OUR SERVICE

The handling of funds is the basic function of a bank, but that in itself does not measure up to the service factors that a bank of today should assume. This bank realizes the full depth of its obligation, and accordingly has surrounded itself with officers and department heads who are competent to extend sound, conservative advice on such of your business problems as you may desire to entrust.

EVANGELIST HOGG AT RISING STAR

Following three weeks of the greatest religious meetings ever held in Cross Plains, the Will Hogg Evangelist party are now conducting a three weeks campaign at Rising Star. The meetings started there last Sunday, Oct. 21. The Baptist Tabernacle at Rising Star is being used for the meetings. It is planned to make the Rising Star meetings a climax for Cross Plains Cisco and other revivals in this part of the country.

Evangelist Hogg is a leader in expounding the great truths of the Bible, and a hardened atheist could not hear him without having his conscience shaken. It is estimated that an average gathering of one thousand people crowded the big tabernacle and heard him each night of the services in Cross Plains. People of the surrounding towns and country are specially invited to hear him at Rising Star. Evangelist Hogg and Rev. Williams have just celebrated their fourth anniversary, it being just four years ago since they entered the evangelistic field. Mr. Hogg was pastor of Trinity Methodist church, and Mr. Williams was pastor of the First Baptist church at El Paso before entering the evangelistic work. Mr. Rogers has been with the party for several months as singer and director of music. Personally interesting preaching during the meetings at Rising Star.

DRESSY NEWS AND OIL FIELD REPORT (BY COKER)

The total output of four producing wells in the Dressy field for 24 hours, Oct. 23, was 165 barrels.

Kavanaugh No. 1 and No. 3 are doing 50 barrels each daily; Klutts No. 3, 40 barrels; Eubank No. 1, 25 barrels. Klutts No. 5, drilled by Grass Root Oil Co., east of Klutts No. 3, is producing 100,000 feet of wet gas at depth of 435 feet. Casing is set and the well mudded in, ready to drill in Wednesday of this week. This is the best showing of gas found in the vicinity so far.

Eubank No. 2 drilling at 365 feet. Will also drill in Wednesday. Kavanaugh No. 4 drilling 435 feet, will be completed with the above two wells Wednesday.

Eubank, Beddingfield No. 1, located in northeast corner Eubank farm, missed the shallow pay and is drilling at 525 feet. Will go to 800 feet if pay is picked up at less than that depth. There are no oil sands in this field between 700 and 800 feet.

The Martin Jones test, one-half mile northeast of Dressy, is well under way, and is being watched with interest. The finding of oil in this well will develop a new field, or a great extension of the Dressy pool.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Baum were called to the bedside of Mr. Lawrence Dalton, at Littlefield, Texas, Oct. 10th. They departed at a late hour by automobile, arriving there at 8:00 the 11th. Mr. Dalton smiled his welcome and his last good-by, departing this life ten minutes later. Mr. Dalton's family lived at Moran and had many friends and acquaintances in this part of the country who will be grieved to read this. For their comfort I will say, he went home rejoicing in the love of God, and left his family well provided for.

Don't forget the big box supper at the First Methodist Church, Dressy, Friday night, Oct. 26th, for the purpose of paying an instalment note on our new parsonage. The people of Cross Plains, Cottonwood, Burnt Branch and Burkett are specially invited.

Miss Lora Redding visited the week end with relatives in North Worth.

At this week's regular meeting of the Cross Plains Lions Club, held at the Presbyterian church Tuesday noon, the chief topic of the meeting, except comments on the excellent lunch prepared by the ladies, was a further discussion of the proposed good road leading from Cross Plains to a point on the Bankhead Highway and T. & P. Railroad at Putnam, and a general county highway system of large proportions. Many visitors were here from Braid, Putnam and Clyde in the interest of the road projects.

