Banquet in 1963 was 235, in 1962 235, in 1961 216.
