Funds Awarded to College

The Amarillo Area and Don and Sybil Harrington foundations announced the approval of a $52,874 grant to fund the purchase of equipment and materials for the Licensed Vocational Nursing programs of Clarendon College. This support will be used to provide state-of-the-art instruction at the college's LVN training sited in Clarendon, Childress, and

"Our nursing programs will benefit greatly from the momentary support of the Amarillo Area and the Don and Sybil Harrington foundations. This support will allow us to provide vital training for our LVN students," said Clarendon College President Dr. Jerry Stockton.

In addition to the advancement of student training, the update of materials and equipment will provide essential services to the rural healthcare facilities in the college's eight-county service area of Armstrong, Briscoe, Childress, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hall and Wheeler counties. This in turn will impact the preparation of employees and the quality of healthcare available in areas that would otherwise be unserved.

The grant will also support rural healthcare initiatives and assist local communities in retaining facilities by providing skilled LVNs for jobs. Childress Regional Medical Center and Shamrock Hospital have shown their commitment to the LVN programs by donating hospital beds for use

One of Clarendon College primary goals is to provide quality instruction for students interested in licensed vocational nursing. Since 1973, the college has produced a track record of achievement in training skilled and capable healthcare workers.

Texans aged 65 or older can postpone paying delinquent and current property taxes on their homes. they can take advantage of a tax option called "over-65 deferral" by signing an affidavit at the Donley County Appraisal District office.

Once a homeowner files an over-65 tax deferral affidavit with the appraisal district, no taxing unit can start or continue a lawsuit for delinquent taxes as long as that person owns and lives in that home.

Taxpayers need to be aware that tax deferral for the elderly only postpones paying delinquent taxes on the home; it does not cancel them. during the deferral time, taxes and interest of eight percent continue to add up. When the elderly taxpayer no longer owns or lives in the home, the taxes become due. Taxing units can then sue to collect all of the deferred tax and

Filing of the deferral affidavit does not forgive penalties that are already due. Also, if the taxes remain delinquent more than 90 days after the deferral ends, an added penalty may be charged if By Zachary Wilcox, CEA-Ag the account goes to a delinquent tax

St. Jude Plans Trail Ride

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced plans for the Saddle Up For St. Jude Trail Ride to be held on May 5, 1994. Mr. Frank Hommel will serve as coordinator of the event and encourages all residents to support this important community effort.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, founded in 1962 by the late entertainer Danny Thomas, is the largest childhood cancer research center in America in terms of the number of patients treated and treatment success. Funding for the treatment and research programs conducted at St. Jude Hospital comes primarily from public support of events such as Saddle Up for St. Jude Trail Ride.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the only childhood cancer research center designated as such by the National Cancer Institute and is the first institution established for the sole purpose of conducting basic and clinical research in catastrophic childhood diseases.

They are grateful for the concern that Mr. Hommel has for their work. They hope that everyone will support the Saddle Up for St. Jude Trail Ride and help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset, our children.

Dear Editor,

Editor's comment: There are two letters in the paper this week. The first one is a double exception to normal practice at the paper. First, it does not directly focus on issues local to Donely County. Second, it was not intended just for publication in this paper. (It was sent to people who support missionary in St. Petersburg, Russia.) The writer gave his permission for reprinting.

Yet in a way the first letter does pertain to this county. At times Donley County residents seem to become preoccupied with complaining about conditions here, so that a little perspective from abroad may well be worthwhile.

The second letter was written in response to an earlier letter. It may well provoke several responses, some in agreement, some in dissent.

That is good. This section of the paper is supposed to function as a

If a community consensus emerges from the discussion of moral values, it will make it easier for both young people and adults to know what is and is not acceptable in and to the community. Then both those who stay within and those who go beyond accepted standards will know where they stand.

If our community has no common moral values in this area, then that, too, will be revealed.

One fact that allows the publication of these letters is this: the editor believes that the people of this community truly care about each other, and that most people here are mature enough to continue to love their neighbors even when they disagree. He hopes that the publication of both letters will have a positive result on Clarendon.

We make this communication on behalf of our beloved St. Petersburg, Russia missionaries John and Svetlana "Sveta" doughty who remain in need of your prayers and financial support.

