BLAKE DEYHLE playing T-ball

Little League fund drive Sat. June 1

The time has come again for all of the people of the Donley County area to give our youth a helping hand. On Saturday, June 1st, the members of Clarendon Little League will be out soliciting donations to help with this year's expenses. The children are only allowed one day to have this activity every year. So far many donations have been given by businesses and private citizens who know of the good this activity does for the youth. Also many members have chosen to join the Chamber of Commerce since doing so as an individual guarantees your membership for one year and the money collected will go for payment on the lights for the girls' softball field. However, in order for this contribution to be made you must contact Mark Winsor or Melinda McAnear. Many new uniforms are needed as well as various equipment in order for the Little League volunteers to do what is necessary to make this year a success for our youngsters. We are not asking for anything but to improve a very worthwhile summer activity for the children of Donley County and that when they ask you for a donation, that you open your hearts as well as your pocketbooks and give to the future of a successful Donley County, OUR YOUTH. I would like to welcome all of you to attend our T-ball games beginning at 9:00 a.m. Saturday the 1st if you would like to experience why this program is so important. Also we have some real talented children in this county. Ya'll come down and have a good time with us Saturday.

Mark T. Winsor, President
Clarendon-Donley County Chamber of Commerce

Beau Boulter appointed to Budget Committee

Beau Boulter, Republican, 13th District U.S. Congressman from Amarillo, stopped by the Clarendon Press Friday to talk about the budget and his appointment to the House Budget Conference Committee by House Speaker Tip O'Neil. He was recommended by 17-member committee which included seven Republicans. Boulter stated, "this gives me a real opportunity for greater influence. These meetings will start in about two weeks. The biggest problem is to develop a budget that maintains national security and at the same time contains structural reforms necessary in domestic programs to get more spending reduction."

"I will never vote to freeze Social Security cost of living adjustments," Boulter continued. The Republican budget would have cut out $56 billion. It would have cut 10 social services. "One of the main things I would like to see cut from the budget would be Amtrak. It costs the taxpayers $38 per passenger per boarding," said Boulter. The Democratic budget which passed, cut only $40 billion from the budget, and 1/3 of that came from defense.

Of his most recent appointment, Boulter said, "It is an honor for a freshman to be put on the conference committee and have that kind of direct input in the final budget given the President."

STACY MOORING & LORETTA HARRISON

Ceramic Connection opens at new location

By PEGGY WATT

The Ceramic Connection recently opened at a new location. Stacy Mooring and Loretta Harrison originally opened their shop in Ms. Mooring's apartment but lack of space quickly necessitated the move. Now located at the corner of Highway 287 and Taylor Street in downtown Clarendon, the Ceramic Connection stocks a nice selection of greenware, paints, supplies, and gifts. They also have a large selection of silk flowers.

Open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m., there are no formal classes, but if you're interested in ceramics, stop by and Stacy and Loretta will give you lessons free. Come at your convenience.

There is a limited selection of molds, but as finances permit, Stacy and Loretta are gradually buying more molds. They will also order almost any greenware you might want.

The procedure for reaching the final stage of the ceramic path, there are several steps that must be taken.

The first stage after the item is molded is called greenware. After the article has been fired in the kiln once, it is called bisque. The greenware is very fragile and must be handled with extreme care. The bisque is more sturdy. After the bisque is cooled, it is ready for the glaze. A novice might be wary of the glaze when it is first painted because the color is drab and ugly at first. After being heated in the kiln at approximately 2000 degrees, it changes color. The drab gray will turn to a beautiful blue and the brown will turn to bright green.

Several articles can be fired at once. The kiln takes about 4 hours to reach the right temperature and 10 hours to cool enough to open the kiln. Stacy and Loretta are hoping to buy another, larger kiln in the near future.

The Ceramic Connection will have its Grand Opening on Saturday, June 8. There will be a drawing in which a gift will be given to someone who stops by and registers.

Stacy and Loretta invite everyone to come by and see the nice selection of gifts and ceramics they have in stock and chances are, once you do, you'll be so intrigued with the entire operation, you'll want to start working on one of the lovely pieces of greenware immediately.

BETH WALKER

Beth Walker installed as president of TALS

On Saturday, May 18, 1985, Beth Walker, PLS, CLA, was installed as President of the Texas Association of Legal Secretaries (TALS) at the 30th annual meeting of such professional organization in Beaumont, Texas. Attending the installation from Clarendon were Jeff Walker, Kristen Walker, Jo Ann Jack, Bill and Helen Lowe, and Jerry and Cinda Courtney. Other guests present were Will Lowe of Houston, Clay and Sherilyn Robinson of Canyon, and Jim and Carolyn Blackerby of Austin. Following the installation banquet, the new president was honored with a reception.

Walker has served in many positions in TALS, Legal Education Chairman, Bylaws Chairman, Liaison with Legal Directories Publishing Company, Inc., Treasurer, Recording Secretary, Second Vice President, and First Vice President. In 1976, she was selected as Texas Legal Secretary of the Year, and in 1981, she was chosen as TALS Officer of the Year.