Baird submitted a proposition for discussion that if realized would give at least two more first class roads across the county. Briefly this proposition suggests that the county vote a million dollar road bond, liquidate all the present road bond indebtedness of each road district and use the remaining portion of the fund in building the cross-county highways. If we are correctly informed the road bond indebtedness of the Baird district, voted and appropriated to the Bankhead Highway, is $300,000 and that of the Cross Plains district, for use on roads within the district is $100,000, with $50,000 of that sum unused and subject to road building. In the face of this fact Baird's proposition did not find immediate favor from the representatives of the Cross Plains district, and we doubt if Cross Plains and Putnam will ever diverge from their contention and determination to build a good road from here to the latter point, connecting at that place with the Bankhead Highway to Baird. Isolated as is the Cross Plains country from the county seat the immediate building of this short road is so vital and urgent we believe, at the present time, that it will overshadow any other road building program that can be offered. The economic saving, as compared with our interest in the major program, and immediately serving our desired purpose will build the short road to Putnam while the contemplation of the county-wide program is in the making.

WARNING FOR SANE HALLOWEEN NIGHT

The last of this month is Halloween night and a big celebration is contemplated with the usual interest by the young folks of Cross Plains. In view of the mischievous pranks, in many cases resulting in damage to property, that has followed former Halloween outdoor celebrations, Mayor Martin Neeb issues a warning that may save trouble for some of the boys of Cross Plains. Many citizens reported to the authorities that they had to remain up nearly all of last Halloween night in order to protect their property from damage. Mayor Neeb will put on extra watchmen for the forthcoming night, and has instructed that the streets and alleys be cleared of all outdoor celebrations not later than 10:30 P. M., and that all boys and girls taking part in outdoor celebrations retire to their homes before that time. Any damage to property or disturbance of the peace committed by boys who are old enough to be amenable to the laws will be personally punished, and those too young to come under that bane, their parents will be held responsible for any damage or disturbance they may be a party to. Parents should warn their boys of this fact. All should celebrate the occasion and have a good time, but Mayor Neeb says it must be done in a sane manner.

BIG REVIVAL ADDS 200 TO CHURCHES

As a result of the three weeks revival meetings conducted by the Will Hogg Evangelistic Party in Cross Plains, and closing last Sunday night, approximately 200 new members, by baptism and letter, were added to the four local churches and the churches of the nearby towns of Dressy, Cross Cut, Burkett and Pioneer.

The membership of the Baptist church in Cross Plains was increased by the addition of eighty new members; the local Methodist gained seventy-five; forty were accepted into the Presbyterian church, and a number joined the Church of Christ. Sixty-three were baptised at the Baptist church Monday night, about an equal number at the Methodist church and forty at the Presbyterian church. The baptism of this number of people in one program we doubt was ever before witnessed by a resident of this community. It was a great and pleasing scene, and conducted with more universal and satisfying concern than anything that has ever happened here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lurie and Mr. R. J. Henson of Cisco, visited with Mrs. S. R. Jackson last Sunday.

FREAK EGG BROUGHT TO REVIEW OFFICE

Ernest Moore, living in the north part of the city, sent an egg into the Review office by his father-in-law, Mr. Jones, the first of this week, that certainly deserves mention of the husky little hen that layed it. It was the product of a last spring Leghorn and was larger than the average goose egg. It measured exactly seven and one-quarter inches in circumference and eight inches around its long dimensions. The thing was nearly the size of the average white Leghorn pullet and compared with the average run of eggs should sell on the market at about $1.20 per dozen for food purposes. It was sound and uniform in shape.

Breaking the above egg revealed another perfectly shaped, solid shell egg of medium size contained within its center. The space, about one-quarter of an inch in thickness, between this egg and the outer shell contained the pure white of an egg. This is doubtless the greatest freak in the egg line that has ever been exhibited here.

E. C. Forbes and family and Marville Pearce of Cisco, were week end guests of the Elbert family.

YOUNG BUFFALOES

Well folks look what happened. Cross Plains at least has developed a real football club. The young Buffaloes, outplayed the team that came over from Pioneer Tuesday. Anyone who witnessed the game will tell you that there are a bunch of youngsters here that will developed into a real football club, with a little coaching.

Perfect passing and splendid interference was largely responsible for the 38 to 0 defeat handed the Pioneer boys. Let's get behind these youngsters and someday they may carry the local colors to a great victory.

Mrs. W. A. McGowen and daughters Mrs. C. V. Bomar, and Mrs. Sidney Hughes left Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives at Dallas and Ada, Oklahoma.

Clarence Cloere, salesman for the West Texas Produce Company, has moved his family from Cisco to Cross Plains.

