Clarendon Ready for Celebration Crowd

Disaster Relief Team To Be Here Friday To Survey Recent Damage

Mayor H. T. Burton received a telegram Friday from James H. Garner, Co-ordinator - Defense & Disaster Relief, stating that a preliminary damage survey team composed of Mr. Arnold Thomas, Bureau of Public Roads, Mr. Wheatley, A.C.P.M., and state district highway engineer, Palmer Massey would be in Clarendon on Friday, July 1st to meet with the City Commission in regard to the recent request for federal assistance under Public Law 875. This request is in connection with the dams that were washed out and damage south of town some two weeks ago. It appears that Mayor Burton's trip to Austin got the ball to rolling and some definite indication whether help will be forthcoming will emerge in the near future after this survey is made.

Clarendon Merchants To Close July 4th

It is our understanding that all merchants will close all business houses in Clarendon July 4th. Excepted will be some of the cafes and service stations. Businessmen agreed to close four holidays out of the year and July 4th was one of the four. Plan to do ample shopping on Saturday so you will have sufficient supplies to last through Monday. The majority of businessmen and other residents will not be taking a vacation that day but have one or more jobs to perform to make the celebration a big success.

Mayor And Sheriff Issue Annual Celebration Warning

Mayor H. T. Burton and Sheriff Truett Behrens issued their usual warning in regard to the celebration to be held here the last of the week and are urging the full cooperation of everyone present to make this an enjoyable occasion with no mishaps. Streets will be congested and more time should be allowed to reach your destination. If you plan to drink, please use moderation and don't get on the streets or highways in your car. Behrens pointed out. The innocent might be injured due to your carelessness.

Both Burton and Behrens are again reminding parents and youngsters in regard to the shooting of fireworks within the city limits. If you want to shoot fireworks take them to the country and do not endanger others. The state law in regard to fireworks carries a very heavy fine and punishment for shooting fireworks from a car or near a vehicle of any sort. We will be compelled to enforce these laws regarding fireworks so we are hoping to receive one hundred percent cooperation, added Sheriff Behrens.

We are looking forward to a comparative peaceful celebration this year and hope, for the good of everyone concerned, that everything goes well, was the Sheriff's final comment.

Legion Dances All Three Nights Of Celebration

The local Legion Post is sponsoring dances all three nights of the celebration, Friday, Saturday and Monday nights. The dances will begin at 9 o'clock. Price of admission will be $1 per person. On Saturday and Monday afternoons they will feature Teen-Age dances from 5 to 7 p.m. with the admission charge of 50c per person. Emmett Allen and his Sunset Ramblers will furnish the music for each of the dances mentioned above. Everyone get ready for a big time.

Damage High In Wind Storm Here June 22nd

A freakish rain, hail and windstorm that hit this area late Wednesday afternoon of last week left a path of destruction that amounted into the thousands of dollars but no severe damage was reported. Here in town, the most single damage was to the Shamburger Lumber Co. where the wind ripped-out a good portion of the north and northwest lumber sheds between 75 and 100 TV antennas were toppled or damaged and a number of telegraph poles at the Wort Worth and Denver depot were blown over. Considerable roof damage was reported along with many trees being broken up. The main force of the wind was in the east part of town. Many small outbuildings were blown over or destroyed in the Clarendon-Lelia Lake area. A near two inch deluge of rain and hail damaged crops in the immediate Clarendon area and to the west. Many farmers are planting over for the fifth and sixth time. Up until the present time, the official weather observer reports (See DAMAGE on Page 8.)

Uncle Zeb To Speak To Old Settlers Here July 4th

Ernest Kent stated yesterday that everything was in tip-top shape to show the Old Timers a good time here the morning of July 4th when this group gathers at the Mulkey Theatre. Registration is slated to begin at 9 a.m. the morning of July 4th.

Carl "Uncle Zeb" Wood of Claude who writes the column "Plowin' Out the Corners" in the Leader each week, will address the group at 10 a.m. and there will be plenty of visiting and reminiscing. Prizes will be awarded to the oldest individual present, the one who has traveled the greatest distance, and the one having the largest family.

Arrangements have been made to feed those who register in a group. The northeast table on the courthouse lawn will be used for this purpose at the noon hour and Odos Caraway will be in charge of seeing that the Old Timers are fed without undue interruption.

LEADER CLASSIFIEDS GET RESULTS

Local patrons and taxpayers of the Clarendon Independent School District are viewing the upcoming Bond Election July 9th with much enthusiasm as a majority vote would mean the construction of a new school building which would accommodate all students from the first grade through senior high.

Bond Issue And Prospects Of New School Buildings (An Editorial)

If the issue carries, and it certainly should, it will mean that Clarendon and this school district will have their first new school buildings in over 40 years. In actuality, it seems that local residents have been content with inadequate facilities for too long a time. A community that waits as long as we have to make a progressive movement in our schools is certainly not in line for a compliment. We have been able to say that we have exceptionally low taxes here compared with other towns and cities, but we certainly could not brag about being able to offer a first class school system that had been kept up to date for our children. Present plans are for the building to be constructed to the west of the present administration building and will accommodate all grades with ample playground. In order to have new school buildings it will be necessary to increase our taxes. We should not consider this as an additional expense. We should consider it as an investment in our youth by providing them with one of the most important things in life, "adequate educational facilities." Without good schools, our town and our community would be a flop. We that have already educated our children should take the lead in seeing that other youngsters have the best facilities possible. Persons eligible to vote in this election are all those who have taxable property, personal or real, and have rendered same and also have their poll tax receipts and are residents of this school district. If you plan to be away July 9th, be sure to vote an absentee ballot before you leave. You can vote absentee up until three days prior to the election.

This Is Your Annual Celebration Edition

Clarendon business firms are extending a warm and hearty welcome to one and all to come to the Rimrock Roundup and celebration, as evidenced by the large number of ads in this issue of the Leader. Turn through your paper and read all the words of welcome from your local merchants and make plans to be present for each and every event during the three day gathering.

As always, it has been a pleasure to print this larger issue of the Leader. We especially want to thank the merchants for turning in their ad copy early. Without their cooperation, we would have been unable to bring you these extra pages.

We hope this will be the biggest and best celebration ever held for each and every one of you. Since local business firms will be closed on Monday, there is a possibility that your Leader may reach you a day late next week. We will do our best to have the Leader out on time but should you not receive it at the usual time, you will know we could not get all the type set and press runs made in such a short time.

and the Donley County State Bank and the Farmers State Bank. You can see these on display in the window at Greene Dry Goods Co.

A parade will be held at 1 p.m. July 4th. Entries will assemble north of the Donley Hotel and are asked to be on the lot by 12:30. Old Timers will register at the Mulkey Theatre Monday morning, July 4th, at 9 a.m. Carl "Uncle Zeb" Wood of Claude will address the group at 10 o'clock.

The big rush will come at 11:30 when the free barbecue will be served at the court house lawn to all visitors. Some 7 or 8 thousand visitors are expected to be on hand to enjoy the fine barbecue that will be prepared by Flip Breedlove and his crew and J. B. Melton and his fruit and bean crew. All servers are requested to be in their stands by 11 o'clock sharp so everything can be set up for the serving.

Beef for the barbecue has been donated by local ranchers and individuals and local merchants have donated money for the trimmings.

The Old Fiddlers Contest will be held the afternoon of July 4th in front of the Legion Hall.

Dances will be sponsored nightly by the American Legion and will be held at the Legion Hall.

We have been informed that KFDA-TV will carry spot announcements on the celebration the remainder of the week and the group that went to Amarillo last Saturday to appear on KGNC TV put on one of the best shows yet to advertise our celebration.

Kenneth Vaughan announced that the Kids Event at the Rodeo this year would be in the form of a Calf Scramble with three $3 prizes given each show. The high school band, under the direction of Willard Edgett, will take part in the parade and will also perform at each rodeo performance.

