One of the first chores to face our new City Commissioners when they took the oath of office Monday morning of this week was a request to raise the natural gas rate. The two new commissioners are V. P. "Pete" Darnell and Lloyd McCord.

The City Gas Company asked for permission to raise customers rates 5.4c per 1000 cu. ft. Gas for the system here is furnished by Lone Star Gas Company and Lone Star notified City Gas that they will start billing them for gas on May 1, 1960, which is for April meter readings, at the rate fixed by the Railroad Commission which is 35.4 cents per MCF in the place of present rate of 30 cents or a raise of 5.4 cents per 1000 cu. ft.

City officials granted the request and the new rate will become effective with the May 1st billing which will cover the April readings. The increase to the average residential user would amount to slightly more than one cent per day, a company spokesman stated.

partment of Agriculture prepares a monthly list of plentiful foods, say food specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

What will be plentiful in April? Cranberry products head the list. Supplies of colorful cranberry sauce and juice are large enough to encourage wide use of this food all month, according to figures of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

That's a happy selection because cranberries go so well with all of the plentiful meats — pork, including ham for Easter broilers and fryers and shrimp. Other high protein plentiful foods are eggs, milk and dairy products and peanuts and peanut butter.

Canned blackberries, especially those from Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, also are plentiful in the Southwest. Other fruits in good supply include canned freestone peaches, raisins and fresh dates.

Carrots, rice, almonds, filberts and lard complete the April list for Texas.

These are the foods that pave the way for hearty springtime eating in the weeks ahead. The supply of each is expected to exceed normal demand.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE GAS BILL

A recent letter from a Member of Congress to President Eisenhower and the President's reply have caused much discussion in the oil and gas industry. The letter from the Congressman, in effect, asked the President what he intended to do about recommending legislation to free the gas producers in this country from utility-type regulation. The President answered that he strongly favored the elimination of public utility-type regulation of producers of natural gas. This all sounded very good and built up some high hopes among the oil and gas people. However, the President went on further to say that if those in control of Congress gave some indication that they would join in his effort, he would support the legislation. This meant, in effect, that he did not intend to send to the leaders of Congress a recommendation as to the type of gas legislation he would sign. The usual procedure has been for the President to send to the Congress a draft of a bill that he would like to have enacted into law. The Congress in turn considers the legislation. Such a recommendation by the President has a tremendous weight on all Members of Congress, especially those of the same political party as the President. It is the consensus of many here that the only way a gas bill can be passed this session would be for the President to send up to the Congress the type of bill that he would approve and recommend its passage.

We passed an excellent gas bill in 1956 which the President had said met with his approval. It did everything the President had said he was for and wanted. Many of the Members of Congress were following the lead of the President in voting for that gas bill. But, even with that help, the bill passed by a narrow margin of less than 10 votes in the House of Representatives. Without the help of the President at that time, it is very doubtful the bill would have passed. The reason is that many of the Members in the Congress do not come from oil and gas districts and do not fully understand the problem involved. Their districts are made up primarily of consumers of gas and, consequently, their vote for a gas bill can cause them much criticism, because their constituents have been misled as to the purpose of such a bill. The gas bill which passed in 1956 required a tremendous amount of work on the part of those of us Members who are familiar with the problem, and we felt sure that we had answered one bureaucratic problem. However, the President, to our utter dismay, vetoed the bill. By so doing, he completely pulled the rug out from under those Members of his own party who had followed his suggestions and recommendations. When he vetoed the bill he stated that it was a good bill, but that he was vetoing it because of some reported irregularities in outside activities while the bill was being considered by the Congress. In other words, he permitted an act of alleged corruption by some individual in the Nation's Capital to influence him into vetoing a bill which he had recommended and thereby punished every honest gas producer in this country, including a good number of small independent operators who have helped to build the economy of the Panhandle of Texas and our general area.