RECORD OF 76 WOLVES
CAUGHT IN 6 MONTHS

Wolves in Brown County to the number of seventy-six have been captured in the past six months by Trapper E. Brumbleow. The Brown County Wolf Club, L. A. Nunn president and C. M. Kilgore, secretary, employes Mr. Brumbleow on a salary basis of $130 a month, one third of which is paid by the club, one third by the county and one third by the federal government. In this manner the wolves of the county can be kept at the minimum without the taxpayers having to pay huge amounts in bounties for their destruction.—Brownwood Bulletin.

PRAYER

(By Flora Jackson)

Internal Father God, something deep and haunting in our hearts draws us to this altar seeking in fellowship what none may find alone. Lift us out of any dull, cold peevish or rebellious temper of mind, lest we be too gloomy to hope and too wilful to learn. Melt our hardness, surprise our aloofness, open within us a fountain of prayer make us eager, tender, responsive.

Lord, if we have attained to any bit of fine behavior, if we have been held by the clutch of duty in a hard place, or helped any one along a rough road, we praise Thee and give thanks. If we have faltered of what we knew was good and brave and kind, if we have turned aside from a hard task, or left some one to fall under a load we might have lifted, forgive us, Lord, though we may not forgive ourselves.

Thou knowest our lives are low vaulted and troubled, only a muddled memory of what they ought to be. Live in us richly; make our faith in a uniting assent to Thy holy will, our experience a revelation, our service a sacrament. In faithfulness may our faith be fulfilled, and Thy reality unveiled in lives of purity, pity, and the joy of doing good.

What this county needs is bigger candidates.

FOR THE SAFETY OF LIFE DRIVE CAREFUL

Every day we read of fatal and otherwise damaging motor car accidents, and of late have been brought in close proximity with a number of them. Every community has its own horrid lesson that should teach drivers of automobiles to be more careful. The recent fatal accident on the Cross Plains and Cottonwood road, and on the Cross Plains-Burkett road, and the injuries resulting from the collision of a party of joy riders with the big passenger coach on the Cross Plains Rising Star road should be an ample and lasting lesson of local warning. All these could have been avoided if less haste and proper care had been their guidance.

It is sad to think that sorrow and grief must attach to the lives of friends and relatives whose dear ones are either snatched from this earthly form or disabled in body in the manner of automobile accidents. When people go for business or pleasure. On week days they usually go for business, the business of making a living. Sundays they go for worship or for pleasure. In any circumstance or condition of travel people are entitled to safety or a reasonable degree of freedom from danger as is possible.

Never before in the history of motor travel have expert minds been so engrossed upon the problem of traffic control. Whether to further restrict by artificial and physical barriers as well as by more stringent laws on the one hand, or whether to throw open wider the avenues of travel and thus place greater responsibility on the heads and shoulders of the drivers themselves, is the vital and perplexing problem to solve.

Adding to the national hysteria is whether husband, wife, son or daughter will arrive home safely. To those inclined to worry, the situation is nothing short of appalling. But it will do no good to worry. It does good to admonish and caution. It does good to enforce traffic regulations without fear or favor.

There is a growing tendency nowadays for a guilty motorist to try to "talk" out of responsibility by dependence upon signs. His dependence must also include common sense. It is not so much a question of who had the right of way as it is a question of who was driving in a safe and careful manner under any circumstance. We believe the tendency is to place more responsibility upon drivers and less upon speed and signals. When people go they have a duty to perform, which a duty of driving carefully to protect others. When people go they also have the right to arrive at their destinations unmolested by the careless and the reckless.

WOLF CLUB PAYS $1250 FOR SCALPS

(Baird Star)

A call meeting of the Callahan Co. Wolf Club was held Saturday for the purpose of starting the fall membership campaign.

President W. P. Stange presided and Secretary A. M. Cooper reported some 275 wolves had been killed and bounties amounting to about $1250.00 had been paid by the club since it was organized last April. The Club has some money left in the treasurer but committees were appointed to raise enough funds to take care of the bounties which will be required as soon as the trapping season opens. One cent per acre for land owners and those leasing or controlling lands in this county is the customary assessment, however, these are volunteer contributions and is not a taxation as some seemed to think when the club was organized. The membership to those who do not control or own land is 1.00 and many people interested in the welfare of the farmers and ranchmen have sent in their dollars to help the cause. The club voted Saturday to pay bounties to land owners, tenants and members of the club who support the organization. Many of the largest land owners in the county are now members of the club, and the cattle, sheep and poultry men are exceedingly well pleased with the work the organization is doing.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Konce of Rising Star, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cole last Sunday.

