

"AS I SEE IT"

By Jack McCarty

This department joins with the other firms and individuals of this community in extending our hearty congratulations to members of the 1952 Senior Class of Cross Plains High School. It is our sincere wish that the days ahead for each member of the class will be profitable and happy. In talking to a number of the Seniors we have learned that a large number plan to enroll in college this summer or next fall, while others plan to go to work and some of the boys expect to join various branches of the armed forces. Regardless of which path you take, we wish you the best life has to offer and if you do your best, we are certain you will all succeed.

To Superintendent Newell Odell, the school board, faculty and employees of the school, we want to extend our thanks for a job well done this past school year. You have operated and maintained a school system that we are all proud of. In short, it has been a very successful year from every standpoint, and may you enjoy your summer vacation. We will all be looking forward to seeing you again next year. To Supt. Odell and his fine family, this department wants to state that it has been a genuine pleasure to work with you and we feel that our community is suffering a real loss in your move to Childress but we wish you the best of everything in your new home.

Chief topic of conversation in town this week is the fine (Million Dollar) rain received here Saturday night and Sunday. According to Chester Glover, the official gauge here in town measured 2.39 inches, with more being gauged in some communities around. It fell just right and most of it soaked into the ground. Smiles were everywhere Sunday and Monday and the farmers are preparing to go to work in earnest as soon as they can get into their fields with equipment.

Citizens of this school district will have an opportunity to enjoy a first-rate concert, to be rendered by the high school Buffalo Band on Thursday evening (today), beginning at 8:00 o'clock. Pat McNallen, director has been working his charges daily in preparation for the concert and a real program is assured. The Buffalo Band is one of the finest organizations we have in town and we want to urge everyone to attend the concert. A couple of weeks ago, this department printed a letter from E. L. Jackson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, praising the local band for its part in the Cisco Junior College Frontier Day parade. Following is another nice letter received by the band from B. A. Butler, Secretary of the Cisco C. of C.:

"Cross Plains High School Band

"Dear Band:

"Wow! what a snappy, dandy band! You gave us a real thrill in the Cisco Junior College Ranch Day parade, and how we appreciate your coming and taking part.

"Incidentally, we got a very nice color movie shot of you and some time, when in Cisco, ask Mr. O. L. Stamey or Mr. Carlos Turner or "Pop" Garrett to have the film shown you.

"Again, and on behalf of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and citizens, thanks and come back.

"Sincerely,
"B. A. Butler, Secretary."

Our announcement concerning the dismissal of S. F. (Fos) Bond as weather observer and forecaster has this department in a jam at the present time. Even our friend Tom Bryant has turned against us in this move and is threatening to try us in Kangaroo Court. But to make matters worse, Fos has undermined us at home. He has soft-soaped our better half and has her on his side of the fracas. Not desiring to lose my friend(s) here I'm withdrawing the charges and plan to forget the matter. Following is a letter received from Fos this week:

"Editor of Cross Plains Review:

Country Club Lake Is Stocked With 5,000 Black Bass

Good news to members of the Lakewood Country Club is the announcement that officials of the Texas Game & Fish Department were here on Thursday of the past week and announced that they were enroute to the club lake with approximately 5,000 Black Bass to restock the body of water. The restocking program is under the direction of Walter Baum, head of the State Fish Hatchery at Cisco. Baum is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baum of this city.

Baum stated that the Game & Fish Department planned to stock the lake with a large number of channel cat this fall if this section received enough rainfall to put additional water in the lake. He said that club members could look forward to some real fishing next year.

All fish in the lake were poisoned several months ago when the club membership voted to clean out the undesirable species of rough fish, and present plans call for stocking with only bass and channel cat.

