COUNTY AIDS HIGHWAY 36 PROJECT

HOME TOWN GOSSIP

For 248 consecutive weeks this department has covered the "highways and hedges", endeavoring to give you the gossip of the ol' home town. And now suddenly, on a bright (seems like Spring) afternoon we find ourself "sans subject matter".

For that reason, we will deviate from the customary routine and just give you a few things of interest which occur at the moment.

Now, to that person who sent us the valentine last week with the picture of a long tongued old lady, spilling all the gossip to neighbors, let us say: Smartie we didn't even read your ol' valentine. Anybody would know it was a joke, when you addressed the envelope, "Master jack scottie".

Bill Weiler is sporting a smashed lip and a conspicuous black eye, caused by chauffeur-ing his auto into a stubborn horse on the highway Sunday.

Note to garage men: you will do well to court the business friendship of Bill Weiler and Elliott Bryant. That duo has more smash-ups than the rest of the populace combined.

Dave Lee and Fred Burgin were tonsillotomy patients Wednesday. Dave is such a Scotchman (when it comes to pinching the pennies) he decided upon the surgery when he was told a liberal discount was allowed when two patients came together for the same work.

Charlie Hemphill is a fiend for details. He's more interested in how a word is spelled, than what it means. We're going to enter him in a spelling match—open to all comers—at Cross Cut soon, in which he will be pitted against such "blue-backers" as A. H. Plummer and W. T. Hughes.

Few people can tell a story as humorously as Hugh McDermott. We're going to get him to pen this column some time soon. Watch for it.

Last month when the coldest spell of the Winter swept this area and the City gas went off just as local citizens were yawning out of the bed covers, there was much discussion concerning the fuel inadequacy.

A bunch of local dignitaries were huddled about a feeble blaze in a cafe expostulating on the matter. "Fat" Hoyt (you know how funny he is anyway) declared: "Well, I'd just about as soon freeze by one of the systems as starve by the other."

Our sides still "crack" when we think of the incident, and how everyone was warned by a hearty laugh.

A man with big town ideas of service is V. C. Walker, loyal mortician. He's induced the Higginbotham big shots to purchase a new ambulance. It's really a swell buggy and will make your eyes pop with admiration when he comes driving it in soon.

And while we're handing out posies to our friend V. C. let us add one more word (this is not paid advertising either; merely home town boosting, were boosting is due). Some time ago Mr. Walker received a new shipment of living room suites, which were immediately placed on sale at $69.50.

Three days later this pencil pusher was in Fort Worth and chanced to pass a furniture establishment. We noticed a suite just like the ones received here. Into the store we went and priced the suit. Although we had no intentions of buying, (Continued on back page)

Saturday Last Day To Sign Corn-Hog Contracts

SECOND PAYMENT CHECKS ARRIVE; TOTAL $3,108.00

Saturday, February 23, will be the dead-line for signing Corn-Hog reduction contracts, according to an announcement from County Agent Ross B. Jenkins last night. "Any person eligible to sign a Corn-Hog contract, who has not already done so, should see one of the designated committeemen today or tomorrow", Mr. Jenkins said.

The second payment of Corn-Hog rental checks, totaling $3,108., on 192 of the 204 contracts, was received this week. The payment represents $1.00 per hog being paid at this time. The next and last payment will be made at the rate of $2.00 per hog, less the administrative expenses.

Other announcement of interest to farmers, included in the County Agent's statement of last night follow:

Other Checks Coming
"It has been announced from Washington that the first checks on the pooled certificates from cotton were mailed out this week. The first batch totaling $100,000, was placed in the mails Friday. Information was not obtained whether the checks would go direct to the producers or be sent to the County Agent for distribution.

"The first payment represents two cents per pound, the equivalent of $10. per bale.

Option Checks Received
"Callahan option holders are receiving their checks direct from the government. Not nearly all that have applied for the loan have received it to date. Numerous reports have eked out that the checks have arrived and that they are at the County Agent's office. These rumors are false, and in order to save anyone the trouble to ask about the checks it is hereby stated that all option checks are sent to the holder of the option and are not sent to the County Agent.

