Hudson Presents Program On Koresh Investigation

Dr. Keith Hudson, Captain of Tarrant County, Texas, Forensic Dental Identification Team, will present a slide program on the identification of David Koresh and the Branch Davidians.

The program will include the identification process of the fire victims of the Davidians and a comparison to hotel and airplane disasters. It will be vivid, so it will not be for those who have a weak stomach.

This is the first time this program has been shown to the public and is a very interesting part of history.

Dr. Hudson was raised in Clarendon, Texas, and has practiced in Colleyville for the last 23 years. He and his team mates have been very active with the Tarrant County Medical Examiners' office the past 15 years.

Due to the sensitivity of the material, no cameras or recorders will be allowed.

This program is scheduled for Saturday, February 19, 1994, at 7 p.m., at Clarendon College in the Bairfield Building. There will be no admission fee.

Workshop Held

Phil Barefield, superintendent of CISD, and five board members participated in an Interactive Teleconference Workshop at Clarendon High School February 12.

State School Boards Associations of Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Texas sponsored "Teaming for Success: School Board-Superintendent Relations". The CISD Satellite Connection was used to bring the TI-IN network to local trustees Elmonette Bivens, Phil Fletcher, Declene Graham, Dan Hall and Lynne Williams.

Champion Of Speech

by Charlie Smith

On January 22nd, the CHS Speech Team traveled to Hereford to attend their annual Speech Meet. The Hereford Speech Meet is host to over 20 schools, and in each event, more than 30 students participated. Jeremy Hicks read poetry, while Jason Lee, Jennifer Simpson, Beth Barbee, and Charlie Smith spoke. After three rounds of preliminaries, Jennifer, Beth, and Charlie made the finals.

Later, at the awards assembly, Jennifer placed 3rd in Informative Speaking, Charlie placed 1st in Persuasive Speaking, and Beth placed 4th in Persuasive Speaking. Coach and sponsor Jean Stavenhagen said, "I am very pleased with the performance of my teams. Each student performed above average, and I am proud of them all."

Broncos Win District Title!

The Clarendon Broncos won the District 2A basketball championship, by beating the Panhandle Panthers, Friday night, February 11, 1994, by a score of 54-48. This is the Broncos' first District title since 1982. Clarendon Broncos have a 24-2 record for the season and 5-0 record in each half of district play. They will meet the District 1-2A runner-up in bi-district play in two weeks.

Defense was the key factor in the game, and the Broncos capitalized on Panhandles' turnovers.

Scoring for the Broncos were Lorenzo Moore with 21 points, Corey Fields with 17 points, Greg Collins with 9 points, Danny McCampbell with 4 points, Chad Campbell with 2 points, Billy Wilson with 1 point, and assisting was Casey Alexander and Chris Holland. Congratulations to the Broncos and good luck in the bi-district game.

Bulldogs Ranked Second In Conference

After a hard, but impressive road schedule, the Clarendon College Bulldogs returned home rated second in the National Small College Athletic Association basketball standings. The Bulldogs will play their last four games on their home court as they take on South Plains College Thursday, February 17; NMMI Saturday, February 19; Frank Phillips College Monday, February 21; and Oklahoma Baptist Wednesday, February 23. All games will start at 7:30 p.m. and everyone is invited to attend.

The Bulldogs in their quest to make the national tournament are led by sophomore scorers Dennis Ellison, El Paso; Alexis Landfair, Indianola, Mississippi; and Karl Joseph, Lake Charles, Louisiana. Freshman Jason Tollete, El Paso balances out the Bulldogs scoring and rebounding attack. The national tournament for small colleges will be held March 7-11 in Flint, Michigan.

RAY FULENWIDER, Christian Family Counselor.

Family Values Workshop Coming

As a service to the community of Clarendon, the Clarendon Church of Christ is holding a Christian Family Values Workshop. The sessions are open to all interested people regardless of where they attend church—or do not attend. There is no charge for the program.