Brownwood Regatta Postponed Due To Rain; To Be Held This Sunday

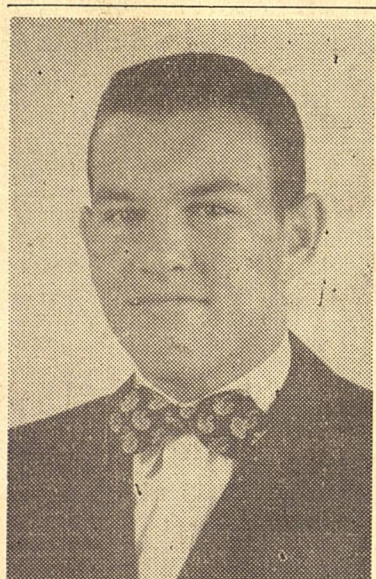

The 18th annual Lake Brownwood Regatta and Jamboree sponsored by the Brownwood Junior Chamber of Commerce, which was scheduled for last Sunday, May 25.

Fine Rains Blanket This Section Over Week End With Over Two Inches Of Moisture

BOBBY VAUGHT
Class President and Most Popular Boy.

Slow, gentle rain fell in this area over the week end and, according to Chester Glover, official rain gauger for the U. S. Weather Bureau, a total of 2.39 inches was received here in town.

The rain started early Saturday afternoon and continued intermittently throughout the night and Sunday morning. Reports from various communities in this area varied from two to over three inches of moisture received.

According to farmers and ranchers, the rains came just in time to save the young pasture grasses from burning and the moisture is now sufficient to plant row crops on. A number of local farmers had already planted peanuts and other crops and the moisture received will carry them for several weeks of growing, it was said.

Rain gauger Glover reported that this was the first time since the Weather Bureau installed his gauge, the past summer, that he has measured over two inches of moisture at one time.

It is needless to state that smiles are everywhere in town these days and pessimism has changed to optimism.

Veterans ? Box

Q—I wear an orthopedic brace on my right leg because of wounds I received during World War II. Can I get emergency repairs to my brace without prior approval from VA?

A—You can get emergency repairs to your brace up to $15 from any commercial brace or repair shop without prior VA approval if you have the new "Prosthetic Service Card—Orthopedic Braces." VA Regional Offices are now in the process of issuing these cards.

Q—I'm eligible for a 1952 dividend on my National Service Life Insurance. In my case, VA is holding the money to pay any premiums that I miss paying. When does this system start?

A—VA can pay your premiums out of your dividend money only after the anniversary date of your policy has passed. Be sure to pay your own premiums until after the anniversary date; otherwise you're taking a chance that your policy will lapse.

Q—I am on active duty, and I have an NSLI term policy which is under waiver. However, the term period of the policy is about to expire. Is there any way I can keep my insurance protection after it expires?

A—Yes. Under the law, your term policy will be automatically renewed for another five-year term. Premiums on this new insurance also will be waived during the remainder of your service and for 120 days afterwards. But when your start paying your own premiums again, the amount will be higher—based on your age at the time the new term went in effect.

LONE STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

TEXAS HYBRID CORN

The history of corn is as old as the history of mankind! From the earliest records which ancient man left around his campfires down through medieval and modern history, civilizations have achieved greatness or have crumbled according to the supply of corn. "Corn", in this sense, applies to all cereal grains—those abundant streams of golden and white kernels which are literally the life-blood of healthy, vigorous nations. Ancient Egypt's strength was derived from its corn crop. The annual inundation of the land by the Nile River provided fertile soil to produce grain for thousands of slaves who built huge temples and monuments that are still wonders of the modern world. The energy which produced these architectural marvels came from products of the soil.

One of the first incidents concerning the founding of our nation is woven around this grain. When the Pilgrims landed on the rocky eastern shore, they were met by friendly Indians who helped them prepare for the hard winter ahead. Perhaps one of the most valuable acts of friendship by the Redman was to teach the newcomers how to cultivate a corn crop. The fruits of this act were served at the first Thanksgiving meal.

We have come a long way in the development of corn since those early days. The Pilgrims merely dug a hole in the ground and dropped in a kernel of corn fertilized with a small sliver of fish. Today, through a process of scientific research, improved fertilization, and careful certification, we are developing better strains of corn which will assure the farmer of maximum yields.

