This was the first time in the history of the show that a Spotted Poland China had taken the grand prize.

Moffett's pig was bred by Milton Mann, local Spotted Poland China breeder who also has numerous wins to his record as an FFA exhibitor.

Other Clarendon placings at the show were: Spotted Poland China 2nd place by David Hudgins who also placed 3rd in the lightweight Hampshire. Gary Longan showed the first place heavyweight Chester White. Four of the five animals entered in the show by local boys placed high in the swine division.

Bronc B Squad Plays McLean There Tonight

Coach Mack Choate's Broncho B Squad will journey to McLean for their second game of the season tonight and will be trying for their first win of the season.

Last Thursday night, they fought a hard battle with the Lefors B team but were defeated 14 to 12, the extra points being the deciding factor.

The Lefors team held the upper hand during the first half, scoring both of their touchdowns but it was a different story the second half with the Broncos dominating the offensive play. Their scoring started in the 3rd quarter when Robin Green intercepted a Lefors pass on the 35 yard line and raced over for the 6 points. In the fourth period Teddy Graham skirted left end for 3 yards and the additional 6 points. Both extra point attempts were no good.

The B squad is composed of mostly freshmen and in view of their experience, made a very good showing with lots of hustle and determination.

Labor Survey To Be Made Here

In order for the Texas Industrial Commission to have ample, up-to-date information on record in their offices, the Leader has been asked to make a Labor Survey of Donley County and this trade area. Some time ago, a similar survey was made but it only included women of a certain age bracket. This survey includes everyone, in all reasonable age brackets.

The Labor question is foremost when industry is seeking a location and it will be to the advantage of this community to have this information on file in Austin when a prospect starts looking for a location.

Fill this form out and return it to the Donley County Leader office just as soon as possible. Extra forms will be available at the Leader office for additional listings where more than one in a family is available for employment. Encourage your neighbors and friends to fill out this survey form, too.

Wilson Slated For Operation Deepfreeze

Dewey Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson of Ashtola, is slated for the Navy's Operation Deepfreeze '61. "Atomic Power in the Antarctic by 1962," that's the U.S. objective as the Navy gathers nine ships, 30 aircraft and 3,000 men for Operation Deepfreeze 1961.

Dewey has been assigned to one of the 9 ships, Staten Island. This ship will depart from Seattle October 20th for Australia, touching at Port Lyttelton, New Zealand and arriving at Ross Sea for oceanographic work Dec. 14. It will then set off January 27 for exploration of the Amundsen Sea, south of South America. Staten Island is an icebreaker.

Dewey will probably have numerous shivering stories to relate when he returns to the states next year.

Bronchos To Play Groom Tigers Here Friday Night At 8:00 P.M.

The Clarendon Bronchos will meet the Groom Tigers in Broncho Stadium Friday night. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The Bronchos will be looking for their third win of the season while the Groom team will be keyed up to upset the Bronchos after giving McLean a 28 to 6 drubbing last Friday night.

Although Panhandle defeated Groom 6-2, Groom has a strong ball club which was evidenced by the McLean game. The Bronchos beat Panhandle 30-0 last Friday night and it was team effort that did the job and it will take this same type of team effort to win this Friday night, Coach Jinks stated.

Coach Jinks reported an addition to his first string group this week when final word was received establishing the eligibility of Charles Stout, 210 pound tackle. Stout will be making some of the other boys hustle for a starting position. Eddie Tipton is still on the doubtful list for Friday night with an injured leg.

The probable starting lineup for the Bronchos will be as it was last week with Bill Hermesmeier at left end, Don McAnear at left tackle, Leon Gibbs at left guard, Ronnie Tyra at center, Frank Hermesmeier at right guard, Jerry Gray at right tackle and Philip Abel at right end. In the backfield will be Jim Robinson at full, Neal Carter at right half, Jerry Elmore at right half and Dwight McAnear as quarterback.

It is hoped that the weather will cooperate this Friday night so a large crowd can come out and enjoy this second home game of the season. If you have not seen the Bronchos play so far this season, you will enjoy watching them Friday night. They certainly have the real football spirit that deserves your wholehearted support.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wiley and boys of Amarillo visited Mrs. C. E. Underdown Friday.