"It has been the policy of the County Agent's office to accord such courtesies and accommodations as were within the power of the Agent to help lessen the difficulties in getting checks to producers. Of late, however, it has happened that some of the checks have not been delivered to the party, as shown signed in the County Agent's office. The following precaution is therefore necessary. No check will be released unless the party sending for it shall also send a written order, signed in ink or indelible pencil and have the signature witnessed. However, any person receiving a card of notification that his check has arrived, may send a request for two slips (form 12B) and after those receipts have been signed and returned to the County Agent, the check will be mailed. These regulations are handed down from Washington for protection of the producer".

"There are yet a few men who have not signed a peanut contract but the program is still open. Any committeeman is authorized to complete the contract for producers. A new ruling just issued this week enables all 1933 growers of commercial peanuts to sign a contract regardless of whether he had peanuts in 1934 or not. This is expected to let in quite a number of new signers. Committeemen are: Homer Connell, Clyde; Warren M. Price, Belle Plains; Jim Barr, Cross Plains; C. C. Elliott Cottonwood; Dayton L. Sessions, Atwell.

Cottonwood Girls Cop West Texas Laurel In Tourney Held At Roby Past Week End

Basket ball is a popular game at Cottonwood and girls play it just about as proficiently as the highly touted boys aggregation from that place, which is expected to cop a state championship this year if nothing runs afoul.

Cottonwood girls having won the Callahan county title "in a walk" sought new fields to conquer last week, and as is quite customary for Miss Esther Varner's sextet, they came home victorious.

West Texas "Champs"
The girls entered the All-West Texas tournament at Roby last week-end and sailed through four straight wins for the championship, for which they were awarded a handsome trophy which has been added to the already abundant selection at Cottonwood high school. The Callahan girls defeated Nienda, Loraine, Colorado and Jayton, in the order named; scored 131 points to the oppositions 80, in the four games.

Miss Katherine Champion, Cottonwood forward, was acclaimed by officials as the best performer for her position out of the 25 teams represented at the tournament. A Roby girl was adjudged the best guard.

Cottonwood girls have concluded the season undefeated and having lost only one game in two years.

Personnel of the squad making the trip to Roby was reported to the Review as follows: Minnie and Winnie Coppinger, Katherine Champion, Katherine Shirley, Anna Maud Shirley, Mozelle McElroy, Agnes Varner.

Boys off to Breckenridge
Cottonwood high school boys' basketball team will leave Friday afternoon for Breckenridge, to enter the district tournament. The Callahan five is slated to meet the Palo Pinto County champions in the opening game at Breckenridge. Mineral Wells is expected to be the Palo Pinto nominee.

Should the Cottonwood eagles survive the initial tussel, as is expected, their strongest opposition is expected to be encountered from either Dublin or Carbon. Both towns have well groomed combinations.

All hopes of this territory and county are pinned on Cottonwood for the week end. A bus-load of fans is scheduled to leave Cottonwood shortly after six o'clock Saturday morning for Breckenridge. A number from Cross Plains are also planning to be at the Stephens county seat.

BURKETT CITIZEN SUCCUMBS SUNDAY

Samuel I. Hunter, 98, who died of pneumonia at his home at Burkett Sunday morning, shortly after nine o'clock, was laid to rest in the Cross Cut cemetery Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from the Burkett Church of Christ, with pastor J. P. Salyer officiating.

Mr. Hunter had been ill about two weeks. He is survived by three daughters and two sons. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Higginbothams, Cross Plains.

ARTESIAN WATER IS ENCOUNTERED IN OIL TEST WEST OF TOWN

A vein of artesian water, very palatable for drinking, strong enough to gush itself to the surface, was encountered in an oil test going down near the Comal school building this week. The well is being drilled by Alex Thate.

It is understood that the water vein struck at less than 300 feet.

