HOME TOWN GOSSIP

Just how contagious is this influenza, one seldom realizes. The skipper of this column contracted the malady last week while in the act of writing an article for publication concerning those sick from the disease. So far as we know, we were exposed to the 'flu' in no other way.

'Shortie' Neeb and Tommie Webb have made up after two days of estrangement in which both vowed to never speak to the other again.

Tommie confides to this department that the only nice thing about falling out with your girl is the making up.

With the death of Calvin Coolidge, we are reminded of a narrative told in newspaper circles concerning the former President.

Coolidge was interrupted one morning by an ambitious young reporter who apologetically remarked, "I hate to bother you Mr. President but—" At that juncture the President broke in: "Then why do you."

Idle thoughts: Mrs. Willis Brown was one of the nicest smiles we ever saw. F. R. Anderson has a larger trade territory than the whole state of Rhode Island. If a girl's first kiss is an episode her last is probably an epitaph. Its nice to have the Bill Lowes back in Cross Plains. 'Doc' McCowan has advertised in 236 consecutive issues of the Review.

Lella Mae Bennett is of the opinion that doctors should do something to exterminate influenza. No, she hasn't been troubled with an attack of the malady; but her boy friend has.

And who could blame her, when the boy friend is a big Vocational-Agriculture teacher from a nearby community? After all these scientific farmers are something unusual. Every day can't be so fortunate.

Here's one that may be just a bit hard to believe, but its true nevertheless. More than 35 gallons of coffee are sold by local restaurants and cafes each day in Cross Plains.

Words comes from Austin that Cecil A. Lotief is trying to get somebody to do the praying for the House of Representatives without charge to the state. The idea sounds pretty good.

If Representative Lotief fails, we suggest that he assume the duties himself. We've been hearing him say "Lord, Bless the Jews" and "Amen" for a number of years and we believe he could substitute the phrase 'House of Representatives for Jews' without much difficulty.

However the chances are nine to one that he would have to have a prompter, for he's said 'Jews' so many times already that it would be bound to slip just once—even in the state capitol. However Abra Dodson would probably prompt his little pal in case such an emergency should arise.

Pratt tells this column that interesting part about moving to Brownwood, was hearing Elliott Bryant say 'goodbye'. "He does the same fluence as the other of his—William Cullen Bryant in 'Thanatopsis'."

Cross Plains merchants are hereby notified to this charge merchandise to this unfortunate pencil pusher. Several readers have been making us a of a practical joke by buy-selves a birthday present, y see their names in our strip and charging the reme to us.

This week the stark realization dawned upon us that our here-jects were one by one e subjects were one by one g themselves from range of off stand his typewriter by entering into the matrimonial.

But he decided to scribble we have decided to breast with new conditions at instances by levelling our guns against the forthcoming youngsters, finishing the ranks of their rs.

GYMNASIUM MAY BE BUILT AT HIGH SCHOOL

R. F. C. LABOR FUND AND OLD LUMBER TO BE USED IN EDIFICE

Entire Cost To School District Would Not Exceed $200. Says Committee Making Plans

Cross Plains high school may have a gymnasium on the campus within the near future. Possibilities of the idea gained proportions Thursday morning, when a committee of local citizens working on the idea learned that a building of such nature could be constructed with an outlay of no more than $200. expense to the school district.

The plan that may be followed is to seize a building within the school district for delinquent taxes and use the material from it as well as from an abandoned school building. Labor on the project would be paid for either by R. F. C. funds or by allowing workmen credit on school taxes for their services.

E. D. Priest is chairman of the committee working on the idea. He was unable to give out anything definite Thursday morning, except to say that prospects for the building looked very bright if the committee continued to meet with the cooperation that has been shown thus far.

VETERAN RURAL MAIL CARRIER IS LAID TO FINAL REST TUESDAY

J. A. Brownlee, 73, pioneer Callahan County mail carrier died in an Abilene hospital early Tuesday morning. Inerment was made at Cottonwood, where he had lived for years, Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from the Baptist Church with Rev. Ross Respress, Cottonwood, and Rev. R. H. Williams, Abilene, officiating.

