HOME TOWN GOSSIP

A political prediction: American voters will give Roosevelt and Garner an overwhelming majority at the polls Tuesday.

The truth of this forecast may be questioned by such dignified G.O.P.s as John Ivy, Joe Weiler and Ike Kendrick; but from where we sit the Democratic wind appears irresistibly strong.

This prediction is made on the face of Literary Digest's political poll which announced its final Wednesday night tally: Landon 370 electoral votes to 160 for Roosevelt.

It must be admitted that never before has the Digest missed a national poll, however, our guess is that the publication will be so far wrong on the outcome of the current campaign that its future existence will be impaired.

Basis for this accusation is that the Digest has not queried three great classes of voters: laborers, reliefers and negroes. Their questionnaires have gone mostly to big business men, who are unable to comprehend the true effects of the New Deal and fear its accumulated debt.

Now here's an announcement that will startle the populace. E. D. (Eddie) Priest is heralding from the house-tops that he'll be a married man before New Year's. If his word is to be taken for full value, he will trip to Hymen's altar Christmas Day. The name of the "fortunate" young lady is yet an enigma to this department.

The Barr-Clark nuptial went off Sunday morning just exactly as this department prophesied it would. Chalk up another score.

Those who saw Ruth and Clois recite their "I do's" declare that another couple was present that appeared to be more than passingly interested in the goings-on; their initials are Estalyn Wooten and Wilbur Barr.

Today is Vincent Leewright's last of bachelorhood. The Cottonwood coach, regardless of his denials, will be married at Maud, Texas, Saturday morning, to the comely Miss Marguerite Chandler, with whom he began a courtship when both were students in college at Commerce.

LOCAL COUPLE WED IN HOME CEREMONY HERE SUNDAY MORN

Miss Ruth Barr and Clois Clark were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chess W. Barr, in the South part of town Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The single ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Clark, a former schoolmate of the groom at Howard Payne College in Brownwood.

The vows were recited before an improvised altar, decorated with Autumn foliage and persimmon branches. Only close friends and members of the two immediate families were in attendance.

Miss Billy Ruth Clark, cousin of the groom and close friend of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Darwin Anderson was the groom's attend ant. The wedding march was played by Miss Betsy McAdams.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party was served cake from a huge, elaborately decorated wedding cake, and coffee. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chess W. Barr, parents of the bride, Mrs. John Clark, mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jackson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. McAdams and son, Mrs. E. N. Ridgeway, Miss Estalyn Wooten, Doris Jean and Wilbur Barr, and those participating in the wedding ceremony.

The couple left here Sunday afternoon for a trip to Dallas and the Texas Centennial. They returned Wednesday afternoon to Cross Cut, where they will make their home.

The bride is a member of one of the oldest families in the Cross Plains trade area. She is a graduate of Cross Plains high school, having finished with the class of '36. She has been quite prominent in activities of the younger set here.

The groom is the son of Mrs. John Clark, of Cross Cut. After finishing high school he attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood. For the past two years he has been postmaster at Cross Cut.

Marriage of the couple Sunday morning was the culmination of an extended courtship.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTE TUESDAY

Buffaloes Meet Coleman On Grid Tonight

200 LOCAL FANS TO FOLLOW TEAM; GAME IS DISTRICT'S BEST

Cross Plains high school Buffaloes will journey to Coleman Friday night for a conference conflict with the Bluecats on Hufford field, beginning at eight o'clock.

With the powerful Winters Bulldogs invading Mozelle for a push-over, Rising Star remaining idle and Ballinger meeting the weak Bangs Dragons, the Coleman-Cross Plains game is expected to hold the spotlight of district 23-B. At least 200 fans are expected to follow the Buffaloes to the Coleman county seat.

A check-up with the Coleman coaching staff Wednesday afternoon revealed that the entire Bluecat squad would be ready for Friday night's game, including two promising gridsters who were not even suited out for Coleman's meeting of Rising Star last week. The Buffaloes, notwithstanding that two reserves—Lacey and Task—will be out because of injuries, are doped to overwhelm Coleman.

At present the herd is tied with Ballinger for third place in the conference chase. The dispute, if dope runs true to form, will not be settled until the two teams meet in an Armistice night game at Ballinger.

The Review was unable to learn Coleman's probable starting line-up in a telephone check-up yesterday, however, the name, weight, jersey number and position of the Bluecat players appear hereunder.

PIONEER MAN WEDS RISING STAR GIRL

Miss Opal Buchanan, of Rising Star, and Bobby Head, of Pioneer, were married at Cisco Thursday, October 22, with Rev. William Cole, pastor of the First Methodist Church of that place, solemnizing the rites.

The couple will make their home at Pioneer, where the groom is employed with an oil company.

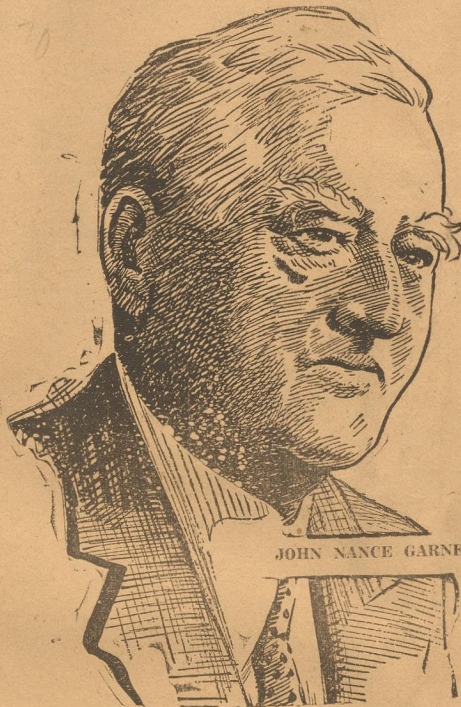

METHODIST PASTORS PLANNING TO LEAVE FOR HOUSTON PARLEY

Methodist pastors throughout the Cross Plains trade territory were making plans yesterday to leave the first of next week for a statewide convention in Houston from Tuesday through Sunday, at which time pastorates for the ensuing year will be assigned.

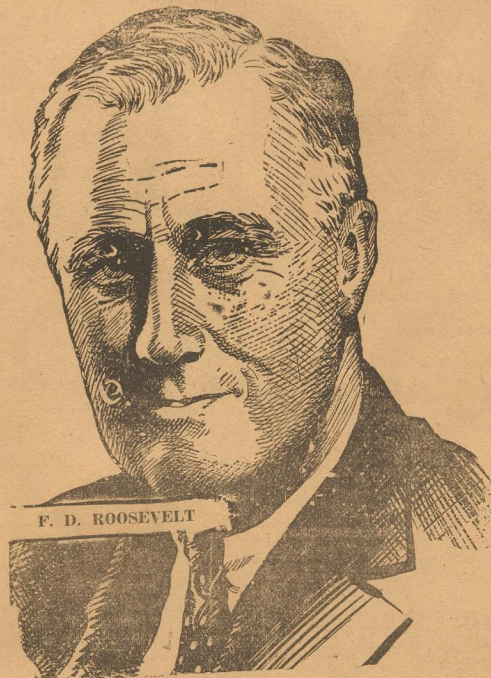

Rev. J. C. Mann, pastor of the local Methodist Church, Rev. B. L. McCord, pastor of the Pioneer charge, and the Rising Star pastor will make the trip together.

J. A. Caton, of Cross Plains, has been chosen as the layman delegate to the convention from the Cisco district.

TEXANS FACE SIX PROPOSED CHANGES TO STATE CHARTER

Voters of the nation will trek to the polls Tuesday in one of the warmest presidential elections in recent years. Opposing the democratic ticket of Roosevelt and Garner for re-election, is Governor Alf Landon, of Kansas, and publisher Frank Knox, bearing the Republican banners.

