This road project was presented as the No. 1 project for the county. In a telephone conversation Friday with Herb Petty, Chm. of the Highway Commission, Mr. Petty stated that the local group made a very good presentation of the project and stated that the commission would give the project consideration just as soon as road money is appropriated by the legislature and their new program of allotments for districts is set up.

All interested in this road project are very appreciative of this group making the trip to Austin in the interest of the road. A paved route to this portion of our county is certainly needed and every effort in bringing about its approval will be stressed until it becomes a reality.

MEMBERS OF Texas & Panhandle Press Associations

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Educational Television
A Subcommittee of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce has held some recent hearings on educational television. These are a continuation of the hearings that have been held on this subject for the past several years. At the recent hearings, outstanding educators (including Dr. Logan Wilson, Chancellor of the University of Texas) from all over the nation appeared and gave testimony in support of early action by the Federal government to make possible the use of television channels set aside for public or educational purposes. The Federal Communications Commission has available for all purposes 2,209 television channels (674 VHF, and 1,535 UHF). These are all of the channels. Out of this number 267 channels have been set aside for educational television purposes (88 VHF and 179 UHF). At this date, approximately 58 of these channels have been utilized. The channels have been retained for public purposes primarily because the channels are public property. The channels which have been assigned to private corporations and individuals are also public property and concern the use of the spectrum. The broadcasters of broadcasting stations have a license to use these channels.

The reason that so few of the educational channels have been utilized is due primarily to the lack of funds. Most of the States have been hesitant to create an authority and provide funds for the use of these educational channels. Many institutions of higher learning have been anxious to obtain licenses to operate on these channels. However, the lack of funds available to these educational institutions has been the major stumbling block. Some of the States have instituted programs to take advantage of these facilities. The State of Alabama is using educational television in a substantial majority of its public schools, and takes the position that it has been highly successful and will prove more so.

The bills before the House of Representatives provide for Federal grants of approximately $1 million to each State for the purpose of purchasing facilities and equipment necessary to start operation of these stations. As you can probably suspect, there are many problems involved. One of the issues is whether or not a grant of this kind would be Federal aid to education. The next question is whether or not a grant of this kind would be Federal aid to education. The next question is whether or not the license to operate the channel should be granted to a State authority, to the public school system of the State, to several of the institutions, or be set up as an arm of the Federal government operating on a regional basis. The thought is that if the channel should be granted to a private or a single educational institution, any Federal grants would certainly constitute Federal aid to education. It is generally conceded that the use of these channels should not be confined to teaching school alone. If the channel is to be utilized, a proper allocation of time could result in beneficial information for all persons of all ages.

In any event, there will be much pro and con on this subject during this term of Congress. Certainly it is a subject that should be exhaustively studied. The wonders of television and its many possibilities provide a great challenge to man. Properly used, this discovery and medium could and should make a great contribution to the enlightenment of man, to the advancement of civilization, and to the realization of universal peace.

The President's Farm Program
Most of you realize the difficulties and the trials and tribulations that have been experienced in trying to work out a farm program which would be in balance with the other segments of the economy. The President's message to the Congress on this subject touched on just about every phase of the agricultural picture. Each of these phases will receive a separate study and evaluation. Subsequent messages will no doubt provide much more information as to the Administration's thinking on these subjects.
However, one particular suggestion of the President should receive a complete re-evaluation. I have reference to the following paragraphs contained in his message:
"Programs formulated in accordance with the enabling legislation here proposed and involving controls over production and marketing should not go into effect until approved by a majority of two-thirds of the producers voting under regularly authorized voting procedures and there should be legislation to this end. Such voting will be after full opportunity for debate and discussion and will insure that the producers of no commodity will be asked to accept programs to which they have not given strong affirmative approval.
"All comprehensive programs prepared under existing and requested authority will be duly submitted to the Congress of the United States not less than 60 days before taking effect. If within the 60-day period the program is rejected by either House of the Congress, the program will not go into effect. Thus no agricultural program will be adopted if it is regarded adversely by a majority of either House of the Congress."