Because the rug was pulled out from under them as outlined above, many Members here feel that those Members who found themselves landing on their head after following the President's recommendations, will be somewhat suspicious unless the President sends the bill to the Congress setting forth his views on the subject and indicating that he does not intend to veto it.

I write this information because I want the people to know the truth and actual facts concerning these transactions. There is a lot more to this story, but I have written it as concisely as I could in order to keep within the confines of the space available.

A gas bill can pass the Congress this year if the President of the United States will send the bill to the Congress and request that it be enacted.

SMALL WORLD

The State of South Carolina has sent some illustrious sons to the National Congress, and they have written splendid records. But there is one in particular who has an especial tie to the 18th Congressional District of Texas. One of the counties in the Panhandle bears the name of the great uncle of this fine Representative. I have hopes of being able to bring him home with me sometime so that he can have a look at this fine county and have further reason to be proud of his great uncle. The Representative of whom I speak is Robert W. Hemphill of Chester, South Carolina. His great uncle was a Justice of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Texas and the First Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, and subsequently served as U.S. Senator from Texas. The county bearing his name is, of course, Hemphill County, the County Seat of which is Canadian.

BUNK CONCERNING FOOD

"At present more bunk is being peddled to the public concerning food than on any other subject."

That forthright charge came some time ago from a man who should know — Wallace F. Janssen of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. He made it in a talk before members of the American Dietetic Association.

He said: "Modern nutrition education needs to acquire a new dimension — emphasizing the ability to question and to recognize and reject what is false and unscientific. Teachers need to keep up-to-date on the latest dietary nonsense; to teach regarding what is not true, or is merely speculation, as well as what is true." He then dealt specifically with certain dangerous representations of foods as medical cures, such as carrot juice for leukemia, apple cider vinegar as a general cure-all, garlic pills for high and low blood pressure, lecithin for coronary disease, powdered grapefruit for diabetes, Vitamin E for muscular dystrophy, and royal bee jelly for sexual rejuvenation and as a cosmetic.

The vast majority of people, of all ages, need a balanced diet — the kind of diet that is obtained from the standard foods offered in every grocery. Above all, a substantial proportion of protein in the diet is essential to both physical and mental health — the kind of protein that is found in its most palatable form in good, honest meat.

There is, of course, a small minority of people who require special diets because of disease and deficiencies. But no such diet should ever be adopted except on the advice of a physician.

VEGETATION CONTROL CAN PRODUCE MORE RANGE FORAGE

"Reduction in output, which is not always apparent, is by far the greatest loss to the production phase of agriculture," says Dr. Wayne G. McCully of the Range and Forestry Department of Texas A&M. He said that injurious plants, such as shinnery oak, increase labor and may lower the quality of the marketed commodity.

Vegetation control is the establishment and maintenance of a particular kind of vegetation on a given area. Land managers have long used the practice of intensive cultivation with a planted crop as a means of vegetation control, he added.

The recent development of selective phytocides have furnished tools to use in vegetation control over large areas of non-cultivated range and timberlands. Aerial applicators are important in the development and use of these new tools in agriculture, he said.

Dr. McCully pointed out that the concept of vegetation control implies that some plants are more desirable than others in furnishing a monetary return to the farmer, rancher or forester. These undesirable plants have long been known as weeds or brush. Management programs have been directed toward minimizing or overcoming their effects on the production of desirable plants.

BLOWIN' OUT THE CORNERS

part of our day dreaming about a better tomorrow. For the sake of our security it is better to spend a big part of today working the rough spots out of the goals of yesterday.

Ed Lewis used this little poem: "When we talk about our troubles, Our troubles grow. When we talk about God, Our troubles go."

The worst part about our stirring up trouble is that we might have to settle it ourselves. This might be another version of the expression that: "Folks who live in glass houses should never throw stones."

Someone else has said: "Worry is the interest we pay when we borrow trouble." It is true that most of our worries are about things which never happen. By the same token, most of the things of a bad nature that happen to us come about because we failed to worry soon enough.