In Texas, six proposed amendments to the state constitution are to be balloted upon at the same time as the presidential electors. The proposed amendments will appear at the bottom of the ballot.

Voting in Cross Plains will take place at the Anderson Chevrolet building. Taylor Bond will be presiding judge. He will be assisted by C. E. Barr, Mrs. W. A. Williams, and Jeff Clark, judges, and Mrs. W. R. Wagner, Jr., J. W. Westerman, Mrs. Stanley Clark and Drew Hill, clerks. Polls will open at seven o'clock Tuesday morning and remain open until seven that evening. Mr. Bond told the Review.

The general election vote here ordinarily about equals that of the first primary, however, bad weather may result in a smaller poll, Mr. Bond opines.

While it is conceded that Roosevelt and Garner will carry Texas and the state's entire 23 electoral votes be pledged to the Democratic standard bearers, political leaders are urging a large vote. Texas representation at the Democratic convention is based upon the number of votes polled in the general election, it is pointed out.

There are 531 electoral votes, divided among the 48 states as follows:

Alabama 11, Arizona 3, Arkansas 9, California 22, Connecticut 8, Colorado 6, Delaware 3, Florida 7, Georgia 12, Idaho 4, Illinois 29, Indiana 14, Iowa 11, Kansas 11, Louisiana 10, Maine 5, Maryland 8, Massachusetts 17, Michigan 19, Minnesota 11, Mississippi 9, Missouri 15, Montana 4, Nebraska 4, Nevada 3, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 16, New Mexico 3, New York 47, North Carolina 13, North Dakota 4, Ohio 26, Oklahoma 11, Oregon 5, Pennsylvania 36, Rhode Island 4, South Carolina 8, South Dakota 4, Tennessee 11, Texas 23, Utah 4, Vermont 3, Virginia 11, Washington 8, West Virginia 8, Wisconsin 13, Wyoming 3.

LOCAL COUPLE WED TUESDAY EVENING

Mrs. Pearl Morris and Ed Duncan, both of this place, were united in marriage at the home of the bride Tuesday night, with the Rev. W. L. Bryan, Baptist minister, solemnizing the rites. Witnesses to the ceremony were only immediate members of the families and close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will continue to make their home in Cross Plains.

MARIE NEEB BRIDE OF CLAUDE HARRELL

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harrell, who were recently married, have returned from a trip to Dallas, where they visited the Texas Centennial.

Mrs. Harrell was the former Miss Marie Neeb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Neeb, of this city. She is a graduate of Cross Plains high school and is well known here, being a member of one of the area's oldest families.

Mr. Harrell is a well known local ranchman. The couple will reside at his place, five miles South of town.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS WED IN ABILENE

Marriage of Miss Louise Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham, formerly of Cross Plains, to Charlie C. Black, took place at the home of the bride's parents in Abilene, Saturday morning. The couple will live at Hobbs, New Mexico.

Callahan Burglar Held in Ft. Worth On Robbery Count

C. O. Colston, 30, fugitive from the state penitentiary, who was first sentenced from Callahan county in 1928 on a burglary count, is being held in Fort Worth in connection with the robbery July 14 of the cashier of Monnig's department store.

Colston denied any knowledge of the Monnig robbery, in which $1,500 in cash and $15,000 in checks were taken, although A. L. Seyster, the Monnig cashier, and two other employees who witnessed the robbery identified him as one of the two men who took a bag from Seyster as he started for the bank.

Colston was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary on a burglary conviction in Callahan county in 1928. He escaped in August of that year and was recaptured. He was paroled in October, 1931, and in February, 1933, was convicted on burglary charges in Nueces county and given four years. His parole was revoked. He escaped again on Dec. 29, 1935, and had been at liberty until arrested recently in a

Herd's Percentage Goes To 666; Game Forfeited Friday

Cross Plains high school Buffaloes hiked their percentage to 666 in football district 23-B, Friday of last week when the Santa Anna Mountaineers forfeited a scheduled game in favor of the domestics.

The game was originally docketed to be played in Santa Anna Friday night, however, rain made the unsodded Mountaineer field unplayable. Negotiations were then launched to bring the game to Williams field in Cross Plains, however, Santa Anna, who is already definitely out of the championship chase, elected to forfeit.

The Buffaloes have yet to play, in the order named, Coleman, Bangs, Ballinger and Rising Star. Should the herd win all remaining games and Rising Star upset Winters, Cross Plains will have at least, a tie for the title. In that event, extra games to decide the championship are expected to be scheduled. There is also a remote possibility that Rising Star and Winters may each lose more than one game before the season closes;

My Favorite Recipe
STAR DUST
Movie • Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

IT'S always interesting when a star stages a come-back; Karen Morley's is especially interesting, because she had to fight a battle, not with loss of popularity but with poor health, before she could win back the place she once had on the screen.

Now she is prettier than ever. Shortly after arriving in New York on a vacation trip she attended a party given by Paramount for all of its celebrities, and practically stole the show.

Shirley Temple is going to China, on the screen. She is making "Stow-away," part of which is laid in Shanghai, and in those scenes she is dressed as a Chinese girl.

Later on she will do "Wee Willie Winkie," the Kipling story, which is laid in India. That famous bit of fiction is about a boy—will they make Shirley a boy for this one, or change the character? Whatever they do about it, the part is a grand one for her.

Margot Grahame is one of the busiest girls in the movie center. She returned from England, her home country, September 6—and has just been cast by RKO for her third consecutive featured lead since that time. It's opposite Lee Tracy in "Criminal Lawyer," following hard on the heels of "Make Way for a Lady."

When you see "The General Died at Dawn" pay a lot of attention, girls, to the clothes that Madeleine Carroll wears as she dashes about China, and the way in which she wears them. You can learn more from that one picture than you could from a dozen fashion shows!

Irene Dunne traveled to New York recently for one of her usual reunions with her husband. And of course, Joan Blondell and Dick Powell arrived there and were greeted by everything they company could think up that would attract attention to them—as if they wouldn't have attracted plenty just by themselves! Thirteen tugs went down the bay to meet their ship. Two planes also met it, one of them trailing a banner which read "Welcome Dick and Joan."

If you can invent a microphone that can kick, you'll make a fortune—or so says Martha Atwell, who directs some of our most popular radio programs—"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" for instance. She says that one of her hardest tasks is keeping actors from kicking the mike when they're broadcasting. And of course that delicate instrument registers every sound. She thinks that, if the microphone could kick back, the actors might learn to stand still.

There's never a dull moment in a broadcasting studio where one of those amateur programs is going on. Phillip Lord launched his "We, the People" not long ago, and when one of the women began telling about her baby, who had been kidnapped, the poor soul began to cry and couldn't stop.

"Everybody lost their heads, for a moment," one of the executives told me. "Then Phil came to the rescue, talked to her, and finally calmed her down."

Betty Furness likes to make pictures, but she can't resist dashing back to New York every so often, to be entertained by the very social crowd of which she was part before she betook herself to Hollywood.

Gary Cooper's wife rates socially too, you'll recall, but she and Gary are so dignified when they are in New York that they aren't news. It's hard to remember the old days when his romance with Lupe Velez was constantly dragging him into the limelight.

