QUALITY JOB PRINTING AT THE LEADER

News From City Hall

Your new Mayor, H. M. (Flip) Breedlove, told the Board last night, that he had always enjoyed the articles printed in the newspaper under the heading of News from City Hall, and that he felt that a lot of you citizens did. So here we go for another stab at it, with a new writer.

Your Mayor and Board of Aldermen met on Monday night to canvass the returns of the City election held Saturday. The Board declared the returns to be official and H. M. Breedlove took his oath of office to serve as Mayor. Mr. Bob Kidd and Mr. Dave Croslin were present to take their oath of office to serve as Aldermen, Harold Autry, who is your other new Alderman, could not be present to be sworn in last night, but will be sworn in this week. Your new Board is comprised of the following men: Mayor H. M. Breedlove, Alderman Glenn Wallace, Alderman Bob Kidd, Alderman David Croslin, Alderman Charles E. Deyle, Alderman Harold Autry. These are all good men and I know that they will make you proud of them during their tenure in office.

Some of you have been asking what is happening out at the Airport. There is nothing happening at this time. A work stop order was issued so that the paving could be put on the Month of May, when all danger of freezing would be over. L. A. Fuller and his men must be commended for the fine job that they have done so far on the construction of the Airport. If you have not been out to check on it, you might drive out one of these sunny days and just look down the runway. As some of our local flyers are saying, after flying in and out on the short runway, this looks like International Airport. Maybe we should call it Clarendon International.

Don't forget the Annual Dog Vaccination. I believe that it is planned for the middle of April. Having the Rabies shot and buying your City Dog tag at the same time will save you a dollar.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the outgoing Mayor and Aldermen. They did their job well and I can't remember when I have worked with and for a more dedicated group of men. They are all to be commended.

Local Workers Attend Human Development Workshop at WTSU

Pearl Hermesmeier and Cloe Ann Newhouse, teachers of the Clarendon Satellite Class of Amarillo State Center for Human Development, attended a two day workshop at which Mr. Zervey of West Texas State University, spoke on learning disabilities. They also toured the Lubbock State School for the Mentally Retarded.

The Clarendon Satellite School is a day care facility set up by the Texas Department of Mental Health Mental Retardation to provide educational and training opportunities for mentally retarded children and adults.

The school is designed to provide local services which will enable parents to keep the retarded individual at home as opposed to placement at a residential school that may be hundreds of miles away. Hopefully, the students will progress from one program to another toward eventual community social and vocational participation.

The school is interested in providing services for any mentally retarded child or adult who is not enrolled in the Public School Special Education Program.

Volunteers are an important part of the total program of the school and are in constant demand. Approximately 150 regular volunteers per week serve the Amarillo State Center and Satellite Classes. Other Satellite Schools beside Clarendon are Dalhart, Dumas, Perryton, Canadian, Pampa, Borger, Hereford, Dimmitt, Tulia, and Childress.

The volunteer chairman for Clarendon School is Dorothy Breedlove. If you desire to serve as a volunteer in this program please contact her or one of the teachers.

The school is always interested in prospective new students. If you know anyone who would qualify for this program please refer them to the teachers or W. R. Lawrence, chairman of the Advisory Board.

Our community has been very here and is to be commended for their attitudes and contributions.

The trouble with being right all the time is that no one would want to be around us if they had to be the one that came up wrong on all occasions.

Some folks go out hunting for trouble — others just wait for it to catch up with them.

Children learn how to operate the parents and usually before they do the family car. They can operate the grandparents even sooner . . .

It is not so bad to hit bottom if we land on our feet.

Some folks think they have a surplus of wisdom so they try to use their mouth for a pop off valve.

The things we do on our feet are just as important as the things that we say on our knees.

If we can't believe anything we hear, and only half of what we see then we wonder what it is safe to think about.

One is said to be a success socially when he learns to get along with those he can't get ahead of.

The reason some people have so much advice for the next generation is that they have so much unused advice left over from their parents. It ought to be in good condition as it was never used very much. Good as advice is most folks have to learn things for themselves.

AUSTIN, Tex.—New programs are in the works for job training and computerizing data on the industrial advantages offered by Texas communities.

Texas Industrial Commission announced its computer project will go into operation this summer with completion of data storage on cities across the state. Texas Municipal League, Chambers of Commerce and Industrial developers are cooperating.

Commission plans to provide prospective industries with instant information on every town in Texas, listing natural and human resources available, economic potential and strong points in each place.

Program also is designed to show communities which industries most likely would be interested in their attractions.

Meanwhile, a three-year project to develop industry's ability to determine what training is needed and where was announced at the Governor's Conference on Technical-Vocational Education here.