Mr. Brownlee had been in ill health for sometime, however his condition did not grow serious until a short time before he died. Mr. Brownlee was a mail carrier in this county in the early days. He retired several years ago.

Surviving are his wife and six children. They are: Mrs. Miles Hardy, Bradshaw; Mrs. R. E. Kuykendall, Abilene; Fred Brownlee, Stephenville; Vernon Brownlee, Dallas; Bessie Brownlee and Mrs. R. Hall. All of the children were present except Mrs. Hall and Vernon.

Lotief Offers Measure To Save $600. Year On Chaplin's Fees

Cecil A. Lotief, Cross Plains, Representative from this district, who took his seat in the state legislature Tuesday is beginning his administration by taking a sharp axe to government expenditures.

Lotief's first official act will be to attempt to save the state $600. a year for a Chaplin.

It has been the custom for years to appoint some minister to serve as Chaplin, whose duties are to offer prayer at the beginning and opening of sessions of the legislature. Lotief after arriving in Austin, examined the list of Representatives and learned that one of the newly elected members from East Texas is a minister. He conferred with the Minister Representative and asked that he serve as Chaplin in connection with his regular duties, without cost. The preacher has agreed and a bill will be presented before the House sometime this week by Lotief to abandon the old custom and save the state $600. annually.

POST OFFICE MOVES INTO NEW QUARTERS HERE SATURDAY NITE

When Cross Plains citizens go for their mail Sunday morning they will find the present post office door locked and barred. The postoffice will move into new quarters Saturday night, according to an announcement from Ike Kendrick, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Kendrick has asked that all patrons of the local office wishing to get their mail Saturday afternoon, call at the postoffice immediately after the train comes in. "We will open the train mail and dispatch that to people who are present to take it; but we will be forced to close the bags again in about 15 minutes and lock them for moving", said the postmaster in a statement to the Review.

The fixtures have been in repair for the past week and when are moved into the new location, will present a different appearance. Much of the equipment used by the postal clerks will be improved as well when the Polishuk building is occupied. W. B. Williams has the contract for moving the fixtures. He will begin shortly after the train arrives Saturday night.

Takes House Seat

Shown above is State Representative Cecil A. Lotief, who favors taking a sharp ax to state expenses. He will introduce a bill to cut $600. a year from the budget by allowing a House Member to act as Chaplin, in the place of a specially appointed minister.

CATON'S VARIETY TO CLOSE OUT WITH BIG SALE OPENING FRIDAY

Caton's Variety Store will swing its doors open Friday morning with the first big sale the firm has offered during its three years of business in Cross Plains. "We intend to close out the store and everything within the building, including furniture and fixtures", said J. A. Caton, manager, yesterday.

"Original cost will be forgotten and every item from the front door to the back will be marked far below all prices ever offered on such merchandise in this section", declared Norman Caton, who is promoting the sale.

The sale will start promptly at nine o'clock Friday morning and last until the stock depleted, the Review was told in an interview Thursday morning.

Mr. Caton was hesitant about stating what his plans would be when the store had been closed out but emphasized that he was sincere in his intention of disposing of the entire stock and closing the store.

Present Townsite Of Cross Plains Had Birth 22 Years Ago Yesterday

It was 22 years ago yesterday. An auctioneer's voice rang out along the sandy hillside of a frontier community. There on the afternoon of January 12, 1911, the present townsite of Cross Plains had its birth.

People had come from miles around for a gala celebration, commemorating the entrance of the Texas Central Railroad into this section. The feature of the day's program was the auctioneering of lots and residential property. More than $20,000. worth of real estate changed hands here that afternoon and a prosperous inland, frontier town had its beginning.

There was before that time however, a Cross Plains on the banks of Turkey Creek—located on or about the present site of the city park. With the advent of the railroad into the

A TONIC Laxative

CONSTIPATION, with the annoying symptoms that usually come with it, cuts down organic force and disturbs normal health and well-being. A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract is of great assistance in the removal of sickening constipation symptoms.