Another put it this way: "The trouble with the future is that its getting shorter all the time." Some folks worry about getting old. Actually, if we weren't getting older we wouldn't be getting anywhere at all.

The trouble about writing on the subject of trouble is that we have trouble finding a place to stop.

If the Speaker is ignorant of his subject before he tackles it; you can just about bet your bottom dollar that both he and his audience will still be befuddled when it is over.

A friend of mine was telling about a speaker whom he had heard recently. He gave his subject, read his text, and admitted that he knew nothing about it. For almost an hour he proceeded to try and prove his point; not his text, not his subject, but the fact that he knew nothing about it.

Not long ago we heard a speaker say that when he knew what he was going to say, that he could preach a sermon in 30 minutes, but when he didn't then it would most always take an hour.

Another preacher uses this little prayer often; Lord fill my mind with worthwhile stuff, And nudge me hard, when I've said enough.

It is not always the loudest sermon that is heard the best. A loaded truck makes less noise than an empty one.

A good speech is like a pie; we need two crusts. The introduction and then a good ending. Also, like a good pie, we need something juicy in between.

I always feel sorry for the speaker when he has trouble getting started, sorry for the audience when he has trouble getting stopped.

A Bargain is said to be something which you don't need at a price so cheap that you can't afford not to buy it. Of course there are sometimes real bargains to be had, and if we are fortunate enough to find one then well and good. But it does always pay us to take a good second look at anything that sounds too cheap. In other words as the old saying advised: "It's better to look a gift horse in the mouth."

One of the best policies to follow, and one that will almost never fail is to be sure that you know the one who is offering you the bargain. If he is a hometown well established business man then you are safe; except possibly for an isolated case. The person in the selling business in one place year after year has almost certainly got to treat you right.

One thing that sort of boils our blood is to hear that some person, usually an old couple with little money has been sold a good sounding but bad paying off hospital insurance policy. Feeling insecure they are so many times a perfect set-up for this type sharkster, which we think rates among the lowest forms of crooks. We talked to a person the other day who had taken out one of these fancy sounding policies. In fact, it sounded so good that he had dropped a good average one to take it. Pretty soon he had to go to the hospital and showed to have a more or less lingering type trouble. The company paid that bill but right off cancelled him out. In order to get back into his original company he had to be restricted on that ailment.

Know your salesman, take a good look at the bargains. Better still, let your favorite hospital look it over before you pay for it. Our Old Folks deserve the best.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

Was there ever before so much confusing news coming to us through our radio, TV, newspapers and magazines. We suppose it is to be expected in an election year. We have witnessed quite a few, but can't remember another one so befuddling as this one.

They keep telling us we will close ranks in case of an emergency or danger to our country and unite as one to fight off all enemies. Our policy (which is a good one) is never to fire the first shot. We don't believe our enemies will use that method, instead the battle is being fought with words.

Remember, long ago, the people got so interested in building a stairway to heaven for themselves, that they forgot everything else. So the Lord so fit to confuse their language and scatter them over the face of the earth. We wonder if our National Capitol has not become a modern tower of Babel, or if we will have to have a disaster in our country before we realize we are in danger and close ranks.

We have practiced mentally turning off commercials and other things we do not care to hear, it can become a dangerous habit, because there are lots of things we don't want to hear now days.

Like the ostrich, we have missed a lot, and it has not gone away by hiding my head in the sand. George thinks it's a great improvement if I'll just stay with it. He is always telling us things we do not remember afterwards.

Just yesterday he sent us to town with a list of chores to do for him while he plowed. We thought we had it all down in our head without jotting them down on the grocery list. We remembered all except the important one, the sweeps or chisels or something he had to change to, before starting back after lunch. We left a sink full of dirty dishes to rush back after them, so now our motto is: vigilance at all times.

Driving is not dancing, you should not cut in.

Every time is train time at a grade crossing.

CHEVY! YOU CAN'T BUY ANY CAR FOR LESS ...UNLESS IT'S A LOT LESS CAR!