Construction Industry Council for Education, Manpower and Research will receive $80,000 from Texas Education Agency to help other industries plan training based on families, occupations or employment. Council will use the system to develop an environmental technology program expected to enroll between 9,000 and 10,000 students in 1972.

Students will get an introduction to the industries in the ninth grade, study plumbing basics in the tenth grade, heating and cooling in the eleventh. In their senior year, they will select jobs for part-time supervised training. After high school, they can go directly to work in a trade or take advanced training in technology or engineering. Industry and education agencies cooperate in offering the training.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Otis A. Green, Lubbock public relations man, became executive administrative assistant to Gov. Preston Smith with designation of the governor's longtime top aide, Harold K. Dudley, as director of the state drug control program.

Smith also made these recent appointments: State Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation — Barrie E. Rushing Jr. of Lubbock to succeed Elbert Hall of Abilene, resigned.

Special assistant on Mexican-American Affairs — Humberto Aguirre, formerly of Ozona, Langtry and Del Rio.

Committee on Pre-school Education Standards — Mrs. George S. Hawn of Port Aransas, Dr. Kate Bell of Houston and Mrs. Jeannette B. Watson of Austin.

Texas State Board of Public Accountancy — Weyer P. Leigh of Houston.

Board of Managers, Texas State Railroad — Wayne C. Sellers of Palestine.

Chairman of Committee on Children and Youth — Walter H. Richter of Austin.

Tuberculosis Advisory Committee — Dr. David McCullough of San Antonio, L. J. Whetsell of Houston, Dr. John Steward Chapman of Dallas and T. H. Morrison Jr. of Harlingen, re-appointment.

AIR BOARD-AG CLASH

Texas Air Control Board has accused the attorney general's office of demanding too much evidence before it will take pollution cases to court.

"You shouldn't have to kill anybody to get prosecution," emphasized Dr. Wendell H. Hamrick Houston member of the Board.

"I don't see how we can ever get any prosecution under conditions set out by the attorney general."

Protest broke open a long-standing conflict between the Board and state lawyers over how much evidence is necessary to support filing of air pollution violations against industries. It was provoked by an Austin furniture plant case, where the Attorney General declined to take action for lack of sufficient evidence.

Attorney General's representative said the Board's stringent regulations present the problem of providing danger to public health and welfare.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court held that witnesses cannot be forced to present certain types of records when they are sought only to challenge their own testimony.

High Court overruled the effort of the City of Orange to direct the Beaumont Court of Civil Appeals to make specific findings in an annexation dispute between Orange and Port Neches.

After appeal to the State Supreme Court a Houston shipyard welder won his case for workmen's compensation disability insurance on the basis of his claim that he was poisoned by fumes in a job accident.

Fred Williams of Houston, candidate for land commissioner, has asked the Supreme Court to force Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to make public a list of 43,000 voters who have state veteran land loans.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, through the AG's anti-trust and consumer division, got a district court injunction against Empire Sewing Machine Distributors of Fort Worth ordering it to stop deceptive trade practices.

AG RULES — Out-of-state liquor may be used to stock airliners in Texas without paying any state tax unless the alcoholic beverages are sold while the plane is over Texas, says Attorney General Martin.

In another recent opinion, Martin held that the Sunnyvale Town Council, Dallas County, cannot act in the capacity of a school board for Sunnyvale Independent School District.

TB TESTS REINSTATED—Tuberculosis tests have been reinstated at all border ports of entry for cattle imported from Mexico, reports the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Action was taken under terms of a Travis County district court order enjoining the commission from permitting entry into Texas of cattle from Mexico in violation of health regulations. Associated Milk Producers of Texas filed the suit.

Early this year the Health Commission put TB testing requirements into effect on the border but suspended them two weeks later at the request of Governor Smith pending a hearing in El Paso on objections to the order. Commission decided to exempt steers and sprayed heifers after the hearing. Issue will be aired at an April 6 agency meeting here.

REGISTRATION LEADERS NAMED — Loving and Roberts Counties registered the highest percentages of voters in the small-county category. Loving county scored 258.5 per cent and Roberts county 232.4 per cent. Quotas were fixed by the State Democratic Executive Committee, Throckmorton County came in third in the same class.

Next group, population wise, was led by Rains County, followed closely by Stonewall, Shackelford, Bandera, Zapata, Menard, Dickens, Mills, Coke, and Jim Hogg.

Impala '400' Sale.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

When you buy any Impala V8 model during our "400" Sale, here's how you can get two popular extras at no extra charge.

You order your Impala equipped with a Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, radio, Comfortilt steering wheel, front and rear bumper guards and white stripe tires. Items you'd probably order anyway.