Dr. Hoover and wife have returned from a visit to different points in the state.

Sea Rover's Ambition to Settle New World

America's first real-estate development was promoted by Eric the Red. Eric anticipated modern sales methods by more than 900 years. He spent three summers moving back and forth along the west coast of the land he had discovered, searching for pleasant places to settle, for he had made up his mind to found a colony. He was thus not only the first Arctic explorer, and the discoverer of the new western world, but also the first of that typical western product—the settler. For the "Saga of Eric the Red" tells us that, in connection with his plan to secure settlers, he hit upon the device of calling the place Green Land, "conceiving that people would all the more desire to go there if it had a fair name."

That winter Eric carried out a publicity campaign so successfully that in the spring of 983 twenty-five ships set sail with him for Greenland. The colonists were something between 700 and 750. The numbers of the Danish animals have never been estimated, but in variety they were all the common ones of Iceland—horses, cat, sheep, goats, pigs, chickens, geese and dogs.—Viljalmar Stefansson in the Forum Magazine.

Washed Out of Life to Keep Contentment

Charles Driscoll thinks he knows what death will be like when it comes to him. As a boy he was once very ill. He felt life ebbing away, saw members of the family standing around. Then to the watchers and himself he seemed to pass out of life. "I was away," he says, "so far away that space was different, and altogether limitless. I was immeasurably interested and contented. Returning to consciousness was like being born again into a strange world. Somebody was pouring whisky down my throat. I opened my eyes and a great sense of loss and disappointment overwhelmed me. I sat there a long time trying to project myself, in memory, back into that vast country in which I seemingly had been existing for uncountable ages. For in that country a moment seemed eternity. That experience remains a vivid and pleasant memory to this day. When I think of death I think of that eternity I sensed when the earth-life seemed to cease to pull me. And it seemed good, not evil."—Capper's Weekly.

Quill Pens

Many young men and women who think they can write and who would like to write, put off real work because they dislike the manual toil that writing demands. Even the most modern and smooth running type writer becomes a wearisome machine. Pushing a pencil or a pen is even more tiresome. Few can dictate as well as they can write, even if they can afford the luxury of a secretary. Speed is needed, in the face of such trifling discouragements, is more down right energy and less laziness.

Remember that Charles Dickens once wrote a whole book with a single quill pen. But Dickens did not suffer from the common complaint of the young person—mental indolence.—George Patterson, in the Mobile Register.

Believe Me or Not

I am frank, honest, courageous, and kind. Though I do not talk much of my accomplishments, I feel that I have a serious mind, yet I do not lack a sense of humor. People look to me with respect. I am destined to be a prominent member of my community. Often quiet in company, I nevertheless have a ready wit and a capacity for intelligent conversation. At times I am too reluctant to take other people's advice. This is bad for me. I should not be headstrong, though my naturally powerful will often leads me to make mistakes of judgement. I am very sensitive.

I have just spent 14 pennies on the fortune-telling machines.—Los Angeles Times.

Cicada Not a Locust

The cicada is referred to as the 17-year locust, a name that is incorrect in at least two particulars. It is not a locust at all, that name being properly applied only to members of the grasshopper family, and while it has a 17-year period it also has a 13-year period. It has been so long mis-called by the name of the locust, however, that there is no hope of divesting it of that incorrect appellation.

When Piano Keys Stick

To keep piano keys from sticking open the piano and take the front out where the music rack is located. Expose this place that is open to the sun and air. If any sun comes in the room, move the piano to that spot; if it does not, move the piano to a place where there is sun and air. The reason piano keys stick is because the inside of the piano is swollen with dampness.

Neither Caesar's Commentaries nor the writings of Tacitus and other historians of the period of the Roman domination convey evidence that the Britons had any knowledge of letters until the Roman and Greek characters were taught them. Neither do these historians preserve any oral traditions of the British bards or druids calculated to shed much light upon the early history of the Celtic race.