Anyone who's looked around knows the majority of Chevrolet models—6's and V8's together—list for less than comparable models of other low-priced cars. But the price tag alone is only one of a whole raft of reasons a Chevy does better by your dollars.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you—at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering. Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. Crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet offers the widest choice of power teams, too. Drive a Chevy just once. You'll have a tough time settling for anything less.

TEA HONORS FUTURE AND RETIRED TEACHERS

Gamma Kappa Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society for Women Teachers met in the Homemaking Department of the high school Saturday, April 9th, at 2:00 p.m. with the Clarendon members as hostesses.

Senior girls who plan to be teachers and retired women teachers were guests of the chapter, and as each arrived she was presented with a flower corsage.

The President, Mrs. Weaver, gave a gracious welcome to and an introduction of the guests.

Miss Gladys Burnham read the prayer collect of the society.

The program for the afternoon was presented in the form of a panel-forum under the leadership of Mrs. Brunetta Morris and was entitled "The Key is in Your Pocket." Mrs. Morris was capably assisted by three other Memphis teachers, Mrs. Audra Tribble, Miss Alma Bruce, and Mrs. Annie Mae Foster who related some of their personal experiences as teachers, how they felt about teaching and the direct challenge that comes to a teacher. Cheerfulness, enthusiasm, as well as a thorough knowledge of the subject matter are essential elements for character moulding, and the opening of doors on tomorrow's world for the American youth.

The retired teachers present were Miss Mary Howren, Miss Elizabeth Stevens, Mrs. Mae Pruitt and Mrs. Mertie Headrick. When the number of years each had taught were totaled it reached the amazing figure of 181. It would be even more interesting to know how many students have sat in the classrooms and whose lives have been influenced by these four dedicated women teachers.

Miss Arlene Keys was the only senior girl to attend from Childress, however, Miss Keys was the recipient of the $50.00 grant-in-aid, an award given each year by Gamma Kappa Chapter to an outstanding senior girl who plans a teaching career. Mrs. Keys was present to see her daughter receive the award.

Other girls attending were Miss Rebecca King from Estelina; Misses VaRue Sweat, Linda Orr, Betty Jo Sanders, and Celia Anderson from Wellington; Misses Betty Parker, Sandra Pinkerton, Betsy Chamberlain, and Joan Wood from Clarendon.

After the program fruit punch, slices of angel food cake centered with chilled strawberries and topped with whipped cream were served from a beautifully arranged tea table. An epergne of colorful spring flowers formed the centerpiece. Imitation dolls made from small candy Easter eggs were given as favors.

The business session was held at the conclusion of the tea. Plans for the state convention which convenes in Fort Worth April 28, 29, and 30th were discussed. $7.50 was contributed for a money corsage to be worn by President Velma Weaver during the convention and later donated to the state scholarship fund.

Forty-two members and guests were present from Childress, Collingsworth, Hall and Donley Counties.

Clarendon members were Mesdames Velma Weaver, Faye Pinkerton, Velma Bourland, Charlotte Wood, Lucile Naylor, and Misses Mary Howren, Gladys Burnham and Edgar Mae Mongole. — Rep.

Mrs. Nettie Miller of Hedley visited Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Clyde Butler.

Purpose: To help members understand how the insecurity, crimes and lax moral standards of our society are being reflected in the behavior patterns of our young people, and to consider the responsibility of the local church and Christian adults in the prevention of some of these problems. Prayer by Mrs. Word concluded the program.

Teachers and auxiliary employees were almost 100% in attendance and all members of the board with the exception of newly elected board member, Gordon Simpson, were present.

Following the meal, a short program was presented under the direction of James Childers. Mrs. J. N. Weaver led the group in singing after which a short play, "The Girls of the Mop Brigade," was presented with a cast which included Jeannette Crutchfield, Judy Benson, Sally Groom and Irene Elam.

