Carlton Powell is in line to become an examiner for national banks, if ability and recommendations count he should get the job pronto.

Selah! Its funny at first but the novelty soon wears off. Take a tip from an old-timer.

* * * * * See by the press, where our good friends up at Baird claim to have gotten the first bale of Callahan county cotton Tuesday. Just for the sake of keeping their records straight we correct that Cross Plains buyers had purchased two bales before the county seat boys ever saw any 1933 lint.

Yes, sir, you have to get up early and hurry a lot to beat these Cross Plains farmers. They keep old "Beck" and "Jude" in a trot down here.

This braying like a jackass on Main Street is the latest of practical jokes. Apparently the new pastime is slated to take the place of the one time snipe hunting.

The idea is this: a group of people, who know the game, will entice some innocent person into a game of cards (something like Old Maid) with the understanding that the loser perform some silly stunt, to be decided upon after the game is finished. Invariably, the uninformed party loses and the penalty is that he, or she, bray like a donkey on Main Street.

Prediction Places Crop As Being Only 50 Bales Of Short Last Year

A composite estimate made by 25 local men-ginners, buyers, merchants, weighers and market observers-Tuesday afternoon set the cotton 'wagon receipts' for Cross Plains at 2,750 bales from the 1933 crop.

This year's acreage, according to at least 15 farmers, is practically the same as last year despite the recent plow-up program. Last year's yield 'Wagon receipts'-upon what the local estimate is based—includes all cotton handled in Cross Plains through the local yard or gins.

The way this year's cotton crop, which has been estimated at 2,-750 bales, will compare with yields of the past 12 years is shown in the following chart. 'Round num-

Here Monday; Brings $60.00 With Premium

Cross Plains' first bale of cotton from the 1933 crop, grown by Owen Renfro on the Joe Austin place West of here, was sold in town Monday. The bale weighed 482 pounds. It was bought by E. D. Priest, representing B. L. Boydstun, for nine cents a pound bringing $43.38.

Local merchants made up a premium of $17.00 and presented it to Mr. Renfro, making the first bale bring $60.38.

The first bale was brought in a month and three days later last year by Henry Thate.

C. D. Baird at Dressy. Two other farmers had bales almost ready for the market Monday afternoon also, they were Lee Payne and Wilbur Stacy, both of whom reside West of town.

"I hardly know how to express my gratitude for the generous premium given by Cross Plains merchants, but I would like for them to know that I appreciate it far more than words can express", Renfro told the Review editor as the prize was handed him.

FATAL TO FORMER CROSS PLAINS BOY

Lewis Heslep, 13, who was fatally injured when fell off a bicycle at Houston Sunday night, was interred in the Belle Plain cemetery, 12 miles Northwest of here, Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Joe R. Mays, Baptist pastor at Baird, conducted the service.

Witnesses to the accident at Houston said that the youth had been swinging to the side of a motor truck, and when the truck pulled in toward the curb to let another car pass the boy was thrown from his bicycle to the pavement. He was taken to a Houston hospital, where he died at seven o'clock Sunday night with a fracture of the skuil.

Surviving are his parents Mr. and Mrs. Cage Heslep and an older sister Earnestine. The Tesleps formerly re_ sided in Cross Plains, moving from here several years ago. Mr. Heslep was a rig builder in the oil field here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Heslep are pioneer resides in the vicinity of Putnam and hers at Baird.

A number of Cross Plains people attended the funeral.

Albert Gatlin, also a former Cross Plains resident, accompanied the Heslep family from Houston to Belle Plain for the funeral.

JOHN LEE SERIOUSLY ILI. THURSDAY NOON

John Lee, veteran Cross Plains farmer, was said by attending physicians to be in a critical condition at noon Thursday. Dr. Eli Powell told the Review that his condition was about as dangerous as possible. He is suffering with heart ailment and kidney trouble.

Thornton and O. C. Hart visited their aunt, Miss Clara Westerman, over the week end enroute from New Orleans to their home in Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jackson and children visited in Abilene Saturday.

"TRADES DAY" HERE IS CHANGED FROM SECOND TO THE THIRD MONDAY

Trades day in Cross Plains has been shifted from second Monday until the third in each month. The change was announced yesterday by local men to cooperate with adjacent towns, whose trades day schedules were interrupted by the holding of the event on second Monday here.

The first third Monday trades day will be held in September; it will be the eighteenth.

