The secretary of state has completed the form of the official ballot for the constitutional amendments election to be held May 24. Copies have been sent to every county in the state. The order of the ballot shows prohibition first, woman suffrage second, increase in governor's salary third and state credit system for providing land for the landless fourth.

Completed returns have been received from the counties of Texas, showing the number of poll tax receipts issued up to and including January 31. The reports total $64,537, a decrease of $6,557 as compared with the previous year. The decrease is charged to the number of men of voting age being in the service of the government. Adding 13 per cent to the total number of poll tax payments for exemptions, makes the total voting strength of the state 649,945.

Don't Let Hail Ruin You

Hail has played havoc with several crops already. Grain is now assured as far as rain is concerned, but a few minutes hail can destroy the best crop you have had in ten years, and the grain is twice as valuable as before. One hail policy, if you lose out by hail, will pay for twelve premiums. The risk is big. You or some of your neighbors are sure to be hailed out. It has always been this way. I can write you $30 an acre on small grain and take your note, and have four companies. See, write, or phone me at once. Can write insurance on all kinds of feedstuff and cotton.

CITY MARSHAL KILLED AT RISING STAR

A shooting affray which took place at the Star Garage Monday morning, J. A. Lippard, city marshal, was fatally shot from a pistol shot. Lippard was immediately arrested and taken to Eastland where he was placed in jail, charged with an attempt to murder. Lippard's pistol was found in the hands of Brownwood was shot in consultation with the physician. Dr. Allison said the wound a very serious one and informed Mr. Hulm of the seriousness of the wound, called in the Justice of the Peace and had him to make his statement with reference to the shooting before putting him on the operating table.

At this writing (Wednesday) Mr. Hulm is resting nicely and there is some hope of his recovery. The above was written Wednesday morning, and Mr. Hulm died at 3:30 in the afternoon of the same day.

CONCERNING THE ROAD BOND

If you have not already made up your mind to vote for good roads in the coming election, we ask of you to reason on the proposition before deciding against the issue. Commissioner McDaniel has forced a new valuation of the Commissioners precincts, which should give us more money. At present, we get 4-20, Oplis precinct 4-20, Baird 7-20 and Putnam 5-20 of the road money for the County. Since the last valuation, we have secured the Katy Railroad and had the new town of Cross Plains built, which should at least give precinct 4 5-20 of the County's money. Also this will give us the same increase in percentage of the automobile tax, provided we vote bonds and thereby are entitled to participate in receipts from this source. After this week perhaps we can state as to the precinct's valuation and therefore estimate the cost on the $100 valuation to take care of the bonds. It likely will not amount to 50c.

There are a 1001 arguments in favor of building good roads properly and in the proper place, and only one against it—the cost.

With the premises we have taken, the cost resolves itself into an investment that will pay most handsome dividends.

If we vote the bonds, besides getting the roads, those that need the work can get the money back and keep it at home. Taylor Co. once voted bonds to give the farmers work and keep them in the county. After harvest, we will have plenty of time to devote to road work, and lots of us will need the money. Thus the money lacks a good deal of being sent out of the country. If you want to work, or to see your neighbor employed, look at the proposition in this light.

Fannin county, where the writer first saw light, and where there was no such thing as a road in wet weather, has a fine system of macadam roads at great cost. In that county bond issues carry by big majorities, some voting for roads in the ratio of 16 to 1, and were not Populists either. A man never votes against the issue except that the road will not get close to him. He thinks perhaps he can work up a campaign to put a road nearer him. We know that this is about all the opposition that is encountered there in voting bond issues for roads. They have forgotten to say much about increased taxes. Not a one so far has been ruined by paying the road tax.

Do you know that the kind of roads you have determine the kinds of crops you must grow? In this part of Texas the bondage imposed upon farming communities by bad roads works, as everywhere else, to compel farmers to grow non-perishable crops that may be marketed any time of the year.