Your State Department of Agriculture each year studies results of extensive tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment station in principal corn production areas. These tests prove the superiority of one strain of corn over another. Yield and stalk lodging, shelling qualities, disease resistancy, and good shulk coverage are factors in rating merits of the strain. These merits determine the certification number which the Department of Agriculture requires on every bag of grain sold in Texas. As newer and better strains are developed, certification is extended to include the improvements and the old strains are dropped.

To bring history up to date, the Division of Field Seed Certification has announced that Texas Yellow Hybrid Corn Numbers 8, 12 and 20 are being replaced by Numbers 26, 28, and 30 which show in conclusive tests to be superior. Considering both yields and vegetative characters, Texas 30, 28 and 24 are recommended for the East Texas farmer; Texas 30, 28 and 26 for the Blackland region, and Texas 30, 28, 26 and 24 for the "drier" areas.

Texas Certified Hybrid Seed Corn producers are expanding production of the newer hybrids in 1952 and sufficient quantities of the better strains should be available for farmers next year.

Cross Plains Grade School Comes To Close of Another Successful School Year

By Hubert Kelley, Principal

The Cross Plains Grade School has come to another successful close.

We started the year with the crowded conditions relieved by moving the seventh and eighth grades into the new rooms upstairs in the high school building. This gives us plenty of room in the elementary school building now.

Attendance has been good in spite of the fact that the epidemics of influenza and measles cut attendance to a minimum during the fourth and seventh months. Parents deserve much of the credit for the good attendance. However, one teacher was lost due to low attendance during the epidemics.

Vaccinations were given in the fall for smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough and we hope to give them again this fall.

A new reading program was installed this year with the McKee Reading Series of readers being adopted. A reading consultant from Houghton-Mifflin Co. held a reading demonstration here at the beginning of this school year and as a result, great improvement has been made in the teaching of reading.

The Parent-Teachers Association purchased a number of new library books which were enjoyed by the students very much.

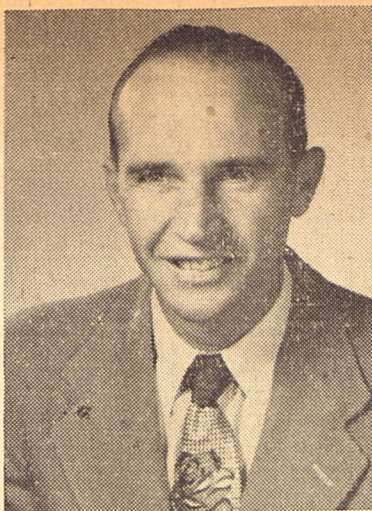

Public school music was taught this year for the first time in several years and in addition to this, there are 37 pupils in grammar school taking band. Also, a number of students are taking private lessons in piano.

We have added a new ditto machine this year and plan to purchase an opaque machine to use in our visual aid instructions. Much work is being done in visual aid now, which includes our moving picture projector, bulletin boards, magazines, newspapers, etc.

Our grade school didn't enter all events in the Interscholastic League this year because of measles, but we won in each event that we entered. Terry Watkins and Jerry Dale Edwin won first and second in the district in Number Sense, Kay McCarty won first place in Story Telling, Gay Nell Bryan and Ruth McAnally tied for first in spelling and both boys and girls won the district basketball tournament held here in March.

Fifty-two eighth graders will graduate May 29. Benny Ray Glover is salutatorian and Frances Laminack is valedictorian. The eighth grade enjoyed a trip to Dallas, financed by money earned by the class members.

We are looking forward to the next school year and we want to thank each and every one for their splendid cooperation given this year.

The eight members and two visitors attending were: Mmes. Gene Adams, L. W. Westerman, J. W. Dunlap, E. C. Neeb, George B. Scott, Marvin Smith, A. D. Petty, H. A. Young, Thompson and Hill.

This meeting was the last to be held during the summer. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. A. D. Petty, September 18.

Drouth and Heat Didn't Stop Soil Improvements

College Station, May 20.—Soil improvement throught the use of legumes and a seed improvement programs including the principal crops produced in the state are listed by the agronomists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as major achievements for 1951.

