GAS SYSTEM IDEA IS NOT DEAD

HOME TOWN GOSSIP

As spokesman for sidewalk loafers about town it is our conscientious duty to lambast Ci Neeb this week, for boarding up the curb seat in front of the Citizens State Bank.

Had Mr. Neeb realized the natural advantages of this long bench like seat, he certainly would not have taken such action. Situated as it was on a small incline, the resting place was a perfect whittling and tobacco chewing rendezvous.

On busy days when tobacco chewing was quite prominent and whittling an equal diversion, the excessive moisture on the sidewalk would wash the whittlings as fast as they were made. Not another location with this distinction is available in town.

Yes sir, Mr. Neeb has probably never indulged in this popular Cross Plains pastime or he would have been more sympathetic.

Believe it or not, Cottonwood lost a baseball game Sunday. It seems that the unusual is happening. Cross Plains may even win one sometime.

Noticed Walter Westerman and Grady Tyson hovering exclusively in deserted corners several times the past week. Bef six bits there will be a change in the ownership of a local barber shop here soon.

Wonder how Harlie Neel is spending his nights now, since Rosalea has gone back to the farm. Georgia to Brownwood for the summer and that other 'certain party' also away?

Lumpy Hayden, who thrilled two large crowds with wire walking performances here last Saturday, suffered a badly bruised shoulder and head at Comanche Monday morning, when a guy wire broke throwing him on a concrete sidewalk.

The Great Lafayette was unconscious for quite a while and doctors forbade him completing his exhibition at Comanche.

The wire from which he fell was only 12 feet high. We hate to think what might have happened, had the mishap occurred while he was crossing the street here last week at a height of 40 feet with a passenger on his back.

Claude Mayes' visit home to spend his vacation has attracted very two charming young maidens from West Texas. Boy, if we only had a sailor suit!

Word reaches this department that the little 'heart smasher' at the Prairie Camp is soon to leave these parts for Mississippi. What a bitter blow that will be to at least three of our local romances, who were calculating that they were at last making a bit of headway with the attractive one.

The gossip of the week is that a certain little Cisco girl—who by the way is cute as 44 gold dollars—had come to Cross Plains for a bit of di-a 'bust-up' with her lover there and version and to make the Cisco chap sit up and take notice.

Well, she took this village by storm. Our local gallants certainly gave her a grand rush. But one of the boys erred. He dated her and drove over to Cisco to the theater. In the old home town again the girl got a glance at her lover and the Cross Plains chump was forced to return home alone.

Conductor blow your whistle.

A man after our own heart is O. T. Laws, local Water Superintendent. He brought a nice big basket of home grown strawberries Monday, as evidence that Cross Plains produces the finest berries on the face of the earth.

Incidentally this man Laws is almost another Burbank. He can do more with plants than Harve Keller can with a balky horse and that's something.

BAPTISTS CELEBRATE 43rd ANNIVERSARY

TO HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES SUNDAY; DINNER ON GROUND

Cross Plains Baptists will observe the forty-third anniversary of the church here, with special services Sunday. Rev. Graves Darby, pastor, is sending out a plea to all members to be present and participate in the commemoration ceremonies.

Dinner On Ground

Luncheon will be served in the tabernacle, just in rear of the church building, at noon. Each family will bring a basket and the food will be spread together, the Review was informed yesterday.

Cross Plains Baptist church now has 365 members.

The church was organized the second Sunday in June 1890, with 18 charter members. P. Smith, of this place, is the only survivor of that group.

Had 19 Pastors

There have been 19 pastors of the church in the past forty-three years. Rev. Graves Darby, present pastor, who came here in 1930, has served a longer continuous pastorate than any of his predecessors.

The first Cross Plains Baptist church building was erected in 1898. It was used by all denominations. In 1904 the Board Flat Baptist church was consolidated with the one here. With the relocation of the town in 1911, the Baptist church was moved to its present site, and a new building—the one now being used—was constructed in 1925, at a cost of approximately $11,000. The church also now possesses a tabernacle, just in rear of the church, which was erected in 1924 costing $1,000, and a parsonage built at an expense of approximately $4,000.

PIONEER MAN WEDS BRECKENRIDGE GIRL

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Tom Minton, who lives between Cross Plains and Pioneer.