Trades days in this immediate vicinity, as announced yesterday by local authorities, are as follow: first Monday, Eastland; second Monday, Cisco; third Monday, Cross Plains and tourth Monday, Rising Star.

City's Lawyers Preparing Reply To Southwest's Charges In Federal Court

With more than eight miles of pipe line already laid within the city limits, T. C. Kelly construction boss, told the Review Thursday at noon that the finishing touches were being placed on the system proper, before tying into consumers lines, "Our only delay now is waiting for Anderson and Lane to get the supply to the city

While Anderson and Lane are laying their line, the city has arranged for a temporary supply of gas from shallow wells South of town. At least a dozen consumers are expected to be tied into the line by Friday noon and will be served from the temporary supply.

The crew of men working on the municipal project had been reduced to 10 yesterday.

Collins Home First

Mayor S. P. Collins' residence will be the first in town to be connected with municipal gas, due to the fact that his home is the first inside city limits from the South.

City Answers Charges

City councilmen were notified last week that they had 20 days, in which to file answer to charges brought by the Southwest Gas Company, in federal court, at Abilene. An aldermen told the Review yesterday morning that Scarborough and Ely were preparing the reply and that it would be in the hands of Federal Judge Wilson in due time.

The gas company's allegations were. "1. That the city of Cross Plains granted the Southwest Gas Company an exclusive franchise, and therefore has no right to go into the gas business in competition with them"

"2. That the city has no right to enter the gas business because to do franchise contract given by the city to the Southwest Gas Company".

"3. That the city is insolvent and in the hands of a Receiver, and has no authority to issue scrip warrants to go into the gas business".

Man Who Sold $85,000 Worth of Townsite Property Here in 1911 Succumbs in Edinburg Hospital Sunday

Rufus J. Lackland, 69, who sold $85,000 worth of Cross Plains townsite property in one day in 1911, died of heart attack in an Edinburg hospital shortly after noon Sunday.

Early residents of this place recall Lankland as the 'philosophical auctioneer'. In selling Cross Plains property in the townsite boom in 1911, he pictured this section as a modern come true. He visited here several times in later years, and on each occasion he is said to have remarked to friends, "Cross Plains is destined to become one of the leading trading trading centers in west central Texas"

Born in 1864 at Reagan, Mr. Lackland received his education in the public schools of that city. He began his business career at the age of 7 as

Cottonwood vs. Scranton

Cottonwood and Scranton played an interesting game of baseball at Cottonwood on last Friday afternoon, it being the sixth game played this year in which these two teams competed for honors. The score stood six to three. Cottonwood has won every game thus far over Scranton, some of the scores being very close, The game on last Friday was a close one for several innings. The line-up for Cottonwood was as follows:

* * * * * * Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Lee on the 8th, a girl. This is the sixth addition to Will's family. Will says that the size of his family is not worrying him, as his children help him out as they get older.

* * * * * * Herbert Harrell and Jack Arnold of Brownwood were in town on Monday. Both are in the cotton business, Mr. Arnold having just returned from Corpus Christi where he has been engaged in this line.

I Want a "Jitney"

I want a "Jitney" therefore, I offer the following for sale: One heifer calf, half Jersey and half Durham full breed. Its mother is now giving about four gallons on grass alone. Good horse and buggy and very good harness, winter laprobe etc. Must be all cash. Horse is perfectly gentle and trustworthy. C. C. Tyler, Cross Plains, Texas.

* * * * * * At John Lee's rats must be getting scarce. On last Thursday he and his neighbors had a rat killing, in which 126 turned up their toes. They were found mostly in a barn where feed had been kept. On with the fight. Let's see who can kill the most rats in one day, or every day. Don't forget to slay every rabbit you can also. He is getting to be as dangerous as the rat.

SOME DAY you'll look back to the summer of 1933 and say: "Imagine! A Goodyear Tire for only $5.00!"

Yet even these remarkable low prices mean nothing unless the tire is built right. Along with these extraordinary prices for the new Pathfinder you get the highest quality in the moderate price field Goodyear has ever attained.

This new Pathfinder is a bigger value than the old Pathfinder. It has the bigger safety margin of FULL CENTER TRACTION—bigger mileage from the 20 PER CENT THICKER TREAD—stouter body of heat-resisting Supertwist Cord—and other improvements that make it a still better buy than the 17,000,000 Pathfinders that went before.