When excessive accumulated waste matter disturbs and strains the muscles of the large intestines, rendering them temporarily unable to perform their wave-like evacuating movements, Theford's Black-Draught is useful in stimulating them to activity, which, again started, should continue regularly until some future disturbance interferes. In this way, Theford's Black-Draught is one of the TONIC laxatives, tending, as it does, to establish a regular habit of evacuation.

The Cross Plains Review

FRIDAY OF EACH WEEK

JACK SCOTT — EDITOR

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, will gladly be corrected if brought to the attention of the editor personally at the office, Eighth Street, Cross Plains, Texas.

One year elsewhere — $2.00
Payable in advance.

The Review is an independent Democratic newspaper, supporting what it believes to be right and opposing what it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

Wake Up You Sleeping Beauties!

Again the 'TRADE AT HOME' battle cry must be sounded. For outside enterprises—like leeches on our back are sapping the life blood out of local industry.

For years the columns of this newspaper have championed the cause of home town merchants and endeavored to protect their rights, for it is certain that our town depends upon them in as true a sense as they do upon the town.

In the columns of the Review this week will be found the announcement of one merchant closing out his store here. This concern, as well as any legitimate other, is a valuable asset to Cross Plains. We should strive earnestly and wholeheartedly to maintain every business.

This is not a difficult matter if citizens will but rise as a single person and join themselves in a brotherly fidelity to 'TRADE AT HOME'.

If you are interested in our schools, churches, cemetery, or community at all; the home town merchant is the nucleus about which such institutions as these are created. None can survive unless first the nucleus is preserved.

If you own property in Cross Plains, you should not forget that its value will dwindle to mere nothingness, if the town, people and business are not kept here.

This 'Trade At Home' campaign is no longer a fight to be made single and unassisted by your local newspaper. For the enemy has grown to such proportions that we are being forced to ask for reinforcements.

At this, the beginning of a new year, let us awake that sense of loyalty and better judgment within our inner selves and carry every effort forward for the betterment of our town.

Buy nothing out of Cross Plains that can be purchased here, advertise Cross Plains, merchants stay awake; and at the end of 1933 we will all be agreeably surprised with the results.

Janet Penner, the gifted young gorilla at the Bronx Zoo, has been a resident of New York four years and the other day a group of her admirers gave her a party in the House of Representatives. She is the biggest attraction in the zoo.

Mistake Woman, 74, For Girl, 19

A London magazine gives the following interesting account, which has been reprinted in the Dallas News, of how a woman, 74, was mistaken for a girl 19. Because of its unusuality and because of the authenticity of the London publication the article is published herein. The editor believes it one of the most unusual accounts of its kind in modern time.

The London Lancet, which is about as authoritative to British medical practitioners as is the Good Book to the clergy of the British State Church, printed some years ago an article which is difficult to believe. Difficult at least for those not fully acquainted with the Lancet's scrupulous fidelity to the undiluted truth, if one may say any truth is undilutable or any editor or feal to quintessential veracity. Recent reprint of the London weekly's amazing article has found wide circulation in many publications such as delight in the curious or bizarre reflexes of the unbelievable. In brief, the Lancet told of a beautiful English girl who lost her lover and by force of that pathetic tragedy lost her reason. Time for her stopped at the moment of parting with her hero, and throughout the ensuing years she lost count of days, weeks, decades. She remained in her own perception still a young girl, lovely and in love. She would daily stand at the window looking out upon the street, and with an air of happy expectation await her recreant or deceased lover. Clocks and calendars had no meaning for her, and new years, Christmas-tides, came and went without leaving any impress upon her mind. The result was that the bereft maiden retained her youthful beauty, her girlish complexion, her shining eyes and rounded cheeks. Having no conception of time, she simply remained where the lover left her. American tourists were said to have been taken to see her and to have guessed her age at nineteen when she in reality was seventy-four.

Why Editors Get Gray, Told In This Poem And Narrative

It is beyond our ability to explain, but in the last four months, three of the Review's correspondents in nearby communities have forsaken their duties for those of about a household and taken unto themselves husbands. Miss Stella Rowden, led off the parade less than a month ago; then last week Miss Nona Prater, respondent for and now Stockton, was crowned at Cross Plains as a wife. Then to the chagrin of Mrs. F. E. Wood to Baird,

Assemblies And Health

A neglected church, one that is occupied by worshippers only two or three times a week and remains closed the rest of the time, may become distinctly unsanitary, if its sexton is not alert for the welfare of his congregation.