Then we add our big 400-cubic-inch V8 at 265 hp that runs on regular gas, along with dual exhausts—both at no charge. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

And the Impala you're buying, of course, got to be America's No. 1 car, because of all the value features built right in.

Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value, too.

You're getting America's No. 1 car on sale. The car more people buy—year after year after year.

How can you beat that?

NEWS FROM

Congressman Bob Price

18th District, Texas

The 18 year old vote has been the subject of much debate. The Pro and Con arguments can be summarized as follows:

PRO

Due to rising levels of education, youths of today are better qualified to vote than past generations.

Those old enough to fight for our country are old enough to vote.

Since in many respects, persons of 18 are legally responsible for their actions, consistency demands that they also be allowed to vote.

Participation in politics through exercising the right to vote is an important aspect of training youth for good citizenship.

CON

Despite higher quality educational achievements, youths of 18 generally lack the maturity of judgment and experience that the exercise of voting demands in a free society.

The argument that those old enough to fight are old enough to vote is faulty. Physical maturity is quite different from political and social maturity.

Lowering the voting age would give political rights and responsibilities to minors. Minors are not generally to be held fully responsible for their actions.

The voting booth should not be considered a training ground for citizenship. The right to vote should be restricted to those who are mature enough to assume the full responsibility of citizenship.

The population group containing the 18 through 20 year old potential voter has been analyzed by experts. Out of the 10.5 million young people in this category:

EDUCATION

- 60,000 have less than 9 years of education.
- 2.9 million have 1 to 3 years of high school.
- 7 million completed 4 years of high school.
- 3.5 million are enrolled in colleges.

CAREERS

- 5.9 million are employed
- 800,000 in armed forces.
- 2.4 million are in school.
- 1.1 Million are housewives.
- 300,000 are none of the above.

These figures speak for themselves. A substantial majority of today's youth are gainfully employed and are bona fide taxpayers. Perhaps the chief criticism about lowering the voting age centers on the supposed immaturity of young people. I have always been troubled by this argument because although age is certainly a recognized index of immaturity, it may not be the best index. For example: What can be said for the maturity of the individuals who recently tipped over the school buses in Lamar, South Carolina? How politically and socially mature are college professors and others who advocate violence as the best solution to social problems? Are the Chicago 7 mature individuals? They are all over 21.

In deciding whether or not to lower the voting age to 18, I firmly believe that Congress should confine itself to considering the question in the form of a constitutional amendment. The U. S. Constitution provides that states not the federal government have the primary authority to establish voting age limitations. Accordingly, to take any other approach would infringe upon states rights.

Regrettably, Congress is presently considering this issue in the form of a bill rather than a constitutional amendment. The Senate has voted to lower the voting age to 18, and has attached its proposal to the House passed National Voting Rights Act. This Act, which I supported, is designed to replace the ill-conceived Voting Rights Act of 1955, which has created substantial abuses of federal power in the southern states. The Nixon sponsored National Voting Rights Act, in contrast, ends this regional discrimination and treats all states as equal under the law.

As a result of the Senate action, however, the House will be forced to vote on a package proposal. The National Voting Rights Act and the proposal to lower the voting age will be considered together, not separately as I would prefer.

For the reasons stated, my decision on how to cast your vote will not be an easy one. As your elected representative, I welcome your thoughts and recommendations on the matter.

Watch For Cedar Apple Rust Advises Extension Pathologist

Many homeowners, in the near future may find their cedar trees covered with a slimy orange substance. This says J. D. Johnson, Extension plant pathologist, is one stage of a fungus which causes a disease known as Cedar Apple Rust.

The organism is rather unique in that it lives for two years on cedar and one year on apple. The fungus attacks cedar in the fall and early spring and forms a reddish gall varying in size from very minute to one inch or more in diameter.

The gall matures 19-24 months later and produces the orange jelly-like substance that is now appearing on cedars. Spores ejected from the jelly like substance are carried by the wind to nearby apple or crab-apple trees. By mid-summer, the disease has developed on the apple to the extent that spores are produced. These return to the cedar and the cycle starts again.

Homeowners can remove the gall prior to maturity and prevent the jelly-like substance from forming on their cedars, explains Johnson. After the jelly-like substance has formed, it can be washed out of the tree by using a water hose and a high pressure streams of water, he adds. Chemical control on the cedar has not proved effective due to the extended time that infection takes place, Johnson said.

Soil Conservation District News

Soil Conservation Service

Conservation on the land makes the country more beautiful and it increases the Farmers and the ranchers bank account as well as saves the land for future generations. Grassed waterways and Parallel terraces, for example, make the farm more attractive and more profitable. Fat cattle grazing well managed grasslands are attractive. Floodwater retarding structures, old cropland seeded to native grasses, and land with wheat and sorghum stubble left on surface through critical blow season add to the beauty of the country. These and other soil and water conservation practices improve the productivity of our land and make it more attractive and easier to manage.

