Exhibit opens Sunday at Saints' Roost Museum

The works of noted Western photographer Brian Humek will be on display starting this Sunday, February 7, at the Saints' Roost Museum. His works showcase the cowboys of Donley County.

An opening reception will be held from 2 - 5 p.m., and Humek will be in attendance to greet one and all. Refreshments will be provided.

Humek began taking photographs as a child with his cherished X-45 Instamatic camera, which he still owns. The pictures he took were black and white prints of his relatives and his Siamese cat "Joey."

In 1997, Brian began to concentrate his time and resources on cowboy photography when he visited his first ranches. The majestic beauty of the ranches all over West Texas overwhelmed him.

In early 1998, Humek was granted an opportunity to chronicle life in and around Clarendon. His visits to various ranches along the rim of Palo Duro Canyon resulted in the collection of black and white prints titled "Western Traditions: Cowboys, Cattle, & Clarendon."

When asked how he goes about planning each photograph and how they turn out so well, Humek answers "I just let God point me in the right direction and I push the button."

Humek says he respects the profession of cowboying for a number of reasons but mainly because although a cowboy has little control over his own job, he continues to press on, doing what has to be done to survive and to keep a quality of life he has grown accustomed to.

Within the past year he has photographed by Brian Humek has been published in Country Extra magazine and the Ft. Worth Gazette. His photography has also been seen on KXAS in Dallas.

Humek is northerner by birth and a Texan by choice. He has resided in Irving for the past seventeen years. He and his wife of five years, Mary Ann, plan on moving to Clarendon this year with the hopes of starting a family in a nice rural atmosphere. He will also be closer to the subjects he enjoys photographing.

Humek's collection, "Western Traditions: Cowboys, Cattle, & Clarendon," will be on exhibit at the Museum through April 30.

C of C honors Nelson with Saints' Roost Award

Osburn named Man of the Year, Rhode is Woman of the Year

Mary Beth Nelson was honored as the 1998 Saints' Roost Award winner during the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet last Saturday night in the Bairfield Activity Center.

The Saints' Roost Award is given each year to an individual who has devoted their life to the community and is a lifetime achievement honor.

Nelson taught elementary school for 30 years and leads the Church of Christ's Dorcus Bible class for girls from ages 8 to 10 years old. She writes a periodic column, "Check It Out," for The Clarendon Enterprise and has had short stories published in two books along side Billy Graham, Max Lucado, and others.

Nelson volunteers time at the Burton Memorial Library, and for the past 15 years she has been a volunteer at the Medical Center Nursing Home. Every Monday she sings and plays the piano for the nursing home residents and encourages them to sing, clap, and move to the music. She exemplifies dedication and commitment.

Also recognized Saturday were Benny Osburn as Man of the Year and Cennet Rhode as Woman of the Year.

Osburn was described as a selfless volunteer for the community. Every summer, he is a constant presence on the baseball diamond as he donates his time and energies to the Clarendon Little League. He serves as a volunteer fireman and is an Assistant Scoutmaster with Clarendon's Boy Scout Troop 433.

Rhode works tirelessly to promote Clarendon, whether at home or away, and has a great love for this town and its people. She supports the local schools and is an active supporter of Clarendon College. She perhaps is best known for supporting worthy causes by being a top seller of raffle tickets, baked goods, and July 4th Shriner Barbecue tickets.

Approximately 190 people attended Saturday's banquet, which was catered by Great Western Dining. That number is up slightly from last year's attendance of 170. A silent auction was held prior to the banquet.

Dan Hall provided the special entertainment with his singing talent.

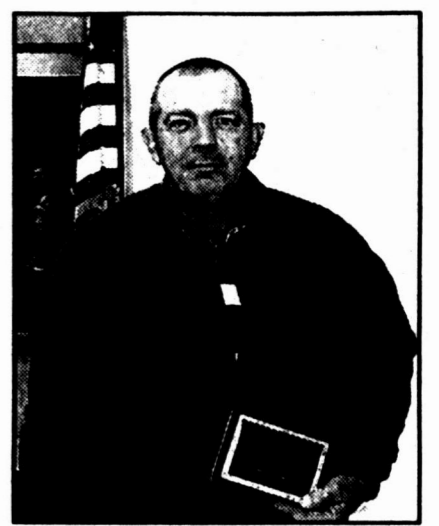

The guest speaker for the evening was Ray Stone, who has produced the Dallas Cowboys Football Report radio show for the last 25 years. He has traveled the state addressing chambers of commerce speaking about the benefits of shopping at home.

Carol Hinton was the lucky winner of the autographed Dallas Cowboys football.

Corporate sponsors for this year's banquet were Allsup's, B&R Thriftway, Bar H 79 Cattle Feeders, Cellular One, Classic Cable, Coca-Cola, Dairy Queen, Duckwall's, Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Lone Star Gas, Pizza Hut, and West Texas Utilities Co.

Lady Broncos victorious over two tough teams

The Clarendon Lady Broncos had two tough opponents facing them last week but were victorious over both.

The Lady Broncos went on the road to White Deer on Tuesday night. Clarendon got off on the right foot as they went 50 percent from the floor in the first quarter. The Lady Broncos relaxed a little in the second quarter and got into some foul trouble early. The White Deer Does took advantage of Clarendon's mistakes, outscored the Lady Broncos, 21-11, and were up by six at half time.

