Homecoming festivities next week at CC

What do you get when you combine a Talent Show, crowning of royalty, a basketball game, and a pep rally? Homecoming '97 at Clarendon College.

This year's Homecoming Week has been scheduled for February 9-14. The festivities will kick-off with the second annual Community-Wide Talent Show on Sunday, February 9, in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Bldg. at 2 p.m. Open to all individuals, groups, and campus organizations, the show will feature comical, musical, and theatrical performances. There is no fee to participate, and no admission will be charged to attend this fun event. To sign-up, contact Michelle Schmidt at Clarendon College by Friday, February 7.

One of the highlights of Homecoming '97 will be the crowning of CC's Homecoming King and Queen. Members of various campus organizations will nominate their favorite male and female students for the King and Queen titles. The crowning will take place during the Bulldog games on Monday, February 10, at the gym.

Southern Nazarene University will travel to CC to play the nationally-ranked Bulldog teams.

The second annual Homecoming Pep Rally will begin at noon on Monday, February 10, in the Bairfield Activity Center. Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend all the events.

Lady Bulldogs to travel to Brownwood

The Clarendon College Lady Bulldogs pounded Southern Nazarene's Junior Varsity, 71-54, Jan. 27 in Bethany, Okla., but a return trip to Oklahoma was not as kind as Redlands got the best of the nationally ranked team, 78-62.

Clarendon travels to Brownwood Friday for a 3 p.m. tip-off with Howard Payne College's J.V. Southern Nazarene's J.V. will meet the Lady Bulldogs Monday at 6 p.m. in the Clarendon College Gym for a homecoming contest.

Clarendon led 27-21 at half and never let up in the second half against Southern Nazarene. Brandy Thomas paced Clarendon with 15 first-half points.

"They just played a little sluggish at the start and played well the second half," head coach Joel Zehr said.

Thomas bettered her first-half performance with 19 points in the second half.

Scoring for the Lady Bulldogs were Thomas, 34; Charmaine Alfred, 10; Trish Castillo, 8; Maria Hernandez, 8; Maxi Flores, 7; and Jodi Card, 4.

Redlands College led 34-33 at the half Jan. 30 in El Reno, Okla., and never relinquished the lead.

"It was a good first half, it was just a tough game from the get-go," Zehr said. "We weren't allowed to play our game."

Redlands shot 15 free throws in the first half while Clarendon was allowed six trips to the charity stripe.

Thomas was whistled for two fouls after scoring six points, and she never was able to get back into the flow of the game, Zehr said.

Alfred paced the Lady Bulldogs with 11 points the first half.

Scoring for the Lady Bulldogs were Alfred, 19; Card, 16; Flores, 7; Tiffany Wilcox, 4; Hernandez, 4; Jeanenne Tubbs, 3; and Castillo, 3.

The JV Lady Broncos won the White Deer Tournament recently after defeating longtime rivals Panhandle, Memphis, and Highland Park for the championship. The team's record is 14-6, and they are coached by Katie Vanzee.

Lady Broncs skin Panhandle

Lindsey Eads' 3-pointer with less than five minutes remaining sparked the Lady Broncos on a 31-12 run that would bury the Panhandle Pantherettes in a Friday match-up at home.

The win locked Clarendon's play-off berth with two games remaining.

Clarendon ends the season Friday with a 6:30 p.m. tip-off in Memphis.

Eads' trey was her only score of the game, but it was the biggest bucket of the evening. "I called it the spark-plug because as soon as that happened, that brought us within one," head coach Steve Schmidt said. "A big load was lifted. They could see it in our eyes that we were coming."

Clarendon led 26-24 at the half behind a balanced scoring attack but fell behind 43-39 at the end of three quarters.

"It was a game of streaks," Schmidt said. "We started out really strong, and they would come back with a run. Maybe we felt a little too comfortable."

Clarendon came alive on Eads' shot in the fourth quarter when they were down by six points as Clarendon outscored Panhandle 31-12.

"Our ball handlers (Melisse Campbell, Corey Knorpp, Cindy Hearn) did well against some really good pressure and the posts dominated inside too," Schmidt said.

"(Campbell) was 10-for-10 for her free throws (in the fourth quarter); she had been a 50 percent free throw shooter, but she hit them when we needed them."

Scoring for Clarendon were Kasi Ashcraft, 21; Campbell, 14; Knorpp, 11; Kim Alexander, 10; Nettie Wilson, 6; Stephanie Floyd, 5; and Eads, 3.

White Deer led 13-12 at the end of the first quarter Jan. 28 in the Antler Gym before Clarendon came alive, leading 34-20 at h.a.ftime. Campbell had 12 points in the first half to lead the Lady Broncos.

Clarendon outscored the Does 19-13 in the third quarter as Campbell hit two treys and a field goal for a 53-33 advantage.

"They ran a defense to concentrate on our inside game, and (Campbell), who hadn't been a big scoring threat, stepped up and shot five 3-pointers. It was nice not to have to depend on one or two (players to score), but we have many who can handle the scoring load."

Scoring for the Lady Broncos in the 65-46 win were Campbell, 22; Ashcraft, 10; Wilson, 8; Knorpp, 7; Eads, 5; Alexander, 4; Floyd, 4; Hearn, 3; and Laura Finch, 2.

