Annual Country Club Chicken Barbecue Date Set For Aug. 13

Directors of the Clarendon Country Club have announced the date for the Annual Chicken Barbecue to be held at the Club for August 13th. There will be a Bingo Game after the barbecue, and you may dance, if you like, in the Club building.

Tickets for the chickens may be obtained at Palmer Motor Co., Coca-Cola Plant, Household Supply, Bob Moss Pharmacy and Mike McCully Insurance. The deadline for purchasing tickets will be August 11th. The price is 75c per half-chicken. The Club will secure all chicken to be barbecued so they will cook uniformly.

Serving time for the barbecue will be 7:30 p.m. Each member may bring as many guests as desired and can purchase as many chickens as needed for each party. Club members will also furnish their own picnic trimmings.

Make your plans now to come out and enjoy this special event.

As an added attraction prior to the feasting, the Club is sponsoring a swimming contest in four age categories and will give trophies to the winner of each event. All youngsters interested in entering are reminded to contact Walt Knorpp or Keith Hudson. The swimming contest will start promptly at 6:15.

The events will be as follows: Six years of age or under (Freestyle); 7 to 9 years (Freestyle); 10 to 12 years, (Freestyle and sidestroke); 13 to 15 years, (sidestroke, freestyle and breaststroke); 16 years and above, (backstroke, sidestroke, freestyle, breaststroke and under-water).

Remember, this swimming event will take place promptly at 6:15 so everyone will be finished prior to eating time.

Flip Breedlove and his helpers will have the barbecued chicken coming off the pits, good and hot, for a batch of youngsters with a big appetite.

Ray Palmer, president of the Country Club, stated yesterday that an error had been made in the letter mailed to all club members. It stated Friday, August 13th as the date for the Barbecue but should have read Thursday, August 13th. The date was right but had the wrong day. Please note this correction as the barbecue will be held on Thursday.

Explorer Scouts Return From Canadian Trip

Explorer Scouts returned home Sunday evening, July 26, after their enjoyable Canadian Canoe trip. The local boys and leaders were away from home seventeen days. During that time they were exposed to a wide variety of experiences ranging from social activities, a friendly reception at church services, a bus upset, a 130 mile canoe and fishing trip, to being royally entertained by a group of friendly people in Des Moines, Iowa.

Each night upon arrival at the destination, the group planned some activity such as bowling, swimming, miniature golf, or picture shows. On several nights the boys participated in two of these events.

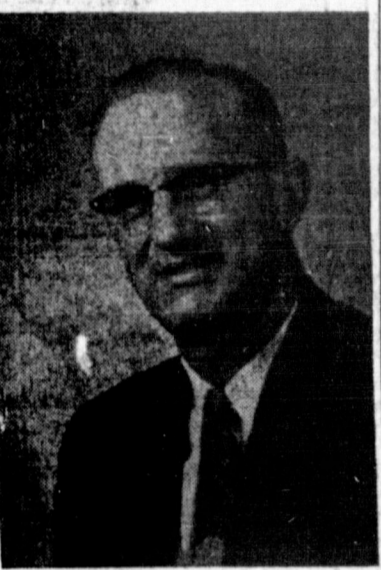

The first Sunday on the road, the group attended church services at Deluth, Minn., where they received a friendly welcome. After services members of the church gathered around and encouraged the boys to tell about their trip. The truth finally came out! They enjoyed listening to the Texas accent.

The group met up with one of their most unforgettable experiences three hours before they were due at the Canoe base. A car traveling in the opposite direction ran the bus off the road causing it to roll over on its top scattering equipment, boys, and jelly over the inside of the bus. Fortunately no one was hurt. The bus was taken to Ely, Minn., and was put into condition for the return trip home. Ely was the boys' destination.

While the boys were out on the canoe trip, they enjoyed eight days of fun, hard work, camping and fishing. They traveled with all of their equipment and food approximately 130 miles into the heart of some of the finest fishing and canoe country that Canada has to offer.

