Russian Red Cross nurses ride a truck to their posts during an anti-air raid drill in Moscow, U.S.S.R. Recently these nurses have been working under fire, as the Nazi Luftwaffe attempted again and again to burn out this camouflaged capital of painted spires and teeming millions. Callahan Goes Dry In Thursday's Election

BEER VOTED OUT OF THIS COUNTY BY 101 MAJORITY

Only Four Of Boxes Poll Wet Plurality; Brew To Go Out About Sept. 3rd

In a countywide election challenging the sale of beer which has been legal since 1934, Callahan county voted dry by a margin of 101. The complete count was: for beer, 873; against beer, 974.

Only four of the 18 boxes in the county went wet, County Judge B. H. Freeland reported. They were Baird, Putnam, Belle Plains and Rowden.

Despite the fact that Baird rolled up a two-to-one margin for beer, the count being 389 for as compared with 170 against, it is not permitted under state law to hold a local option election for legalizing beer in the precinct. The statute allows dry precincts by local option elections in wet counties, but no wet precincts in dry counties.

Approximate date for closing of beer dispensaries in Baird is September third, Judge Freeland said. He announced that the county commissioners court would sit Monday to declare results of the election. Thirty days is allowed from time of canvassing until the law goes into effect, he added.

While beer has gone in and out at Cross Plains and in Opalin several times in precinct elections in recent years, Thursday's poll marks the first change in Callahan's liquor status since beer was first legalized in 1934, Judge Freeland recalled.

With Baird in the dry column, only beer cases near here are Sweetwater and Albany.

The Callahan vote by boxes:

Box	Dry	Wet
Cross Plains	163	102
Putnam	105	129
Baird	170	389
Admiral	22	13
Clyde	190	58

Callahan county's contribution to national defense in the recent aluminum drive amounted to 2,015 pounds, it was revealed Monday. Of this amount approximately 500 pounds was gathered in J. M. (Jim) McMillan's commissioner's precinct four, with Cross Plains as the point of concentration.

A few other pieces of aluminum have been received in Cross Plains since the drive was finished here. These will be forwarded on to be included with the 2,015 pounds from this county.

OLD MOTHER NATURE SHOWS INDIVIDUALITY WITH A TWIN SQUASH

Old mother nature is forever asserting her individuality. Her most recent exhibition is a twin squash grown by A. A. Smith on the old Booth place West of town.

The "Siamese" twin squash is a very normal specimen, save for the fact that there are two instead of one. They are joined together at the side, from the "goose-neck" down to the "bell" of the vegetable.

The oddity is on display at the Review office.

BILL WHITE NAMED CISCO HIGH COACH

Bill White, former Cross Plains high school football coach, has been elected athletic director of Cisco schools and will assume duties at the new post September first. His successor at Baird, where he enjoyed three very successful seasons since leaving here, has not been named.

White's staff at Cisco will include two assistants, one of whom will be "Beans" McCasland, former McMurry College grid ace.

Probably no coach in this section has enjoyed greater success during the past six years than has White. While in Cross Plains his teams, never finished lower than fourth in the district standing despite the fact that the Buffaloes were competing in one of the fastest class A districts in Texas. At Baird he won two district championships.

MRS. BABE WOOD IS PERFECT BOOK-KEEPER

Mrs. Babe Wood, book-keeper at the Cross Plains Motor Company, Inc., received an unusual distinction last week when she was cited by the Chevrolet Motor Company as being one of the very few accountants in Texas whose set of books were graded 100 percent perfect by General Motors' Accountant. No other Chevrolet dealership in this part of Texas received the "perfect rating."

Miss Frances Smedley of Rowden was a visitor here Wednesday.

Sun-tanned, pipe-smoking Coke R. Stevenson Monday hung up his ranchman's hat in the gubernatorial suite of Texas' red granite capitol and flung wide open doors which had been long shut.

Lieutenant-governor the last two and a half years and twice speaker of the Texas house, the 53-year-old Stevenson automatically became governor when W. Lee O'Daniel vacated the office by occupying the U. S. senate seat of the late Morris Sheppard.

In the big hall for the house where he once presided, Stevenson, Friday will be inaugurated formally with simple ceremonies.

