Only 1,520 Poll Tax Receipts Issued

OLAF HOLLINGSHEAD PREDICTS TOTAL TO REACH USUAL 2,700

Despite the fact that only 1,520 poll tax receipts had been issued up to noon yesterday, Tax Assessor-Collector Olaf Hollingshead predicted the number would reach the usual 2,700 by Monday night, when the deadline is passed.

Callahan county with a population of 12,785 usually has a voting strength of about 3,100, including 400 "overs" and "unders", however, no more than 3,000 votes have been polled since 1930.

Monday Is Deadline Unless the $1.75 poll tax payment is made by closing time of the collector's office Monday night, a person will be disqualified in all elections to be held during 1938 and those that may be called during January 1939.

In Cross Plains poll tax payments can be made by simply going to the Citizens State Bank, filling out a card and enclosing it in an envelope with the $1.75. The envelope, with others, will be mailed to the collector by the bank.

Unless many Cross Plains voters have paid their current poll taxes at the courthouse, it is feared that this box may drop from the second largest in the county to third or possibly fourth. Payments at the local bank have been slow.

Persons becoming 21 years of age after January first 1938 are entitled to vote in all elections this year free, however, an exemption certificate must be filled out; these are available at the local bank.

If an estimate of 2,500 families is near correct for this county, of which the man and wife of each are potential voters, nearly one-half of the adult citizens go from year to year without exercising their voting franchise.

1,600 Men Working On Huge Federal Dam At Austin, Cause Busy Bustle In Capitol

By Andrea C. Dodson Hello folks: For the last several years you have been reading about big dams being built. Lots of us have never seen one of these dams and still more have never witnessed the actual construction.

There is now being built, 19 miles west of Austin on the Colorado River, the third largest of these great dams in the United States. Last week I decided to drive out there with a friend who is employed on the project but was off for the day. So out I went to see how the thing is done.

Heading west from Austin there is about four miles of level country and then you hit the cedar brakes and the chalky hills. Roads are pretty good, however, most of it has been built since construction on the dam began. Out about 10 miles is a beautiful spot, shaded by large moss laden trees. A fine and dance establishment has recently opened there. It's the kind of place where you put a nickel in the machine and the music starts. The floor is pretty good. After dancing you can walk up to the bar and order whatever you like. It was rather quiet when we arrived in the early afternoon, however, a lady clad in trousers informed that night time afforded the principal business. The lady was very friendly and she and my friend began talking. It developed that they were both from the same part of the country, Iowa. She and her husband (who was asleep getting ready for the night business) left the North in 1932 and came to Texas and had been in the cafe business, mostly in oil towns.

On down the road about four miles we ran into the first work camp. If you've been around oil fields this place would have a familiar aspect. Subconsciously, I began looking for the proverbial "Pinky" Place and Short's Flop House. A postoffice has sprung up and is labeled Marshall Ford Dam. Contractors on the dam first built a 16 mile railroad to get material in and out. Up the line comes earload upon earload of concrete. It is finally dumped into conveyers and carried to the mixer.

Most of the workers on the dam come to Austin about once a week and needless to say they are a boon to business in the capital city. Another dam is being started up the river about four miles. It will be named Miller Dam, in honor of Mayor Miller, of Austin.

Yes sah, you can hear dam conversation around Austin most any hour. All of this dam work has made the capital city dam conscious.

From County Commissioner B. H. Freeland, who is a patient in the veterans hospital in Muskogee, Oklahoma, yesterday morning came Cross Plains' first contribution to President Roosevelt's birthday ball, proceeds from which will be used to fight infantile paralysis which claimed three lives in this county last year.

Freeland's letter said: "I am sending you a check for President Roosevelt's birthday party. Wish I could be there. Am not feeling so well but think I will start improving soon."

Cross Plains' celebration to raise funds with which to fight the dreaded disease will be in the form of a forty-two and bridge tournament in Cross Plains high school gymnasium Saturday night. Mesdames Fred Cutbirth, Arthur Mitchell and J. Henry McGowan, the committee in charge of arrangements, promise an enjoyable evening to all who attend. Lewis Norman is general chairman of the drive for funds here.

Persons who will be unable to attend the birthday ball are urged to make contributions to either Norman or one of the ladies helping to stage the function here. Cross Plains' quota has been set for around $100.

Other celebration scheduled in the Cross Plains vicinity include: a spelling bee Friday night at Dressy under the direction of C. R. Steele, basketball game at Cottonwood under the direction of H. S. Varner and Floyd Coffey, and at Bayou a basketball game under the direction of C. W. Fowler.

PROMISING STUDENT CONTEST UNFINISHED

Inclement weather prevented the Review's contest to determine the "most promising high school student in the Cross Plains trade territory" being completed this week. Marsha made delayed a representative of this newspaper in visiting the various schools, throughout the area and conducting the test. It is expected, however, that the winner will be determined within the next few days and publication made in next week's edition.

The student making the highest grade will be awarded a $100. scholarship to an outstanding Texas business college. The certificate is transferable and if not used may be sold. Runners-up at each school are to be given tickets to the Liberty Theatre through cooperation of Joe Boles, manager.

Along with the announcement of the contest winner next week will be published the questions and some of the unusual answers.

MAYOR SAYS HE IS QUITTING POLITICS AT END OF TENURE

Rev. S. P. Collins, thrice Mayor of Cross Plains, told the Review emphatically yesterday that he would not stand for reelection in the municipal elections set for April fourth.