The 210-pound junior will be playing at left tackle. Arizona State is defending Border Conference champions and will be opening the second season in 20,000-seat Buffalo Bowl. LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Memorials have been given to the library dedicated the memory of: Mr. Fred Chamberlain, Mr. T. R. Adkins and Mrs. M. W. Mosley.

If you have read "An Increasing Awareness of Baldness," by Dr. Morris Fishbein in the July McCall's magazine, you know that it is bad news for the pony-tail wearers, or any hair style that pulls the front or sides of the hair. It shouldn't take the threat of baldness to discourage this particular hair style as it is becoming to no one.

A quote from a quote by Wes Izzard: "When is the last time you visited a library? What book did you check out? Or does the thought frighten you?" I can answer that for too many folks, their last time was the last book report they made in school.

It has always been the policy of the library to send notes of acknowledgements to the family within a day or two after a memorial gift is received.

Steve Wilhelm has written a book that will be welcomed by our readers of cowboy lore, "The Cavalcade of Hooves and Horns".

He begins with the Spaniards, who not only brought the first horses to this country but cows, hogs, sheep, etc. The Indians had not livestock of any kind. He traces the growth of ranching from the first few wild longhorns rounded up by the Mexican vaquero right on down to the present day, their bad times as well as the good ones. He has quite a bit to say about Colonel Goodnight and that is as it should be since he was the father of ranching in the Panhandle. In case some of us tend to forget he and his partner Oliver Loving had already made ranching and trail driving history before he came to the Panhandle.

More memorial funds have been given to the library these are in memory of: Mr. Bill Word, Mr. W. W. Noblet, Mrs. Fred Chamberlain, John Miller Morris and Mrs. M. W. Mosley.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Uncle Zeb

Indian City, U.S.A. — Not only does this town exist but it is actually on the map. Located just a couple of miles from the already famous Indian town of Anadarko, Oklahoma, this purely Indian village is well worth a visit.

In addition to an interesting museum and souvenir shop we found real Indians living in much the same conditions as they did years ago. Perhaps they were in some ways acting out the traditions of their elders but we think it is well worth while to keep alive an exhibition of the customs of the first American.

We understood that the project was undertaken by the forward thinking businessmen of Anadarko. The idea being to attract the passing tourist as well as help keep alive the customs that are fast disappearing among the Indian races. Here we find families from several of the best known tribes living as near as possible in the customs of their forefathers.

Anadarko has been famous for many years because of the all Indian Fair which is held there each August. At this time the Red Men come from all over the United States to take part in this All-Indian Celebration. Even the soldiers in the parade are Indian boys from nearby Ft. Sill. All exhibits are either made or grown by the Indians. Each tribe has a princess in the parade and they are beautiful to behold.

Speaking of Indian City, it was financed largely by selling and giving a deed to a one-inch square piece of land. The price was one dollar and we understand you actually got a blueprint as to its location. Anyway, it was very interesting.

"That's only Peanuts," is an expression we have all heard used many times in reference to a small amount of money. Likely, with about the same meaning as the word "Chickenfeed." On our recent visit into one of the peanut growing counties of Oklahoma we found that the above statement has long since gone out of date. Peanuts are not "hay" anymore.

It has all come about because of the government's support price on peanuts. Not only has the price been good but the way the plan works out makes the farm with a good base acreage in peanuts just about as valuable as one with an oil well right in the big middle of it.

There is a wide difference in the farm with a have and a have not in relation to its peanut history. If your farm has a good history it means that around one thousand dollars per acre is automatically added to the value of your farm for each acre of peanut base. This is especially true where irrigation is available.

Even if one's land is "Too poor to sprout peas" or even peanuts someone would buy it readily if a good peanut base went along with the bargain. According to the report we received the support price is something over two hundred dollars per top. With water plentiful and the proper use of fertilizer two tons or more per acre can be grown. "One fly in the ointment," or perhaps we should say worm in the peanuts is that they really take the life out of land if followed in succession. Too, worms and insects are

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

SURFACE IRRIGATION
In order to surface irrigate efficiently the following factors should be considered: rate in which the soil will take water, the length of run, grade in the row, amount of water available, amount of water to be applied, crops being irrigated, and water loss to evaporation, etc. If you fail to consider any of these your efficiency will be lowered.