ORBITING HOT DOGS
Someone has figured out that the frankfurters Americans consume each year could reach the moon and back and circle the world five times. On picnic, baseball and cook-out days, it's small wonder the orbiting hot dogs don't block the sun's rays.

Ever since the sandwich appeared on the scene, its taste and convenience have made it an all-America favorite. This year, for example, the average American will consume about six pounds of the popular frank, the American Meat Institute estimates.

Legend has it that a sausage peddler at the 1883 St. Louis Fair created the wiener sandwich. He had been handing his customers white gloves to protect them from the juicy meat until the gloves and his profits began to disappear. When he wrapped a bun around the sausage, a national institution was born.

Franks are good eating and good for you, too. For protein, B vitamins and digestibility, franks are in the same class with the noblest steak. For instance, one frankfurter 5½ inches by 3-4 inches in diameter contains 4.5 grams of protein, appreciable quantities of vitamins of the B group, iron and a modest 146 calories.

What could be more versatile than the friendly frank? It's equally at home at the ballpark, a beach outing, the backyard patio, a picnic and a queen's lawn party. And they're easy on the budget. It's easy to see why the frank's popularity is unswerving.

Careless drivers should become car-less pedestrians.

Work like sixty in '60 and you won't have to work like sixty after you're 60.

COTTON IRRIGATION METHODS UNDER STUDY

Research in cotton irrigation and fertilizer levels is underway for the third year at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. The number of irrigation methods under study have been increased from six to nine for 1960.

These methods include application of water compared to dryland cotton with water applied by the following methods: (1) preplant only; (2) preplant plus first bloom and mid-bloom; (3) preplant plus first square and peak bloom; (4) preplant plus first bloom and peak bloom; (5) preplant plus peak bloom; (6) preplant plus first bloom, mid-bloom and August 20; (7) preplant, first square, first bloom, and peak bloom; (8) preplant plus whenever soil moisture content drops to 50% as determined by moisture blocks; and (9) preplant plus first square, first bloom, peak bloom, and August 20. All irrigation methods are being metered, and moisture blocks will determine soil moisture during the growing season.

The September watering test has been discontinued, since this late irrigation has been found to reduce both quality and yield of cotton.

Fertilizer applications have been and will be made in the following proportions: 40-80-0, 80-80-0, and 120-80-0. These will be compared with results from no fertilizer applied.

Gregg, Lankart 75, and Blight-master cotton varieties will be used in this test.

The most profitable irrigation application in 1958 was preplant, mid-bloom, and August 20; and in 1959, the preplant and peak bloom application.

Conducting this test are Shelby Newman of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station No. 8, Lubbock, and James Valliant, assistant water engineer, of the Foundation.

With school out and the summer holidays here, the number of persons enjoying the great outdoors is increasing tremendously.

Week-end driving is especially hazardous. Add to the ever-present dangers of highway accidents a big holiday week end, such as the upcoming Fourth of July vacation period, and you have an especially dangerous time for the motorist.

July Fourth, this year, falls on Monday.

That means Saturday, Sunday and Monday traffic will be heavy, very heavy. In fact, the greatest traffic load of the year - any year - is the July 4th week end. And this one this year has an extra day!

That means you've got to be careful!

You must observe the speed warnings as well as all other safety traffic signs. These signs are placed on the highway as a warning for you... not to you.

However, there will be patrolmen on every highway and in the greatest numbers ever, come July 2-3-4.

So, be careful and play it safe. It's your life, as well as the lives of others, that's at stake. Your property and their property too.

So don't let even one tiny black mark appear on your insurance record. That can prove costly too, you know.

Not more than two out of 10 outdoorsmen know that a motorist can be arrested if he drives more than 45 mph while pulling a boat.

Did you know that? Well, it will pay you to remember it - and especially so during the July 4th week end.

A jackknifing trailer can do tremendous damage... to property and to people. So if you're trailering a boat, be sure that the trailer is well hitched. See that a safety chain is attached from pared to a 14 per cent fatality rate for boating accidents.

The dangers of water are hidden ones. They develop suddenly and unexpectedly, and without any warning.

On the highways you often can see an accident coming. On the waterways an accident develops instantaneously. It can be caused by lighting a match, by a carelessly thrown cigarette, a safety belt that didn't hold, a ski that broke, a barrel that sank, a floating mattress or innertube that lost its air.

There are hundreds of different ways. Nearly all are due to carelessness. Some are from stupidity - like trying to carry eight passengers in a five passenger boat. Some are from pranksters who just must have their fun. But - ninety eight per cent of the accidents on our waterways could have been prevented - if the persons involved had been safety conscious.

Policing for safety in equipment is one thing. But policing the individual is equally important - and more difficult.

Take water skiing for example. There are more skiers this year than ever before. I've seen men, women and children, from 6 to 60 trying to ski - and most of them doing it, too. Truly, it's becoming more and more popular as a family sport.

There is one dark blot on the enjoyment of water skiing, however. I refer to accidents. The distressing thing about it is that none of them are necessary. They seldom happen to the beginning skier. He or she usually is cautious and follows instructions to the letter, while trying to learn the sport.

Usually the man who gets hurt is the good skier. The man who thinks he is so good that he doesn't need to take even the normal precautions.

He's the guy who will go out without a life vest or belt-type preserver - and never come back alive.

He's the guy who will ski close to tree stumps and docks and other boats... and motors.

He's the guy who isn't with us any more. But as Barnum once said - there's one born every minute.

Before this we gave one or two of our favorite incidents growing out of the rainy and stormy weather. Later we heard of another that takes the all-time record in our books. We include it here for two reasons; first it is a clever story, and it also brings out an important point just at this time.

It seemed that our good friends the Pat Bagwells were a bit disturbed about a dark cloud that kept threatening to come up out of the west. As night approached Father Pat remarked that they might all have to head for the cellar during the night. In a few minutes Daughter Susan appeared from the bedroom with this statement:

"If we have to go I am ready. Here are my most valuable belongings."

On unwrapping the package Mother Dorothy found the following items; one Bible, a copy of Along the Trails in Red River with Uncle Zeb, one doll named Pitiful Pearl, one doll named In her newest dress-up dress. Bless your sweet little heart Honey, we love you so much for this episode.

Speaking of Red River, we will never forget the time we ate with the 4-H Club boys of Armstrong and Donley Counties along with Foster Whaley and Flip Breedlove as they feasted on some of Flip's delicious cooking. That was the year we took a liking to that part of the country. We understand that some 148 folks from Armstrong County, including the 4-H Clubs will be there again this year around the first part of August. Everyone of them will need a copy of Along the Trails just in case a storm comes up, or something. Hope we can be there then. By the way, Son Larry Bagwell has his own personal copy of Along the Trails, too.

PAYOLA

The House Commerce Committee, after months of sifting through some disheartening abuses in the radio-television industry has reported legislation designed to eliminate payola, rigged programs, and so forth. Although the Committee's proposed amendments to the Communications Act provide fines and jail terms for those who accept payola or participate in rigged programs, the legislation does not include provisions for the licensing of national networks. This, in my mind, is fortunate, for I do not believe that federal control necessarily needs to be further extended in this area. But I do feel that the radio and television media need to be provided with a clearer outline of their responsibilities to the people, and there is reason to believe that the proposed amendments will be of some help in this regard. Broadcasting stations are public utilities, similar to a bus line or a telephone company. These utilities are expected to make a fair profit, but not at the expense of the general good of everyone. For example, you expect the electric power companies to provide alternating current, upon which almost all American equipment operates. It would be an abuse for such a power company to begin producing direct current when no other electricity is available. And it would be a deception for a company to deliver direct current when the people expect alternating current. This, in essence, is what had occurred in a part of the radio-television industry. As these media mature, I believe their role in our society will become sharper and more generally understood. And I think the Congress can help by sketching — not the exact steps — but at least the general direction which should be taken.

