HOME TOWN GOSSIP

The pilot of this column made a little swarray down to Austin this week and attended Governor Miriam Amanda Ferguson's inaugural ball and is now ready to give readers of this department a country boy's conception of the state's foremost social function.

People were there from the forks of the creek, dressed in everything from evening clothes to overalls. The crowd was so large that two separate ball rooms, in down town hotels, and Texas University gymnasium were used to accommodate the dancers and spectators. Liberal guessers estimated the number of guests at 10,000.

Governor Ferguson and her husband 'Farmer Jim', headed the receiving line and shook hands with friends for more than two hours. After the ordeal the 57 year old woman governor looked completely exhausted. Jim on the other hand, waded through the mammoth crowd slapping acquaintances on the back as if he were campaigning at a country picnic.

While we were scouting about for information, Elliott Bryant, who was kind enough to chauffeur us to the capitol city, took it upon himself to become acquainted with the Austin debutantes. And take it from us; he certainly did. When we finally located him, the Austin gals had him completely imprisoned, literally pulling each others hair to command his attention.

Elliott displayed his generosity by dispatching one of the less attractive maidens unto us for escortation.

After struggling over three spacious ballrooms we are now ready to state that the only difference noted in the Cross Plains girls and those of the capitol city is that the latter's feet are larger and much easier to step upon, while in the act of tripping the light fantastic.

We had a cameraman ready and were about to snap a picture of Cecil A. Lotief in his rented tuxedo, but by the time the photographer got ready the crowd had surged in and our state representative was misplaced in the mixup. We were unable to locate him again throughout the evening.

However 'Judge' Lotief was displaying his Sunday etiquette and looked right snappy in the boiled shirt and satin front evening suit.

It should not go without mentioning that Mrs. Cecil A. Lotief was one of the most charming belles of the evening. She was ushered about by distinguished celebrities like Cinderella at the 'Princess ball.'

The crowd was so dense that we were unable to locate Norman Caton and Orian Williams, who also attended the festivities, but it was quite evident that they were on hand for no less than three of the Austin debutantes reported as having met the gentlemen from Cross Plains—referring to Messrs. Caton and Williams.

One of the most interesting sights of the evening was that of noted senators and politicians of statewide prominence, promenading about with beautiful, young, feminine job seekers.

Now don't think for a minute these unemployed Texas girls weren't playing up to the 'big shots' in an educated manner.

Before dismissing the subject of Austin and the inauguration a bit more should be said about the crowd that assembled there to pay formal respects to the newly elected Governor. The place was like Bethlehem on that Christmas night 1933 years ago.

HISTORY MADE AS 'MA' TAKES OATH TUESDAY

IS AMERICA'S ONLY WOMAN TO GOVERN A STATE TWO TIMES

Edgar E. Witt Sworn Into Lt. Governor's Office For Second Term

By Jack Scott

Political history was written and age old customs were broken when Miriam Amanda Ferguson, 57 year old mother of two daughters and wife of a former governor, was inaugurated as chief executive of Texas for a second term, Tuesday noon.

She is the first woman in the United States to be elected a Governor and the only member of her sex to be twice inaugurated for that office. She is the only woman to twice hold the same office to which her husband was twice elected.

SERVANTS REFUSE TO PREPARE TRADITIONAL MEAL FOR FERGUSONS

When Ross Shaw Sterling vacated the Governor's Mansion Tuesday morning servants walked out with him; abandoning a time old custom of preparing an inaugural dinner for the incoming governor and party.

After the inaugural ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, and party according to tradition, went to the Governor's mansion, just off the capitol campus, for dinner. They found the 'cupboard bare.'

Former Governor James E. Ferguson met the issue however. He promptly invited friends out to his home in another part of town, where luncheon was served 'camp meeting' style.

Chief Justice C. M. Cureton of the Supreme Court carried forth an old custom by administering the oath of office to the governor and Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt for a second term. In the services a bible owned by the supreme court of the Republic of Texas was used.

The inaugural ceremony was held in the capitol building before a joint session of the senate and house. Less than one-half of the crowd was able to get inside.

Field pieces roared out a 17 gun salute, bands played military airs and airplanes swooned over the capitol dome, as the oath to the new governor was completed.