John and Sveta had to make an unexpected emergency trip to the U.S. because Seta was having complications on her pregnancy. She was willing to endure the trauma of a Russian C-section (no anesthesia), but at the urging of I.B.S. Director Leonard Stone, realized that the Russian mission work depends on her survival, so the Doughtys returned at the last minute. This decision was providential as Sveta experienced a pregnancy related Tachycardia heart attack on the operating table, but the anointed and skillful hands of our Christian brother, elder, and surgeon, Dr. Clemente Diaz was able to bring both Svetlana and baby through the crisis.

We are joyous to report that John and Sveta are proud parents to a healthy girl! Natalie Ann was born on Feb. 25. Please Keep them in your prayers

Right now we are concerned with the future of our missionaries in Russia. Most missionaries, of all faiths and cults have given up on Russia because of the hardships and the stubborn minds of the Russian people. After a seventy year government ban on assembly, the Russian people are not easily provoked to congregate.

We are requesting prayers that we will be able to raise enough funds to purchase an apartment building in St., Petersburg, to be used as a base for operations and meeting place for the congregation, which now meets in a rented building. John and Sveta are committed to the souls in Russia, and it is our plea that you will unite with us to help support them. May you lay it upon the heart of your congregation and individual friends to pray for this dedicated couple and make as generous an offering as you can. Certainly not all is gloomy. . Let me share some miracles: 1) Sveta's recovery from chicken pox, tachycardia attack, and giving birth to a healthy Natilie. 2) Sveta's receiving a passport and visa in one day. 3)Dr. Diaz, father to our day care directress, Susan Shemfessel, a physician of Jesus Christ, who was willing to take Sveta in her last term. 4)The biggest miracle of all. . John immersed Sveta's father into Christ before coming to America. Mr. and Mrs. Nikitin are both Christians now and are leading the congregation at this time. Praise God and bless Him for His mighty acts of mercy, and works of redemption.

Jesus, the Bible, and prayer have proved to be the only effective answer. Vast number of Christians have written books and I use some of these as resources. But sometimes even these tend to lead to the ability of man. Jesus reminds us so much in life and in His word we can do nothing without him.

To the parent who needs to get in the battle that raging and taking the purity of so many young lives. Two of my greatest friends are my children. Every thing within those stormy years we weathered together. Parents, you gotta be there. Know their friends, keep up with where they are. Put within them Godly morals. The best teacher is example. There is no age limit when your children need you no longer. You are ever before them in life. if you sow wild oats, can the heritage of your children be any less than wild oats? Mothers need to install within every child the importance of virtue. It would save many from social diseases and prevent a lifetime of suffering.

In our society our so-called educators are actually teaching and justifying those very practices that have destroyed even mighty nations. Magazines print no page or picture without sex appeals. Movies, soap opera lives, dances, drug, and alcohol are what brings the downfall of so many who were just out to have a good time.

The Godly principals and attitudes are surely not taught in schools today, bringing the responsibility to the parent. Ignorance respecting sexual matters is responsible for this world's physical, moral, and spiritual degradation. The proper care and instruction of every young child must be guarded.

The price of a virtuous woman is far above rubies. Proverbs 31:10 No price can purchase the virtue of your children. Virtue has stood for the highest and greatest strength of character of both men and women.

The so-called "sowing wild oats" is not a life style you have to follow. Far more men and women are eternally damned by sexual sins than any other. James 1:14,15.

As a parent, when my children struggle, I ask Jesus, "Am I doing everything you desire of me as a mother?"

As a Youth Minister, when the youth struggle, I reach to the same resource, "I need answers!" I see a world of reaping.

People aren't getting grapes off thorn bushes, either. Jesus offers answers! Usually when we realize, we a parents, are to blame for what we place before our children.

Romans the 6th chapter encourages us to yield ourselves to God, live in sin no longer. Knowing the gift of god, the Holy Ghost, His resurrection, helps us die to sin that his righteousness may be the fruit of our lives.

The blood shed at Calvary will forgive and set any parent, youth, and child free from sin and what beauty can grow from it! I've seen lives changed. Beauty come from ashes, but I've also seen beauty burned to ashes of those who turned from the one who died for them to accept the wages of sin. Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of Clarendon.

HELPING OUR ENVIRONMENT: NATIONAL TREE TRUST NEWS

Tree Topics

(NAPS)-Cleaner air, less damage from floods and many more environmental benefits come from planting trees, experts agree.