THE ASIAN TRIP

The Japanese government has withdrawn an invitation asking the President to visit there this week. This news, of course, followed several weeks of rioting and demonstrations perpetrated by left-wing elements opposed to the bilateral defense treaty and the pro-Western policy followed by the Kishi government. Whatever the motive or impetus, it is all too clear that unrest in Japan generally and repudiation of the treaty specifically would be advantageous to the Kremlin. But it would not only be an advantage for world communism. A failure of the treaty or mob rule in the Japanese Islands would be a positive disadvantage to United States foreign policy. Our position in Asia, and the position of the free world, is precarious at best. The stark, grim, and fanatical figure of Red China casts its greedy eye across that vast crescent running from China to India, and it would be foolish to suppose that Japan has escaped communist dreams of control in the area.

It might be totally unnecessary for our President to subject himself to a Tokyo street mob in the first place if whoever has control of our foreign policy moves to regain the initiative from communist maneuvering. We can only hope that it is not too late, for the free world's entire defense perimeter is in danger enough without the prospect of a Japanese setback.

WASHINGTON VOTE

A proposed constitutional amendment permitting people in the District of Columbia to vote for President and Vice President has passed the House of Representatives. The measure now proceeds to the Senate, and if approved there must then be accepted by three-fourths of the state legislatures. This proposal has a connection with home rule measures, in that it is a foot in the door. Established as the seat of our federal government, the district is Constitutionally prevented from participation in the selection of a Chief Executive. The Chief Executive is supposed to be elected by the several States. The District of Columbia is the Federal District, not a State.

ADJOURNMENT

As the Congress pushes toward adjournment before the national nominating conventions get underway next month, the usual fears are voiced that a number of things may be left undone. Since there are so many curious fixations about "getting things done," the drive to adjournment is always a harrowing time. So-called "must" legislation, much of it designed to further the influence of the federal government in many areas, is pressed with a frenzy of activity. Those of us who are not so certain that this giveaway or that program is really a "must" always are a little more wary than ever at this time. And there is no indication that the situation will be any different as the deadline date draws nearer.

Franklin, Ind., Republican: "When knowledgeable statesmen tell us these days that people all over the globe are rising for freedom and independence, they do not, of course, mean those hundreds of millions within the Communist orbit."

FORMER RESIDENT KILLED IN MONTANA
Lawlas "Shorty" Robinson, a former Clarendon resident and a brother of Mrs. R. C. Hill, was burned to death in a gasoline accident near Cutbank, Montana, Sunday. Full particulars of the tragedy have not been learned. The body will arrive in Amarillo Thursday night. Funeral services will be held Friday at 9 a.m. at Griggs Chapel with burial in Citizens Cemetery here in Clarendon. Mr. Robinson was 48 years of age and lived here during 1944 and 1945. He is survived by three brothers and a sister in addition to Mrs. Hill of Clarendon. Mrs. H. R. Hensley has returned home after spending the past three weeks with her mother, Mrs. R. N. Lancaster, at Lamesa. Mrs. Lancaster has been ill.

Rev. C. C. Carman Is New Vicar Of Episcopal Church Here

The Rev. Charles C. Carman will come to Clarendon July 1 as vicar of St. John Baptist Episcopal Church and will conduct his first service here Sunday, July 3, at 11 a.m.

The new minister will serve the Clarendon and Shamrock missions, said William S. Greene, warden. He and his wife will reside here.

The Rev. Carman was ordained this month at St. Stephen's Cathedral in Portland, Oregon, where his father is Bishop. This followed his graduation from the Church of Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, California.

Before beginning his study for the ministry he served in the Navy during the Korean war. Later he returned to Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon, where he was graduated in 1957 with a degree in philosophy and English.

The new vicar is a native of Denver, Colorado. He lived in Colorado, Pennsylvania and Maryland before moving with his family to Phoenix, Arizona, where they spent ten years.

Mrs. Carman was born in North Carolina and lived with her family in Virginia. She resided in Texas from 1954 to 1957, when she was librarian for Chance Vaught Aircraft in Dallas, before completing her college education in Richmond. She has had special training in Episcopal church work at St. Margaret's House in Richmond.

The Rev. Carman fills a vacancy of six years in Clarendon and Shamrock churches. Services have been held regularly during this time by lay readers and Episcopal clergy from Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Estlack and Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson and Marcy of Canyon visited in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Whitlock and Larry, in Amarillo Sunday evening. Other visitors in the Whitlock home were Mrs. Faye Scoggins and Mrs. Mattie Tyree of Phoenix, Arizona.

A Common Paper for Common People

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
By Uncle Zeb

Since the recent rains one can't be sure whether we are looking at a Panhandle mirage or a real live down to earth lake right in the middle of the road.

The best chuckle we got over the stories of weather incidents during the recent wet spell was about the family that was trying to get into the cellar. About half way down the steps the wife broke and ran back for the house shouting; "Oh my goodness, I forgot to bring my trading stamps."

We were visiting with our brother-in-law recently. This is the one who is minus his appendix. Anyhow, a little four year old neighbor girl came over and proceeded to talk he way into our heart, which isn't had for any girl about this age to do. She was quite a talker and when the conversation reached a standstill she came up with the following.

"You know what, my mother raised me."

The only answer we could think of was; "You don't say."

Years later, if folks seem to doubt our stories about the dry weather in the Panhandle, we can likely get their attention by telling them about the rains of June, 1960.

Cotton John described one of the gully washers as a "Frog-strangler." One week later the temperature zoomed to 101 and someone called it a "Lizard scircher." We never thought about it before but it is a fact that the hotter the day the more the little lizard likes to glide across the hot sand or rocks.

You can depend on one thing; with any kind of an emergency the good old American sense of humor always comes to our rescue.

—o—

Apologies, invariably, Obliterate mistakes. Three little words, "I love you," Will rure bad heartaches.

To apologize is about the safest way to be sure of having the last word.

To handle ourselves we need to use our head, to handle others we need to use our heart. The best way to destroy an enemy is to make a friend of him. The quickest way to make a friend is to say "I am sorry." Even though we didn't commit the offense we can always be sorry that we are not friends.

An apology seasoned with kindness is an expression that will always find welcome ears. Kindness doesn't even have to be spoken; it is a language that the dumb can speak and the deaf can hear.

It is a pretty bad fault to be always finding fault with other people but, to never be able to find any fault in ourselves is even worse.

If an apology comes from the heart it will strike home to the heart of another. If it is only from the mind, likely it will go over their head.

If we owe someone an apology we should pay the debt off quickly for we never know when it will be too late. Besides, the benefits of a saved friendship pays off in dividends. The cost of having an enemy is like paying a toll.

It wouldn't be so bad to be set our ways providing our ways had the right set.

—o—

Words spoken in a careless and unthoughtful way often cause us many busy hours of worry and regret. Along this thought the following little verse seemed to help us to remember this fact. We should take each word and weigh it;

In the scales of right and wrong, Know before we event say it— That it would help the world along.

It wouldn't be so bad to open our mouth for conversation and exhortation, if we could do so without closing our mind to any further education and inspiration on the subject.

A good rule to use before speaking up would be to make our statement pass the following four tests; Is it the truth? Is it necessary? Will it be harmful to anyone? Would it be better unsaid?

An open mouth many times reveals a slippery tongue. The Bible teaches us that the tongue can be a dangerous thing and that we need to guard it with all our might. A slip of the tongue wouldn't be so bad if we could call back the words but other slippery tongues echo them into far away places from which there is no return.