I am not warning my readers to stay away from church, no, not that. An amusement resort may be ten times as malignant, where all sorts of respirator diseases are present in all stages. But, the theater operator is, as a rule pretty careful to keep his place in a sanitary condition. In constant operation the place is generally swept clean, and the air changed over again. I am sorry to say that rural houses of worship are seldom cared for as they should be.

The church where I attend regularly may be cited here, since I am fond of "honest confessions." Our sexton—a young man—makes his living from more remunerative work; the church gets him as cheap as possible—hardly more than five dollars a week. Our indoor nooks are always dusty, and the plunder in choirrooms is laden with dust. The mop isn't known here; the moist cloth, if ever used, I have not been able to discover. Our sexton is the lowest paid official in the church service.

It ought to be otherwise. He should be qualified to do expert sanitary work, and should be paid for the work required of him. We pay an elder about $80 a trip, to come around every three months and check us up morally and financially—about $320 for the four annual visits. Our spare-time sexton would drop dead if he were to get one for a harder hour's work!

Sometimes a cheap janitor or sexton costs more in health than the high-priced spiritual supervisor. Think it over.

HUMOR

"He passed a milliner's window that the gangster was disguised as a woman?" "How did the detectives discover without looking in."

Billswiggle—I suppose in these times you live in apprehensive trepidation, don't you? Dinklesproof—No; I live in the suburbs.

Boise—Did you see that pedestrain who was struck by the dare the drive to try it again? Noyes—No; did the autoist take up the challenge?

Boise—No. He said it nearly broke his heart to pass up the chance, but that he had to meet a train.

Sports

Amos Alonzo Stagg would rather be actively engaged in coaching the lowliest high school football team in the land than accept the retirement of the age limit at the University of Chicago forced on him or to take the $8,000 Chicago was willing to pay him for doing nothing he told his fellow coaches the other night in New York at the annual dinner of the Football Coaches Association.

TO BE CHEERFUL AND HAPPY

JESUS was the center and soul of a glorious existence; a bringer of news wonderful that those who received it should be marked by their radiance as by a badge. Of course he disregarded the narrow code of the Pharisees.

"You shall walk only so far on the Sabbath," said the Code. He walked as far as he liked.

"These things you may eat and these you shall not," said the Code.

"You're not defiled by what goes into your mouth," he answered, "but by what comes out."

"All prayers must be submitted according to the forms provided," said the Code. "None others are acceptable."

It was blasphemy to him. His God was no Bureau, no Rule Maker, no Accountant. "God is a spirit," he cried. "Between the great Spirit and the spirits of men—which are a tiny part of His—no one has the right to intervene with formulae and rules."

He told a story which must have outraged the self-righteous members of his audience. He said that a certain man had two sons. The elder, a perfectly proper and perfectly uninteresting young man, worked hard, saved his money, and conducted himself generally as a respectable member of society.

The younger son was a reckless ne'er-do-well, who took his portion of the estate and went into a far country where he led a wild life and presently was penniless and repentant. In that mood he proceeding to work his way back to his father's house. The father saw the boy coming a long way down the road, ran to him, threw his arms around his dusty shoulders, kissed his forehead.

"Bring a fatted calf," he cried. "Make a feast; call the neighbors to celebrate. For this my son which was gone has come back."

There were high doings in that house that day, and every one enjoyed them except the older son. He was sullen and self-pitying. "Here I work and save and have not a good time. When he comes home, they give him a party. It's wrong."

The father did not defend the young son, but he rebuked the elder. That was what hurt the smugly complacent members of the audience to whom Jesus told the story. The implication was too plain. "There are two ways in which a man may waste his life," the story said in effort. "One is to run away from your responsibilities, causing sorrow to your parent and hurt to your associates, killing your finer nature. That is wrong, and a man must repent."