Jamboree to celebrate first anniversary

The February 8th show will mark the first anniversary for the Saints' Roost Jamboree.

The Jamboree had its debut in February, 1996, in the old Bivens Building before a capacity crowd. After three months in the Bivens Building the jamboree moved to the Bairfield Activity Center on the Clarendon College Campus. The shows in November and December were held in the Clarendon Community Center; then in January the show returned to the Bairfield Building.

The Jamboree has endured various weather extremes such as winds strong enough to blow you down, torrential rainfall, and the January show went on as scheduled in spite of the extreme cold temperatures and snowfall all day and night.

The largest crowd in attendance has been over 300, and the smallest crowd was seventeen hardy souls during the snowstorm in January.

The Saints' Roost Band will be performing this weekend at the Jamboree in the Bairfield Activity Center.

Saints' Roost Jamboree has had so much support from the community. The audiences have been great, and the Clarendon businesses have been so generous in donating door prizes and also for sponsoring the show. The bands that have performed for the show have been very generous with their time and talent. The local people have also shared their talent on the Talent Segment of the jamboree.

The committee of six people who are responsible for the Saints' Roost Jamboree are Wanda Beddingfield, Bobby Ellerbrook, Patsy Hill, Wesley Thomas, Betty Thomas, and Don Willingham. The committee looks forward to a bright future for the show and asks for your continued support.

Come and join us on February 8 for our anniversary show. Appearing in February will be Now and Again and The Gospel Chords, plus the talent show.

Thanks to Boys Scout Volunteers

by Ron Boyd, Golden Spread Council

As the Boy Scouts of America celebrates its 87th anniversary on February 8, we commend the countless volunteers who have donated their time and energy to support people in the Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting, Exploring and Learning for Life programs. The invaluable lessons that are taught in Scouting to young people are made possible only through the unselfish sacrifice and caring of volunteers.

The Golden Spread Council has 2,175 volunteers who serve 123 Cub Scout packs, 85 Boy Scout Troops, 65 Explorer posts, and 11 Learning for Life groups. We'd like to take time out to tell the volunteers of the Golden Spread Council how much we appreciate their hard work and dedication to the youth in our communities. Thank you for keeping the Scouting program strong and effective for 87 years.

You obviously understand the old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." For more than 87 years, good people like you have taken the time to use the Scouting program as a remedy for the social ills America's youth face. You have helped save them from the dangers of drugs, gang violence, teen pregnancy, vandalism, etc. Thanks to contributions from people like you, thousands of youngsters have gained personal values, self-confidence, leadership, and life skills that are helping them grow into strong role models for the next generation.

It is not surprising to note that approximately 50 percent of the members of the 104th United States Congress (2nd Session) have participated in Scouting. Of the 233 US astronauts, 133 were once Scouts, 33 of them Eagle Scouts. Of men in Who's Who in America, 70 percent were once Scouts. Scouting develops leadership, and you the volunteers make that development happen!

Thank you for being a part of our dynamic team of volunteers who make a difference in the lives of America's youth and tomorrow's leaders.

Ron Boyd is the President of the Golden Spread Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Sharp says extended driver's licenses can put Texas on road to better customer service, significant savings

By John Sharp, Comptroller of Public Accounts

Few Texans look forward to the prospect of getting a new driver's license and not just because they know they'll have to carry yet another unflattering photograph around for the next four years. The fact is that applying for a driver's license, or renewing one, is a time-consuming, irritating, and increasingly expensive hassle. It's also an unnecessary one.

Modern technology has effectively eliminated the need for regularly updated driver's licenses. The Department of Public Safety (DPS) and the vast majority of local law enforcement agencies now use computer records to verify each Texas motorist's license. Current licenses already employ both magnetic stripe and bar-code technology to allow officers to instantly check a driver's eligibility to operate a vehicle.

DPS processes 4.2 million new applications and renewal forms each year, issuing drivers temporary licenses until their "permanent" versions arrive in the mail weeks later. It costs $1.2 million a year to mail new or renewed licenses to Texas motorists, an amount that will continue to rise as more youngsters reach the legal age and more folks move here from out-of-state.

All the elements are in place to offer Texans better customer service and taxpayer savings through extended driver's licenses, with required updates every 12 years - free of charge.

The new system should feature an adjusted fee structure:

- $85 for drivers aged 18 to 24
- $75 for those aged 25-34
- $60 for anyone between 35 and 44
- $40 for drivers aged 45 to 49
- $20 for those aged 50 to 54
- $16 for qualified drivers over the age of 55

This new fee structure will save individual motorists a lot. For each age group, the extended license will be cheaper than the current $16 charge for renewal every four years. For example, an 18 year old paying the $85 fee will be covered for 42 years, as opposed to the $16 he or she would owe over the same period under the present system.

Along with these extended driver's licenses, Texas should also offer the convenience of on-site issuance, which will also cut the costs of postage and processing. Immediately after applicants successfully complete their driving exams, they should receive their extended licenses. This will eliminate walk-in traffic and long lines in DPS offices, free up personnel for more urgent law enforcement matters, and save taxpayers $487 million over the next five years.

