Home Town
Gossip

During the alarming number of fatalities from automobile accidents each fourth of July, the state department of public safety has adopted the slogan:
"Live the Fifth" in cautioning motorists to be careful and not over the holiday.

There's wishing a glorious Fourth to you and yours; may old home town not be ruined by traffic tragedies.
* * * * *

Speaking of the fourth, calls for the aggressiveness of this Ruben White, manager and ambassador for the local club. Just to be different—and as well—"Whites" has arranged to serve free refreshments to his patrons on July fourth at the matinee and night showing of "Let Freedom Ring."

It is the type that is proud of the good old U.S.A. and love the sentiment for which your forefathers spilled their blood, this "Let Freedom Ring"—will put you to the gizzard. It's really and Nelson Eddy puts a bit of Patrick Henry oratory into very convincingly too.
* * * * *

The long haired gent you've been seeing about town the past few days—the one with the big hair, resembling Buffalo Bill, J. B. McDonnell. Into our column Wednesday morning Mr. McDonnell, who intentionally is a medicine show man and not Buffalo Bill at all, did the odd thing about Mr. Mc-Donnell is that he claims rain falls him where ever he goes.

"The boys in the newspaper like at Amarillo did not believe me," he says. "I told me all right if it did not rain come right out and call me a liar. While I was there it rained more than it had in years."

"I opened at Brownwood then I moved Comanche, Dublin, so, Ranger and Breckenridge before coming to Cross Plains. In all of these places
I received heavy rains during my stay. So astounded was Shamrock two years ago, when a long drought was broken shortly after my arrival, that columns were devoted to
"in the paper", he says.

Abilene country club owes a debt of gratitude to J. T. Hammett for his favorable publicity he has given the club by virtue of his outstanding performances in tournaments throughout Texas. Congrats also go to J. T., a swell fellow well as a very efficient fairway finder.

All the old timers turn out for reunion of Callahan county men, scheduled here August next, who have intimated they plan to present, Cross Plains may expect one of the largest gatherings in its history.
* * * * *

After scientific orcharding will be being evidenced by H. A.
Young, one of the largest fruit raisers in this section of Texas, has been as busy as the proverbial traded paper hanger with the fruit of the past several days.
The trucks are beating a path to his orchard from all sections of Texas, since quality of the fruit is high. The Cross Plains area is plenty of valuable advertisement a center for truck crops, etc.
* * * * *

After Westernman is the one in town who said Beer Barrel to Galento would whip the Bomber Joe Louis Wednesday. Needless to say, he'll be a faint end of many attacks
"I Told You So" the next few days.

CITY TO OBSERVE QUIET JULY 4TH

Strong Wind Does Damage Here Tuesday

RAIN ACCOMPANIES BREEZE; MOISTURE OF MONTH TO 7.10

Strong winds, accompanied by a brief, hard shower, did quite a bit of damage in Cross Plains Tuesday afternoon. Electric lines were blown down, trees twisted from the ground and an oil derrick in the East part of town demolished.

Moisture from the shower netted only 13 of an inch, however it brought the total received during June to 7.10 inches, making the month one of the wettest in Cross Plains in recent years. Precipitations were recorded during June as follows: June 1, .37; June 18, 6.30; June 19, .30; June 27, .13. During May 6.64 inches of rain fell in Cross Plains, according to the government weather gauge kept by the Review. May was wetter here than any other month of the current year, however, June outstripped May by nearly a half inch. A quarter inch of moisture received in Cross Plains since April first.

The standard rig, owned by Well-er Brothers, on the block on which Joe Well-er lives—on Eighth Street, two blocks East of Main—was blown to the ground by the strong wind. The damage had not been estimated as the Review went to press. Jack Graves, fireman for the West Texas Utilities Company here, reported three pieces of the company's lines blown down by the breeze. Damage was also done to the Home Telephone Company's properties in this vicinity.

Scores of local people took refuge from the storm in cellars.