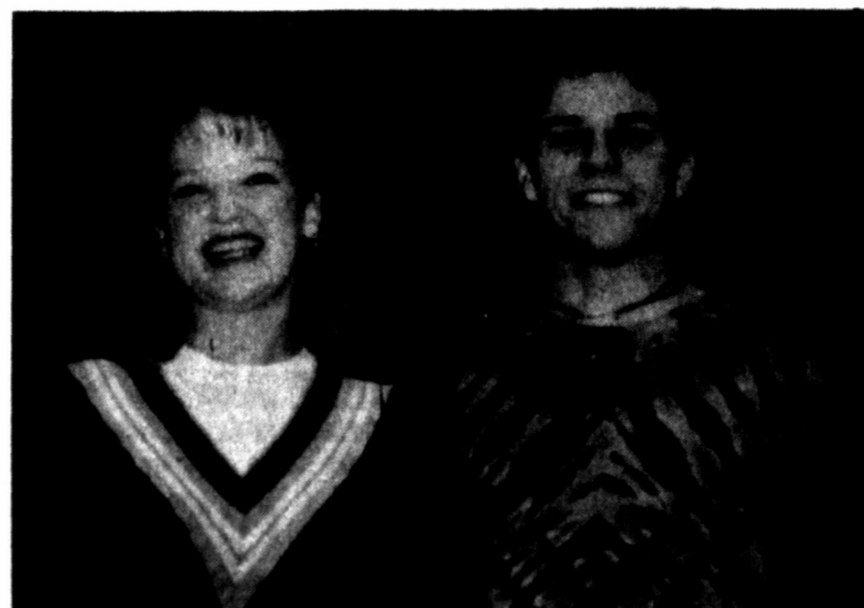

The guest speaker is Ray Fulenwider, a Christian family counselor from Amarillo. He will present a Biblical, non-sectarian approach to dealing with family struggles.

"We feel very strongly that this is a major need in our community and throughout the nation," said Mike Suiter, Minister at the church. "This is our contribution to the Clarendon community to help strengthen families. There has never been a greater need for this than now." He assures anyone interested that, they will not be disappointed with the man or the message.

The first session is on Saturday from 10:00 'til 2:00, with a free lunch provided. The topic for 10:00 is "How to Stay in Love". The afternoon subject is "Christian Homes, Hope of the Nation." The second session is on Sunday from 9:30 'til 2:00 with a potluck luncheon served at 11:30. The first topic on Sunday is "Christian Principles to Train Our Children". The second subject is "The Marriage Commitment". The afternoon lesson is titled "How Important Is The Salvation of Your Children?"

Library Begins Storytelling Hour

Burton Memorial Library's storytelling hour is off to a good start. Twenty-three children participated in a wonderful hour with storyteller, Debbie Howard, on Monday, February 7, and with Jondel Moffett on February 14. The program will continue each Monday afternoon through April from 4:00p.m.-5:00p.m. Different storytellers will present a variety of literary entertainment for Donley County children. Be sure your child isn't missing this opportunity to develop an appreciation for some of the finest children's literature.

MRS. PAUL JAMES EVANS

KEEP James Shelton, District Attorney

Appointed as District Attorney by Gov. Ann Richards on 9/27/93

Through 2/4/94, your District Attorney, James Shelton, has:

- Filed 28 new cases
- Disposed of 54 cases by sending 16 to prison and placing 38 under the supervision of the Adult Probation Dept.

There has never been a full-time District Attorney in the 100th Judicial District, and it is not necessary now! It would cost the taxpayers of this District nearly $20,000 more per year. A full-time prosecutor acting under the Professional Prosecutor's Act makes in excess of $85,000 a year.

tral". On the eve of the wedding a rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's mother and brother at Country Line Restaurant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Hearn of Houston, Texas. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Vallance of Memphis, Texas and Mrs. Charlie Hearn of Clarendon and the late Charlie Hearn.

The groom is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Robert Evans of Kingwood, Texas. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Sullivan of Bristol, England and the late Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Evans of Bristol, England.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, Kari wore a gown of silk shantung. The gown featured a full shirt and cathedral train. Veiling of illusion cascaded from a band of silk and pearls falling beyond her cathedral train. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of roses, gardenias, orchids and ivy. Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Jennifer Hearn. The bridesmaids were Miss Melissa Winters, Miss Susan Dekruyff, and Miss Jill Stegall. Miss Cristina Tomlinson, cousin of the bride served as flower girl. Members of the house party were Miss Holy Thomas, Miss Heather Thomas, and Miss Elizabeth Tomlinson, cousins of the bride.

DANA CHAMBLISS and Pat Archeleta show the cakes that the Perkins Foundation is selling to raise money for scholarships.

Sweet Treats Delivered

Sweet treats for a serious purpose were delivered on the Clarendon College campus Valentine's Day.

Dana Chambliss and Pat Archeleta show some of the Valentine goodies made by Cheryl Adams.

The fancy decorated cakes are a fund-raising scheme of the Perkins (vocational) office. In addition to covering costs, part of the price goes for a $100 bond which will be the prize of an essay contest.

The essays are written about a woman scientist or mathematician by sixth through ninth grade students in the college service area. The winner will be announced at the "Expanding Your Horizons" conference March 8.

"Expanding Your Horizons" in math and science is a day-long event to encourage girls to take more math and science courses required for many careers choices.

