TOURNAMENT PLAY...The Muleshoe varsity basketball team hosted the third annual Muleshoe Invitational Tournament in Muleshoe last week with eight teams participating in the tournament. Hereford took first place by defeating Muleshoe Thursday evening. Second place went to Muleshoe and third place went to Canyon. This picture shows the Mules in action with Guyton Thursday in which Muleshoe won.

As with many Jaycee projects, the Outstanding Young Farmer Award originated when a local chapter thought it would be a good idea to select and honor their area's outstanding young farmer. The project aroused interest in the neighboring chapters and it became a state project.

In 1954, OYF was proposed to the U.S. Jaycees Board of Directors as a national project. The board immediately recognized the great potential of the program and made it the number one agricultural program of the U. S. Jaycees. A national co-sponsor was secured and for six years the project enjoyed participation figures among the highest of any Jaycee program, with an average of over 1900 chapters conducting the program annually.

In 1960, the co-sponsor withdrew and the program operated for two years without benefit of a national promotion or a national awards program. In spite of this, OYF continued as one of the most popular programs in local and state Jaycee organizations.

The return of OYF to the national scene was made in 1962 through the co-sponsorship of the National LP-Gas Market Development Council. For the past several years, the Central Soya and Master Feed Company have co-sponsored the OYF program. The sponsor for this year's program is Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors. Co-sponsor of the local OYF project is Crow Chevrolet Company.

To be eligible for nomination as the Outstanding Young Farmer, a man must be: One, age 21 through 35, not becoming 36 before January 1, preceding the National Awards Program in which he would be eligible to participate; Two, be an actual farm operator, deriving a minimum of two-thirds of his income from farming. Participation is not restricted to Jaycee members.

"It is reassuring to know that organizations such as the Jaycees are interested in promoting agriculture and improving agriculture's public image," stated James M. Blitch, Georgia's Outstanding Young Farmer for 1963-64. Laurance E. Justice of Delaware has stated that "Farmers need to Evidently more people in Muleshoe are buying more products from Muleshoe merchants as this year's sale tax quotient increased by over $2,000, according to the city hall.

The sales quotient during the three month period ending September 30, 1970 was $21,500.21. The sales quotient during the three month period ending September 30, 1971 was $23,505.21.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kansas will be the guest speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet this year. The banquet will be held at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria on Thursday, January 13, 1972, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. McFarland was awarded the National Freedom Leadership Award by the Freedom's Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, on February 28, 1968, and has received many other acknowledgements recognizing him as the nation's most eloquent and effective exponent of the "American System". His speeches urge his audiences to be "preservatives" of the American way of life... "He is truly a voice for America".

Tickets are now available, at $5.00 per plate, at the Chamber of Commerce office in Muleshoe.

Livestock destroyed by disease--Persons having animals destroyed by disease and collecting insurance or indemnities can choose to have any gain postponed for income tax purposes. The regulation states "Livestock destroyed by disease or on account of disease (including ordinary death from disease) or livestock sold or exchanged because of disease are treated as if they were involuntarily converted. Insurance proceeds, sale proceeds, or amounts received from the animals, and the taxpayer may elect to have the recognition of the gain postponed. The replacement privilege applies to all livestock whether held for sale in the business or held for sale, if the animals would not otherwise have been sold at that time." The taxpayer can postpone reinvestment of the proceeds of such exchanges up to two years without having to recognize any gain on the transsaction.--Marvin Sartin, area economist-management, Lubbock.

Death of cattle on wheat pasture as a result of bloat may be a serious problem during late November and December. There is no cur-all method for prevention of bloat on wheat pasture. Supplementing cattle with dry roughages or concentrates aids in the prevention of bloat. Access to a sorghum stubble or corn stubble field while the cattle are on wheat also aids in the prevention of bloat. A material called "Poloxalene" may be obtained which when fed to cattle will aid in the prevention of bloat. However, it is rather expensive and cattle must consume a required amount daily to prevent bloat. Several commercial companies include this compound in their blocks or loose supplements. Removing the cattle from wheat during the night will sometimes help in preventing bloat. However, in most cases this method is not very practical.

--Dr. Cal Parrott, area beef cattle specialist.
There have been reports of early planted small grains beginning to joint and head. This could result in stand loss from freeze damage and reduce forage and grain yields next spring. True winter wheats will not begin to produce heads without a prolonged period of low temperatures (vernalization). The immediate solution to the problem is to remove the top growth as soon as possible. Grazing will help to postpone heading. It will also help to control leaf diseases such as rust and help to keep insect populations in check. The main reason for seeding small grains early in the fall is to provide earlier grazing, consequently it is best to plant only as much acreage in August as is needed for grazing. Research shows that October planted wheat will yield as much grain as early fall planted wheat. In addition the probability of disease, insect and frost damage is reduced considerably by late planting.