Border irrigation is one method used to help obtain a more uniform penetration and does away with tail water. This method of irrigation is particularly adapted to steeper land. The field is broken up into small strips varying in width. The area between the strips is leveled and each strip is watered as a unit. The borders on each side of the strip are high enough to prevent the water from breaking out on the leveled strips below this border. This type of system allows you to make use of all rainfall since there is no run-off. Field leveling is another method used to increase the returns from irrigation water. This method is used on flatter lands and areas leveled vary from ten to eighty acres in a block. After a piece of land has been field leveled, you may grow row crops and surface irrigate, or put up temporary borders for drill crops. Field leveling provides for a more flexible means of farming and watering.

Figuring out an efficient irrigation system is much too technical to discuss in this article, however, this information is available to you through the technicians of the Donley Soil Conservation Service.

Out of all the qualified voters in this county, 16 people showed up last Tuesday night for the organization of a Government Club.

A bulletin issued by "The John Birch Society" says; we recommend the reading of the following paragraphs to any person who is seeking less government more responsibility and a better world. And we might add in this case, a better understanding of the government we do have. This is what the bulletin says:

So we welcome into the Society A who disagrees with B's idea of how to fight communists, B who dislikes A, C who looks scornfully at them both, D who is too rabid, E who is too restrained, F who can stand nobody except those who last on what he considers middle ground; G who wants to get his gun and come out shooting (if we would only say the word), H who wants to win the whole struggle solely by educational means, J who thinks that militant and slow educational procedures must both be subordinated to practical political action; K who thinks that L is too uncouth, L who thinks that K is a stuffed shirt, M who can't tell the difference between them; N who thinks that every third member of the Society is a communist infiltrator, O who thinks any expectation of communist infiltration is exaggerated and ridiculous, P who thinks it does not matter; Q who thinks that R is a hound for personal publicity, R who thinks that Q is a nonentity, S who thinks that neither is a credit to the Society; T who thinks that V is too bossy and V who thinks T is too mousy, and parliamentary W who thinks that even lunch should be eaten according to Roberts' Rules of Or-

Youree - Poff Ceremony Read In Pampa

Miss Sandra Youree of Hedley and J. L. Poff of Memphis were married in a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening, September 17, in the home of the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Sims, in Pampa. The Rev. J. S. Tipton, pastor of First Baptist Church of Hedley, officiated.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Youree of Hedley. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Poff of Elk City, Oklahoma.

Vows were exchanged against a background of greenery and candelabra bearing gold tapers. Traditional wedding selections were presented by Mrs. Joan Sackelford, pianist, and Mrs. W. C. Burns, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a beige street-length dress of silk organza. She wore a small hat of brown velvet and carried a bouquet centered with bronze chrysanthemums atop a white veil.

Mr. Jerald Sims attended the ceremony as matron-of-honor. Tom Poff was his brother's best man. Flower bearers were Jerry Sims, nephews of the bride.

Following the buffet supper was a wedding party and arrangements of bronze chrysanthemums and fall leaves in the house and bride's room. The wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. Don Youree and Mrs. Jimmy Youree. The couple will be at home in Memphis after a short wedding trip.

Cotton Producers Meet at Memphis

The board of directors of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc., met last week at the Cyclone Drive Inn in Memphis. The organization, owners of the classing office in Memphis, is composed of the cotton producers of the 12-county area with a director representing each county.

The annual audit was ordered by the directors and the president, V. C. Durrett, appointed an audit committee composed of Dutch Hunter, vice president; J. W. Reed, secretary-treasurer; and Dick Sweatt.

The directors and the counties they represent are as follows: Dudley Chearning, Cottle and King; Dick Sweatt, Collingsworth; J. R. Hefley, Wheeler; B. K. Blankenship, Briscoe; H. S. Mahaffey, Donley; A. J. Garland, Armstrong; L. B. Collis, Carson; Leamon Andrews, Gray; V. C. Durrett, Hall; Dutch Hunter, Childress; and J. W. Reed, Motley. Mrs. Sue Hutcherson is employed as executive secretary.

The cotton classing office located in Memphis is one of the most modern and up to date plants in the entire United States, with the very latest equipment being used to improve classing service, the directors said.