Anyone may support the project by ordering a cake to be delivered for any event on campus or in town by calling 874-3443.

Six student council members traveled to Lakeview Retreat near Palestine, Texas on January 19. The students attended an advanced leadership workshop. The workshop was open only to students who attended a summer leadership camp. This workshop, located on a lake in the heart of the Texas piney woods, was enjoyed by 300 student council members from across the state.

The students participating from CHS were Greg Collins, Deana Nazworth, Beth Barbee, Amy Thornberry, Clint Green and Jason Lee. They were accompanied by sponsors Maurine Butts and Darcanda Romans. The bunch flew to Dallas from Amarillo and rented cars for the three hour drive. The workshop consisted of lectures and activities designed to construct and sharpen leadership skills of tomorrow's leaders. According to Romans, "This experience will greatly benefit the students and the council. I think the sponsors even come early for coffee and registration.

All cotton producers, as well as anyone interested in the cotton industry, are invited to attend. There is no cost for the meeting or the farm show. Lunch will be provided by industry sponsors. They are asking that you call the RPCG office at (915)773-2581, or contact your gin manager to let them know how many will be attending.

An excellent meeting is planned this year, starting with a short overview of current legislative issues affecting cotton producers. There will then be an extensive panel discussion of boll weevil eradication efforts. The panel will include Woody Anderson and Frank Myers of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation; Bill Grefenstette of USDA-APHIS; Dr. Tom Fuchs with Texas A & M Extension Service; and Dr. Andy Jordan with the National Cotton Council.

Texas Agricultural Commissioner Rick Perry will address the group right before lunch. Then Congressman Charles Stenholm will be the keynote speaker during lunch, with an update on USDA reorganization and other important federal agricultural issues.

FFA Shows Livestock

Clarendon FFA recently participated in the 1994 Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show at Fort Worth. Those placing barrows and receiving an added bonus premium were Lana Moffet-2nd place, Medium weight, Chester White; Kyle Judd-7th place, Light weight, Black Poland; Jeremy Hicks-4th place, Medium weight, Berkshire; Ty Lewis 12th place, Heavy weight, Yorkshire; Jennifer Jackson-13th place, Medium weight, Spot; Jason Morrow-15th place, Medium weight, Cross; and Jason Ham-15th place Light weight, Cross.

Others participating were Nathan Koontz, Suzy Williams, Tommy Thompson, Kyle Davis, and Justin Griffin. Approximately 1400 barrows participated in the show this year, and the Clarendon FFA Chapter placed 7 barrows.

Senior Citizens News

by Nova Neuhaus

The Senior Citizen Dance Club had very good attendance for the 2nd Tuesday night dance on February 8th at the community building. Remember the regular Monday night dance practice at the Center from 7 until 9 p.m. each week.

Everyone at the Center is very grateful to Verdine Tipton and Ann Bunyan for making and decorating cupcakes for Valentine favors for the folks on the home delivery program, and to Ellie Wilkinson for making the pretty lacy heart pins for the staff and volunteers who delivered meals on Valentine's Day. It made the day very special.

Clessie Graham had the lucky number for the beautiful box of chocolates raffled off on Valentine's Day, February 14th and she was so nice to let everyone sample them, too. Thanks again to Dolly Cole who donated the candy to have as a fundraiser.

Reminder: The birthday/anniversary supper will be next Tuesday evening, February 22nd at 6 p.m. at the Center. Entertainment will be provided by the singing group from Pampa called "The Returns of Yesterday". You may remember they were here last July, entertaining with great gospel music and some golden oldies with the trio: Jr. Brumfield, Annette Elkins, and Charlie Wagner singing and picking on the crowd and Sharon Stanley accompanying on the piano. Bring a dish and your guest and come on down.

Volunteers in January who are greatly appreciated: Ann Bunyan, Helena Catoe, Lee Caskey, Hazel Guy, Cora Hamilton, Avis Henderson, Bob Kidd, Bill & Nita Meadors, Fred Riley, Thelma Rudder, Mike and Margie Suiter, Verdine Tipton, Eda Wallin, Carmen Wright, Karen Wortham, Mary McAnear, Marilyn Nichols and Kolette Mireles. The center could not function without them. Facility Use: Senior Citizen Dance Club and Weight Watchers. Memorials: A.J. Garland by Larry and Donna Hicks; Andy Robertson by Larry and Donna Hicks, Nova Neuhaus, Emma Shannon, Fred Riley and Helena Catoe; Oren Scott by Senior Citizens Dance Club.

You pay $68,000 annually for a District Attorney. THIS SALARY IS SET BY THE STATE LEGISLATURE AND WILL STAY THE SAME. ONLY THEY CAN CHANGE IT. Currently that position is being filled by a lawyer who devotes PART-TIME to his private practice and PART-TIME as District Attorney.

