Bugbee's Work To Be Featured

The historic mural cycle in Pioneer Hall at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon is one of the most unique in Southwest, according to PPHM Curator of Art Michael R. Grauer. In honor of the sixtieth anniversary of the completion of Harold Dow Bugbee's first Museum Mural, The Cattleman, and to acknowledge Bugbee's achievements with public art, the PPHM will open "H.D. Bugbee: Mural Painter" on Saturday, May 14. The exhibit will open in conjunction with the 73rd Annual Meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Bugbee's illustrations and easel painting are well known; however, he had an equally auspicious career as a mural painter. This exhibition examines this facet of the artist's career, using sketches, studies, and actual murals, as well as letters pertaining to various mural commissions, the exhibition will discuss murals in general and probe Bugbee's mural-making processes.

Recently the United States 37th President passed away. The regulations or flying our American Flag are that flags are flown half-mast for 30 days at the death of a current or past president. (Our fine library has all of the written regulations.) We have 1,000's of persons from all across the U.S.A. (world) traveling highway 287 during a 30 day period. I'm sure very few of these citizens care about the political feelings in a small community. I'm just as sure, a large number of these same citizens will care when they see flags flying full staff in Clarendon, Texas. I'm deeply offended and I'm afraid they will be, too. Please, if you want the honor of displaying our flag, honor our flag by knowing and following the correct protocol. Sincerely, Helen Randall by David D. Dodge Many years ago an alcoholic man promised to quit drinking if a young woman named Celia would marry him. She did. He didn't. The drinking and all that went with it became a source of mental and emotional abuse. For Celia, the inner suffering and turmoil became unbearable. The man refused to leave home and would not let her leave. Even if she had tried, he would have gone after her and brought her back. Celia could not change him or her circumstances. The hopelessness that once camped on her doorstep now moved in with all its baggage of despair and depression. She could not take it anymore. Thoughts of another kind of escape entered her mind. How nice it would be to leave her body and float up to be in heaven with the angels. He would never be able to chase after her and find her there. One night, just after midnight fifty-nine years ago, this young mother reached over and kissed her little baby girl good-bye. She inched her way to the door and stepped out into the cold blackness of the night. The love of the small life she left behind was not great enough to overcome the pain of desperation she felt inside. Only those who have experienced this situation can know of the struggle that tormented Celia as she walked her last mile of life.

A Mother's Attempt To Escape

The best boot. Bar none. You can't rustle up a tougher pair of boots. Red Wing Pull-On Pecos Boots. From the brand you trust. James Owens Leather Goods

There it was! The cold steel bridge outlined against a solemn dark sky. She longed to be free from the abuse and yet yearned to be with her baby, but felt she could not have both. Reaching her destination in the middle of the bridge, Celia turned and gripped the railing before daring to look below. The ugly muddy waters of death terrified and yet seduced her at the same time. This last decision would rob her of choice forever. Someone told her that those who commit suicide cannot be forgiven. She desperately wanted to be with Jesus, but what would he think of her last act on this earth? The decision was made. She inched her way down the bridge and back toward trouble with distress. Celia still died that night, but not in a watery grave. She died to self and her attitude of hopelessness, despair, and defeat. She surrendered her need to feel happy in order to fulfill her purpose on this earth. She returned home to a tiny helpless baby, who with gurgling sounds of happiness began reaching innocent hands toward its source of life and love. Celia knew then that she could never contemplate this form of escape again. Celia went on to give life to ten more children, who in turn gave life to thirty-two more children, who in turn gave life to thirty-eight more children. To date, this woman is responsible for giving life to eighty-one people on this earth. These children are not committing murder and mayhem in the streets. In fact, just the opposite. Some became pastors or married pastors. Some became missionaries, working in China, Tibet, Japan, Thailand, Cambodia, Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Haiti, Guatemala, Peru, Africa, Russia, and several other countries. The rest ran alcoholic rehabilitation centers, got involved in teaching, counseling, prison ministries, politics, and built businesses. This is just the beginning! Many of the grandchildren and great grandchildren have yet to marry and have children. There is yet to be a mountain of good created in this world because one woman refused to give in to her thoughts of suicide. Who is Celia you ask? She is Celia Larson Dodge. She is my wonderful and lovely eighty-four year old mother. Happy Mother's Day, Mom! Thank you for choosing life. To all mothers who are suffering turmoil, hopelessness, despair, or depression; You have a much higher calling on this earth