Initial construction costs, maintenance and improvements of the office is being financed by voluntary contributions of 25 cents per bale by cotton producers in the 12-county area with the gins in the district serving as collecting agencies. The building and equipment will be owned by the contributing producers.

The government pays all operating costs of the plant, including the salaries of the personnel employed there, the directors explained.

Original plans called for a one year program to finance the construction of the office, but in order to meet additional expenses of constructing a first class plant and establish a reserve fund to meet future obligations of maintaining the building and equipment it will be necessary to continue the program for another year, the directors said.

All producers as well as others engaged in the cotton business in this district are invited to visit the classing office and see first hand the classing service being conducted there, they said.

According to a USDA official, the tentative date for the opening of the classing office in Memphis has been set for Monday, Sept. 26.

Bronchos Defeat Panhandle 30-0

The Clarendon Bronchos made it two wins in a row last Friday night by defeating the Panhandle Panthers 30-0. This also makes the second game that the Broncho defense has allowed no score for their opponent.

The Bronchos looked very impressive in the game with the Panthers as every squad member was putting out his best throughout the game and showed a real determination to win.

The Bronchos started their scoring spree early in the first quarter with Neal Carter skirting right end for 6 points. A pass to Abel in the second quarter accounted for the second score and a pass to Bill Hermsmeyster was good for the conversion, making the score 14-0 at the half.

Soon after the second half got underway, Robinson plunged over for the 6 points and also the conversion; the next score was an 18 yard run around left end by Jerry Elmore and a pass to Abel was good for the conversion bringing the total score to 30-0.

Another Broncho touchdown in the fourth quarter by Jim Robinson was nullified by a penalty.

The Broncho line was outstanding along with the backfield as Panhandle was held in check throughout the game until late in the fourth quarter when their passing attack finally carried them to the Broncho 5 yard line.

Meat Committee To Sponsor Amarillo Meeting Sept. 30th

A number of Donley County Farm Bureau members and ranchers, whether they are Farm Bureau members or not, plan to attend a meat promotional meeting Sept. 30, 1960, at the YWCA Bldg., 1006 Jackson, in Amarillo, Texas, according to H. Wood, president of the Donley County Farm organization.

A rather large delegation of ranchers plan to attend from Donley County.

Sponsored by the Texas Meat Industry Committee, the Amarillo meeting is one of 10 being held over the state to stimulate interest in meat promotion and to explain the work being done by the National Live Stock and Meat Board in this field. The state committee was organized last year to advise and assist the national board in promotional activities in Texas.

Mr. Jay Taylor, rancher and member of National Livestock and Meat Board, will be chairman of the meeting in Amarillo which will begin at 10 a.m. and be concluded by about 3 p.m.

Participating in the area educational meeting will be representatives of the state committee, national board and the Texas Extension Service. A film, "Meat Cookery," produced and distributed by the NLSMB will be shown. Representatives of the national board will discuss industry-wide promotional and research activities. Extension officials will explain the educational and promotional work being done in Texas.

The Texas Meat Industry Committee is comprised of representatives of the following Texas organizations and agencies: Farm Bureau, Sheep & Goat Raisers, Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers, Shorthorn Breeders, Beef Council, Swine Breeders, Livestock Marketing, Livestock Auction Marketing, Restaurant Association, Extension Service, Retail Grocers, State Dept. of Agriculture.

HOMEOWNERS WARNED OF HOUSEHOLD HAZARDS

Parents who have greeted the starting of school with enthusiasm — and possibly relief — were cautioned to "keep their guard up" for hazards around the room that are a particular threat to younger children not yet old enough to attend school, by J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

With cold weather not too far in the distance, Musick had particular words of caution about the threat of fire. "All heating units should be carefully checked for proper functioning and cleaned before putting into use," he said.

In the kitchen area, cooler weather inevitably brings hotter dishes and mothers should make certain that pot handles be turned away from the front of the stove. Homes using small gas heaters present extra threat to toddlers until they have been taught to respect them.

For the youngsters who are beginning to crawl, Musick reminded parents that these crawlers will poke and probe with their fingers. "Unused light sockets should be taped or capped and dangerous items should be moved from lower bureau drawers to shelves that are out of reach," he said.

Musick also urged homeowners to protect youngsters from falls, knives, guns, matches, and sharp instruments.