At the annual meeting of the National Association of Legal Secretaries in 1985, while Walker was serving as State Membership Chairman, the Texas association was presented with a national membership award for the greatest number increase in membership. Under her leadership the Amarillo chapter also was presented a national membership award at the same meeting for the greatest percentage increase in membership. Only one individual, two local, and two state awards were given, and even the individual award was won by a Texas member.

Walker is an active member of the Amarillo Legal Secretaries Association and is the immediate past president of such organization. She has also served in most offices and chairmanships in the local chapter, and has been elected as delegate to the state and national annual meetings for many years. At the present time, she is serving as parliamentarian and bulletin editor for the Amarillo association.

Some of Walker's responsibilities in TALS are teaching in legal secretarial courses, speaking at various seminars around the state, speaking to local bar associations, and speaking at various high schools to promote the tri-level legal secretaries' association. She also wrote, revised, and edited a chapter in the TEXAS LAW OFFICE HANDBOOK, Second Edition, published by Bancroft-Whitney Company. In addition, Walker has written several requested articles for the TALS DOCKET, a quarterly state-wide publication.

Walker was certified as a Professional Legal Secretary in October, 1982, and in March, 1985, she passed the two-day examination to become a Certified Legal Assistant. The examination covered the following areas: Communications, Legal Research, Legal Terminology, Judgment and Analytical Ability, Human Relations and Interviewing Techniques, Ethics, and Substantive Law, which consisted of one general law test and four elective specialized areas of law. The examination is based on federal law, not state law, and successful candidates are entitled to use the designation "CLA" which signifies that the legal assistant should be able to work as a legal assistant in any law office in the nation. In order to remain certified, Walker must meet certain requirements of continuing legal education within a five-year period.

She is a charter member of the Legal Assistants' Division of the State Bar of Texas, having served as area membership chairman for two years. Walker is also a member of the National Association of Legal Assistants.

A resident of Clarendon, Texas, for twenty-one years, she has been employed by Lowe and Courtney, attorneys, of Clarendon, Texas, for eighteen and one-half years.

Cancer crusade is completed

Genevieve Caldwell, president of the Donley Unit of the American Cancer Society, expresses her sincere thanks to all these crusaders for their part in the drive. Also she wishes to thank The Clarendon Press for the continued support of the Cancer Society. Publicity is essential for informing the public, the Donley Unit is fortunate in having strong community support.

"My heartfelt thanks are extended once again to each person for the part you took in this most worthy cause," said Mrs. Caldwell.

Foster reunion held

Claude Community Center was again the meeting place for the annual Foster reunion. The day was a success as they all blew their diets, tired to top each others "tall tales" and bragged on their grandchildren. They enjoyed looking at picture albums of their younger days - back in the late 1940's. They all had to admit "We are now the older generation."

Those enjoying this memorial occasion were Gerald and Louise Foster, Benbrook; Clyde and Betty Morgan, Levelland; Terry, Derenda and Kendra Williams, Mansfield; Jack and Imogene Brogdon, Borger;

Danny, Vickie, Greg, Doug and Kim Cearley, Quanah; Dean and Buddy Brunson, Amarillo; Buford and Jerry Holland, Hedley; Otto and Cara Elliott, Dan and Erma Lea Tims, W.T. and Bobbie and Shawna Elliott, all of Claude; Veda Elliott, Pauline Jones, John and Rosey Cearley, Darrell, Wilma and Terri Leffew, John Mays, Gary, Geneva, Wayne, Logan and Aron Mays, Marva Lee, Eureda and Lori Mays, all of Clarendon.

They missed Leon and Threecil Foster and Pat Myers who were unable to attend. Let's make every effort to attend next year.

DID YOU KNOW?

Although 90 per cent of the animals used each year in medical research are rodents, such as rats and mice, other animal species have special qualities that help us learn more about certain human and animal health problems.

Some interesting examples:
• Deer and other mammals with antlers are capable of extraordinarily rapid bone growth. What starts and stops this process is of interest to orthopedists and endocrinologists who treat human growth problems.

• Pigs are ideal subjects for heart and skin research. Because their circulation is like that of humans, pigs have been used in the development of heart valves. Drugs and treatments for skin disease, including therapy for severe burns, have also resulted from experiments with pigs, whose hairless abdominal skin has a texture similar to human skin.

• Chinchillas and human beings hear exactly the same range of tones. Research with these animals is uncovering more information about human hearing, including the potential effects of loud noise on behavior and hearing.

• Sheep have contributed to the development of surgical techniques to correct certain defects in human babies before birth.

• Armadillos, the only mammals besides humans which can contract leprosy, are invaluable in the study of this disease. Its incidence has been increasing in the United States in recent years.

"Men are never so good or so bad as their opinions."

Tornado Warning

The "Texas tornado" or "twister" as it is commonly called, descends from a thunder cloud as a whirlpool of winds rotating in a counterclockwise direction about a hollow center. With a great reduction in pressure, condensation occurs and makes the funnel cloud visible.

Visually, it looks like a spinning, twisting rope at its bottom which extends down from a funnel-shaped cloud looking much like a kitchen funnel, wide at the top and tapering smaller toward the ground. The more intense tornadoes are shaped more like a wide elephant trunk.