O'DANIEL OFFERS BILL OUTLAWING VIOLENCE FIRST DAY IN SENATE

Lee O'Daniel who played his way into the Texas governor's mansion with a hillbilly band, Monday became a senator from the Lone Star State of Texas.

His family, with only the soldier son Pat absent, sat in the spectators gallery as Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), presiding, administered the oath of office. He was escorted to the rostrum by the state's senior senator, Tom Connally.

The first legislative act of the new senator, taken about three hours after he received the oath, was to introduce in bill, similar to one he sponsored in the Texas legislature, to make unlawful the use of force or threats to prevent any person from engaging in any lawful vocation. It is known as his anti-strike violence bill.

One of his first acts was to order the double doors of the beautiful governor's reception room on the second floor of the capitol thrown open for all to enter who would.

Since early in the administration of Governor O'Daniel they had been closed and the room itself had been used by O'Daniel as an office. Stopped by a system of secretarial intervention, many persons often had failed to see the governor after a long delay.

Throughout most of the day Stevenson sat at a desk in the reception room, chatting with friends who poured in to offer congratulations and giving casual visitors the view of the governor they wanted.

Ditching another O'Daniel practice, Stevenson reinstated regular press conferences with capitol reporters, talking freely with them.

Early in his administration O'Daniel abolished the custom many governors had followed of holding such conferences daily to answer questions on matters of public interest, make announcements and otherwise throw light on activities of his governmental department.

Stevenson indicated he had not changed his mind since he said recently he saw no justifying need for a special session of the legislature in August. One has been urged to renew the county road bond law.

ELDON RAY RECOVERING FROM OIL FIELD HURTS

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Ray returned home Tuesday night from Carlsbad, New Mexico, where they went with Mr. and Mrs. Walton Ray, also of Cross Plains, to be at the bedside of Eldon E. Ray, who was critically injured in an oil field mishap last week.

Cross Plains friends will be gratified to learn that Eldon is recovering normally and barring complications is expected to completely recuperate with no permanent injuries.

He was hurt when 100 quarts of nitroglycerine was placed in a well to give it a shot. Both eyes and his face were badly bruised and cut, however, physicians report that his sight will not be impaired.

Eldon was employed by C. C. Dodson, also formerly of Cross Plains.

Mrs. John Russell and son, Bill, and R. C. Warren visited Jack Russell and Claude Warren in Wichita Falls the past week end.

Clyde Preparing To Greet 4,000 At Reunion 15th

Around 4,000 people are expected at sixth annual reunion of Callahan county pioneers to be held at Clyde August 15. An added feature to the day's program will be the gathering of former students of old Belle Plain College, which passed out of existence about the turn of the century.

In keeping with the custom of obtaining a son of a Callahan county pioneer to deliver the principal address of the day, the program committee of which Mrs. L. L. Blackburn is chairman, announces that Bob Norrell, Baird banker, will be the key speaker for this year's observance. Mr. Norrell is a son of the late "Uncle Tom" Norrell, who served Callahan county for more than 20 years in the capacities of Sheriff and Tax Assessor and Collector.

The citizenship of Clyde, under the leadership of Mayor John W. Robbins, has placed everything in readiness for the reunion. Reports reach here that arrangements have been made to accommodate 4,000 people, approximately the number that attended last year's event which was also held at Clyde.

SCHOOL TO OPEN HERE MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 1

Sam Russell Acts As House Speaker For An Afternoon

Congressman Sam Russell of the Seventeenth District of Texas was the designated temporary Speaker of the House of Representatives in a recent afternoon session. The elected Speaker may delegate this authority to another member of the House and Congressman Russell was called to act as Speaker shortly after the order of business had progressed into the afternoon.

Although Congressman Russell is serving his first term in Congress he is recognized as one of the ablest members of the Texas delegation. From his record he has demonstrated his ability in the procedure of the House and has, on several occasions, appeared on the floor as a speaker in matters of important legislation. Ordinarily a Congressman must serve his first term, which is referred to as his "Freshman Term", before he is able to gain recognition in this law-making body.

Those familiar with Congressman Russell as a presiding Judge in Texas district courts viewed with interest the ease and efficient manner in which he presided over the actions of Congress while acting as Speaker of the House.

Town Gossip

Photographers snapped O'Daniel's marriage at the week say it was the most magnificent they ever took. The ceremony was so magnificent that it was literally pushed aside by onlookers.