Late planting also helps to save furrow-irrigated fields must be fall irrigation. Removing fall growth by clipping or mowing, and thus postponing heading, is not usually recommended. The cost of mowing plus the difficulty involved in clipping considered. A substantial quantity of clipped material may have a tendency to smother growing plants with a subsequent reduction in stand.--Dr. Frank Petr, area agronomist, Amarillo.

CONGRESSMAN

Bob Price

U.S. House of Representatives
18th Congressional District

In the waning hours of the first session of the 92nd Congress, Representative Bob Price of Pampa has introduced legislation creating a Joint House-Senate Committee on Aging charged with seeking and recommending legislative solutions to the problems of the aging.

In introducing his bill, the Texas lawmaker declared that "Congress needs a means by which it can focus the wide ranging and cumbersome machinery of the legislative branch on the whole area of aging, an area of such breadth that it encompasses 20 million Americans." He added that the number of persons 65 and older in this country is placed in proper perspective when it is measured against the fact that only one-fourth of the nations in the world have total populations equal to or greater than that of the U.S. elderly.

Under Price's bill, the joint committee will be composed of 11 House and 11 Senate members. In addition to providing a mechanism for coordinating Congressional activities, it would establish the focal point for Congressional coordination with the Executive branch programs of aging. To facilitate this process and to reorganize Executive branch programs dealing with aging, President Nixon has created a Special Cabinet Committee on Aging as part of the Domestic Council.

In challenging the House to respond quickly to his proposal, Congressman Price emphasized that retirement years for many of our senior citizens have become a time of isolation and economic deprivation.

The conference, planned by a committee of county officials, is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the State County Judges and Commissioners Association. The Extension county officials program coordinates program activities.

public housing programs which make the elderly feel "indebted to the government and deprived of personal freedom," and warned that all too many programs tend to isolate older Americans from the rest of society economically, physically, and socially.

"The time has come," the Congressman continued, "for a complete reappraisal of our attitude toward elderly citizens with a new emphasis on restoring the dignity and independence to which they are entitled." Congressman Price suggested alternatives to the present system might include additional tax credits or rebates to elderly homeowners and renters so they can afford to live in their own homes which they have acquired over a lifetime. These tax credits and rebates could be handled through a coordinated effort by the Federal, state, and local governments.

Congressman Price has already proposed legislation granting a tax credit for home repairs, which would be a step in that direction. The Congressman also noted that the greatest service of all that government could perform would be to hold down the cost of living, increased government spending caused by the "guns and butter" philosophy of the past decade has fanned the flames of inflation and the greatest victim has been those dependent on a fixed income, and particularly the elderly.

Furthermore, Congressman Price emphasized that employment opportunities for those over sixty-five should be broadened since many citizens are both capable and willing to work beyond the normal retirement years.

1972's Campaigns

Despite the fact that the 1968 presidential campaign bored or tired most participants and listeners almost to death before it ended, the 1972 campaign will likewise be grim.

From convention time, when the parties make their nominations, until election day in November, the candidates will "save" the nation and the world over and over again—over a period of months. The reason campaigns were originally lengthy was that candidates sought to travel to all sections, that people might see them and hear them, before voting.

There was justification for such campaigns for distances in the country were (and are) vast. There was no radio and no television, and in the earliest days, not even telegraph. Transportation was slow. Today, however, the President and his opposing candidate speak to millions in every part of the country simultaneously by television. He and his opponents travel by air—in a few hours—to any state in the nation.

A time limit of a month would be ample for presidential campaigns. Nominating conventions could be held in the first week in October, or the last in September, and both money and time would be saved. In thirty days, with today's modern communications, every candidate can present his position on major issues to all Americans many times.

MRS. ROBERT LEE COPELAND JR., Nedra Ann Woodard

Couple United In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Nedra Ann Woodard and Sgt. Robert Lee Copeland Jr. were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony in the First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe on Tuesday, December 21 at 7:00 p.m. Reverend J.B. Fowler, pastor of the Church, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Woodard and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Copeland, all of Muleshoe.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace, accented by pearls at the neckline. The dress featured a long, flowing train and long sleeves coming to a point at the wrist. The sleeves were accented with pearl buttons. She wore a shoulder-length veil which was edged in Chantilly lace. The round bridal bouquet of white carnations and poms was tied with blue and white ribbon streamers.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with a basket of blue and white gladiolas and poms. Blue bows distinguished the pews where the parents of the couple were seated.