Community Tree Planting programs promote the "greening" of America.

That's why the Community Tree Planting Program of the National Tree Trust is so important. The Trust, a non-profit group created as part of the 1990 "America the Beautiful" campaign, receives seedlings from a coalition of forest product companies across the country which makes up its Tree Bank. These seedlings are generally one year old and can be either plug or bareroot. The Trust will provide volunteer groups with an available species list and their general seed source.

If appropriate seedling stock is not available from the Tree Bank, the Trust will work with a local volunteer agency to arrange for the collection, processing and storage of suitable seeds for the region. The nurseries participating in the Tree Bank will receive the seeds, plant them and raise the seedlings. The seedlings will then be used for the Community or Highway Tree Planting Program in the region where the seeds were collected.

Assault Awareness Month Set

The Texas Department of Health, Sexual Assault Prevention and Crisis Services Program, and the Texas Association Against Sexual Assault (TAASA) are co-sponsoring the Eleventh Annual Sexual Assault Awareness Month, April 1994.

During this month sexual assault programs across the state will intensify their efforts to promote public awareness of sexual assault issues, including the need for citizen involvement in reducing sexual assault (by confronting rape supportive attitudes rather than relying entirely on the criminal justice system), and the need to increase community support for agencies providing sexual assault crisis and educational services.

Public Notice

On February 22, 1994, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("Southwestern Bell" or "Company") filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") to restructure the Company's Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of its Switched Access Service. This matter has been assigned to Docket No. 12784. The tariff sheets in Southwestern Bell's application, if approved, will bring the Company's intrastate Access Service Tariff into structural parity with the Company's interstate Tariff No. 73 for Local Transport. Southwestern Bell's companion interstate tariff became effective on January 1, 1994.

The transport rate elements provide for the transmission facilities between the cutomer's premises and the end office switch(es) where the customer's traffic is switched to originate or terminate the customer's communications.

Southwestern Bell proposes to implement the revised tariffs on a revenue neutral basis. Although the proposed tariff changes will affect all customers subscribing to Switched Access Service, the Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of Southwestern Bell's Switched Access Service is primarily for interexchange carriers. If approved, this application will result in an increase in Southwestern Bell's revenues of approximately $1682.00 during the first year. Southwestern Bell proposes that the changes be effective on December 1, 1994.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin. Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is May 6, 1994.

Minding Your Own Business

"KNOW YOURSELF"

Not everyone is cut out to be an entrepreneur. For a person considering starting a business, one of the toughest questions is "Do I really have what it takes?" Frequently, we are asked about common personal characteristics that separate the winners from the

A lot of research has been done on this subject. However, the complexity of human personality and the hundreds of external factors that affect entrepreneurial success make it difficult to draw accurate conclusions.

Successful entrepreneurs can come from backgrounds of poverty or wealth, popularity or social rejection, broken homes or close family ties. They can be old or young, regular folks or real oddballs. Before starting a business, they may have been retired or unemployed, and ventured off in a direction entirely different from previous careers or experience.

Common Success Factors
One of the most common success traits of entrepreneurs is the intense desire to succeed. They want to win. They work long, hard hours and maintain a high level of energy throughout the long days. They start early and are self-starters. They are doers, not talkers. Even when they worked for someone else, they had a reputation of getting the job done.

This intensity is woven through every activity. They live and breathe their businesses. They are over-achievers and are reluctant to accept defeat. Perseverance is another word often used in describing the typical entrepreneur.

FRED DAY

CONTRACTOR
Free Estimates

874-3890 000000000000000000000 trait seems to be restlessness. Entrepreneurs are frequently bored with repetitive tasks. They constantly seek new challenges. They love competition and seek activities that stimulate personal growth and development.

Another common success

The easily bored entrepreneur should not be confused with the person who never finishes what he or she starts. The restless entrepreneur usually finishes a task but will not be happy doing it again and again.

Good Communicators
Communication is a factor that weighs heavily in the success factor scale. There is no substitute for the ability to express ideas and opinions well. This is true in the political and corporate world, as well as in the small business arena. Strong communication skills also include the ability to think and listen. Many entrepreneurs become successful after listening to their customers. They utilize customer input to modify business practices. These modifications to operating procedures bring business owners closer to the customer and place them in a better position to satisfy needs and wants.