The hissing noise is another common feature of the tornado. Persons describe this noise as being as loud as the roar of a dozen jets. The exact cause is a mystery, but may be caused by the friction of the high winds over the earth's surface.

DERIVED STRENGTH

Excessive property damage and loss of life from tornadoes is caused by a number of natural forces converging at one time. Strong cyclical winds, intense lightning from thunderstorms, and a dramatic drop in pressure combine to make the tornado's force so strong that measuring its windspeed is extremely difficult. However, meteorologists are able to estimate the force of the funnel by taking motion pictures and clocking the speed of debris picked up by the tornado. Moderate tornado windspeeds are 80 to 100 miles per hour; top tornado windspeeds are just under 400 mph.

Passing over a building, tornado winds twist and rip at the outside. Meanwhile, a dramatic drop in pressure in the center of the tornado causes explosive over-pressure inside, walls to collapse or topple outward, windows to explode and debris to be flung through the air.

A 10 percent reduction in pressure caused by the tornado passing is sufficient to exert a pressure of 212 pounds per square foot on the walls of a house and 106 tons on the roof. Few walls can survive a pressure of 212 pounds per square foot, and no ceiling can sustain 106 tons.

A severe thunderstorm often precedes the tornado. Heavy rains, strong winds and hail may add to the damage suffered.

The average tornado travels along the ground at 30 miles per hour, stays on the ground for 10 minutes and leaves a path of destruction several hundred yards wide and from two to five miles long. Obviously, there are many examples of much longer and wider storms and also much smaller ones.

KNOW HOW TO PROTECT YOURSELF

Most deaths associated with tornadoes are caused by flying debris. Serious injuries result from being struck in the head or chest. To protect these sensitive areas, curl up so that your head and chest are protected.

BE AWARE OF POSSIBLE DANGERS DURING THE TORNADO

Be aware of flying objects, falling trees, breaking windows, collapsing buildings and breaking power lines.

KEEP TUNED TO YOUR RADIO OR TV FOR LATEST ADVISORY INFORMATION

Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado. Your individual requests may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

THREAT YEAR-ROUND

The peak months for tornadoes are April, May and June - but they are a year-round threat.

One December after "the season" was long gone, a tornado gouged a 25-mile-long twisting path of destruction through northeast Houston. Damages to insured property totaled more than $3.6 million, according to Frank Lewis, regional manager of Property Claim Services, American Insurance Association. One person was killed trying to escape the twister when it flipped his truck.

Survivors in the tornado's path compared it to a gigantic fist that "exploded houses" and flung cars and trailer trucks like a child's toys.

Often tornadoes are associated with hurricanes. The "hurricane season" is from June to November. In 1967, for example, Hurricane Beulah spawned 115 tornadoes in a five-day period. Sixty-seven of these occurred on one day, setting a national record. When a tornado approaches, immediate action can save your life.

KNOW HOW TO SPOT A TORNADO

Know the tornado season for your area. Although tornadoes may strike in the U.S. almost anywhere, and at anytime, they occur most often between March and September. Most tornadoes occur between noon and midnight. In the past, more than one-half of the tornadoes in Texas have occurred in April, May and June.

2. Learn to recognize what severe weather signs may precede tornadoes: bad thunderstorms - thunder, lightning, hard rain, strong winds; hail - bullets of ice from a dark, cloudy sky; roaring noise - like a hundred locomotives or jet planes; and the funnel - dark, spinning "rope" or column from the sky to the ground.

EMS to sponsor Miracle Network Telethon

On June 1 and 2, the third annual Children's Miracle Network Telethon will air live from the Osmond Entertainment Center in Orem, Utah. The Telethon, produced by the Osmond Foundation, benefits pediatric hospitals throughout the United States and Canada. With over 130 television stations carrying the show, the Children's Miracle Network Telethon is the second largest telethon in the world.

The Telethon is a unique concept in children's hospital fundraising. One hundred percent of the funds raised go directly to the pediatric health care center in the care region of the donor. Viewers, therefore, are able to donate directly to the facility that cares for the children in their community.

"I am excited about my association with the Osmond Foundation and children's hospitals," said John Schneider, National Co-Chairman and Host of the Telethon. "We have a great team here dedicated to improving the quality of life for all children."

A host of the television, movie and recording artists will appear on the 21-hour telethon, including Schneider and National Co-Chairman and Host Marie Osmond. Marilyn McCoo and Merilin Olsen act as co-hosts for the production.

"The first two years of the Telethon have proven to be very successful in our efforts to raise funds for the participating hospitals," Marie Osmond said. "In 1985, we will be in more than 130 markets and that means only one thing: more and more children will continue to benefit from this tremendous effort."

The first Children's Miracle Network Telethon aired in May of 1983 and raised in excess of $4.5 million for 22 children's hospitals. Thirty television markets were involved that first year. In 1984, 91 stations carried the show which raised $12 million for the 68 participating hospitals. In 1985, more than 100 hospitals will benefit from the Telethon, including five hospitals throughout the Canadian provinces.