Some of the greatest first words could be; I love you or, I like you. The best way to have the last word in an argument would be to say; I am sorry. A good way to be the life of the party would be to say; you people are won-

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

One year ago the 2nd of July, our first article was published. Guess we didn't set the world on fire, but the thrill ranks along with the real big events in our lives.

When writing our most kind and patient Editor about this venture, we told him we would like to do something about the apathy of the people of America. But what could I, as one individual do to make a dent in the situaderful. To be remembered a long time we might say; I'll never forget meeting you. Words do make such a difference that we should never use them carelessly.

We told him our idea was to gently nag the conscience of the people, and me most of all, of the danger we face today by sitting back and "Let George Do It." That evidently something had happened to George, and he wasn't the man he use to be. That we all must assume the responsibility of doing the things that need doing. Of course that doesn't mean the wonderful people who carry on, with great sacrifice, all the good works we all enjoy and benefit from. Without such people we would be in a sad state.

(Our first article on "The Declaration of Independence" means more today, that it did last year. It says: Man has an inherent right to be free, but freedom is not being free of moral restrictions. Man must accept the responsibility of his acts, or freedom ceases to be freedom and becomes anarchy.

We are learning that no Government can legislate truth, these have their seat in the hearts of man.)

In view of the sordid events revealed to us this past year, reviewing that historic document would help us to remember that freedom is not free, we truly must work for it, to be able to remain so.

The George we speak of so often, pertains to no one individual. Although sometimes we get carried away by events close to us, and show up the nature of George's Wife.

Another thing we promised was to keep a few weeks ahead on our articles, it has become hard to get them in under the deadline. If we do not hurry with this one our anniversary celebration might turn out very sad indeed. We find that the farther we go the less we know about this business. What we feel does not always come out on paper the way we planned. At least once a week these articles remind me to be prayerful, watchful and hopeful for a strong America.

FACT AND OPINION

Pittsfield, Me., Advertiser: "The State of Michigan, sixth wealthiest in the nation is still—despite a strange news blackout—in real financial trouble.

"States as well as businesses are liable to failure and bankruptcy; free spending and unbalanced budgets can hardly lead elsewhere.

"This fact cannot be impressed too much on the mind of the average voter who indirectly controls the affairs and paths of state."

DAN TRUE IS NOW FORECASTER FOR KFDA-TV

KFDA-TV, Channel 10 in Amarillo, announced today the appointment of popular personality, Dan True, as Weathercaster for their station. Dan, known throughout the Panhandle area for his uncanny sense of weather, and equally uncanny sense of humor had this to say when questioned concerning his definition of a weather forecaster: "That's an individual with $30,000 worth of scientific equipment . . . and a strong hunch." True's hunches have paid off in the past, as thousands of Panhandle people will testify. In his 6 and 1-2 years as a Weathercaster in this area he has come to be an authority on local conditions. Dan flies his own weather reconnaissance plane, affectionately named the "U-All-2" (Southern Type Weather Reconnaissance Plane), and is often seen in the area photographing tornado clouds and unusual weather formations.

Raised in Oklahoma, Dan attended Kansas State Teacher's College and the University of Illinois and more recently, a Geology Course at Amarillo College. He's a proud family man, the father of two growing boys and three beautiful girls. Mrs. True shares his interest in Panhandle wildlife, and the True's have become quite avid Naturalists with a large collection of color movies and slides on Panhandle wildlife.

To give area people more complete weather information, True will be presenting three weathercasts daily on Channel 10 in the future, and of course, will be on the air any time there are tornado or severe weather warnings.

Whenever important weather develops throughout the Panhandle area, Dan True will be on-the-spot!

AREA MOTORISTS WARNED FOR WEEK END

"The Fourth of July is Independence Day, but the driver who gets too independent while on the road may do his celebrating in jail!" This warning was given to area motorists by Sergeant E. G. Albers who is making an all-out effort to see that traffic accidents will not mar this year's Independence Day celebration.

The Texas Highway Patrol and other agencies are sponsoring a safe vacation driving program during this July 4 week end, Sergeant Albers said. This program deserves the support of all citizens, and we can show our intentions to cooperate, right off, by observing the rules of safe driving over the week end of the Fourth.

An independent attitude on the part of drivers is bound to lead to accidents, Sergeant Albers said. He pointed out that drivers must share the road with all other drivers, and if they are too insistent on their rights, or carry a chip on their shoulders most of the time, they are asking for trouble.

Make courtesy your code of the road, Sergeant Albers urged. You will find that you will be more relaxed when your trip is over, and you will have a much better visit. And it may surprise you to know, he added, that other drivers return your courtesy almost every time.

The Sergeant also warned against trying to cover too many miles in too short a time and driving at speeds too fast for conditions. He gave the following tips for a safe visit:

1. Don't try to cover too many miles.
2. Be prepared for heavy week end traffic.
3. Leave early, and pause for rest occasionally.
4. Drive within speed limits.
5. Leave your drinking off.
6. Remember that the application of common courtesy to traffic situations does prevent many accidents.

Sergeant Albers said it would be a good idea for drivers to paste the slogan, "Drive to Arrive Alive," on their dashboards.

When a congregation sleeps it's the parson who needs waking up.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas Democrats are starting a fresh page in their history. The era when the party could be split on the basis of who voted for Eisenhower in 1952 is ended.

Only thing which could revive that long-cherished bone of contention would be for the Party to nominate a ticket so distasteful to Texans that the state would again go Republican.

At the state convention Democrats of widely varying views united behind the Lyndon Johnson banner to bury the extreme loyalists of the DOTC in the most overwhelmingly lopsided vote in party history.

Even seasoned political reporters were caught off balance by the 2,252-to-40 vote by which the DOT proposal was defeated. They used such unaccustomed adjectives as "astounding" to describe the victory.

State Executive Committee proposed a loyalty pledge binding on state party officials, delegates to Los Angeles and presidential electors.

DOT insisted that in addition, a loyalty pledge should be circulated among the county delegations and that no one should be allowed to stay in the state convention hall unless he signed it.

DOT did everything possible to fan the issue. Blurred, hastily printed flyers headed "Who Says Party Loyalty Is a False Issue?" were scattered outside the convention hall. Flyers showed a picture of Gov. Price Daniel introducing Eisenhower at a 1952 campaign rally and reproduced a copy of the ballot by which a majority of Texans split their tickets in '52 and '56 by voting Democratic on the state level and Republican on the national level.

Alex Dickey of Denton, one of the DOT spokesmen given equal time to debate the issue before the delegates, proclaimed heatedly that "party loyalty is the issue before this convention."

But his weapon had lost its edge. After the vote, Governor Daniel declared that any group that tries to send a rival delegation to Los Angeles on the basis of 40 votes out of 2,292 "must be out of their minds."

Even drooping DOTers agreed. Dickey refused to bolt, told sympathizers waiting outside they had been beaten fairly.

Reporters, who had tried to beat deadlines by writing "hold for release" stories describing the expected "rump" convention, hastily filed mandatory kill orders.

UNITY IN DIVERSITY — Events at the State Democratic convention, though it was frequently referred to as the most united, most harmonious in history, demonstrated clearly that it is, as it always has been, only as united as strong personal leadership can keep it.

By its very make-up the Texas Democratic Party is like six tomcats in a tow sack. Gulf between the very conservative delegation sent to Austin by Harris County and the very liberal delegation from Bexar County is greater than the gulf between Republican and Democrat in many parts of the country. Convention keynote, Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, took note of this. "Out of our disorganization, our diversity . . . and even our disagreements," said Wright, "comes our strength. We are the party of no one because we are the party of everyone."

Test of this came after Senator Johnson made his triumphal entry to the accompaniment of marching placard-carriers, music and cheers. When the tumult ended and Johnson began to speak, the Harris County delegation, which had voted not to support Johnson, boomed at the end of each statement. It was an awkward moment.