In addition, most successful business people have a strong self-image. They feel good about who they are. They like other people and tend to get along well with a variety of friends. They tend to be independent but truly adaptable. They are often characterized as enthusiastic and optimistic. Even when things are tough, they believe that tomorrow will be a better day.

While possession of these characteristics is no guarantee of success, it can serve as an indicator. Any person considering the entrepreneurial challenge should carefully examine himself or herself. An honest evaluation of your personality, attitude and motivation will guide you in the appropriate business direction.

We have profiled a number of these traits in a "just for fun" business personality test that we use in our start-up seminars at the Small Business Development Center. We call it the "Entrepreneurial Success Quotient Test".

We ask participants to answer 25 questions pertaining to the areas of personality, attitude, skills and experience. When the answers are tabulated, the would-be entrepreneur has some idea of the correlation of their personality to that of successful entrepreneurs.

Nathan and Chrisy Lowrie would like to announce the arrival of their son, Mason Dean.

Mason was born on March 31, 1994 about six weeks ahead of schedule. He weighed 4 pounds 6 ounces and was 18 inches long.

Proud grandparents are Gary and Beth English and David and Paula Lowrie.

USPS May Force Price Increase for Subscribers

According to information from the National Newspaper Association, the United States Postal Service is proposing a big increase in Second Class postage rates. Such an increase would mean that subscription rates would have to go up on virtually every newspaper and magazine in the country, including The Clarendon News.

Five years ago, when The Clarendon News changed ownership, the subscription rates were $14.50 per year in county and the paper took a check for about $40 per week to the Post Office. Now the in-county rates are $16.50, but the cost for mailing is almost $90 per week.

The consensus of opinion among editors around the country is virtually unanimous: postal service continues to deteriorate, despite the large rate increases.

First Class rates (for letters, etc.) are also expected to increase. The rates for Third Class ("junk mail") will not increase nearly as much. Experts predict the hike for weekly newspapers may be as much as a 45 percent increase.

The National Newspaper Association, the Texas Press Association and virtually all community papers oppose the rate increase.

Local post offices do not appear to have any say in postal rates. Comments should be directed to: Postmaster General Marvin Runyon, 475 L'Enfant Plaza Southwest, Washington, DC 20260.

AG MEET--from 1.

The regional "mini-summits" are a followup to the Texas Agricultural Summit held last October at the Texas A&M campus in College Station. More than 450 leaders representing a wide diversity of interests identified high priority issues that will impact agriculture in the 21st Summit Leadership Council and regional councils of citizens representing the Plains, South, Central, East and West Texas.

The Texas Agriculture Summit is a work still in progress, we demonstrated that people from agricultural production and processing, agribusiness, government, the universities, environmental and consumer groups could come together to focus on significant issues of concern to us all. Now we must translate our intentions into action by engaging even more people in dialog about agriculture and in forging new alliances to address the issues identified through the Summit process.

The mini-summits in May will provide opportunities for regional leaders of all the stakeholders to discuss solutions for the issues identified at the Agricultural Summit. They also will increase public awareness of the issues and the process of finding solutions.

Each mini-summit will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Following brief overviews of the Texas Agricultural Summit process and issues, and the Long Range Extension Planning process for identifying local needs and concerns, participants will divide into work groups. Each group will develop strategies for resolving five key issues. These key issues are: Protecting the environment and natural resources; competitiveness of Texas agriculture; public policy for agriculture and rural areas; education and information needs of consumers, and developing leadership.

After lunch, each mini-summit will again divide into work groups to address specific issues of importance to that region. Each work group then will report their findings and lead discussion on their reports.

Following the mini-summits the Summit Leadership Council will develop a plan of action for addressing respective issues and provide it to leaders of all stakeholder groups.

Hopes For '94 Cotton Crop Turning To Dust On High Plains

By Zachary Wilcox, CEA-Ag Hopes for their 1994 cotton crop are rapidly turning to dust for growers on the Texas High Plains. Following a record '93 crop, cotton farmers in this three-million-acre "cotton patch" are looking all the way back to 1974 to find fields as dry as they are now, that year was a disaster.

Only two of the 25 High Plains counties -- Floyd and Brisco-- have moderate soil moisture. From last August until now, only 3.4 inches of rain have fallen at Rains have largely jumped over the entire High Plains. Most cotton counties (on the High Plains) have a soil moisture deficit of between six to 10 inches. The soil moisture deficit is the difference between what could be stored and what is stored.