Five year teacher service pins were presented to Stina Cain, Tom Jinks, Mrs. Floy Barrow, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brown, Oliver Abel and W. W. Pinkerton. A 15-year pin was presented to John Gillham. Board members who received service pins included Bob Moss and A. R. Henson, who received five year pins, and Walter B. Knorpp, who received a 10-year pin.

The high school faculty presented Principal Kenneth Vaughan with a beautiful Mido wrist watch and the faculty of the entire system presented W. W. Pinkerton with a beautiful Hamilton wrist watch. Both watches were engraved with the words "In Appreciation — 1960 Faculty."

ALVIN LANDERS WE DELIVER W. E. RAY

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

Conservation Reserve Limits Crop Acreage

Every farmer who has cropland under a Conservation Reserve contract this year must be sure to comply with any acreage allotments on the farm and also to observe his permitted acreage of Soil Bank base crops, Mr. Cooke, Chairman of the Donley County ASC, said.

Generally speaking, Mr. Cooke said, the permitted acreage on a Soil Bank farm is the amount of land on which grains and row crops must be produced. It consists of the historical acreage of such crops less the amount of land placed in the Conservation Reserve. A farmer who exceeds this permitted acreage or any acreage allotment on the farm may lose his annual rental payment and also be subject to a civil penalty.

When all eligible cropland on a farm is in the Soil Bank, the permitted acreage is zero, the ASC official said. The home garden area on such a farm may be used to produce crops for home use, or for non-agricultural purposes, but production of a Soil Bank base crop on such land is a contract violation. The products on a home garden may be sold, according to the Conservation Reserve regulations.

Notice To Farmers Of Donley County

W. H. Cooke, III, Chairman of the Donley County ASC, said due to new regulation concerning the issuing of cotton that we have to be given back to you, wishes to handle the allotment like we did last year, on an equal basis; but this year we must have your signature asking for it. So, please come in and sign up, and if you know of anybody that has an allotment and isn't going to plant it, please tell us so that we might be able to get it released for reappportionment. We are losing considerable acreage each year, and it will never be returned to Donley County.

Remember, you have until April 22nd to sign a form asking for more cotton acreage. April 22nd, is, also, the last date you may release cotton acreage to the County Committee for reappportionment.

A Very Important Change

A very important change has been made concerning "plow-up" of excess acres. Read this carefully:

"Adjustment credit shall be given only for areas of regular shape with not more than four sides. One side or one end of the disposition area shall be parallel with the rows or field boundary when row crops are destroyed in a square, rectangular or trapezoidal pattern. The restrictions may be disregarded when the crop in the entire field or subdivision is destroyed in disposing of the excess acreage."

Under the new regulations then, blow-out or washed-out spots of cotton destroyed will have to be squared up before they can be measured out. Eight rows half-way through the field and another eight all the way through would count as two plots. A turn-row plowed up all the way around a quarter section would count as four plots.

RETURNS HOME TUESDAY

Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Lena Antrobus was able to be returned home Tuesday. Mrs. Antrobus became ill while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Tren Stargel, in Oklahoma City several weeks ago. She is improving and was able to celebrate her 93rd birthday Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. H. B. Ickert of Lancaster, Calif., is visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Helton.

Earl Butler and family of Borger visited Sunday afternoon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butler.

CUB SCOUT PACK MEETING APRIL 21

The Cub Scouts of Pack No. 37 wish to invite their parents and friends to the monthly pack meeting Thursday night, April 21, at 7:30 in the First Christian Church.

The program for the evening will be KGNC Farm & Ranch department and the American National Bank film "An Arctic Adventure." The projector will be furnished by the Donley County Soil Conservation office.

There will be an award ceremony and projects the boys have made on the Great Lakes will be exhibited. The dens will be competing for the attendance award which has been won by Dens 2 and 4.