Senator Johnson, who was discussing his experiences in the U.S. Senate in working with men of such contrary views as Senator Byrd of Virginia and Senator Morse of Oregon, departed from the text of his speech.

Despite their differences, said Johnson, these senators "always behave in a courteous and gentlemanly manner."

Harris County was heard from no more, and Texas Democrats proceeded with, for Texas, first class harmony.

EXIT MRS. RANDOLPH — Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin will return next month to the post as national Democratic committeewoman from Texas.

Mrs. Weinert was national committeewoman for eight years and was replaced by Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston in 1956.

Mrs. Weinert will be officially elected at the national convention beginning July 11 in Los Angeles. But for all practical purposes, Mrs. Randolph already is deposed.

By resolution, the state convention took away from her all authority and privilege she might have between now and retiring. It was retaliation for the war which Mrs. Randolph, as head of the DOT, has waged on Senator Johnson, Governor Daniel, National Committeeman Byron Skelton and almost all other party officials for four years.

As national committeewoman, Mrs. Randolph is entitled to be a delegate to the national convention and cast one-half delegate vote. Convention declared she must be bound by the unit rule and vote with the rest of the delegation. In short, "all the way with LBJ." Also, the convention asked that she have no control over credentials and tickets to the national convention.

GOP PLANS LAID — Texas Republican leaders are saying, in effect, that they won't fight among themselves but will save their strength to fight Democrats in the general election next fall. Texas' GOP traditionally has been very harmonious, except in 1952 when newcomers supporting Eisenhower wrested control from the Old Guard.

Texas' delegation to the GOP Chicago convention are pledged to support Vice President Nixon for president, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for vice president. Early talk of supporting Senator Goldwater or New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for president ended short of a floor battle.

Most Republican energy at their state convention was used to try to lure Independent and Conservative Democrats to their fold by criticizing Democrats as the party of "give-away programs" and "federal intervention."

MOVING UP — Preliminary 1960 census figures show Texas, with a population of 9,493,895, ranking sixth among the 50 states — behind New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Houston apparently will be moved up from 14th largest to sixth largest city in the nation, following New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Detroit.

ENLARGED RESERVOIR PLANNED — Governor Daniel and the State Water Board have approved plans to enlarge a proposed salt water barrier and reservoir on the Trinity River near Wallisville to four feet, instead of two feet, above water level.

Applications to build the new Trinity reservoirs were granted last spring after one of the longest, most heated hearings ever held before the Water Board.

BURRO RIDERS PASS THROUGH CLARENDON

Clarendon was the scene of a hilarious reunion of Colorado cowboys riding burros across the country last Friday.

The riders are contestants in the Deutsch Donkey Derby, an 865-mile burro race from Lake City, Colo., to Lake City USA, which is just north of Dallas on U.S. Freeway 77. They started the race on June 9 in Lake City, Colo., and expect to reach Lake City USA about July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Barraens of Pampa and Mr. Claud Murphee of Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dingler lunched at the City Park at Clarendon Sunday. After lunch Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dingler and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hardin and daughter went to Amarillo to visit relatives.

Mr. D. S. Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hott Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ivey visited Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harrison Sunday afternoon.

Mike Turner of Haskell is spending a week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mann, and Frances.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cash and Tammy of Amarillo spent Saturday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dingler.

Mrs. Frank Cannon and family of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harrison, Saturday.

One of the riders, 25-year-old Don (Smiley) Craig, who looks like movie actor Glenn Ford, had been missing from the race for two days, ever since leaving Amarillo.

The other two contestants, Brahma Bill Sunderlin, 19, and Good Ol' Ed Emery, 21, thought Smiley might have dropped out of the grueling test. A fourth entry, Slim Pickin's Bloxham, 50, had quit after the first 100 miles when he found the going too rough.

Vern Flowers, burro expert from Montrose, Colo., who is accompanying the riders by truck carrying feed and supplies for the burros, had been driving up and down U.S. 287 looking for Smiley, obviously worried about him.

But Smiley showed up Friday in Clarendon ahead of the other two riders. It developed that his burro, an animal named Purvis, had jumped out into the highway just outside of Amarillo, getting both Smiley and Purvis sideswiped by a heavy truck-trailer rig.

Both were knocked sprawling. Smiley suffered a badly bruised leg, and his jeans were shredded. The burro was unhurt.

After the accident Smiley decided to get off the highway and take a short cut through the back country. In spite of his injury, he made it to Clarendon well ahead of the other two.

The riders are competing for a $1,000 prize offered by George C. Deutsch, head of Deutsch Enterprises of Dallas and Denton, to the first man to reach Lake City USA by burro. A second prize of $500 and third prize of $250 also will be awarded by Mr. Deutsch, who is building 2,500 new homes in Lake City USA.

If you want to know what's behind the headlines, ask any housewife. She'll tell you it's her husband, especially at the breakfast table.

The typical family man has a billfold full of pictures and no ed by a heavy truck-trailer rig money.

Quakertown, Pa., Daily Free Press: "In worship, in religion, lies the only strength that mortal man can find to fit him fully for the life he lives amidst the awesome majesty of creation; and for the eternal life which that majesty demonstrates must be his destiny."

As an outdoorsman you should learn all you can regarding mother nature — especially how she provides for you, as well as for the game you love.

I enjoy our modern frozen foods and mechanical gadgets just as much as the next fellow. But I think it is good to know how the Indians and the early pioneers survived without these conveniences.

Having nothing but what mother nature provided, our predecessors survived because of their knowledge and ingenuity in using what they had.

Each animal, plant, shrub, tree, bird, grass, or what-have-you, had its own place in nature. But most of them can be put to some extra use, to serve man — if he knows, or can discover how to use it.

Generally this discovery comes about as a matter of necessity. However, the factor of necessity seldom arises in our modern day world. Nevertheless, it's still good to retain part of this knowledge, even today.

Many camping families, boy scout groups, the Armed Forces, etc., attempt to learn what they can about survival, dependent upon mother nature. I have yet to hear anyone who studied it say that he had been wasting his time.

Let's just look at one, often abused and criticized product of mother nature, that abounds throughout Texas. Let's see what she has performed in the way of survival for man.

The small, misshapen, scrawny little mesquite tree has been scoffed at by tourists in Texas for many years. Yet Texas owes a great deal to this determined and useful projection of love from mother nature.

In the early days of Texas, when its population was composed of Indians, Mexicans and early white settlers, the mesquite tree was like the present suburban shopping center.

This little sprig of life provided so much for the existence of these people that I am surprised that Texas has not erected a mesquite tree statue in undying admiration for this so often abused creation of nature.

The mesquite tree was perhaps the prime heat supply of our early day people, as it provided kindling for both heating and cooking.

The oft-eaten barbecue of today started with meat prepared over the wood from mesquite trees. This wood imparts a flavor to the meat that is relished by many barbecue experts of today.

The delicate leaves of the mesquite were, and sometimes still are, placed in men's hats — to help keep the head cooler in hot weather.

Mesquite tree leaves often were used as poultices, as were the leaves of many other plants and trees.

Household bleaches of today may be better, but the earlier Texas inhabitants were quite pleased with the results of boiling mesquite tree leaves with their clothes, to make the apparel white.

The mesquite bean, that hangs in long slender pods from the tree, also found many uses. The beans were ground between stones. The result — Ole — was flour.

This was a potent and variously used flour. It made a tasty and energy-providing bread, even now enjoyed by some. The uncooked dough was the beginning of the now famous tortillas and tamales.

If you mixed this mesquite bean flour with water you could have a choice of two useful products — a stomach medicine or a potent liquor. Could be that the old-timers needed both at the same time.

Lastly, we come down to the root of the tree itself. Roots were boiled into a stomach and bowel medicine (undoubtedly never patented) and an excellent dressing for wounds.

