New Extension Agent named in Donley County

Leon J. Church will leave his job as county agent with the Washington State Cooperative Extension Service in Okanogan to become the new agricultural agent in Donley County effective January 6, according to an announcement, made jointly by County Judge W.R. Billy Christal, and Texas Agricultural Extension Service district director, Bob Robinson of Amarillo.

Church holds a master's and bachelor of science in agricultural education from the University of Idaho. He joined the Washington Extension Service in April, 1985, where he served as county leader for adult education efforts in agriculture and livestock production, as well as 4-H and youth development programs. Before moving to a similar position in Okanogan, Church was headquartered in Everett, Snohomish County, leading programs there for 23 staff and some 1,100 volunteers. The new agent has earned tenure as a faculty member, first at University of Idaho and then at Washington State University. Church has been involved in Cooperative Extension education programs since 1972. He has held similar positions in Idaho, first in Minidoka County where he served for two years before moving to Marsing, Owyhee County, to lead extension education programs there for eight years. The agent moved to Ada County in 1983, serving the Boise area for two years before assuming the county chairmanship in Everett, Snohomish County, Washington.

He is author or co-author of numerous Extension publications and popular articles on beef cattle production, issues faced by farm and ranch families, and 4-H and youth development fundamentals.

Church received the Livestock Marketing Award from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA) and Chicago Mercantile Exchange in 1993. He was selected for a Farm Foundation Scholarship to attend Extension's Winter School in 1987 and received the NACAA Public Information Contest award in 1979.

His professional affiliations include NACAA, the Extension Honor Society, Epsilon Sigma Phi, the national agricultural fraternity, Alpha Zeta, and the state county agent organizations in both Washington and Idaho. Community activities include membership in Kiwanis, United Way of Snohomish County, and Lions Club.

He has served as a Marsing Idaho school district trustee, Saint Michael's Parish education board member, Snohomish County, among others.

Extension Service to hold irrigation conference in Amarillo next week

AMARILLO — The 29th annual High Plains Irrigation Conference and Trade Show has been scheduled Jan. 8 at the Civic Center, Third and Buchanan Streets, Amarillo.

The conference is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with a host of industry service companies. Leon New, agricultural engineer with the Extension Service coordinates the event each year.

"We strive to offer growers concise and timely information to help them manage water and crop production," New said. The conference theme 'Programmed to Help' encompasses a broad array of topics to be addressed by technical and production expert from Texas and other states where irrigation is practiced.

Producers can see the latest technology in equipment and services at the Trade Show. Conference registration begins at 8:30 a.m. with coffee and donuts.

A registration fee of $7 covers the cost for lunch.

Two continuing education units (CEUs), approved by the Texas Dept. of Agriculture, will be offer to private, commercial, and non-commercial pesticide applicators completing the day's program.

Potter County Extension Agent Jim Allison will serve as moderator of the morning program which starts at 9:25 a.m. Ken Glenn, general manager of Big T Pump Company of Hereford, will discuss what's next for idled pumps and wells on CRP lands.

Dr. Steve Amosson, Extension Service economist and specialist in farm management from Amarillo will address issues involving equitable tenant-landowner agreements.

Advance in satellite remote sensing technology to monitor crop growth patterns, including strategies for irrigation will be reviewed by Quentin Rund, regional leader for Resource 21 from Mansfield, IL. A brief question and answer session concludes each presentation throughout the day.

The noon break features a catered lunch and allows time for trade show tours.

The afternoon program, moderated by Jim Bob Reynolds, Hutchinson County agent, will resume at 1:30 p.m.

Managing irrigation capacity to fit crop water use will be discussed by New, a Texas A&M professor of agriculture engineering and Extension irrigation specialist from Amarillo.

Karl Johnson, a grower from Hutchinson County, will describe his operation located near Morse and how he manages crop production with current technology.

Extension agent Seth Ralston of Hartley County will moderate the final afternoon segment. Dr. Brent Bean, extension specialist in agronomy and weed science from Amarillo, will address opportunities to use new herbicide tolerant varieties for corn, soybean, and cotton production.

Dr. Carl Patrick, extension entomologist will present information on insect resistant crops. Patrick, also from Amarillo, will review the most recent studies involving genetically engineered crops, specifically Bt corn and Bt cotton, which were monitored in the field with Gaucho treated sorghum seed. He also will discuss future plans for insect resistance trials.

Broncos take fourth place in tournament

Clarendon's roundballers grabbed fourth place in the first annual Salt Fork Classic held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at Clarendon College.

The Broncos opened with a win over Amarillo River Road but dropped contests to Class 4A Dumas and Nazareth, who has made two consecutive trips to the state tournament.

"It was a very competitive tournament," head coach Jimmy Avery said. "We had some really tough games and playing these teams made us realize how much we'll have to step up our play for district."