CAR DRIVERS LICENSE EXTENDED TWO YEARS

Orders extending all drivers licenses in good standing until April 1, 1942 will be issued immediately by the State Safety Commission, according to an announcement given out at Austin, this week end.

People who are contemplating trips out of the state where state authorities of other state might be interested, in knowing why they did not have new license should have a permit stamped on their old license noting that the time had been extended to April 1st, 1942.

Rubber stamps for use in marking the license where the holders appear and ask for the extension will be kept at the various division points, where this can be done. Abilene is the division point for this district.

GRAIN MOVES RAPIDLY HERE THE PAST WEEK

Grain has been moving at a rapid clip in Cross Plains the past week. Highest price paid here this year has been 68 cents while the lowest was near 60 cents. Average price has been 62 or 63 cents the past week, the Review was told.

Several car loads have been shipped from here, and quite a bit has been trucked out. Quality of the grain has been good, despite the less than normal yield.

EARLY SETTLER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Carrie L. Griggs, an old timer in Callahan county and the mother of Dr. R. L. Griggs of Baird, died Tuesday morning. She had been in ill health for the past five years and bedridden for three years.

Mrs. Griggs was born October 29, 1856. She was married to Wm. Berry Griggs and moved to Brown county in 1880, settling near May. In 1902 the Griggs family moved to Adair in Callahan county. Six years later the family moved to Baird. Mr. Griggs expired November 1, 1924.

Survivors include three sons, two daughters, 13 grand-children and four great grand children.

Baird And Clyde Schools In Dispute After "Double Barreled" Election Held Saturday

What action will be taken in the results of the school consolidation election Saturday when Clyde, Baird and Midway all participated is not yet known.

The ballots will be canvassed by the Callahan county commissioners at their next regular meeting in July. Midway, a small school community five miles northwest of Baird, voted to consolidate with both Clyde and Baird.

Attorney Gerald Mann gave his opinion that only one election at a time instead of a "double-barreled" pool should have been held. The first election notice was for consolidation with Baird. Clyde then petitioned the court for a similar election. To save expense Judge Leonard B. Lewis called the three-way election.

The question is—Midway voted to consolidate with both Baird and Clyde—who gets it?

The election will probably be set aside as null and void. But this will not stop either place from seeking a new election.

Baptist Revival To Begin Friday Under Church Tabernacle

Annual revival meeting of the Cross Plains Baptist church will open tonight, Friday, June 30. The revival services will run through July 9, and will be held under the tabernacle.

Rev. R. C. Brinkley, pastor of the Baptist church in Sonora will be the preaching. Rev. G. B. Kendall of Epulla will conduct the song services and have charge of prayer groups and personal workers.

The entire community is invited to come and make it a community revival.

MARRIAGE YEAR AGE OF BAIRD LADY AND PUTNAM MAN IS TOLD

The marriage of Mrs. Naomi Lydia of Baird and Fred Heysler of Putnam which took place more than a year ago has been announced this week. Mrs. Lydia has been teaching in the public schools at Baird. She is the daughter of Mrs. J. B. Cuthbert of Baird. Mr. Heysler is a prominent ranchman of the Mrs. J. A. Heysler of Putnam.

Mrs. W. J. Gray and daughter, Helen, visited in Clyde Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Pemberton and family were visitors in Gorman Tuesday.

Dodson Says After Years In Austin He Is Convinced The People Don't Run Texas

Hello folks:
It's been a long time since I had as much fun as I had Monday. I got up early and got down to where I hang out about seven a.m. and in a few moments the phone rang and a voice at the other end said "is this Dod?" I replied it sure is, he said "I bet you don't know who this is" I said it sounds mighty like Ed Neesh, he said "it sure is and I am out at your house and I want to see you." I said come by or I will come out to the house, Ed said "I will meet you at the Capitol" I said "I'll be there in a few minutes. I drove up there and there was Ed Mrs. Neesh, and Ed Jr., Golly I never was prouder to see anybody than I was this time. We rambled around Austin all day, I said good-by at 4:00 p.m. Monday afternoon—golly I sure enjoyed their visit. They could not have visited Austin at a time when they could have seen the Capitol any better—not since the days of the Jim Ferguson impeachment has the Capitol been so tense—everyone wondering what was going to happen.