These crops are few, being confined to cotton and grain principally. In deciding what kind of crop to grow, the road to town must always be taken into consideration. Must the crop be sent to market at a certain stage or can it wait until the roads will admit of loads being hauled without losing in value? Will marketing the crop require much time, or will the crop be bulky? We know one man well personally in Fannin county who worked day and night to get a gravel road near his farm and not adjacent to it either; he wanted to sell out, and did at a handsome price. There is nothing in the world surer than that your farm will be worth a large percent, more with a good road near it than like it is. It is something like putting down an oil well near it only in the case of roads it is more stable. You may not get oil and then—

OIL NOTES.

Southland and New South Vental No. 1, two miles north of town, has a rig up getting ready to spud in.

Southland well 1 1-2 miles west of the big Duke well in Comanche county is below the 2000 foot mark. This well is practically in the proven field, and should prove a big producer.

Cosden No. 2 10 miles southwest of town is making 150 barrels daily, according to reports.

Pennant No. 1 Saunders Survey 7 miles south of town has derrick nearly up.

Adams 9 miles southwest of town has rig up ready for spudding in.

Childs on Sayers Survey north of town is still drilling in black shale or lime, at about 3300.

Albia 2 1-2 miles east of town has new boiler in place and should proceed with drilling without mishap.

Odum's 7 miles west of town is closed down waiting on casing, which is daily expected to arrive. The well is below 700 feet. The people behind it are pushing the work.

Rain Fall This and Last Month

M. R. Hailey of Rowden informs the Review that during the month of April 37-8 inches of rain fell in his community. To date this month 3 1-4 inches have fallen, and the story in point of time not half told. Also he keeps record of the average temperature, and for April he found it to be at sunrise 40 degrees, and at noon 49.

Williamson-Floyd

The Rev. Robert Williamson and Miss Alice Floyd were married at Abilene on Wednesday of last week. They spent Thursday to Saturday in Rising Star, where they attended the M. E. conference.

Arriving in Cross Plains on Saturday, they spent a few days with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williamson, and other relatives, leaving this week for their home in Weyland in Stevens county, where the groom is pastor in charge of the Methodist work.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Floyd of Baird, both being of pioneer families in the county. The couple have many friends in the Cross Plains country, where the groom was reared and where the bride taught school for a number of years.

We join them in wishing for the newly-weds a long and happy life.

Noah Johnson of Dressy is unqualifiedly behind the bond issue to build good roads. Mr. Johnson says there is not much to the argument put up by some that they do not want to vote debts on the country their children will have to pay. He says that in Texas people move around so much that the bonds a man votes will likely be paid by some new comer or his children. And it is true.

The Review has been reminded of the fact that it left out the names of several parties in its last issue who had recently been repainting their homes. Among those neglected are G. W. Cunningham, D. I. Hill, W. M. Adams.

M. R. Hailey, county surveyor of Rowden, was here on Tuesday to do surveying. Parties at Austin had filed for mineral rights on land supposed to lie between the A. J. Burks and the McGowan survey in the southeast part of the county, and had Mr. Hailey employed to survey out the land. We do not think outside parties have much right trying to get hold of land here supposed to belong to local citizens.

WAYNE NEWSOME TELLS MORE ABOUT ARMY SERVICE

(In previous letter they had entered the English Channel)

We unloaded from the steamer that night about 8 o'clock. The pier was dark. Only one or two dim lights were burning, in fact the whole town was so dark that we could hardly find our way to the station. This precaution was taken to ward off air raids.

We took the train here for southern England, I was really amused when I found England's railway system so far behind our own. The coaches are a great deal smaller than ours and each coach is divided into 7 or 8 sections. There are two seats to the section, running the width of coach. Each section has a door and to pass from one section to another section of the same coach you must get out on the ground or else walk along the steps or running board which extends the entire length of the car.

Their engines are no larger than a 60-20 threshing engine and usually painted in some fancy color. I noticed one in particular which was a bright red, trimmed with brass. The track is narrow, not nearly so wide as ours. But after all, these trains usually make good time—going down grade.

Nothing could be seen of the country that night for we had to keep the blinds down to keep German planes from picking us off, in case they made a raid. We passed through Birmingham that night and were served coffee and cake by Red Cross women. Two of whom were only two weeks ahead of us and were also from Texas.

