THE KINDERGARTEN A NE. CESSITY; NOT A LUXURY

P. P. Claxton, federal commissioner of education, has said that during the year 1920, the American people spent more for luxuries than they have spent on education in the entire history of the country.

This nation, with its vast resources can well afford to provide all of its children with every educational advantage, beginning with the kindergarten, and when we come to recognize in prevalent waves of crime, anarchy and unrest, the tragic esuits of neglection sionable years of childhood, the kindergarten will be considered a necessity, not a luxury.

> GETTING STARTED RIGHT, IS ADVICE OF HENRY C. WALLACE.

Every farmer knows that success in producing fine stock depends upon getting the young animals started right. The number of drafted men rejected for physical disability during the war shows that we need to pay more attentics to building up our children physically. The kindergarten, with its admirable system of physical culture and its sunny, airy rooms, where the children spend three happy hours each school day, furnishes the best possible environment, and physical as well as intellectuat and social training. It is too bad that kindergartens are not available for a far larger percentage of our children. Early training such as is given in the kindergarten should make healthier children, and better children in every way .--Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

About a hundred years clapsed between the reformation under Hezekiah and that of Josiah. Some time during this time the book of God's law had been lost. Two wicked kings had reigned in this interval. The Lord had given Hezekiah much wealth. His son Manasseh, coming into possession of his father's property, and being ungodly, would naturally neglect the Bible, if not purposely try to put it from sight. Those who do not obey the law of God, are usually interested in putting it out of sight.

I. The Book of the Law Found (vv.

1. The Occasion (v. 14). It was while repairing the temple during Joslah's reformation that the law was

2. The Book Delivered to the King (vv. 15-17). Upon making a report to the king of work done, the king was told of the finding of the book of the law by Hilkiah, and the book delivered

II. The Effect of the Reading of the Law (vv. 18-28). Shaphan the Scribe read the law before the king.

1. The King Rent His Clothes (v. 19). As the law was read before him he was led to realize more seriously the awful extent of the nation's departure from God. He knew that sin merited punishment. The function of the law is to reveal sin. The man who will honestly hear the demands of God's law will fall upon his knees before God and cry for mercy. The rending of the royal robes indicated that the king was penitently sorrowful.

2. The King Sent a Deputation to The king included himself in the guilt re God. "Go inquire for me and for them that are left, for great is the wrath of the Lord that is poured out upon us." His sense of sin was so keen that he sent them to inquire as to whether there was any means of averting the judgments of the Lord. Instinctively the human heart turns from God's threatening judgments to a means of escape. The soul that sorrows for sin inquires for a way of escape. The law prepares for the gospel. The law is our schoolmaster to bring us to Christ. The soul under condemnation inquires, "What must I do to be saved?"

3. The Message of Huldah, the Prophetess (vv. 22-28). (1) Confirmation of what the law said (vv. 22-25). She said that all the curses written in the law must fall, for the sing had been so flagrant that God's wrath could not be restrained. Destruction was hanging over Jerusalem and it was too late to avert it. It was not too late to repent to obtain mercy from God, but the outward consequence of sin must be realized. This finds fulfillment on every hand today. The murderer must hang. His soul cated by the constant likelihood of op- may go directly to heaven, provided he has accepted Jesus Christ. (2) Acceptance of Josiah's repentance (vv. 20-28). Because of his tenderness of heart and deep penitence, the Lord said he should be gathered to his grave in peace, and should not sea all the evil to be brought on Jerusalem and its people. What Huldah said was true even though Josiah died in battle (35: 23-25). When God accepts a man and forgives him, his death is a peaceful one even though it may be on the battlefield. God's presence is with him and he thus will go straight to the heavenly home.

III. The Law Obeyed (vv. 29-33). 1. The King Read the Law (vv. 29, 80). He gathered together the in habitants of Jerusalem, including the walks. The effect to be created is of priests, Levites and elders, and read unto them the law.

2. The King Made a Covenant Bedense and secluding growth, if the im- fore the Lord to Keep His Commandments and Testimonies (vv. 31, 32) This was done sincerely-with all his heart and soul. He caused all that were present to stand to it.