Their annual report shows that despite the severe drouth, Texas farmers plowed under for soil improvement 1,513,398 acres of legumes with an estimated value of more than $15 million. A total of 44,452,400 pounds of legume seed were harvested and their value was in excess of $5.5 million. Principal seed crops were sweetclover, hairy vetch, alfalfa and singletary peas.

The agronomists report that last year's hybrid corn contest was somewhat on the record smashing order. Nine out of the 15 prize winners had included legumes in their crop rotation. Eight contestants in Red River County produced in excess of 100 bushels of corn an acre. The 165.4 bushels produced by Harold Watkins, a 4-H boy, say the agronomists was the highest officially recorded yield ever made in Texas. His contest acre was planted on land where Austrian winter peas had been plowed under the year before and he used liberal amounts of fertilizer.

Reports received from the counties show that a total of 49 adults and juniors produced more than 100 bushels of corn per acre last year.

Demonstrations were used to show the value of foundation and certified planting seed. In 1941 when seed of adapted Texas corn hybrids first became available less than one per cent of the corn acreage was planted to hybrids. In 1951, 65 per cent of the Texas corn acreage was planted to hybrids.

The increased production from the 1,546,000 acres planted to hybrids in 1951 was estimated at five bushels per acre over open pollinated corn and at $1.50 per bushel amounted to $11,590,000.

The agronomists credit several practices with increasing corn yields in the state including the use of legumes and fertilizers, closer spacing of the plants, improved cultural methods and of course planting adapted corn hybrids.

County agricultural agents last year supervised demonstrations involving Comanche, Westar, Wichita, Quannah and Triumph wheats; Mustang, New Nortex and Fultex oats and Wintex, Texan and Goliad barleys. The new Goliad barley in early tests has shown much promise as a grazing crop in south Texas. The newer varieties of grain sorghums Redbine 60 and 66 and Combine kafir 60 were widely used by farm demonstrators. Golden and B-2851 were the commonly used varieties of flax tested.

A tabulation of all county reports show that 6,114 field crop demonstrations involving 378,484 acres were completed during 1951. The increased value of the crops produced on these demonstration acres over crops produced on on-demonstrators in the same areas was set at $9.5 million. That increase, points out the agronomists, was due to the use of better seed which give higher yields and better quality crops, liberal use of fertilizers, improved cultural and harvesting practices and the soil improvement work already done by the demonstrators.

4-H club boys, 3,113 of them, conducted field crop demonstrations on 19,185 acres and produced crops valued at almost $1.3 million.

Health Officer Offers Hints Concerning Prevention Of Polio

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is always more prevalent during the summer months.

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the housefly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once.

Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate community sewage disposal systems are not available or feasible, it is important to build and properly maintain sanitary septic tanks. In the event a water carriage system of sewage disposal cannot be secured it is important that at least an approved pit type toilet be constructed and properly maintained.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth, and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the state law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Walker were in Fort Worth Monday to attend a Planning Commission conference.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Ellis and daughters, Martha and Ruth, of Slaton spent Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Glover.

Duck, Dove Ballot Set

Austin, May 20.—The Executive Secretary of the Texas Game & Fish Commission said Texas waterfowl and mourning dove hunters will have a direct part in recommending the 1952 shooting season opening dates for migratory birds.

Ideal Barber Shop

He announced that the same poll pattern used in 1951 to determine popular sentiment for the dove hunting will be used this year for both dove and waterfowl seasons.

The seasons on doves and waterfowl are set by the United States Fish & Wildlife Service since these species are migratory. But they normally are influenced by recommendations of states acting through their game and fish departments.

Seasons on other major game in Texas such as deer, turkey and quail are set by law for most of Texas and thus are not subject to change except through legislative act.

The Executive Secretary said the decision to ask hunters for their opinions was made after it became apparent that "there may be more agreement between north and south Texas sportsmen than was previously believed." He said some recent trends indicate that the bulk of Texas hunters "can be made reasonably happy without resort to a special zoning plea which thus far has brought only frustration because of Federal dissent".