The group expressed the feeling that while they were happy to be at home again, they would have enjoyed a few more days in Canada's fine country. Making the trip were Clyde Price and Allen Homer Estlack, supervisors, and Dwight McAnear, John Cearley, Gary Campbell Steve Richardson, Jerry Elmore, and Bobby Chatman of Shamrock.

CITY FINANCIAL STATEMENT IN THIS ISSUE OF LEADER

A statement of the financial condition of the City of Clarendon as of March 31, 1959, may be found in this issue of the Leader showing how your local tax dollar has been spent.

In looking over the statement you can see that it takes quite a sum of money to operate a little city of our size and the tax money is not sufficient to carry the load, especially when the aid from the water department has been cut like it has this year due to the almost continuous rainfall. Another major factor in the city's business is the retiring of bonds that have been obligated in the past.

Scouts From Lone Star State, Not Alone

Girl Scouts from Texas are accustomed to doing things in a big way, yet it is doubtful they have ever met anything as big as the Senior Girl Scout Roundup held July 8-12 near Pikes Peak, Colorado. At the Roundup, there were 10,000 Girl Scouts living in a city of 6,000 tents. At meal time, 1,000 camp fires-glowed cooking meals planned especially for the Roundup. Here, left to right, Elaine Shaw, Gainesville, Texas; Diane Obermeyer, Denton, Texas; and Marty Gilchrist, Gainesville, Texas.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

WATER RIGHTS

The problem of water rights has long plagued mankind and apparently will continue to do so. The issue: "Who has control over the water in this country, the federal government or the state governments?"

Attempts will be made to resolve this question during this session of Congress. It is another prime example of the federal government, by devious means and methods, undertaking to override state laws and to assume full control of the water in all of the states insofar as the federal government wants to use or employ it. In other words, the federal government takes the position that all of the citizens of this country as between each other and the states in which they live, are subject to the provision of state water laws. But the federal government is wholly and completely exempt from compliance with any state laws, rules, or regulations governing the search for water, the production thereof, and the use to which it is to be put.

The problem has been developing over a period of several years, but it is only in recent years that the Supreme Court has gone far afield in subjecting the water and water courses to a "dominant servitude" invested in the federal government. In 1940 the court held that the navigability of a stream for purposes of federal control does not depend solely upon natural and ordinary conditions of a river, such as volume of water, regularity of flow, etc., but the availability of the river for navigation if reasonable improvements are made, regardless of whether or not such improvements are constructed or utilized. If a substantial part of a stream can be made navigable, by construction of improvements to make it navigable, it is to be considered navigable in the first instance and subject to the control of the federal government, even though no work is ever done thereon. In 1955 the court held that even though certain federal laws subject the waters on and under public lands of the federal government to state water laws, the United States government could simply withdraw the lands from the public land category, call them "reserve lands," and thereby be fully and completely exempt from any state laws concerning the waters or any rights acquired by individuals from the states.

It was later held in another case that a military installation of the federal government was not required to comply in any respect with the water laws in the state in which the installation was located.

There are many other cases that could be cited on this subject, but I hope that these will point up the great danger that lies in this trend. Since the scarcity of water in the western states places the people in those states in a position of complete dependence upon the ability to obtain water, the control of water is an all-powerful weapon. People of these states could be completely overwhelmed and dominated by the federal government. If such powers fall into the hands of unscrupulous public officials, and they easily could, it would take many, many years to recover from the damage which could be done.

Although there were no federal public lands in Texas originally, the federal government has acquired much property in recent years, and can acquire such additional amount as it desires simply by condemnation procedures. Hence, every state of the Union is a potential victim of possible complete servitude to the federal government.

This information is gathered together for the purpose of showing the trends toward centralization of the government in all

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Two more books have been given to the library in memory of Lynn Leathers. One of them is a hundred and nine years old.