CALLAHAN COUNTY CHOLERA CHECKED

County Agent A. M. Cooper has been of much assistance this year to the farmers of Callahan County in preventing the spreading of hog cholera.

Last Thursday, he assisted the Dudley community in vaccinating 92 head of hogs. During this season about 300 hogs have been vaccinated in the Eula and Dudley communities. Recently a few cases of hog cholera were discovered in those sections of the county, but by quick action the disease has been effectively checked with a very small loss. The communities are practically clear of the disease at this time.

Advice to candidates: Don't count you lickins before the votes are scratched.

J. S. Bonner, manager of the Westex Theatres, of which the Sigal Theatre is a member, is here this week. Mr. Bonner is recovering from his bruises and general shaking up he received the first of last week when his car turned over on the highway west of Baird in which the gentleman who was with him suffered a broken arm. The accident was by an unusual thing Mr. Bonner had his coat on a hanger just back of him and the wind blew the coat in such a manner as to completely wrap around Mr. Bonner's head and in a twinkling of an eye the car ran into the ditch turning over.—Baird Star.

Caution of Librarian Carried to Extremes

"If I might have my wish, I would desire to have no other person than this library, and to be chained together with so many great authors." King James I was paying a state visit to the Bodleian library at Oxford in 1605 when he made the remark. He called Sir Thomas Bodley a public servant of extreme caution. Sir Thomas had every book chained to the shelves of the institution. No visitor, even though it be the king himself, was allowed to enter the building until the locks had been inspected and found secure. On no pretense was any volume allowed to leave the premises. Books too small for chains were locked behind wire gratings. Seekers of knowledge could view the precious tomes and, like King James, go away expressing their admiration of Sir Thomas as a jail keeper of the spirits of wisdom. But that was all they could do. Bodley himself finally admitted that "the multiplicity of chains" was interfering with "the sight and show of the books." But that was all he did about it—just admitted that it was too bad.

King James one day got up enough courage to suggest that it would be very nice if Sir Thomas would let him read a few of the books and even promised, not to tell what was in them, but Sir Thomas, shocked, pained and grieved, reminded his majesty that to be a bookworm was an ambition unworthy of a king. So the books stayed on the shelves and the locks stayed locked.—Detroit News.

Sounds That Climb

Recent tests show that the crowing of a rooster, the ringing of a church bell, and, under some conditions, the shout of a man, penetrate almost a mile into the upper air.

A cricket's chirp carries up 2,500 feet, and the croak of a frog can be heard at an altitude of 3,000 feet. Among sounds produced by living things, a dog's yelp holds the altitude record. It has been heard by balloonists 5,339 feet up. The report of a rifle will carry about the same distance.

Of all sounds recorded, a locomotive whistle reaches highest. It has been heard in more than two miles above the earth.—Popular Science Monthly.

Catching a Bird

Little Margaret was found playing in the back yard with her grandmother's best salt shaker. Margaret's mother asked what she was doing.

"I'm going to catch a bird," she replied.

"Surely you don't think you can sprinkle salt on a bird's tail and catch it?" the mother said.

"But Mr. B— told us kids that we could sprinkle salt on a bird's tail and catch it and he wouldn't tell a lie for no bird," Margaret insisted.

"Why, Margaret, that's impossible." "Well, hasn't Aunt Carolyn a bird in a cage, and how did she get it?"

Can't Hurry Progress

Progress may be exceedingly slow, but it is exceedingly sure. Don't try to hurry it. The whole history of man's development is giving revolution another trial, and then limping back in the end to the starting point, and so on.—Grit.