Week end visitors in the home of Mrs. C. E. Underdown were Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Waddle of Okmulgee, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fammie and Mrs. Carra Adkins of Carnegie, Okla., and Mrs. Lena Adair of Shawnee, Okla.

Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. John Goldston is able to be at home again and is improving nicely at this time.

Mrs. J. H. Ashcraft and Emma of McLean, Mr. and Mrs. James Ashcraft and boys of Clarendon spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ashcraft and Fern of Clarendon.

Bob Lee, a former Agriculture teacher in the Lelia Lake schools and now an Ag teacher in the Wilson school near Lubbock, visited Mrs. John Goldston Friday evening. He was enroute to Iowa to buy animals for his students.

HOW MUCH CAN I PAY FOR A NEW BEEF BULL?

College Station — Are you planning to buy a new beef herd bull and wondering just how much you can afford to pay for one? Tom Prater, extension farm management specialist, says that you can pay up to $976 for a beef herd bull that will increase your calves' weaning weight by 15 pounds, assuming 24-cent calf prices. This figure would rise to $1,108 with 30-cent calves, and it would decrease to $910 with 21-cent calves.

These calculations are based on the assumption that you would pay $450 for a bull of the same quality as your present herd—a bull that would neither increase nor decrease weaning weights of your calves, Prater explains.

The computations are based on genetic expectations and the actuarial determination of present values of future production. It is assumed that 2 offspring from the selected sire will be sold each year, and that 5 offspring from the daughters will be sold each year for 5 years. The "daughters" offspring average weaning weight is increased by 17 1/4 pounds. The selected herd sire is kept in production for three years. His daughters are assumed to go into production at age 3 and to be in production for 5 years. Both of these will vary, but maximum production could generally be expected under this assumption for managing the herd replacements.

The average live weight of the original sire's offspring is 380 pounds. This can be increased by selecting a sire which had a heavier live weight base at the same age as the original sire's of spring, Prater continues.

In conclusion, Prater repeats that the price a farmer can pay for a better bull is limited by selling price times the increase in weaning weight of the offspring. The local county can offer assistance in determining whether or not an sire will pay for his purchase.

P. T. A.'s Seek New Members In The U. S. — And Overseas

When in Rome—or Oslo or Athens, Fontainebleau or Karlsruhe, Addis Ababa or Reykjavik—American parents and teachers do just about as they do at home: they form a P.T.A.

More than 42,000 P.T.A. members in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers this fall will join in the annual October Membership Month of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Like their nearly 12 million counterparts on U.S. soil, these P.T.A. members who live overseas—from Iceland to the Middle East, most of them on American military bases—will encourage others to "serve where you are: join the P.T.A."

Serving the welfare of American children, wherever they are growing up, is the primary object of the National Congress. It has brought the P.T.A. into many areas of activity during its 63-year history. Since formation of the European branch in 1958, these activities have taken on new flavor:

—A European program of scholarships, similar to those provided by many state congresses in the United States, this year awarded $500 against tuition to American colleges for seven students; they were graduates of American overseas schools in Nouasseur, Morocco; Stuttgart, Berlin, Bitburg, and Heidelberg, Germany; and Vicenza, Italy.

—Concerned, like other P.T.A.'s, with the interests of mentally and physically handicapped children, the European Congress has initiated a program of special class instruction for these youngsters, providing the funds for additional teacher assistants, helpers, and materials to be used in some 20 schools.

—Foreign language education, a natural interest for children whose parents are assigned overseas, has been a major interest of P.T.A.'s in the European Congress. In Air Force schools, extending from Oslo to Libya and from the British Isles to Saudi Arabia, children in grades 3 through 8 are taking classes in foreign language this year.

—Adult education programs of the P.T.A., which in the U.S.

The midst of Europe's Bavarian Alps—it's a P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, confers with Fred L. Miller, coordinator for P.T.A.'s in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers, during conference in Berchtesgaden, Germany. Some 140 parent-teacher associations in Europe, Northern Africa, and the Middle East will join this fall in programs to enroll more than 12,000,000 parents, teachers, and friends of children as P.T.A. members.

usually take the form of study-discussion groups, may become adult self-education in overseas areas, where American military, government or civilian members of P.T.A.'s take advantage of opportunities for learning the language of the country and for studying its cultural assets.