The move toward extended driver's licenses is already evident in other states, especially Arizona, where licenses are valid until motorists turn 60, after which drivers are required to renew their licenses every five years. By late this summer, all Grand Canyon State drivers are expected to have extended licenses, a prospect that has proved popular among drivers and state troopers.

The time is right for Texas, too. Extended driver's licenses would be more efficient, just as secure, a whole lot cheaper for individual motorists, and far less expensive for Texas taxpayers overall.

Letters

Dear Editor;

The State of Texas has 144 elected prosecutors whose salary is paid by the state. State law provides these 144 prosecutors be paid from either of two appropriation provisions. If a prosecutor has a private practice in addition to his elected position, the state paid salary is pre-set at approximately $68,000. If he performs his elected duties on a full time basis without a private practice, the state paid salary is pre-set at a higher amount. The pay increase associated with the district having a designated full time prosecutor comes from the State and not the county budgets.

Currently, 124 (86%) of these 144 officials are performing as full time prosecutors and being compensated by the state as such. That number is increasing. Of the 19 who are eligible to have a private practice in addition to their elected position, three have asked this legislative session to be considered full-time: District Attorney's from the 50th, 88th, and the 100th Judicial District. A fourth is going to ask this session and another has chosen to make this election at the next legislative session.

For the two years I have been your district attorney, I have worked full time as such and foregone any private practice. Punishments have increased and the pending case load has been reduced.

You, the constituents of the 100th judicial district, have twice had the option of choosing between a candidate who wanted to be district attorney and maintain a private practice OR one who would perform the elected duties full time. Both times the majority has chosen the full time candidate, myself.

I appreciate the opportunity to work for you. I invite anyone with questions to contact me, or I will be glad to address any group.

Randall C. Sims,
District Attorney for the 100th Judicial District

Gramm lends backing to IRA expansion

Washington - US Sen. Phil Gramm, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, is pushing bipartisan legislation that would expand individual retirement accounts to all working Americans, saying it will encourage personal savings.

Gramm is co-sponsoring the Savings and Investment Act of 1997, which would create a "Super IRA," one that is fully deductible for all Americans without income limits, allows penalty-free early withdrawals if the funds are used for a first-time home purchase, or for educations, unemployment, or medical expenses.

"I want to encourage people to work so we can put America to work, so we can create more jobs, more growth, and more opportunity," Gramm said.

Specifically, the senator said, the

Cattle Raisers celebrate 120 years

Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association will mark its 120th year of service to the cattle industry in 1997. To celebrate, the annual convention and trade show will be held at the home of association headquarters - Fort Worth, a city famous for its cowboy influence and old West heritage. About 3,000 cattle raisers and their families are expected to attend.

The 120th Anniversary Convention and 22nd Annual Trade Show, March 23-26, will offer the best in education and entertainment and provide an excellent forum for policy-making and information-sharing, says TSCRA President Chaunce O. Thompson, Jr., a rancher from Breckenridge.

Business meetings, the trade show, a silent auction, and various entertainment events will be held at the Fort Worth/Tarrant County Convention Center.

On Monday, Dave Thomas, founder and spokesman of Wendy's fast food chain and star of their popular TV commercials, will share his unique and inspiring success story during the kickoff luncheon.

Tuesday's luncheon speaker is world-renowned author, consultant, and humorist Doc Blakely, who will offer light-hearted advice for improving business.

Agricultural economist Bill

Helming will share his economic forecast for the beef cattle industry. He will also discuss the current government beef grading system and tell why he thinks it should be eliminated.

Convention-goers will also hear from John Hill, Jr., former Texas secretary of state, Texas attorney general, and chief justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, and Max Deets, president-elect of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association from Beloit, Kansas.

Governor George W. Bush has been invited to share his insights on important state issues, particularly property tax relief and water policy.

Current issues involving agricultural research, animal health, theft prevention, state and federal legislation, and natural resources will be discussed in committee meetings.

This year's trade show will feature exhibitors from across the country showcasing the latest advancements from the ranching industry. An added feature this year is the Cattle Raisers Trading Co., which will offer an assortment of western merchandise with a TSCRA theme.

A lively entertainment agenda is also planned for the four-day event. On Sunday night, TSCR Foundation will hold a gala and silent auction, featuring country and western star Jo Dee Messina. Texas actor Barry Corbin, well-known for his role as Maurice on the TV show Northern Exposure, will perform a one-man show as legendary rancher Charles Goodnight at a dinner theater Monday night. On Tuesday, cattle raisers can kick up their heels to the tunes of the Johnnie High Country Revue.

Gov. Bush talks to farmers, ranchers at Texas Farm Bureau Conference

"If you have to have a tax, everybody ought to pay a little," Governor George W. Bush told an appreciative audience of farmers and ranchers at the Texas Farm Bureau Leadership Conference held January 28, 1997.

Bush delivered a luncheon address at the Farm Bureau meeting shortly after he completed his State-of-the-State address Tuesday morning. In that annual address in the House chamber, the governor proposed sweeping changes in the method by which the state finances public education.

"In Texas, we tax capital and producers, and we don't tax a lot of other people, and that's not right," Bush told the Farm Bureau audience.