I cannot support this procedure. It is, in effect, reversing the legislative process. Under our Constitution, legislation is supposed to be prepared and passed by the Congress. It is then submitted to the Executive Branch of the government, which is headed by the President. The veto power is vested in the legislation, he signs it. If he disapproves of it, he vetoes it. In such last event, in order for such a measure to become law, a two-thirds majority vote of both Houses of the Congress is required. If we should follow the suggestion of the President as above quoted it would be, in effect, permitting the Executive Branch to write a law and submit it to the Congress for veto. Inaction by the Congress and failure to veto the proposal would constitute approval by acquiescence. Although this method has been used a number of times in the last several years, it has never had my full approval. It is reversing the lawmaking process as laid down in the Constitution. It has been used in the Eisenhower and previous Administrations for departmental reorganization and other purposes. This, however, does not, in my opinion, constitute a sufficient precedent to employ the method further. It might work all right in the particular agricultural situation involved, but we must remember that its use could be extended to other segments of the economy. Such practice could develop to the point that our entire lawmaking process could be completely reversed.

There has been a great deal of discussion of the use of chemicals in food production. Some of it has been of a "scare nature. Numbers of people, no doubt, have been led to believe that basic foods, such as meats and vegetables, are actually being poisoned.
If you're among them, some statements recently made by leading authorities should set your fears at rest.
For instance, Dr. Charles Glen King, executive director of the Nutrition Foundation, says: "No nation in history has had for its entire population a food supply that would compare with our present supply in terms of nutritive value, safety, convenience, stability, variety, attractiveness and economic availability for everyone."
Dr. M. R. Clarkson, of the Department of Agriculture, says: "The laws enforced by the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health give effective protection to the public."
Dr. Frederick J. Stare of Harvard says: "As a physician and student of nutrition for the last 25 years, I should like to state categorically that I do not know, nor have I ever heard, of onesing case of ill health that has been shown to have been due to the addition of approved additional chemicals to foods."
So you can eat that succulent steak, and those appetizing dishes of vegetables and fruits without worry!

Will Writes

From Austin

Rep. Will Ehrle

AUSTIN—This past week we began a 22-month campaign for speaker of the Texas House of Representatives for the 58th session of the Legislature which will convene in January 1963.

Letters were given individually to each member of the House stating my purposes in running and the reasons for announcing at this time.

At the date of this writing we have secured the support and commitments of 25 members of this Legislature.

Though it may seem very early, there are many reasons for beginning our campaign at this time. I hope that by an early start we can avoid the bitterness of a "down to the wire" race for speaker.

In 1959 Waggoner Carr defeated Joe Burkett, Kerrville, in a race that closed with a floor ballot on the opening day of the session.

Our current House of Representatives has been divided because of the race which saw James Turman defeat Wade Spilman in a close contest. Perhaps the members will make an early choice and thus avoid such a heated and prolonged race.

Powerful Office
The office of Speaker of the House is one of the top three posts in Texas politics. It is definitely equal in power to the office of Lt. Governor. Certainly this position would honor our 88th District and our Northwest Texas area.

Because of its great importance, this race takes on all the flavor of a state-wide political campaign.

Big Step
Our announcement is a big step politically, but I am convinced that we have an excellent chance to win the Speaker's race. Our initial support comes from House members from all sections of the state, and members from both sides of the political fence have pledged their support to me.

This bi-partisan support is another indication that perhaps the next race for Speaker can be resolved prior to the beginning of the next session. This would then allow the organization of the House to be completed and the committees appointed shortly after convening and thus save the taxpayers a great deal of money by avoiding the delays caused by the past two campaigns for speaker.

District Support
We can be successful in this effort with your continued support at home. I am deeply appreciative of the past help of all the folks in District 88. I hope by being elected Speaker that I can continue in an even greater way to work for the good of the people of Texas by helping provide more and better jobs, a higher standard of living, better education, and progress in both the industrial and agricultural fields.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

To be frightened in broad daylight at our age is a sin to say the least, when that fear is of the unknown. It is a total new kind of fear to cope with. And the only tools you have to work with are those within yourself. Our minds run around in circles, trying to place our faith in someone or something, when we know there is only One in whom we can truly put our faith and trust in completely.

Last night we read, "You Are Under Attack" — The strange incident of October 5th. Our emotions are mixed from reading this account of what looked like a certain ballistic missile attack had been launched against the North American continent. The idea that we had come so close to unleashing our own retaliatory might against the Soviet Union, sends chills down my back. Our confidence in the man who made the decision has greatly increased. The step-by-step account of this hair splitting drama in April's Reader's Digest should be read by one and all, and a prayer for those who have these mighty decisions to make would help.