ODD AND ENDS... Dorothy Arzner, the famous woman director (now doing "Mother Cary's Chickens" with Ginger Rogers), relaxes between films by doing something different—studying astronomy, redecorating her house, or planting a new garden... Buck Jones recently celebrated his 19th anniversary in pictures—and is so popular that his "Buck Jones Rangers" club has 5,000,000 boys as members... Katherine Hepburn's "Portrait of a Rebel" has been changed to "A Woman Rebels," so that people won't think it's about a photograph of a Confederate soldier.

Spanish Rebels Seem to Be Due to Win

Communist, Fascist Ideals Are Filmy to Illiterate General Populace; They're Concerned Only With Delivery From Oppression.

By WILLIAM C. UTLEY

AS THIS is being written, the army of the Fascist revolutionists is closing in on Madrid, less than 20 miles from the outskirts of the Spanish capital.

Thousands upon thousands on both sides have lost their lives on the firing line, have been executed like so many cattle, or have perished from starvation in times of siege. Atrocities have been committed upon religious, educational and civilian institutions which have rocked the civilized world.

All this has been happening in the name of philosophies of government which have begun to assume importance in the world only in the last decade or two. The Loyalist government supporters, headed by their new premier, Francisco Largo Caballero, are nominally Marxists and Communists. The insurgents under General Franco are Fascists.

But the Spanish people are emotionalists. Most of them have not the faintest idea what these theories of government mean, and care less. A Loyalist accepts his classification as a Communist because he believes that if his government is successful, he will be delivered from the penury and oppression which has been his many of the business men and industrial holding classes.

However, in Spain there has been no humanization of industry to the point reached in many other countries. Industrial hospitals, schools and other institutions, which have been developed by many American concerns for the benefit of their employees, are not to be found in Spain. Both worker and employer regarded each other merely as objects for exploitation.

Sign of the Fist.

While five years ago there was little or no hatred of class for class evident in Spain, the outbreak of ists, Communists and Anarchists among the supporters of the national government opportunity to quarrel among themselves.

Indeed in the lack of unity on both sides lies the only real hope of a compromise in the civil war. As a matter of fact it is extremely doubtful that the doctrines of either side that might emerge victorious would be beneficial to the nation. As long as either side is confident that it has enough unity and power to win—regardless of the cost in life and destruction—it is apparent that the fight will go on to the bitter end.

All Europe is aware of the extremely delicate situation that exists with relation to outside aid for either faction in the Spanish civil war. But General Franco, in a brilliant campaign, has now captured Badajoz, which virtually makes it impossible for the government at Madrid to receive aid over the Portuguese border. The capture of Irun closed an important point of entry for any help that might have been forthcoming over the French border. With the fall of San Sebastian, the Loyalists lost practically the entire Atlantic seaboard. And the insurgents also hold Morocco, the Balearic Isles and the Canary Isles.

Portugal Takes a Walk.

Premier Blum of France, with the aid of Great Britain, has succeeded in establishing an agreement among the major European powers not to interfere in any way in the Spanish incident, especially not to render assistance to either warring faction. Yet it appears from all reports certain that somehow both Loyalists and Insurgents have been receiving materials of war from some outside sources.

Russia aroused the alarm and the disapproval of the other nations when she openly charged that Germany, Italy and Portugal had been aiding the cause of General Franco, in direct violation of the treaty of non-intervention. Stalin made it clear that the Soviet would, if this outside aid to the insurgents continued, feel perfectly free to come to the assistance of the Communists of the national government in Madrid. The Russians gave names, dates and locations.

This resulted in a walkout on the meeting of the committee for non-intervention, by the Portuguese delegate, who declared that his country had been affronted.

The Italian ambassador, Signor Grandi, opened up counter-charges of the same nature against the Russians, also naming names and dates and locations said to be involved in the supply of war materials to the Madrid government by the Soviet. The Russians defended their acts on the premises that the ships which Grandi had named carried only cargoes of food, upon which there is no limitation. Germany denied that she had any part in giving aid to either side.

Investigation Will Be Slow.

It seems probable now that the committee will demand investigation of the Russian charges. The move is led by Lord Plymouth of lot. An insurgent accepts his classification as a Fascist for the same reason, or to keep himself from getting shot as a Communist at the hands of the rebels who seem destined to emerge as victors in the civil war.

The March on Toledo by General Franco's Insurgent Army.

Half Nation Illiterate.

Not that General Franco's army does not have plenty of work ahead of it before it can really claim Spain. There are important cities which have not yet fallen. After Madrid there are Barcelona, Bilbao and Valencia. Barcelona, a city of a million souls, has virtually shelved all other industry in the zeal to produce bullets, airplanes and other implements of war. If Caballero should find a way of combining the Loyalist strength that lies principally in these large cities, his government might hold out for some time.

But if the premier succeeds in binding his legions together in a solid front, it will not be by links of Marxist or Communist argument. Half the citizens of the country can neither read nor write. They are elemental, emotional. Their civilization has lagged behind. Literature has in a few years slipped back over centuries of what progress it may have once claimed.

There are thousands upon thousands of Spanish villages which are not accessible by road, which have no water supply. Half of the population makes its living directly from the land, by the crudest of methods. Average earnings are hardly more than enough to buy the poorest kind of food. Generation after generation, they have grown up to the same kind of existence.

These are the kind of people who are doing the actual fighting in the civil war. Are they fighting for ideals of government? Most of them have no more idea of their physical location in the world's geography than they have of television.

Republican Reform Falls Short.

By the millions, these people have for generations slaved at back-breaking labor to the profit of rich landlords not even present on the properties, and not one whit interested in the welfare of the tillers of their fields. The republicans seemed them that the lands would be taken from the landlords and given to them, and they could have the profits.

When the republic was ushered in, it began some reforms on the land, but was unable to supply the peasants with the funds and equipment necessary to work the farms at a profit, and the situation was little improved. In fact in some cases peasants were driven to work in the city factories at starvation wages.

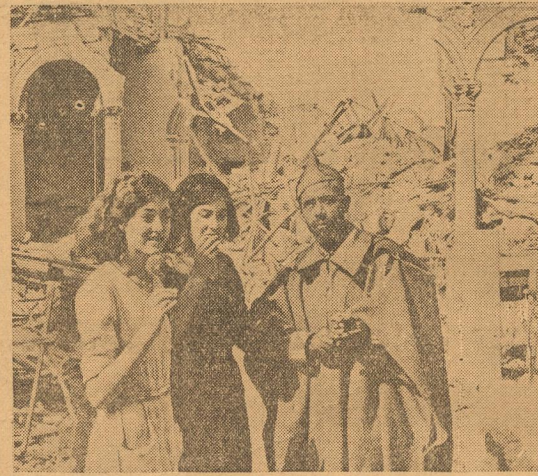

The coming of the revolution was actually welcomed by certain of the business men and industrial employers of Spain. For the old Republican regime had not been so hard upon the industrial workers as upon the small farmers. Instead, it was the worker who was to blame for strikes and riots, some of them without any justification. The Azana republic had actually persecuted the present trouble must have been a long time brewing. Today class feeling is so intense that, as one distinguished correspondent put it, "in many parts of Spain to wear a collar or a tie, or for a woman to wear a hat may be inviting a bullet."

Visible demonstration of this class hatred is the challenging Communist sign—the clenched fist. Even tiny children, carted about the streets in trucks, are taught to give the sign to the bystanders along the way. And if the latter do not return it, it may lead to serious consequences.

As I have said above, in the excitement and emotion of all this stir of class against class, reason and education have been subjugated to an alarming degree. Spanish literature production is at a standstill. The only good reading obtainable in the language is the old classics. This is taken by many as a sign of the increasing, rather than decreasing, illiteracy of the general public.