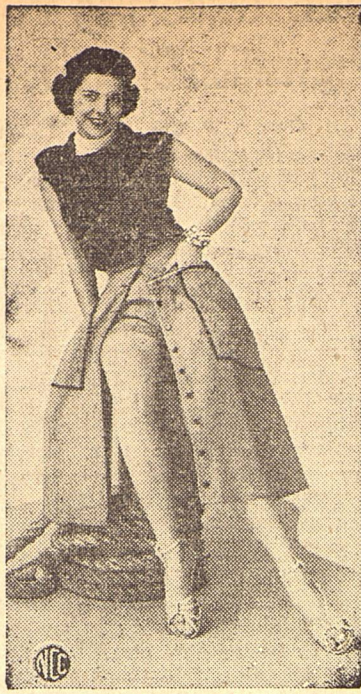

He explained that a surprisingly large number of South State hunters prefer a waterfowl season opening in November—an arrangement which presumably suits most North Texans.

The waterfowl season last year ran from November 9 through December 28. The mourning dove season ran, in the north zone, from September 1 to October 10, and, in the south zone, from November 15 to December 24.

The Executive Secretary asked that sportsmen indicate primarily the opening dates preferred since length of the season as well as bag limits are set by Federal authorities on the basis of late summer hatching data. This applies to both waterfowl and mourning doves.

He suggested that Texans state

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

ITS NEW KIND OF HORSEPOWER IS SOMETHING TO FEEL!

With its 180 HP V-8 engine, on 125 1/2 inches of wheelbase, many people think the Saratoga is the best Chrysler car of all.

We invite you to take the wheel and feel what happens! There's a new sense of easy power, of reserve power that make driving a new experience.

Its revolutionary combustion chamber develops more of the power in each charge of fuel than other engines can do. One result is performance, even on non-premium fuel, such as you have never felt. Another result is new economy. It's an engine that scarcely forms carbon at all. It creates less heat. It will last much longer, stay younger on the way!

And with Chrysler full-time Power Steering*, you steer with one-fifth the usual effort... drive with five times the usual control! With Power Brakes you need up to two-thirds less foot pressure... and still stop in many feet less than other cars can do.

Yes, behind Chrysler's new engine you'll find a new kind of car. Won't you come in and feel what we mean?

*NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on any new Chrysler.

Odell Writes Farewell To The Community

It seems only too short a time now until school will be closed and I will have gone my way, but before I go, I feel that I should say a few words in defense of today's school, and a few words to the parting seniors, then a word to all. I feel that the American mind today seems deeply worried about its school system as it never has been before. In the vast literature on education there is more discontent than complacency, more blame than praise. There is an uneasy feeling that the schools have somehow failed to do their job.

Yet no one seems very positive as to what the job of the school is today. It is oddly ironic—to say the least—to hear people who rear their children on comics complain that the schools fail to instill a love of literature. It's shocking—to say the truth—to hear the very people who support teachers' oaths and textbook censorship contend that the schools are failing to encourage greater intellectual independence.

We need to get our standards straight and clear. Many of the old purposes and criteria have disappeared, and the people have not defined new ones to take their place. The 19th Century school, for example, had an enormous job in "Americanization" but it was a clearly defined job, universally willed by the people. Today's school faces a problem in deciding whether its education should reinforce nationalism—or inspire internationalism.

Two developments have further blurred the picture inherited from the 19th Century. First: Schools no longer have anything like the monopoly in education they then exercised. Today they share responsibility with the movies, the radio and television, and to a far larger extent than before, with the newspaper and the magazine: for millions of Americans, Life and Reader's Digest have supplanted the McGuffey reader. Second: with the phenomenal growth of higher education, the new demands of industry and professional the government and the military, the function of elementary and secondary education has become more narrowly educational than ever before. In the day of specialization schools are called on more and more to prepare not so much for life, citizenship or democracy as for particular tasks and competences.