An unsurpassed degree of volunteerism keeps the cost of the production low, allowing all the money raised to remain in the area of the donor. All of the celebrities who appear on the show donate their time and talents. In addition, studio facilities, air travel and hotel accommodations are donated.

"I can never do enough when it comes to helping children," said Schneider, who spends a great deal of his time throughout the year visiting Telethon hospitals, along with his dedicated co-hosts. "We were so thrilled with the amount of money raised the first two years and we couldn't have done it without the celebrities, the corporate sponsors, and the people who opened their hearts and contributed."

"Children, no matter what color, what race, what religion, deserve a chance at life," Osmond concluded. "We're out to give it to them."

Clarendon EMS Association will sponsor the Children's Miracle Network Telethon. All pledges may be made by calling 874-3516.

Mrs. Bill Watson honored with tea

A tea honoring Mrs. Bill (Boots) Watson was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Clarendon First United Methodist Church May 22 from 4:30 to 6:00 p.m. This lovely come and go affair was a tribute to her as well as a farewell occasion. Rev. and Mrs. Watson will be moving to a new appointment in Littlefield in June. The women of the United Methodist Church were hostesses for the gathering.

Punch, cookies, nuts and mints were served by Mrs. Bill Mooring and Mrs. Gene White. Silver candle holders with pink candles and a centerpiece of colorful spring flowers graced the lace-covered serving table. Mrs. Goodwin Bray, president of Clarendon United Methodist Women, presented Mrs. Watson an appreciation gift of three pieces of Chokin art. Mrs. Watson graciously accepted the gift, expressing her thanks and also her pleasure at having been a part of the women's organizations of the church for the past six years.

Fifty ladies signed the guest register, which was presided over by Mrs. C.A. Pitts and Mrs. C.J. VanZandt. During the social hour many regrets were expressed, but so were many good wishes for happiness in the new appointment.

Lynn Bourland-White receives Doctor of Philosophy degree

Lynn Bourland White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bourland of Ennis, was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy Degree at Texas A&M University on May 3rd. Dr. White is the Family Science Project Supervisor and a Home Economics Specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System, in College Station.

Dr. White conducted research to identify "Criteria for Assessing Adult Financial Management Competency Needs: A Delphi Study." From three rounds of questionnaires sent to 21 nationally-recognized financial management experts, she determined that the most important financial management competency is for adults to be able to develop and implement a comprehensive financial management plan. Typically financial management decisions are made about investments, savings options, credit use, tax-saving strategies, estate plans, or insurance without considering how decisions made in one area of spending affect options left in other areas of financial management.

Dr. White is a graduate of Clarendon High School, where she was valedictorian of her class, earned the state degree as a Future Homemaker of America, and was selected as the first State Little Sister by the Texas Young Homemakers Association.

Dr. White studied at Clarendon Junior College and completed the Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in Home Economics Education at Texas Tech University.

As a college student, she was selected as a member of Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Upsilon Omicron honorary fraternities. She was president of the Texas Tech and Texas Home Economics Student Section of the Texas Home Economics Association.

As a professional Home Economist, Lynn followed her mother as vocational homemaking teacher at Clarendon High School. She taught two and a half years before joining the home economics specialist staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In addition to her graduate course work at Texas A&M University, Dr. White also studied at Purdue University.

Dr. White has served as the first vice-president, family economics and home management section chairman and nominating committee chairman of the Texas Home Economics Association and has represented the THEA as a delegate to the American Home Economics Association for four years. She has been the vice chairman and chairman of the South Texas Chapter of the Electrical Women's Round Table and is completing her fourth year on the nation EWRT board of directors. Dr. White also currently serves on the visiting committee for the Abilene Christian University Home Economics Department.

Dr. White is married to David R. White, President of a private consulting and training firm, Fire and Safety Specialists, Inc., located in College Station, Texas.

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

BUDGET BATTLE BEGINS—DEFENSE REFORMS A PRIORITY

The House of Representatives has begun the process of developing the 1986 federal budget. As a member of the Budget Committee, I will be faced with many difficult budget decisions. And judging from the preliminary budget issued by the Majority on the Budget Committee, one very tough battle will center on the budget for the Department of Defense (DOD).

The budget being proposed by Budget Committee Chairman Bill Gray freezes defense spending, with no provision for inflation. This will cut into processing new defensive weapons systems that are currently in the research phase. These systems, such as the Strategic Defense Initiative, are vital to the proper defense of this country.

This type of freeze, in my opinion, is irresponsible. The most important duty of a government is to protect its citizens. This budget proposal would not allow for what I consider adequate national defense.

I could, however, support a compromise which would freeze the defense budget, allowing increases only for inflation, if it included provisions for major reforms throughout the DOD.

I am a member of the House Military Reform Caucus, and through my work on that Caucus, I have become increasingly aware of areas within the DOD budget in which substantial savings could be achieved without the loss of defensive abilities. There is little argument against the fact that our defense industry has become grossly inefficient. Currently, that industry works at about one-third efficiency, and the full cost is paid by our tax dollars.