DOLL FURNITURE READY FOR SECOND GRADE GIRL

A hand made set of doll furniture to be awarded the second grade girl making the highest average in school work for the 6 weeks period just closing is on display at the Cross Plains Hardware Company here. The furniture was made by O. T. Laws, City Water Superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Burkett and Mrs. Curtis Burkett attended the funeral of Mrs. J. C. Dibrell in Coleman Tuesday afternoon.

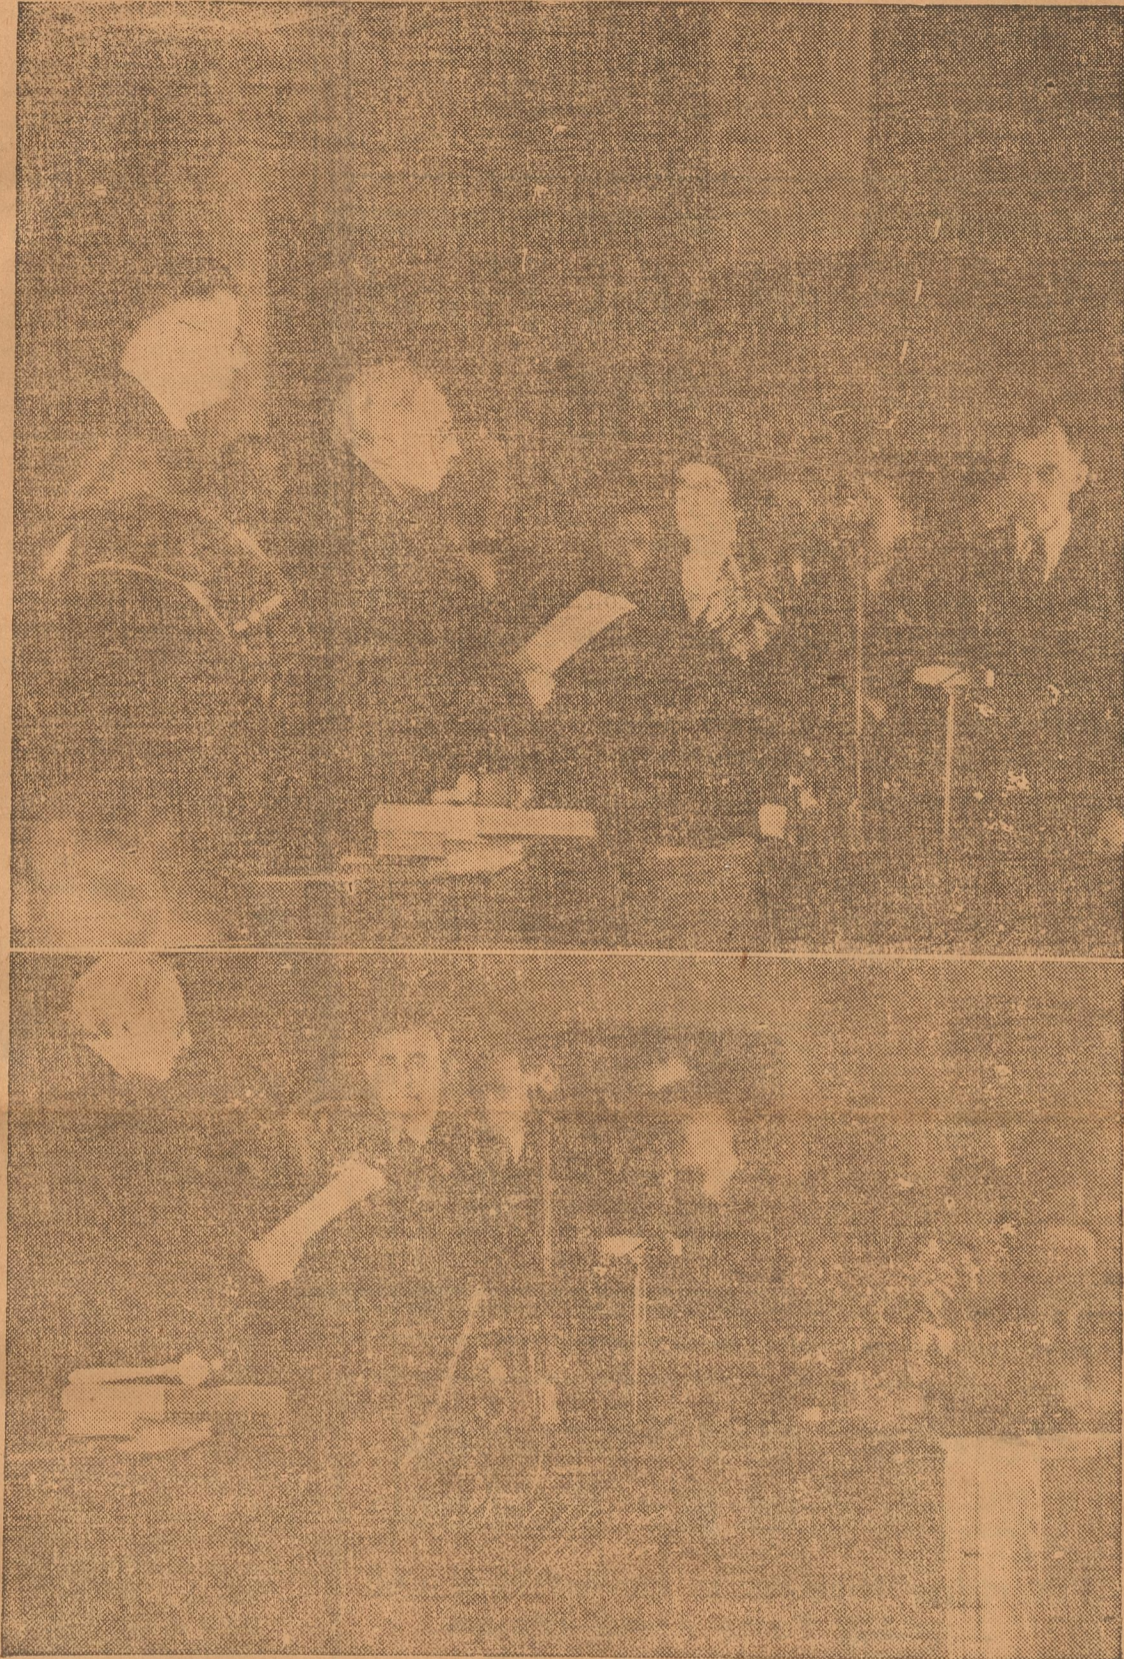

Mrs. Lee Thompson had as her guests last week her brother Howard Scutty and Charles K. Wheeler, of Dallas.

Mrs. P. P. Bond, of Santa Anna, visited Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Butler and Mrs. R. P. Odum here.

Mrs. Cecil A. Lotief visited her husband in Austin Tuesday and attended the inaugural ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Renfro were the guests of his mother, Mrs. Bert Brown here the past week end.

Inaugural As Snapped For Review

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as she appeared Tuesday noon in the House of Representatives for the inaugural ceremony is shown above. Chief Justice C. M. Cureton of the Supreme Court is giving the oath of office. Judge Cureton is a brother-in-law of C. G. Morris, Cross Plains railroad man.

Lower picture shows Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt being sworn in. The photos were snapped especially for the Review by an Austin cameraman.

Bird Shaped Potato Grown By J. W. Cox

Sweet potato crops have been harvested and stored, yet unusualities from 1932's yield continue to reach the spotlight of public attention.

Perhaps one of the oddest potato specimens ever seen here was displayed in town Monday by J. W. Cox. The potato is in the shape of a bird. An end of the root, from which it grew, curves perfectly into the shape of a bill, while the body of the potato is angled to give an almost life like resemblance of a bird—possibly a hawk.

The potato has small scars on either side of the part that resembles a bird's head. The blemishes are in perfect location to resemble eyes.

Persons who saw the oddity in town Monday declared it to be one of the most interesting potato 'freaks' ever seen in Cross Plains. Mr. Cox grew it on his place in South part of town and failed to notice its unusualness when the potato was first dug from the ground. He discovered it early this week in the bin, where he has potatoes stored.