The governor proposed a $3 billion cut in property taxes, to be replaced by a package of alternate taxes meant to more evenly distribute the tax burden throughout the state economy. In the state-of-the-state message, he called for the proceeds of these taxes to be placed in an educational trust fund. He told the Farm Bureau members that "every dime" of lost property tax revenue would be replaced from the fund. The governor also suggested that state lottery revenue be placed in the educational trust fund.

Texas Farm Bureau President Bob Stallman said that farmers and ranchers have backed the concept of property tax relief even before Bush first announced his goals early last year. "Our members are among the unfortunate group that carries a large part of the burden of education funding," Stallman said. "We support the Governor's efforts and applaud his courage in addressing the issue."

The centerpiece of the Bush plan is an increase in the property tax homestead exemption from $5,000 to $25,000. He also proposed a 20 cent per $1,000 in value rollback in property tax rates.

The governor hopes to pay for property tax relief by calling for a one half per cent increase in the state sales tax, increases in motor vehicle taxes, a new tax on business activity, and by spending $1 billion of the state surplus.

By imposing the "Texas Business Tax," Bush suggested that the tax burden would be distributed more evenly and "more closely track the economic activity of the state."

The plan also calls for a $500,000 exemption from the Texas Business Tax, which the governor said is needed to promote entrepreneurial activity.

Stallman, who served on Governor Bush's Citizen's Committee for Property Tax Relief, said the Farm Bureau would work with Bush and other state officials to implement meaningful relief for property taxpayers.

"We are concerned about this problem on two levels," Stallman said. "Agriculture is paying more than its fair share, but the property tax is clearly inadequate to fund our public schools."

"The children of farm families attend these schools. With a declining base and increases in rates, the property tax is no longer up to the job," Stallman said.

Panthers claw Broncos in tough game CHS power lifting team places in Pampa meet

The Broncos ran over White Deer, 74-54, Jan. 24 in the Antler Gym, but they dropped a 55-41 contest to a tough Panhandle squad Friday in Clarendon.

Clarendon ends its regular season with an 8 p.m. match-up Friday in Memphis. Results of their Tuesday tilt with Wellington were not available at press time.

"Memphis is playing really well right now," head coach Jimmy Avery said. "They have one of their starters back, and they'll be ready to play us. We need to win this game no matter what happens against Wellington (Tuesday)."

Clarendon holds a 7-1 record in District 2-2A at press time. Panhandle and Wellington are close behind with 6-2 records.

Poor shooting plagued Clarendon in their highly anticipated match-up with Panhandle. The Broncos shot 25 percent from the field and started off the game 1-for-23 ending the first quarter behind, 8-4.

Panhandle increased the lead to 24-13 at halftime.

"Our shots weren't falling," Avery said. "Part of the reason was Panhandle's defense. They were all over us and did a good job. When we did shoot, it would just circle around the rim and fall out. It was just one of those nights."

The Panthers pushed the lead to 40-23 at the end of three quarters, but Clarendon would not play dead and cut the lead to below 10 in the final period.

"We didn't have a great shooting night, but our guys played hard the entire game. They never let up and they never gave up. They played with a lot of heart, and I can't ask for anything more out of them," Avery said.

Scoring for the Broncos were Brent Gaines, 14; Dean Stanzione, 13; Kareem Abdullah, 6; Scotty Elliott, 3; Roy Williams, 3; and Nathan Sears, 2.

Clarendon had an easier time with White Deer leading 17-11 after the first quarter behind Abdullah's two treys and a free throw. They pushed the lead to 43-22 at halftime behind Gaines' 11 points and Stanzione and Abdullah's five points apiece.

"We played with a lot of intensity," Avery said. "We shot the ball well against a big team."

Clarendon rolled to a 58-34 advantage after three quarters en route to the 74-54 win.

Scoring for the Broncos were Williams, 18; Stanzione, 15; Gaines, 14; Abdullah, 14; Elliott, 6; Scott Bivens, 4; and Sears, 3.

Clarendon's powerlifting squad finished sixth out of 11 teams, including eight Class 4A teams Saturday at the Pampa Invitational.

Three Class 2A teams competed in the meet, according to head coach Darryl Cash.

Clarendon travels to Petersburg Saturday for their second meet of the season and hosts their own invitational Feb. 15 in the Clarendon gym. Volunteers are needed for the meet and anyone interested in assisting is asked to contact Cash at the Junior High School.

The Clarendon meet gets underway at 9:30 a.m. and will wrap up around 3 p.m.

More than 240 athletes competed in the meet that took the best effort in the dead lift, the squat, and the bench. The three best scores in each category are compiled for the highest total.

Jeremy Shelley was Clarendon's top finisher beating out 42 lifters in the 132-pound category. "He almost was able to compete in the 123 lb. class," Cash said.

He squatted 300 lbs., benched 170 lbs. and lifted 355 lbs. in the dead lift.

"He could have done more, but that's all he had to do to win," Cash said.

Wes Ritchie finished fifth overall in the 148 lb. class of 42 lifters, lifting 370 lbs. in the dead lift; 280 lbs. in the squat; and 155 lbs. on the bench.