Burton Memorial Library remains appreciative of all the support provided from Donley County citizens. A very thoughtful gift was recently received from Pauline Riley, a former resident of Donley County. Since many of you probably remember Pauline, you might be interested in her contribution for the purpose of purchasing books for the library. She has designated that earnings from interest on a $5000.00 certificate of deposit will be paid annually to the library as long as it remains open and in an active status serving Clarendon. Should Burton Memorial Library cease to exist, the earnings are to be directed to another worthy cause. It seems that she remembers her family using the local library when her children were in school and there was no extra money for books. To express her and her family's gratitude for that service, she has chosen this generous way to return something beneficial to the community. A very sincere "thank you" to Pauline Riley.

We hope you'll be watching for plans for a Christmas Card Fund to benefit Burton Memorial Library. More will be said about this at a later date.

Kindergarten and First Grade Teachers, the rest of this column is especially for you. If you aren't familiar with The Armadillo From Amarillo, it's a brand new book you're sure to want to introduce to your students. Just the title is enough to entice them, isn't it? And especially with the armadillo's name, Sasparillo. It's more than a "fun" book. Written and beautifully illustrated by Lynne Cherry and published by Harcourt Brace, it is a readiness book for geography. With the help of an eagle, Sasparillo begins his trip in a field of bluebonnets as he travels to San Antonio. Interspersed throughout the book are little "postcards" to his friends, each including a Texas fact. There are juniper trees, songbirds of different areas, the Enchanted Rock in Austin, Abilene, Lubbock, and a flight through Palo Duro Canyon are included. The skyline of Amarillo is accurately il-

Wheat Certifications Due

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is currently accepting acreage for the 1994 farm program and other uses. All small grains planted for harvest, grazing, haying, or for cover crops on set aside must be reported. Farmers have until May 16 to report acres and intended use of their wheat, oats, rye, and other fall-seeded grains.

"Small grain crops that are not reported by this deadline will be ineligible for program benefits," ASCS official Drew Thornberry said.

Before reporting, farmers can request that ASCS measure their program acreage. The measurements are furnished at cost, and guaranteed for the crop year. Measurements service is not only valuable to program participants, but to any farmer who desires an accurate acreage for any reason. Farm programs participants are required to correctly certify their entire farm after planting to be eligible for price support loans, deficiency payments and history credit. The reports contain crops, acreage planted, the uses to be made acreage conservation reserve (ACR), and conservation use acres for payments.

ASCS urges producers who have not certified their fall-seeded crops, to do so before May 16 deadline, please call 874-3561 for a certification appointment.

Medical Center News

April 22nd residents enjoyed an ice cream party with vanilla and banana ice cream being served. The party was to be held on the patio, but the weather did not permit. The residents really enjoy using the patio in the spring and summer months. They have started a garden which consists of, potatoes, tomatoes, black eyed peas, onions, red beans, radish, bell pepper and jalpeno peppers. With all the rain they've been having they haven't needed to water the garden as much. As soon as the weather clears up, they plan to have a yard clean up one afternoon.

April 28th the staff threw a surprise party for Peggy Cockerham, Don of the Medical Center. The staff pitched in and bought Peggy a beautiful floral arrangement and Chandra Holman made the birthday cake which featured a bowl of chili with little red and green peppers. The story behind the design on the cakes is that Peggy had recently won 2nd place in the novice division at a chili cook off at Thompson Park. Now everyone knows while the chili was so good at the chili supper sponsored by the bereavement committee last December. Peggy's husband Jim had also entered the chili cook off, but it looks as if he may need a few pointers from Peggy, seeing as how she beat the socks off of him. Better luck next time Jim!!