The next morning I got my first glimpse of the country. England is nothing but rolling hills and valleys. The farmers care for their pasture lands as we would a yard. A few acres is a good farm, which of course accounts for the care which can be given one. The grass is kept cut and the trees are trimmed. The fences are mostly hedges which are kept trimmed, and all houses are rock. It certainly is a pretty sight when viewed from a hill top. Every house and hay stack can be picked out and the hedges can be traced down the valley for miles. I did not like the resident houses in town so well. Of course the fine dwellings are out from town where they can have large court yards, but those in town are built on the street like business houses here; they are all built together and each one has a chimney. To pass from the front to the rear of a dwelling one must either go through the house or down to the next street, and if you want to find how many houses are on the row, just count the chimneys.

The next morning we reached Winchester and hiked out three or four miles to a rest camp. These rest camps are scattered over England for the benefit of soldiers passing through. We were one day here and had a chance to view the town. Most of the men were in the lines and most of those at home were wounded. Women had taken the place of men on almost every kind of work. Girls were working in army canteens and we had some trouble making purchases. They would take none of our money but one dollar bills. They knew that they were worth four shillings but they could not count our silver. Women were working in stores, on transfer and bus lines, and every conductor which I saw in Winchester was a woman.

The next morning before day we hiked back to the station and took the train for South Hampton. You will note that every move we made, up until the armistice was signed, was made at night, and we even did not know our own destination.

METHODIST CENTENARY

READ EVERY WORD CAREFULLY

Cross Plains, Texas, May 9, 1912

Dear Church Members:

Will you please read this appeal thoughtfully and prayerfully. It is about the most important movement of our Church today. Its importance and scope covers the earth. Its task before us is to re-construct a war torn world. The world is literally to be made over.

The Church must make the world Christian, or Atheism and Bolshevism will take their shadows like a pall over the entire earth. This is not the opinion of a few church members only, but the opinion of Christian statesmen like Taft, President Wilson and others.

Other denominations are falling in line, and putting on similar campaigns. Southern Methodism belongs the honor of having started the movement; therefore it will not fail.

There are multiplied thousands of poor starving women and children, victims of Prussianism, (many of whom are Christians) stretching out their pleading hands to the Christian churches of America.

Our Church, the M. E. Church South, has the honor of being the first to enter the field with a program big enough to meet the world need at this time.

This is our Centenary Movement. And it has the hearty endorsement of our prominent Woodrow Wilson.

The money must come, but this is not the first consideration; for 2,200,000 Methodists must go to their knees. We must pray. We must give one-tenth.

Prayer back of our courageous soldiers turned the tide, in the crucial days of the World War. And prayer and prayer alone shall be our guide through the trying days of reconstruction.

Our Church has sent a commission to Europe to determine the greatest need of the world, and the Centenary Movement covers the world need with no important exception, either at home or abroad.

After much prayer North and South, our Church has decided to raise $140,000 and our part of this amount is only $35,000,000; $500,000 of this amount to be raised in the Northwest Texas Conference; $60,000 in the Abilene District; $3,300 in the Cross Plains Charge. This to be paid in 5 years time, which would give us $660 to be paid each year.

Rev. J. W. Hunt of Abilene, has been appointed Conference Director. R. D. Green, Abilene, has been given the place of District Director, and G. W. Cunniff, Ed Odum, W. T. Wilson and John Hart, Directors of the Cross Plains Charge.

The entire church has entered the campaign with an enthusiasm never shown in any enterprise. With the whole church falling in line, the Cross Plains Charge must not fail. And if we give the Lord the tithe which the Bible says belong to him, we will have an abundance to meet this and every need of the church.

I am counting on you, not only to give liberally according to your means, but to give enthusiastically, so that you will encourage someone else to give in the same way. I am sure that no one can rise from their knees after earnest prayer and give anything else but that it can be done, and it must be done.

It is too important a question to decide without prayer. And if we fail to pray, we will lose an opportunity, such as will never come to us again in this world. Be prepared when called upon. The campaign begins May 18, and closes May 25. Let's make Cross Plains the first church in the district to "go over the top."