Check It Out

By Mary Beth Nelson

In my last article, I promised to relate more details concerning the life and remarkable work of Charles R. Fry, head of New York Children's Aid Society during the last half of the nineteenth century. I also mentioned that his outstanding work and devotion to children laid the groundwork for a "placing-out" system for children after they got off the Orphan Train.

It is said that Charles Fry became foster grandfather to, literally, thousands of New York's neglected kids who, in turn, gave him their love. As he walked down the city's back streets, they caught his sleeves and coat tails, asking to be picked up and hugged, a request to which he always positively responded

Charles Fry was responsible for conducting nearly 50,000 children out of dirty New York streets infested with crime. At that time, the city was full of wild boys to whom the police referred as street rats. They were hard to control, homeless orphans who lived anywhere a stairway or discarded packing box was available. Begging for scraps at various back doors or exploring garbage cans were their source for meals. Many of their families had died, leaving them to fend for themselves. Some had run away from home or had just been lost, while others were abandoned by their unmarried or prostitute mothers. It was almost inevitable that many became criminal group members when they were older.

Charles Fry and the Children's Aid Society were the first to try to help them. Lodging houses with simple warm meals and clean beds were offered. The children were encouraged to accept free instruction in useful trades in which honest livings could be made.

The Aid Society also found western farm homes for children from the city streets. It is reported that Mr. Fry traveled 30,000 miles a year on boats, trains, and in horse-drawn buggies in all kinds of weather for 30 years, seeking homes in ten mid-west states for New York's homeless children. After his selected committees of local citizens approved the homes, the children were met as they arrived on the Orphan Trains, and taken to a local hall where they sat in chairs arranged around a room. Farmers and their wives drove from miles around in their farm wagons or buggies to choose those to whom they would offer good homes. After the children were placed, Charles Fry continued to check on their welfare and happiness. If they were healthy and happy, they remained. If not, he would replace them in another home. If the children were rebellious, a gentle warning of returning them to New York usually solved the problem.

Mr. Fry found that the farmers and their wives opened their hearts as well as their homes, giving their love eagerly and freely. Some farm couples took an orphan even though they had children of their own. Many of the children were formally adopted, and by the time they were grown, they had been given enough background to secure good jobs. Of the almost 50,000 children whom Mr. Fry and the Aid Society placed, two grew up to be governors and six were legislators. Others became bankers, lawyers, doctors, teachers, clergymen, business men, and held other productive jobs. Meanwhile, according to reports, the number of crimes in New York City had steadily declined, and juvenile delinquency figures were way down.

Charles Fry once made the following statement: I try to be to the weak, strength; to the discouraged and disheartened, encouragement; and to all, a defense and protection. In short, a friend in need, journeying up and down, always in calling distance, so that our little ones may surely feel that they are never really cast off. His sincere statement and noble actions exemplify the dedication, love, and concern that this man had for children.

Later, organizations of more Orphan Trains developed with their beginning points in various northeast areas, giving more children from orphanages and young victims of parental abandonment a chance for new family life.

An unusual heartwarming part of history? I think so. More information is available in the books, "Orphan Train Riders: Their Own Stories" in Burton Memorial Library. Why not check it out?

Howardwick City Minutes

February 8, 1994

The Howardwick City Council met in regular session on Tuesday, February 8, 1994, at 7 p.m. in Howardwick City Hall. In attendance were: Mayor, H.C. Clark; Councilmen, Bob Thompson, Lanny Edwards, Bob Hall, Jo Webb; City Secretary, Dianna Knight and 3 guest, with

ASCS News

"Corn and sorghum producers with 1993 disaster losses are reminded they must request disaster assistance by March 4 to be eligible for possible forgiveness of advance deficiency overpayment." Grant Buntrock, Administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said today.

"Even if the disaster loss was not large enough to qualify for disaster payment, it may mean eligibility for some advance deficiency overpayment forgiveness," Buntrock said.

"Final deficiency payments will not be calculated until early March, but it is almost certain, given current prices, that the final will be less than the advance. To be eligible for forgiveness of any overpayment, the producer must request disaster aid at the local ASCS office," Buntrock said.

Thank You,

I would like to commend our postal employees here in Clarendon on the excellent service they give us. I think, too often, we take them for granted.

I received a letter yesterday addressed to State of Texas Shaped Peanut Patties, Company, Clarendon, Texas. The folks at the Post Office figured out that it should go to Prairie Cottage Candy and therefore it ended up in the right P.O. Box. Who could ask for better service than that.

Why don't we all give them a big smile and a word of thanks for the good job they do for us every day.