JIM SETTLE CUTS PRICE ON TAILOR WORK HERE

A reduction in tailor prices is announced this week by J. L. Settle Tailor Shop here. On page six of this week's Review, Mr. Settle has a special advertisement announcing his new prices, which he states become effective with the issuance of this paper.

Mr. Settle has been in the tailor business ten years in Cross Plains and he told the Review yesterday that these were the lowest prices that he had ever made in Cross Plains. His plant is regarded in tailor circles as one of the most modern in West Texas.

Miss Dixie Little is visiting in San Angelo this week.

C. O. Hamilton, Man Of Unusual Trade, Came To Cross Plains For Unusual Reason 22 Years Ago

A local institution of which Cross Plains people seldom think, yet one which has played a vital part in the scheme of things here, is the C. O. Hamilton Marble and Monument Company. From the plant more than 700 tombstones and cemetery markers have been manufactured for this trade territory.

The reason for the location of this concern in Cross Plains is perhaps one of its most unusual and interesting features. 22 years ago Mr. Hamilton was residing in Stamford, where he had a plant somewhat similar to the one he now has here. While there, Mr. Hamilton met and became intimately acquainted with Joe Hitt—a brother of Mrs. Noah Johnson. Mr. Hitt told him of the town of Cross Plains and how citizens here were building up a city that was destined to become one of Texas' most prosperous. A few days later, Mr. Hamilton chanced to see some advertising matter, telling of Cross Plains and its possibilities. He was so impressed packed his tools and started this way. He had never seen Cross Plains at that time.

When asked if he had been disappointed and if the town was all that he had expected, Mr. Hamilton said: "It was hardly as large as I thought it might be but I was in no way disappointed and never since have I regretted moving here.

Mr. Hamilton started his career as a marble cutter 47 years ago, at Hillsboro. Since that time he has worked at Corsicana, Waco, Houston, Mexia, New Orleans, Brenham, Tyler, Sweetwater, Cisco, Fort Worth, Cleburne, Stamford and Cross Plains. He estimates that during this period of almost five decades he has made or assisted in the making of, approximately 2,500 grave markers.

In his plant here, Mr. Hamilton has air hammers, complete marble and granite cutting apparatuses. He has turned out at least two jobs, which friends declare are as beautiful as any of equal expense anywhere in Texas. The most expensive tombstone that he ever made in Cross Plains is located in the Cross Cut cemetery.

When asked by the Review editor Monday afternoon, if he had prepared the marker that is to be placed over his grave when he is dead, Mr. Hamilton smiled and said: "No, I guess I am like the barefoot shoemaker; I haven't had time for myself".

The depression has not overlooked even a business of this unusual nature, Mr. Hamilton informed. In the last three years, marble and granite prices have decreased but very little and to keep partially busy the profits have had to be decreased unbelievably.

Despite the fact that he is well past the prime of life and that his business is not one that would ever promote much enthusiasm, Mr. Hamilton is highly optimistic about general conditions. He believes that business is already in the process of readjustment and that brighter days are dawning.

Mitchell.

Clarence H. Preston has accepted a position at the City Drug Store as pharmacist. Oakie Lewis, former pharmacist, will leave in about a week for Brownwood where he has accepted a position.

Gene Adams was in Pecos Wednesday on business.

Strawberries May Replace Peanuts As Money Crop, If Laws' Idea Works

Peanut crops throughout the sandy belt of this trade territory may give way to strawberries, blackberries and dewberries, if an experiment being worked out by O. T. Laws, at his place North part of town, is visited by farmers, who are interested in diversification.

On a small plot of ground—about 45 feet square—Mr. Laws is growing berries successfully. He estimates that his strawberries are yielding a gallon to the square foot. They bear three times a year; in Spring, Summer and Fall.

A very unusual feature of the strawberries is that the late freezes here last Winter did not effect them

LOCAL TIRE DEALERS ANNOUNCE PRICE HIKE

Six Cross Plains tire dealers informed the Review yesterday of a 10 percent advance in prices. Tire prices published in this week's Review will be subject to the hike. "We anticipate another increase within the month", said a well informed dealer Thursday morning.

J. B. HILL AND MRS. BAILY BARR MARRY

J. B. Hill and Mrs. Bailey Barr, both of this place, were married Saturday night in Lovington, New Mexico. After a short bridal trip, in which the couple visited friends and relatives in West Texas, they returned here early this week. They will make their home in Cross Plains.