"I've served six years and that's long enough for one man", he declared.

The frank pronouncement of the Rev. Mr. Collins intended retirement came in a written statement handed the Review for publication. It appears hereunder.

"I sincerely appreciate the confidence reposed in me by neighbors and friends in three times being chosen Mayor of our splendid little city. After long and careful consideration, however, I have definitely decided to not stand for reelection in the forthcoming bi-annual election. My reasons I care not to disclose other than to say that I feel six years is long enough for one man.

"During my tenure many perplexing problems have confronted the city council, a few of which were: the long and extremely taxing court procedure, obstacles encountered—litigation and otherwise—in installing the municipal gas system, permanent and adequate disposal for our sewer system, and then the tremendous debt that had accrued over a period of years due more to the depression than to mistakes. In spite of all of this, however, the city's indebtedness has been reduced approximately $150,000.00 and now stands at $100,750.00.

"I am also proud of the fact that our city has been able to secure 38 percent of the pipeline from the lake North of town to the standpoint, which when salvaged will pay for its cost and leave the city a line from the standpoint to the Northern limits of the incorporation. The municipal gas system is now free of debt and our citizens are now enjoying one of the lowest gas rates in Texas.

"In refinancing the city's indebtedness we were unable to get the debt low enough for certain retirement. I regret this, but there was no alternative. Unless Cross Plains enjoys a phenomenal growth, however, this debt must be paid within a few years. This huge debt requires every penny of tax money received in the city coffers and operation expenses are necessarily borne by profits from city owned utilities.

"Again I wish to say I appreciate the honor of having served six years as Mayor of this splendid little city and remind that my successor must be chosen at the polls in April." Signed: S. P. Collins, Mayor.

Workmen began moving stock and fixtures Tuesday. The moving process is expected to be completed this week end.

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

Throughout the history of Texas the General Land Office has been one of the most important state offices. Its importance has increased tremendously during the past few years due to oil development in practically every county in the state.

Along the Gulf Coast of Texas numerous domes have been discovered and the submerged coastal lands belonging to the State have become potentially very valuable. Under the law the Land Commissioner has the right to lease these lands for oil development. Of course, he does not have to lease them unless he wants to.

During the past year the new Land Commissioner, Mr. McDonald, has leased hundreds of thousands of acres of land, much of it along the coast. In nearly all instances he has leased this land for a very small cash consideration, and providing for a larger royalty if oil should be discovered; but the trouble is that the State is taking a gamble on whether oil will be found or not.

It seems to me that if we are going to gamble on oil being under our land, we ought to gamble the whole thing rather than to sell 13 1/16 of the oil, for instance, for two or three hundred dollars with no requirement for immediate drilling. The only reason for leasing land with a big overriding royalty is that we should know two things; first, that oil is certainly under the land, and second, that it is going to be developed immediately.

Now in practically all the cases where the Land Commissioner has leased these submerged lands for from one hundred to two, three or four or five hundred dollars, he has not required immediate drilling and in most cases no drilling has been done, even though some of the leases are over a year old. On the other hand, he has been offered hundreds of thousands of dollars in cash and the usual 2 1/16 royalty. For instance, one cash bid was $60,000.00 with 2 1/16 royalty. In other words, the company bidding $60,000.00 was willing to gamble that amount for 14 1/16 of the oil if it should be discovered. The Land Commissioner, however, awarded a lease for $310.00 with a 2 1/16 royalty. In other words,

FEDERAL PROGRAM MUST AWAIT THIS DETAIL SAYS AGENT

County Agent Ross H. Brison announced yesterday that information concerning the federal government's 1938 farm program is being delayed until work sheets are filled out by farmers. Commitment are to be in key points Saturday to assist in this work.

The following information was submitted the Review yesterday by Mr. Brison concerning the federal program:

To date no definite information has been received in the county agent's office concerning the 1938 farm program. However, the State Office has advised that a 1937 work sheet must be executed on every farm in the county before farm goals can be announced for the 1938 program. These work sheets are to be used also to establish a basis for the 3 cent subsidy payment. The execution of these work sheets does not place the program under any obligation to the farmer. The work sheets will be government nor the government used only by the state office in establishing proper acreages to the county and in calculating the subsidy payment. Every tenant farmer or landlord in the county is urged to render assistance in obtaining work sheets on all farms which were not signed up on the 1937 program.

If you have moved to another farm for the 1938 season and the farm was not signed under a 1937 work sheet you are the one to sign it. The person who owns or operates the farm in 1938 is the proper person to sign the work sheet.

The following committees and a few other men are being called into the office Wednesday, to receive instructions in filling out these work sheets so that they may help you: S. N. Foster, Atwell; A. E. Young, Baird; T. N. Minix, Denton; G. H. Batcher, Dudley; John A. McKee, Edna; Lester Farner, Edna; Fred W. Stacey, Cross Plains; Ed Henderson, Cross Plains; George Clifton Cottonwood; Joel Griffin, Clyde; Ed Davis, Abilene; R. L. Clinton, Putnam; Sidney S. Harville, Oplin; Chas. D. Straley, Oplin; C. E. King, Lantana; Lee A. Coats, Bayton; and Eugene Green, Brooks Store.

The above named men will be at a convenient place in his community on Saturday, February 26th, so be sure to see the one nearest to you on that date if you did not sign a work sheet in 1937.