"But the other thing is equally wrong. They who neither laugh nor sing are out of tune with the Infinite. Those who find no pleasure and give none offer Him a constant affront. . . . Woe to you, Scribes and Pharises. You are painfully careful to give exactly one-tenth of your incomes to leave the world a little to the Temple, but you neglect more cheerful."

This was his message—a happy God, wanting His sons and daughters to be happy.

Leary—Is that fellow McFall all good right to take on a fishing trip? Wyse—Is he? Sav, besides doing the cooking he'll think up lies for the whole bunch.

STICKS STAHALA

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

To provide an outlet for surplus farm products and canned goods the Home Demonstration Council of Taylor county recently opened a farm home makers' market which is to operate every Wednesday and Saturday morning.

More than a million pounds of dried vegetables and one-third of a million containers of canned food on 1100 farm home pantry shelves in Palo Pinto county represents from $40 to $250 worth of food per family, reports the home demonstration agent. Many families will be able to get by on $3 per month for food this year, she adds.

Cherokee county farm women are starting to make American cheese for home use following demonstrations in their home demonstration clubs in which 600 pounds were made in December.

In a drive for an orchard on every Williamson county farm, fruit trees are being ordered by the thousand to secure lowest possible prices, the county agent reports. It is part of a living-at-home plan sponsored by extension workers, vocational teachers, and the county agricultural club.

An average of 33.8 bushels of corn per acre was made by 60 Denton county 4-H club boys last year. The county average is between 20 and 25 bushels per acre.

A small farm cold storage plant large enough to handle from 10 to 15 hogs per day has been built by E. C. Stone, manager of the Devers Livestock Farm near Liberty. The move resulted from a meat cutting and curing demonstration staged by the county agent, and is designed to help in marketing country cured pork products. The farm recently fed out 202 head of farm raised hogs on a ration composed largely of rice by-products.

Way of Life

by BRUCE BARTON

A TEST OF GENIUS

The shortest verse in the New Testament is "Jesus wept." That tragic note in his story the Gospel record has carefully preserved. How we wish it might also have told us what occurred on the night after the chronic old grumbler was healed at the river. Did Jesus stop suddenly in the middle of the supper, and set down his cup, while a broad smile spread across his wonderful face? If he did the disciples were probably puzzled—they were so often puzzled—but surely we have the reverent right to guess what was in his mind, as he pictured the home-coming of that evening surely Jesus must have laughed.

Some one has said that genius is the ability to become a boy again at will. Lincoln had that type of genius. Around his table in Washington sat the members of his Cabinet silenced by their overwhelming sense of responsibility. It was one of the most momentous meetings in our history. To their amazement instead of addressing himself directly to the business in hand, Lincoln picked up a volume and began to read aloud a delightful chapter of nonsense from Artemus Ward.

Frequent chuckles interrupted the reading, but they came only from the President. The Secretaries were too shocked for expression! Humor at such an hour—it was sacrilegious! Heedless of their protesting looks, Lincoln closed the chapter, closed the book and scanned the pages with a sigh.

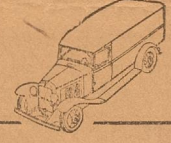

"Don't you laugh?" he exclaimed. "With us upon me night and day, if I did not laugh, and you need this medicine as much as I do."

Lincoln turned to his tall hat which was on the table, and what Secretary Stanton described as "the Emancipation Proclamation" was the Emancipation Proclamation.

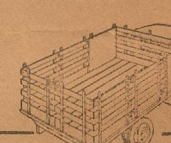

Lincoln strained his impulse to walk out of the room, but his cabinet really understood Lincoln. They were not so prodigally wasteful of time.

Jesus were similarly shocked. The important business allow him to attempt to heal a self-pitying man of the surest marks of greatness and the appearance of having a divine mission. "Extreme busyness is the mark of a great man," says Stevenson. The disciples, most of all. He was the cause expenses ran high for tomorrow's income. Jesus smiled with a smile.

Lincoln exclaimed, "they are in all his glory."

At the park, the group was told to search for a tree laden with the first treasure of the evening. When it was located, about three dozen bags of roasted peanuts were found tied to limbs of the tree.