Our friends from all over give books to the library. Nelda Sue Burton Norris from Midland brought us five books. They are in excellent condition and late ones. Thank you Nelda Sue.

There is an article in the July "Better Homes and Gardens," "How to Drive Your Kids Crazy" that is well worth your while. I especially like the last two paragraphs and I quote: "And what if mother and dad carried out a resolve to treat Junior a little more like a human being? Anything could happen. He might even begin to act like one."

Kind of makes you go all goose flesh just to think of it."

Did you all know that had Sir Alexander Fleming been able to get his fellow dictors interested we would have had life saving penicillin years before we did? He spent the years from 1929 until 1940 trying to get them to listen. Andre Maurois in his "The life of Sir Alexander Fleming" gives us a vivid picture of his struggle against their stupidity and indifference toward his work with penicillin mold.

For those of you who like your "Humor in Uniform" don't miss reading "Danger Marines at Work." It is fun and completely Screwball.

I get our new books out of the post office one day and the next day they are ready to be checked out. That is the reason some of you have read them long before I can write anything about them.

For the very young reader we have several new "Honey Bunch" books by Louise Rhorndyke and the animal adventure series by Thornton Burgess.

For the older boys: "The Horse Tamer" by Walter Farley and Glenn Balch's "Lost Horse." For the older girls there are two of Rosamond Du Jardin's new books.

facts of the economy. Unless these trends can be successfully checked, it will be only a short time before state governments will be governments in name only and wholly without power. The peoples living in the less densely populated areas of this country will be subject to the rule and the control of the thickly populated metropolitan sections of this country. This will not meet with the approval of the people in the 18th Congressional District of Texas or any other group of independent thinking free Americans.

ADJOURNMENT

Everyone seems to be making a guess about adjournment of the Congress. Frankly, I feel that much would have been accomplished had we adjourned by July 15. This was not possible because of the controversy surrounding the "labor reform bill." It appears that this bill has now been agreed upon by the House Committee and will be before the Congress within the next several days. This will be a hotly contested matter and may hold Congress up for as long as two additional weeks. Added to this is the time that will be required if a civil rights bill is debated. This could hold the Congress in session until September 15; however, most of the guessers think that we will be out by Labor Day, and I certainly hope so.

BEST BRAKES Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, MOTOR TREND magazine sums it up this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Red River, New Mexico — Spending a week in this wonderful mountain valley has almost gotten to be a habit with the wife and myself. And a glorious habit it has proven to be. In fact, it just doesn't seem that we can let the summer go by without this bit of rest and relaxation. After about a half dozen trips up here we are almost natives, and have to come back each year to see our new found friends.

Speaking of natives, just a few years back there were only eight or ten families that stayed on through the winter here. They were the folks who owned a part of the valley to begin with. In the summer hundreds of folks would come to open summer businesses and to rest and relax. Until now there are likely almost a thousand folks who make this home in the summer. These are joined by at least that many more at any given time who stay from a few days to a week or so. Most of the folks who live here are tourists who came again and again and then just adopted this as their summer home.

The folks who have promoted this as a vacation spot have tried to make it a place where families would like to come. Skating, horseback riding, hiking, and parties for the young at heart. Jeep trips, fishing, visiting and taking part in a full schedule of activities at the community building hold something for the other ages. Fishing doesn't seem to be the best, unless you go back in the mountains, but many like us, come to rest and just soak up the mountain air, the glorious God-made Beauty of streams and mountains. Mother Nature gave this place a lot to begin with. This is just the next morning so we will have more later about this part of God's world.

Taos, New Mexico — It would be almost unthinkable to spend a week in the Red River country and not spend at least one day in Taos. Sometimes we are not sure why, but we seem to always find ourselves coming back. There is something in the local color that lets Taos speak out with the real spirit of the early day, including the Indians which in many cases are living as they did years ago. Artists seem to capture this local color and stay on and on trying to picture this vision on the canvas so that we all may see. Here they gather in large numbers to paint and plan and talk with others who have the same love. Everywhere is evidence of their labors.