Mrs. George Koenig visited her daughter, Mrs. Glen Edington in Coleman Sunday.

C. C. NEEB ASSUMES DUTIES AS CASHIER OF CITIZENS STATE

Stockholders of the Citizens State Bank in their annual meeting here Saturday afternoon named a new board of directors to serve throughout the year of 1933. The directors went into session immediately after the stockholders meeting and elected C. C. Neeb, Cashier of the institution. He assumed his duties Monday morning.

The new board of directors includes: J. A. Barr, president; B. B. Bond, vice-president; S. C. Barr, vice-president; Noah Johnson, C. C. Neeb, J. P. Newton and Porter J. Davis. E. I. Vestal was president of the bank last year.

C. C. Neeb, the newly elected Cashier, was head of the First Guaranty State Bank here in 1921. That institution was later named First State Bank. The First State was reorganized into the Citizens State in November 1931.

Mr. Neeb succeeds J. R. Patterson as Cashier. Mr. Patterson will return to Flewanna, where he was the head of a bank before coming to Cross Plains in January.

BEING HELD IN JAIL AT ABILENE PENDING PRELIMINARY 'QUIZ'

Ben Chaney Admits Robbing Homes At Baird, Clyde And Putnam

Ben Chaney, ex-convict and self admitted burglar, is in the Taylor County jail at Abilene facing charges of burglary and kidnaping. He has confessed to having robbed houses in Putnam, Baird, Clyde and Merkel. He is also charged with having attempted to kidnap the 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shanks, of Clyde, early Sunday morning.

A man believed to be Chaney entered the Shanks residence about three Sunday morning. After robbing the place of several dollars in currency and household articles he entered the bedroom where Mrs. Shanks and her twin daughters were asleep. He went to the children's bed and picked up Pauline. She was awakened and started to cry. The man said, "Don't cry honey, I'm going to take you to your father." Mr. Shanks was asleep in another room.

Screams Awake Parents When they reached the living room the girl screamed. Mr. and Mrs. Shanks were awakened. The man dropped the girl on a lounge in the living room and fled from the house. Outside he paused long enough to put on his shoes.

Mr. Shanks summoned Will Ray, Deputy Sheriff at Clyde, and the two together with several friends pursued the burglar. He was chased into a brush thicket, where he escaped. His automobile was located nearby and captured.

Later in the day—Sunday—Officer Ray, working on a 'tip' given by a woman at Clyde, who stated that she had seen the car at a certain house in Abilene, went there where he secured a search warrant and went to Chaney's house. There he recovered articles stolen from Clyde, Putnam and Baird homes. Officers waited at the house until Chaney came in. He was arrested and lodged in the Abilene jail, where he is awaiting preliminary hearings.

At Baird, Chaney is alleged to have entered the residence of Mayor H. Schwartz and stolen a valuable watch and numerous other household articles. At Putnam a man believed to be Chaney looted the homes of F. P. Shackelford, Jim Cribb and W. H. Norred. Clothing, money, a gun and silverware were taken from the Putnam places.

Homes robbed at Clyde, beside the Shanks residence, included that of Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. P. Baugh. $40. in cash was taken at the Fleming home while a watch and a small amount of money was looted at Baugh's.

Hearing At Baird In a telephone conversation with Sheriff Robert L. Edwards Thursday afternoon the Review learned that practically all of the stolen articles had been returned to their owners. Mr. Schwartz's watch had not been found Thursday but Sheriff Edwards told the Review that he expected to locate it within the very near future.

A preliminary hearing has been set for Chaney at Baird Friday afternoon. Sheriff Edwards told the Review that there was a possibility of the hearing being delayed until Saturday, however.

Chaney formerly lived in this county. That was about 20 years ago, however.

MISS VIRGINIA ANDERSON MARRIES CALIFORNIA MAN

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Virginia Anderson, formerly of this place. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in California, the groom being a native of that state. No more of the details were available at 'press time' Thursday.

Cross Cut

By Elva Stockton

Ten teams assembled for a basketball tournament at Cross Cut last Saturday, January 14, the prize at stake being a large silver cup. The following teams were there; Cross Plains; Brooksmith; Holder; Woodland Heights; Cross Cut; Pioneer; Valera; Cottonwood; May; and Putnam. A golden basket ball was to be awarded the best individual player of the day.

