No phase of a school child's clothing is as important as the shoes. Badly worn, leaky shoes mean ill health and absent days from classrooms.

Timely repairs at Gautney's will not only be an insurance on your child's health but will result in a material saving in the long run.

NEW YORK

Only one man in four who aspires to become a New York City policeman succeeds.

Among the passengers arriving the other day on the S. S. "Berlin," was a crested brown thrush which caught up with the boat 300 miles out of New York and made the trip back to the city as a special guest in cabin 27, forward deck.

Two vampire bats, captured in Panama, will soon take up their residence in New York's Bronx Park zoo. They live on blood.

There is a drug store down on Greenwich street which has been in the same family since 1817.

High class and incidentally high-price grocery stores which sell to New York's Park avenue residents reports a demand for rare tropical fruits—Sapodilla which looks like cinnamon baked pear; passion fruit which tastes like pomegranates; papaya, resembling a melon and fig-anas, which are tiny, spiky bananas.

Taxicab business in New York is so poor that most drivers carry around a pack of cards, get inside of their cabs and with other drivers play rummy or something.

A 705-pound tuna fish was caught in waters near New York the other day. The meat was distributed to unemployed families.

COTTONWOOD

BY EUNICE HEMBREE

The Cottonwood school opened Monday morning Oct. 2, with an enrollment of about 100. Much interest was shown by the large number of parents trustees and patrons present. Rev. Ross Respass, pastor of the local Baptist church, had charge of the devotional. Ross Jenkins, the county agent, made a short address and then gave a brief outline of the 4-H club work he plans to supervise in connection with the school work. Betah Freeland spoke in behalf of trustees.

After chapel, the P. T. A. organization with Mrs. Halsell as president, Mrs. Opal Coffey as vice-president, Mrs. Floyd Coffey as secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Leo Thompson reporter, Mrs. Ross Respass as chairman of the program committee with Mrs. H. S. Varner and Mrs. W. H. Coopinger as assistants. The organization is anxious to help the school in every way possible.

We are hoping to have the best school we have had in years. Public school music and art are being added to the course of study. Miss Donaway is organizing a Rhythm band in connection with her primary work.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald of Cisco visited here Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Flora Nordyke of Baird spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Varner.

Mrs. Leta Reed of Abilene is visiting home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Ellis and children of near Putnam visited home folks last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Strahan and family spent week end in Comanche. Fred Brownlee of Stephenville visited his mother Mrs. J. A. Brownlee Sunday.

Mrs. Etta Mitchell is visiting friends this week.

Mrs. D. V. Russell is visiting her daughter Mrs. Frank McDonald of Cisco this week.

Mr. W. H. Floyd is on the sick list.

The box supper given by the Methodist ladies was a success considering the depression the amount taken in was $12.05.

Mrs. J. A. Brownlee is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Miles Hardy of Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lowe and Mrs. Ben Garner were in Ranger Sunday afternoon.

A straight message from your paper

Everything that goes into the publishing of a newspaper has advanced in price, yet the Review is offered to you at the old time rate. And next year we PROMISE you the best weekly newspaper in the history of Cross Plains. Night and day our plans are being laid to make a more complete news coverage of this section and its happenings. We ask your help in two ways: first, during this subscription campaign get some friend to subscribe for the Review, renew for yourself and lets build up the circulation of our home paper to the largest in this section. Second, anytime you know of any 'spot news' that you believe the Review does not, telephone or write immediately.

It takes the cooperation of an entire community to build up a successful newspaper. We have always cooperated with you and now ask you to lend us your wholehearted support. A good newspaper reflects credit upon the trade territory that it serves.

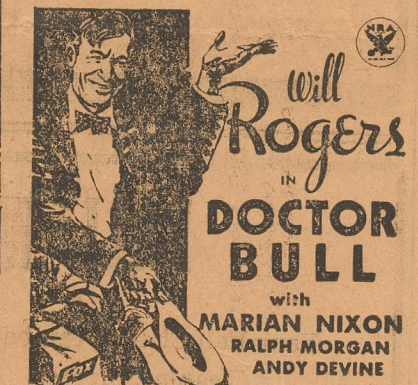

We have carried many subscribers past due on our books for the past few years, not mentioning the matter because we felt that they wanted the paper and were not in condition to pay. But now, we must urge our delinquents to take care of these back accounts.

Remember the $1.00 Special And Renew During the Campaign.

EDITORIAL

Would You Rob Your Neighbor?