Look at the All-Weather values, also! This great thoroughbredthe finest tire that money can buy -waves an alluring price tag.

PASTOR'S FAREWELL. SERMON SCHEDULED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Graves Darby, Baptist pastor, has announced that he will preach his farewell sermon at the church Sunday night. His resignation has been tendered and will take effect after that date.

Schedule for the morning services, Sunday School and preaching-will be the same as last Sunday, in order that the pastor may leave a few minutes early for Burkett, where he is conducting a revival.

The Rev. Darby will preach in a meeting at Fluvanna, shortly after the close of the revival at Burkett.

LOCAL OPTOMETRIST ATTENDS CONVENTION AT COLEMAN TUESDAY

Central Texas optometrists met in annual convention at Coleman Tuesday. L. M. Bond, of this place, attended.

Principal speaker of the convention was Dr. E. B. Alexander, vicepresident of the American Optometric Association. He pointed out to the large gathering the part that the profession should take in the N.R.A. movement and assured that optometrists everywhere would cooperate with President Roosevelt to the letter.

In speaking of the advancement that the optometry profession is undergoing at the present time, Dr. Alexander said," "No profession has made greater strides in recent years than ours and a code protecting us from unscrupulous manufactures should strengthen the profession in the esteem of the public. Only a few years ago, the fitting of glasses was more or less guess work. Now an examination of the eyes is virtually an exact science, thanks to modern instruments and methods. Every year the profession is learning still better methods. These advances are brought to local Optometrists by lectures and demonstrations as part of an Extension Program to be carried out by the State Optometric Association, through zone meetings and clinics during the coming year."

A&P STORES FALL

Announcement has been made from headquarters of the A&P stores that the first week the N.R.A. code became effective 8,340 employees were added to its staff and an $8,264,152 increase in salaries.

"With complete readjustment within a few days, these figures will of course be increased", the announcement said.

B. F. RUSSELL MADE ATTORNEY FOR HOME

Callahan County's set up for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation has been completed with the confirmation of B. F. Russell as Attorney and J. Rupert Jackson as Appraiser for the corporation in this county.

This is one of President Roosevelt's "New Deal" organizations created by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of re-financing home owners who are in danger of losing their homes by foreclosure. Mortgages on homes will be taken up by the corpration by an exchange of its bonds to the mortgage holder up to 80 per cent of the appraised value of the home. These bonds will be for a term of 15 years and will bear four per cent interest which will be guaranteed by the Federal Government. The principal will be secured by the assets of the corporation which will consist entirely of first mortgages on homesteads bearing five per cent in-

In certain instances cash will be advanced by the corporation to take up indebedness, provided the amount necessary to retire all of the debt against the home is not in excess of 40 per cent of the appraised value of the property.

In both cases the borrower may secure cash to pay the expense of appraisal, title examination, recording fees, abstract, and unpaid taxes, provided that the total amounts are not in excess of the 40 and 80 per

In all cases there must be an emergency and the home owner unable to get an extention of his debt or to secure funds from any other source. Also the consent of the mortgage holder must be had where payment is made in bonds.

The act as passed by Congress includes all homes not in excess of $20,000, in value, whether in cities and towns or in the country, but the policies, rules and regulations of the corporation to a large extent, have been lodged in the hands of the management located in Washington, James Shaw, former Banking Commissioner of Texas, has been placed in charge of all loans to be in Texas. The state has been divided into three Districts each of which will be administered through an assistant named by Mr. Shaw. Each County in the State will have a local Attorney and Appraiser.

According to information received by the local Attorney, B. F. Russell, final instructions have not yet been received, but a few application blanks may be secured at his office, in Baird where assistance will be gladly given in filling out the forms. No fees can be charged for filling out applications for loans, and a severe penalty is provided by the law for any violation of this provision.

Minutes, Please

The Review wants to obtain a 'straw vote' on the beer question, which will be aecided at the polls Saturday, August 26. Will YOU please fill in the 'test ballot beneath and mail, send or bring to the Review office before next Wednesday?. You do not even have to sign your name and there is no strings attached. We simply want to secure the 'staw vote' for a news story on the question next week. In no event will anyone's name be mentioned (in fact we do not want you to put your name on the 'test ballot' beneath).

It is highly necessary that a large number of these ballots be received at the Review office, in order to secure anything like a representative sentiment.