Cross Plains and Brooksmith started the tournament with a swift, fast-moving game. Cross Plains won the game by several points, and was put on the list to play in the finals. Holder and Woodland Heights played the next game. It was interesting and well played; each side showed a marked comprehension of the game. However, Woodland Heights defeated its opponent.

After these two games the whole audience walked by a long line of tables and were handed enormous plates with sandwiches, pie a few pickles, and a number other such delicacies. Then they marched by the big pot of coffee and drank their fill. If you were not satisfied with the first trip by the table you could fall in line and pass by again. No one left the grounds hungry.

Cross Cut and Pioneer opened the afternoon session with a hot, hard-played game that was swaying now for one and then for the other. Cross Cut final win by a small score. Valera and Cottonwood then met on the court and received the honor of playing the honor of playing the most interesting game that was played during the whole day. Valera won the game, and was ascertained of a place in the finals. May and Putnam then took the court. May won by a total of one score.

The finals began before dark with a fast game between Cross Cut and Woodland Heights. Cross Cut won the game by a large score. May and Valera then took the floor, and Valera won by a large margin. Cross Cut defeated Cross Plains, and then began the final game—the game that was to decide the championship. Cross Cut and Valera took their places and the ball was tossed up.

Valera was awarded the silver cup, by beating Cross Cut. The golden basket ball was to be given to the best player, decided by the experienced coaches that were present. A Cottonwood boy and S. P. Arledge tied for the medal, and one was awarded each.

The Cross Cut boys and girls basketball teams played the Blanket teams at Brownwood, Wednesday, January 11. The Blanket girls were defeated by a score of 21-17. The Cross Cut boys were defeated by a score of 30-25.

The Cross Cut girls basketball team received an invitation to a tournament to be held at Valera, Saturday, January 21.

Bryant Moore entertained the young folks with a dance Saturday night.

Mr. Linden Newton, and Edmond Gaines, students in Howard Payne College were home for the week end.

Mr. Eddie Graham and Miss Leta Pyrd were in Cross Plains Saturday night.

More Feed and Food For 1933

Just at this season it is a good time to check up on your farm and find out whether or not in 1932 you provided ample feed for live stock—cellar shelves filled with canned fruit and vegetables; smoke houses filled with meat.

If you are enjoying an abundance of these things you are fittingly rewarded for your labor and foresight in providing so amply for your winter needs.

For safety and profit, for comfort and happiness, we earnestly urge our farm customers to raise even bigger and better crops of food and feed in 1933.

Century Old Theories Exploded By Science

Startling Discoveries Reveal New and Amazing Facts About Disease

Human Body Composed of Only 16 Elements. Deficiency of Any of These Destroys Health.

Strange as it may seem, these wonderful bodies of ours consist of a very limited list of fundamental chemical elements. Contrary to age-old theories, it is now known that only eleven minerals and five gases are needed by Nature in building the strongest man or the most beautiful woman.

OUR BODIES ARE ROBBED

All of these essential Minerals and gases are present in natural foods but improper cooking and an unbalanced diet rob us of these vital elements. The system becomes charged with acid. Indigestion and Constipation follow. We become nervous and irritable; subject to headaches, fail to get the proper rest at night, become weak and listless and good health deserts us.

NATURE DEMANDS HELP

When any of the essential Minerals are deficient, Nature demands help. Harsh laxatives, "patent" medicines and "pain killers" won't do. You must feed into the body those missing elements that Nature demands. LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND, the new scientific formula, contains a balanced supply of Minerals, in combination with vitamins and it is surprising how quickly the system responds to this Natural health building formula.

Realizing Our Own Possibilities

The only thing that keeps most of us from realizing our own possibilities and of getting the highest satisfaction out of life is fear. There are very few human beings in the world who are not afraid of something, and as long as one is afraid of anything he cannot achieve happiness.

Primitive man must have lived in a state of almost constant terror. He was afraid of wild beasts, afraid of enemies of other tribes, afraid of the thunder and lightning, afraid of evil spirits that lurked in the darkness of the forest—of real dangers and of unreal dangers which he imagined. Very few people in these days have the perfectly natural physical fears that the lives of our ancestors. But who of us has not some mental fear, fear of something that has not happened but which we think may happen to ourselves or our loved ones?