EASTLAND COURTS
MAKING IT HARD ON MURDERERS

For the fifth time within the past year juries in the Eastland county district court have instructed that the death penalty be inflicted on parties whom they have found guilty of murder. Tuesday of last week Clyde Thompson, age 18, was given the death penalty for murder of Lucian Shook. The jury deliberated only 30 minutes. Lucian Shook and his younger brother, Leon, were shot and killed near Leray. Francis Davis, age 17, implicated in the same murder, was convicted last Sunday afternoon and given the death penalty. This was the second death penalty meted out by Eastland county juries within a week, growing out of the murder of the two Shook boys, Sept. 7 near the deserted oil town of Leray. The charge against Wilson Davis, age 12, brother of Francis Davis, was dismissed in order to use him as State witness in the trials. In his testimony he branded Thompson as the actual slayer of the Shook boys. In his own defense Francis Davis had testified that he was an unwilling witness to the murders and was deterred by fear from notifying authorities of what he knew, and until the closing argument to the jury, county attorney J. Sparks had left the impression that he would not ask for the death penalty for the youth. Detail of the horrible murder, as given by young Davis and his convicted brother, follows:

Clyde came to the Davis house on Wednesday night, suggesting a hunt, he said, and they went toward the Shook shack.

"Me and Thomas was together and we stayed outside while Clyde went into Shook's and robbed the shack," he testified. "Clyde said it was a good time to kill Shook, but Shook didn't show up. We went on home that night and all of us slept together. They hid the gun and the banjo in a junk pile at our house.

Friday evening Clyde came back and he helped me put up my turkeys. He wanted us to go hunting again. We started out. Harvey Ellis picked us up. He took us to the railroad.

"After we got out of the car I seen daddy's pistol sticking under his belt. Daddy kept it in the dresser drawer. Thomas carried the shotgun.

"I asked Clyde what he was going to do with the pistol. He sort of laughed and said, 'I'm going to murder Shook, it's the last day that he'll ever see the sun go down.'

"I asked him what he wanted to kill Shook for and he said: 'Just to see him kick.' Thomas said he had rather rob him or do anything else to him than to murder him. Clyde told him he was a coward and Thomas said he was not a coward and we went on to Shook's house.

"Clyde hollered at Shook who was sleeping in the window and asked him if he had a gun. Shook said he had a good one. Clyde told him he wanted him to come and help him get a wolf and some cubs he had under a rock. Shook and his brother got up and dressed. We didn't know the younger Shook was there. The older Shook turned on his lantern and he came outside and turned all of his dogs loose and we went on down towards the camp. I followed about sixty yards behind because I was skeered and knew what Clyde was intending to do.

"The moon was shining and I could see them plain. When Clyde and the Shooks got to the end of our tank dam (the killing occurred on the Davis farm) I saw Clyde fire a shot and the younger Shook staggered. He just grumbled something. The oldest Shook cursed Clyde and then Clyde shot him. Clyde then shot the younger Shook twice, then he shot the oldest Shook. The younger Shook fell down and when Clyde shot the oldest Shook the last time he hollered and threw the horn and lantern at Clyde and started running. Clyde was trying to empty the shells out of his pistol and was running after Shook and Shook stumbled and fell into a ditch. Clyde jumped on him and beat him with his pistol.

"I said to Thomas, 'Let's go.' And Thomas said, 'No, because Clyde'll kill us.' While he was beating the younger Shook I hollered to him to quit but Clyde said, 'No.' While Clyde was beating him over the head Shook was pleading. Please don't, but Clyde kept beating him. When he quit we went on up. Clyde took some money and the watch out of the older Shook's pockets and then he went back to where the younger Shook was lying. He hit him over the head and searched him and didn't find anything. "Clyde dropped his hat in blood and washed it in the tank. He found the cylinder of his pistol and washed the pistol and washed his shirt and hung it on a mesquite tree. A second statement was to the effect that Thompson and a companion had practiced with the pistol preparatory to their attempt to rob the Shooks' house.

Mrs. C. W. Brigner and son, Roy, left Tuesday evening for Chalk, Minn., to be with Mr. Brigner, who had the misfortune of receiving a serious wound. He lost control of a lever rod, which struck him, tearing out a part of his chin bone and two teeth.

C. P. H. S. BUFFALOES WON FROM THE CLYDE BULLDOGS

Pushing over a touchdown in the first three minutes of play, the Buffaloes turned the tables on the Clyde Bulldogs, Friday Oct. 19, upset the boxes that contained the dope of the dopiest, and brought home the bacon to the tune of 22-6.

Cross Plains tied Moran here two weeks ago (Friday Oct. 7), by a score of 0-0. Putnam beat Moran 6-0. Clyde beat Putnam 50-6, and the Bulldogs were slated to beat the Buffs at least 30-0.