You could forecast your planting by this tree, too. It never freezes after the buds appear and I hear tell that a very cold winter is always forecast by an extra large crop of mesquite beans.

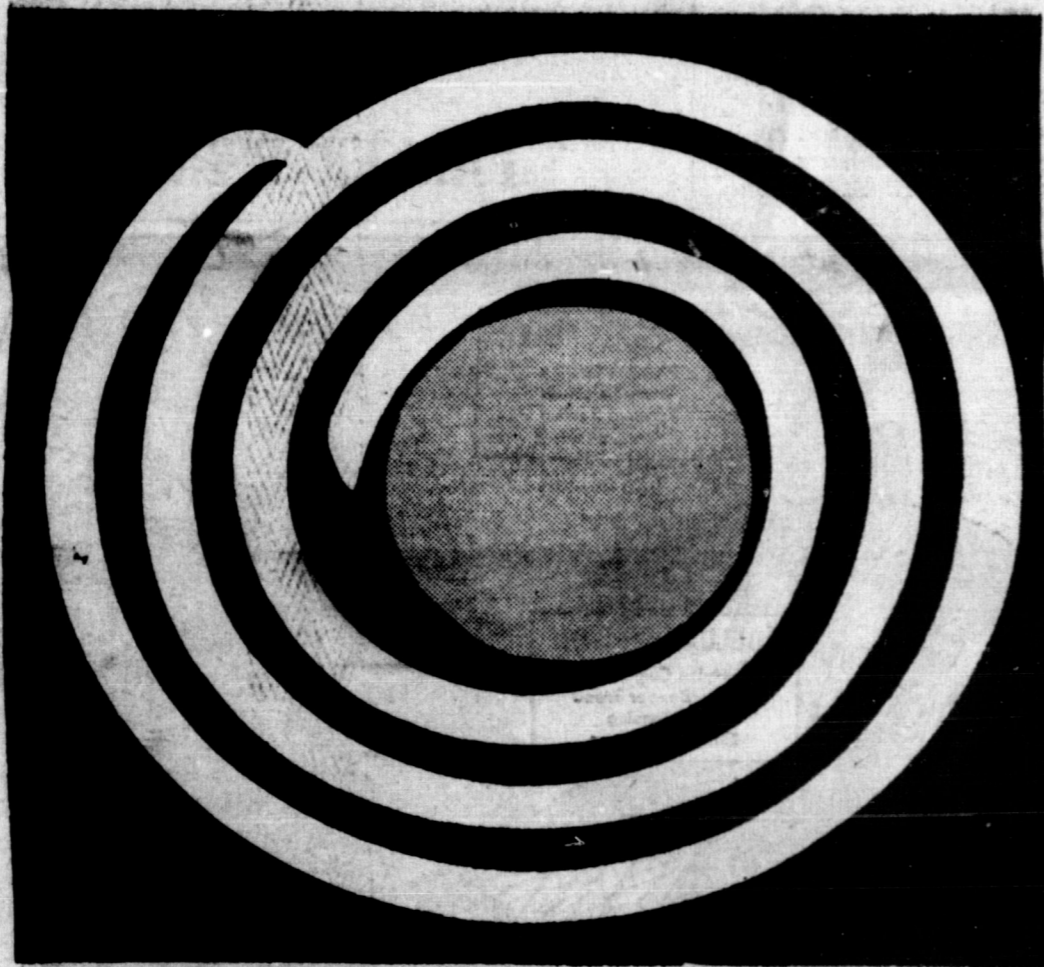

Now, don't you agree that we've abused this tree? That we've treated it unfairly?

True, it's not a thing of beauty. But after all — beauty is only skin deep.

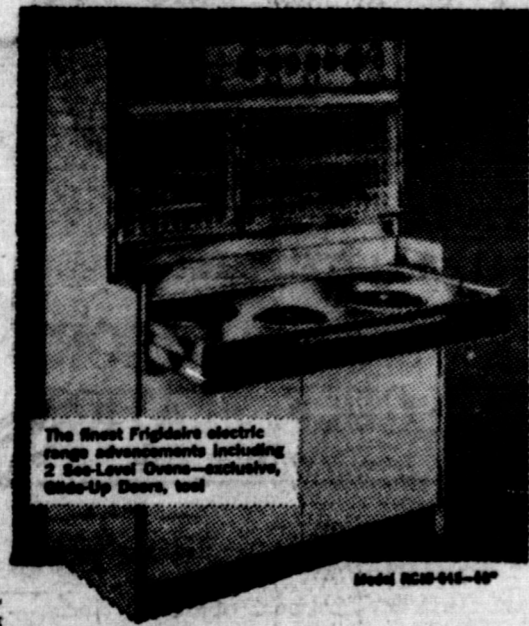

Drive like a nut and get cracked.

HIGH STAKES

At the end of March, the American Medical Association sponsored a regional conference on the medical needs of the aging in Baltimore. The AMA's president, Dr. Louis N. Orr, set the keynote in these words: "The time has come for both political parties to lay aside their partisan political approaches and seek, as groups of thoughtful people, the courses we must follow in providing our older people with fuller lives."

"The stakes are too high, in terms of human lives and productivity, for either party to use the problems inherent in ageing for advantage at the polls." One political approach to these problems is found in the bill which would give federally-paid medical care to social security beneficiaries. This approach ignores the fact that needs vary from individual to individual and from community to community, and can be met satisfactorily only on the community level. Such a national program — entirely aside from the huge tax costs that would be an inevitable part of it — would regiment medical care for the age groups concerned, and turn the elderly people into so-many-million faceless, voiceless statistics.

The progress so far made by private medicine, aided by the spectacular growth and expansion of voluntary health insurance plans, is certainly proof that the remaining problems can be best and most certainly solved by maintaining the free system. That applies not only for the aged, but for all others. Meanwhile, to quote Dr. Orr again, "There is no one in this nation who needs to go without proper medical care for any reason." The doors to doctors' offices are always open to the indigent.

CENSORSHIP OF IDEAS

A considerable time ago the Internal Revenue Service ruled that the cost of "opinion" advertising is not a necessary and legitimate business expense, and hence is not a deductible item for tax purposes. The principal target of this ruling has been the utility industry, which has extensively used advertising to present its side of the public-vs-private power issue.

But if anyone believes that this form of censorship by taxation is of direct interest only to one or a few large enterprises, it is high time to think again.

Editor & Publisher tell us of the experience of Editor A. H. Washburn, of the Hope, Arkansas, Star. Mr. Washburn spent about $6,000 in an effort to obtain a popular vote on a question of a state sales tax. In his opinion, passage of the tax would mean a loss of income to his paper. But now the Tax Court has ruled that his campaign was not an ordinary business expense, and is not tax deductible.

It is clear that if the ruling is allowed to stand, no one will be able to use advertising or related forms of communication to express his views on public issues without running the risk of severe tax penalty. And this, as the American Newspaper Publishers Association has put it, amounts to nothing less than censorship of idea.

The remedy, apparently, lies in Congressional action. A number of corrective bills are pending. But Editor & Publisher says its advices indicate that "a flood-tide of grass roots pressure" will be needed if any of them are to reach the floor during the current session. May the floodgates open!

Leader—Local rate, $3.00 a year

From Human Events: "The phenomenal rise in the European standard of living produced by private enterprise is responsible for the decisive victories of conservative parties in Great Britain, Germany and France . . . and the demoralization of labor-socialist parties in these countries. Even socialist India is reconsidering its attitude toward nationalization. In Canada, the once-growing leftwing parties have collapsed. With trends elsewhere running strongly toward conservatism, will the U.S.A. prove the exception and turn leftward in 1960?"