Did Governor O'Daniel conspire with the special interests to get elected Governor because of his popularity and then turn Texas over to the special interests? Or after his election did he realize that he could not put over his pension program without a sales tax? Did he tell five representatives who have made a sworn affidavit that he did, that he knew the special interests ruled Texas and that he was going to take the crumbs that fell from their tables and give it to the old folks? Did he introduce the transaction tax knowing that it could not possibly pass, and then conspire with the sales tax boys to endorse their plan later? These and other charges were flying thick and fast in Austin those days, Ed Neesh and I heard one representative challenge Governor O'Daniel to come on the floor of the house and deny that he told them that he knew the special interests ruled Texas and that he intended to take what crumbs fell from their tables and give it to the old folks. Right after his election, did he while riding on the palatial yacht of a Galveston multimillionaire decide to join the special interests and put over a sales tax in Texas so that this and other millionaire could escape paying taxes? Some charge that if some one had come forth several years ago and said I will put over a sales tax and abolish the ad valorem tax that he could have gotten well, some say five and some say ten million dollars. Then there are those that argue why did Governor O'Daniel after he was elected promise to turn out the professional politicians, why did he then turn and endorse a bunch of the most professional of all professional politicians, to help him run Texas knowing that most of these boys were sales-tax fellows.

Before coming here I thought that the people ran Texas but since I have rambled around here a few years I have found out that just a few run Texas—but you ought to come down here sometime and see for yourself.

AUBRA DODSON.

Arthur Zappe, general chairman of the festival commented.

Fair Trade Act Is Unconstitutional Gerald Mann Says

The fair trade act, bone of bitter dispute in the recent session of the legislature, was held invalid Tuesday by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

In an opinion requested by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, the attorney general declared the measure conflicted with the Texas anti-trust laws and therefore the act "must fall."

An opinion by the attorney general is advisory only and has no legal effect. However, O'Daniel twice vetoed a bill permitting barbers to fix minimum prices after Mann ruled it unconstitutional.

The fair trade was opposed in the legislature chiefly on grounds it would permit the manufacturers to raise prices to the consumer and would have the effect of a very steep sales tax.

Advocates claimed it would end unfair trade practices and would protect the manufacturer, the retailer and consumer.

The bill, which allowed manufacturers to set minimum prices on trade-marked articles by contract, passed both houses by large majorities although in the senate it was the subject of a prolonged filibuster.

Mann based his opinion on a peculiar provision in the act itself, that if the act ever should be construed as conflicting with the anti-trust laws it should be "null and void and of no force or effect." He ruled there was such conflict and the act fell of its own weight. Constitutionality was not passed upon.

The opinion said:

"... We have reached the conclusion that house bill 231 is in contravention of and conflicts with the anti-trust laws of the state of Texas, and therefore, by virtue of the provisions of section 7 of the bill, is a nullity and of no force or effect whatsoever."

The attorney general pointed out that the anti-trust laws prohibited two or more persons from fixing prices in any manner and constituted legislative recognition that combinations having for their purpose, or effecting by their acts, the fixing of prices are "obnoxious to the public interest."

The anti-trust laws, he asserted, displayed a desire by the legislature to "enact comprehensive laws to render such price-fixing illegal, unenforceable and punishable criminally, no matter how it may be sought to be accomplished, whether directly or indirectly."

The opinion defined "horizontal" and "vertical" price-fixing and declared the fair trade act fell in the latter category, going on to say that the anti-trust laws, insofar as they condemned "vertical" price-fixing, were legislative recognition of a United States supreme court statement that attempts to sell property for a full price and yet to place restraints upon its further alienation have been "obnoxious and hateful to the law."