Under the present regime it became apparent that the army was soon to become only the strong arm of Communism, wielded unmercifully in revenge upon the upper classes. Officers of the regular army had been dismissed and snubbed. In 1932, Manuel Azana had retired some 18,000 officers on pay, only to take this pay away from thousands of them at a later date, because of his suspicion that they were to become involved in a Fascist revolt. That was the match that lighted the tinder.

Both Sides Lack Unity.

The Fascists—army officers and the capitalistic class—conducted their revolt under the leadership of a smart commander expertly competent to take advantage of the domestic weaknesses of the Nationalist enemy. His campaign has been slow but sure. His lack of speed has given many luke-warm Social-

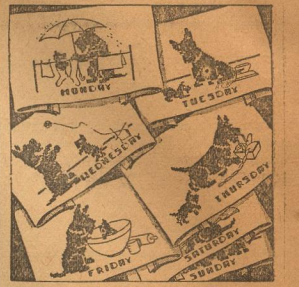

ONCE LIABILITIES, LUDWIG'S CASTLES ARE NOW ASSETS

The three great castles which Ludwig II of Bavaria exhausted his country's resources to build are today supplying the state with a tidy income, and hundreds of German and foreign visitors wander through the magnificent buildings, paying a small admission charge for viewing the eccentric king's old properties.

First of the castles Ludwig built is Neuschwanstein, a replica of a medieval stronghold. The king had it decorated with scenes from Wagner's operas, and nearby he constructed a lodge with a large tree in the main room, representing the scene in the first act of "Die Walkure." The castle cost $30,000,000 and took thirteen years to build. Its situation is romantic in the extreme, for it stands on a mountain of rock, above a stream hurrying through a gorge, and its only approach is a road hewn out of the mountainside.

Linderhof, a replica of the Trianon palace at Versailles, is sumptuously carried out in French style. Even it did not satisfy Ludwig's ambitions, however, so that he next attempted to rival Versailles itself with the Schloss Herrenchiemsee, on an island of the Chiemsee. This has sixteen rooms of state and is splendidly decorated in crystal and gold. Its finest room the Grand Ballroom or Gallery of Mirrors, was lighted with over 2,500 candles, but the interior of the palace was never completely finished, because the king's funds at last gave out.

The Modern Angel of Mercy—the Red Cross public health nurse with her ministrations in the home, is a worthy heir to the tradition of Florence Nightingale. The nurse teaches the mother care of the new infant. Red Cross nurses make a million visits to the sick each year, besides carrying on other public health works.

County Agent's Column

Final Compliance Next Week
Supervisors will visit the farms that have not been measured by them beginning next week and certify compliance on those farms already measured to see if the various crops have been turned under for soil building practices. Farmers have been co-operating by making preliminary measurements on their farms and these have been calculated and each farmer is being notified as quickly as possible as to what has been found true relative to his farm. The supervisors will check the farms for accuracy of measurement to ascertain if small grains were turned under according to rule or if peas, sudan, or grain sorghums have been plowed under or will be left on the ground uncut or ungrazed. To find out if those attempting to eradicate obnoxious weeds or grasses have done that in a manner that will qualify them for payment. There are recheck engineers that have been trained by the Department of Agriculture that are going into each county and making check measurements and looking at compliance behind the community committees. They have found that some farmers have stated they had peas on land when none could be found; that certain plots were planted to sudan and turned under when in truth it had been grazed; others had shown terraces were built in 1936 when in fact they had been built prior to 1936. It is hoped that no such violations will be found on farms in Callahan county, since, of course, that would nullify the farmer's grant. This program paid the farmer to do a constructive soil building practice and that is all. If the practices were not carried out, naturally there will be no payments made. Grain sorghum cannot qualify if it has been grazed or cut in any way. All of the crop must be left on the ground or turned under in order to qualify. Sudan grass or peas may be grazed and will draw the total soil conserving payment, but will not draw the additional one dollar per acre as a soil building practice payment. If peanuts are hogged off or turned under they will qualify as a soil conserving and soil building crop.

Two years ago Mr. Loven built one of the most beautiful ranch homes in this section. Again he called upon the County Agent to plan, landscape, and tile his yard. The yard was finished in the Spring of 1936 and today has one of the most beautiful carpets of Bermuda grass growing to be found anywhere. Appropriate shrubs were selected and planted around the house. Mrs. Loven desired that her chickens be improved and called upon the agent to give her a demonstration on culling and selection. With pecan budding topping off other demonstrations on the Loven farm it may easily be seen that Mr. Loven was intent on learning the most modern practices that may be learned from the Extension Service. County Agents do not claim to be master minds or "know it alls" any more than a doctor claims so for his profession. People have confidence in the doctors because they have had opportunity to study medical experience as laid down through the records of former men and through their services the people have learned that they know how to improve their health. County agents have been schooled in the finest schools of agriculture that can be provided by the government. The records of men whose experiences have been recorded are studied and applied by the men finishing courses in agriculture. These courses are given in order that the men who go forth to work and live among farm people may more fully appreciate and understand the problems of the farmers and it is that one thing that makes the value of a County Agent increase as his work is more fully understood among the people with whom he loves to work.

The Legislature of Texas today designated the Extension Service as the agency that would be in charge of the permanent farm program that will be in operation after 1937 with the state co-operating with the federal government. This action has been made because the Legislature has the confidence that the men whose school they maintain has clearly trained its agricultural workers to do the job right that is at hand.

Basketball Girls Start Training
The basketball girls started working out Tuesday. Those coming out from last year's team are Beatriz Morgan, Geneva Marshall, and Jean Cash, all forwards, and Pauline Gober, Cleta Tyler, Jimmie Barton, Odell Dupriest and Lyrlene Prestidge, all guards. We have several new members of the squad. They are Marie McDonald, Gwendolyn Sheehan, Doris Tyler, Louise Cole, Jimmie Morgan, Aleta Lymerle Cade, Zimrude Brooks, Hattie Wise, Maurine Browning, Anna Sue Lawrence and Marnetta Smith.

The football game with May was postponed last Friday because of the weather. The football boys are going to play Woodson here Friday.

News Flashes
Mrs. Smith has allowed the senior girls to whisper during their study hall period. But the catch is that they stay in the detention hall at 12:30.

Marnetta, Anna Sue, and Maurine have decided to come out for basketball.

Several of those in the senior class are making A's.

The girls have a new basketball coach, Mrs. Lillian Battle.

Time Lost is Money Lost

It costs money to be sick. You see it directly if your pay envelope is short. You lose out on some important work if you live on a farm or if you are one of the few who are not docked for lost time. You can't afford to show up on the job unless you are feeling fit. The boss wants results—not excuses.

How many times do Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, "That Tired Feeling," That "Morning After" Feeling, Neuralgia, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Muscular or Periodic Pains keep you at home or interfere with your doing a full day's work?

All these troubles are caused or made worse by too much acid in your body. To correct this condition take

ALKA-SELTZER
The New Pain Relieving, Alkalizing, Effervescent Tablet.

It is called Alka-Seltzer because it makes a sparkling alkaline drink, and as it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid. Alka-Seltzer is pleasant to take, harmless, non-laxative.

Why don't you try it? Get a drink at your drug store soda fountain for a nickel. Buy a package for home use.

ATWELL H. D. WOMAN HAS UNIQUE CELLAR

Mrs. J. M. Purvis, home food supply co-operator, of the Atwell home demonstration club, has a new cellar to store the family's food supply in, and it is an unusual cellar. Its location alone would make it so, for it is placed under the kitchen and has an all-weather entrance. It is 7x12x10 feet, is finished with concrete walls and floor which are painted white. Shelves built in a U shape cover one end and a part of two sides are also painted white. A flashlight is clamped on the stair case at the foot of the steps, but Mrs. Purvis says about that, "I rarely ever use the light; I have everything grouped and classed so well that I can select a can of food in the dark and never make a mistake."