"Several others did real well," Cash said. "Robert Bertrand and Oren Shields finished in the top 15 out of 63 lifters in the 165 lb. class. James Hoggatt and Josh Allred both finished in the top 20 in the same."

Freshman Hunter Spier set some personal records in the 198 lb. class, and Parker Kerlee and Garrett Bains competed well for their first meet of the year, Cash said.

JV Lady Broncos beat White Deer, 30-26

Clarendon's junior varsity girls squad wrapped up their second-to-last week of the season by beating White Deer, 30-26, and dropping a close 34-32 contest to Panhandle.

Their season ends with a 4 p.m. road trip to Memphis Friday.

The Lady Broncos raced to an 11-2 first quarter lead and held a 19-9 halftime advantage at intermission Jan. 28 in the Antler Gym. America Santos drilled two treys while Paula Jackson and Niki Carter added four points apiece.

Clarendon lost some offensive momentum in the second half, scoring 12 points to White Deer's 17. Catherine Chamberlain led all scorers with two baskets in the final period. Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Santos, 8; Carter, 6; Chamberlain, 5; Jackson, 5; Lindsay Green, 4; Stephanie Smith, 2; and Jannah Mondragon, 1.

The Lady Broncos led early, 9-6, in the first quarter against Panhandle behind Green's two field goals and built the lead to 18-14 at halftime.

Clarendon matched Panhandle point for point in the third period as Clarendon led 24-20. But Panhandle's offense began firing away and outscored the Lady Broncos 14-8 in the final quarter, eeking by Clarendon, 34-32.

Tonya Wilson dumped in three baskets in the fourth period.

Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Wilson, 13; Carter, 7; Green, 6; Jill Hicks, 2; Kala Holland, 2; and Santos, 2.

JV Broncos

The junior varsity Broncos dropped two tough contests to White Deer and Panhandle but showed vast improvements in their level of play since the beginning of the season.

The Bucks edged Clarendon, 56-47, Jan. 28 in the White Deer Gym while Panhandle took advantage of missed free throws to squeak by the Broncos, 61-54, Friday in the Bronco gym.

They wrap up their season Friday with a 5 p.m. tip-off against Memphis in the Cyclone Gym.

Carey Thornberry paced the Broncos with a team-high 10 points in their contest with White Deer, making 4-for-4 from the charity stripe in the first half.

Pat Church added three field goals while Chris Bruce and Keith Kidd added four points the first half as White Deer led, 35-25.

Clarendon made some headway in the third period, outscoring White Deer, 8-6, but the Bucks held onto a 41-33 lead.

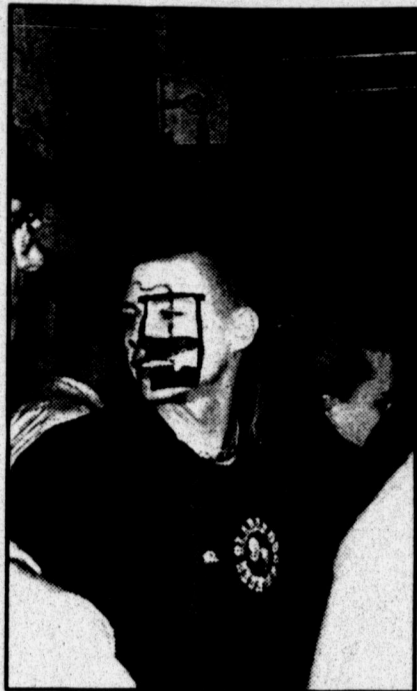

The Broncos caused White Deer to turn the ball over on several successions during a hard press in the fourth quarter, getting within a handful but fell short in the end, 56-47.

Scoring for the Broncos were Thornberry, 10; Kidd, 8; Brandon Word, 7; Church, 6; Bruce, 5; Chris Linquist, 4; Jr. Rodriguez, 3; Aaron Jeffers, 2; and D.J. Edwards, 2.

Kidd and Bruce combined for 24 points in their 61-54 loss to Panhandle as the Panthers led 34-23 at halftime. But the Broncos outscored Panhandle, 16-13, in the third quarter as they trailed, 47-39. Zach Butts and Church contributed four points apiece.

The Broncos were 6-for-17 from the free throw line in the fourth quarter as Panhandle ran to a 61-54 win.

Scoring for the Broncos were Kidd, 12; Bruce, 12; Butts, 10; Church, 8; Thornberry, 6; Linquist, 2; Rodriguez, 2; and Word, 2.

Some people are more dedicated Bronco fans than others. CHS' Gabe Irving showed the world his enthusiasm for the Broncos with his creative face paint and hair-do at last Friday's game with Panhandle.

Check It Out

By Mary Beth Nelson

What do you think when Laura Ingalls Wilder, the author is mentioned? I'm almost certain many would join me in answering Little House on the Prairie book or TV series. I was delighted when the Burton Memorial Librarian, Mary Green, showed me Words From a Fearless Heart, a compilation edited by Stephen W. Hines of Wilder's philosophical ideas and attitudes concerning life. Brief stories and anecdotes are charmingly quoted in her own words. The book's entertaining content offers insight into this beloved author's view of the world, nation, and people around her. It reveals more than a hint of the type of person Wilder was, making it clear why her writings are appreciated by so many.