Arguments usually made in favor of laws such as the fair trade act were listed by the opinion as follows:

That the manufacturer of trade-marked or branded articles has a vital interest in the good will engendered by the sale of such goods. That price-cutting by retailers damages the manufacturers good will.

That the damage thus sustained increases the manufacturer's costs and impairs his ability to market his goods, therefore causing increased prices.

Local people interviewed this week as to how they planned to celebrate the fourth gave many different answers. Some planned to do nothing at all but rest, others said they intended to see the races at Brady, attend the Cowboys Reunion at Stamford, visit the water carnival and beauty revue at Lake Cisco. Scores of others intimated they would spend the day fishing, visiting, golfing, etc.

Special showings with matinee performances are scheduled for Tuesday at the Liberty theatre.

'Lung' Powerless To Help Sufferer Of Polio At Baird

At Baird two-year-old Allen Lee Deatheridge lies gravely ill of infantile paralysis.

At Abilene, in the Hendrick Memorial hospital, is an "iron lung." It was purchased two years ago by public donation in the hope of saving lives of infantile paralysis sufferers in West Texas.

The machine of Allen Lee could be used in restoring iron lung to health, however, appears doubtful. The "lung" is of benefit only to those patients whose respiratory organs have been affected. It supplements and encourages the muscles used in breathing.

The Deatheridge child's physicians said his respiration had not been impaired. It is impossible for him to straighten his right leg, however, and muscles in his back and neck have contracted, pulling the head far out of normal position.

It was indicated that if Allen Lee's breathing becomes affected, he will be taken to Abilene.

A second case of infantile paralysis at Baird is less serious. The patient is Eugene Warren, 15. Both the Warren and Deatheridge homes are quarantined.

The "iron lung" at Abilene is for free use of infantile paralysis sufferers, who would be charged for hospital room, nursing, drugs, etc. But when money was raised to buy the device, there was a surplus, and it was set aside to care or such expenses if the patient is unable to do so.

To date, the "lung" has never been used in treating infantile paralysis. Julian H. Pace, assistant superintendent of the hospital, reports that it has been employed in two or three accident cases in which there had been brain injuries.

WASHINGTON NEWS FROM CONGRESSMAN RYDE L. GARRETT

REVISION: The House Ways and Means Subcommittee is expected to be ready to submit the tax revision program being drafted, within a few days, Chairman Harrison of the Senate Committee on Finance is in favor of repeal of the undistributed profits tax, authority to corporations to carry over net losses for two or three years, and other concessions to business.

SEUM CLEARANCE: An Administration program in increasing by $800,000,000 the amount of bonds the U. S. Housing Authority may issue for loans to aid in slum clearance and low rent housing projects, was stepped ahead by the Senate. As sent to the House, the bill authorizes appropriation of $45,000,000 annually for Federal subsidies in connection with local funds to finance these projects. Included was an authorization to study housing in rural areas.

CREDIT FOR SMALL BUSINESS: A compromise will probably be reached soon on legislation to liberalize credit for small business establishments. Although it is believed the President is in favor of the objective of the Mead bill on this subject, he has ventured no approval of its details. Supplemental proposals have been made by the Federal Reserve Board Chairman Eyles to the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency.

ROYALTY: It is estimated that 600,000 people turned out to see the King and Queen of England upon their arrival in the Nation's Capitol. A formal tea and a dinner at the British Embassy in Washington, divine services, and an American Picnic at Hyde Park were included in the week's ceremonies. Those had the pleasure of meeting their Majesties were deeply impressed by their charm and ability, despite their positions as rulers of one third of the earth's people, to make everyone feel at ease.

FOOD AND DRUG BILL: A bill of interest to all manufacturers of foods, drugs, and cosmetics—the Lee-Bailey bill to postpone until July 1, 1940, the enforcement of the Food and Drug Acts requirements as to labels is pending.

NEW STAMP: The Postmaster General, James A. Farley announced that he has authorized the issuance of a single commemorative postage stamp to be released next November in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the admission to Statehood of the States of North Dakota, Montana and Washington. The one stamp, which will commemorate the four state anniversaries, will be purple in color and of the three-cent denomination. Further details as to design and date and place of first day sale will be announced later by the Post Office Department.