The Medical Center will be observing nurses week, May 9th-13th. Cindy Hewett and Charlotte Ritchie have planned a week full of surprises and will end with a banquet for the nurses on Friday the 13th. The nurses and nurse aids do a really good job taking care of the residents at the Medical Center.

For the month of May, residents look forward to outdoor activities and hope that the weather warms up again soon.

Jason Lee Represented CHS

Sophomore student, Jason Lee was this year's representative from Clarendon High School to the Seventh Texas Panhandle Leadership Seminar in Amarillo, April 22, 23, and 24th at the Bishop Quarterman Conference Center. Approximately 100 outstanding sophomores, each representing a different high school throughout the Texas Panhandle, will be in an educational environment that teaches, through discussions and demonstrates a variety of subjects relating to profit, economics, business, self-improvement, motivation, and leadership skills. The Texas Panhandle Leadership Seminar, an affiliate with the Hugh O' Brian Youth Foundation (HOBY), is one of five seminars held in Texas. There are a total of 92 seminar sites in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico. Each provides a setting of education and motivation for sophomores who have exhibited leadership qualities. Jason became eligible by being nominated by his principal this past fall. All discussions and presentations centered on the theme: "America's Incentive System" - our free enterprise economics system which motivates productive activity in our society. The emphasis was on motivating the young people to make a positive contribution to their school and community and to be aware, active and responsible citizens of their world.

Reunion To Be Held

The 1974 graduating class of Clarendon High School will hold their 20 year class reunion on July 3, 1994. They are still searching for addresses for some of their classmates. They are including people that were their classmates in elementary and junior high school, also, if they moved away long before their final year.

They have compiled this list of names that they still need addresses for. Please check for someone you know the address of and call or write to Julie Hartman at 874-2521, P.O. Box F, Clarendon, Texas 79226 or Terry Askew at 874-5001 or 874-3844, Rt. 1 Box 32, Clarendon.

Barry Doane, Johnny Just, LaNita McDonald, Forrest Poole, Debra Garner, Ann Hammonds, Paula Howard, Howel Lewis, Vickie Myers, Terry Nelson, Vena Osburn, George Owens, Sharon Swearingen, Cheryl Wallace, Micheal Harris, Judy Fergeson, Mike Garrison, LaLonic Thompson, Kenny Tyler, Janet Grant, Bliss Bain.

General description: born approximately 38 years ago, lived in Clarendon between the ages of 6 and 18 for long enough to attend school between September 1962 and May 1974. Thought to be armed with memories of classmates who desperately want to see them again. There may be others who fit the above description that did not make their list because they did not have annuals during their elementary/junior high years.

Tenth Anniversary Celebrated

The Tralee Crisis Center celebrated their tenth anniversary, Friday, April 22. Tralee serves eight counties in the Texas Panhandle (Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Donley, Carson and Hutchison). As a part of the celebration Tralee honored people who have assisted victims through the criminal justice system, including both law enforcement officials and prosecutors. The recipients were honored because of their outstanding work with victims of family violence, sexual assault and other crimes in each of their counties. District Attorney Jim Shelton was the honoree from Donley County. Victim Service Coordinator Sandy Carr said Shelton has helped many victims in his county and if victims in the 100th Judicial District were ever in need. Also honored Friday were: Hemphill County Sheriff Billy Bowea, Roberts County Attorney Richard Roach, Pampa Police Chief Charles Flemings, Collingsworth County Dale Tarver, Sheriff Jimmy Adams, Wheeler County, and Carson County Sheriff Loren Brand.