A book which held surprisingly interest for me is Living, Loving, and Learning, a collection of inspiring lectures by Professor of Education at University of Southern California, Leo Buscaglia, Ph.D. He points out that the only thing of value that we can give to our children and to others is not external things, but what we are. "It is only from the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye." The message of the book really makes the reader think. Speaking for myself, there have been times in which I've allowed myself to be caught up in trying to accomplish too many things at once. To say this resulted in frustration and tenseness is an understatement. Has anyone else experience that feeling? At such times, it might be well to remember a quote from another author, Paul Reys, and related by Buscaglia. "Thinking five to six thoughts at once, we train to keep chronically tense. Everywhere we find training in tenseness. Nowhere do we find training in ease and happiness. Poor man, created to befriend all creatures, does not even befriend himself."

Professor Buscaglia emphasizes the importance of liking ourselves where we are now. Yesterday is gone and tomorrow is not yet here. Our mistakes, shortcomings, and transgressions must be faced. It is the wise person who does not avoid the negative in life and discovers the value in learning from it.

To me, so many of Mr. Buscaglia's positive thoughts concerning teaching one's self to love, to appreciate and recognize potential of each unique individual, to make the most of our "good" which comes from within, can be summarized in his following statement: "Life is a gift from God; our gift to Him is the way we live it." What could be more true? Why not check it out?

Happy are those who have reverence for the Lord, who live by his commands. Psalm 128:1

Come to me, all of you who are tired from carrying heavy loads, and I will give you rest. Matthew 11:28

The Lion's Tale

By Gene Alderson

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, February 4, 1997, at the Lions Hall. Fourteen members, three guests, and pianist Clayton Ferris enjoyed a very delicious meal before the meeting was called to order by Boss Lion Todd Knorpp.

Following the regular opening ceremony, Lion Tamer Henson introduced Jimmy Blackerby, General Manager at Chamberlain Motor Company, and Jerry Don Makie, salesman at Chamberlain Motor Company. They were both the guests of Lion Trey Chamberlain.

The program was brought by Tommie Saye, who is the Scouting Unit Committee Chairman in Clarendon. He has worked in various capacities in scouting since 1960. He told the group that Scott Bivens would be receiving his God and Life award during the Sunday morning service at the First United Methodist Church in Clarendon on February 9, 1997. The service will begin at 10:40 a.m.

Scott will be the 71st God and Country recipient from Troop 433. The God and Country Award has been divided into a series of awards including God and Me for younger scouts, God and Family, God and Church, and God and Life. Scott will be the only local scout to have received all four awards. He is also an Eagle Scout. Congratulations Scott.

Mrs. Saye also informed those present that when all scouting groups in Clarendon (including Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Brownie Scouts, and Explorer Scouts), 104 awards of the God and Country type have been earned. There are currently 13 churches working together for the youth of Clarendon to help them to earn these awards.

The club extended best wishes to Lion Wilbert Bernabe on his 75th birthday, and the meeting was adjourned.

Bulldogs to battle PSU JV team

The Clarendon College Bulldogs won one and lost one last week as they prepare for a Thursday home contest against Panhandle State University's Junior Varsity squad and a Monday homecoming match-up with Southern Nazarene's J.V.

The Thursday tilt with Panhandle State begins at 7 p.m. while the homecoming match tips off at 8 p.m.

Marlon Green paced the Bulldogs with 14 points in the first half to push Clarendon to a 47-36 halftime advantage.

"Most of it was off transition from our defense," head coach Joe Mondragon said of Green's scoring. "He did a good job of shooting the ball."

Wendell Harris was the big man for the Bulldogs in the second half when he grabbed several offensive rebounds for points and made a couple of dunks for eight points. "He was hitting the glass really hard," Mondragon said.

Clarendon rolled to a 95-73 win. "It was a good chance to play everybody," he said. "All the kids played. Both teams played really well, but we really stepped up on the defensive end and worked hard. It's always hard to play on the road, but we did a good job of taking control of the game."

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Green, 20; Jason Kinney, 14; Kimmitt Brigham, 11; Harris, 10; Bryan Shed, 10; Angel Otero, 8; Ryan Ross, 7; Sam McLeod, 3; Kedrick Monson, 3; Lawrence Bailey, 3; Jamie Carter, 2; Corey Fields, 2; and Antonio Williams, 2.

Clarendon had a much tougher time against Redlands College Jan. 30 in El Reno, Okla., as Redlands ran to a 36-25 halftime advantage and never looked back in their 73-63 win.

"They stayed in a zone and we couldn't shoot. The ball just didn't fall. They forced us to shoot outside. We had the shots, and they didn't fall."

Kinney knocked in three treys in the second half that pulled the Bulldogs within four or five points a couple of times, Mondragon said.

"When you get on the road you've got to play above the obstacles. We didn't do it."

Scorers were Kinney, 16; Harris, 10; Shed, 9; Fields, 8; Green, 7; Otero, 5; Brigham, 3; Williams, 3; and Ross, 2.

"Winter Fishing Can Be Great In The Panhandle"

Winter on the High Plains is not the best time for catching limits of largemouth bass, but anglers willing to endure the radical changes in our weather are fortunate to have several species of gamefish that actually prefer the cold water temperatures that now dominate the lakes in our region.