STREAMLINED TURKEYS: The modernized small turkey, goal of poultry geneticists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be shown in its present stage of development at the 7th World Poultry Congress. The display will include 2 live small-type white turkeys—a young tom and a young hen. The aim of the breeding work is to develop a small turkey to fit the modern small oven and suitable for the modern small family. There is a growing demand for small market turkey. It will take probably another 5 years before the de-streamlined characteristics of the new small-type turkey.

THE BOOK SHELF

Lexie Dean Robertson
"On this book shelf always look for anything except a book"

Today, hoping to forget the sweltering heat, I got out my old Chinese Tourists, mementoes of several well planned trips, and lingered over pictures of the grand Tetons... those beautiful glaciered mountains that punctuate the Jackson Hole county like ice-tipped exclamation points... and I remembered how there one August I slept under six wooden blankets and awoke shivering in the frosty morning... how the gray dawn crept over the blue crystal of the lake and jovial fishermen wrapped to the ears in red plaid jackets had to slap their cold palms together before they could assemble delicate bamboo rods... and here the June days are hotter and hotter! I am trying to persuade my doctor to pronounce me allergic to summer temperatures!

Bob Whites are whistling all over our country. Near the number four tee box at the country club, a mother quail has been patiently sitting on her nest which held sixteen eggs. The other day a bad drive took me near her hidden place and there she was with two baby quail just hatched out. Unwilling to disturb her I left my ball in the rough and when I returned an hour later to see what had happened, mother quail's sixteen babies were all out of their shells and she was giving them their first lesson in self preservation. For when I approached she fluttered and sat low in the grass and all sixteen followed suit. It took a keener eye than mine to spy them out.

There are good people weakening and undermining the various organizations to which they belong, like termites feeding on a garden bench... persons who vote their party ticket, yet criticize everything done by those at the head of our government; church members who will not attend service nor contribute to its upkeep; club women who refuse to take part on a program nor will they help actively in any club cause... who want to be a termite!

I have been reading Edna St. Vincent Millay's new book of poetry, "Huntsman, What Quarry?" recently published. While Miss Millay will probably never lose her rank as America's top poet, if you read this book expecting to find, as some reviewers have intimated, those spirited, fresh lyrics that brought her first fame, you will be disappointed. These new poems are exquisite lyrics with a difference. It is true that Miss Millay has grown as a poet; it is also unfortunately true that she has grown beyond the reach of many of her ardent admirers.

Mr. Bahitzer's girl friend says the reason the fan dance competition was dropped was not because of a shortage in fans.

And speaking of good times, remember the fun you had at Pioneer Palace in Fort Worth in 1934 and '37? Well, when magnificent Casa Manana opens on July 21 for the summer, the Western fun-spot with the stage above the bar will open too and there will be vaudeville, old-time moving pictures (like "The Perils of Pauline") old style melodrama ("Curse, foiled again!") and audience-singing with colored slides, such as were popular in 1910, illustrating such songs as "Down by the Old Mill-Stream" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Readers send in the following nominations for the "oldest joke" contest:

A man, who had beaten up an acquaintance, was before the judge. "Why did you do it?" the judge inquired. "Because he called me a hippopotamus," the defendant replied. "But that was a year ago," the injured man said. "I know it," the other answered, "but I hadn't seen a hippopotamus until yesterday."

A stranger, strolling through a cemetery, read a tombstone inscription: "Here lies a lawyer and an honest man." The visitor commented, "Ground must be scarce around here; they're burying 'em two to the grave."

An old farmer consulting a lawyer about a prospective law-suit said, "I'll just give you the facts and you can put in the lies to suit yourself."

Sunday is the only day that most citizens have a chance to get out with their families and really enjoy the use of the highways that their money has built. They go picnicking, visit relatives or just drive around and view the scenery.