CROSS PLAINS OFFENSE LOOKS BETTER

Although the Buffaloes have shown a stonewall defense this season, having had only 18 points scored by opponents, their offense has been nothing to brag about. Their score should have been better than "0" in the Eastland game. The "33" made in the game against the Goldthwaite team should have been 40 or more. In their tie of 0-0 with Moran, their "0" should have been 14. Their "7" in the Cisco game would have been "14" if the backs had hustled. The score of "22" against the very strong Clyde team, proved that rumors that have been flying thick and fast for the last week are true, that Coach Huggins has been "pouring it on" his backs!

BUFFS SHOW FIGHT
The Buffs not only won by scores, but also by that old fight that makes a real football team.

CROSS PLAINS SCORES IN FIRST 3 MINUTES OF PLAY

When Clyde tried to pass on their own 20 yard line, R. Clark intercepted and was downed in his tracks. The Buffs were held there for 3 downs and then on a pass from Bennett to Murry, they made 18 yards which put them on the 2 yard line. Murry then bucked it over for the first touchdown. Extra point was made on a pass from Bennett to Carmichael. SCORE—Cross Plains 7—Clyde—0.

Clyde received the ball on the next kick off and in four downs, the pigskin went to the Buffs in mid-field. The Buffs marched to the twenty yard line, Where R. Clark made a ong and run for the second touchdown. Davis plunged center for extra point. SCORE—Cross Plains 14—Clyde—0.

CLYDE SCORES
On the next kick-off Clyde received the ball on the 70 yard line. Then with passes and line plunges they advanced it to the 2 yard line. With four tries in which to make a touchdown, Carl Pee plunged it over on the first try. They failed in try for extra point. SCORE—Cross Plains—14, Clyde 6.

BUFFS SCORE AGAIN
Cross Plains received in the second half. They went to the two yard line and in an attempt to plunge the 2 yards they fumbled the ball. It crossed the goal line and was covered by Clyde, giving Cross Plains a safety which gave them 2 points instead of 6. SCORE—Cross Plains—16—Clyde 6.
Davis caught a pass on the ten yard line and with Adams running interference, ran ten yards for a touchdown. Try for extra point failed. SCORE—Cross Plains—22—Clyde 6.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

The pep squad composed of 30 pretty girls, marched upon the field, with the Band playing "Here They Come." After the game the pep squad staged their "Victory Parade" down Main Street. Phil Bingham and "Pop" Frazier, blowing the Base Drum, brought up the rear.

BUFFALOES STAR

The Buffs had no particular stars in the game with Clyde. The backfield men carried the ball well, and the line on defense and offense showed much strength.

Starting Line Up:
R. E. Adams; L. E. A. Carmichael; R. T. S. Clark; L. T. Harlow; R. G. McDermitt; L. G. Maddux; Q. B. Bennett; H. B. Davis; (Center) Reynolds; H. B. R. Clark; F. B. Murry.

Substitutes:
Mayes for Carmichael (2), Copinger for S. Clark (3), Ivy for "Cop" (3), Mayes for Adams (3), DeBask for Mayes (4), Webb for McDermitt (4).
Summary: 1st, downs, Cross Plains 15, Clyde 8.

Score: Cross Plains, 14 0 8 0—22
Clyde: 0 6 0 0—6
Official: Umpire—Gene Alford, Texas Tech.—Bill Bryant, Moody, Head linesman, Tabor, Simmons, Time Piece "Teddy" Haggard.

The thing that worries us from a newspaper standpoint is Secretary Kellogg will have all the world at peace before the Senate gets a chance to reject the treaties.

CAPTURE OF CYNTHIA ANN PARKER.

Cynthia Ann Parker, a white girl 9 years old, was captured in 1834 by the Comanche Indians following the massacre of the Parker family at Parker's Fort, in Limestone County, Texas, and adopted by this tribe. Later she became the wife of Pete Neocoma, chief of the Comanches. Four children were born of this tribal marriage and one of the children, Quannah Parker, became the leading chief of the Comanches. Cynthia Ann's life history, which is a thrilling drama, will be told in the Monthly Magazine Section of the Cross Plains Review to be issued November, 2nd.

We notice that states' rights become somewhat important when applied to the electoral college.

Anyhow, it's relief in this campaign not to have to study up on the League of Nations.