On this beautiful spring day, while we wait for our President to tell us and Russia, what we will do about Laos, and the big planes using the skies over our heads to break the sound barrier, shattering the peace and quiet of the most remote places on earth, brings home to us most forcefully the conflict in the minds of man. It leaves no man untouched, the time is running out on all fence-straddlers. Though we would just love doing business as usual, especially when that business is growing things, in this the most blessed season of the year. Mr. K. might be banking on just such an attitude to prevail at this time. He cannot comprehend any nation of peoples living what we believe, a risen Christ in whom we placed our faith in ages past, our hope in years to come.

Andy Sez:

By State Sen. Andy Rogers

Demagoguery is always injected into politics but this legislative session of your State Legislature has seen some of the worst. This has been centered largely around the constitutional amendment to allow pari-mutuel gambling on horse races in Texas.

A constitutional amendment must receive at least a 2/3 vote by both your State Senate and House before it can be submitted to you for your approval. At present this present amendment for legalized gambling has been shelved. It can be revived at a later date.

However, anyone familiar with Texas politics would know such a measure could not pass your Legislature. Only a miracle would produce a two-third's vote for this measure in the House of Representatives and in your Senate no one has been found who would even introduce the bill.

No doubt a few votes could be found for it in both bodies but to expect a two-third's approval is ridiculous.

Yet this has not prevented two or three Representatives from demagoguery. They have almost daily shouted alarm to Texas citizens who oppose legalized gambling and in general tried to lead them to believe that only these two or three stalwart legislators stood between them and doom.

No doubt this is effective politics in most of our State, but this handful of men have wasted a great deal of your Legislature's time and money allegedly fighting a tough battle when anyone who checks the legislative membership and Texas' political climate knows your Legislature is not about to legalize pari-mutuel gambling in our State.

On the other hand, some of those for the bill have exhibited similar disregard for the facts. Almost daily they point to the measure as a sure way to solve the State's financial dilemma and continue to suggest they believe sufficient support will eventually be rallied to pass their measure.

The most optimistic figures publicly claimed by the author of the bill is that pari-mutuel horse race gambling in Texas would produce about ten million dollars per year.

Hundreds of letters have poured into your Senator's office opposing this bill — only three supporting it. I appreciate very much hearing from everyone on all issues and this personal interest and action is good citizenship. As I have not been able to keep current on answering my mail, I would like to remind you that this issue was injected into my most recent campaign. At that time I took a position of complete opposition to such proposals as pari-mutuel horse race gambling and wish to remind everyone that my position has not changed one little bit.

Probably the greatest single power possessed by a Texas governor is the power of appointment. A majority of our State's major offices are filled either by Governor's appointment or selection by various boards or commissions which themselves are appointed by the Governor. Either way the governor is the main force in deciding who runs most of our state agencies and courts.

One important check is placed on this power. The State Constitution provides that your State Senate must give at least a two-third's vote of approval to each appointee of the Governor. The Senate therefore, is required to police and screen hundreds of appointments each session. The name and position and request for approval of each individual must be sent by written message of the Governor to the Senate.

Actually most of the Senate's authority in this important task is vested in the Senate's 13-man Nomination Committee. This group meets at 9:00 o'clock each morning and spends as much as two hours per day screening and interviewing individual gubernatorial appointees. To date this committee has screened more than 300 board or commission appointees and 34 judges.

For the very first time your own 30th Senatorial District is represented on this committee. This opportunity to know every major appointee personally and have a direct hand in screening or rejecting his right to hold office has helped me immeasurably in representing you.

Some appointees are rejected by the committee and the Governor must then send a new appointee's name to the Senate. If the Nomination Committee approves the appointee, his name is submitted to the Senate as a whole and must there receive a two-third's vote of approval. Except in extremely rare cases, the Senate accepts the Committee's recommendations.

The Senate and its committee "busts" or rejects very few of the Governor's appointments. Authority and check on the Governor's power is not effectively used. As a matter of practice the Governor by personal and informal talks with the Senators tries to select only appointees that will be accepted. For an appointee to be "busted" by the Senate is very embarrassing to the Governor and his appointee.