From there the guests were directed to another side of the park where an improvised 'fish pond' had been prepared. There they fished out trinket favors and novelties.

The last treasure of the evening was the honoree only. She was given the end of a string and told to follow.

Beauty and Health Depend on Minerals

Science Discovers that Health, Beauty and Life Itself Depend on Proper Mineral Balance of the Body

Beautiful Skin Sparkling Eyes Health and Beauty All Depend on Mineral Balance

Lack of Sufficient Minerals and Vitamins Destroys Health and Brings on Untold Pain and Suffering.

No man, woman or child can look their best, feel well and strong and enjoy life, as God intended, unless the Mineral content of the body is kept in proper balance. This fact has been proven conclusively.

FOODS DEVITALIZED Modern methods of refining foods rob them of much of the Mineral content so necessary to health. Poor cooking and unbalanced diets are another source of trouble. The body is starved for the essential Minerals and Vitamins. Soon we suffer with indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness, pimply skin. We lose weight, feel tired and listless, fail to get enough sleep. Health deserts us and we wonder why.

NATURAL WAY TO HEALTH After years of research, a new and remarkable formula has been perfected that supplies the body with the essential Minerals. This preparation is not a "patent" medicine but a scientific blending of Minerals and Vitamins that aids Nature in quickly balancing the mineral content of the body, clearing away intestinal poisons and building new strength and vitality.

ARE YOU REDUCING? If so, you need Minerals to keep you strong and well.

WINTER PLOTS A WICKED CRIME

THE VICTIMS: Those Motors Using Ordinary Oil that Drains Away from Heated Working Surfaces.

Hidden quart in time

THE QUART THAT STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

The Germ Process (exclusive Conoco patent) imparts to this motor oil that peculiar ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. On the first filling about one quart will "hide" itself up in your motor's precious working parts. This hidden quart never drains away. It becomes a part of the motor itself, worth its weight in gold.

The One Oil that Gives You Perfect Protection for Winter's Worst Days Ahead

Drip! trickle! drip! through long night hours, ordinary oil drains away. When the pump quits, ordinary oil quits, leaving the motor's parts high and dry. You touch the starter. The motor roars. The pump strains at the sluggish oil. It is only a few minutes till circulation is completed. But, in the meantime, working surfaces only partly lubricated are in contact, while the motor makes three to five thousand revolutions. This causes 50% of all motor wear.

Prevent this loss. Choose not merely a quick oil, but an oil that never leaves. Choose the oil with the "hidden quart" that penetrates and combines with the metal surfaces of the motor itself. In the emergency of an empty crankcase, users have driven many miles, without damage, on this "hidden quart" alone. This proves that your motor need never suffer while waiting upon the pump. Don't remain in doubt. Drain and refill with the "hidden quart" oil today.

An Impromptu Speech

An excellent impromptu speech was made by Charles Frank Hemphill. He was given the title "The Red Tie". Considering the time that was given to organize the talk, it was very good. The speech is as follows: "Red ties were made for goats. Some goats wear them and others eat them. When we analyze the words that make up a red tie, we find that red means fire, and fire means energy. Now energy in turn means Post Toasties. To examine the other side we find that a tie represents a young man. By combining the two, we get an energetic young man. That is why I always wear a red tie."

The girl's basket ball team is progressing fine although Burkett did defeat them slightly. We will do better next time.

A Reminiscence Of Past Exams

Examinations are used in a school system to ascertain the exact knowledge of the students in that school. But if you don't know anything, it's a test anyway. A test is something that asks questions, yet it is not a girl. The difference is that a girl tells everything, while a blackboard is as blank as a post. A test does not have legs, but if you don't study you may feel the result in your poor legs. A test is like a quiz only it is different, because a quiz is a nice name for a test.

However, I can see how either is so very nice. An examination is like a teacher. You can't see through either of them. When you drive by the insane asylum, thing of the school boys taking exams, but take it from me, if you are the teacher's friend, you, the teacher, and Papa will work together in harmonious unison.