JOINS AMERICAN HERFORD ASSOCIATION

Kansas City, Mo., April 5 — (Special) — John C. Knorpp, Clarendon, Texas, today was named to membership in the American Hereford Association, the world's largest purebred registry organization, with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

One hundred and seventy two Hereford breeders were placed on the Association's official roster during February. The Association maintains active accounts for more than 80,000 breeders of registered Herefords over the nation.

The Hereford Association during the last fiscal year recorded 487,883 purebred calves. The year's total recordings were the sixth highest on record, and twice the combined registrations of other major beef breeds.

SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY BENEFITS

In order to receive social security disability benefits, only those are eligible who have a permanent disability — that is a disability which is so severe that it prevents doing any substantial gainful work.

Hal Geldon, District Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office emphasized, "The disability which the claimant has must be a condition which is expected to last indefinitely and one which will not likely improve with time or medical treatment."

Many people believe that the social security disability payment is a "stop-gap" income on which they can depend until they are well enough to return to work. Geldon stressed that such a provision is not a part of the social security law.

"Rather," he said, "social security benefits are intended to provide some relief from loss of income due to a permanent disability." If the disabling condition will improve with time; or with medical treatment; or if the claimant can work at a job that is less demanding than his usual work, he will not be considered to be disabled under the social security law, and should not count on receiving disability benefits.

FACT AND OPINION

Versailles, Ky., Sun: "In our book, the heroes of the day are those anonymous doctors out in California who succeeded in putting back the leg of a young foundry worker after it had been chewed off by a crane.

"This, we think, is progress. We would be far more proud to have had ever so slight a hand in this victory than to have controlled the lunik camera that (they say) shot the back of the moon."

DANGERS IN THE HOME

An editorial in a release from The American Medical Association observes that "... a new look at safety in the home is certainly indicated."

On top of the long-standing home hazards, many new ones have appeared. Detergents, chemical cleansers and weed killers, all potential poisoners, are cited among the examples. So is do-it-yourself equipment, particularly power tools, which create dangers in the hands of the unskillful.

The need, says the editorial, "... is the alerting of an indifferent public without creating needless panic and unwarranted fears."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beach of Loveland, Colo., visited relatives and friends here several days last week returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Mann and Camille and Mrs. J. D. Wood spent the week end in Lubbock where they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wood.

YEAR'S FEED GRAIN SITUATION ANALYZED

College Station — The total supply of feed grains and other concentrates for 1959-60, (October 1, 1959-September 30, 1960), has increased to a record high of 265 million tons, seven percent larger than in 1958-59 and more than a third larger than the 1953-57 average.

Supplies have set new records for each of the past six years, according to John McHaney, extension economist. The supply this year (1959-60) will total about 18 million tons more than last year, making the seventh year of steadily increasing supplies. A major reason for the increase was the 1959 record feed crop of nearly 10 million tons larger than the 1958 crop and 38 million tons larger than the 1953-57 average. The increased yields per acre also added to the supply.

Oats supply is expected to be 1,459 million bushels, 17 percent below that of last year and the smallest supply since 1947. Barley is expected to total 622 million bushels, he said, down five percent from last year, but a fourth larger than the 1953-57 average. The record high corn crop of 1959 is expected to increase corn supplies to a record six billion bushels, 37 percent above the 1953-57 average.

The total supply of sorghum grain for 1959-60 is estimated at about 1,074 million bushels, 16 percent above last year and more than three times the 1953-57 average. The 1959 crop of 573 million bushels was 7 percent smaller than that of 1958, but more than double the 1953-57 average. McHaney said total utilization is expected to be substantially larger in 1959-60 than the 423 million bushels used domestically and exported in 1958-59.

Feed grain prices are expected to average a little lower in 1959-60 due to the record 1959 crop and the large supplies. Expected lower livestock prices in 1960 and lower supports, especially for sorghum grain, will have a tendency to cause feed grain prices to be lower.

McHaney added that a further increase in feed grain utilization is expected because livestock numbers continue to increase, causing heavy feeding of grain and other concentrates. However, total utilization has not kept pace with production and supplies continue to mount.