For instance, current procedures do not allow for truly competitive bidding on many military contracts. Contract negotiations, which today make up the vast majority of all major system and spare parts procurement, should be brought into line with commercial competitive market prices.

One suggestion for doing this would be to have a system of dual source contracting, which would award a contract to the TWO lowest bidders, with the major award going to the lowest bidder, and a smaller part going to the second lowest bidder. This system, obviously, would increase pressure on a contractor to maintain the lowest possible costs while producing at the highest possible rate of efficiency.

Another suggestion may seem ridiculously obvious, but in fact, requires legislation to enact: cancel procurement of those weapons that have demonstrated their ineffectiveness in operational tests, using at least some of the savings to fully fund worthwhile weapons.

These are two of many recommendations made by the Military Reform Caucus and by the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, also known as the Grace Commission. At the Pentagon, as well as throughout the entire federal budget, we must identify waste and inefficiency, and cut it from the federal budget.

If we do not, we will continue to lose ground to the Soviets not because of how much we are able to spend on our national defense, but because of how we spend it.

ENERGY FACTS TEXANS SHOULD KNOW

By The Texas Oil Marketers Association

Beware Of What You Put In Your Automobile Gasoline Tank

AUSTIN, Texas—"Gasoline at many pumps contain alcohol that can cause rough driving and damage in some cars," a leading newspaper recently reported. The article went on to point out that motorists do not know when they are buying an alcohol blend, nor how much of the additive their fuel contains.

The Texas Legislature may solve this consumer problem. Currently under consideration is House Bill 1717 by Representative Jim Horn of Denton. The bill would require stations selling alcohol blends to notify consumers with signs on pumps.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has approved the use of a number of alcohol-gasoline blends, but there is concern among motor vehicle manufacturers about the long-term effects of these blends on vehicles. "Labelling of the dispensing pumps at service stations to identify the type and concentration of alcohols in the fuel would be a significant aid to motorists in selecting the proper fuel for their vehicles," notes the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

This information is extremely important to motorists because some automobile manufacturers will void a consumers warranty if certain alcohol blends are used.

D.L. Hittler, Director of Engine Engineering for American Motors Corporation, says: "Our studies over the past five years convince us that gasolines blended with alcohols are likely to cause severe corrosion problems in current automotive fuel systems if the fuels do not contain adequate corrosion inhibitors. In turn, fuel system corrosion can cause driveability problems and failures of selected components and sub-systems."

While the labelling issue is attracting considerable consumer interest, other issues involving "gasohol" are being studied by the Texas State Legislature. One of the most important involves the state subsidy provided to fuels blended with alcohol. Currently, fuel that contains 10 percent ethyl alcohol is eligible for a five cents exemption from the 10 cents state motor fuel tax.

Petroleum marketers and others in Texas are opposed to the current exemption and have urged the legislators to end this subsidy. The gasohol exemption was originally approved in Texas to encourage the use of Texas agricultural products being used to produce alcohol that could be blended with gasoline.

"While the intent of the legislature was to benefit Texas farmers, more than 95 percent of the alcohol sold in motor fuels in Texas is produced out-of-state," reports Jerdy Gary, president of the Texas Oil Marketers Association. TOMA represents more than 750 companies that supply petroleum products to more than 10,000 Texas service stations.

"This means that out-of-state concerns are being subsidized by the state of Texas," Gary points out.

Several bills have been introduced in the State Legislature to correct this inequity. One of the bills, HB 1627 by Representative Horn, has already received the approval of the House of Representatives Energy Committee.

The bill would continue the five cents motor fuel tax exemption for alcohol produced in Texas from Texas grown products, but it would end the subsidy for out-of-state fuel.

"This would provide the financial incentive for alcohol plants to process Texas agricultural products, without being an excessive drain on state tax revenues," Gary maintains.

Currently, state law allows motor fuel tax exemptions of up to $2,750,000 each calendar quarter or in excess of $10 million annually.

"The revenue the state would save by eliminating the subsidy for out-of-state alcohol would help to alleviate taxes in other areas," Gary says. "Both the labelling bill (HB 1717) and the exemption bill (HB 1627) would be extremely beneficial to consumers," says Gary.

Consumers who agree that service station pumps must indicate if alcohol is being sold should contact their State Representative and Senator and urge passage of HB 1717 by Representative Jim Horn. Those who favor an end to the tax subsidies for out-of-state alcohol should support HB 1627.

Some people once believed that if a girl plants marigolds in soil that contains the footprints of a man she loves, his love will grow and bloom with the marigold.

This Land Is Your Land

Garry Mauro

Texas Land Commissioner

Next November Texas voters will again have a chance to support a government program that works. That's when Texas voters will get a chance to renew bonding authority for the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program.

The Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program has not cost the taxpayers of the state one penny and that's one reason why it is a government program that works. The funding for the program comes from the selling of these bonds, which are repaid by the Veterans who participate—including the cost of administering the program.

Through the program eligible Veterans can receive up to $20,000 at a 9.97 percent interest rate to apply toward the purchase of a home. When combined with a conventional or a VA loan, a Texas Veteran can purchase a home with no down payment.