FIRST CHOICE of TEXAS VOTERS

Senator William A. BLAKLEY

★ SENATOR BLAKLEY is the winner of the Texas Poll directed by Joe Belden and subscribed to by 21 leading Texas newspapers. He also is the first choice in many other surveys and polls conducted throughout Texas.

SENATOR BLAKLEY'S ACTION PROGRAM FOR TEXAS

$100 MILLION MORE ANNUALLY FOR SCHOOLS: A home-rule aid-to-education plan that would return to each state 5 per cent of federal income taxes for support of locally administered public schools. In Texas this would mean over $100 million more annually for our schools — without federal interference!

INCOME TAX RELIEF FOR PRESSED PARENTS: Also, for families putting their children through school, additional income tax exemptions of $1,200 for college or university student, $400 for son or daughter in high school. Parents deserve a tax break!

A HELPING HAND FOR OUR SENIOR CITIZENS: A bill to raise ceiling on what Social Security recipients may earn without being penalized. Senator Blakley would raise ceiling from $1,200 to $1,800 a year to help many retired persons.

SHARP REDUCTION IN FOREIGN OIL IMPORTS: Reduce by one half the amount of foreign oil being brought into U. S. Texas' economy, schools, state government, all suffer when foreign oil floods market, causes Texas production to shut down.

INDEPENDENCE! WE MUST KEEP IT ALWAYS: Retain Connally Amendment to World Court. United States should maintain its sovereignty without question. Senator Blakley is fighting against repeal of this vital guarantee.

Shamrock, Texas

The rain and snow may not have dampened the inner spirit of the Irish in Shamrock last Friday, but it sure wet up their outsides to beat the band. Honestly, we have never seen a more friendly welcome than came to each one who braved the cool rain to attend the festivities. We have attended all but one of the celebrations, and we actually had one of our best times this year.

We like to meet and visit with the people we knew there some 30 years ago. On other occasions we couldn't find them for the masses. This year the local people made up most of the crowd. We registered as an old-timer and to our surprise almost as many were present in this category as in previous years.

Our favorite Irish story had to do with a fellow by the name of Roger O'Rourke. It seemed that the doctor had just delivered three identical pre-mature triplets for him and the wife. The doctor was worried about their physical condition. "Don't worry Doc," said Roger, "They will be just fine, they're Irish."

Another widely quoted story was about Homer Kelly. He socked his wife on the nose on the 16th and the judge gave him the works. "Being Irish, I might have been a bit more lenient if you had waited until the 17th."

You fine friendly folks don't worry about it no more. Those who stayed home got their share of a million dollar rain. Those who braved the rain not only shared in it, but also in the friendly welcome given us all by

DARLING, I DIDN'T MARRY YOU BECAUSE OF YOUR COOKING - BUT IT CERTAINLY IS ONE OF YOUR MANY COMMENDABLE ASSETS

THANKS DEAR I LIKE TO COOK ESPECIALLY WHEN YOU ENJOY THE THINGS I FIX - MY PLEASURE IS MY REWARD

AND BY SHOPPING AT JUNIOR'S FOOD MARKET I CAN GET ALL THE VERY BEST THINGS TO FIX NICE MEALS WITH the Irish from Shamrock.

There are a lot of things ahead of us which we know nothing about, and a lot of things behind us that we may as well forget. But the most important thing is to understand the great truths we have within us. To understand who we are, and why we were created. To believe that we have a purpose in life, and that we are prepared for our destination. To believe that what we call the end of life will be worth a million beginnings.

A moment of real thinking can be worth more than hours of worry. We can count up our many blessings and know that they far outnumber the trouble along life's pathway. We can know that God made the food for the tiny sparrow, but there was also a mother to bring it to the nest. God has given us many blessings but we must seek and find—we must ask and receive. We need to believe as if everything was handed to us on a silver platter, but at the same time we need to do for ourselves as if everything depended on our work.

The game of life does not always favor the one who held the best hand, but rather the one who played a poor hand well. The victory is not always won by the giant, but by a willing lad with an abundance of faith. The shadows will not blind us if we look toward the sunshine.

For COLDS take 666

Without faith the creation might seem to exist from Adam to the Atom. But with faith we know that even the end of man would be only the beginning of that which we were created to be a part. The creations of man spell out our doom, but the promises through faith brings us hope for eternity.