In fact, if you are interested in catching trophy smallmouth and huge walleye, now is a great time to bundle up and go fishing. Thanks to the new 70 mph speed limits, lakes that contain healthy populations of these hardy gamefish and are within a two-and-half hour drive of Amarillo include Lake Meredith, Lake Greenbelt, Lake White River (east of Lubbock), the new Lake Palo Duro (near Spearman), New Mexico's Ute Lake and Lake Conchas, and Oklahoma's Lake Foss.

The biggest problem with walleye and smallmouth bass is that they are most active (and shallow) during the months of February, March, and April, when sudden brutal cold fronts can make fishing unpleasant and dangerous. Always, wear your life jacket and pack plenty of extra clothing.

Nighttime is prime time for catching big walleye and smallmouth bass. Dark is good, dark with heavy wind is better, and believe it or not, a cold front with gusty winds that arrives after midnight is considered to be the ideal condition for catching trophies over five pounds.

As a rule of thumb, the smallmouths will be about ten feet shallower than the walleye. Both species prefer rocky points with lots of wind-generated current. Start your search at 40 feet.

Stabilizing your boat with a pair of anchors is one of the keys to detecting the subtle bits of wintertime smallmouths and walleye. A heavy anchor in the front of the boat should be tied off with rope that is three times longer than the depth of the water. A second (and lighter weight) anchor in the stern of the boat will keep your rig from swinging up and down the main lake point. In fact, an expert angler like Melvin Stoval of Fritch will spend more time watching his electronics and setting his anchors than he spends catching a limit of fish.

The second key to successful winter fishing is learning how to use very light fishing lines. The new super lines like Spiderwire 2000 and Berkley's FireLine are excellent choices. Super lines that are rated at 10 pounds will have the same diameter as 4 pound monofilament and will remain limp and easy to cast even when the temperature falls below freezing.

Rods should be very limber, and shorter (5'6") is better than those extra long bass rods. An old style fiberglass rod loaded with the new super lines is an excellent choice. Several manufacturers have re-introduced fiberglass "cranking" rods.

Finally, be sure to loosen the drag on your reel because both walleye and smallmouths will make at least one desperate run when they see the boat. Good luck, and good fishing.

TDHS announces availability of the Summer Food Service Program

The Texas Department of Human Services (TDHS) announces the availability of the Summer Food Service Program to eligible organizations next summer.

Federal funds are budgeted to operate the program. These funds are appropriated through the United States Department of Agriculture. The program provides meals to children from needy areas when schools are closed for vacation. The program is to be offered without discrimination due to race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, religion, or political beliefs.

Service institutions eligible to sponsor the program include public or non-profit organizations, residential summer camps, and local, municipal or county governments. Service institutions should contact TDHS for more information about the program training schedule. Applications should be received by April 15, 1997.

Service institutions may subcontract with food service management companies to provide meals. To be eligible to bid for contracts for the Summer Food Service Program, food service management companies must be registered with TDHS. Applications for registration will be mailed to companies that were registered in 1995 and 1996. Other food service management companies may request an application by calling the telephone number listed below. Applications for registration must be received by March 15, 1997.

The geographical service areas extend statewide. Donley county was one of the counties identified as having high service need.

Organizations interested in sponsoring a summer feeding program should call Jimmie Mitchell at (512) 467-5870 or write to the Texas Department of Human Services, Special Nutrition Programs Y-906, P.O. Box 149030, Austin, Texas 78714-9030, Attention: Jimmie Mitchell.

Senate passes stalking bill, hears Bush's State of the State Address

Austin - Senate Bill (SB) 97, the stalking bill, is finally on its way to the governor's desk. On Monday, January 27, after reviewing several amendments added to the bill, the Senate unanimously concurred with the House of Representatives. The bill's author, Fort Worth Senator Mike Moncrief, now believes that a strong piece of legislature is being sent to the governor, one that will truly protect Texans against the crime of stalking. The governor is expected to officially sign the bill on Thursday, January 30.

"We share a love for this great state, a deep desire to do what is right for the People of Texas." - Governor George Bush

Governor Bush delivered his second State of the State address on Tuesday, January 28, to a Joint Session of the 75th Legislature. In his speech, he passionately spoke of literacy among children, urging the people of Texas to take initiative by funding reading academies. He spoke of welfare reform commenting, "I envision a welfare system where recipients are not passive receivers of handouts, but proactive holders of a voucher redeemable for child care or job training..."

Governor Bush recommended lowering local school property tax rates based on a "fair, broad-based, credible plan that is not a personal income tax." He proposed raising the Constitutional homestead exemption from $5,000 to $25,000 and eliminating the school tax on business inventory. He suggested increasing the state sales tax and motor vehicle tax each by 1/2 cent. He also proposed to pass a new Business Activity Tax, repeal the state franchise tax, and dedicate all the proceeds from the lottery to the school trust.

Finally, Governor Bush addressed the legislators, urging them to

"check any partisan differences at the doors of these chambers and work together for the good of all our citizens."

"Governor Bush has challenged us to lower local school property taxes by increasing the state's share of funding for our public schools," Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock said in response to the governor's address. "I share his goal to cut local taxes and view this as a great opportunity and not as one of the great unsolved mysteries of Texas."