To add special attraction it is here that we find the grave of Kit Carson and his family. Hundreds go by each day to look on and remember some of the thrilling stories of this famous Indian Scout. Souvenir hunters have even carried away tiny chips from his tombstone. What, a hobby??

Going a different way this time we passed through the beautiful Mora Valley, and the quaint little village by the same name just a few miles out of Taos on the road to Las Vegas. Ever since we have wished that we had stopped. There is something strangely attractive in this sleepy little town and the long rows of adobe houses which line the banks of the little stream flowing down the fertile looking valley. If anyone has some information on this locality we would love to hear from you. It is worth the bad roads just to make this drive, if you are passing nearby.

The Community House in Red River is likely the most popular spot with all age groups of any of the many varied interests. All through the day and into the nights there is something for old and young. These activities are under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Laney, who teach school in the other months and move here to direct this program in the summer. They are an interesting and charming couple and will be a part of the Amarillo school system next fall. Through the day are games and lessons in the various things. At night folk and square dances, along with nights in which folks show pictures of Red River and other interesting trips.

On Sunday it becomes a place for Sunday School and here all church groups mix and mingle together with a spirit of fellowship and brotherhood that is an inspiration. On the Sunday we attended, 419 folks gathered for this hour. If some preacher is vacationing in the area he is invited to bring the lesson or preach. On Sunday night a sing-song service delights those who love music. Talent that is passing through gets invited to give a part on the informal program. Out of this day we always receive a real blessing and a good lesson in tolerance and all-around living together with others.

Sometimes we get so narrow in our way of life that we can not pass the other fellow along the path.

It's alright to know where you are going, and you should know the way to get there, but it is wrong to try and make everyone else go our way.

It's better to give a little, than to try and take it all.

Neighbors may live across the street, around the block, across on the other side of town or, even a few miles down the road but be it near or far good neighbors are just about the best thing that can happen to us. Neighbors make up the neighborhood and whether it is a good community depends on the kind of folks we are in our dealings with our neighbors.

Just a little while back we were at Fairview, the Armstrong County winner of the Rural Neighborhood Improvement Program and also the winner of first place in Extension District One which takes in mostly the Panhandle. Since their first entry in 1955 this community has won several times including first in the state once.

Take a little community like Fairview or Chamberlain down in Donley County with their schools gone, and looking like the whole community interest and spirit was due to ebb away, and then suddenly through a spirit of working together, playing together, eating with each other and just plain every day neighboring together we see them change into a bee-hive of fun, fellowship, all mixed in with a multitude of good needs.

In the minds of many that night was the question: What makes this change take place? One speaker thought that it was something akin to a spiritual awakening that can bring folks together as a big family and give them the spirit of working and sharing things together until the community works and does as just one large family circle. Whatever it is, whether it be spiritual or just man made, we need more of it.

Congratulations to these good neighbors at Fairview and Chamberlain.

CERTIFICATE: We hereby certify that we have examined the accounts of the City of Clarendon, Texas, for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1959, in so far as such accounts relate to cash receipts and disbursements. We did not make a detailed audit of all transactions recorded during the year. We did, however, make comprehensive test checks of transactions and secured verification of cash on deposit and securities on hand at March 31, 1959.

In our opinion, subject to the above limitations and to the comments contained in our report under date of June 4, 1959, the accompanying combined balance sheet and statement of receipts and disbursements for all funds fairly presents the financial position of the City of Clarendon at March 31, 1959, and summary record of receipts and disbursements during the year then ended.

THE DONLEY COUNTY LEADER

ATTEND SERVICES HERE
Sister M. Angela and Sister M. Goretta of the Gordon Memorial Home for children in Panhandle brought a large group of children to attend services at St. Mary's Church here. The Sisters and children were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Semrad. Refreshments were furnished by Junior's Food Market.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey and daughter of Wichita Falls visited Saturday afternoon in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lewis.