Charlie Childs, of San Angelo, was a visitor here Tuesday.

HALLOWE'EN SHOW GATED SATURDAY NIGHT AT SCHOOL

An annual Hallowe'en carnival will be presented at Cross Plains high school auditorium Saturday night. Entertainment will begin at six o'clock with concession and carnival attractions in the gymnasium.

At seven, a program will be offered in the high school auditorium which is to include humorous playlets and novelty numbers. Following the program in the auditorium, attractions will be re-opened in the gymnasium.

Lewis Norman, director of the carnival, issued the following statement for publication yesterday: "We cordially invite patrons of the school and townspeople in general to come to the gymnasium anytime after six o'clock Saturday evening and take their evening meal with us. We also urge wide attendance at the colorful program to be rendered in the auditorium, beginning at seven o'clock. Proceeds from the carnival will be divided equally between the athletic, home economics and stage equipment funds."

ANN HARDING SHOWS HOW TO RE-WIN MAN

A startling recipe for proving to a philandering husband that it is his wife whom he really loves is provided by Ann Harding in "The Lady Consents," which comes to the Liberty theatre here Tuesday for a two-day run.

Dr. Talbot is a fashionable New York physician, to whom women persistently pay court. He becomes involved in a serious affair and asks his wife to free him.

How she brings him to her feet again and cures him of his "heart attacks," makes for delightful comedy and tense drama of a high order.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Outbirth attended the McMurry and Howard Payne football game in Abilene Saturday.

Third grade: Della Davis, Margie Nell Hudson, James Allen Burns, Sunshine Mann, Dorothy Ripper, Natalie Williams.

Fourth grade: Wanda Peavy.
Fifth grade: Pual Smith, Betty Jean Browning, Madie C. Edington, Jimmie Kate Howell, Wynola Thate.

Sixth grade: Dale Lane, Tooty McDermott, Mary Jane Stafford.

Seventh grade: Brownie Lou Lancaster, Emma Jane Williams, Opal McMillan, Billy Mack Smith, Madeline McAnnally, Bertha Walker, Charline Smith, Kathryn Young, J. L. King, Moselle Baum.

"MISS AMERICA" TO BE SEEN IN FILM AT LIBERTY TODAY

"Through these portals pass the most beautiful girls in the world." When Irene Ware, who is now a film star, was once a member of Earl Carroll's Vanities, that notice above the stage door was no idle boast.

Miss Ware, who currently shares romantic honors with George O'Brien in "O'Malley of the Mounted," Fox adventure drama showing Friday and Saturday at the Liberty theatre, is a honey blonde who came to stage and screen through the beauty contest route. Her principal achievement in that field occurred at the time she was crowned "Miss America" at Galveston, Texas.

In "O'Malley of the Mounted," Miss Ware and O'Brien share perils, face death and find romance as they help the Royal Canadian Mounted Police bring a gang of border bandits to justice.

62 HOME EC GIRLS FORM SCHOOL CLUB

A club to be known as "The Future Home-makers," was organized last week by 62 girls taking home economics and home making in Cross Plains high school.

The girls all brought lunches and dined together in the home economics building. Immediately following luncheon, they went into a business session and chose the following officers: president, Dorothy Johnson; vice-president, Martha Nan McAdams; secretary, Eloise Lane; reporter, Wailena Barclay; parliamentarian, Mozelle Atwood.

Regular meetings will be held semi-monthly.

McADAMS TO DETROIT FOR DEALER SHOWING OF '37 MODEL FORDS

Jesse McAdams, local automobile dealer, will leave Wednesday morning, November fourth, for Dallas, where he will entrain with a special delegation for Detroit, Michigan, to attend a premier showing of 1937 model Fords, Friday and Saturday, November sixth and seventh.

Mr. McAdams pointed out in an interview Thursday morning that all Ford dealers had been called to the factory and that he expected an announcement that would make automobile history.

Public showing of the new Ford will be made in Cross Plains shortly after his return from Detroit on the tenth, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Webb and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cox and Dena Lou visited in Cisco Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Medford and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Westerman were Cisco visitors Sunday.

PAY NOW AND SAVE

There are many lovely features of Autumn; its crisp, cool days are a welcome respite from Summer. Autumn with Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, Armistice celebrations, harvests and Christmas anticipations is truly the most gladsome time of the year in West Texas.

But there's another feature of Autumn, to which we wish to call your particular attention. It's strictly Business-like and is possessed with only the splendor of thrift. Each Autumn the Review offers its ANNUAL BARGAIN DAY SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN. In brief, this campaign is your opportunity to subscribe for your home town paper at 33 and one-third percent saving. The Review's BARGAIN DAYS are now on and you can get your home paper for

$1.00

In the Cross Plains Trade Area.

And For $1.50 Anywhere In The Good OF U. S. A.

An extensive effort is being made to collect all delinquent subscriptions before the current bargain offer closes, for, after its expiration we MUST resume the regular prices of $1.50 and $2.00. Postal regulations, increased cost of newsprint, and good business judgment prohibit our carrying delinquent subscribers. We, therefore, make this appeal in our most eloquent fashion that you take advantage of the current offer to place your subscription in good standing for another year.

On another page of today's Review will be seen the honor roll. It's just started and is yet quite small, however, within the next few weeks we're expecting it to exceed all former lists of its kind published in your home town paper. Get in the swim now, pay up; be a bona fide reader.

If you are in doubt as to when your subscription expires a phone call, visit to the office or card addressed to us, will bring you the exact date as to when your subscription runs out.

An earnest endeavor is being made to build the largest circulation of any newspaper in Texas, published in a town the size of Cross Plains. Your home town newspaper needs and covets your support.

Because we feel that a newspaper belong to the territory it represents and its success is enjoyed by all who read and claim it, we also ask that you assist us in securing your neighbors' subscriptions. In years past the Review has spoken—and truly so—many good words for you and yours. Will you now return the courtesy and say a good word for your home town paper? Recommend that your neighbor take the Review. It's the only accurate and complete history every written of the Cross Plains trade territory, of which you, your family, your school, your church and other worthwhile institutions are a vital part.

We're depending upon our readers to "come through" for us in this BARGAIN DAY DRIVE. Do your bit, renew today.

200 Attend Recent Reunion Of Everett Family At Deep Creek, West Of Putnam

A reunion of the Everett family was held Sunday, October 18, at the Hughes place on Deep Creek, five miles west of Putnam. The day was all a person could ask for in the way of being fine, pretty weather. The people began coming in about 9:30 o'clock and by noon there were some 200 or more on the grounds. The morning was spent in sacred harp singing, which was enjoyed by all. When the noon hour was announced everyone gathered around the table which was filled to capacity with every good thing to eat, among which was a beautiful cake adorned with candles, honoring Grandmother Everett's 81st birthday. She was the recipient of many nice and useful gifts.

Immediately after lunch everyone gathered at the tabernacle, where they enjoyed music and singing, after which some very interesting talks were made by Elder J. W. West, Judge Lewis, Sheriff Edwards, W. A. Buchanan, J. B. Brandon, Miss Viola Boatwright, Mrs. B. F. Brittain and others, which were enjoyed very much. Then the sad part came when everybody had to part and say goodbye until one year hence, when they will meet again at the same place. The Everett family appreciated the presence of everyone there, and hope they will be able to meet with them next year on the same occasion. Those attending were:

Mrs. S. C. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Everett, Thelma and W. P. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Everett, Jack and Billy Everett, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Ramsey, Putnam; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Everett, Comanche; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Everett, Howard Everett, Cross Plains; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Everett, Norman and Germaine Everett, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Coffey, Jimmie Glen and Helen Jo Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. O.