Swift's MINERALS for all livestock

Half a pound extra gain per day on a steer . . . can mineral do that? It sure can, according to experiment station tests. That depends, of course, on a couple of important things. First, your steers must like the mineral and eat it—as they do Swift's. Second, the mineral must be complete, including the right trace minerals. Well, Swift's contains eleven essential mineral elements, balanced just right.

Your hogs can make extra gain, in proportion, on Swift's hog mineral. And sheep, too, on Swift's All Purpose Mineral.

Looking for the best buy in mineral? That's Swift's—at your Swift feed dealer.

Band Parents Honor Band Students At Annual Banquet

The annual banquet given by Band Parents honoring members of the Clarendon High School Band and their guests was held at the American Legion Hall Friday evening, March 24, at 7:30 p.m.

"Suddenly It's Spring" was the theme carried out in decoration and that was the impression conveyed when, upon entering the large room, all of the many lovely colors of springtime came into view. Shades of pink, blue, and yellow were used in fluted streamers to decorate the walls.

Occasional musical notes in black marked the streamers to the center of the walls. Streamers from the lighting fixtures made them appear as large colonnades. The stage was accented with an outline of these same colors against a background of yellow draped to the center of the back wall caught the eye of everyone. It was small and entwined balloons. The entrance was also marked by an archway decorated in a like manner with streamers dipping from the ceiling and leading outward.

Tables were laid with white coverings accented to the edge by ruffles in pastel pink or blue. Beautiful bouquets of pink carnations and Dutch iris with greenery and flanked by pink tapers in crystal candelabra decorated the head table. Quartet tables were centered with pink tapers. Place cards were miniature umbrellas of pink net and programs were white with gold lettering.

Larry Stewart, president of the Band students, was master of ceremonies. Rev. Baldwin Stribley pronounced the invocation after which Bob Moss, president of Band Parents organization, welcomed students and guests. Judy Thompson, Drum Major of the Band, presented the response. The program for the evening was presented by a group of students from West Texas State College and consisted of several selections by the Saxophone Quartet, vocal and piano solos.

Hostesses served the meal buffet. The menu featured cold sliced turkey, spring salads, assorted olives, rolls, butter, iced tea, and cake.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of awards by Willard Edgett, Band Director. Recognition was paid the following students: Citizenship — Linda Self, Johnny Rattan; Most Progressive — Melissa McCully, James Bates; Most Dependable — Sarah Antrobus, Larry Hight; Musicianship — Andra Pinkerton, Larry Stewart; Most Outstanding — Judy Thompson, Larry Stewart; Honor Band Student as chosen by the Band students themselves — Johnny Rattan.

Mrs. Bob Moss, on behalf of Band Parents, paid tribute to Mr. Edgett and his wife and presented them with a place setting of sterling.

The floor was cleared following the meal and dancing and games were enjoyed throughout the remainder of the evening with music provided by Hi-Fi. Punch was served from an attractive table. Approximately 130 attended.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Foes of a general retail sales tax are pushing to get it before the Legislature. Friends of the tax are trying to hold it back.

At a hearing before the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, representatives of regional Chambers of Commerce, generally favorable to a sales tax, asked that the matter be delayed. Committee members opposed to the tax insisted on going ahead.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, who is against a sales tax, charged backers with dragging their feet in hopes their plan would finally be accepted in last-minute desperation.

Hearing was on a general sales tax measure by Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity. Wilson introduced the bill and asked for immediate hearing to out-manuever those who wanted to delay. After hearing, the bill was, by the usual procedure, sent to subcommittee.

Awaiting consideration is just about every type bill imaginable. Among them:

A temporary (1-year) 20 per cent increase in the omnibus tax (a collection of existing taxes on many items) by Representative Hinson. Estimated yield: $40,000,000.

A one per cent corporate income tax by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger and a three per cent corporate income tax by Rep. Tony Koriath of Sherman.

A 10 per cent levy on petrochemicals by Rep. Lloyd Guffey of El Campo.

A six per cent tax on income from dividends and interest by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston.

A two per cent Texas business invoice tax by Rep. Maco Stewart of Galveston.

A graduated production tax on oil, a corporate income tax to replace the franchise tax and an excise tax on utilities by Rep. Stewart.

An increase in state college tuition from $50 to $100 per semester by Rep. Frank McGregor of Waco.