More than two thirds of the people in the church have responded to the call of the church. We believe most of the people will do what they should.

Friendship

I have a profound faith in the future of our country. I am this week going into business for myself and have purchased Porter J. Davis' Red Store in Cross Plains where I have been employed for the past 5 years.

It is needless to say, I am extremely desirous to make a success of this venture. I earnestly solicit the continued interest of old friends and customers in the opportunity of winning success.

It will be my policy to conduct business on the same high plane as has my predecessor, keeping prices at the lowest figure in keeping with the superior quality.

My suggestions you have to consider how we may improve the service in our store, either in the grocery department, will be deeply appreciated and will be considered.

Mostly trusting that you will give us an opportunity to serve you, I am,

Respectfully yours,

Accordingly he was brought to law and was asked, "Is it true that you haven't bought a dog license?" "Yes," he admitted. "But why haven't you?" "Because I do not own a dog," came the reply.

The aluminum drive for defense seems to have been a huge success. The people of this country are willing and glad to do any and every thing possible to help our country and the war suffers abroad, but taken as a whole, are opposed to getting into a shooting war and we hope they remain steadfast to this principle, unless unforeseen dangers arise and we are forced to fight strictly in self-defense.

Our boys are precious to their country and we do not want to sacrifice them again in a foreign land.

Folks From The Hill Country Will Now Be Frequent At The Governor's Mansion, Declares Aubra C. Dodson

BY AUBRA DODSON

Well quite a lot of water has gone under the bridge since I last wrote you. Governor O'Daniel got into the Senate race, contrary to my grapevine report, and what's more, of course, you know he won. It was a little hot, however, the Governor won. One of his friends was talking with me and he was very much elated over the victory.

Oh yes, Melly got married too. I went up to the mansion the night of the wedding. We common citizens did not get to see the wedding but they came out on a platform after the ceremonies and threw cake around to the crowd. Long before time for the event the block long Mansion grounds were jammed and some of those who had engraved invitations were unable to get in. By seven P. M. traffic was stopped on the streets around the Mansion, and traffic cops were directing on all four corners of the Mansion. The walk from the steps of the Mansion to the sidewalk was covered with a kind of wagon cover affair and about ten o'clock word got around that Molly and Jack were going to come down the walk to get in the car to drive to the airport to catch a plane for New York. The crowd pushed and jumbled up under the canvas to get a peep at them as they came down the walk. Soon they came, led by two policemen. One lady near me could not get the canvas up to where she could get her head under so she tore the canvas to where she could.

The Governor and Mrs. O'Daniel left the next day for Fort Worth and other points before leaving for Washington. And so the most colorful Governor that Texas has perhaps ever had has gone to Washington.

We awoke Sunday morning with a new Governor and his picture not even on the front pages of the papers. And that's the way he liked it. Coke Stevenson has quietly and steadily climbed the political ladder to the top in Texas without any outward effort. One of the sad sides of this is that Mrs. Coke Stevenson has been very ill for some time, she is one of the most, if not the most, beloved ladies ever in Capitol life in Austin. Not much for big society, but cigar girls, waitresses, bell-hops, clerks in stores, and many others in ordinary walks of life here love Mrs. Stevenson. An old timer here the other day said well Coke and May will not have much show up at the Mansion but you are mighty liable to see weather beaten cars from out in the Hill country parked in the rear of the Mansion a lot while they are there. Those folks out there call him Coke and May. He said the military police will not be at the Mansion any more and the rail in the large front room will be taken down and there will be a lot of booted legs crossed, sitting around the Mansion as long as Coke and May stay there.

LAKE CISCO SCENE OF NEWMAN FAMILY REUNION AUGUST 3

The annual reunion of the Newman family was held at Lake Cisco Saturday night and Sunday, August 2 and 3. W. E. Lusk was this years sponsor. After the fashion of former reunions, he went on ahead and had everything in readiness as the guests arrived. He, with the help of another brother-in-law, A. L. Tolle, of Breckenridge, had the fire built, the coffee made and the water cooler filled and ready to serve hot or cold drinks and everything ready for sandwiches of ones own choice.

The families arrived in due time with their portions to make a happy family reunion. One sister, who is convalescing from an operation in Graham hospital could not be present. All of the other children were present with most of their children and in-laws.