In the past two or three years the people of the United States have been the prey of a new kind of fear. They have been afraid that in the popular phrase, the bottom had dropped out of everything. They have feared that never again would they have a job, that the factories that have shut down would never start up, that they would never be able to sell the products of their farms—those and a thousand other fears which have no relation to common sense or reality seemed to take possession of perhaps the majority of Americans.

And that is one of the reasons we have been so slow in coming back from the economic crisis. We have been afraid to use our intelligence and common sense and go ahead when everybody else was afraid to do anything but accept conditions as they are and paint them, mentally, much worse than they are.

We see signs that this widespread fear is beginning to disappear. We do not believe it ever had any real foundation, and we believe people are waking up to that fact. If we are right, and hope and courage are beginning to replace fear, then we have made a good start toward the return of good times.

Good Roads Pay

From the San Angelo Standard

The state of Texas is beginning to reap a new reward from better highways in the form of lower cost of maintenance, according to figures for the two year period ending September 1, 1932, issued by the state highway department.

Unimproved highways are most expensive to keep up, and the mileage of totally unimproved roads in the system was decreased 30 percent during the two years, during which 1,768 miles concreted and 2,036 miles asphalt surfaced.

The result of the gains in these more efficient types of highways is that the cost of maintaining the system fell off $1,660,872 during the two years, or 12 1-2 percent.

This, of course, is merely one of the minor benefits of good highways. The 100,000 Texas people who depend on the road program for their daily bread, the more than $50,000,000 yearly out-of-state tourist now spend in the state, are major ones. This maintenance saving in these two years amounts to more money than the annual income from the sulphur, inheritance or poll tax.

Good highways have cheap upkeep. The people pay the gasoline tax for good highways. Half of this tax already goes to other purposes. If the people want Texas to keep on building and maintaining better highways, they must make sure, through their legislators, that no more gas tax money is taken away from road work for any other purpose. There is barely enough money left to do the job.

More twins are born in the northern cooler countries than in hotter lands, recent statistics showing that the percentage born in Sweden is much greater than in Italy or Brazil.

Treasury experts are able to count 40,000 new notes a day and 25,000 old ones.

Lima, Peru has 77,281 apartments in its 10,436 habitable buildings.

The annual value of the motion picture industry in the United States is $1,250,000,00.

One-half the workers of the world are engaged in agriculture.

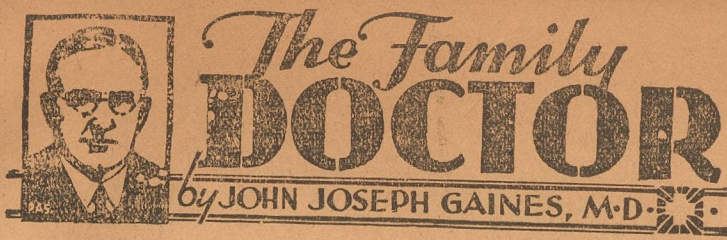

Unearned Money

Most of the few people who have made money gambling have as speedily lost it again.

And, unfortunately, many of the people who did not gamble at all have been ruined by the resulting injury to business generally. Some day some great man will wake the world to the folly of trying to get something for nothing.

The world needs him more than it needs all the gold that may still lie undiscovered in regions beyond the present limits of exploration.

But until he comes, it will do no harm to waken such few people as will listen to the peril of trying to get unearned and undeserved money.

JUST BETWEEN US—

Now and then my patrons consult me on matters of public affairs, that concern the moral health, as well as the physical; for the family doctor cannot escape being a sort of a neighborhood mentor, being well-read and perfectly honest in his opinions.

I have kept studiously away from the realm of professional politics; I wouldn't want to drag a skunk through the family circles where I have been always welcome—But the doctor is, or ought to be, a competent advisor on this thing called 'prohibition.' It challenges intelligent judgment everywhere, from every lover of the American family and the sanctity of the home.