The Lady Broncos regrouped in the third quarter and started playing better defense as they held the Does to only eight points. April Bryley and Geri Butler started up the Lady Broncos offense again as they each scored six points in the third.

White Deer would not give up as they chipped away at the Clarendon lead in fourth quarter. The game was decided at the charity stripe as sophomore Geri Butler hit nine of ten free throws in the final minutes of the game.

The Lady Broncos defense held the Does off in the final seconds, and Clarendon won the game, 58-55.

Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Geri Butler, 24; April Bryley, 10; Cat Chamberlain, 7; Kelley Lemley, 7; Kim Alexander, 4; Shannon Cooper, 4; and Courtney Newhouse, 2.

"We really got off to a good start against White Deer, maybe too good. Sometimes we measure how tough the game is going to be by how the first few minutes go. I think we let up and lost our concentration, and White Deer was not going to give up on their home court. But the girls battled back and got the win despite an overall subpar performance. Geri Butler hitting her free throws in the fourth quarter was really big," said Head Coach Steve Schmidt.

Clarendon got off to another good start at home against the Wellington Lady Skyrockets on Friday night.

The Lady Broncos made four three point shots in the first quarter to help them jump out to a 17-10 lead. Wellington came for a battle though and fought back in the second to cut Clarendon's lead to four at the half.

The Lady Broncos' hot shooting began again in the third quarter as Bryley and Butler again led Clarendon by scoring nine and eight points respectively. Another three point shot by Kelley Lemley in the third gave the Lady Broncos an 11-point lead with the final eight minutes to play.

The Lady Skyrockets got hot in the fourth quarter outscoring the Lady Broncos, 16-13. But Clarendon's free throw shooting once again clinched the game for them as they went on to defeat Wellington, 62-54.

Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Geri Butler, 22; April Bryley, 19; Kelley Lemley, 7; Kim Alexander, 4; Shannon Cooper, 4; Cat Chamberlain, 3; Lindsey Shelton, 2; and Kristen Glover, 1.

"We got off to another hot start, but Wellington did a great job of keeping it close. Their game plan was to cover up our two leading scorers, Butler and Lemley, and force our other players to handle more of the shooting load. A good plan, but lil' April Bryley took advantage of it racking up 19 points. For the week, April averaged about 15 points a game and hit an amazing 12 of her 15 shots taken," said Coach Schmidt.

"The entire squad played well. We even did well in the little things like screening and rebounding. The girls executed as well as they have done all year."

The Lady Broncos will host the Quanah Lady Indians in their final home game of the season on Friday, February 5, at 6:30 p.m.

"The Quanah game is very important to us. We want to clinch the second place spot in district. And after a tough one point loss in Quanah, I think we'll be pretty fired up for them this time. We need another good crowd for this last home game of the year. The support has been very encouraging," said Coach Schmidt.

Clarendon will play at Panhandle on Tuesday, February 9, at 6:30 p.m. for their final regular season game.

Local men graduate from DPS Academy

AUSTIN - Steven Davis and Michael M. Moore, both of Clarendon, were among 140 trooper cadets who graduated recently from the Texas Department of Public Safety's 115th Training Academy.

"This is the largest graduating class in DPS history, and we are proud to have them join our ranks. These new troopers are professional and well-trained, as are the rest of our commissioned troopers," said DPS Director Col. Dudley M. Thomas.

Texas Attorney General John Cornyn addressed the graduating class at the Frank Erwin Center on the University of Texas campus in Austin.

Lt. Col. Thomas A. Davis, Jr., also participated in the ceremony along with DPS training officers.

The 27-week school is the longest continuous training academy offered by any law enforcement agency in Texas and one of the longest in the nation. The cadets entered the Academy in July and completed 1,187 hours of instruction - more than twice the training required by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. The students received instruction in criminal law, traffic law, arrest procedures, accident investigation, first aid, and other law enforcement subjects as well as classes aimed at developing self-esteem and goal setting skills.

Trooper Davis will be assigned to the Highway Patrol in Perryton, and Trooper Moore will be assigned to the Highway Patrol in Dumas.

Haywood files bill for value-added processing

AUSTIN - State Sen. Tom Haywood, R-Wichita Falls, today announced the filing of his bill for value-added processing of agricultural products in Texas.

"Currently 90 percent of all raw Texas agriculture products are shipped out of state for processing," Haywood said. "For example, Texas accounts for 25 to 30 percent of cotton production, but we actually process very little of it. What that means is we make very few T-shirts and cotton balls."

The bill, Senate Bill 224, will offer franchise tax and/or sales tax credits to agriculture processing companies locating or expanding in rural areas of Texas. With this, Haywood hopes to bring agriculture processing plants to Texas thus reducing the amount of end-use products processed outside the state.

"In a January newsletter put out by the Texas Department of Agriculture, Susan Combs expressed interest in promoting value-added processing in Texas," Haywood said. "She favors building a coalition of public and private partnerships to bring more processing plants to Texas."

Senate Bill 224 would help those businesses involved in adding value to Texas-grown products. Incentives would be available in areas determined to be either rural or economically disadvantaged. Initial capital investment value plus job creation would be used to determine the overall investment value. In turn, the overall investment value would determine the percent tax credit offered by the state.