If all law enforcement and criminal justice officials could be like these, we would all live in safer, less violent communities. It is comforting to victims to know that someone cares about them when a crime has been committed against them. The people listed above all do their best to fight against crime and assist victims in their communities.

Students Receive Award

Greg Collins and Lisa Hill were recently awarded the U.S. Army Reserve National Scholar/Athlete Award.

This prestigious award is presented annually by the U.S. Army Reserve to high school students who have shown outstanding ability in both academics and athletics.

The U.S. Army Reserve has presented the National Scholar/Athlete Award since 1981. Since then it has become a strong tradition in many high schools. Each year, teachers, coaches, and administrators from more than 12,000 high schools nationwide choose some 20,000 students as Scholar/Athlete recipients.

Spring Home Safety Tips

It's that time of the year again... when spring cleaning fever hits the air and everyone decided to take on those tough chores around the house. This is a good time to perform a home safety check. Inspecting your home and creating a hazard-free environment will reduce your chances of having an accident.

West Texas Utilities Company and the National Safety Council recommend spring cleaning as the best time to conduct a home safety checklist:

Avoid overloading electrical outlets.

All appliances should have Underwriters Laboratories (UL) labels.

Replace cracked or damaged cords and plugs.

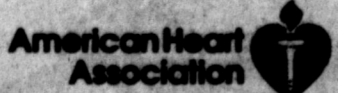

Cover electrical outlets if you have small children in the house.

CAUTION: HAZARDOUS WAIST.

Excess fat increases your chances of high blood pressure and diabetes. Which increase your risk of heart disease. Good reasons to start a waist disposal program today.

You can help prevent heart disease and stroke. We can tell you how. Call 1-800-AHA-USA1.

This space provided as a public service. ©1993, American Heart Association

Label all fuses and circuit breakers to show which outlets and fixtures they serve.

Washer and dryers should be electrically grounded. Be careful: damp or wet floors can lead to electric shock.

When remodeling, position light switches in accessible areas. Accidents can happen when people stumble through the dark. Place locations around the house for emergency use.

Good lighting should be provided at the stove, sink, and countertop work area, especially where food is chopped.

Place night lights in bathroom or hallways to act as a guide to prevent falls.

Make sure a home safety list is part of your spring plans this year. Take the time to ensure the health and safety of you, your family and your home.

Lions Tale

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday April 26, 1994 at the Lion Hall with 12 members, 1 guest and Lion Sweetheart Dee Williams in attendance. Following the meal, Vice-President Garland called the meeting to order. Following the regular opening ceremony, Lontamer Henson introduced our guest, Lion Leffew gave a bingo report. A change in the way our mail preparation will be handled in the future was discussed.

The club learned today that one of the members, Lion Bernbabe, was one of the finalist for the Channel 7 "Seven Who Care" award. Congratulations Lion Bernbabe! The meeting was then adjourned.

After moving to Clarendon from Massachusetts Bugbee studied art at Texas A&M College and the Cumming school of Art in Iowa. Frequent trips to Taos resulted in friendships with most of the major Taos artists including W. Herbert Dunton, Leon Gaspard, and Frank B. Hoffman. From these artists, who often critiqued his work, Bugbee learned the lessons of a successful artist.

Easel painter and Western illustrator were two of his occupations throughout his career, but Bugbee added mural painting to his resume beginning in 1934. The Public Works of Art Project, President Roosevelt's first New Deal art program, commissioned Bugbee to paint a mural on Pioneers Hall's east wall. Bugbee's mural, The Cattleman, was installed in May 1934. Five years later under the WPA's Colorado Cuarto Centennial Commission, Bugbee painted his second Pioneer Hall mural, Ranch Headquarters, for the southeast corner.

Bugbee also competed for the Amarillo Post Office mural commission in 1939, but his work was rejected. Fortunately, his sketches were preserved and recently presented to the Society. These will be included in the exhibition. Bugbee also entered sketches for the El Paso Federal Courthouse competition but was again rejected.