A three per cent sales tax on furniture and household equipment by Rep. John C. Alaniz of San Antonio.

A five per cent tax on gross receipts of highway contractors by Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney.

A five per cent tax on gross receipts from marine products by Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio.

FIREMEN'S BILL HELD LEGAL — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled that a proposed bill to set up machinery to arbitrate firemen's wage and hour problems would be constitutional.

Rep. Robert Hughes of Dallas is sponsor of the bill which would set up an arbitration board to work out disputes between firemen and city governments. Disputes not settled by the board could be taken to the people in an election once each year.

AUTO RATE BILL MOVES — A bill directing the State Board of Insurance to make drastic changes in the merit rating auto insurance plans has been approved by the Senate Insurance Committee.

Passage came after a lengthy hassle in committee. More heated debate and attempts to amend are expected when the bill is taken up by the entire Senate.

As approved by committee, the plan would still assess insurance premium penalties for speeding but not for running red lights or stop signs, making illegal turns, illegal passing or negligent collision. It would still as-ness penalties for accidents with dangae of more than $25, and it would still be retroactive for three years.

"FLEXIBLE" RATING KILLED — House, meantime, killed by a decisive 125-21 vote a bill that would have provided a complete new approach for auto insurance in Texas.

Called "flexible" rating, it would allow each insurance company to set its own auto insurance rates. Rep. C. W. Pearcy of Temple sponsored the bill which has been defeated by previous legislatures. He argued for it on the basis of free competition rather than state-controlled rates.

Opponents successfully argued that the plan allows large out-of-state concerns to take over the market and eventually set much higher rates.

MILK IS BOILING TOPIC — Milk continues to stir up arguments in this legislative session.

Senate passed a bill placing restrictions on the importing of milk from other states, but the House postponed floor debate after tempers flared to the shouting point.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo sponsored the Senate bill, and Rep. Steve Burgess of Nacogdoches is the House sponsor. Their measure would bar out-of-state milk from Texas unless a health inspector could certify that he had "personal knowledge" that the milk had been produced under the same standards as Texas milk.

Dairymen-supporters contend that it is a health standards protection and will prevent "unfair competition" from out of state. It is opposed by milk processors who declare it will limit the supply unnecessarily and force up prices.

GARNISHEE BILLS STUDIED — Proposals that would allow for the garnishment (taking over) of wages for payment of debts are being considered by the House Constitutional Amendments Committee.

Rep. Henry Fletcher of Luling is sponsor of a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to pass a broad garnishment act.

Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler is sponsor of another that would allow for attachment of wages only to make child support payments.

MINIMUM WAGE ARGUED — Proposal for a 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage for Texas workers, including farm labor, was argued before the House State Affairs Committee.

Employers of fewer than four persons would be exempt.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO testified in favor of the bill, declaring that migrant farm laborers are often paid only 30 cents an hour. A Texas Restaurant Association official said that restaurant workers average 81 cents an hour, but that many "marginal workers," such as the handicapped would lose out under a minimum wage.

Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso is sponsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Corder of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Estlack Sunday.

Your Neighbor... MAURICE CAIN... Uses LIQUID FERTILIZER How About You?

MAURICE CAIN, who lives 3 miles south west of Ropesville, is a booster of Liquid Fertilizers. "To me it's the SOLUTION to my fertilizer problem. I am putting down 60-lbs. of Nitrogen, 48-lbs. of Phosphate and 8-lbs. of Potash on my irrigated cotton land. I definitely feel that SOLUTIONS will give as good or better results than other types of fertilizers if used properly. I particularly like the uniform application I get with my tail-wheel drive squeeze pump applicator. I'm rigged up so that I can side-dress and cultivate in one operation later in the season. I can also see a big labor and time-saving by being able to apply more acres per day as compared to other kinds of fertilizers," said Mr. Cain.

Cain is farming 1200 acres—500 acres of cotton and 700 acres of grain. Last year he averaged about 1 1/4 bales per acre... "and I would have made more had I side-dressed at the right time. I feel very strongly that in order to realize the most out of fertilizers they must be applied at the right time. I was late on side-dressing last year, consequently I didn't get the full benefit that I would have gotten had I been a few days earlier," said Cain. Why don't you do as Cain has done—see your local Lee-Quid Sol-U-Phos LIQUID FERTILIZER dealer... he has a SOLUTION for any Fertilizer Problem.