What do you think of when the term "deferred grazing" is mentioned? It should mean postponing grazing for a period long enough to improve the vigor of your grass or to mature a seed crop.

APPLIES TO ALL GRASSLAND — Deferred grazing is especially needed on ranges that have received a setback from fire, drought, or heavy use. It is always needed on newly seeded areas, after brush control measures, or mechanical treatment, such as pitting or chiseling. Periodic deferment is good on ranges even in excellent condition.

OBJECTIVES — Some of the objectives of deferring pastures are: a heavy seed crop, increased foliage to improve litter and soil cover, store up food in the plant roots for next springs regrowth permit grass seedlings to become well rooted, provide reserve forage for winter grazing, and to improve the vigor of the grass plant.

WHICH PASTURE TO DEFER — Contrary to one's first thought, the best pasture should be deferred first, if a deferment system is to be followed. More benefits will be gotten this way. Provide supplemental feed or reduce livestock numbers in other pastures, so they won't be over-used.

TIME TO DEFER — For deferment to be effective, it must be during the growing season. If improved growth and vigor is desired, early spring deferment is needed. If a seed crop is needed, defer later in the summer. This requires complete deferment, as one cow can eat the whole seed crop of your scarcer tall grasses.

LENGTH OF DEFERMENT — Short grasses need 3 to 4 months deferment, mid-grasses 4 to 5 months, and tall grasses 5 to 6 months.

Years of high rainfall and good growth are the most effective times to defer.

Now is a good time to begin deferment for heavy seed crop. Good moisture during the spring and summer has caused the grasses to set a heavy seed crop and on some ranges, it is certainly needed.

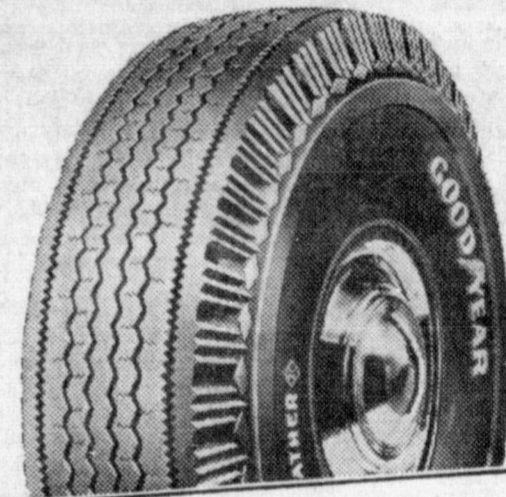

For other suggestions concerning deferment, feel free to call upon Soil Conservation Service assisting the Donley County Soil Conservation District.

Mrs. H. C. Brumley spent the week end in Pampa where she visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Welch and Cindy.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Landers of Amarillo spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Landers.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

Most men think the parties their wives give or attend occasionally are un-productive, useless affairs accomplishing little or nothing, and are really just an excuse to get together and talk. That is not always true, a lot of good comes from most such meetings and the talk is free.

What if every word we spoke was costing them 5 1/4 cents per word. That is what we are paying for every word spoken in our National Congress. When they threaten with a filibuster up there now, its worse than the weatherman's forecast for hail and high winds with a bale to the acre cotton crop and no insurance.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Texas' 56th Legislature fizzled to the end of its third session and 180th day with its main job — providing money to run state government — still undone.

Gov. Price Daniel called a fourth session to begin just hours after the last one ended.

House members repeatedly voted down tax bills presented by joint conference committees of senators and representatives. Senate voted favorably each time.

First House rejection was by a vote of 81-to-64. This was on a bill to tax tobacco, natural gas production, corporation franchisees, utilities, motor vehicles liquor, wine, boats, motors, airplanes, radios, TV's, phonographs, cameras and liquor by the drink in private clubs.