You may—and we hope you will—send in your preference in the matter even if you do not have a vote in the forthcoming election, however, we are especially interested in receiving a large number of replys from qualified voters.

Please be kind enough to render your home town paper this slight courtesy. In no way will it injure you or cause embarassment. While on the other hand if you lend your cooperation in this matter you may secure a very good idea as to how the election will go, in your home town paper next week.

It makes no difference whether you live in Callahan county or not. We want you to reply, in order that our 'test ballot' will cover the entire Cross Plains trade territory. Returns will be listed for Callahan and all adjoining counties according to the replies received.

Your home town paper is making a serious effort to keep you informed to the minute on this important issue. We have no interest in the matter, save, to Please render us this favor. Fill in the 'test ballot' beneath and then get your neighbor to do the same. If you do not have enough 'ballots' to go around, just write answers to the following questions on a slip of paper and send as many together as you like. Every member of the family above 21, should vote. The more the merrier we will be and the better representative sentiment you will receive in next week's Review.

'STRAW VOTE'

Without obligation in any way, I submit my choice on the 'beer question' to be voted on August 26, and with the understanding that these ballots will be destroyed immediately after they have been counted. Scratch the one you are against.

Mysterious Letter Is Found, Said To Be Written by Christ

Editors Note: The following traditional letter has been sent to the Review by a subscriber, who was somewhat upset as a result of ill luck she had witnessed since the missive came into her possession. The jinks that overshadows the possessor of the letter in told hereunder.

The Review publishes it merely for its unusual news value.

gether with the statement that misfortune and bad luck would follow the person having possession of it in event it was not given publicity.

There was likewise a promise that whoever may have a copy in his or her possession will prosper and be followed by good fortune.

According to the history of the letter. It was written by Christ just atter the crucifixion, signed by the angel Gabriel, 99 years after the Savior's birth and presumably deposied by him under a stone at the foot of

On the stone appeared the legend, "Blessed is he who shall turn me

No one knows what the inscription meant, or seemed to have sufficient curiosity to investigate until the stone was turned over by little child and the letter which was discovered:

"Whoever works on the Sabbath shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and to keep holy the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle, or spend your time bedecking yourself with superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing for I have ordered it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy that your sins may be forgiven you.

"You will not break any commandments but will observe and keep them, they being written by my hand and spoken by my mouth. Not only go to church yourselves, but allow your man servants and your maid servants. Observe my words and learn my commandments.

"You shall finish your work every Saturday afternoon at six o'clock at which time the preparation for the Sabbath begins.

I advise you to fast five days in the year, beginning on good Friday and continuing the five days following in rememberance of my death for

"You shall love one another and cause them that are not baptized to come to church and received the holy sacrament and the supper of the Lord and be made a member thereof and in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings. Your land will be replenished and bring forth abundantly and I will comfort you in greatest temptation and surely he that doeth to the contrary shall be cursed.

"I will also send hardness of heart to them, and especially the poor shall find it profitable. Remember to keep the Sabbath for the seventh day I have taken as a resting day to my-

"And he that hath a copy of this letter written by my own hand and spoken out of my own mouth and keepeth it without publishing it to others, shall not prosper, but he that publisheth it to others shall be blessed by me, if their sins be as many as the stars in the night, and they believe not this letter and my commandments will have my plague upon you and you will be consumed with your children, goods and cattle and all other world goods that I have given you. Do but once think of what I have suffered for you; if you do it will be well for you in the world which is to come.

"Whosoever shall keep a copy of this letter and keep it in the house, nothing shall harm them neither pestilence, thunder nor lightning, and if any woman be in birth and put her rust in me she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more news of me except through the Holy Scripture until the day of judgment. All goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where a copy of this. letter shall be found."

The story is that the little girl who found it passed it to one who became a convert to the Chri faith. He failed to have the letter published. He kept it as a sacred memento of Christ and gave it down to different generations of his family for more than one thousand years.

"During this period the family suffered misfortune, migrated to different countries and finally one of them came to America bringing the letter with him. They settled in Virginia and then moved further south. still followed by misfortune, when finally the last member, .a daughter, approached her death bed and called a neighbor and then gave her the letter, relating its history of more than a thousand years. The Thompson woman began the attempt to have it published and it first appeared in Rome, Georgia, in the Tribune on October 31st, 1891. It then appeared in the Dalton, Georgia, Citizen. Mrs. Wortham, now living in Marion, Ind., clipped it and kept it in her possession many years without an effort to have it published. She was followed by misfortune, which she attributed to no attempt to have the letter published.