It has been a great pleasure to have served this fine community as Superintendent of Schools. To the parting Seniors I should like to say, you must become a sovereign citizen. You are to become the source of the authority of our government. You have upon your shoulders the preservation of this great boon of freedom and opportunity for which others have paid so dearly. If you do not appreciate the importance of this sovereign privilege, if you do not exercise it and exercise it wisely, it will be lost and the age-long cycle of confusion and suffering will be once more ahead.

To every citizen that it has been my privilege to serve; I want to express my sincere appreciation for your confidence and splendid cooperation during this two year period that we have worked together. I feel that my family and I have made many, many friends upon whom we can depend and we shall never forget you. As time draws near for us to separate from this community we feel that we have never or shall never enjoy two years as much as we have enjoyed these.

We would cherish the thought of being remembered as a friend by everyone.

C. H. Dawson Asks For Legislative Post From 76th. District

Charles H. Dawson, of Cross Plains, is announcing his candidacy this week for state representative of the 76th district, which comprises Callahan, Eastland and Shackelford counties. This makes the third time Mr. Dawson has offered himself as a candidate for this office. Last election year found him gaining considerably over the first race he ran. He believes not only that the third time is the charm, but that he will win this year mainly because the people of this district have become better acquainted with him and will vote for a man of his character.

In presenting himself as a candidate, Mr. Dawson states:

"I want the people of Callahan, Eastland and Shackelford counties to know that their vote for me in the Democratic primary election, and their influence in my behalf until election day, will be very much appreciated. I have talked to many of you during the past few weeks, and from your expressions of the type of man you want to represent you in the legislature, I believe you will elect me to this high office. I base my campaign upon the fact that I am an average man, like the average working man, the average mechanic, the average clerk, the average farmer, the average man that makes up the majority of the population of the 76th representative district. If elected to this responsible office, my chief desire will be to represent the people of this district fairly and impartially to the very best of my ability. I do not claim that I have floated level with the heights of thought, or that I have descended to the depths of things. I do not claim to be a genius in literature, or have the intellect of a scholar, the accomplishments of a parliamentarian, or the gift of a statesman. I only profess to be an average man with the desire to represent you as you would like to be represented in the affairs of state; to attend to your legislative matters like you want them attended to.

"I present myself to you as a Democrat, standing before you stripped of all influences, and free from all political bosses. I am in this race on my own free will, and I owe allegiance to no one except my country and my God. I am the slave of no man and no organization, and I realize that the responsibility upon my shoulders will be tremendous.

"While I work in the church, and in civic clubs and veterans organizations, I do not think of the voters of the 76th representative district of Texas as men and women of different lodges, or of different churches, or of different commercial organizations, or of different races. I think of you as one great brotherhood of average people, striving for the best interests of this district, and of this state and this nation. I am running in this race the way I believe any candidate ought to run. If I am entitled to this office, give it to me. I do not want it through any trick of politics. I do not seek office through any medium other than the individual voter. The only true way to attain office is through the individual voter, not by special groups to whom favors must be returned after election. That is the right way to attain office, and not through any highly organized institutions.

"My experiences in life have been varied. I have made my living from farming, storekeeping, peace officer, business man, the oil business, and, otherwise by hard work. I have been right here in this representative district of Texas for 28 years, farming near Ranger and Pioneer. At present my home is at Cross Plains. I was a combat infantry soldier in World War I.

"If you see fit to elect me as your state representative, I shall work for (1) free lunches for all public school children, (2) adequate assistance for elderly citizens with no strings attached, and (3) rural fire and police protection. I propose a tax on fines and criminal bonds to help pay for this legislation. I am definitely against higher taxes. I favor freedom of the press. I believe that all chiefs of police should be elected by the people. In fact, I believe every law enforcement officer from city marshal to the head of the Department of Public Safety should be elected by the citizens. I would like to see the enforcement of all our laws, especially those found in Section 71, 97 and 105 of the new Texas election code. These require metal boxes with locks to be used at the election polls, and make it unlawful for any member of an election board to reveal information regarding the election before the hour of closing the polls.

"Your support of my campaign and your vote in the Democratic Primary will be greatly appreciated."

C. H. DAWSON.