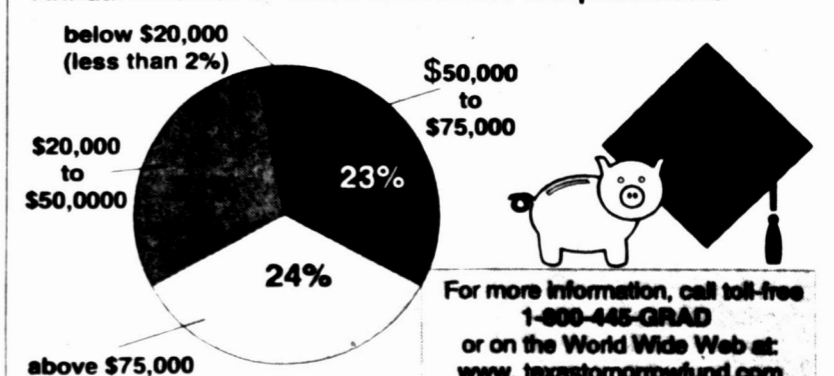

"The idea is to offer tax credits in

Don't Squander US Budget Surplus

Our impeached president this week issued his proposed budget, which would fulfill all those wonderful promises he made to everyone in his State of the Union Address.

Avid readers of this column may remember that last week I held that speech up to the harsh light of the United States Constitution and found that more than three-quarters of Clinton's spending proposals are, in fact, unconstitutional. But that fact won't stop the federal government. This week, let's take a look at the nation's so-called budget surplus.

Democrats and Republicans alike are saying our first goal with all of this new found wealth should be to shore up Social Security — that generational shell game of wealth redistribution that will result in some unlucky group of Americans crapping out in the middle of the next century. The workforce in America is currently being coerced out of 12.4 percent of its payroll to pay for Social Security. Isn't that enough? Why should our other tax dollars be going to a system that is obviously flawed in its initial design?

The budget surplus that we are now enjoying seems to stem from the fact that the nation as a whole is experiencing good economic times and unemployment is low. (This alleged prosperity seems to have skipped over Donley County, but I digress.) As long as Alan Greenspan controls the Federal Reserve, the economy may just keep clicking along. If something happens to Greenspan, things may not look so rosy.