Rev. S. C. Steele of May, Brown county, who is among the oldest settlers in this part of the West Texas country, visited a few days in Cross Plains the past week, and met a number of his acquaintances of the thrilling and pioneer days of fifty years ago. He recalled to the writer that fifty years ago the main route of travel through this now densely populated section was the trail that lead by Caddo Peak, northwest of Cross Plains, that high elevation being the guide post for a great distance of the trail in each direction. Rev. Steel was one of the faithful and daring pioneer preachers and covered many miles over the wilds of those days in making his circuit. He has the distinction of serving one continuous pastorate near May for a period of 34 years, the longest record of any preacher in the State. He is still hale and lively and preaches regularly at his appointments. His old-time friends in Cross Plains and this community were glad to meet him.

NO CALL MADE FOR BAPTIST PASTOR

The Baptist church conference, held in connection with the prayer meeting services Wednesday night of this week, failed to issue a definite call for a pastor to fill the pulpit of that church, made vacant by the recent resignation of Rev. Hunt. It was generally believed before the conference that Rev. Deweese of Brant, Texas, who was here and assisted during the closing of the revival baptising the sixty-three new members Monday night, would be called, but at the moments of the conference a doubt was raised as to whether he would accept the pastorate and the matter was delayed for further consideration.

GRANDMA TURNER PASSES TO REWARD

On October the 17th, 1928, the spirit of "Grandma" Turner, as she was called by all acquaintances, was called home to its reward. She had been on this earth almost a century, being at the time of her death 96 years, 7 months, 23 days old. The past ten years of her life was spent in bed or in an invalid's chair. However, she had great patience and faith in God. She lived a consecrated christian life for 85 years, being a member of the Mission Baptist Church since her conversion when about 12 years of age.

She was Born in Tennessee but moved with her parents to Texas in early childhood. Her maiden name was Deltha Ann Fannin. She was married in Rush county, to Melton Pinkston, in 1851. To this union were born four children, 3 boys and 1 girl. One of the boys died in infancy. Another Son, F. N. Pinkston, who lived in the Liberty community for some 35 years, died eight years ago, leaving a large family. The other two children survive, Nathan Pinkston of Burkett and Mrs. W. H. Duke of Liberty.

Grandma was left a widow just after the close of the civil war, her husband accidentally shot himself while hunting. She then lived in Hood county, which at that time was a part of the country known as the Frontiers, being infested with varmints of every description and savage Indian tribes. Some 4 or 5 years after Mr. Pinkston's death she was married to S. W. Turner near Cleburn. To this union also were born four children, two girls one of them Mrs. Lizzie Bryson, now lies about two miles east of Cross Plains. The other Mrs. Henry Jones, who lies at Eagle Cove. One son, Martin Turner, resides also at Eagle Cave. The other boy died in infancy. Mr. Turner died not long after moving to this country and was buried in the cemetery at this place. Grandma leaves 48 Grand-Children and over 60 Great-Grand-Children. She was at her daughter's home at Eagle Cave when death came. Her remains were brought by loving hands and tenderly laid to rest by that of her son, T. N. Pinkston in the Liberty Cemetery. Services were conducted by Bro. Harvey Dennis of Cross Plains, assisted by Bro. Deweise of Winters. Knowing Grandma as we did we were brought to realize:

That, when we laid her there to rest, Her spirit, which to God had flowers, Was resting on the Savior's breast, While angels rejoiced round the throne.

And as we sing that good old song, "I'm going home to die no more," This fact we know "It wont be long" 'Til we shall enter Death's dark door. Then let us strive to reach that clime, Where saints shall gather one by one: There life and joy shall be gulfime, For we'll be joint heirs with God's Son.

 This is to certify, that I have had a Severe attack of female trouble and have been bedfast the past month until the last few days. The doctors said an operation was absolutely necessary, as my female organs were in a very serious condition, passing puss continuously, so sore I could hardly move. I heard of the wonderful work Dr. Shoultz was doing and before undergoing an operation I decided I would give him a trial. I have been taking treatment from Dr. Shoultz now for the past two weeks, and I can truly say I believe he has cured me. I want to say if you are a Sufferer you will make no mistake by coming to Dr. Shoultz for treatment.