As these P.T.A. members, both teachers and parents, return from overseas assignments, they bring broader understanding of other countries to their state-side colleagues.

"This is one great contribution our European members can make," says Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, who acted as a consultant to the European Congress when she attended their convention last April.

"Overseas P.T.A.'s," she points out, "bring to American boys and girls living in other parts of the world some of the home and school experiences they would be enjoying if they lived in the United States."

"The richest result is the relationship between parents and teachers; there is a closer relationship in a foreign environment, because they have so many unusual experiences in common."

The National Congress has always recognized, she says, "that great differences exist among the states and communities"—and still greater ones in overseas communities. But the National Congress program "always allows abundant room for choice" of projects for local P.T.A.'s, serving "as a bank or library of ideas from which the local unit draws to suit its needs."

In its membership programs this October, the P.T.A. card will become "a passport to the best society on earth," says Mrs. Parker. "An organization working in hundreds of ways to create a better world, working for the welfare of all children—for the handicapped, the gifted, the migrant, the delinquent, the average, for all children whether they live in cities, suburbs, rural areas, or on military bases abroad—an organization that cares about the homes children live in, the schools they are taught in, and the neighborhoods they grow up in."

FIVE ACCIDENTS INVESTIGATED IN DONLEY The Highway Patrol investigated 5 rural accidents in Donley County during the month of August, according to Sergeant E. G. Albers, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks have accounted for 5 injuries, and a property damage of $2,347.00. This brings the total for the year in this county to 7 persons killed, 23 injured, and a property damage of $21,475.00.

Prior to the first of this month there had been a total of 1,088 fatal accidents in Texas. These tragedies resulted in 1,342 persons losing their lives.

The back to school bell has already sounded for Texas school children. They will be using our highways and streets to and from school. Motorists should drive with more caution and care than ever before.

Sergeant Albers pointed out that at the present rate of traffic fatalities, half of the elementary school children in Texas will be involved in a motor vehicle accident before they reach the age of 21.

Fifteen persons were killed and 240 injured in rural traffic accidents involving school buses in Texas during 1959.

State laws regulating traffic in regard to school buses read as follows: "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

The Sergeant stated, "The driver of the passing vehicle is responsible for taking the due caution. He is responsible for knowing that his proceeding past the bus will not result in endangering any lives."

Remember, no one has a child to spare!

"Blueprint For Peasantry"

Two members of the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation recently laid down a point-by-point program which, in that organization's view, is essential to the future of American farming. They rejected government price-fixing and other rigid controls, calling them a "blueprint for peasantry." The whole program is designed to give farmers greater freedom, and to advance the welfare and the interests of both producer and consumer.

One point is this: "With less interference from government, the marketing system will be freer to operate effectively and efficiently. This will encourage the expansion of market outlets and the production of quality products in line with market demands."

This is more than theory - there is ample factual evidence to back it up. Meat is an A-1 example. The livestock producers, to their great credit, have always opposed government aids and controls, even when times were bad. Their faith lies in free enterprise, as does the faith of the packers and the other elements in the meat industry. The result, over the long years, has been prosperity for producers - and an improved and fairly priced product for consumers.

It would be well if American agriculture kept that in mind during this election year, in which candidates for office will be offering all kinds of promises in search of votes. Any program in which government is the boss is a "blueprint for peasantry."

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — He will not try to muzzle anyone who wants to complain about the National Democratic Party platform, says Gov. Price Daniel.

But the state Democratic convention in Dallas Sept. 20 is not the place, said the governor, to debate the pros and cons of the national platform. This convention, he said, is traditionally for the purpose of writing a state platform and certifying Democratic nominees for state office.

Edward J. Drake, chairman of the Dallas County delegation, wrote the governor that the Dallasites would like to have a "full and factual" discussion of the national platform at the Sept. 20 meeting.

Governor Daniel said there are planks in the National Democratic platform to which he is definitely opposed. But he said he didn't feel there was enough difference between the Democratic and Republican platforms to justify criticizing one without applying the same criticisms to the other.

Governor Daniel said he was definitely opposed to freeing the Texas Democratic electors, as proposed by some, to vote for whom they please. He said he felt it was a matter of "simple integrity" for the Democratic electors to vote for the Democratic candidates if the party carries the state.