WALTER RUDLOFF IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Walter Rudloff surprised her husband with a party on his birthday, when she entertained with four tables of forty-two at her home Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Elec Thate were high score winners for the evening. The Halloween motif was carried out in decorations and in bridge accessories.

A refreshment plate of cheese sandwiches, pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream and coffee was passed to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Elec Thate, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schaufner, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Eli Powell, Mrs. George B. Scott, Mrs. H. A. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Medford, and the host and hostess.

In this column, answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of their good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What is the average salary now paid teachers in the public schools of Texas? H. G. Clyde. A. White teachers receive an average salary of $820,000; negro teachers $558,000.

Q. What was the population of Fort Worth when the first railroad was built into the town in 1876? F. D., Desdemona. A. The population did not exceed 1,500 in 1876, but rapid growth started with the building of the railroad at that time.

Q. Is there any recent precedent for a "lame duck" session of the Texas Legislature, and why the name? K. K., Santa Anna. A. Gov. Ross Sterling called the 42nd Legislature in special session in November just after the general election. It is so called because so many of the members have been defeated, will not be back, and are politically lame.

Q. How do the leading gasoline producing states rank in quantity of production? R. P., Cisco. A. California leads with 3,306,000 gallons per year total capacity, Texas following with 2,736,000 gallons and Oklahoma next with 2,143,000.

Q. What was the cost of the Texas State building at the Centennial Central Exposition? J. J., Weatherford. A. It is a permanent structure costing $1,000,000 and an additional $200,000 for decoration and furnishing. It is known as the "Texas Hall of State."

Q. Justice of Peace Henry Robinson, of Cottonwood, has served in that office continuously for 30 years without ever having his name printed on a ballot. Has that record been equalled in Texas? T. R., Cottonwood. A. No records are available. To get a correct answer, this columnist requests reports of length of service of other long-serving officials.

Q. Where did the wild mustang horses of the southwest originate? E. B., Goldthwaite. A. Tradition says they descended from five Spanish horses abandoned by DeSoto when his party started down the Mississippi on a raft and that these interbred with mounts that occasionally escaped from Coronado and other adventurers.

Q. When was the area around Henderson first settled by Anglo-Saxons? S. S., Tyler. A. The date is not definite, but believed to be about 1830. Gen. James Smith, hero of the war of 1812 and famous Indian fighter, for whom Smith county was named, settled on the present Henderson townsite in 1836 and later donated the land on the condition that it be named for his friend, Gen. J. Pinckney Henderson, afterward first governor of Texas.

Q. Where are the Texas automobile license plates manufactured, SORE THROAT—TONSILLITIS— Instantly relieved with Anathesia-Mop, the wonderfully new sore-throat remedy. A real mop that relieves pain and checks infection. Prompt relief guaranteed or money refunded by City Drug Store. 10-16-6mo how many are made and at what cost? W. W. R., Plainview.

A. At the State penitentiary at Huntsville. Nearly 3,000,000 plates are made each year at a cost of about 6 1/4 cents a pair delivered to Texas county seats. Steel consumed is approximately 1,200 tons and the work keeps about 80 men employed for eight months.

Q. What are the principal industries of the Texas penitentiary system? W. W. R., Plainview.

A. Shoes, clothing, mattresses, printing, canning, brickmaking, furniture manufacturing, all of the products being used either in the system or in the State eleemosynary institutions.

Q. Is Ann Eister, now playing prominent parts in CBS radio plays a Texan? B. O. H., Sinton.

A. She formerly lived at San Benito and has two sisters living there now.

S. When was the first philosophical society organized in Texas and where?

A. In 1838, at Houston; patterned after the American Philosophical Society with Mirabeau B. Lamar, president; Ashbel Smith, Anson Jones and David S. Kaufman, all eastern college graduates, vice-presidents; and David G. Burnet, corresponding secretary.

Q. What was a "bond marriage" as practiced in Colonial days? T. Y., Barstow.

A. Mexican laws required marriages to be before a priest. Priests' visits were far apart. Colonists wishing to marry appeared before an alcalde and signed a bond or agreement to be married by a priest when one visited the colony and an ad interim marriage was recognized. The priests' marriage fee was $25.00 and often the ceremony was not performed. When divorces were desired the bonds were torn up in the presence of the alcalde.

Q. Where, near here, can I see a collection of old guns of Texas pioneer days? F. D., McGregor.

A. Baylor University Museum, Waco, has a large collection, a recent addition being a flint lock shotgun 110 years old, said to be the first of its type and make.

Q. Please give sketch of Edwin Waller, for whom this county was named. D. G., Hempstead.

A. Edwin Waller was born in Virginia in 1800; came to Texas in 1831; member of convention that framed the Declaration of Independence and on committee that drafted the Constitution; Government land Agent first mayor of Austin; postmaster-general of Texas Republic; Indian fighter; member of secession convention; active in reconstruction period, being first president of Texas Veteran Association; died in 1876.

Q. Did General Edward Burleson ever live in Bastrop county? E. B., Bartlett. A. He settled about 2 1/2 miles West of the present town of Smithville, in 1831, on what is now highway 71.

Q. Where is the burying ground of the Mormon colony that settled in Gillespie county in 1847? E. B., Llano. A. About four miles South of Fredericksburg, on the Pedernales River.

Q. What was the first newspaper published at San Felipe? A. D., Richmond. A. The Texas Gazette, issued intermittently from September, 1829, to June, 1832.

Q. When was the State Forestry Department of Texas created and how is it directed? D. S., Goliad. A. It was created by the Legislature in 1915 and placed under the direction of the Board of Directors of A. and M. College.

Q. Were early American Indians expert horsemen like the Comanches and other tribes in Texas? S. O., Dickens. A. American Indians knew nothing of horses until they were introduced into this country by Europeans, but soon became expert horsemen.

Q. In what Texas State Park is the National Park Service now cooperating with the State Parks Board through development work of CCC camps? H. H., Salado. A. In 18, as follows: Palo Duro Canyon, Bonham, Bastrop-Buescher, Corpus Christi, Big Bend, Longhorn Cavern, Mother Neff, Garner, Fort Parker, Balmorhea, Daingerfield, Lockhart, MacKenzie, Cleburn, Tyler, Paris, and Kerrville.

Total acreage is 73,153 acres, of which about 60 per cent is cultivated. Farm products, except cotton, are all used in the prison system or by State eleemosynary institutions.

Q. Will you tell a Massachusetts reader what is meant by cattle "milling"? M. B. O., Denison. A. At times herds of cattle being driven get to going round and round in circles, which is called "milling." It then becomes necessary to rush into the circle on horseback, to break up the "mills" and start the cattle going in the desired direction.

SCHOOL OPENING INCREASES INTEREST The opening of schools has largely increased the desire on the part of teachers, parents and students in Texas History, and "Let's Know Texas and Texans" has taken its place as a permanent newspaper feature.

The following are especially recommended for school and home use: "Empire Builders of '36," (10 cents); "Texas Under Six Flags," (25 cents); "Centennial Song Book," (25 cents); "Centennial Scrap Book," (25 cents). Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

PREVENTION

Is Better Than Cure

The cold germ is a constant threat to your health during winter because leading doctors tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." And the invisible but dangerous cold germ finds one of his best opportunities when resistance is low. Therefore, it is a wise precaution to avoid catching cold by not letting your resistance get below par.