There are only two kinds of parking nowadays — illegal and no.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

"The Image Merchants" by Irwin Ross has been given to the library as a memorial to Mrs. Ola Belle Autry, sister of Mrs. Chester Talley.

Another of our library friends gave us thirteen books, all good fiction.

The American Library Association has just published their list of "Notable Books of 1959."

The ones in our library are: "The Joy of Music," Leonard Bernstein, "Image of America," Raymond Bruckberger, "Advise and Consent," Allen Drury, "Act One," Moss Hart, "Elizabeth The Great," Elizabeth Jenkins, "In the Days of McKinley," Margaret Leech, "Hawaii," James Michener, "The Years with Ross," James Thruher and "The Devil's Advocate," Morris West. We have had all of these for months but there is a noticeable lack of enthusiasm in the part of our readers for most of them.

Doctor Tom Dooley has written another book about Laos and his wonderful work there, "The Night They Burned the Mountain." He also writes about the work in his hospital of two adopted Texans, Dwight Davis and Earl Rhine. The best thing about the book though is that after reading it you know these gentle folks of Laos a little better. Since atomic warfare has made it an almost foregone conclusion that after the next war there are going to be very few left to fight another one, maybe we should spend more time trying to understand and like the people of other nations.

Billy Rose's "Wine, Women and Words" is still mighty good reading. It is a collection of some of his best columns. He is a good writer and besides entertaining you some of them pack a real wallop, for instance on war: "I wish it weren't so, but as a showman I know that people will always buy destruction. Twice in my life, I've seen the world spend hundreds of billions on a show where the star performer was wearing the skull and crossbones. And now they are talking about bringing him back for another engagement. — I can't help wishing more people were more afraid of the things there are to be afraid of. That way what a little girl once said might come true, 'Some day they'll give a war — and nobody will come!'"

POLITICAL PAYOLA

We've all heard about "payola" a device where, according to the revelations of a Congressional investigating body, disc jockeys obtained large sums of money along with valuable gifts from record companies in return for plugging the product. This, coming on the heels of the TV quiz-show scandals, has left a bad taste in the mouths of millions of Americans.

But there's another form of "payola" that is far more important. Congressman Halleck deserves the credit for calling attention to it. He describes the avalanche of proposed multi-billion dollar spending bills as "political payola." In his words, they "simply hand out the taxpayer's money to buy votes for the next election."

If the "political payola" groups have their way, there won't be a budget surplus. In all probability, there'll be a deficit instead. Then we'll have more inflation — and, ultimately still more and higher taxes. How does that prospect strike you?

CROP RESIDUE USE

Now is the time to begin thinking about using plant residues in cultivated fields to control water and wind erosion later in the year. There is a lot of wheat straw on the ground now and other kinds of crop residue will be present later on in the year. Plant residues are left in the field by mixing them with the top soil or leaving them on the surface during that part of the year when erosion may be bad.

Residues have several important uses. They keep the soil open so rain won't run off. They lessen the danger of erosion by both wind and water. The soil is easier to work and is more productive because it contains more organic matter.

Most Donley County soils require from 1,000 lbs. to 2,000 lbs. of residue per acre to control erosion. The residues from many crop will equal or exceed this poundage. Grain sorghums, small grains, and sudan are probably the most common.

Right now, wheat and other small grains are being harvested. This would be a good time to decide on the proper use of these residues.

To get the best out of your residues, they may be mowed, shredded, left undisturbed, or knocked down with a stalk cutter. Just about any way you handle them will be good as long as they are left on or in the surface of the soil. If residues are loose, they should be tucked into the surface so they won't blow away. Keep the residues on the surface as long as practical, throughout the year if possible. Some equipment that will keep residues on the surface and still keep the land clean are sweep type implements, rod weeders, and chisels. A one-way disc destroys about half of the residue on a field each time it is used.

Proper use of crop residues is one of the practices your Donley County Soil Conservation District stresses. If you will save your crop residues, they will help save your land.

1960 TEXAS GUIDE FOR CONTROLLING INSECTS

College Station — At least six major changes have been made in the recommendations covering the control of cotton insects for 1960. C. F. Garner, associate extension entomologist, says these changes have been called to the attention of all county agricultural agents in Texas and suggests that cotton producers ask the agents about them when picking up a copy of the new guide.

The guide, L-218, is now available from the office of the local county agent or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Garner points out that all recommendations in the guide are based upon results of experiments conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Entomology Research Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

As has been the case for several years, the control program for 1960 includes early and late season control phases and suggestions for an early stalk destruction and farm cleanup, a very important part of the cotton insect control program.

Garner suggests that cotton growers pick up a copy of the guide at the first opportunity so plans can be made for carrying out a complete insect control program.

The entomologist has this final word of caution. All insecticides are poison and precautions given on the labels of containers should be followed to the letter. Special care should be taken in handling parathion, methyl parathion, demeton, guthion and phorate (Thimet) to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breathing the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

Donley County Soil Conservation District News

W. P. Doherty C. B. Morris
T. C. D'Spain Roy Jewell
Frank Hommel

So far, this year, approximately 18 ponds have been built by Donley County SCD Cooperators. Several more are being built at this time. This is a good increase over last year. A total of 24 were built last year.

Joe McMurtry, W. J. Lewis, Griffen Ranch, Hagy Ranch, Joe Robinson and J. W. Espy (J.A. Ranch), Hugo Riemer, T. C. D'Spain, Lloyd Shelton, and Billy Jones are among those who have completed ponds or have them under construction.

Ponds are a very important source of livestock water in the Donley County SCD. If they are properly designed and constructed, they should provide a year-round water supply. We all know that water locations are one of the most important factors in getting good grazing distribution. Ponds are also valuable as erosion control measures if properly installed. The water that is held up by the dams will not do any damage further down the creek.

Another advantage of ponds that certainly should not be overlooked is the wildlife habitat they provide. Ducks will use the water. Quail and other species of birds and game can water in the pond. A pond stocked with fish and fertilized can be expected to produce 300 pounds of fish per surface acre per year. With natural fertility, a pond can be expected to produce 100 pounds of fish per acre per year. An acre of native grass will not produce that much meat. Besides, it is fun to catch the fish.

Government cost share is available for building ponds under the Agricultural Conservation Program and Great Plains Conservation Program. For help in selecting a site and designing the proper size pond, contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Clarendon.

Aledo, Ill., Times Record: "Reports reaching the free world in ever greater volume from the Iron Curtain countries indicate that 15 years of sustained attack by the Satellite states on Christianity and 30 years of such atheistic crusade by the USSR have failed to eliminate Christian mores from the hearts and minds of the people."

"In all cities of Russia, large and small, churches were filled to capacity in spite of the government's general disapproval of religion . . ."

"The free world can well be heartened at the manner in which the chained millions of the Communist world have with dignity and forbearance answered the atheistic, decades-long crusade of the Soviet propagandists."

Honest - to - goodness fishermen really like to fish.

Every time we see a dyed-in-the-wool angler we are reminded of the two fishermen who were out on the lake bright and early one Sunday morning.

One fellow said to the other, "I feel mighty guilty out here fishing on the Sabbath when I oughta be attending church with the family."

His buddy's comment was, "Well, my wife and I couldn't have gone anyway, 'cause she's at home sick in bed."

Which brings up another thought. Why don't you take that gal along on your next fishing trip? There are no better anglers than women, once they get the hang of things.

So, take the little woman with you next time. And I don't mean just to the car ride. Or simply to sit on the bank and swat flies.

I mean take her with you in the boat. Show her a good time. Teach her how to fish.

She'll probably outfish you inside of six months, maybe sooner, but it will make her love the outdoors more. And believe you me, you'll get in more fishing trips yourself, because she will want to go often. More important still, it'll make a real pal of her.

But - don't treat her as a servant. Don't ask her to do anything you wouldn't ask of a male fishing buddy. And don't baby her, either.