Clarendon meets Canadian at 6 p.m. Dec. 31 in the Bronco gym and then loads the bus Friday for an 8 p.m. contest in Groom. District action begins Jan. 7 in Quanah.

"(Quanah) can really move the ball down the court," Avery said. "They're a good passing team, and they'll be tough to beat. We have to start playing at a higher level."

"Our pre-district schedule has been extremely difficult, and I think it has made us better."

Dean Stanzione and Brent Gaines paced the Broncos with 22 and 21 points apiece Thursday against River Road. Clarendon led 34-29 at halftime, and River Road got closer at the end of three quarters trailing 50-47.

"They had one kid (Justin Chancier) who was really tough to stop," Avery said. "He hit three 3s in the third quarter which brought them close."

Clarendon outscored the Wildcats 21-16 in the fourth quarter for the 71-63 win.

Scoring for the Broncos were Stanzione, 22; Gaines, 21; Roy Williams, 13; Kareem Abdullah, 9; Scotty Elliott, 4; and Jason Archuleta, 2.

The Broncos held close to Dumas Friday for two quarters before the Demons outscored Clarendon 25-12 in the third quarter.

Gaines hit three field goals while Williams hit two and a free throw in the second quarter to bring the Broncos to a 38-31 halftime deficit.

"Dumas really put pressure on us, and at times the game didn't look pretty," Avery said.

Dumas led 63-43 at the end of three quarters as Clarendon hit a dry spell. Williams hit two treys in the third quarter and added two field goals and three free throws in the final period.

Stanzione made two 3-pointers while Elliott and Abdullah added one apiece.

Scoring for the Broncos were Williams, 22; Gaines, 11; Stanzione, 9; Abdullah, 7; Elliott, 7; Archuleta, 6; and Shields, 3.

Clarendon had its worst shooting performance of the year - 31 percent - in their third place game with Nazareth.

"You can't shoot poorly and beat Nazareth," Avery said. "I think if we shot a little better, we would have been in the ball game with them."

The Swifts led 22-14 after the third quarter despite Williams' trey and field goal and three baskets and a free throw by Gaines. The Broncos suffered its worst quarter before halftime, putting in 11 points as Nazareth led 34-25 entering the locker room.

"Nazareth has a really good team," Avery said. "Part of the reason we shot so badly was because of their defense. They really put it on us. They don't do many things wrong."

Nathan Sears put in three baskets and a free throw while making many key rebounds in the fourth quarter. Shields was 2-for-2 from the free throw line while Gaines made a basket and two free throws in the final quarter.

"Defensively, it was a great effort on our part. We really hustled the entire game."

Scoring for the Broncos were Gaines, 21; Williams, 11; Sears, 7; Abdullah, 4; Archuleta, 3; Stanzione, 3; and Elliott, 1.

Wichita Falls defeated Dumas 84-69 in the final for first place in the tournament.

"All of the teams were really pleased with how the tournament was run," Avery said. "All of them indicated that they would like to come back."

"The college, including (president) Dr. Scott Elliott and coach (Joe) Mondragon, did a great job preparing and running this tournament. It was a very positive experience for Clarendon and did nothing but good in promoting our image."

Clarendon faces Canadian at 4:30 p.m. Dec. 31 in the Bronco gym. Their contest at Groom on Friday is slated for 6:30 p.m. Their match-up with Quanah will be at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 7 in Quanah.

"(Quanah) has a pretty good record, and we've seen some of their kids in the summer at Childress," head coach Steve Schmidt said. "There's some quality athletes."

The Lady Broncos led 13-5 after the first quarter and increased it to 35-11 before half. Junior Kasi Ashcraft was flawless, hitting a field goal and going 6-for-6 from the charity stripe. Corey Knorpp nailed three treys and three free throws.

Clarendon put the pressure on in the third quarter, taking a 51-16 lead. "I was just happy that we played better than we did after Christmas last year," Schmidt said. "It took a few games (last year) to get back into gear. I think we have more maturity."

Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Ashcraft, 22; Knorpp, 17; Melisse Campbell, 10; Stephanie Floyd, 9; Kim Alexander, 4; Jenny Roberts, 3; Laura Finch, 2; Cindy Hearn, 2; Mandy Weatheron, 2; and Nettie Wilson, 2.

Regular meetings are held on the first Thursday morning of each month.

Bulldogs to return to the basketball court
The Lady Bulldogs open up their second half of their season with a trip to the Western Texas Classic in Snyder Jan. 2-4.

The men's squad will meet Oklahoma Baptist College Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Clarendon.

Texas Cattle Feeders predicts favorable prices for beef consumers in 1997

Consumers will continue to enjoy favorable beef prices during 1997, thanks to ample competitive meat supplies and liquidation that will boost beef production.