Mrs. Ruby Crutchfield of Trezvant, Tenn., is said to have a copy and failed to make an effort to have it published for three years and was folled by a varied lot of misfortunes which she attributed to the fact of neglect in this respect-

In a brief conversation with him this week, when he had no idea we were taking notes upon his remarks, the Review editor learned many interesting, first-hand facts about the old Confederacy that history books never record.

He recalls seeing slaves being almost flogged to death, the election and assasination of Abraham Lincoln, the surrender of General Robert E. Lee, most esteemed of all Confederate warriors, the carpetbag politicans that one time threatened the government of the weakened Southern states and virtually every other in- history.

When asked how people generally felt over the assasination of President Lincoln, Mr. Gafford without hesitancy or 'deliberation replied "All deep thinking men and women knew that it was perhaps the bitterest blow possible for the South. We had confidence in him and believed that when the war was over he would make the problem of reconstruction in the Confederacy less difficult. However, there were a few that thought John Wilkes Booth had done something smart and were in sympathy with him, this class was greatly in the minority, however", he declared.

GARNER CALLS UPON

Because it violates a fundamental principle of government and has not produced 'a satisfactory or effective solution of the temperance problem Vice President John N. Garner calls upon the people of Texas to vote for the repeal of the Eighteenth amend-

The Vice President's plea was contained in a letter addressed to Roy Miller, Texas Director of the Demo_ cratic National Campaign and released from Committee Headquarters Thursday. The letter in full follows:

In response to your inquiry as to my position concerning the Eighteenth Amendment. I beg to remind you that I voted against its submission when it was first presented to Congress because I believed it violated a fundamental principle of government. Since then I have availed myself of every opportunity to assist in bringing about its repeal.

In obedience to the platform of the last Democratic National Convention and on the first day of the session of Congress following, as Speaker, I submitted the question of repeal to a vote of the House of Representatives. I considered it my duty to do so because the American people, by overwhelming, vote, had ratified the party platform which demanded repeal.

That the Eighteenth Amendment has not accomplished the results expected of it, even by its advocates, all will agree. That it has not produced a satisfactory or effective solution of the temperance problem is the judgement of a vast majority of the people of this Republic.

I shall exercise my duty as a citizen on the 26th of August by voting to epeal the Eighteenth Amendment and trust that every citizen of Texas likewise go to the polls and perform a similar duty. I especially urge my fellow Democrats to thus support the party and fts leadership.

Small Town Is Necessary

Two things have come out of the depression that are worth noting. The large centers of population have discovered that they cannot get along without the country. The small communiities have discovered that they can make their own life without much worrying concerning large cities. For long it was a habit of big cities to display airs of superiority to the so-called "rural communities." They have pretended to believe that the small town was passing into eclipse, and that people would flock to big cities and make them more and more important and influential. And, also, a lot of "country" people, lured by the glamor of the cities, have left the countryside. They have discovered, many of them too late, that life in the small communities has a thousand advantages not possessed by large centers, and that the mush-room development of big ! cities has been a bad, not too good thing. Today the small city is taking on a new dignity and individuality. We see everywhere the proof that the small community is realizing its possibilities, forgetting to ape the manners of the more artificial "centers of population," and attending enthusiastically to the duty of building a destiny for itself. As the small community becomes strengthened, and as the farm community becomes more independent, the hibit Building. large city will prosper too. What we need in America is vitality of individual effort, and this is what the small city will give in the next generation as it did in the past. The disillusioned folk who thought that the bright

In Memory of Glenn And Ruth Adams

By Marie Williams

Two beautiful lives, so pure, Have faded from us here; Tho' nine months lapsed between, Their happiness now is so supreme.

Their trials and heartaches were many.

But they loved each other's company; They climbed the ladder together. And twice she became a Mother.

They were a beautiful pair, Always neat and played fair; They strived to reach the highest, But "The end is here" said the Mightiest.

We can see them smile and say, "Sail on Sail on! We are happy today,

And are patiently awaiting, so true, Until the end for each you".

In Memory of Ruth

Since you came to us. Eleven years have passed; Tho' few in number They cannot be surpassed.