3. The king took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to Israel (v. 33). All the days of the king they departed not from following after the Lord.

or them that are left, for great is he wrath of the Lord that is poured out upon us." His sense of sin was to keen that he sent them to inquire as to whether there was any means of averting the judgments of the Lord. Instinctively the human heart turns from God's threatening judgments to a means of escape. The soul that sorrows for sin inquires for a way of escape. The law prepares for the gospel. The law is our schoolmaster to bring us to Christ. The soul under condemnation inquires, "What must I do to be saved?" 3. The Message of Huldah, the Prophetess (vv. 22-28). (1) Confirmation of what the law said (vv. 22-25). She said that all the curses written in the law mist fall, for the sing had been so flagrant that God's wrath could not be restrained. Destruction was hanging over Jerusalem and it was too late to avert it. It was not too late to repent to obtain mercy from God, but the outward consequence of sin must be realized. This finds fulfillment on every hand today. The murderer must hang. His soul may go directly to heaven, provided he has accepted Jesus Christ. (2)

Acceptance of Josiah's repentance (vv. 20-28). Because of his tenderness of heart and deep penitence, the Lord said he should be gathered to his grave in peace, and should not sea all the evil to be brought on Jerusalem and its people. What Huldah said was true even though Josiah died in battle (35: 23-25). When God accepts a man and forgives him, his death is a peaceful one even though it may be on the battlefield. God's presence is with him and he thus will go straight to the heavenly home. III. The Law Obeyed (vv. 29-33).

1. The King Read the Law (vv. 29, 80). He gathered together the in habitants of Jerusalem, including the priests. Levites and elders, and read unto them the law.

2. The King Made a Covenant Before the Lord to Keep His Commandments and Testimonies (vv. 31, 32) This was done sincerely-with all his heart and soul. He caused all that were present to stand to it.

3. The king took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to Israel (v. 33). All the days of the king they departed not from following after the Lord.

There never was a time when Goodyear Tires were so good as now.

They are bigger, heavier and stronger today than any earlier Goodyears ever were.

Yet Goodyear prices are lower now than ever. Not even in those remembered days before the war did Goodyear Tires sell at such low prices as today.

Look at the figures listed below. They represent an average decrease of more than 60% from Goodyear prices of 1910.

When you can get these better Goodyears at such prices, there is no question of the tire value at your command.

D. 1922, the same being the 5th day of June A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of May A. D. 1922 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 533. wherein Higginbotham Bros. & Co., is Plaintiff, and T. J. Christopher is Defendant, and said petition alleging The State of Texas, County of Callahan. In the County of Court of Callahan County, Texas. June Term, A. D.

To the Hon. J R. Black, Judge of

Said Court: Now comes Higginbotham Bros. & Co., a private corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Texas, with its principal office and place of business in the town of Cross Plains, Callahan County. Texas, hereinafter styled plaintiff and complaining of T J Christopher, whose residence is un known, hereinafter styled defendant, and for cause of action alleges:

1. That heretofore, to-wit: On the All property owners are hereby 30th day of January 1917 the defend ant, T. J. Christopher, made, executed all violations on and after that date. and providing for 10 per cent attorneys This notice issued by order of the fees for collection if not paid at ma-

2. That by reason of the execution and delivery of said note as aforesaid, the defendant became liable and pro mised to pay plaintiff said note ac cording to its face and tonor, effect and reading thereof; that said note is past due and unpaid and defendant. though often requested, has refused to pay and still refuses to pay said note or any part thereof to p'aintiff's damage in the sum of $750.00.

3. That plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of Hart, Harrell, Wilkinson & McGaugh, attorneys-atlaw, and that suit has been brought to enforce collection thereof, and plaintiff has contracted and agreed to pay the 10 per cent specified in said note as attorneys' fees.

Premises considered, plaintiff prays the court that citation and process issue by publication to defendant as the law requires, and that upon the final hearing hereof, that it have judg ment for its damage, for attorneys' fees and for all costs of suit, and such other and further relief as in law and equity it may show itself entitled to. and will forever pray.

NORTHERN IMPLEMENT COMPANY REORGANIZES

Modern Policy in Dealing With Farmers

Moline, Ill .-- Announcement of the completion of re-organization of the Moline Plow Company was made here this week. New plans for the company and its subsidiaries, chief of which will be the Stephens Motor Car Company were ratified. The new company was launched with $16,000,000 of current assets and with all current indebtedness cleared from its books except accrued and carrent expenses and $70,-.000 of current accounts.