"Retail beef prices averaged $2.78 per pound in 1996, down about 6 cents from last year," said Jim Gill, market director for the Texas Cattle Feeders Association in Amarillo. "With record or near record meat and poultry production expected in 1997, retail beef prices will probably continue to trend lower. It will probably be late 1997 or early 1998 before supplies will tighten enough to cause any substantial uptick in prices."

While that's good news for consumers, Gill's outlook for cattle prices is less enthusiastic, at least for the first half of 1997. Fed cattle prices will likely range from $62 to $66 per cwt. in the first quarter, $58 to $64 in the second, $63 to $68 in the third, and $68 to $72 in the fourth.

Feeder cattle supplies should level out, he predicts, and prices may rally in early 1997, reflecting recent decreases in corn prices. "But as corn prices trend higher in the spring, feeder prices will track lower into early summer."

Continued her liquidation will keep pressure on prices, he said, predicting beef production in 1997 will be near 25.7 billion pounds, 1% above the 25.5 billion pounds in 1996, and second only to the record 26.0 billion pounds in 1976. "This will be the seventh consecutive year of high beef production and will put per-capita consumption near 67 lb. on a retail weight basis."

In addition, pork and poultry will continue to offer stiff competition to beef prices. "Pork production in 1997 is expected to be near 17.3 billion pounds, up slightly from 1996's 17.1 billion pounds. Poultry production is expected to increase 3 percent to 32.6 billion pounds, compared with 31.6 billion pounds in 1996."

Bt cotton expectations too high for growers

CORPUS CHRISTIE — Bt cotton bollworms may not have been a cure-all for insects in its debut year, but a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist said that farmers' expectations also may have been too high.

The genetically-engineered cotton, otherwise known as Bt cotton, was promised to reduce insecticide use by more than 75 percent. It was grown commercially in Texas for the first time during the 1996 season, however, under certain conditions it did not work as well as had been expected, said Dr. John Benedict of Corpus Christi.

In studies conducted statewide in 1996 by the Experiment Station, Benedict found that Bt cotton still controlled 80 percent to 90 percent of the

If there's good news in cattlemen's outlook for next year, it's in grain prices. "Corn production in 1996 was estimated at 9.3 billion bushels, well above 1995's disappointing 7.4 billion bushel crop," Gill said. "The increased production finally brought some relief to cattle feeders who had paid more than $10 per cwt. - a 100 percent increase - for some corn during 1996. With Freedom to Farm taking effect in 1997, planted corn acreage is expected to increase as the spring planting season gets underway."

Southwest Outdoors

By Mel Phillips

Looking Back at 1996

It's that time of year when we look back and take stock of the state of affairs in the outdoor world. All things considered, 1996 was a good year for the great outdoors. Of course, some events will be missed more than others.

Some Things We Will Miss From 1996:

...The glee and genuine excitement of another generation of youngsters as they catch their first fish and hear those immortal words, "Keep the rod tip up and don't horse him."

...A kid's first hunting trip, complete with the usual rituals: target practice, several stern lectures on safety and gun etiquette, a long sleepless night before the hunt, and that first kill that signals the transition from child to adult.

...Watching in awe as $2 million is spent on roads, parking lots, fences, and docks, but not a dime is spent on improving fish habitat that would assure more fun for the average angler.

...Finally, I will miss the pancantry, buffoonery, and roccocotwaddle of the 1996 Presidential campaign. Proof, if needed, that any mother's child can become President.

Things We Will Not Miss From 1996:

...The high humor and wasted effort of the Amarillo City Commission as they attempt the thankless task of refining their latest version of the city ordinance that permits the killing of "all animals shielded from public view." George Orwell, where are you?

...The new, improved, and more expensive Texas hunting license - a monstrosity that only a bureaucrat could appreciate. The new license is proof that paying more can mean worse service.

...Certainly most anglers will not miss those pithy fishing reports that fill some newspapers with useful information like "Bass good early and late, sandbass fair, and catfish are slow. Few anglers on the lake." These reports rely on local marinas as the source of their information. When was the last time you stopped at a marina after a good fishing trip and told the operator which bait you were using?

...Listening to Federal employees explain why the public should be barred from visiting Buffalo Lake. With little water and few animals, they now want to determine which "approved" groups may visit the refuge.

Time and federal neglect have not been good for Buffalo Lake.

...My final contender for the top honor (dishonor) of thing we will miss from 1996 is the explanation why Lake Greenbelt needed to be stocked with an additional 3,000,000 walleye, but did not need any additional largemouth bass. Ahh, I love scientific explanations.

If you have suggestions for the good, the bad, and the ugly of 1996, drop me a line in care of this newspaper, and I will share some responses with our readers.

All things considered, 1996 was a very good year, and I can't wait for new adventures in the outdoor world in 1997.