Since the program began a little over a year ago, the Veterans Land Board has certified more than 16,500 applications for loans to Texas Veterans. Providing $20,000 to each Veteran to apply toward the purchase of a home, this program has already put $300 million into the Texas economy. As a result, the housing program stimulates the homebuilding industry as well as creating jobs in the state so that not only the Veteran benefits, but all Texans as well.

Because the program works so well and contributes so much to the state's economy, it has been called the greatest single Veterans benefits program to be enacted by a state since World War II. This program can provide the opportunity for every Texas Veteran to own his or her own home—especially thousands of Veterans who have been unable to afford it—especially the Vietnam-era Veterans.

And with Texas facing these tough fiscal times, it is encouraging to look at one government program where Texas taxpayers get back more than they pay for. The Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program is one such program—a successful combination of cooperation between the public and private sectors that benefits both Texas Veterans and the Texas economy without costing the taxpayer one single penny.

Roger Grubkey who is in the insurance and farming in Wilderado, Texas was also the guest of Lion Don Smith. Boss Lion Lovelady announced a directors meeting will be held at the Lions Hall next Monday night. Our attendance was down today. There was some talk on appointing a fact finding committee to determine whether those Lions who were absent today had too big of holiday weekend or if they just thought today was Monday. Meeting adjourned.

SPOTLIGHT On Teen's

DATING

Dating is a very important part of a teenagers life. There are many different areas that need to be taken into consideration when you date someone. Since it is very important that a teenager dates the right person and since many teenagers do not know who to date, I am going to begin a series of lessons on teenage dating.

Each of us at one time or another have thought about the possibility of becoming involved in dating. The activity of dating thrills some, terrifies others, will make some laugh or even cry. Our present date-life can greatly effect our future. It has the potential for controlling a large part of our thoughts and actions. You would be surprised at some of the crazy things teenagers do just to get a date.

You as a teenager need to realize that God has a design which will make you truly happy. Dating and marriage do not have to be an unhappy thing. It seems that in so many homes the husband and wife are very unhappy. That is one reason for the large divorce rate today. God did not mean for marriage to be an unhappy thing. Those who are unhappy have not followed God's design for dating and marriage.

Although the Bible does not have specific information about dating as such, it does give us standards and crucial guidelines for having successful relationships with those of the opposite sex. From these standards we are able to draw His goals for our date-life.

Over the next few weeks we are going to consider some of God's goals for dating and some of the qualities that you will want to look for in a dating partner. I certainly hope that you will apply some of these principles to your date-life.

Hinton thanking sisters for her selection of "Girl of the Year" was read by President Butts. Maurine Butts also expressed her gratitude for the selection also.

Ways and Means Committee reported pecans are almost sold. Susan reported.

Carol Hinton reported for the social committee on the Mother's Day brunch at the Cafe Ritz in Amarillo.

Betty Veach reported on the City Council meeting before Founder's Day and how everything was planned. Founder's Day program was very nice.

Service committee had no report. Sandra Mooring presented the concept of a "Career Chapter". She wrote International and got information concerning the "Career Chapters." We discussed converting to a "Career Chapter." The structure could be a little different. Doris Ekleberry made a motion to convert our chapter to a "Career Chapter." Pam Fletcher seconded, motion passed. It was decided to still have hostesses. We would have 12 fixed meetings (one a month) and our established regular time would still be the 2nd Monday of each month. Beth Walker moved that we meet the 2nd Monday of every month for programs and business meeting, Doris Ekleberry seconded it, motion carried. It was decided to start our meetings in June (June 10th). Beth Walker moved that we start our year in June, seconded by Doris Ekleberry, motion carried. Maurine Butts volunteered to do yearbook in calendar form, have birthdays and anniversaries of sisters on it, dates for certain events, etc. with everyone's help. The July chill cook-off was discussed (to be held July 5), the July 4th booth for a money-making project, might sell ice cream and iced tea.

Beth Walker presented our retiring president, Maurine Butts, a gift (pin) for such a fine job leading Xi Lambda Xi through different and very successful times this year.

Thanks for a job well done. Business meeting adjourned.

Carol Hinton won the raffle. Attending were Sandra Mooring, Maurine Butts, Doris Ekleberry, Pam Fletcher, Susan Henson, Suzette Henson, legacy member, Carol Hinton, Beth Walker, Carol Grady, Genella Eads, Betty Veach.

Watt's Happening in Hedley

by Peggy Watt

I may have mentioned this before, but my typewriter is prone to make mistakes. A few weeks ago I listed the graduating seniors who received bibles from the First Baptist Church and the silly thing left Debbie Clubb off the list. Sorry Debbie. Her parents, Bill and Mary Kay Clubb and I guess Billy and Michelle were there also. If I've told that machine once, I've told it a million times to be careful and make sure nobody important is left out of the copy.

There were a lot of people in town for the high school graduation. There were a lot I didn't see because I was busy with my own graduate, but I did see Phillip and Donna Mackey and Bill and Florance Miller, Memphis, and Jay Gould, Clovis McCary, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hill from Clarendon, and Don and Bonnie Hall, Joe and Lucy Poole, Gary and Jeanette Burns, all from Amarillo. I'm sure there's a lot I've missed. Oh! I did admire Ben Clifford's nephew.