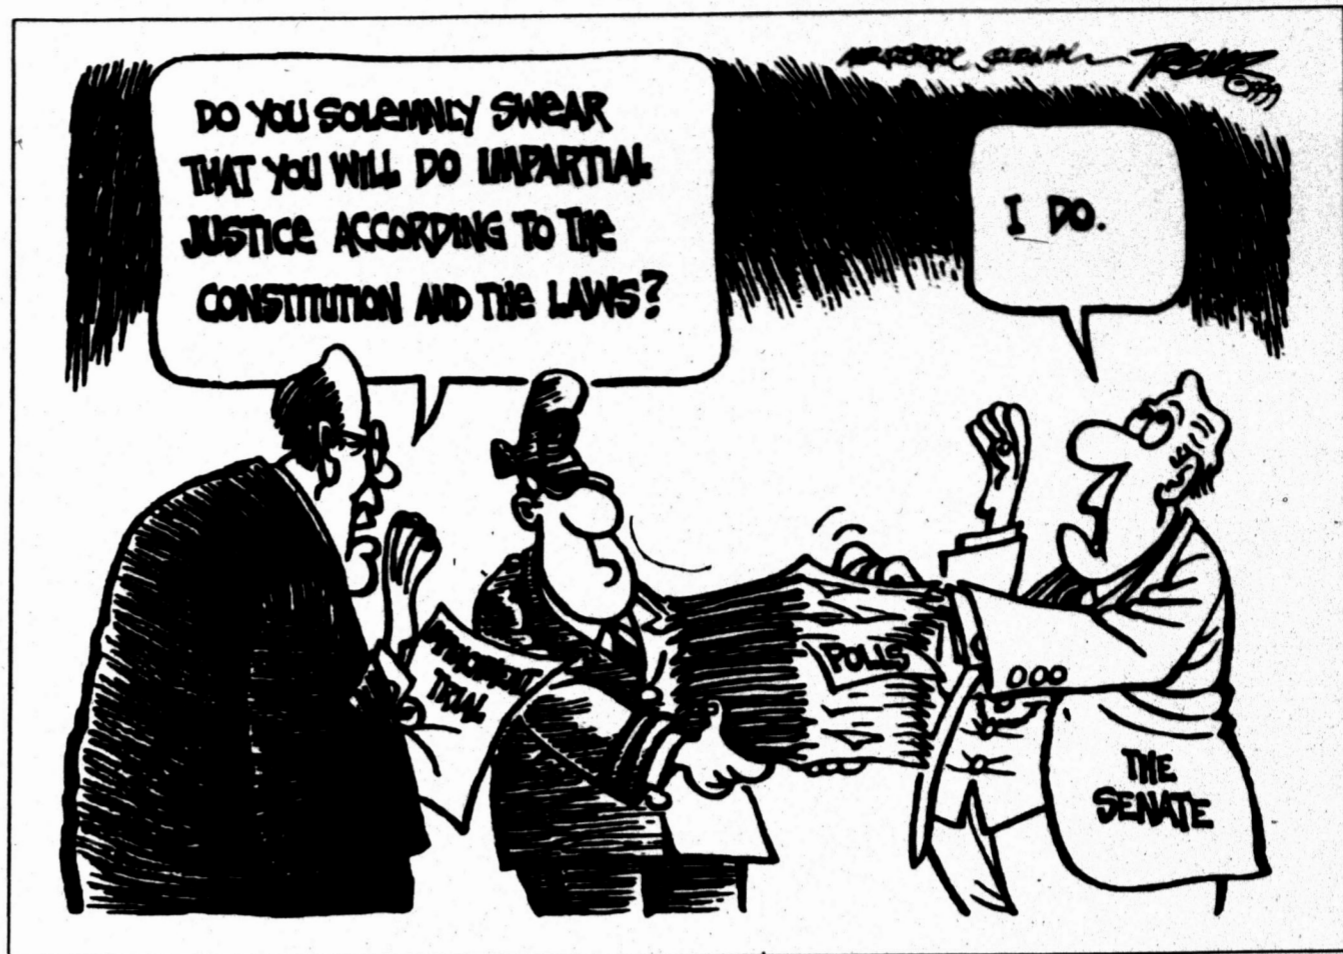

In the meantime, America should not rush out and go on a domestic spending spree with the people's money. Congress should use part of the surplus to give an across the board tax cut and the rest should be used to start paying down the national debt — which is up to about $5.6 trillion.

Paying down the debt would be the best gift America could give to future generations. It's a gift they would appreciate far more than the gift of passing down the problems of the Social Security system.

Billy Jeff Clinton was right when he said, "We have a rare opportunity that comes along only once in a blue moon to any group of Americans." But rather than expand the federal government's intrusion into our lives, this is an opportunity to pare down the size of the government, return money which rightfully belongs to the American people, and secure our country's future by paying off its debts.

Help Wanted: Domestic Technician

I just started a new job recently. I was under the impression that it would be a posh job. You know — one of those 'easy,' no-brainer kind of job. So, I traded in my business suits and briefcase for this new job. My big mistake was not asking for a full job description before I signed the contract.

On The Mark
with Christi Ross

After a week on the job, I figured out what my new line of employment consisted of. The job description reads like this:

Individual wanted for Domestic Technician position. This is a 12-month position, will be on-call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. No holidays, time off, or vacations. No benefits, retirement, profit sharing, or insurance.

Duties include but not limited to: cooking for household residents and stray cowboys, cleaning for resident male and infant girl who goes through an unbelievable amount of laundry, caring for sick residents, and an occasional animal or two.

Other duties include shopping for family without exceeding budget, dropping everything to go pickup a load of feed or to drive the feed pickup, ensure family gets to church on time, and to maintain family books, bills, records, and other correspondence.

The successful candidate will have a hand that fits a broom, mop, vacuum cleaner, shovel, etc. Must be able to complete above tasks while running on little or no sleep all while trying to manage a smile.

Dress code for this position is casual. Candidate may begin work in pajamas but must be able to sprint to bedroom and change as the UPS man, game warden, or Hi-Pro salesman drives up the driveway. This is a paid position. Payment will be in the form of baby smiles, and thank you's from resident male instead of cash.

If every stay-at-home mom would be required to read the above job description, there may be more women thinking twice about staying home.

I'll admit, I thought this new job would be a cakewalk. I was dreaming about days filled with naps, long soaks in the tub, exercise time, and the like. The reality is that the day starts at 5 a.m. because our little darling is a morning person, in every sense of the word! The rest of the day I'm scrambling to get everything done. By 11 p.m. or so, I look like a walking zombie. I've got pureed peas and carrots stuck in my hair, my toe is aching from walking into the baby's playstation, and my shirt is stained with baby formula that Kate thought she should share with me.

Ahh, the life. I wouldn't trade it for anything.

Walk Across Texas contest coming to Donley County

By Sue Church, County FCS Agent

If Hank Williams could walk across Texas for love, couldn't you and a group of friends walk across the Lone Star State for health?

Walk Across Texas is an eight-week program that will spark some friendly competition in Donley County. Teams of eight will compete to see who can log the most miles walking, jogging, or even biking. Teams will keep track of their miles, which will be posted in the Extension office and other places around the community. The kickoff for Donley County Walk Across Texas program will be held in conjunction with the annual Health and Wealth Fair at Clarendon College on March 25th at 6:00 p.m.

To participate in Walk Across Texas, first get a team together. Biking and jogging teams are limited to four people. Choose a team captain and name your team. To receive a registration packet for your team, contact the Donley County Agricultural Extension Office at the County Courthouse or call 874-2141.

Teams from churches, businesses, organizations, schools, classes, neighborhoods are encouraged to participate. Although walking with others provides an excellent opportunity for quality time, it is not necessary for team members to walk together. It will be the responsibility of each team member to turn in his or her miles walked to his/her team captain each week. The captain will report the total miles walked by his/her teammates for the past week.

The benefits are many. According to the American Heart Association, heart disease is the Number one problem in the United States. The risk of heart disease could be significantly reduced by regular exercise. Also, the Texas Department of Health reports that regular exercise not only relieves stress and anxiety but that physically active people have been found to outlive inactive individuals. Participating in Walk Across Texas is not only a great way to get involved with our community; it's a healthy habit.

Call today to get your team's registration packet for this fun event.

proportion to capital investment and job creation," Haywood said.

Because of the present infrastructure already in place in other states, trained workforce availability, burdensome regulations, financing difficulties, and a lack of economic incentives available for startup businesses, Haywood says it has been difficult to propose any programs. However, he continued, we are now in a position to offer incentives to tip the scale in the favor of Texas for location of further processing related businesses.