I worked hard to put this prohibition thing in operation; I have watched its workings from inside and outside. Let me tell you; friends: It has been turned into a colossal political graft for political gain. It has not 'reformed' or 'converted' a single saloon-keeper—it never will. It has cost the almost bankrupt tax-payers down to the very bread they eat—they are losing their homes—for taxes! It has not 'reformed' anybody! But there are lots of jobs for political pot-hunters.

Whenever fathers and mothers stop teaching temperance and morals to their children, and leave it to prohibition-agents—then, they are no more fit to be parents. Listen: Many a young girl has told me in tears, "doctor, I was DRUNK when it happened!" Calls of that kind are increasing—I heard a politician last night over the radio harping on what prohibition has done for the country. He has heaped a million dollars out of the game—of course he's for it! He doesn't know the truth, but his game pays him.

Even our Savior did not say "Thou Shalt Not." He taught morals not jails. Parents, teach your children. It will pay.

Sports

More than a mile of adhesive tape was required to repair the Washburn College football team of Topeka, Kansas, last season.

Football practice for the 1933 campaign has started at The Citadel, a college in Charleston, S. C. Nothing like getting an early start.

The American game of basketball has become so popular in Europe that there is a movement under way to have it included in the program of the Olympic Games.

There is a tennis player in Australia—Vivian McGrath—who uses both hands on his racquet in making a back-hand stroke. And it is said he does it amazingly well. He took a set from Ellsworth Vines, American champion, recently.

Ice hockey was created by taking the game of field hockey and making it playable on ice.

Court Tennis is probably the most difficult of all games.

Water polo is probably the roughest of games.

Duck-pin bowling originated 20 years ago.

Sports historians argue that bowling dates back to the stone age.

Last year Homer Prouty shot an arrow with a bow a distance of 466 yards.

In July, 1914, A. A. Cass, fishing in the Skykomish River Wash., caught a 42-inch rainbow trout weighing twenty-six and a half pounds.

The first record of an organized boxing contest in England was in January, 1681.

On July 27, 1391, Charles Zimmy, legless swimmer, established an endurance swimming record when he completed 100 hours in Honolulu pool.

Fifteen men and women have swam the English Channel.

Which is the fastest of games. After watching two crack professional ice hockey teams at Madison Square Garden, New York, we were sure there is no faster game than that. But then we watch two killed squash racquets players and we were not so sure.

ON LIKING PEOPLE

JESUS loved to be in the crowd. Apparently he attended all the feasts at Jerusalem not merely as religious festivities also but because all the folks were there and he had an all-embracing fondness for folks. We err if we think of him as a social outsider. To be sure it was the 'poor' who 'heard him gladly,' and most of his close disciples were men and women of the lower classes. But there was a time when he was quite the favorite in Jerusalem. The story of his lays is dotted with these phrases—"A certain ruler desired him that he should eat with him."—"They desired him greatly to remain and he abode two days."—Even after he had denounced the Pharisees as "hypocrites" and "children of the devil," even when the clouds of disapproval were gathering for the final storm, they still could not resist the charm of his presence, nor the stimulation of his talk.

No other public character ever had a more interesting list of friends. It ran from the top of the social ladder to the bottom. Nicodemus, the member of the supreme court, had too big a stake in the social order to dare to be a disciple, but he was friendly all the way through, and notably at the end. Some unknown rich man, the owner of an estate on the Mount of Olives, threw it open to Jesus gladly as a place of retirement and rest. When he needed a room for the last supper with his friends he had only to send a messenger ahead and ask for it. The request was enough. And in the last sad hours, when the hatred of his enemies had completed its work and his body hung lifeless from the cross, it was a rich man named Joseph—a rich man who would have sunk into oblivion like the other rich men of all the ages except for this one great act of friendship—who begged the authorities for his body, and having prepared it for burial laid it in a private tomb.

Such were his associates among the socially elect. What sort of people made up the rest of his circle? All sorts. Pharisees, fishermen; merchants and tax collectors; cultivated women and outcast women; soldiers, lawyers, beggars, lepers, publicans and sinners. What a spectacle they must have presented trailing after him through the streets. But Jesus loved it all—the pressure of the crowd, the clash of wits, the eating and the after-dinner talk. When he was criticized because he enjoyed it so much and because his disciples did not fast and go about with gloomy looks, he gave an answer that throws a wonderful light upon his own conception of his mission.