I read in the Amarillo newspaper last week that Vernon and Omata Scott had celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Congratulations! Their sons, Steven and John, hosted a reception in their honor. Mr. Scott is a former superintendent of school at Hedley.

Earl and Sharon Wheatly left Saturday for a week's cruise in the Caribbean aboard a Windjammer sailing ship. How lucky can a person get? Sharon told me she would get home late next Sunday night and start to summer school the next morning.

Pick and Laqueta Cox hosted a supper in Carl's honor Friday night following the graduation. Those attending were Sondra and Joel Layton, Linda McClesky, James, Willie, Elwyn and Wyman of Spur; Cary and Jeannette Burns and Joe and Lucy Poole from Amarillo; Nellie Martin and Rheta Price from Childress; Doyle and Cora Littlefield from Clarendon; Jim and Kay Jones and Debbie, Vanell Littlefield from Goodnight; Bob and Jessie Roland and David Phelps from Hedley and Marty and Sis Martin, Matt and Kendra from Giles.

D.K. and Beulah Hall visited his brother, Royce and Thelma Hall in Clarendon last week.

Shawn Cobb from Wellington visited his grandmother, Mrs. Nora Hartwell Saturday. James and Nonie Hartwell came down to see her Sunday. When I talked to her she was angry with her other kids because she'd cooked dinner for them, and they didn't come. They visited with Bill and Jo Bridges while they were here.

J.T. and Helen Lamberson attended the Longan reunion in Lelia Lake Sunday. Their grandson Randy Lamberson from Lubbock and Mike and Donna Lamberson, Ashley and Mikala stopped by enroute home in Burkburnett.

Ruby Kunc of Borger visited her mother Mrs. Louise Long last week.

Jane Long has been ill. She went to the doctor last week. When I talked to her she said she was feeling better.

Darlene Ball is in High Plains Baptist Hospital. L.D. said she didn't know when she might get to come home. She's been in intensive care for several days.

Myrtle Reeves is still in St. Anthony's Hospital. So is Hobard Moffitt.

Bob and Jessie Roland and their children, Bobby and Pat Roland from Amarillo, home for the weekend.

Joe Moore and B.J. Wells from Whitmore, Colorado spent the weekend with Joe's parents, Gerald and Marie Bland. Joe's daughter, Tonya Moore, was one of the ing seniors.

Red Hill and W.P. Doherty went to Amarillo last week to finalize Mr. Doherty's plans for his trip to Holland next week. If I had my druthers, I think I'd rather go to Holland than sail in the Caribbean with the Wheatlys.

Fred's nephew, Mike and Lisa Ayres, stopped by for a while Saturday. They were returning home to Abilene from their wedding trip to Colorado.

Joe and Flossie Wood and Jane had company over the weekend. Their daughters, Joy Stone from Childress, and Helen Soloman from Fritch came. Flossie's sister, Inez Sams from Panhandle, Joe's mother Mrs. Ruby Wood, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cloere from Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nivens from Dumas were all there.

My mother, Lola Brown, attended graduation exercises in Amarillo Friday night. William and Margie Mullins' son, Chris, received his diploma. It's times like that when I would like to be twins. I couldn't be there and at Thunder's graduation at the same time. If were as lucky as Pauline Morris, my family would arrange things so I could attend everything. She will attend four graduations this spring. I can't imagine her grandchildren are that old. Carl Jr. was my age though and three of mine are out of school already.

Ed and Ethel Favor of Giles visited their son and daughter-in-law, Carroll and Marsha Favor, in Childress Sunday. Must not have been much of a visit. I understand they had a windmill to repair.

Calvin Holland has an appointment in the Shrine Orthopedic Hospital in Houston May 30 to have his feet checked. Darrell will go with him.

Lori Ann Yannis is with us. She may stay all summer. We'll have her good and spoiled if she does.

Bill and Jo Bridges, Larry and Karen Casey, Chrissie, Jason, and Katie were down for the weekend. They live part time at Bill's and Jo's home west of town and part-time in Amarillo. Anyway, we visited them for a while Sunday evening.

Margaret and Joe Wells were at the Methodist Church Sunday. Margaret played the organ in Sharon's absence.

Brother Bryan Knowles is in St. Anthony's Hospital. Mr. Blackerby from Clarendon filled his pulpit Sunday morning. Sunday night Brother Watson preached in the regular joint 4th Sunday service at the Baptist Church.

The Boss and I went to Sweetwater Thursday to take Mr. Joe Chance to his grandson's house. I wasn't sure we'd get there. Helen told me she'd never been that way, and we'd have to watch the road signs. We only took one wrong turn and realized it before we'd gone a mile. Can you imagine getting lost in Roaring Springs! That's a lot like getting lost in Giles.

Mrs. Nellie Martin of Childress visited her son, Marty and Sis, Saturday. She went on to Amarillo for her grandson's graduation and will be back later.

Clyde and Lucille Johnson visited Clyde's brothers, Walter and Alfred, over the weekend. They went on to White Deer Monday to spend some time with Charlie and Eunice. They'll be back for the Johnson reunion next week.

