RESUME WORK ON VESTAL WELL

Begin Softball League Play Tuesday

GAMES SCHEDULED EACH TUESDAY AND FRIDAY THEREAFTER

With interest whetted to a keen edge, play will officially get underway in two newly organized softball leagues here Tuesday night, May 31.

Schedule for opening night will send the businessmen over 30 years of age against town working girls in the slow league, and businessmen under 30 years of age against high school boys in the fast league. Play will be continued thereafter on each Tuesday and Friday nights. 10 teams are competing, five in each league.

An admission charge of five and 10 cents will be charged spectators and five cents each will be assessed participants to defray expenses of lights, bats, balls and incidentals.

Since organization of the loop several other teams have applied for entrance and it may be necessary to revamp the entire schedule, however, this would not be done in time to effect games next Tuesday night, the Review was told.

MRS. JACK NOEL IS LAID TO LAST REST SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. Jack Noel, 56, who died in Abilene early Friday morning after an extended illness were held from the Heavenly Rest Episcopal Church Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Willis P. Gierhart, pastor, officiating. Interment was made in an Abilene cemetery.

Mrs. Noel, whose home was in Cross Plains, has been in ill health for some time. She recently underwent an operation at the Hendricks Memorial hospital at Abilene. Her condition became serious last week and both of her children, Mrs. Marion Harvey, of Cross Plains, and Mrs. E. A. Ungren, of Abilene, were at the bedside when she died.

Other survivors include the husband Jack Noel, and a grand daughter Marjorie Ungren, as well as a large host of friends here.

Mrs. Noel was born October 20, 1881. She came to Cross Plains with her husband some 15 years ago. She was at the time of her death 56 years and seven months of age.

Among those from Cross Plains attending the funeral and interment services were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Elliott Bryant, Mrs. Edna Mauldin, Mrs. A. J. Gensley, Mrs. Jim Bennett and Mrs. W. J. Gray.

Pall bearers were: Ted R. Smith, of Electric; Ben Garner, of Breckinridge; H. C. Gracy, of J. F. Robertson and W. E. Tyler, of Rising Star, and an Abilene man whose name the Review failed to learn.

Coming here to replace Mitchell is Horace Kitzell, who has been with the company at Big Lake 10 years. His family consists of his wife and an infant child.

Hot shots for the victors were: Elliott, Childs, Hall, Henderson, Flahie and Strahan. The losers offered no outstanding performer but won praise from spectators for their fine display of teamwork, which included better than average blocking.

Former Local Lady Wins Radio Contest

Mrs. Huey Wighton, of Rising Star, formerly of Cross Plains, received last week a seven tube radio prize in a nationally conducted radio contest. The first prize was $1,000, and second was a number of radios, for which a great many are reported to have tied.

W.T.U. MOVES ARTHUR MITCHELL TO OZONO; BIG LAKE MAN HERE

A three way change announced this week by the West Texas Utilities Company sends Arthur Mitchell, Cross Plains manager, to Ozono, the Ozono manager goes to Big Lake, replacing the manager there, who comes here to succeed Mitchell. The changes are effective June first.

Mitchell, who came to Cross Plains in January 1931 from Rising Star, has been one of the town's most enterprising and public spirited citizens. He served as secretary of the school board for Cross Plains independent district six years, was a director in the local chamber of commerce, a manager in the annual picnic celebration here, member of the school athletic council which is composed of one trustee, faculty member and businessman, and was a Stuard in the local Methodist church.

Regret of friends that the utility company chose to transfer the general Cross Plains manager elsewhere was offset by their appreciation of the fact that he is receiving a well deserved promotion. Ozono is the largest town in the San Angelo district and is believed to offer unlimited possibilities for a man of Mr. Mitchell's aggressiveness.

Mitchell began with the West Texas Utilities Company 17 years ago at Baird. From there he went to Moran as manager. Thence to Rising Star and Cross Plains. He has been here a few months more than seven years.

Coming here to replace Mitchell is Horace Kitzell, who has been with the company at Big Lake 10 years. His family consists of his wife and an infant child.

Reports from the well Thursday morning were that a depth of 1,800 feet had been obtained and operations were progressing nicely.

Mr. Howell, who had contracted the drilling of the hole, took charge again this week when the contract was forfeited by McNeely Drilling Company and plans to complete the test personally.

SO LITTLE to operate! The Wampum in our family really purrs when he gets our electric range. I cook for a family of five... from the cost you'd think I got meals for free. Automatic controls give me more free time, and it's so...

WONDERFULLY CLEAN! I could get you right off the burner... and as a mirror to powder my nose! Greasy utensils, walls and curtains were out of my life forever. Kitchen cleanup is much easier. I don't know how I did it back in the dark ages before electric...