AUBRA DODSON GIVES POLITICAL HOT SHOTS FROM CAPITOL CITY

There are very few days here that I do not meet some old friend from up-state. A couple of weeks ago I met with W. E. Tyler and Azel Shults, of Rising Star. I sure enjoyed seeing them very much. And by the way, a few days I saw an ol' Cross Plainsite, F. M. Gwinn. I visited with him about three hours in his hotel room. He tells me that he is now whooping up the oil news for Odessa and Ector County. I also notice that he has the old column back in the Star Telegram. Gwinn is one of the best oil field reporters in Texas, so the oil editors say.

See, I didn't know when I was palavering my little ditty a couple of weeks ago that Mrs. Sarah Hughes, the little lady Representative from Dallas, was so soon to break in headlines. Gov. Alford appointed her District Judge in her home town. Well, the Senator from Dallas—Claude Weterfield—kicked plum over the dash board about it. He asked the Senate to extend him what they call senatorial courtesy and not confirm her. Well, it "kinda" had the Senators worried and for a few days they wanted to extend him the old courtesy custom. But there is nothing that will change a Senator as quickly as the possibility of losing votes. And when they began to consider the woman vote of Texas, they confirmed her.

Another funny thing happened in connection with Mrs. Hughes' appointment. It was very hot here for several days and the news reporters were all guessing about how the senators would vote on the confirmation. Of course, they held the confirmation session in secret. But one Dick Vaughn, reporter for the Houston Press (and a darn good one) figures out how they all voted—who was for her and who against her—and shot a story to his paper that the Senate had confirmed Mrs. Hughes and how each individual Senator had voted on the issue. Well, the dickens of it was, he got it right and the Senators went in the air. They passed a resolution to call him before the body at 10 o'clock Thursday morning to tell them, who had divulged the information. Well, I think they thought he would beg for mercy and that's what they wanted. But the editor of the Houston Press sent a lawyer to Austin on the next train (a good lawyer too) so reporter Vaughn goes before the Senate at the appointed time. The Senators all take it time about asking his questions and one Senator called the names of every member of the body and asked if he—and he, and he—had given out the information. To each, the reporter answered emphatically "No". Well, he had them flabbergasted and so they just "kinda" broke down and humbly asked him to tell them how he got the information. So, he explained that he had just applied the principles of old fashioned arithmetic—adding and subtracting—and knowing each Senator's politics as he did, he just figured it out. Well, the session broke up in a love fest. After it was over the Senators and many of those in the gallery gathered around the reporter to shake hands with him. And by the way, the galleries broke the rules a couple of times during his testimony and cheered. The Lieutenant Governor threatened to throw them out.

Saw Cecil Lotief as I was coming to town this morning and he was hurrying to the Capitol. He was a little late and was as worried as if he had been a little late opening his store.

BUY RIGHT OF WAY WITH WARRANTS IS COMMISSION'S PLAN

A resolution pledging the Commissioners Court to issue time warrants to purchase right-of-way on the proposed highway 36, from the Gulf coast through Cross Plains and on to Abilene, was passed by Callahan County Commissioners in session last week.

The motion offered by Commissioner Pete King, of precinct three, and seconded by Grover Clare, of precinct two, follows:

"Whereas; Hon. W. R. Ely, State Highway Commissioner, has informed this Commissioners Court that time warrants issued against the road and bridge fund of Callahan county may be used, to secure right-of-way for highway 36, through precinct four, of said county, and that precinct warrants issued against the special 15 cent road and bridge tax of said precinct four, may be issued against said general county time warrants; "Be it resolved, by the Commissioners Court of Callahan County, Texas, in regular session, on this the thirteenth day of February, A. D. 1935, that this court is in favor of securing said right-of-way in the manner above suggested by the Honorable W. R. Ely, and that when said right-of-way is so secured, and the indebtedness therefor created, the said Road and Bridge county time warrants, and the said warrants of said precinct four, be issued for said indebtedness, and the tax levies be made in accordance with law upon the issuance of both classes of said warrants."