About 50 members of the Hedley Methodist and Baptist congregations hosted a going away dinner for Bill and Boots Watson in the Methodist Fellowship Hall Wednesday night. Sharon Wheatly presented them with a money tree which everybody wanted a cutting from. Sharon told them the tree came from her ranch and she had a mob of people down there looking for another one. Bill Carson expressed his appreciation from the community to the Watsons. Boots was celebrating her birthday and everyone sang Happy Birthday to her and to Mrs. Nell Land. Bill and Boots will be moving to the Littlefield United Methodist Church on June 12.

As I came to work Monday morning, I talked to Sis Martin. She was hauling hay behind Blackie's baler. She told me her dad made the bales too heavy and she was working too hard. I don't know about her, but if a bale of hay weighed more than 25 pounds it would be too heavy for me. Sis and Carl Cox didn't seem to be having much trouble with it though.

Patty Chaykin and Michelle of Canyon visited her brother Reggie and Faye Patton Saturday.

Some Indians of the Caribbean would not eat turtles for fear such a diet would make them stupid.

King James I of England, one of England's most learned monarchs and sponsor of the Authorized Bible, believed in witchcraft.

Frank James, outlaw and brother of Jesse James, was acquitted when finally brought to trial.

WINNERS of the Bike-a-thon - 1st place Robert Lee, $146.00, 2nd place, Jodi Kidd, $131.00, 3rd place, Ernie Lee, $115.00 and the youngest rider, Kyle Judd.

Bike-A-Thon raises $1526⁶⁵ for Cancer Society

Jeff Walker, superintendent of Clarendon Schools, has served the Donley Unit as chairman of the Bike-a-thon since it became part of the Cancer Crusade a number of years ago. Each year the same interest and enthusiasm is shown by bike-a-thon participants and it continues to be a team effort of caring young persons and their community. This year there were 40 riders and one of them was six year old Kyle Judd. Kyle is the son of Linda and Eddie Judd.

The Bike-a-thon collected $1,526.65 for 1985. Robert Lee was first, and the amount of money brought in was $146.00; Jodi Kidd was second with $131.00, and Ernie Lee was third with $115.00. Robert and Ernie are the sons of Joey and Brenda Lee, and Jodi is the daughter of the Larry Kidds. Genevieve Caldwell commends all these young supporters of the Bike-a-thon and once again says, "Thank you, Jeff Walker, for your continuing effort on the behalf of the Bike-a-thon and the war against cancer." The grand total of $4,321.08 is the 1985 figure for "WE ARE WINNING."

adha YOUR HEALTH

Facts From The American Dental Hygienists' Association

NURSING BOTTLE CAN CAUSE TOOTH DECAY

An often-used technique to pacify a cranky or crying child is to give him a bottle of sugary liquids. What many parents don't realize is that this seemingly safe method of soothing can lead to a condition of tooth decay called nursing caries syndrome.

"Decay can occur when sweetened liquids are frequently given to the infant throughout the day and night, especially when the child is falling asleep," says Cheryl Westphal, RDH, president of the American Dental Hygienists' Association.

The sugar contained in milk, formulas, juices and other sweetened liquids mixes with plaque (a thin, sticky, colorless film of bacteria that constantly forms in the mouth). This combination creates an acid that attacks tooth enamel and causes decay.

To prevent nursing caries syndrome:

- Avoid offering your child a bottle containing sugary liquids as a pacifier. If a bottle is needed to pacify, fill it with water.
- Clean your infant's teeth and gums with a washcloth or gauze pad after each feeding to prevent tooth decay.
- Begin taking your child to the dentist and dental hygienist at an early age (before age four).

YOUR BEST DEFENSE AGAINST DEPRECIATION AND INFLATION

When it comes to insurance protection for your personal possessions, Replacement Cost Coverage from USF&G Insurance is your best defense against depreciation and inflation.

Unlike your standard homeowners policy, USF&G Replacement Cost Coverage pays to replace your possessions with new ones if they're stolen, damaged or lost in a fire—without the usual deductions for depreciation, and at current market prices. And that can save you a lot of money. Call us or stop by to find out more.

THEN and NOW!

Scapegoats were originally any material object, animal, bird or person on whom the bad luck, diseases, misfortunes or sins of an individual or group were symbolically placed. The scapegoat was then forced to leave the community or was destroyed. The practice of scapegoating was popular in many ancient cultures as an annual rite. The term is derived from the goat upon whose head Aaron symbolically laid the sins of the people on the Day of Atonement, after which it was led away into the wilderness.

These days, many people are making broadcast television the scapegoat for encouraging alcohol abuse through advertising. Although many people are rightly concerned about the alcohol abuse problem, it would not help to ban advertising of wine and beer on TV, experts say. There is no valid research that makes a connection between broadcast advertising and alcohol abuse. It's also important to remember, say officials at the NBC network, that the freedom to advertise is an important aspect of a free and pluralistic society. Society benefits from advertising as a source of information. It is also a fact that wine and beer are not considered harmful substances in themselves—and they are legal.