Thirty thousand pounds of grasshopper poison has been taken from the mixing station at Baird.

Will Appleton reports very satisfactory results from the use of 150 pounds of hopper poison by sowing it on strips of pasture land 150 feet wide that surrounded the field.

Men who planted Tenmarq wheat as a demonstration are well pleased with the prospective yields.

Virgil Jones of Baird expects to harvest at least 3 bushels more per acre from his Tenmarq wheat than from other varieties.

W. H. Bryant in commenting on Mr. Jones' wheat remarked that "this acreage of Tenmarq and some of the same variety being grown by J. L. Tabor was the best two patches he had seen."

Nelson Estes is well pleased with his prospective yield, and "believes he will like it all right."

Others growing the new variety of wheat are: E. H. Williams, Putnam; W. G. Black, Rt. 5 Abilene; J. O. Taylor, Baird; S. S. Harville, Rt. 1, Ovalle; Chas. D. Straley, Rt. 2, Clyde; and Homer M. Connel, Clyde.

Poultry

Cool nights and warm days are rather hard on growing birds since correct ventilation is hard to apply. For this reason it is well to be on the lookout for Bronchitis or pneumonia. It is also time to plan to vaccinate against fowl pox.

Bronchitis is observed in baby chicks as a mild infection characterized by watering of the eyes, accompanied by a mild gasping for air. In mature stock the gasping symptoms are more pronounced. In mature birds obvious difficulty in breathing is the outstanding symptom. Post-Mortem examinations reveal congested lungs and inflamed bronchial tubes or wind pipe.

When an outbreak is found, strict sanitation should be followed. The feed and water containers should be thoroughly disinfected and a mild disinfectant used in the drinking water. A good bronchial spray should be used at least twice each day and should be sprayed over the heads of the birds so that they will inhale the vapors. If a good bronchial spray cannot be secured the poultryman can use the following formula in making a satisfactory spray: Formula: One (1) part formaldehyde, Two (2) parts glycerine, Seven (7) parts water.

The vaccination against fowl pox is very effective if properly administered and will go a long way toward preventing cold and roup in poultry flocks. During the fall of the year, pellets are very susceptible to fowl pox and when an outbreak occurs it is usually followed by colds and roup in the flock.

The most desirable time to vaccinate birds against fowl pox is between the ages of one and three months. The follicle method of vaccination is recommended with the vaccine being applied with a brush to two follicles on the side of the bird. It is important in securing this vaccine that it come from a reliable laboratory and is fresh. Most laboratories prepare the vaccine in two containers—one with the pox powder and the other container of glycerine water. When the birds are to be vaccinated the powder is mixed with the liquid to make the proper solution.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Boles and children visited relatives and friends in Moran Sunday.

RODEO CON Grain Harvest

YIELDS FROM OATS AND BARLEY GOOD; WHEAT IS DAMAGED

Combines and binders are busy throughout the Cross Plains trade territory and threshers will begin work Monday morning, harvesting an abundant grain crop.

Yields are reported far above average, despite the late freeze in April.

A check-up made by the Review Thursday morning revealed that six threshers have been primed and are ready for the season. At least two will begin threshing Monday morning. Those who will operate the machines this year include: Carlos and Oscar McDermott, Norrell L. Long, Earl (Sweetie) Webb, Charles Burkett, Guy Hipshire and Bill Wright. They will be possibly others whose names the Review failed to learn.

Barley stolen from Ed. Henderson farm.

Thieves made off with 40 bushels of newly harvested barley at the Ed Henderson place, three miles west of town, Friday night.

Mr. Henderson is said to have been sleeping near the grain but was so tired from the day's harvesting that he was not awakened by the "unwelcome visitors." The grain was sacked and stacked in a corner of the field, awaiting trucks to haul it away.

Mr. Henderson has been receiving no little "kidding" by friends the past few days because of his drowsiness. Last year thieves stole two pigs from his place, and several have asked him if he thinks the robbers returned to his place to get fed to give the swine snatched last year.

Boy Scouts?

Since my arrival in Cross Plains several persons have approached me relative to sponsoring a Boy Scout organization in our community.

Quite a number of boys seem to be interested and have asked when I would start the organization.

This work is important work and I feel that every boy ought to have the opportunities which are afforded by it.

Whether or not the work can be started and become a success depends upon the interest of the community in the boys.

In order that we may register the interest and will of the parents, business-men and others who are responsible for the provision of such activities I am inviting all the boys, parents and other interested persons to meet with me at the Methodist Church Friday evening at eight o'clock.

This will not be a meeting for organization but simply to determine if such work can be undertaken with a reasonable assurance of support from the community.