The motion was unanimously passed with the following Commissioners voting: Borah O. Brame, Grover Clare, Pete King, B. H. Freeland; and J. H. Carpenter presiding.

Ely favors Road While the action of the Commissioners Court does not definitely assure the completion of highway 36, it was believed by those familiar with the proposed road to be the most important step possible at this time. It is understood that the highway has been hitherto postponed because of the county's inability to purchase right-of-way.

Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely was quoted last week by a reliable source as saying that if Callahan county would secure the right-of-way that a construction contract would be awarded and that work would begin immediately. Most other counties along the route have already secured the necessary right-of-way.

Equitable Distribution

Since the recently voted 15 cent road and bridge tax will be used to pledged to issue time warrants against the county warrants to be used in purchasing right-of-way, it should be understood, that a pro rata amount will likewise be spent North of Cross Plains for the improvement of lateral roads for those to whom the highway would be of little benefit, said County Commissioner B. H. Freeland to the Review yesterday.

"I plan to spend as much in Atwell and those other communities for the improvement of roads as is paid in from there in taxation; which I believe is an equitable means of distribution," Mr. Freeland stated.

The next step to be taken on the road is that of securing right-of-way, and Mr. Freeland plans to begin immediately interviewing land owners.

"Unless land for the road can be secured upon an economical basis, it may be impossible to further the program", the Review was told by a reliable source.

Earnest Davis of Hamlin was a visitor here Monday.

Mrs. L. W. Westerman had as guest Monday her sister Mrs. Henderson of Burkett.

MRS. WALLACE JONES IS HOSTESS TO DEMO. CLUB

The Dressy Community H.D.C. club met Thurs. of last week in regular session at the home of Mrs. Wallace Jones, with nineteen members present. Two of which were new, Mrs. J. L. Cavanaugh and Mrs. Clint McGee.

Due to the absence of Miss Vida Moore County Demonstrator there was no demonstration as had been planned.

The afternoon was spent mostly in the planning of a good goal for this year. Which is to be something toward the improvement of the church, school and cemetery grounds.

Next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Fred Stacy, February 28.

Refreshments of fruit salad with whipped cream. Apple pie, cake and hot chocolate was served members and Mrs. C. M. Garrett and Miss Christine McGee.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE SHOULD BE LIQUID

(Ask any doctor)

For your own comfort, and for your children's safety and future welfare, you should read this:

The bowels cannot be helped to regularity by any laxative that can't be regulated as to dose. That is why doctors use liquid laxatives.

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

The right liquid laxative dose gives the right amount of help. When repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It will clear up a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset. Every druggist has it.

WHEN you are suffering, you want relief—not tomorrow—not next week—but right away. DR. MILES' ANTI-PAIN PILLS relieve in just a few minutes—less than half the time required for many other pain-relieving medicines to act.

Next time you have a Headache, or Neuralgia, or Muscular, Sciatic, Rheumatic, or Periodic Pains, just take an Anti-Pain Pill. Learn for yourself how prompt and effective these little pain relievers are. You will never again want to use slower, less effective, less palatable medicines, after you have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

I am much pleased with your Anti-Pain Pills. They sure are wonderful for a headache and for functional pains. I have tried every kind of pills for headache, but none satisfied me as your Anti-Pain Pills have. Ann Mikitko, St. Benedict, Pa.

HINTS TO THE BOOKLOVER

By Marie McVelia

There are several interesting and entertaining books in our CPHS library. Our book, report this week is one Shadows On The Rock, by Willa Cather.

Quebec as it lived and breathed day by day in the days of the great Frontenac and as these things impressed themselves upon the mind of a thoughtful and deeply religious child, this is the fabric of Miss Cather's Novel. The entire thought of the book revolves around the life in Quebec. Outside of Quebec there is perilous wilderness. France the home country of the people of Quebec is an ocean away. The story of this book moves rather slowly, but the book is interesting. It would be advisable for students to read this book.