"Do the friends of the bride groom fast while the bridegroom is still with them?" he demanded. "Not a bit of it; they enjoy every moment of his stay. I am the bridegroom; these are my hours of celebration. Let my friends be happy with me for the little while that we are together. There will be plenty of time for solemn thoughts after I am gone."

O'Flaherty—Now, you've been fighting again. You've lost your two front teeth.

Son—No, I ain't Pop; I got 'em in me pocket.

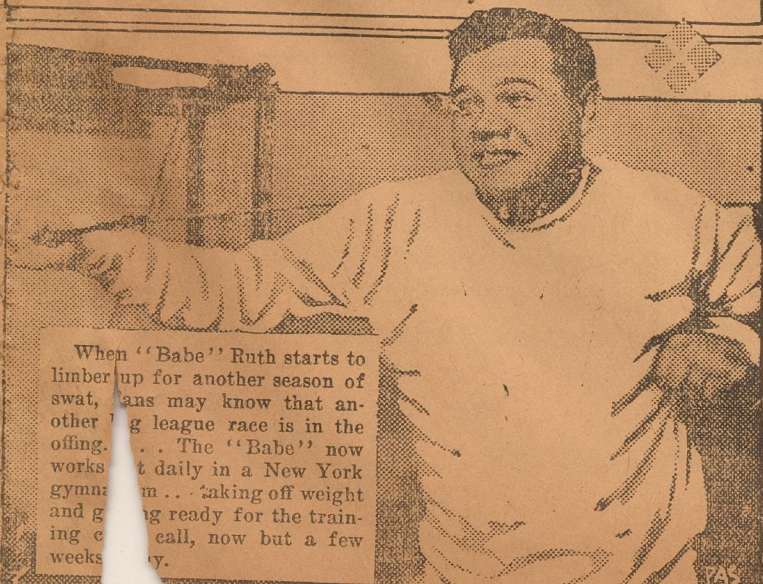

Broccoli—Why did Sophonisba marry that man. He's deaf and dumb and has St. Vitus dance.

Spinachi—Her ideal was a man of few words and plenty of action.

Scollop—Well, I had to give Susie the air—she turned out to be one of those Iowa girls. Wollop—Whatya mean, "Iowa girls?" Scollop—You know—"Iowa dress-makers's bill." "Iowa month's rent," etc.

Hokey—Well, well, and to think that I have been reading many fine articles under that name and never knew who wrote them! Congratulations!

There are still more than 4,000,000 Americans over ten years old who cannot read and write. The National Advisory Committee in Illiteracy reports. That is 600,000 fewer than ten years ago. Georgia has more illiterates than any other state, some 300,000, while Wyoming has the fewest only, about 3,000.

Considering that at the beginning of our national life hardly more than one person in ten knew how to read and write, that only within my own memory practically no Negro or Indian could read or write, and that school attendance was not compulsory anywhere in America when I was a boy, it seems to me we have gone a long way in raising the standard of education to the point where ninety-seven people out of every hundred are able to read.

The important question, however is: "What do they read?" Having taught them to read, it seems to me we might devote the next hundred years to improving their tastes in reading.

THIS WOMAN LOST 35 LBS. OF FAT

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and further more I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

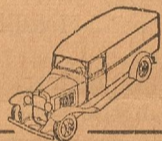

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Emith Drug Store or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

LONG ISLAND SOUND

Sailing up Long Island Sound the other day one passed through simply hundreds of small boats of all kinds, from millionaires craft including famous racing yachts with masts ninety feet high, to little row-boats with a "kicker", otherwise a small gasoline motor.

Everybody on the water appeared to be enjoying themselves hugely. The waves were too small to endanger the little craft and whenever one headed for shore, a beautiful sight greeted one. One could see Theodore Roosevelt's country mansion at Oyster Bay at one time, while on the opposite mainland were the small villages where millionaires, artists and others who commute into the big city have formed happy colonies.

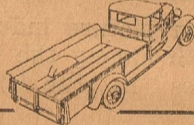

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cook attended a funeral in Putnam Friday.