NEWS BRIEFS OF BYGONE DAYS

Little Squibs Gleaned From Files Of Review

July 17, 1925: Crop prospects in this section of the county continue bright, according to reports. Practically all of the farmers have their crops in fine condition and almost free of grass and weeds. The ground has been kept stirred to conserve the moisture and few crops are needing rain. Matize is now heading and a big yield is assured if the weather continues favorable. Cotton is fruiting rapidly and most of it is beginning to bloom.

July 24, 1925: It has been announced that the Cross Plains big annual picnic would be held here July 29th and 30th, but due to the fact that the big oil boom which has developed here the past week will tax the city's accommodations in a great way, it has been decided to postpone the big picnic to a later date. When a future date has been agreed upon for holding the picnic, it will be announced through the Review.

July 31, 1925: The city officials met last Friday night and let contract for laying water lines for the new distributing system. The contract was let to John W. Moore of Eastland. Work of laying the new lines will start just as soon as the pipe is shipped. The contract calls for nine miles and 911 feet of piping. There will be 1950 feet of 6 inch pipe laid in the business section. There will be 8,500 feet of 4 inch lines, from wells in West and East part of town. These lines will carry the water from both source to supply. 37,976 feet of 2 inch lines will cover the residence district. Additional wells will be drilled to furnished adequate supply of water. It is truly hoped that the work will be rushed to an early completion.

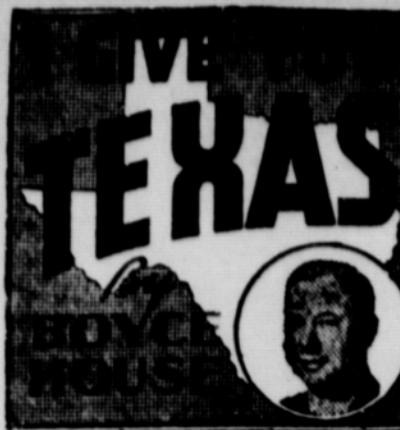

August 7, 1925: No living man ever saw 32 days in July, but the Review of last week was dated July 32. Perhaps some of our readers figured we were just trying to put off the "first" until Monday, and probably others figured we just didn't know any better. But we offer the usual explanation—a typographical error—and that covers a multitude of sins both in commission and omission. And any way the Review last week should have been July 31. But dear readers will all of you who make no mistakes hold up your hands.

August 14, 1925: Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Clark August 5, a boy. August 21, 1925: Sunday's Dallas News carried a three column picture of the Cross Plains business section, and referred to it as "Lively view of Lively Town of Cross Plains" and added, "This is quite a lively little town, as this view snapped on a business street will testify. Cross Plains divides its growth between an oil boom and a natural inclination to expand. The above mentioned picture and the quotations reproduced, was only a part of what the Dallas News carried. Considerable more than a column of oil news was included, given in very descriptive form, the developments of the local fields. The Fort Worth papers would have carried an equal amount of space covering Cross Plains developments but unfortunately the articles mailed to those papers were delayed enroute and arrived too late for the Sunday papers. All of those papers have been very kind, and liberal in giving Cross Plains due publicity, and the people of this section appreciate it.

Our correspondent to the daily papers F. M. Gwin, deserves much credit for preparing such valuable news information for these big state dailies, and he keeps in close touch with the press at all times. August 28, 1925: The Review learned just before press time that school will open here on Monday, September 14. So keep this in mind and get ready for the greatest school year ever in the schools history. The faculty list will be given next week and more will be said about the school.