Senator Rodney Ellis of Houston and Senator Judith Zaffirini of Laredo sponsored Senate Resolution (SR) 79 that proclaimed Wednesday, January 29, as Children's Advocacy Day. A day of celebration and commitment to children, the event is sponsored by state and local organizations which together represent thousands of Texans from every walk of life. Children from all over the state toured the capitol complex, visited their senators' offices and participated in mock committee meetings in which they proposed their own "necessary" bills.

Also sponsored by Senator Zaffirini was SR 59, a resolution which recognizes the 100th anniversary celebration of George Washington's Birthday. The citizens of Laredo and the Washington's Birthday Celebration Association have celebrated this holiday since 1898. A highlight of the event is the Abrazos ceremony in which four children, two from the United States and two from Mexico, meet at the midpoint of the international bridge in Laredo and hug to symbolize the relationship between the two countries. This year, the celebration of 26 events runs from February 13-23.

Students, parents, and teachers from twelve Texas school districts participated in the second annual Capitol Schoolhouse event Wednesday which demonstrates how advanced technology is used in schools. This occasion gave legislators a first hand look at how their technology is helping students learn.

The member of the Texas Senate Interim Committee on managed care and Consumer Protections filed a package of six bills on Thursday, January 30. The package seeks to revamp managed care regulations by assuring accessible, affordable, quality care to Texans who enroll in managed health care plans. "The expansion of the managed care industry has brought quality, affordable health care to more Texans," said Senator David Sibley of Waco, chairman of the interim committee. "These six bills provide safeguards to protect consumers as this industry grows. At the same time, the committee believes the bills are fair to the managed care industry." Highlights of the bill include increased accountability on the HMO, an HMO report card, and increased patient conidentiality.

SB 250, which seeks to repeal the mandatory release of prison inmates, was passed out of the Senate on Thursday, January 30. The constitutionality of the bill and fiscal cost of its plan was the center of a brief debate, after which the bill was unanimously passed.

In other news, the Senate welcomed its newly elected member, Steve Ogden, a former Texas representative from Bryan. Ogden will represent District 5. Also, Governor Bush officially signed SB 36, the stalking bill.

The Senate reconvened at noon on Monday, February 3.

Lady Colts beat Memphis

Clarendon's seventh grade girls had no trouble with Memphis, putting them away early Jan. 27 at home. The Lady Colts ran to an 11-0 first quarter lead and extended it to 20-8 at halftime before cruising to a 33-18 win.

Kelley Lemley paced Clarendon with six points in the first half as Claire Rodriguez contributed five, and April Bryley added four.

But it was the Lemley show in the third quarter as she knocked in three field goals and a 3-pointer. Emily Simpson contributed a field goal, and Bryley hit a basket to end the game.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were Lemley, 15; Bryley, 6; Rodriguez, 5; Simpson, 4; Erica Smith, 2; and Megan Roberts, 1.

Clarendon ended its season Monday with a road contest against Wellington. Game results will be available in next week's edition.

Eighth Grade Girls

The eighth grade Lady Colts romped to a 37-22 win over Memphis Jan. 27 in the Bronco Gym and captured second place in last weekend's Shamrock Tournament.

Their season ended Monday with a game on the road in Wellington. Results were not available at press time.

Courtney Newhouse led all scorers with six points in the first quarter while Geraldine Butler added four for a 14-6 lead over Memphis.

Memphis outscored Clarendon 4-3 in the second quarter but the Lady Colts led 17-10 at halftime.

Clarendon reeled off eight points and held Memphis to two in the third period for a 25-12 entering the fourth quarter.

Newhouse added two field goals and a free throw while Sarah Kidd, Tosha Carter and Elizabeth Simmons put in buckets.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were Newhouse, 13; Butler, 6; Shannon Cooper, 5; Lindsey Shelton, 4; Jamie Sawyer, 3; Kidd, 2; Carter, 2; and Simmons, 2.

The Lady Colts fought back from a 14-13 halftime deficit against Wellington before reeling off 16 points in the third quarter to take a 29-19 lead entering the final period Jan. 30 in the Shamrock Tournament.

Butler knocked in six baskets in the third quarter effort as Kidd and Sawyer added a bucket apiece.

Wellington outscored Clarendon, 11-8, in the fourth quarter, but it was too little too late for the Lady Skyrockets.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were Butler, 19; Simmons, 5; Sawyer, 4; Newhouse, 3; Kidd, 2; Carter, 2; and Cooper, 2.

Shamrock raced to a 12-6 first quarter lead in the championship round of the tournament. Butler knocked in two field goals while Shelton and Newhouse each contributed a free throw.

Shamrock led 18-10 at halftime and never let up. Clarendon gained some ground in the third quarter, trailing 25-18, but could not score in the final period for a 32-22 loss.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were Butler, 8; Carter, 4; Newhouse, 3; Shelton, 3; Cooper, 2; and Danielle Holden, 2.

Seminar offers five CEUs for Right-of-Way/Vegetation Management

Right-of-Way pesticide applicators can earn five continuing education units (CEUs) by attending a seminar sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture on Monday, February 10, in Amarillo.