The presence of big trucks on the highways on that day adds a traffic hazard to the congestion, hence the well-received suggestion of State Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler that such trucks should not run on Sunday unless handling perishables or doing other emergency hauling.

R. W. Neel arrived here last week from Abilene where he has been attending school to spend the summer months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Neel.

 Pierce was summoned and together the five men proceeded to the spot in the McDemmet pasture where the grave was located. After further consultation the digging began. In hardly no time at all a board was uncovered to where the remains. Curiously, and carefully, the board was raised and the five gazed down. It was nothing but the skeletal remains of a dog that had belonged to Carlos McDemmet.

It is said that the five men walked from the grave to their car and drove away without one mentioning their recent discovery. But somehow the story leaked out and has caused many hearty laughs the past few days, none of which were by the exhumers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith of near Patman. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Payne of Scranton.

The mother of the bride prepared a dinner in honor of the couple Sunday, July 2. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Mabry Tatum and family, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Tatum and family, Mr. and Mrs. Minda McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Payne and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. ## County Agent's Column

The AAA has placed approximately $28,000 at the disposal of Callahan County farmers, to assist them in carrying out practices such as terracing, seeding legumes, establishing pastures and planting green manure and cover crops—that is, practices which conserve or build up the soil.

That is the maximum that can be earned by farmers of this county by carrying out soil-building practices in 1939.

The soil-building payment is made in addition to the regular conservation payment for planting within acreage allotments, and is separate, also from the price adjustment, or parity payment.

Walter H. Ahrhart, Secretary of the Callahan County Agricultural Conservation Committee, makes the following explanation of how the soil-building payment is earned.

A maximum soil-building allowance is set up for each farm, and is figured as the sum of the following items:

- (1) 50 cents per acre of crop land in excess of the total soil-depleting allotment for the farm.
- (2) $1.50 per acre of commercial orchards on the farm January 1, 1939.
- (3) 2 cents per acre of non-crop open pasture land plus $1 per animal unit of grazing capacity.

To show how this maximum assistance for soil building practices is figured, take a farm with 280 acres of tilled land, a cotton allotment of 60 acres, 3 acres of commercial orchards, 150 acres of non-crop open pasture land with a grazing capacity of 8 animal units, and a total soil-depleting allotment of 135 acres.

The rate of 50 cents an acre of cropland applies to 65 acres (percentage of cropland in excess of the total soil-depleting allotment); the rate of $1.50 per acre of commercial orchards applies to 3 acres; the rate of 2 cents per acre of pasture land applies to 150 acres, and the rate of $1.00 per animal unit of grazing capacity applies to 8 units. To get the maximum amount available for soil-building practices, add the items listed as follows:

Cropland (65 x 50c)	$32.50
Commercial orchards	4.50
Pasture land (150 x 2c)	3.00
Grazing capacity (8x$1)	8.00
Total	$48.00

In this example, $48 is the largest amount available to assist the farmer in carrying out soil-building practices.

Soil-building practices are measured in terms of units. For example, construction of 200 linear feet of terrace qualifies as one unit of practice; seeding an acre of alfalfa counts as two units; an acre of green manure counts as one unit; each eight acres of contour farming with intertilled crops rates as one unit.

The payment rate, for soil-building practices, is $1.50 a unit. In the foregoing example, then, the farmer could earn his maximum soil-building allowance of $48 by carrying out 32 units ($48 divided by $1.50 equals 32) of practices.

If this farmer carries out only 10 units of practices, then he gets only $15 as a soil-building practice payment, 15 units, $22.50, and so on.

The program provides for a long list of soil-building practices in Texas. However, not all of these are adaptable to Callahan County. Those which have been and can be carried out with success in this county are as follows:

1. Construction of 200 linear feet of standard terrace.
2. Contour ridging of noncrop, open pasture land—750 linear feet of ridge terrace counting as one unit.
3. Construction of reservoirs and dams—100 cubic yards of material moved in making fill or excavation counting as one unit.
4. Reseeding depleted pastures, 10 pounds of seed counting as one unit.