Miss Cathy McCormick of Lubbock served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length blue empire dress with matching blue veil and carried a long stemmed white carnation. John Woodard, Lubbock, brother of the bride served as best man.

Steve Woodard, brother of the bride, Muleshoe, was usher and candlelighter.

Mrs. Smitty Aylesworth of Muleshoe organist, presented wedding selections including the theme song from "Love Story" (Where Do I Begin) and the Wedding March.

A reception, immediately following the ceremony, was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table, centered with the bridal bouquet, was covered with a white lace cloth over blue. The three-tiered, white wedding cake, the chocolate groom's cake and lime-pineapple punch were served by Miss Judy Woodard and Miss Donna Woodard, sisters of the bride, from Muleshoe.

Mrs. Ronnie Cawthron, sister of the groom, registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride wore a green pants suit and silver slippers.

The new Mrs. Copeland is a 1971 graduate of Muleshoe High School.

Copeland, a 1967 graduate of Muleshoe High School, is currently serving in the United States Army. He expects to be discharged sometime in January, 1972.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hargrave and family and Mrs. Lequita Cunningham and Sian, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Copeland of Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gillespie and Terry and Mrs. Jimmy Denton and daughter, all of Clovis, N.M.

MISS CAROL HAIRE

Carol Haire Receives Degree

Carol Diane Haire has been named a December graduate of North Texas State University in Denton, Texas. She has received a Master of Arts degree in speech pathology. Miss Haire is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd F. Haire of Muleshoe. A 1967 graduate of Muleshoe High School, Miss Haire received her Bachelor of Arts degree in speech pathology from Texas Tech University.

She is now employed as cooperative speech pathologist for the Cooke County Public Schools and is also working with various children in the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma area in conjunction with Gainesville orthodontists and dentists.

Poinsettias Should Receive Proper Care

COLLEGE STATION--With proper care, that prized poinsettia you received for Christmas will give lasting beauty to your yard or patio. Poinsettias grow well in protected areas throughout South and South Central Texas.

The poinsettia plant will go into a rest period sometime in mid-January, says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. At this time it will shed its colored bracts and leaves. When this occurs, gradually reduce watering and move the plant to a cool location where the temperature will remain between 45 and 55 degrees F. Do not allow the soil ball around the plant to become too dry but avoid excessive moisture.

After the danger of frost is past, plant the poinsettia directly in the yard, suggests Janne. Cut the plant back to three to six inches in height and plant it at the same depth as it was in the pot. The poinsettia should have a fertile, well-drained soil, preferably having a pH of 6 to 7. Being a semi-desert plant, poinsettias will shed their leaves if the soil becomes too dry.

To produce a compact bushy plant, Janne recommends, pinching out the tips of the new growth each time shoots reach four to six inches in length. Repeat this procedure until the middle of August.

Since the poinsettia is a short-day plant, it will not set flower buds and produce the colorful bracts until the short days of fall arrive. If the plants are grown in an area where electric lights are used at night, they will not form flower buds and colorful bracts. Poinsettias are susceptible to damage by mealy bugs, spider mites, aphids or other sucking insects. Spraying with malathion at recommended rates will control these insects. Using the insecticide at stronger rates will cause mottled leaves and burning adaxial Janne.

Consumers and that's everyone, owe a great deal to America's framers. For nowhere else in the world is food such a bargain. Consumer's can start 1962 knowing that foods of all kinds will continue to be plentiful and reasonable in price. The American farmer now produces enough food for himself and 25 others. Only 38 cents out of each dollar spent for food finds its way back to the producer.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

The hostess who has beautiful table appointments never needs to worry about decorations for her table.

It is wise to invest in good silverware, china, glass and well-chosen cloths and mats. Many of these can be made at home with little expense.

When purchasing a cloth or table set take into consideration the silver, china and glass it's to be used with, and also the setting it's to be used in. Keep in mind that the effect of a well-set table is perfect balance and harmony.

Your table cloth may pick up the brilliant color used in the flower decorations or on the dishes, but it should never be so startling as to clash with the colors used to decorate the dining room.

Use lots of color for the breakfast table because of the informality of this meal. Mats are ideal for a luncheon table. The more formal the dinner the more conservative the cloth should be.

For very special dinners use damask and linen in white or off-white shades.

However, for the coming holiday season the sky is the limit in decorations for the table. The most important thing to remember is the comfort of your guests. But above all this is a season for family togetherness--make the most of it.

SELECTING FRESH CRANBERRIES

--Cranberry varieties differ in size and color but aren't identified by variety names in the supermarket. So when selecting the berries, Extension foods and nutrition specialists say to look for plump, firm berries with a lustrous red color. Cranberries are now available in plentiful supplies, as are cranberry sauce and cranberry juice cocktail.