Make sure the 'rising tide' lifts all boats

John F. Kennedy once said that a rising tide lifts all boats. By that, he meant that if you put in place good economic policies, everyone in America would benefit — or be lifted up — as a result.

Issue Update
With Mac Thornberry

When you look at our economy today, however, you see that's not quite the case. While it's true that the budget is balanced and the stock market is over 9000, it's also true that a lot of people are facing tough times. In our area, energy and agriculture are coming off one of the worst years ever. Washington cannot stick its head in the sand while we lose our ability to produce our own food and fuel. It can help in a number of areas, including lowering taxes.

This week, for example, I plan to reintroduce a bill to repeal the inheritance tax. Few things provide more headaches for farmers, and few things stand more in the way of keeping a farm in the family. Yet the tax brings little revenue into the treasury, and in fact costs the government more to enforce than it takes in. It needs to end.

Another bill I plan to reintroduce this week would provide oil and gas producers with a tax credit for starting up inactive wells. Right now, it's unprofitable for them to do so. But there's still some oil down there, and giving them an incentive to bring it up could provide producers with a small, but important, boost.

President Kennedy was right. A rising tide does lift all boats, but only if the federal government doesn't hold people down — which is why tax relief for energy and agriculture is a good first step in strengthening those vital parts of our economy.

Beef industry launches push to move chuck, round

Assuming you can stop her long enough to talk, ask any working mother whether or not her family likes to eat beef. Chances are she'll say yes. Ask her what beef cuts she finds the easiest to prepare, and she'll probably answer ground beef and occasionally a steak. Ask her about the last time she fixed a roast, and you'll get a blank stare.

Those blank stares illustrate a problem the beef industry is finally able to solve. Using checkoff funds, cattlemen have been encouraging beef packers and processors to develop new heat-and-serve beef products using the chuck and round.

Now that those products are coming on line, a marketing program is underway to help consumers realize that beef dishes like mom used to make are available in their local grocery store and can be put on the table in less than 10 minutes. The marketing program combines checkoff funds with efforts from beef entrée manufacturers to conduct advertising, public relations, promotions, and partnerships with retail and foodservice outlets.

The new products also represent a major step for the beef industry, which has traditionally relied on retailers to market fresh beef cuts. In some cases, fresh beef cuts still easily meet consumer expectations for ease of preparation. But in other cases, they don't. Consumers, especially the younger ones, have decreased purchases of chuck and round cuts because they have little knowledge of how to cook those cuts and even less time to prepare them. As a result, consumers have gravitated to the old favorites of ground beef and steak-cuts they know how to prepare and how to prepare quickly.

Finding meals that can be prepared quickly is paramount in the minds of most working mothers. Seventy percent of American women are in the work force, and 70% of today's consumers spend 30 minutes or less preparing a meal at home. What's more, nearly two-thirds of dining decisions are made the same day and most of those decisions are made after 4:30 p.m.

It's no wonder, then, that steaks account for 17% of all in-home beef servings and one-third of all Americans have eaten some type of ground beef in the past 24 hours. Of those ground beef servings, burgers are by far the most popular. So, while steaks and ground beef sales continue to climb, cuts from the chuck and round have lost demand.

This has lowered the value for these cuts, making them good buys for consumers but a drain on beef producers since chuck and round represents more than 60% of a beef animal's red meat yield. In the past five years, the National Cattlemen's Beef Association estimates that the value of chuck and round cuts has declined 20%.

The new ready-to-heat beef products now available to consumers may change all that. Homestyle beef pot roasts, beef stew like mom used to make, quick-to-serve beef fajitas and succulent beef brisket offer consumers delicious meal solutions.

One of the advantages the new beef products offer is the fact that they are "branded" products—something the beef industry has long needed. Branded products have many different qualities to entice consumers that generic beef doesn't possess.

All these qualities are highlighted in a checkoff-funded ad campaign that alerts consumers to the availability of these new beef products.

Jr. High students go to work with 'job shadowing'

Students in Clarendon Junior High's business classes have been getting some hands-on work experience this past week.

Some of the students of Mrs. Sharon Elam have been going to local businesses as part of "job shadowing" by which students could spend a half-day at a business to observe and learn.

Mrs. Elam reports that our local businesses "were all very eager to let them come to their workplace for the half-day."

Chock Grady's interest was in law enforcement, and Jimmy Thompson allowed him to spend time at the Donley County Sheriff's Department. Tiffany Noble satisfied her curiosity about art by observing and asking questions during Ms. Shelley's art class at Clarendon College. Crystal Holman's interest is hair dressing, and she went to Guys & Dolls Salon courtesy of Brenda Chamberlain. Lindsey Howell went to the Clarendon Veterinary Hospital to observe and ask questions of Dr. Guy Ellis.

For more information about Clarendon Junior High's "job shadowing," call Sharon Elam at 874-3232.

Paul Goetz participated in the Southwestern Exposition & Livestock Show in Ft. Worth last Friday, January 22. He exhibited his heifer, Frisky, in the Junior Heifer Show. Paul's Hereford heifer placed 8th in a class of 18. Congratulations, Paul!