Speaker Waggoner Carr named a new House conference group composed of members who had voted against the bill. They met with the same Senate conferees that had worked twice before.

Only change in the new report was that the private club tax was cut out and the radio and TV tax slightly increased.

House rejected it again, this time 83-to-66.

More conferences and more votes followed in the final frantic hours. All futile! None made any apparent progress toward compromising the basic bone of contention, whether to tax gas pipelines. House favors this "severance beneficiary" tax by a narrow margin. Senate is flatly against.

Along with his new call, Governor Daniel issued a sober warning. Unless a tax bill is passed and effective (requiring a two-thirds favorable vote) by Aug. 15, there won't be time or money to get Sept. 1 checks to 225,000 old age pensioners.

CARR FOES BACK DOWN — During the tense, short-tempered days in the wind-up of the last session, Speaker Waggoner Carr was, for a time, the target for pent-up frustrations and pressure.

Carr had worked to get the House to accept the Senate-passed tax bill. When the House turned the bill down, Carr said that "obstructionists" had defeated it.

This was a red flag to members already sensitive to public criticism of a "do-nothing" Legislature. For several days they simmered. They accused Carr of trying to thwart the will of a House majority, talked of voting him out of the speakership.

In a dramatic showdown, Carr stepped down from the rostrum and challenged his critics to remove him if they thought it would make things any better.

Nobody accepted his dare. A few minutes later, in motion of Rep. Joe Burkett, the man Carr defeated for the speakership, Carr was escorted back to the speaker's chair.

And the wearying legislative battle began again.

STUDENT FEE BILL OKAYED — A bill to require state college students to pay an activity fee passed both houses by very narrow margin.

Measure would allow the colleges to charge students up to $30 a semester to support health services, book rentals, cultural and athletic events, campus publications, parking, etc.

Any college may exempt from the fee up to 10 per cent of its enrollment in cases where the charge would cause "undue financial hardship."

Bill was hard-fought. Opponents declared it would make "free public education" available only to the rich. Backers said the colleges had to have more money. It was estimated the bill could bring in as much as an extra $1,000,000 a year.

BEACH BILL PASSES — Both houses passed and sent to the governor a bill guaranteeing public access to state-owned beaches.

It took a conference committee to work out the differences between House and Senate ideas on the bill.

As finally passed, the bill says the public shall have the right to come and go from public beaches. No one, it says, shall erect a fence or barrier to prevent this.

Beaches that cannot be reached by public road or ferry are exempt.

WAIT, YOUNG LOVERS — Governor Daniel's expected signature on a newly passed bill will put a damper on the elopement plans of Texas teen-agers.

It will require boys under 21 and girls under 18 to wait three days after obtaining a license to get married. Also, to get the license, the youngsters must be accompanied by parents or guardians.

Some lawmakers said it would mean more running across the state line to marry. However, Oklahoma recently passed a similar law.

NEED MONEY FIRST — Amid the legislative tax deadlock, the Commission on Higher Education decided to stop studying new money-spending programs until there's money to spend.

Commission's job is to determine needs of the state's colleges and universities and make recommendations to the Legislature. Expanded programs and new degrees are being sought by many schools. But when the Commission met, there was no money in sight even to open the schools next fall, let alone expand them.

Commission resolved to "approve no programs which entail additional expenditures until such times as monies are provided for the programs and offerings already in existence."

OIL QUOTA KEPT DOWN — Texas oil allowable will be held down to nine producing days again for August.

Railroad Commission ordered the same production as for July — 2,700,164 barrels a day on a nine-day schedule.

Major oil purchasing companies and independent producers were virtually agreed that production must be kept low to reduce excessive stocks.

WATCH THAT PAINT — If someone slips on a strip of wet city paint, is the city liable for personal injury damages, State Supreme Court has this issue under consideration in a case that could affect all Texas cities.

City of Austin is being sued for injuries of a person who slipped on fresh paint marking a car parking slot. Lower courts held the city was liable.