Each acre of the following counts as one unit: ($1.50)

1. Seeding biennial or perennial legumes, perennial grasses (other than timothy or red top), or mixtures containing perennial grasses, perennial legumes, or biennial legumes.
2. Seeding winter legumes, annual lespedeza, annual vetches, annual sweet-clover, sericea, or erofalaria.
3. Green manure crops or cover crops (excluding wheat, lespedeza, peanuts legged off, and any crop for which credit is given any other practice) of which a good stand and a good growth is (a) plowed or disked under and followed by a winter cover crop if on land subject to erosion, or (b) left on the land subject to erosion in orchards or on commercial vegetable or potato land, or on cropland in a regular cropping rotation.

Each acre of the following counts as two units ($3):

1. Seeding permanent grasses or pasture mixtures containing a full seeding of Rhodes grass, Dallas, grama, or Bermuda grasses.
2. Each two acres of the following counts as one unit (75 cents an acre):

1. Summer legumes, excluding those classified as soil-depleting, interplanted or grown in combination with soil-depleting crops, provided a good stand legume occupies at least one-third of the land.
2. Seeding timothy or redtop or a mixture consisting solely of timothy and redtop.
3. Each four acres of the following counts as one unit (37.5 cents an acre):

1. Contour listing, subsoiling (chisel), or furrowing noncrop land.
2. Strip-topping on the contour, alternating with strips of erosion-resisting crops and erosion-permitting intertilled crops.

Each Eight acres of the following counts as one unit (18.7 cents an acre):

1. Contour farming intertilled crops, consisting of the planting and cultivation of row crops following the contour as determined by a farm level or surveyor's instrument or following established terraces.
2. Contour listing of cropland, with a regular double moldboard lister or with a chisel of approved design, or other implement getting the same results, according to specifications set out in the regulations.

Each ten acres of the following counts as one unit (15 cents an acre):

1. Seeding small grain crops for harvest in 1939 on a contour run with a farm level or surveyor's instrument or on established.

CLARA BROWNS COLUMN

The County Home Demonstration Council presented each of the girls with $5.00 to help defray expenses; the other $2.50 will be given the girls by their clubs.

Mrs. Jim Barker of Enterprise club, Callahan county, kept books on a half acre berry patch this season and reports that 500 gallons were gathered. Marketing these was no trouble, as people were waiting at each picking to purchase. Mrs. Barker says the berries were of high quality. This was due to careful cultivation, pruning and the season.

Mrs. W. A. Young reports a new rock cellar at her home. The primary purpose of the cellar is to escape freakish weather, but Mrs. Young is building shelves to store her canned foods on. She feels that it can serve the double purpose.

When pressure cooker gauges are off more than 2 degrees, specialists in food preservation say that they are dangerous for use. If you have not had your gauge checked, any Home Demonstration Club will check your cooker for a small charge to cover time and fuel used.

The agent has checked 55 cookers in the last three weeks. Around 50 to 60% of these were under more than 2 degrees. Most of the cookers checked had been in use 5 to 20 years. Your local hardware dealer will be glad to order you a gauge. A gauge that has a trade mark on it is the best type to purchase. FAIR TRADE ACT (Continued from page 1)

That "vertical" price-fixing is, in itself, in competition with the branded commodities of a single class, by agreement between manufacturers, or distributors, or both, to fix prices for their commodity alone may be beneficial to the public generally.

Arguments against such price fixing as set forth by the fair trade commission were detailed as follows:

The power to fix prices will be abused by the allowance of too large profits.

Resale price maintenance protects and encourages inferior jobs and prevents elimination of the over-crowded field of dealers.

NOTICE TO CITY GAS CONSUMERS

Gas service will be interrupted for about two hours Friday afternoon, to permit us to change lines in the West part of town where highway improvements are being made.

Consumers are reminded to cut off all hot water heaters and other gas service by, or before, 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 30. Service will be discontinued for only about two hours.