Kepley-Jeffers exchange wedding vows

Angela Mac Kepley of Groom and Jarrod Drew Jeffers of Clarendon were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on January 16, 1999, at the First Baptist Church in Groom. Rev. Byron Williamson of the First Baptist Church in Groom officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Loretta and Solomon Kepley of Groom. The groom is the son of Jamie and Larry Jeffers of Clarendon.

Gaylynn Clark, aunt of the groom, registered the couple's guests. Trae Kepley, brother of the bride and Aaron Jeffers, brother of the groom, served as ushers.

Performing music selections throughout the ceremony was Jana Williamson. She sang "Household of Faith," "How Beautiful" while the mothers and grandmothers were ushered in. "Parent's Prayer," and "This Day" was sung after the couple repeated their vows.

Maid of Honor was Jessica Kepley of Groom, sister of the bride. She wore a hunter green silk gown with a soft, large chiffon bow draping the back. Her bouquet was a ball of ivory and green roses with sheer ribbon hanging from the roses.

Best Man was Jeremy Mueller of Stephenville.

Bethany Williamson served as flower girl, and ring bearer was Jeremy Jeffers, brother of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father Solomon Kepley, the bride wore an antique ivory silk shantung gown featuring off the shoulder neckline with a Basque waistline, Alencon lace, and long fitted sleeves accented with pearls and sequins. Her chapel length train was accented with roses. The bouquet was a ball of white and burgundy roses with green eucalyptus intertwined and an off white sheer bow hanging from the roses. Her veil was a band of shimmering pearls and sequins crowned with lace netting and pearl drops.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore her mom's 5-star diamond ring as something borrowed, pearl drop earring and necklace as something new, a penny from her Aunt Ann and Uncle James Crum as something old, and her garter as something blue.

The church was decorated with two spiral candelabras on each side and a fan candelabra in the center which were decorated with intertwined greenery and ivory ribbon. The aisle candles were decorated with burgundy, ivory, and hunter green bows.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Groom. The bride's table was decorated with antique ivory cloth with gold accents. The cake was four separate cakes with burgundy and hunter green roses with basketweave décor. The groom's table was decorated with a golf theme with a golf ball cake. Titleist golf balls, and gold accents.

Serving the cake and punch were the bride's three aunts, Ann Crum from Burkburnett, Mini Grider from Dumas, and Pat Cripps from Sunray. At the groom's table the groom's aunt, Gaylynn Clark of Guthrie, Oklahoma, served cake. After a wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple will make their home in Amarillo.

The bride received her associate's degree from Clarendon College. She is currently employed at Joy School Daycare in Amarillo.

The groom is employed at Sitel Company in Amarillo.

Broncos stuff the Bucks

The CHS Broncos were looking for revenge and a good start to their second half of district play when they traveled to White Deer on Tuesday night. They came both.

The Broncos and the Bucks started off slowly offensively while their defenses were fired up in the first quarter. In the second quarter, both teams got their offense going. White Deer hit four three point shots in the second to go up 24-17 at the half.

Clarendon's defense was stifling in the second half. The Broncos held the Bucks to eight points in both the third and fourth quarters. White Deer never gave up and kept pushing the Broncos, but Clarendon held on by making crucial free throws in the final minutes. The Broncos won the game, 45-40.

Scoring for the Broncos were Travis Woodard, 10; Nathan Sears, 8; Sam Holton, 7; Josh Williams, 6; Junior Rodriguez, 6; Carey Thornberry, 4; Ben Wilson, 2; and Chris Linquist, 2.

Clarendon's second meeting with the Wellington Skyrocks on Friday night was much like the first. The two teams matched each other bucket for bucket through the second quarter. The Skyrocks were able to hit one extra free throw in the second quarter to go up by one at the half.

Clarendon stayed with Wellington in the third quarter despite getting into some foul trouble. But just as they did in their previous meeting, the Skyrocks lit up the floor in the fourth quarter.

Clarendon's frustration showed as they continued to foul and gave Wellington the opportunity to make free throws. The Skyrocks went 10 of 12 from the charity stripe in the final quarter enroute to their 38-57 win over the Broncos.

Scoring for the Broncos were Sam Holton, 8; Travis Woodard, 8; Nathan Sears, 6; Derek Shields, 5; Junior Rodriguez, 3; Carey Thornberry, 2; D. J. Edwards, 2; Ben Wilson, 2; and Josh Williams, 2.

The Broncos will play at home on Friday, February 5, at 8 p.m. against Quanah. Panhandle will host Clarendon on Tuesday, February 9, at 8 p.m. in the final district game of the season.

HJH girls undefeated

The Hedley Junior High Lady Owls basketball team continued their remarkable undefeated season last Monday with a big win over the Lefors Lady Pirates.

They took quick control of the game in the beginning and never gave the Lady Pirates a chance to catch back up. The final score was 64-19.

"We've had a real good season and have several good girls to work with," said Coach Kenneth Housden. "Our success is mainly in part to good defense and hustle. We looking forward to having a good weekend and hope to end the season undefeated."

Scoring for the Lady Owls were Lauren Hill, 17; Evange Ramirez, 9; Kasi Woodard, 8; Hailey Bennett, 8; Treva Rowland, 6; Rebekah Howard, 4; Brittney Bennett, 4; Julie Ramirez, 2; and Courtney Ellerbrook, 2.