The immortal Joseph Weldon Bailey once declared that the greatest blessing that the Lord had bestowed upon Texas was in putting Oklahoma between this State and Kansas. Similarly, it could be said that another great blessing is that Texas is next to Mexico, that incomparable, year-round vacation land—because it is necessary for the host of tourists from all parts of the United States en-route to Mexico to pass through Texas, leaving in their wake a trail of gold which benefits all lines of Texas business. Furthermore, Texans are fortunate in that they do not have to spend long days of travel to reach Mexico but can climb on a train or a bus or get aboard the family automobile and, in a few hours, be south of the Rio Grande. Your columnist is just back from such a trip. (It was the second visit to the Southern Republic, the other being two years ago by rail). The adventure begins when you cross the International Bridge at Nuevo Laredo after having filled out a traveler's card for each member of the party above 15 and having arranged (for a nominal amount) a bond that you will bring your car back. Inspection of baggage is quickly and politely done and you soon find yourself rolling through the wild, but interesting, landscape on the world's longest straightaway—45 miles. Every so often you cross a bridge over some creek—each has a name, as Arroyo of Death or Arroyo of Hot Eye, a name that no doubt stands for a story. You swing across the slants of Mamalique Pass, a fine piece of engineering, and arrive in Monterrey, 145 miles south of the border, a city of industry and modernity at the foot of famous Pecosaddle Mountain. We drove around much of the city, admiring the beautiful homes, fronts flush with the sidewalk—fronts that are dyed rich green or deep purple or intense scarlet; the shops, full of silver, tapestry and basketry, and the cathedral with its bells. After a night at the Hotel Ancira, the journey is resumed. Mile after mile of changing scenes unreal, with luncheon at the white, new Cerro Gordo Hotel in Victoria. As you glide along, you see a mother walking through the bright sunlight, her shawl extended to shield two small children as well as herself; a procession of pilgrims, all in white, headed by men transporting two church bells suspended from poles; babies carried on the backs of mothers; a man (stowaway, perhaps) hanging from the back end of a bus; men, each carrying a machete, the knife that is almost long enough for a sword and is used to chop one's way through the jungle; and cornfields high up on the mountain side and to the very tops, at unbelievable angles. Women, with carriage as erect as a Casa Manana show-girl, are carrying pots on their heads, hands at their side, and they turn their heads to look at the passing car. Men are bearing heavy loads of wood or even a small log on their backs, the burden being held in place by a leather strap that passes around the forehead. Even little children have miniature loads. An old man with some fruit tridges by on his way to market. There are little towns every few miles on the mountain slope and you think of life being lived with such a hamlet as the center and with many perhaps never venturing more than 25 miles. And so late in the afternoon into Valles to spend the night. See the happy moron; He doesn't give a dam; I wish I were a moron; Good Lord, perhaps I am!

As exciting as a moving picture was the recent achievement of Madie Greenock, Texas-bred filly owned by Col. R. B. George of Dallas, president of the Thoroughbred Horse Association of Texas. Madie Greenock was the longest shot in the Starlet Stakes at Hollywood Park, but finished in a dead heat with another 2-year old, and they shared the purse, each receiving $6,000. There were 14 in the race and because the "stars" had all the more noted jockeys, trainer Johnny Zoeller had to use the filly's regular exercise boy, Pete Martinez. Colonel George's filly paid $45.00 on a $2 ticket. She is the daughter of George's famed Greenock and That's Mine, by Phalaros.

... that's the kind of bargain Your Electric Servant brings YOU NOW under Business Operation

1. Twice the speed. Electric servants breeze through your housework in less than half the time it used to take—at about half the cost. Your bill maybe is about the same as it's always been, but you now get more and better service, plus better lighting, for about what you used to pay for lights alone.

2. Twice the labor saving. Ask the woman who owns a washing machine what electricity has done for her! At present-day low rates, you can afford to use most all the modern appliances. Today electric rates are only about half what they were 10 to 15 years ago. You get about two or three times as much for your money!

3. Twice the light. No blackouts here! Today you can get twice as much light as you used to, for the same money. Electricity today costs only about half as much. (Light bulbs are twice as efficient, so you get four times as much today for the same money.)

4. Twice the comfort. Constant research is developing new and cheaper ways of using electricity. Air conditioning, this past summer reached more homes than ever before, bringing cool comfort at small cost. Other usages are being constantly improved at no extra cost to you!

Credit for the steadily improved service to you at steadily reduced rates is due the trained and experienced men and women of this organization. They have devoted many years to the bigly technical problems of electric generation and distribution... all without interruption and at low cost.

Letters from the People: "We used to pay 15 cents a kilowatt-hour. The low rates today enable us to use our many appliances without being extravagant. Besides lights, we now have range, water heater, frigidaire, sweeper, air conditioner, iron, percolator, toaster, waffle iron, radio, fans and heating pad—making for better and more economical living... The West Texas Utilities always renders courteous, prompt and efficient service for which we are grateful." —MRS. W. C. DICKEY, Memphis, Texas