Drew Hill, the groom's father, accompanied them as far as Seagraves, on their way to New Mexico.

Star School District Sliced-Pioneer Gains

As a result of a hearing before the Eastland County board of school trustees the past week, 3,200 acres of land were transferred from the Rising Star school district and added to the Pioneer district. 11 students will be added to Pioneer enrollment, because of the change.

Nat Williams was a business visitor in Austin Wednesday.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DROWNS IN BAYOU SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Bill Abbott, 29, formerly of this place, was drowned while fishing in the Bayou, 18 miles West of here Sunday afternoon. He was wading the creek with several friends, when his foot slipped throwing him into deep water. Companions thought that he could swim and that his cries for help were merely in fun. Before they realized the seriousness of the situation he had been drowned and it took more than three hours to recover the body.

Funeral rites were held at Baird Monday afternoon and interment was made in the Ross cemetery there.

Bill Abbott was employed by the Home Telephone Company, in Cross Plains two years. He left here in 1930. He was a nephew of T. P. Bearden owner of the telephone company.

Surviving are his widow; daughter Billy Jean, 6; his mother; one brother and one sister.

County Commissioner George Clifton has had a crew of men working on the road between here and Cross Cut the past week and reports that within the very near future he plans to have it in the best shape that it has been in, in years.

Car Driven By Local Man Kills Pedestrian

A man, whose name was not available yesterday, was killed Sunday night, near Snyder, when he stepped in front of an automobile driven by Drew Hill, of this place. Mr. Hill was enroute home from Seagraves. He stopped and offered all assistance possible.

The pedestrian is said to have stepped upon the highway from out of the darkness, directly in front of the machine driven by Mr. Hill and accident was unavoidable.

Mrs. Clyde Sims had as her guests Sunday her mother, Mrs. J. R. Star-nater, and sisters and brother, Ellen Velma and LaVon.

Miss Christine Cunningham left Sunday for Denton where she will attend the North Texas State Teachers' College.

MAY ATTEMPT TO SELL CITY SCRIPT IF R. F. C. ASSISTANCE IS DENIED

Members of the city council told the Review Thursday morning that their plan to build a municipal gas distributing system here, had by no means been abandoned and that they were yet quite hopeful and optimistic about the project becoming a reality.

Two meetings were held the past week—one special and one regular—to discuss the gas system and plans have been outlined to secure money from local sources in the event that the city's application for federal funds is refused.

"If the pipe can be bought on credit basis and we can sell $1,000 worth of script, we will begin construction of the system, even though we are denied assistance from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation", a councilman told the Review yesterday morning.

The application for federal funds has been before the R. F. C. committee on public works more than a week and an answer to the matter is expected before Friday (next publication date of Review).

One concern has already offered to sell the city 10 miles of pipe, enough to cover the entire city, on six months time. City fathers refused the proposal, however, stating that they felt that six months was not long enough and that they would take the matter up with other pipe companies.

HIGHWAY 36 IS NOW DESIGNATED TO HERE FROM GULF COAST

Highway 36 from the Gulf Coast through Comanche has been designated to Cross Plains, the Review, the Review learned Monday night from T. N. Carswell, Abilene Secretary of Commerce, who was here to discuss road project with local men.

At a meeting held in the Citizens State Bank building, Mr. Carswell told a number of business men of this place that an alteration of the present road bed was being considered beyond Rising Star and that as a result things had been held up, however, he opined that actual construction would get underway within the near future. The change near Rising Star—which would direct the highway through May—would in no way effect Cross Plains. The road would be tied in with highway 23 at Rising Star and be the same to this place. From here, however, a new road bed would be found to continue the highway Westward.

CROSS CUT

By Norris Chambers

The fine, sunny weather has been met by hearty approval from the farmers. Although the weeds got a considerable start during the long rainy season last week, they are now under fairly good control. If the weather will stay dry another week or so the crops will be brought into shape to be ultimately "laid by."

Mr. Jesse Byrd and Mr. R. W. Pentecost were in Brownwood Thursday.

Mr. Tennie Triplitt and his wife and mother, Mrs. J. P. Triplitt, were visiting friends and relatives here the past week. They returned to their home in Weslaco, Texas, Saturday.

Deoma Triplitt was visiting in Mills County Monday.