You were a beautiful flower That HE sent to us; And our lives have gained For having known you thus.

Your life with us here, Has not been all happiness, But it has shown as stars, With purity and with brightness.

Tho' you have gone from us Just as a flower withered, Your life here on earth Will live and be gathered.

We know your happiness there. With your loved ones everywhere, Is beyond our imagination, But in the end we'll meet you there.

So, until that beautiful day, When we shall meet above, Keep watch over us, Direct and guard our love.

THAT SECOND MILE

WHAT did Henry Ford mean, one spring morning, when he tipped a kitchen chair back against the whitewashed wall of his career?

"Have you ever noticed that the man who starts out in life with a determination to make money, never makes very much?" he asked. It was rather a startling question; and without waiting for my comment he went on to answer it: "He may gather together a competence, of course, a few tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands, but he'll never amass a really great fortune. But let a man start out in life to build something better than it has ever beenbuilt before—let him have that determination, and give his whole self to it —and the money will roll in so fast that it will bury him if he doesn't look out.

"When we were building our original model do you suppose that it was money we were thinking about? Of course, we expected that it would be profitable, if it succeeded, but that wasn't in the front of our minds. wanted to make a car so cheap that every family in the United States could afford to have one. So we worked morning, noon and night, until our muscles ached and our nerves were so ragged that it seemed as if we couldn't stand it to hear any one mention the word automobile again. One night, when we were almost at the breaking point I said to the boys, 'Well, there's one consolation,' I said. 'Noboly can take this business away from us unless he's willing to work harder than we've worked.' And so far," he concluded with a whimsical smile, "nobody has been willing to do that."

What did Theodore N. Vail mean when he said that only once in his life did he set out with the deliberate intention of making money—that all the rest of his fortune had the money? The one occasion to which he referred was come from work which so gripped him that he forgot about his trip to South America where he found a mine that did prove profitable, and doubtless still is. He made that trip because he had lost all his money in an effort to establish a big central heating plant in Boston—to give people better warmth, as he had already helped to give them better communication. The heating plant failed, and he paid its debts with the South American mine. But the bulk of his fortune came from the achievement for which he will always be remembered—the establishment of the American Telphone and Telegraph Company. To that great enterprise he gave everything he had-"threw his life into it," as we say-"lost his life in it," as Jesus said. And it gave him back larger and richer life, and a fortune and immortality.

"Whosoever shall thee to go a smile," said Jesus, "go with him twain."

LARYNGITIS

I am struggling today with an attack of laryngitis. It occurs to me that my readers may be interested. You may get an attack, you know.

The larnynx is the "vocal box" where the sounds of the voice are moulded into words. The "itis" signifies inflammation of the vocal cords. The first symptom is hoarseness, and is very pronounced. Not much pain, necessarily, at first. Pain indicates a more violent attack—see the doctor at once. My voice today sounds like that of an old hen with a grain of corn lodged in her wind-pipe!

It is weakening, sickening, disgusting. My work as a physician, takes me out in all sorts of weather, and at most all hours. There is much exposure—we call it that—and you must guard against it.

What am I doing for this distressing condition? Well, I have my neck wrapped with woolen,-with turpentine and oil of eucalyptus equal parts sopped on the cloth. The vapor from this does good. I keep the neck warm on the outside. I keep my feet extra warm. I take antiseptic such as Aspirin—and those containing a small per cent of formaldehyde—and let them dissolve in my mouth—five or six times a day. Of course, I attend to the regular function, good food, plenty of water, and take the best care of myself that I can. It has been most severe weather, and the climate in my state is treacherous; besides, some of these things are communicable—we must not forget

I admit that it takes courage to endure such attacks and remain on foot and at work. The patient who does as he should do, will go to bed, call his physician—and get well in half the time. Bear in mind that laryngitis may be a very dangerous condition. Better attend to it early.

Lady Took Cardui And Got Rid of Pain In Her Side

"Last summer, my health was bad. so I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. H. E. Slaughter, of No "My mother had given me Cardui in girlhood, so naturally I turned to it when I felt I needed it. I felt run-down and a general weakness. I had bad, dizzy headaches when everything would seem to dance before my eyes. My right side pained me so much, but since taking Cardui the pain has left me. I have taken several bottles of Cardui and have improved a great deal."

Cardui is sold at drug stores here.