Since the Los Angeles convention, the governor's position has been to work for the Democratic ticket without endorsing the total platform.

SCHOOLS NOT PENALIZED — A ruling by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has provided a way out for Texas schools faced with conflicting state and federal orders regarding integration.

State law provides that a school system which integrates without approval of local voters loses state aid. Wilson ruled that this does not apply if the school is complying with a federal court order to integrate.

However, the ruling did not knock down the state law in question. Wilson said that schools that are not under federal court order to integrate without approval in a local election would still lose state aid and accreditation.

Immediately affected were two large school systems — in Houston and Dallas — both of whom are under court order to begin gradual integration plans.

SALES TAX NEED SEEN — Next year's money needs will be so staggering the Legislature will have to resort to sales taxing, general or selective, to keep the boat afloat.

This prediction is made by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, chairman of the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy. Fly was defeated in his race for reelection last May but contended his tax stand had nothing to do with it.

Those who do come back, said Fly, may face the need to raise as much as $108,000,000 in new money. This is the estimated new revenue need if the Legislature enacts bills to raise teacher pay and provide medical aid for oldsters — both programs with wide popular support.

Latest report by the tax study group shows that Texas families are now paying less state taxes than the national average. Annual tax bite on a theoretical "average" Texas family is $115.89 a year. Nationally, the "average" family pays a state tax bill of $235.51 a year.

MEDICAL AID URGED — Legislation to provide state-federal payments for medical care for Texans on old age assistance has near-top priority on his list, says Governor Daniel.

He noted that there are in state mental hospitals some 3,000 oldsters who are not really mentally ill, but who have no other place to go.

A medical aid program that would make possible the care of these people in nursing homes or their own homes would be "a great step forward," said the governor.

Enactment of such a program, he told the statewide Conference on Aging, is "near the top of the list of unfinished business of this administration."

He noted that a constitutional amendment to make such a program possible was approved by Texas voters nearly two years ago.

Investment Easing Sought — State Board of Education will ask the next Legislature to pass a law allowing investment of some of the permanent school fund in corporate stocks and bonds.

Object would be to obtain higher earnings from the $400,000,000 trust and provide a hedge against future inflation. Investment in corporate securities has already been allowed under the law for the University of Texas permanent fund, but the public school fund is limited to government bonds.

Board of Education also went on record as favoring salary raises for Texas teachers, noting that teachers trained here are being lured away by higher salaries in other states. No specific amount was suggested for the raise.

YOUTH COUNCIL HARMONIZES — With past differences smoothed over, the Texas Youth Council is now in accord over the executive director's purchase of government surplus buildings.

Earlier, Council Chairman W. C. Windsor Jr. of Dallas had declared that Dr. James Turman did not have authorization to After conferences, which Governor Daniel also attended, Windsor announced he was completely satisfied.

Turman said he had been offered $25,000 for one of the buildings purchased for $150 but that the contract with the government forbade such a re-sale.

One building is to be used to provide a classroom for Negroes at the Gatesville School for Boys and the other a lunchroom for the Gainesville School for Girls. SHORT SNORTS — August collections for the state wine, liquor and cigarette taxes totaled $9,611,005, reports State Treasurer Jesse James. This is an increase of $2,473,188 over August collections a year ago which was before tax increases went into effect. . . . West Point, Miss., Times-Leader: "The American political tradition has always conceived of 'the people' as individuals, each endowed with supreme and equal worth by God. This revolutionary idea that each person has certain rights derived from an Authority higher than a government was proclaimed the Declaration of Independence and written into the Constitution. On it, Americans founded a nation in which government to be the servant of the people rather than their master. "Only in recent years has this idea emerged that government is in a better position to certain 'civil rights' than authority from which a rights must stem."

Same Wheat Program Continues For 1961

With winter wheat planting getting underway, Chairman Cooke of the Donley ASC pointed out that the wheat program for 1961 will be essentially the same as it has been in recent years.

As highlights of the program, Mr. Cooke listed the following:

Under the marketing quota system, any farmer who keeps within his wheat acreage allotment may market his total wheat without penalty. Also exemption from penalty is any farmer who obtains approval to participate in the feed wheat program and produces 30 acres or less of wheat for use on his farm.