Work has begun on the road through this community that will connect the Cross Cut-Brownwood highway with the May-Brownwood road. This will be a very handy road, for it will eliminate the necessity of going by Cross Cut or Byrds to reach May. In addition to helping the community, this enterprise is furnishing work for many young men.

LARGE CROWD WITH PLENTY OF BUYERS AND TRADERS SEEN

Monday will be trades day in Cross Plains. Despite the fact that farmers are unusually busy at present, local buyers and traders told the Review yesterday that they expected an extraordinarily large crowd.

"The Cross Plains regular second Monday trades day has been advertised at practically every other gathering of its kind throughout this section the past month and a number of swappers, who heretofore have not been coming, are expected Monday", a local authority said Thursday morning.

"The local trade lot is now fully equipped to care for stock that is brought here for the purpose of trading and it is also centrally located; we feel that old time Trade Days in Cross Plains will soon reach the peak of a few years ago", G. E. Morgan informed this paper yesterday.

Mr. Morgan has just returned from Houston, where he contracted mule and horse buyers from various sections of Texas. He reports that a number of these dealers plan to have representatives at Trades Day here in the future.

Cross Plains Trades Day was once recognized as the largest regular meeting of traders in this section.

Several times at last month's Trades Day, more than 200 head of stock was counted on the lot here at one time.

Idea Number 5 For Summer Picnic

By Jack Scott

This is the fifth of a series of suggestory editorials published by the Review to stimulate interest in Cross Plains' annual picnic this summer, which will mark the fiftieth annual celebration on the banks of Turkey Creek by citizens of this and adjoining communities. It is the hope of the Review that some of the ideas set forth through these columns may be beneficial in making this year's celebration a fit commemoration of a half century's progress.

The Cross Plains picnic has in recent years grown into a community fair and exhibit of farm produce as well as an annual gathering of our citizens. This year this idea should certainly not be overlooked.

In keeping with the theme it would be a very interesting feature to have some local—well informed—man to carefully examine this year's exhibit and deliver a few minutes speech at the picnic, comparing the products that are now grown here with those that were produced in the Cross Plains trade territory 50 years ago.

It would take but a few hours of research and interviewing to find out exactly what crops farmers of a half century ago devoted their energies and time to. There are perhaps more than 25 things being grown profitably here now that were thought impossible to the citizens of 50 years ago. For instance, strawberries, tobacco, cabbage and a number of similar products are now cultivated near here every year, whereas at the time of the first Cross Plains picnic none of these plants were ever given a chance in this section.

 A brief informative address upon this subject should not only serve to enlighten a younger generation but encourage and inspire as well.
 Too, this week in our picnic discourse, we would urge farmers and sockt raisers to begin now, preparing to enter exhibits and compete for the cash prizes that in all probability will be awarded. Housewives will do well also to keep this thought in mind for canning will share heavily in the prize money.

SPORTS

Cambridge University's eight made rowing history the other day by winning the annual crew races on the Thames from Oxford for the tenth successive year. Except for the Oxford victory of 1923 the Cambridge oarsmen have won every race since the war.

In Glasgow the other day a crowd of 134,170 men and women saw a soccer tournament between Scotland, Wales, England and Ireland. That's a crowd in any country.

Ben Eastman, Stanford University middle distance star, who holds the world's quarter-mile record, bettered the world's mark for the 600-yard race in competition at a charity athletic carnival in San Francisco. Eastman's time was one minute, 9.2 seconds, against the record Doug Lowe, of Great Britain, set at one minute, 10.4 seconds in 1926.

Many new attractions are being planned for the 1933 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced by the heads of various departments. Otto Herold, president of the association has given orders that all departments offer something new for the 1933 exposition. He hopes to make the 1933 exposition stand out even more than did the 1932 State Fair of Texas.

The most important building historically in New York is the Morris House, better known as Jumel Mansion. This building was erected in 1765 by Lieut.-Col. Roger Morris of the British Army, and was the headquarters of Washington in 1776. At one time this building was known as Calumet Inn and was the first stop for a change of horses on the trip from New York to Albany.

Physicians say that defective teeth is the principal cause why more New York children don't get along better in school.

They're electrocuting hot dogs now, that is, they are cooking 'em by electricity.

This last week a man tried to sell the New York Public Library to a visitor in town for $500. Every now, and then it works.