Consult your physician at the first feeling of lethargy. Then let our registered pharmacist fill his prescription. Only the purest of drugs will be used.

SYNOPSIS

Mary Avery, a widow who lives in the harbor town of Satuit, Mass., with two negro maids, Sarah Darbe and Bessie Williams, writes a manuscript describing the famous Second Head murder, which occurred on her estate. Next to Mary live Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stow who every year give a summer masquerade party. One of the guests of this function is murdered. Nearby live Dr. and Mrs. Geary and their married daughter, Edith, and her husband Alfred Bray; Doctor Myron Marden and his step-granddaughter, Caro Prentiss, a beautiful young girl who was born in France. Next live Paul and Lora Eames and their daughter, Molly. Molly was engaged to the murdered man, Ace Blaikie. She had previously been engaged to Walter Treadway, who had been Blaikie's secretary, but the engagement was suddenly broken and he had left town. Other neighbors are the Fairweather sisters, Flora, a hopeless invalid, and Margaret. All but the latter two attend the masquerade. Mary's eight-year-old niece, Sylvia Sard, is visiting her for the summer. The wooded part of Mary's estate is called the Spinney. In it is a tiny log cabin, called the Little House. On the day of the masquerade excitement is high. Mary decided to take Sylvia, who is an unusually observant child. Caro Prentiss and Molly Eames drop in during the afternoon. Soon a car arrives and Blaikie, Doctor Marden and Bruce Hexson, a friend of Ace's, alight. Molly is impatient to leave and they all excuse themselves. At the party Sylvia identifies each of the masked guests as they arrive. Ace comes garbed as Julius Caesar. Molly Eames appears as a Snow Queen, accompanied by a man in armor whom Sylvia identifies as Walter Treadway. They dance together continuously. Caro Prentiss and Marden arrive dressed in Revolutionary costumes, the doctor wearing jeweled shoe buckles. When the guests unmask, Ace, Walter and Molly have disappeared. Sarah Darbe confides to Mary that someone apparently had spent the night in the Little House. Sylvia finds a shoe buckle in the Spinney. Sarah walks down to the Little House and returns screaming. She has found Ace Blaikie stabbed to death in the Spinney. Mary summons Patrick O'Brien, chief of police. Her manuscript recalls early impressions of Ace—how he had been wealthy, the most popular boy in town, how he had gone to Paris to study medicine, become an aviator in the World War, returning to practice in Satuit, how he was recklessly generous and the principal in scores of love affairs. Bruce Hexson had come back from the war with a Snow Queen, a man of private means and had "got" religion, become a virtual recluse. Sarah tells Patrick that someone had slept in the Little House the night of the murder. Patrick reveals that Ace had gone to the Spinney to meet Tony Torriano, his bootlegger. He does not believe Tony guilty. He also discloses that Walter Treadway had been in the Little House. Meanwhile Walter and Molly come to Mary's house, unaware of the tragedy. Walter readily admits he had spent the night in the Little House, since he had come to town secretly. He and Molly are thunderstruck by the news of the murder.

SUNDAY—Continued

"Was Molly at the party when you got there?"
"Yes."
"Did you dance with her often?"
"About a half dozen times."
"What time did you leave?"
"A little after eleven perhaps."
"Before the unmasking?"
"Yes."
"Did you go alone?"
"No."
"Who was with you?"
"Molly."
Patrick turned to Molly. "Then you two left the party some time after eleven?"
"Yes."
"What time did you get to the Stow house, Molly?"
"A little after ten."
"You left with Walter?"
"Yes."
"What did you do when you left the house?"
"We got into my runabout and drove about."
"Where did you drive?"
"Satuit, Marshland, Marshland Beach, Hanesbury, Hanesbury Beach and what have you."
Patrick turned his attention to Walter. "How long, Walter, would you say you were driving?"
"Well, we left the party—for the sake of easy arithmetic—let us say eleven. I was back in the Little House about five. That would make it six hours."
"Were you with him all that time, Molly?"
"Yes."
"Did you see Ace Blaikie at the party, Walter?"
"Yes."
"Did you speak with him?"
"No."
"Did you dance with Ace, Molly?"
"Yes—twice."
"Did you speak to him?"
"Not as Ace Blaikie. We talked as the characters we represented. He called me Ice Empress."
Patrick continued: "After you stopped riding around, Walter, where did you take Molly?"
"To the Marden house!"
"What road did you take?"
"Round to the beach and over the Head."
"In what room did you sleep in the Marden house, Molly?"
"I slept in the room with Caro Prentiss—a big chamber at the front with two beds."
"Did you wake her when you came in?"

nection until now. I suppose everybody in the world's been trying to telephone you."
"Everybody," I replied. "But until an hour ago, I'd spoken with nobody, and until an hour ago, I'd seen nobody but Patrick O'Brien and Mattie Stow. And now Molly Eames and Walter Treadway are here. Walter and Molly Treadway, I should say. They were married Saturday morning. But perhaps I shouldn't have told you. I'll tell you about that later. I shall love to have you come, dear boy."
"Molly married! I'm—well you tell her I'm jittering over the phone!"
"Where are you?" I asked.
"Week-ending at the Abbots. I'll be over there sometime in the next half hour. I haven't said yet how awful we think it is, nor given you any of another's messages. She's prostrated. You know she was very fond of Ace Blaikie."
"Everybody was," I put in.
"It's a terrible business," Hopestill went on, "but I won't ask you any questions now. I'll be there as soon as the speed laws will let me and I'll stay as long as you need me."
"I'm glad Hopestill's coming!" Molly commented. "You need somebody here, Aunt Mary. And Hope's such a swell kid!"
"Who's that?" Patrick was sitting with his back to the piazza and he spoke without looking around. Then I heard the sound of a motor.
Sarah appeared. "Miss Prentiss would like to see you, Mrs. Avery."
I looked at Patrick. He nodded.
"Tell her to come in, Sarah!" I said.
Caro appeared.
"Good morning, Mrs. Avery!" she said to me. "Hello there—

"Hello there—

"I'm So Glad That You Know Your Mind at Last!"

two!" she said to the Treadways.
"Good morning, Mr. O'Brien!" she said to Patrick.
An awkward pause intervened. I did not want to make Molly's great announcement if she wanted to make it herself. Apparently she wanted to make it herself.
"Caro, darling, come over and kiss me!" she ordered finally.
"Since I saw you yesterday, I have become Mrs. Walter Treadway."
Caro's face grew radiant, but she did not seem surprised.
"Oh, I'm so glad!" she exclaimed. She rushed over to Molly, kissed her, kissed Walter. "I'm so happy!" Then as one remembering, "As happy as any one can be—"
Molly shivered. The light drained out of her face. "I've just heard it!"
"I brought these flowers for you, dear Mrs. Avery," Caro said prettily. "I knew you'd have no time to fill your vases today. And I can't imagine your house without flowers."
"You angel!" I exclaimed.
"We're dashing off in a moment!" Molly said, "just as soon as I've got hold of myself."
"Where are you living, may I ask, Mrs. Treadway?"
"At present, Mrs. Avery, with my husband's people," Molly answered. "They don't know it yet, but I think they'll take us in. We're going to look around for the tiniest house we can find in Satuit and I shall begin presently to experiment in cooking."
"I shall give you a dining-room table for a wedding present," I promised. "Old maple if I can find it."
"That will be grand, Aunt Mary," Molly approved.
"Miss Prentiss," Patrick took over the conversation again, "I find that I shall have to ask you some more questions. I hope you won't mind. I shouldn't bother you. It's merely a matter of routine."
"Oh please ask me as many as you want, Mr. O'Brien," Caro replied simply.
Patrick fumbled in one pocket and found a little leather notebook. "I have to warn you again that anything you say now can be used against you and that there are witnesses present." He fumbled in another pocket. "Darn, I haven't a pencil on me. Do you happen to have anything I can use, Walter?" Walter handed him a fountain pen. Patrick held it poised over a notebook, his eyes fixed intently on it. "Miss Prentiss, did you know that Walter and Molly were going to be married?"