To you women, let me say this. Lots of times when the gal goes along she will just stroll along the bank, doing nothing.

That's a mistake, little woman, 'cause if you do, you'll spend most of your time climbing over rocks and through brush to rescue "daddy's" lure. Or to retrieve his landing net, or to return his paddle.

If you stay by the car you'll get eaten by mosquitoes, or chased by a bull, or rained on.

Furthermore, if hubby doesn't catch anything, you'll have to listen all the way home to reasons why.

He will tell you the water was too high, too low, too clear or too muddy. Or too cold or too hot, or too rough or too calm.

On the other hand, if papa does catch something you'll have to clean it and freeze it - and later on thaw it and cook it . . . and you missed the thrill of catching it.

So, gal, you might as well go along and enjoy the whole show, and be a pal while you're at it.

According to statistics there are 750,000 people in Texas who work 50 weeks a year so they can afford to go fishing the other two weeks.

Of this number, exactly 749,998 people arrive at their favorite fishing spots only to find the water too something or other for good fishing.

What about the other two persons?

Well, they go out, whether the weather is wet or dry, the day sunshiny or the night moonlit. And they catch fish!

How? Next time you see a truly successful, old-time fisherman, just ask him how he does it.

Chances are his answer will be short and to the point - "Just fish for 50 years."

And that may be true, for experience certainly helps.

So, if you're going to be a successful fisherman, better start right now.

WELCOME VISITORS TO THE CELEBRATION

KEYS BARBER SHOP

That's why I wanted to direct this column to the people who don't fish, to the people who live with the people who do fish. To the wives of fishermen!
Isn't it about time somebody said a word or two about them? So it is that we dedicate this column to the people whom fishermen marry - to the wives of fishermen.
And to the fisherman husband we say - "Take the wife with you on your next fishing trip . . . as a true fishing companion."
Quite a bit of indigestion is caused by people having to eat their words.

BENEVOLENT BIRD

The bald eagle, a symbol of the United States older than the Constitution itself, is known throughout the world as an eternal representative of American freedom, independence, and democracy. Perhaps best known to Americans as part of the Great Seal which appears on every one dollar bill, the eagle is also found on many government publications and in some of our most hallowed national shrines. The Great Seal has always displayed the eagle in its central position since the Continental Congress first approved a seal for the United States in 1782.

Perhaps the founding fathers would be mildly surprised to learn that the symbol they approved many years ago is today reflecting the American position so accurately in many ways. I like to reflect upon at least two recent incidents in which our old eagle has played a part, and I must admire this resolute creature for his profound understanding of our constantly shifting fortunes in a complicated world.

The United States, as you may know, is currently constructing a new embassy in London, to be decorated by a huge aluminum eagle with a 35-foot wing spread. Since our country has poured billions of dollars of foreign aid into Great Britain and other countries since the outbreak of World War II, it is perhaps only appropriate that our friend the eagle should be described as looking "benevolent." I can't help but wonder if, in addition to "benevolent", he also looks penniless.

Since almost everyone knows that friendship can't be bought, it also seems logical that some of the British would call our feathered representative a "blatant monstrosity" and ask the House of Commons to "give it the bird." The British Minister of Housing and Local Government is "studying" the situation, with plenty of assistance probably from the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Perhaps the entire difficulty could be resolved to England's satisfaction if a hose were built into the eagle which would shower dollar bills on waiting Britishers in the street below.

If you think that building such a hose into the eagle would be a bit far-fetched, just look at the Russians. They built an entire microphone-transmitter system into an eagle which was to be placed over the desk of our ambassador in Moscow. The eagle, a part of a Great Seal which was hand-carved by the Russians, was planned to be an unwilling accomplice in Soviet spying activities.

The Trojans, of course, played this same game with a horse thousands of years ago, except that the Russians used an electronic gadget in the place of armed men. At any rate, our eagle was displayed in the United Nations Security Council recently after the listening device had been discovered and removed. Our eagle told the world something that some nations appear to have forgotten: tyranny and totalitarian principles are forever the enemies of liberty, despite the outward assurances of such leaders as Khrushchev.

The Russian boss, in an orgy of unprincipled sham and hypocrisy, says that "we are people of high and lofty moral standards" and that these standards are indeed so high as to place spying outside the wildest dreams of a Russian. Our friend the eagle, with his arrows in one hand and olive branch in the other, again lent its force to the American cause and thereby served its nation well.

Perhaps the United States, and its Department of State in particular, might be wise to keep a close eye on the various activities of our great representative of the national purpose. When he begins looking "benevolent," perhaps it would be time to re-examine our position. And when he looks "bugged" we might adopt more determined efforts to keep ourselves from being overheard—or overawed. In any case, the eagle has again proven himself to be a great and staunch friend.

Waltham, Mass., News-Tribune: "Too often the pressure groups measure the suitability of a lawmaker by the number of times he voted 'right' with them. Just as frequently, politicians go before the voters to boast of their 'rightness' with labor, the farmer, the veteran, or whoever.

"It would be refreshing for a change to see a candidate get up and contend that he had tried for the last two or four or six years to vote 'right' with the United States.

"This country will be moving toward real political maturity when men seeking office are judged on this broad plane, rather than by the narrow gauge of service to limited interests.

"But, for the most part, neither the politicians nor the people they represent seems close today to the threshold of that maturity."

When words fail — try a few new ideas.

OPERATION DEATHWATCH TO BEGIN JULY 2

An alert went out to Texas motorists today as the Texas Department of Public Safety predicted 27 motorcides will occur on streets and highways of this state during the three-day Fourth of July week end.

The period covered by the prediction, during which time the Texas DPS will conduct its Operation Deathwatch, extends from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, July 2, through 11:59 p.m. Monday, July 4. The DPS Statistical section keeps the official state records of the holiday death count on the calendar day basis, in contrast with wire service counts using fractional parts of days, and different holiday periods.

The DPS prediction released by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director emphasized that 4,000 cars will be damaged requiring garage repairs — some a total loss — during the three-day period. The report said that 1500 persons will receive bodily injury with some persons being crippled for life.

"These are some of the factors on the grim side of the holiday," Garrison said, "but it is necessary to relate them in order to explain the seriousness of the holiday traffic situation to Texas motorists."

"The Fourth of July is a holiday in which Texans go out of doors and do lots of driving. I wish everyone a good time during the July Fourth week end. At the same time I would like to advise them to be careful."

"Let someone else drive if you drink, watch your food and keep it refrigerated, and don't mar your holiday with personal injury, death, or damage to your automobile. We will have on the highways to help you every available patrolman. You can make their job easier by planning safety into your holiday activities.

TO BE LET ALONE

"A common fallacy about man's duty to man was repeated recently by a prominent layman at a religious conference," says The Saturday Evening Post editorially. "As an expression of our social responsibilities he suggested, 'We are our brothers' keepers.'"

This point of view, the Post went on, is due to a serious misinterpretation of the Scriptural passage in question. It then said: "If all the world's people were brothers, and we were our brothers' keepers, they would also be our keepers. We would be among the kept. In the slave societies of totalitarianism, from the Baltic Sea to the sad coasts of Siberia and China, everybody is required to be his brother's keeper — to maintain a sharp watch on him and to blow the whistle the minute he deviates from total obedience . . .

"Well-meaning people who tell us that our duty is to be our brothers' keepers . . . have failed to draw clear distinctions between proper help and perpetual meddling. We have a duty to help the sick, in incapacitated, the very weak. But what our neighbors in general need is a large amount of being let alone."

The fact is that human history has largely consisted of the endless struggle of people's seeking "a large amount of being let alone." And that often-violent struggle has generally been directed at systems of government which treat the individual as a number whose duty is to do what he is told and not ask questions. The most basic of all freedoms is the privilege of being let alone.