BY JACK SCOTT

Business experts have estimated that a circulating dollar has the value of 10 to a community, so long as it stays within the boundaries of that community and continues to circulate.

It would take a mathematical genius to predict how much better business might be locally, if all Cross Plains people spent their money at home. But common reasoning should tell any of us that every line of industry would show marked improvement if the many dollars that leave Cross Plains were left here to circulate through regular business routine.

Even though an article costs a bit more at home—and this is rarely ever the case—it is a business proposition and an economic principle to pay the difference and keep local money in channels, where it may in the near future reach you again.

The general excuse of people guilty of trading elsewhere is, "I just couldn't get exactly what I wanted in Cross Plains and happened to be over in Podunk and saw the very article I had been looking for". In many instances, it must be admitted this is true. But why is it true? Are you not partly to blame?

If your home town merchant does not have the very item you want, call the fact to his attention. Ask him if he could get it for you. Nearly always, Cross Plains business men are anxious to serve customers in this manner and it tends to educate them to the desires of their trade and in the future they are more apt to have the article that pleases you, instead of a similar one that they had been stocking previously.

We are not misinformed enough to believe that Cross Plains could become a city, merely if all local dollars were kept at home, but it is entirely within reason to say that this town could employ every idle breadwinner within her boundaries if this simple thing were done. Many needed repairs on homes, automobiles, farms and etc could be done, consequently placing scores of men at work, if merchants were allowed just this much cooperation from their neighbors.

A thought worth bearing in mind is this. If Cross Plains money is good enough for me to earn, am I not good enough to spend or invest it where it was earned.

Sporting goods shops report a shortage of baseball bats. Why? Because bats are being used to stamp down ice in beer machines.

Cross Plains, Let's Not Surrender

Over in the county seat the other day a one time public spirited citizen was heard to say, "This town is beaten, the larger places are getting our business. We can never come back."

Some time later the Review editor was told of this incident and decided to check up with a number of local people in regard to how they felt in regard to the future Cross Plains. No less than 40 were questioned. Without a single exception their opinion was, "Cross Plains will weather the present storm of adversity and come back even better than before."

Such a spirit will not be beaten. It may take time but eventually it will conquer all obstacles.

Cross Plains people, lets get interested in the welfare of our home town, do everything possible to hurry that happy day, when the storms of adversity are behind us and normalcy reigns supreme.

Every man, woman and child has a vital duty in the upbuilding of a prosperous town and trading center. Never let your part go undone. Let's put 1,500 shoulders to this common wheel and watch better days brighten gloomy business skies.

Trade at home, talk Cross Plains, breathe her welfare and think in terms of improvement. Let's go.

New York hotels report that more and more persons coming to this city are using their motor cars instead of trains.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. A "MANY-SIDED" MAN

JESUS WAS, as we say, "many sided," and every man sees the side of his nature which appeals most to himself.

The doctor thinks of the great physician whose touch never failed, who by some mystery preceded modern science in its still imperfect knowledge of the relation of the spirit to health. The preacher studies the Sermon on the Mount and marvels that truths so profound should be expressed in words so clear and simple. The agitator remembers only that he denounced the rich; and the communist that his disciples carried a common purse. Lawyers have written in praise of his pleading at his trial; and the literary critics of every age have cheerfully acknowledged his mastery.

I am not a doctor, or lawyer or critic but an advertising man. As a profession advertising is young; as a force it is as old as the world. The first words ever uttered, "Let there be light," constitute its charter. All Nature is vibrant with its impulse. The brilliant plumage of the bird is color advertising addressed to the emotions of its mate. Plants deck themselves with blossoms, not for beauty only, but to attract the patronage of the bee and so by spreading pollen on its wings to insure the perpetuation of their kind.

The spacious firmament on high,
And all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled Heavens a shining frame,
Their great Original proclaim.

It has been remarked that "no astronomer can be an atheist," which is only another way of saying that no man can look up at the first and greatest electric sign—the evening stars—and refuse to believe its message: "There is a Cause: A God." I propose in the next few articles to speak of the advertisement of Jesus which have survived for twenty centuries and are still the most potent influence in the world.

Let us begin by asking why he was so successful in mastering public attention and why, in contrast, his churches are less so? The answer is twofold. In the first place he recognized the basic principles that all good advertising is news. He was never trite or commonplace; he had no routine. If there had been newspapers in those days, no city editor could have said, "No need to visit him to-day; he will be doing just what he did last Sunday." Reporters would have followed him every single hour, for it was impossible to predict what he would say or do; every action and word were news. I repeat Jesus had no routine. He was never trite or commonplace.