In 1942, Guy Carlander asked Bugbee to paint seven murals for the Old Tascosa Room at the Herring Hotel, then being designed by Carlander. The next year Bugbee painted three murals for the Amarillo Army Air Field.

Appointed Curator of Art at the Museum in 1951, Bugbee painted thirteen murals on American Indian Life for the original Indian Hall in the Museum's basement between 1952 and 1954. Later, Bugbee painted four additional panels of Indian dances. These have been in storage since the early 1970's and most will be included in the exhibition along with their preliminary sketches.

Plans are underway to re-install the murals in the current Indian Hall in late 1994. As the re-installation process is complex, the Society is currently seeking sponsorships for each mural to pay for material.

In 1956, Bugbee painted his Hide Hunters mural for pioneer Hall's east wall. He added Kiowa Hunting Buffalo to the north wall in 1957, followed by Working Cattle on the Open Range above the vestibule on the south wall in 1958, thus completing the entire mural cycle originally planned in 1934.

Bugbee's work as a mural painter panned the last thirty years of his career. "Working initially with ink or pencil sketches then moving to full-scale water-color and oil sketches, and augmenting his preparation with studies of different parts of the murals, Bugbee created some of the finest murals in the Southwest" said Grauer. "Through this exhibition, viewers will better understand the mural making process in general and come away with a greater appreciation for Harold D. Bugbee's contributions to the Museum, the Society, the Panhandle-Plains region, and the Southwest," Grauer continued.

In honor of Ben Carleton Mead's first Pioneer Hall mural, Coronado's Coming (1934), the Museum will also feature its collection of Mead's work in the Alcove Gallery. This exhibition will include original illustrations, oils, and drawing of Tascosa.

Members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and guests can preview this exhibit at a reception and gallery tour on the evening of the Society's Annual Meeting. The business meeting is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. in the Hazlewood Lecture Hall, the reception and gallery tour at 6:30 p.m., followed by the dinner and program at 7 p.m. in Pioneer Hall.

This year's speaker will be award-winning author John R. Erickson who will perform readings and songs from his many published books, accompanying himself on the 5 string banjo. Erickson's Hank the Cowdog series of books and cassette tapes are known all over the United States. His stories have won the Oppenheimer Award, Audio World Magazine's "Best Audio Tape for Children Award" and a spot of "CBS Storybreak."

Since he began his speaking career in 1984, Erickson has appeared at conventions, conferences, and banquets in 17 states and provinces; has been a keynote speaker at conventions attended by librarians, teachers of English, reading, special education, and drama; and has spoken at the Library of Congress, the Institute of Texas Cultures, the Houston Children's Museum, and the Witte Museum in San Antonio. Erickson has published 31 books, 19 books-on-tapes, and some 500 articles.

Cost for the evening event is $15.00 for members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and $20.00 for non-members. Deadline for reservations is Wednesday, May 11. For further information, please call (806)656-2244.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property;
- exemptions that may apply to you;
- cancellation of agricultural appraisal;
- whether your property is taxable;
- which local government should be taxing your property; or
- you think the appraisal district has done something else that adversely affected you.

Your Appraisal District staff urges you to review the value records of your property at any time prior to the day of the Appraisal Review Board Hearings tentatively set for July 6, 1994, in the Donley County Courthouse Annex. Some protests result from errors or misconceptions which we are pleased to correct.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board.

The appraisal review board (ARB) is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notification of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at the Donley County Courthouse Annex, P.O. Box 1220, Clarendon 79226; phone 806-874-2744.

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised you property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information: You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at the Donley County Courthouse Annex, P.O. Box 1220, Clarendon 79226; phone 806-874-2744. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division at P.O. Box 13528, Austin, TX 78711-3528.

DEADLINE FOR FILING PROTESTS WITH THE ARB***

Usual Deadline: On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines: For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually Feb. 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

*The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.