The second book we intend to report on is: As The Earth Turns by Gladys Carroll.

This book contrasts city and country life. The story is simply told. It revolves around the lives of a country family. Mrs. Carroll, the author, in her book revealed the beauty and dignity of life in running a farm. The principle character is Jen, she is a good house wife and a kind creature, she has a simple understanding kindness that makes people try to feel worthy of it. This is an interesting and very entertaining novel.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, attacks of dizziness, burning scanty or too frequent urination, getting "up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out". Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

COURTESY

The person who is cordial, genial, tactful, and appreciative is always welcome at social gatherings. If you do not feel at ease in social groups, you can quickly overcome this feeling by forgetting yourself in thinking of others, and by extending to them some little act of courtesy. When you are talking to someone, be interesting and he will be interesting. Always be a good listener and be tactful and alert and reserved. Always speak quietly and distinctly and above all, use good English.

A person, who is always boasting or is too persistent is not courteous. He is always too eager to take up the conversation in order to tell about his brother, sister, father, house, or other things about himself. He interrupts people when he shouldn't and talks too fast. If he flatters his listeners too much, he is neither courteous nor interesting.

There are many ways in which you can be courteous to your friends. You should always choose a good and interesting subject and never mumble your words. Another common fault we often have is neglecting to introduce a stranger. It is very embarrassing to the strange and to the other people who do not know him. Everyone wishes to know to whom he is talking, or he may not know what to say. You can talk with greater ease, if you know whom you are talking to. These are some of the most common faults we have in talking and trying to be courteous to our friends. You should watch these things and try to be more courteous and interesting and be at ease with your friends and, therefore, make them more at ease with you.

Sport News

By Jay Mayes Sports news is very quiet this week as basketball season is gone and forgotten. However tennis is going strong. Most of the tournaments have been played off.

So we now turn your attention to the county track meet to be held in Baird next March. Old CPHS has the best record of any school in the district, so we must all take a part and keep that record.

Guessing The Future

Making predictions concerning what future years will bring forth has long been an interesting, if generally futile, indoor sport. A writer in Le Matin of Paris recently recalled some of the prophecies of the monk, Theodosius, whose writings were discovered in an old monastery.
In the year 932 Theodosius tried to predict some of the things which would or would not happen in the coming 1,000 years, so that time is up. Here are some of his guesses:

That Mohammedanism would be destroyed, the Cross having conquered the Crescent. But there are still more than 200 million Mohammedans in the world.

That the demand for books would cause pious monks to spend nights and days copying manuscripts of the great bishops. He did not foresee the invention of printing.

That while the magnetic power of rubbed amber was interesting, nothing important would come of it. This phenomenon was later developed and became the clue to the discovery of electricity.

That it was madness to think man could ever fly, or raise himself into the air like a bird. Another poor guess.

But with respect to his skepticism about flying, Theodosius was no farther wrong than a certain United States Congressman of only 32 years ago, who opposed an appropriation for airplane experiments, declaring that mechanical flight was impossible of accomplishment. A few months later the Wright brothers flew at Kitty Hawk and everybody knows what has happened since.

Use Your Arms

More accidents than can be accounted for have been caused by the failure of motorists to use their arms in making signals while driving in traffic. The simple task of holding out the hand to indicate a stop or a turn has been the cause of preventing thousands of accidents and hundreds of deaths. We venture to assert that every motorist in and around Cross Plains is familiar with the hand signals used in motoring—and yet a large percent of them make absolutely no effort to give such signals when they are driving. There is no excuse for anyone's failure to do so, for anyone who knows enough to operate a car certainly knows enough to use the hand and arm for signaling purposes. The next accident that occurs in this community may find you involved. Don't let it be said, after it's over, that it would not have occurred had you used the proper signals.

Shopping Courtesy

In a Cross Plains store recently a woman made a small change, after a tiresome inspection of goods, and after the clerk had patiently and courteously answered all of her many questions. In giving the charge thereupon declared with an air of injured dignity that she had been short-changed. The clerk apologized for the error, but he had to meekly submit to her insult just the same.