I am counting on you to do your very best. Your Brother and Pastor, C. C. TYLER

METHODIST CENTENARY

READ EVERY WORD CAREFULLY

Cross Plains, Texas, May 9, 1908

Church Members:

Will you please read this appeal thoughtfully and prayerfully. It is about the most important movement of our Church today. Its importance and scope covers the earth before us is to re-construct a war torn world. The world is literally to be made new.

The Church must make the world Christian, or Atheism and Bolshevism will cast their shadows like a pall over the entire earth. This is not the opinion of a few church members only, but the opinion of Christian statesmen like Taft, President Wilson and others.

Other denominations are falling in line, and putting on similar campaigns. Southern Methodism belongs the honor of having started the movement; therefore it must not fail. We will not fail.

There are multiplied thousands of poor starving women and children, victims of Russianism, (many of whom are Christians) stretching out their pleading hands to the churches of America.

Our Church, the M. E. Church South, has the honor of being the first to enter the field with a program big enough to meet the world need at this time.

This is our Centenary Movement. And it has the hearty endorsement of President Woodrow Wilson.

The money must come, but this is not the first consideration; for 2,200,000 Methodists must go to their knees. We must pray. We must give one-tenth.

Prayer lack of our courageous soldiers turned the tide, in the crucial days of the World War. And prayer and prayer alone shall be our guide through the trying days of reconstruction.

Our Church has sent a commission to Europe to determine the greatest need of this time, and the Centenary Movement covers the world need with no important exception, either at home or abroad.

After much prayer North and South, our Church has decided to raise $140,000,000 and our part of this amount is only $35,000,000; $500,000 of this amount to be raised in the Northwest Texas Conference; $60,000 in the Abilene District; $3,300 in the Cross Plains Charge. This to be paid in 5 years time, which would give us $660 to be paid each year.

Rev. J. W. Hunt of Abilene, has been appointed Conference Director. R. D. Green, Abilene, has been given the place of District Director, and G. W. Campbell, Ed. Odum, W. T. Wilson and John Hart, Directors of the Cross Plains Charge.

The entire church has entered the campaign with an enthusiasm never shown in any enterprise. With the whole church falling in line, the Cross Plains Charge must not fail. And if we give the Lord the tithe which the Bible says belong to Him, we will have an abundance to meet this and every need of the church.

I am counting on you, not only to give liberally according to your means, but to give enthusiastically, so that you will encourage someone else to give in the same way. I am sure that no one can rise from their knees after earnest prayer and give anything else but that it can be done, and it must be done.

It is too important a question to decide without prayer. And if we fail to pray, we will lose an opportunity, such as will never come to us again in this world.

Be prepared when called upon. The campaign begins May 18, and closes May 25. Let's make Cross Plains the first church in the district to "go over the top" on May 18. I am counting on you to do your very best. Your Brother and Pastor, C. C. TYLER

Young Men and Young Women Are In Demand In Business.

A recent country wide investigation of employment conditions to get information as to the type of help in greatest demand shows the following results: 1338 of 2445 advertisements for help specified a business training and 524 of the remaining 1107 advertisements were for positions that office assistants grow into. No other profession can claim one-fifth as great a demand. In fact, this proves that there is a greater demand for business training than all other trades and professions combined. Here are more figures to show the advantages of entering the business field as compared with other professions. The average income of a lawyer is $1000, of a doctor $1200, others in proportion, while the average income of a business man is $2000 a year. The volume of business will wonderfully increase the next five years. Building has been practically at a stand-still everywhere and we have muchlost time to gain. This alone means big business and a constant demand for trained office help. Judge Gray, Chairman of the Board of Steel Corporation, recently said, "Our prospects are bright, our opportunity for success is greater than ever before. I predict that the next five years in this country will be the most progressive, prosperous and successful in our history. Are you passing up a Business Training and its wonderful opportunities to become a day laborer, house maid, department store clerk, telephone operator, factory hand, etc? Uncle Sam did not send the untrained soldier to France. The untrained man or woman is worthless in sustaining industrial life. With a small cost of money and from three to five months training in America's largest Commercial School, you can accept a good paying commercial position, make up your mind to enter now.