POWDER IN WORDS

IF you were given the task of advertising to the world that God cares enormously for one human life—no matter how wayward and wrong the life may be—how could you phrase a message more memorable than the parable of the lost sheep? How simple; how sincere; how splendidly crisp and direct Jesus told it. Benjamin Franklin in his autobiography—that first great American "success story"—tells the process through which he went in acquiring an effective style. He would read a passage from some great master of English, then lay the book aside and attempt to reproduce the thoughts in his own words. Comparing his version with the original, he discovered wherein he had obscured the thought, or wasted words, or failed in driving straight to the point. Every advertising man ought to study the parables of Jesus in the same fashion, schooling himself in their language and learning the four big elements of their power.

First of all they are marvelously condensed, as all good advertising must be. Charles A. Dana, once issued an assignment to a new reporter on the New York Sun, directing him to confine his article to a column. The reporter protested that the story was too big to be compressed into so small a space.

"Get a copy of the Bible and read the first chapter of Genesis," said Dana. "You'll be surprised to find that the whole story of the creation of the world can be told in 600 words."

Two men spoke on the battleground of Gettysburg sixty years ago. The first delivered an oration of more than two hours in length not one person in ten who reads this page can even recall his name. The second speaker uttered two hundred and fifty words, and those words, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, are a part of the mental endowment of almost every American.

Many noble prayer have been sent up to the Throne of Grace—long impressive utterances. The prayer which Jesus taught his disciples consists of sixty-eight word, and can be written on the back of a post-card. Many poems and essays have been penned by writers who hoped that they were making a permanent place for themselves in literature; but the greatest poem ever written consists of one hundred and eighty words. It is the Twenty Third Psalm.

Plans are being made to hold another Baby Doll Parade at the 1933 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced by Otto Herold, president of the association. Success of the 1932 Parade was the cause for making the Baby Doll feature an event. The parade will be open to children from all parts of the entire state, according to present plans.

I ENDORSE IT

Here's a letter from a brother physician,—with a few of the strongest words deleted. It may be of interest:

Dear Dr. Gaines:

"I wish you would devote more articles to the exposure of quackery. The every-day people of our country little realize the thievery that is going on under their very noses. The radio is seeking with the vile preachment of the medical racketeer. Millions of dollars—yes, hundreds of millions are wheedled out of American pockets that are least able to afford it. The game goes on without interference on part of authorities, therefore it would seem, within the law.

"The medical racketeer invents some trivial, imaginary disease or condition, to which any ordinary working man or woman might be subject—and for which the racketeer, of course, has the sole remedy. This (faked) condition is dinned into the ears of millions of listeners, until they grow suspicious of themselves—they are quick to detect signs of the "affliction." They have been told that it might lead to horrible death—but, easily enough 'cured' if they secure a bottle of the nostrum and use it the rest of their lives.

"Multiplied millions of people rush to buy the racketeer's gully-wash. The profits are enormous—for, the operator of the hoax does not work for ordinary wages. Huge fortunes are piled up for the racketeer and his folks.

"Multiplied millions of people rush to buy the racketeer's gully-wash. The profits are enormous—for, the operator of the hoax does not work for ordinary wages. Huge fortunes are piled up for the racketeer and his folks.

"Rube Smithers needs somebody to set him right; he needs a protector—an advisor who tells him the truth. Fat radio contracts are never turned down—they pay too well. It is poor Rube that pays. Now, doctor, get busy."

BRIGHT WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS

FEELS MUCH BETTER
 "June 28th, 1932, I started taking Kruschen Salts. Have lost 20 pounds from June 28th to Jan., 10. Feel better than have felt four years. Was under doctors care for several months. He said I had gall stones and should have operation. Kruschen did all and more than I expected." Mrs. Lute Bright, Walker, Minn. (Jan. 10, 1933).
 To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at Smith's Drug Store or any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

Begin Taking Cardui Today If You Suffer Like This Lady Did

"WHEN I was a girl, I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. Maggie Stanfield, of Crandall, Ga. "I was very irregular for twelve months. Nothing did me very much good until my mother began to give me this medicine. Then I got all right, stout and well."
 "After I was married, I was in bad health. I began taking Cardui again. I was troubled with my back, a lot. Was awfully restless. I could not sleep well. I just weighed 90 pounds when I began taking Cardui. I improved rapidly. Before long I weighed 126 pounds. I felt fine. I was able to do a good day's work."
 Cardui is sold by druggists here.