Only seven inches of rain fell across the 25-county area from August 1973 until August 1974. Then in August, September and October 1974, when cotton bolls were maturing and opening, 16 inches of rain fell.

The area yield that year was only 264 pounds of lint an acre and quality was poor. Last year, the area's record crop of more than 3.6 million bales averaged 658 pounds an acre for irrigated fields and 503 pounds an acre for dryland fields, with outstanding strength and micronaire (fineness).

That 1993 dryland crop had healthy, deep roots that extracted all of the surface soil and most of the deep soil moisture. The surface hasn't received any moisture for planting, and is powder dry.

With only scant rain after July last year, irrigated fields were also dry at harvest. Those fields also had excellent root systems that extracted deep moisture. By the time that crop was complete, wells were declining. Pivot irrigation systems required renozzling several times during the season to keep water flowing to the end of the pivots from the dwindling well capacity.

Over last winter, producers

pre-irrigated these fields and the wells haven't recovered during the pre-irrigation season for the '94

Row-watered fields that were irrigated early also have lost seed bed moisture. These will need to be rewatered, or wait for rain, prior to planting. Sprinkler-irrigated fields have had heavy evaporation losses in recent weeks. Only LEPA (low energy precision application) pre-irrigated fields have fared reasonably well. Because these limit evaporative losses by placing the water directly on the soil in a small wetted surface area. If rain sets in now, it could If rain sets in now, it could provide needed moisture for planting, but keep farmers out of their fields until May. Mid-April through May is considered the optimum planting time in much of the High Plains. But, only once in the 90 years since precipitation records have been reported has our April rainfall exceeded four inches.

A more realistic acceptation is

A more realistic scenario is that some planting rain will fall in late April or May and dryland producers will scramble to plant as much as possible before the dry winds suck the moisture from the soil. Patchy stands will result, with parts of the field devoid of plants ere the race was lost to the ure of rains to shower on the ins in 7- to 14- day intervals will alt in cotton that abruptly runs of moisture and either dies or

HELL HAS'NO EXITS.

Live Drama to be Presented

This live drama, previously performed in Hollis, Oklahoma, Dodson and Shamrock, will be presented in Clarendon, Thursday, April 14, 7. p.m. at the Community Building.

This drama is based on the true life experiences of Mary Kathryn Baxter. Mrs. Baxter was an ordinary housewife living in Michigan in 1976 when she was given a revelation of hell by the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus took her into hell and told her to write a book about the things she saw and heard. Five counties are represented by this area-wide cast.

From Clarendon:

Gary English plays Johnny, a defiant soul in Hell.

From Memphis:

Mary Kathryn Baxter, a reluctant visitor to Hell, is played by Cindy Welch. Vishnu, a woman woman who has too many gods, is played by Debbie Harris.

From Wellington:

Barbara Reynolds portrays Ruth, a seasoned missionary. Michael Neeley plays Billy, a young man resigned to an eternity in Hell. Nancy, a doting and deliberate mother is played by Denise Mithlo. Davy Mithlo plays Jake, a good neighbor with a word of warning. From Childress Laura Jenkins plays Sylvia, a young woman in the occult.

From Dodson Eleanor, played by Eva Norman, is at war with God. Julie, a beauty queen is played by Blossom Rowe. Rachel, portrayed by Cynthia Rowe, is a woman who wants to kill her husband. The role of Satan is played by Raymond Ditmore. Glenn Rowe plays the role of Jesus. From Hollis, Oklahoma:

Leshia Mills plays Tina, a spunky young missionary. They invite you to come and see this live drama!

For irrigated cotton the scenario of April - May rain is only marginally better than for dryland. Producers should have moisture to plant, but the lack of deep moisture and declining well capacities will make this an expensive crop to grow, and one that is highly vulnerable to drought in July or Producers will start irrigating shortly after the plants emerge to keep from running behind in July. Even a pivot considered to have a good water supply (four gallons per minute per acre) can only meet half the water needs in July and August, which is eight gallons a minute per acre. The other half comes from stored soil moisture.

Irrigated cotton production on the Texas High Plains in 1994 will most likely be a high risk venture, with the crop surviving from hand to mouth with each passing cloud that sustains the crop for another week.