The Lady Owls will wrap up the season by hosting the Hedley Booster Club Tournament this weekend. Other area teams competing in the tournament are McLean, Samnorwood, and Silverton. Games are scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 4, and Saturday, Feb. 6, with times to be announced.

Hedley Jr. High boys take control over Pirates

On Monday, January 25, the Hedley Junior High Owls hosted the Lefors Junior High Pirates.

Hedley got off to a slow start in the first quarter but broke out in the second with a 14-point scoring streak that put the Owls in the lead. Hedley led the rest of the game, beating Lefors, 31-25.

Scoring for the Owls were Tommy Wells, 13; Bradley Conatser, 6; Nick Clubb, 6; Lisle Rowland, 4; and Eleazar Centeno, 2.

The Owls will be hosting the Hedley Booster Club Tournament Thursday, Feb. 4, and Saturday, Feb. 6. Other teams competing will be McLean, Samnorwood, and Silverton. Game times will be announced.

College men drop two conference games

The Clarendon College Bulldogs played at home on Monday night against New Mexico Junior College. The Thunderbirds had their backs against the wall as they had only won one game in conference play.

The Bulldogs expected to continue their winning ways, but it was a nightmare first half for Clarendon. New Mexico JC seemed to make every basket they put up. And Clarendon could not get the ball in the hole or get their defense to stop the Thunderbirds.

New Mexico led at the half by a score of 12-37. The Bulldogs put in a better showing in the second half as they were able to get their offense rolling. The Clarendon defense also did a better job. The Bulldogs outscored the Thunderbirds 45-44 in the second half. But it was not enough as New Mexico earned their second conference win, 57-81.

Leading the scoring for the Bulldogs were Danny Anaya, 14; Charncy Ephriam, 13; and Nate Jones, 10.

"I think we just had a really bad night. We couldn't execute defensively or offensively in the first half. But in the second half we didn't quit. I think the guys showed a lot of character by not giving up," said Head Coach Joe Mondragon.

The Bulldogs traveled to Howard College on Thursday afternoon. The Hawks were 4-0 in conference play entering the ballgame.

Clarendon put up a good fight throughout the ball game and kept the score close until the final two minutes of the game. Howard shot two three point shots and shut down the Bulldogs defensively to pull away with a 61-79 victory over the Bulldogs.

Leading scorers for Clarendon were Nate Jones, 18; Danny Anaya, 16; and Charncy Ephriam, 8.

"Howard is by far the best team in the conference. They are an especially good defensive team. I was real proud of the guys for staying with them the way they did. Now we need to focus on the second half of conference. We really feel we let Frank Phillips slip up on us at home. So we'll be looking for some revenge when we go up there," said Coach Mondragon.

Clarendon will travel to Borger on Thursday, February 4, to start the second half of conference play against Frank Phillips College. Game time is scheduled for 7:50 p.m.

The Bulldogs will play at home against Odessa College on Monday, February 8, at 7:50 p.m.

Lady Bulldogs face Frank Phillips on Thursday

The Clarendon College Lady Bulldogs and the New Mexico Junior College Lady Thunderbirds were tied at 1-3 in conference play going into their Monday night matchup.

The Lady Bulldogs tried some new defensive sets to help their rebounding efforts. The new design worked as Clarendon held their opponent to 21 points in the first half. The Lady Bulldogs went into halftime up by four.

Clarendon played well in the second half, but going 15 for 28 from the free throw line proved to be the error that cost them the game. New Mexico JC won the game, 45-48.

Leading scorers for the Lady Bulldogs were Kirl Neptune, 12; Shayla Weatherly, 10; and Mahalia Simpson, 10.

"This was definitely a game we should have won.

We still had too many turnovers, and we should have done better at the free throw line. Our rebounding was better and so was our shot selection. I still feel we can be a competitive team if we can just keep our mental edge," said Head Coach Joel Zehr.

The Lady Bulldogs traveled to Howard Junior College on Thursday. The tough Lady Hawks were 4-1 in conference play and ranked 11th in the nation in NJCAA polls going into the ballgame.

Clarendon's 1-3-1 zone defense caused problems for Howard in the early minutes of the game. The Lady Bulldogs were only down eight with two minutes left in the first half. Some mental mistakes by Clarendon let the Lady Hawks go up by 15 at the halftime break.

Clarendon changed to a 1-2-2 defense which again frustrated the Lady Hawks in the first few minutes of the second half. The Lady Bulldogs were able to cut Howard's lead to 10, but another mental let down allowed the Lady Hawks to slip away. Howard won the game, 48-84.

Leading scorers for the Lady Bulldogs were Kirl Neptune, 20 pts., 8 rebounds; Roni Henderson, 9 pts., 9 rebounds; Korey Knorpp, 8; and Mahalia Simpson, 7.

"This was really a good game for us. Howard is tough to beat especially on their home court. We did some good things to cut their leads. We learned that we can't let down mentally when we're playing a good team like Howard," said Coach Zehr.

The Lady Bulldogs will start the second half of conference play in Borger on Thursday, February 4, against Frank Phillips at 5:50 p.m. Clarendon will host Odessa on Monday, February 8, at 5:50 p.m.

7th grade Colts overcome Highland Park, nip Quanah

The 7th grade Colts played well against Quanah on Monday night. The Colts' defense shut down the Indians early, and allowed them to have a 17-9 lead at halftime.