Thousands of Women Have Taken Cardui on Their Mothers' Advice

It is an impressive fact that many women have said they learned of the value of Cardui from their mothers. What stronger evidence of her confidence in a medicine could a mother have than that she advises her daughter to take it? Cardui is given the credit for relieving so many cases of womanly suffering that it is widely and favorably known. Druggists, everywhere, sell it. If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardui. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say: "Cardui helped me."

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS BALANCE DIET AND MIX CHICKEN FEED

The class borrowed four tubs and a pair of scales, and with this equipment they properly mixed 500 pounds of laying mash in the agricultural class room.

The feeds used were 100 pounds of meat scraps, 100 pounds of yellow corn meal, 100 pounds of ground oats and 200 pounds of wheat.

One hundred pounds of meat scraps cost $1.70, one hundred pounds of corn cost $1.25, one hundred pounds of oats cost 60c, two hundred pounds of wheat cost $1.35, and grinding the four hundred pounds of feed cost 60c making a total cost of $5.50 for the feeds used.

THE VALUE OF THE USE OF THE DICTIONARY

The dictionary is our best friend in teaching us to speak correct English and in giving us an understanding of this language. People may laugh at the old lady, who said that she read the dictionary from A to Z, but there is no better way in which to express our thoughts than through consulting the dictionary each day. When we read and find a new word or when we hear a new word spoken, we should go to the dictionary to find its meaning. The dictionary should be placed where it is easily accessible to every member of the family. By doing this there will be no need of a "cramped vocabulary." Let us all get the dictionary habit.

The legend that almost any strange person or sight will draw an immediate crowd in New York was blasted the other day about sunset at the public library. A turbaned Oriental came down from upstairs walked to one end of the lobby, spread out his prayer rug and started in his evening prayer in the Moslem fashion, salaaming. A dozen or more people passed by him as they went in and out. None stared, none stopped, and about half took off their hats as they passed the praying man.

In New York 50,000 persons call up on the telephone to find out what time it is—every day. They pay a nickel each to find out.

To An Ex-Classmate

For some unknown reason, Opal Young, one of the beloved members of the Seniors class, has suddenly withdrawn from the school and senior class, and it is our desire to testify our grateful appreciation of having her for a classmate for almost four years.

It is very fitting that we, the members of the senior class, do offer her our tribute of love. During an unbroken association for more than four years we have found her ever alert to the interests of our class and keenly alive to all that might affect its highest welfare. She always fulfilled her duties in such a manner as to command alike our gratitude and our pride.

She has withdrawn from our school, but the seniors shall always remember her as one of the most popular members of the senior class of 1933.

5,247 yards of terrace lines were run last week on the Garrett and Calhoun farm, two miles southeast of town, by members of the Vocational Agriculture classes of the Cross Plains high school under the direction of V. A. Underwood, instructor.

WHAT IS THE LAW

What is required for practicing medicine in Texas?

In addition to having license to practice, he must register with the district clerk in the county where he is to practice, and make affidavit to a long record.

What does it cost to file a suit in court?

To file a civil suit, one must either put up a cost bond, signed by himself and two sureties. One of whom has subject to execution; or else he has to put up a money deposit to cover the court costs, which is usually $5 in justice court and $10.00 in county and district court.

If one is unable to make bond can he have a suit filed?

Yes; by making what is called a 'Pauper's Oath.'

Which party pays the cost in a civil suit?

Usually the unsuccessful party.

When may one get a suspended sentence?

If he does not get over five years and has not been convicted of a felony before. Some crimes do not permit suspension.

Can the bodies of executed persons be used in dissection?

Not without previous consent of the executed.

Can anyone practice nursing who is not a graduate nurse?

If it is free; or may charge if no profession of graduate nurse.

How much pay does an executioner receive?

He is allowed $25.00 for each execution.

Who takes care of the body of the executed?

Who may witness an execution?

Besides the executioner and officials, two physicians, spiritual adviser county judge and sheriff, and any of friends and relatives requested, not exceeding five in number. No convict shall witness it.

Tobacco shop dealer told me the other day he was expecting a supply of 'permanent' matches—ones that could be struck and would light 500 times.