Every now and then one witnesses such cases—and in almost every case sympathizes with the clerk. Men and women who are ordinarily polite and considerate of other's often act toward salespeople as though they were there to be insulted. They do not consider that clerks spend long hours on their feet, that they are not overpaid and that they are not back of the counter because they like the work but because in most instances they have someone dependent upon them. Why anyone should seek to quarrel with them when they know the clerk will be fired if he engages in a quarrel is past understanding.

The least anyone can do is to be courteous and considerate to those who wait on them. It also pays to do so, in several ways. The really worth-while people are always kind. It's the small potatoes and few in a hill" type of people who are not.

We appeared interested. A sleek, young salesman after a very persuasive speech declared: "This is a $129.50 suit but we would make it to you for $110.00 Now mind you, the two pieces of furniture—the one in Fort Worth and the one on sale here—were identical. The same brand, upholstering and probably from the same mill, but the big town Johnnie wanted $40.50 more.

Moral: 99 times out of 99 you can save money by trading at home, especially if you live in Cross Plains.

PLAYS OF INTEREST
CARDED AT LIBERTY
FOR COMING 7 DAYS

The following attractions for the coming week were announced by W. A. Beavers, manager of the Liberty Theatre.

"Randy Rides Alone"

Imparting to the screen the same reckless abandon that characterized his play while a football star in his college days, John Wayne, famous western hero, appears on the screen of the Liberty Theatre Friday night in his latest Lone Star production, "Randy Rides Alone."

Forsaking caution, Wayne gave his followers many uneasy moments as he performed almost superhuman stunts in eluding a sheriff's posse, first on his horse, then by some fancy swimming in a rock-infested mountain stream.

As the title implies, the hero, rode alone in his attempts to break up a gang of outlaws. In distress, he called for help on the part of pretty Alberta Vaughn, who plays the leading feminine role, and after a thrilling encounter with the leader of outlaws and their ultimate capture, he rode away, but with Miss Vaughn at his side.

"Whom The Gods Destroy"

This picture is carded for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The story concerns John Forrester, noted stage producer, who having attained the pinnacle of fame, wishes to perpetuate the name of Forrester, through his son. Even Forrester's great love of the theatre, forces way to the greater love for his boy.

Forrester is caught in a sea disaster, and though he tries hard to remain heroic, his love for his wife and son panics him into disguising himself as a woman to get a place in a lifeboat. He is rescued, but later discovers that the papers have branded him a hero and printed stories of his brave death. Rather than admit his cowardice, blench his son's name, he assumes an alias.

His life then becomes a thing of the past—and from this past he comes to guide his unknowing son on to success and happiness—to become a true Forrester.

Credit for the fine direction goes to Walter Lang. Bouquets to the supporting cast, which includes Robert Young, Doris Kenyon, Hobart Bosworth, Gilbert Emery, Jack Mulhall, Mary Carr, Rollo Lloyd, Geneva Mitchell, Henry Kolker and Scotty Beckett for fine performances.

"Spitfire"

This picture is billed for Wednesday and Thursday.

It is the story of an untaamed lass who lives alone in a crude cabin in the sparsely settled hills, earning a meager living by washing clothes. Her character is one of the most unique in the annals of the screen and one of startling contradictions; one moment she prays with a child-like faith in God, whereas in the next instant she is a flaming, fighting wildcat. It is only when love enters her soul that she shows signs of womanly surrender. And this surrender is as impetuous as her hostility in her other moods.

She falls in love with a young engineer on a nearby dam project and blindly, innocently gives him her heart and her kisses, believing him when he tells her that he is not married. She is saved from his ulterior designs and regenerated by the unselfish love of this man's superior on the construction work at the dam, a man who is able to see beneath the surface of her vixenish exterior and appreciate the sterling qualities of her inner and usually hidden nature.