Quail Season Short In Some Texas Areas

AUSTIN -- The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has set a statewide closing date of Feb. 15 for the 1971-72 quail season.

This action added two additional weeks to the seasons. However, the seasons still will be two weeks shorter than last year in many areas due to a later start.

The season in two regulatory districts will be two weeks shorter than last year's because of reports of low bird populations from Parks and Wildlife Department personnel.

Only one regulatory district -- the Oak Prairie along the lower reaches of the Guadalupe and Brazos Rivers -- was given a longer season than last year. It was increased by two weeks, and will be Nov. 13 through Feb. 15.

A dry early spring, followed by heavy rains and some flooding through the summer teamed up to cause erratic nesting conditions for quail in most areas. This caused widespread late nesting and late hatches.

In the Permian Basin Regulatory District the Dec. 1-Feb. 15 season is two weeks shorter than in 1970, and the 12-bird limit is three less than in 1970. Possession limit also is down from 45 birds to 36.

The season is also two weeks shorter in the Possum Kingdom district in the North Central portion of the state. Its season and bag limit are the same as for the Permian Basin.

Districts which have two weeks later than last year's season are the Edwards Plateau, Panhandle, Northeast Texas, Trinity-Brazos and Southeast Texas. They are all Dec. 1-Feb. 15, with bag and possession limits at 12 and 36.

In the South Central District, the season is also two weeks later than in 1970, from Nov. 13 through Feb. 15. Bag and possession are 12 and 36. The Trans-Pecos district season will also be Nov. 13-Feb. 15, but with bag and possession limits at 12 and 24.

The commission's action on the quail seasons applies only to counties under the commission's regulatory authority. However, there are some exceptions even in these counties, and some quail seasons are subject to commissioners court approval.

Counties not under regulatory authority have their seasons set by the Texas Legislature. As in the past, the season is closed on Mearns' quail, or fool's quail, in all counties west of the Pecos River.

South Plains Will Offer Night Classes

LEVELLAND (Special) South Plains Evening College will offer a large variety of opportunities for area patrons during the Spring Semester. Ample opportunity is offered in general education courses such as math, history, English, government, science, philosophy, psychology, and sociology.

Those seeking skills for business related occupations will want to consider data processing, accounting, economics, and management training.

In addition to the general academic courses required for teachers, persons preparing for elementary teaching should investigate sociology, anthropology, philosophy, and speech for teachers.

Special interest courses typing, business machines, shorthand, salesmanship, and management training, should appeal to a large number of persons. Advanced woodwork, machine shop, conversational Spanish, and Physical fitness for women are but a few of the areas which should have special appeal to many people.

Technical, vocational, and occupational training is also being offered in the evening college. Some of the opportunities include radio and television repair, welding, refrigeration, auto mechanics, library organization, and aviation ground school.

Instruction is being offered again in Law Enforcement. There are several classes offered in the evening college for persons interested in this particular field.

In addition to the general academic, special interest, and technical-occupational courses, South Plains College will offer a number of adult courses lasting in length from one day to sixteen weeks.

Registration for evening classes will begin Thursday, Jan. 13, 1972, at 7 p.m. and will continue nightly from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Technical Arts Center during the week of Jan. 17 through Jan. 20. Classes will begin Jan. 17.

What you don't expect and don't get doesn't disappoint you.

Soil Test Now Will Reap Benefits Later

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 9, 1971--The most difficult part of soil testing is finding the time to do it. Now that most crops have been harvested, farmers should take soil samples so they can get a head start on the 1972 crop year. "It's just as important for farmers to resample and test fields as it is for those who have never tested their soils at all," says C. C. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A & M University. Soils that were tested 5 or 10 years ago provided farmers with recommended fertilizer rates for optimum profit based on soil fertility levels of the individual fields at that time. "However, these test values may have increased or decreased so that old recommendations no longer fit field and crop conditions," points out Welch. "Soil test cost only a fraction of what is spent on fertilizer application. It's probably the best investment a producer will make," Welch says. Money spent on the wrong fertilizer could result in less net profit. Anyone interested in soil tests can obtain instructions for sampling and mailing cartons at any county Extension office, adds Welch. Better soil management may have elevated soil fertility levels. If this is the case, a soil test will indicate the need for less fertilizer, says Welch. If yields above those expected were obtained, an increase in fertilizer application may be needed. United Nations -- The General Assembly has raised the salary of the Secretary General to $62,500 and his pension to $31,250. The increase became effective December 1.