The Giles Pioneer Club met March 22nd in the home of Mrs. George Foster for an Easter breakfast as the members arrived they were greeted by the hostess.
The long table was laid with a white and pink damask cloth. Centering the table was an arrangement of bunnies, white candy tuft, and greenery. The plate favors were little pink plastic baskets with baby chicks, and Easter eggs nestled in greenery.

Rep. Ehrle Announces For Speaker of House

AUSTIN — State Representative Will Ehrle of Childress formally announced his candidacy this week for Speaker of the House for the 58th Legislative Session in 1963.

A rural House leader in his third session, Ehrle revealed his plans in a letter to all members of the House of Representatives. Ehrle is a graduate of McMurry College in Abilene and holds a law degree from the University of Texas Law School.

In his statement of purpose Ehrle pointed out that early announcements and commitments for the speakership would help avoid the bitterness often aroused in campaigns.

"I plan to make an active campaign over Texas prior to the next session," Ehrle said. "I sincerely appreciate the support which the people of my district have given me in the past and I hope the membership of the Texas House of Representatives will honor our 88th District and our area by favoring my candidacy."

Ehrle is the first House member to openly launch a campaign for the key post now occupied by James Turman.

A life-long resident of Childress County, Ehrle is best known in the House for authoring state-wide water legislation, sponsoring agricultural measures, and improvement of Texas public schools and higher education.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

A meeting was held March 24 in Knox City to discuss the Feed Grain Program for 1961. Those attending were W. H. Cooke, III, chairman of the county committee, H. A. Green, member of the county committee, Mildred M. Ritter, office manager, and Annesse Bennett, chief clerk.

The County Committee and Community Committeemen will hold meetings to set the Preliminary Productivity Index for each community and each individual farm.

It now appears that all information will be in the county office and it will be possible for you to request or sign up to divert 20 to 40 per cent of your feed grain land by around April 15.

FIVE-YEAR SOIL BANK CONTRACTS

Five year Soil Bank contracts which were signed in the fall of 1956 and in the spring of 1957 will expire at the end of this year. Compliance with the non-grazing requirement of contracts will be in effect on this land until Jan. 1, 1962. However, any of this expiring acreage which will be devoted to a fall seeded crop for harvest in 1962 may be plowed and planted after mid-year with the approval of the county committee.

Please report to this office immediately changes in operations, such as sale or purchase of land and changes in operators, owners, or addresses in order that our records may be brought up to date. We cannot keep you informed of current programs if we do not have any record of your operations.

TO CITY VOTERS

Editor's Note: The following is self explanatory and we believe in the interest of the taxpayers of Clarendon. It has been the policy of the Leader to support projects or individuals that we believe are of the most value to our community. During an election, you can hear every type of story to discredit a public official . . . usually brought about by some minor incident or misunderstanding. Further it is not our intention to discredit the opposing candidate in any manner.

Your Editor along with other businessmen and residents living in the portion of Clarendon that could be affected by flood waters knows the inestimable value of the retention dams located south of our city. Last year these dams were damaged to the extent that flood water would have covered the business section of town if we had had another deluge of rain. Fortunately we never received another flood-type rain prior to the repair of the dams.

Through the efforts of Mayor H. T. Burton, $17,500 was received in disaster aid. The City could not do a thorough job of repairing the dams for this amount so it was decided to use this cash grant to rebuild all the spillways and use city labor and equipment to do the dirt work.

This work was recently completed and should do a superb job with flood water when the spring downpours begin. The cost of the dirt-moving to the city was the salaries of five employees who devoted part time to the dam rebuilding, along with handling city jobs that were pressing. The dams have been inspected and approved by the state.

H. T. Burton has given undivided attention to city affairs and we believe our little city has certainly progressed under his guidance and that of the commissioners who have served with him. He has no other business interests that require his constant attention. We are fortunate to have a man of Mayor Burton's ability that is willing to serve his town and community in an unselfish manner and on a full-time basis.

He began his career as a government worker in 1936 as an employee of the Department of Agriculture.

From 1942 to 1946 he worked for the Army Ordnance Corps at the Longhorn Ordnance Works, Marshall, Texas, where he became administrative assistant to the Commanding Officer.