The Indians were not going down without a fight in the second half. Quanah tightened up their defense and got their offense to make a few more buckets. The Colts defense was able to hold the Indians in the final minutes to come away with a 28-26 victory.

Scoring for Clarendon were Dusty Martindale, 11; Justin Johnson, 6; Zach Howard, 6; Drew Sell, 2; Steven Wilson, 2; and Chris Fobbs, 1.

The Colts started off with the hot hand in their second meeting with Highland Park this season. The Colts defense also played well as they were up 19-10 at halftime.

The Colt team had a great third quarter scoring 14 points and holding the Hornets to just one. Highland Park made a small comeback in the final quarter, but the Colts stood firm for a 35-18 win over the Hornets.

Scoring for the Colts were Zach Howard, 15; Justin Johnson, 10; Dusty Martindale, 8; and Jeremy Howard, 2.

The Colts will face the Panhandle Panthers in Panhandle on Monday, February 8, at 5 p.m. This will be the final game of the season for the Colts.

JV Lady Broncos play Quanah Friday

The JV Lady Broncos played in White Deer on Tuesday night.

The first quarter was a good one for Clarendon as they went 5 for 6 from the free throw line and were up by two. In the second quarter, the Lady Broncos started having foul trouble and broke down offensively. The Does were up 7 at the half.

Clarendon played White Deer evenly in the second half as both teams scored 21 points. White Deer won the game, 42-35.

Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Jamee Sparks, 14; Jancy Aduddell, 13; Tamika Kimble-Hearn, 4; Lindy Helms, 3; and Jamie Sawyer, 1.

"We were outscored 14-5 in the second quarter with some key players in foul trouble. That was the only quarter that really hurt us. We've got to play the entire 32 minutes," said Coach John Tom Morrow.

Clarendon hosted the Wellington Lady Skyrocks on Friday night. The Lady Broncos had another good start but let down again in the second quarter. The Lady Rockets were up by one at the half.

Clarendon's third quarter play was better, but several missed free throws kept them from catching Wellington. The Ladies worked hard in the fourth to close in on Wellington. It was not enough though. Wellington won the game, 37-33.

Scoring for Clarendon were Jancy Aduddell, 13; Jamie Sawyer, 6; Elizabeth Simmons, 6; Jamee Sparks, 3; Danielle Holden, 2; Janiah Mondragon, 2; and Lindy Helms, 1.

"We got off to a good start, but again the second quarter killed us. Fouls are also hurting our performance. Wellington went to the line 25 times in the first half alone. It's hard to beat anybody when you give them that many free shots. The second half was much better defensively," said Coach Morrow.

The JV will host Quanah on Friday, February 5, at 5 p.m. The Lady Broncos will play at Panhandle on Tuesday, February 9, at 5 p.m.

JV Broncos beat Bucks and Rockets

The Clarendon Bronco JV team started off right against the Wellington Skyrockets on Friday night. The Broncos' defense was ready to play as they held Wellington to only two points in the first quarter. Clarendon's offense came alive in the second as they scored 19 and went into halftime up by 13. The Broncos continued to dominate throughout the second half. Clarendon went eight for nine from the free throw line in the second half. The Rockets missed several free throws which would have made the game close. The Broncos went on to win the game 60-36.

Scoring for the Broncos were Jeremy Ray, 18; G. J. Martindale, 12; Aaron Jeffers, 11; Zack Butts, 7; Antonio Wilson, 6; Nathan Floyd, 4; and Jared Lax 2. The Broncos official book that had the score from the White Deer game was left in an unknown place. We do know, however, that the Broncos won the game and that Zack Butts had 20 points. If the book is returned we will provide more details.

The Broncos will host the Quana Indians on Friday, February 5, at 5 p.m. Clarendon will travel to Panhandle for their final game of the season on Tuesday, February 9, at 5 p.m.

7th Lady Colts to host Panhandle

The 7th grade Lady Colt team got off to a slow start on Monday night, while the Quana Lady Indians were hot. The Lady Indians overpowered the Lady Colts in the first half by a score of 23-9.

Clarendon settled down in the second half and played Quana evenly in the third quarter. The Lady Colts started a comeback in the fourth quarter and outscored Quana 11-8. The good fourth quarter was not quite enough as the Lady Colts fell 38-39.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were Brittney Hall, 7; Beth Foster, 6; Lacey Eads, 6; Crystal Lawler, 3; Equilla Weatherston, 2; Lydia Hartman, 2; and Chrissy Martin, 2.

The Lady Colts will host Panhandle on Monday, February 8, at 5 p.m. for their final game of the season.

8th grade Lady Colts beat Quana

The 8th grade Lady Colt team had a little trouble with the Lady Indians of Quana in the early part of their ballgame on Monday night.

Both teams started off slowly offensively, and foul trouble also became a factor for the two teams early. Quana went into halftime with a three point lead.

The Lady Colts were more in control in the third quarter as they started to hit their free throws and played better defense. Clarendon held Quana to two points in the third and were up by four at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

The Lady Indians got frustrated and started fouling excessively. The Lady Colts capitalized on Quana's mistakes and came away with a 30-21 victory.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were May Butler, 14; Brandi Martindale, 6; Lacey Anderberg, 5; Brandi Betts, 2; Mandy McKinney, 1; Sarah Ray, 1; and Christine Holden, 1.

The Lady Colts will travel to Panhandle for their final game of the season on Monday, February 8, which will follow the 7th grade game.