The most striking feature of the reorganization is the conversion of $25,000,000 of indebtedness into $12.-500,000 of 20 year debentures and came bankrupt before the completion about 10 o'clock, while waters still there was a total of $1,081,626 of $7,500,000 of old first preferred stock was converted into $7,500,000 of new 2nd preferred stock. The financial house cleaning was done with un: usual thoroughness.

The Stephens Motor Car Company, is placed in an equally sound position. The investment in plant and equipment is unusually low, and the assured standing of the company will now give ample assurance to every one interested in the Stephens automobile. The company has taken blown up Tuesday and one horse rise became barely perceptible. At over the poppet valve motor business of the P & V. BODY OF W. P. DRISKILL FOUND IN SHED BACK OF HIS HOME

Waco, Texas.-In a shed adjoining the garage in the rear of his home at 1714 Barnard avenue, the body of William P. Driskill, with the top of his head crushed by blows from an ax. was found Monday morning. He had been dead at least nine hours when the discoverey was made by a carpenter, Ed Broiles. The body was partially wrapped in a quilt with the face upward. Officers believe the murderer en tered the house, secured the quilt and wrapped it around the body to prevent blood from getting on his clothing as he dragged the corpse into the shed. A woman's handkerchief was found in the alley back of the Driskill home.

The ax with which Driskill was killed was found in the yard. An effort had been made to wash off the blood, but sufficient stains remained on the ax and the handle to convince officers that it was the weapon used to end the life of Driskill. Mr. Driskill's watch, a diamond ring which he wore and his pistol are missing. Persons living near the Driskill home heard a car enter or depart from his garage about midnight. Driskill's car was found terior was smeared with blood.

A note found in Driskill's shirt bosom was taken from the body in the International & Great Northern | the presence of Justice J. J. ### WACO COTTON BUYER SLAIN BY AX MAN

dge of the city at 11 BODY OF W. P. DRISKILL FOUND IN SHED BACK OF HIS HOME

> Waco, Texas.-In a shed adjoining the garage in the rear of his home at 1714 Barnard avenue, the body of William P. Driskill, with the top of his head crushed by blows from an ax. was found Monday morning. He had been dead at least nine hours when the discoverey was made by > a carpenter, Ed Broiles. The body was partially wrapped in a quilt with the face upward. Officers believe the murderer entered the house, secured the quilt and wrapped it around the body to prevent blood from getting on his clothing as he dragged the corpse into the shed. A woman's handkerchief was found in the alley back of > the Driskill home. The ax with which Driskill was killed was found in the yard. An effort had been made to wash off the blood, but sufficient stains remained on the ax and the handle to convince officers that it was the weapon used to end the life of Driskill.

Mr. Driskill's watch, a diamond ring which he wore and his pistol are missing. Persons living near the Driskill home heard a car enter or depart from his garage about midnight. Driskill's car was found a few miles north of Waco. Its in terior was smeared with blood. A note found in Driskill's shirt bosom was taken from the body in the presence of Justice J. J. Padgett, who declined to make known the contents. It is admitted to be a clue nal $376,646, represented in a of great importance. The note was cent value of franchises. printed with a lead pencil, on the back of an envelope containing o business letter addressed to Driskill, which is thought to have been taken from his coat pocked. Driskill was ilroad company of a little more fully clothed when found. The officers believe that his assailant lay in wait for him as he returned from

ANCIENT HAD LEARNED TRUTH

Strabo, a Historian Who Lived in 66 B. C., Was Aware That the Earth Is Round.

Most people associate the origin or theory that the earth is round to the period in which Columbus discovered America—in other words, to the Fifteenth century, or thereabouts. However, the theory dates back to the ancients, and one of its propagandists was Strabo, born B. C. 66, who wrote a voluminous history and also one of the world's earliest geographies, which has been preserved to us.

This geography, written in Greek, was intended for the guidance of statesmen, governmental officials and military leaders. Speaking of he earth's shape, the author says: We shall also assume that the earth s spheroidal, that its surface is likewise spheroidal, and above all, that odies have a tendency toward its center, which latter point is clear to the perception of the most average

"However we may show summarily that the earth is spheroidal the consideration that all things however distant tend to its center, and that every body is attracted toward its center of gravity; this is more distinctly proved from observations of the sea and sky, for here the evidence of the senses, and common observation, is alone req-