"No, Mr. O'Brien—not definitely. I suspected it!"
"When did they leave your house Saturday morning?"
"Somewhere between nine and ten—about half-past nine perhaps."
"Did they tell you where they were going?"
"No."
"Did you ask where they were going?"
"No."
Patrick made a few notes in the notebook, handed the pen back to Walter.
"Did you know you were going to elope with Walter when you went to the masquerade, Molly?"
"My suitcase was all packed in my car."
"Here's Hopestill!" Patrick exclaimed again without looking around.
The runabout crunched to a stop outside and Hopestill came striding into the room. He is a big, tall, stoop-shouldered lad—my nephew—not lanky exactly, but angular. Perhaps the most noticeable thing about him are his eyes—steely gray and deeply set. With his characteristic long, swift step, he crossed the room to me. "I never thought I'd see you on such a tough spot, Aunt Mary!" he exclaimed, putting his arm about me.
"Oh, I'm all right," I answered. "I had, all told, about six hours of good sleep last night. And I've just had some strong coffee. Have a cup?"
"You bet!" He turned to the others. "Hello there, you two! What do you mean—getting tied so suddenly? Congratulations!" He kissed the bride. "Hello Pat!" he concluded. He shook hands with Patrick. "You've got your work cut out for you!"
"I'll say!" Patrick wrung Hopestill's hand. "Glad to see you. I think your aunt needs a man about. I've transferred police headquarters to her house."
"It's a ghastly business!" Hopestill commented soberly. "Gee, you read about murders in the paper with the greatest calm. But when it strikes home—well, you suddenly realize that you've never really known what it meant before."
"That's the way I feel, Hopestill," I agreed a little drearily. And then remembering, I exclaimed, "Oh Hopestill, I think you've never met Miss Prentiss, My nephew, Mr. Blaine, Caro."
Hopestill strode to Caro's side, shook hands with her. We all sat down. Hopestill ensconced himself on the couch, his eyes following Caro's movements.
Molly and Walter arose. "I think we'll be going, Aunt Mary," Molly said, "unless, Patrick, you want us—"
"No," Patrick answered in a meditative tone. "I don't think I want you any more at present. However, Walter, I guess I'll have to ask you to stick around for a while. I may need you any time."
Walter gave him a quick, intent look. He nodded. "I'll be at the house!" he announced briefly.
"Could I go down to the Spinney?" Hopestill asked. Patrick after the Treadways had left. "I'd like to see the spot—"
"Oh yes," Patrick permitted. "It's anybody's ball now."
"May I go too?" Caro asked suddenly. "I don't know that I've ever been in your Spinney, Mrs. Avery, and people are asking me so many questions—"
"By all means," I answered. "I don't want to go with you, Hopestill. You understand that... It will be a long time before..."
"Of course not, Aunt Mary."
"I'll go down with you," Patrick offered. "I'll be back in a moment, Mary," he called over his shoulder to me.
Patrick was back in a few moments. Apparently he took only the time to point out the spot where we found Ace and to give them the ghastly details.
He took up his hat with a long sigh. "Those two are down there examining every inch of ground. But all they've found so far is a four-leaf clover!"
"Ah," I thought—"Hopestill!" He was one of those maddening people who pick out four-leaf clovers everywhere.
"I'll say I'm on a spot, Mary," Patrick went on. "Here I am in charge. I've got to solve this murder and I don't even know how to go about it. I haven't got any qualification for this job, except common sense."
"I have a feeling that that common sense of yours will be enough, Patrick," I told him.
Patrick gave me a strange stare. "Maybe it will be enough—if you'll keep on helping me, Mary. I must talk things over with somebody. You know our minds have always worked pretty well together. They always did in school and we've always stood shoulder to shoulder on town affairs. Do you mind if I come over here and spill the dope as fast as I get it. Or do you want to forget it as soon as possible? Perhaps you'd like to go away."

Appeared Without Name

The 1920 Pilgrim Tercentenary Commemorative stamps were the first postage stamps of the U. S. since 1847 to appear without the name of the U. S. and the word postage.

A Trio of Trim Togs

This trio of trim togs offers an appealing variety to the woman who sews at home. There is style and economy in every design.

Pattern No. 1950, the tunic, is one of the season's smartest, featuring a modish stand-up collar and just the right amount of flare or "swing." A grand ensemble for any youthful figure. Simply and inexpensively made, this clever pattern is designed for sizes: 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20; 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 14 requires three and one-eighth yards for the tunic in 39 inch material and two yards for the skirt. Five-eighths yard ribbon required for the bow.

Pattern No. 1891 is a perfect fitting princess wrap around or a coat frock with a reversible closing. It has everything demanded of a morning or utility frock—style, slimming lines, slashed set-in sleeves, one or two patch pockets, simplicity of design, and a double breasted closing which is smart and compelling. Available in a wide range of sizes, 14 to 20; and from 32 to 48, this versatile frock will win a favorite spot in your clothes closet in short order. Size 16 requires four and three-eighths yards of 35 inch material.

For tiny tots, pattern No. 1812 has all the adorable qualities you like to associate with darling cherubs. The pattern includes a waist and pantie combination, as well as the frock and will serve for party or playtime wear with equal facility. Utterly simple in design and construction, it will slide through your machine in a brief hour or two and be a source of never ending delight to your style conscious daughter. Available in sizes: 2, 3, 4, and 5 years and suitable for a wide selection of fabrics. Size 3 requires just two and five-eighths yards of 35 or 39 inch material, plus three-eighths yard contrast for the collar and sleeve band.

Can You Remember

Several years ago all America was wondering what had become of prosperity. The politicians told us it was just around the corner. After years of anxious waiting everyone began to question: "But where is the corner?"

On March 4, 1933, we passed that proverbial corner and things have been greatly improved since. Prosperity is here, America is blessed.

BUT now it becomes our duty to remind you that just around the corner is a howling, blue norther that will freeze and burst thousands of automobile radiators. We want to save you the expense and inconvenience of a bursted radiator by filling your radiator with EVEREADY PRESTONE won't boil away, so don't delay. Drive in today and enjoy the feeling of a bursted radiator protected against Old Man Winter. If your car coughs and spits and is hard to start on cold mornings we recommend OCTANE BRONZE GASOLINE. If all others fail, give OCTANE a trial. It's sold from the Red River to the Gulf of Mexico, from the piney woods of East Texas to the rolling Plains of the West. Wherever you go, you'll find OCTANE being used and praised by the motoring public.

OUR GUARANTEE

If you try a tank of Octane Bronze Gasoline and in any way are dissatisfied with its performance, we will return your money. You and your car are the judge and jury. No questions asked. If Octane Bronze doesn't please we will return your money. Will other gasolines make this guarantee.

We also wish to call your attention to our GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL. Regardless of how cold it gets, this better oil continues the flow and lubricates all vital parts of your automobile. A crank case drain today may save you money and inconvenience. We buy in carload quantities to give you the best price.

15 years in the gasoline business, and the handling of many brands, have taught us to recognize the best; therefore, we unhesitatingly recommend

Octane Gasoline,
Germ Processed Motor Oil,
Eveready Prestone.