On the other hand, think how ugly these eyesores are: a system of gullies across cropland; a muddy, polluted stream; bare rangeland that is blowing; cropland that is blowing and piling topsoil over on county roads and state highway right of ways; or a valley that is flooded with silt and debris. Every time you apply a conservation practice that helps cure one of these ills, you are taking positive action to beautify America. Also, there is positive proof that economic status is improved with application of conservation on the land.

Quite a number of people are doing something about soil and water conservation on their land in the Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District and it is going to help the farmers, ranchers, and the business people of this vicinity.

If we can freeze-dry other perishables, why not fresh flowers? Flowers have been freeze-dried without affecting the color. Extension consumer marketing specialist Gwendolyn Chyatt, reports that the blooms will last 8 to 12 months.

U. S. SELECTIVE SERVICE

(Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 309 W. Ninth Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.)

Q—How is the only son in a family classified?

A—This has no bearing on classification unless he is the sole surviving son of a family of which the father or one or more sons or daughters were killed in action or died in line of duty while serving in the armed forces or subsequently of injuries or disease service-connected. He's put in IV-A unless he waives it by volunteering.

Q—I've taken my physical examination and passed. I didn't know I could take a medical statement for this examination. I've now sent it to the draft board. Is it too late for this to be considered?

A—No. Your statement will still receive consideration.

Q—My son's planning to enter a junior college. Is such a college considered an institution of higher learning? Can a junior college student get a II-S deferment?

A—A junior college is an institution of higher learning. If he takes a full-time course and the credits are acceptable by an institution granting a baccalaureate degree, he's eligible for class II-A if a deferment is granted.

Q—In what classification are conscientious objectors placed? A—Classes I-O and I-A-O. In class I-O the individual performs civilian work. In I-A-O, he serves in the armed forces without bearing arms.

Only One Week Left For Safety Sticker

"With the April 15 motor vehicle inspection deadline only one week away, a large number of vehicles remain to be inspected," stated Capt. Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Unless there is a rapid increase of inspections, it appears that many vehicles will not be inspected before the April 15 deadline. Any driver operating a vehicle displaying an inspection sticker on the right-hand side of the windshield after April 15 will be operating in violation of the inspection law," Johnson added.

Johnson noted that this will be the last April 15 inspection deadline, because on Sept. 1, 1969 the Texas Legislature adopted a year-around inspection program. Inspections will come due one year after the current month of inspection. This will establish an anniversary month for each vehicle to be inspected and prevent the log-jam of over six million vehicles to be inspected at one time.

The new inspection sticker will be placed on the left hand side of the windshield. The number of the current month of inspection will appear on the sticker.

ASHTOLA CANDIDATE RALLY A SUCCESS

The Supper Candidate Rally and Pie Auction held at the Ashtola Community Center Saturday night was most successful in every way. Thanks to everyone who helped in any way.

The building is clean and painted. Money made from the Pie Auction will be used to pay for the paint and supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith of Lelia Lake gave the Ashtola Needle Club a quilt top. Club ladies quilted it. Donations amounting to $59 were taken on the quilt. The quilt was presented to Shirley Hoggard Saturday night. The money will be given to Girlstown.

Tired of the same-old breakfast? Try a peach, hamburger and bun with milk; or orange juice, oatmeal cookies and milk. Anything—but get a fourth to a third of the day's calorie and nutrient requirements at breakfast, says Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Farmers Urged to Fertilize land

Farmers should not risk low production in 1970 by not fertilizing, advises C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist.

"Low yields in 1969, the high cost of credit, uncertain weather conditions and other conditions affecting the uncertainty of agricultural programs have probably influenced the decision of farmers to wait and fertilize near planting time," Welch said.

During October, November and December, 1969, a total of only 398,777 tons of fertilizer were spread on Texas farms. This compares with totals for the fourth quarter of 1968 when 606,334 tons were used. The 1969 fourth quarter total is approximately 35% less than the 1968 total, Welch said.

Soil samples submitted during the fourth quarter of 1969, were comparable to 1968 numbers for the same period, Welch said. However, both were down from previous years, he continued.

Total soil samples submitted during the Oct. - Dec., 1969, period totaled 5,091. The highest number of samples submitted was in December with a total of 1,913.

The five leading counties in number of samples submitted during the fourth quarter of 1969 were Wharton, Washington, Bell, Harris, and Lamb. In addition, 66 water and 102 soil samples were analyzed for salinity.

"Farmers should try to fertilize before planting, whether soil samples have been taken or not," Welch urged. "Soil samples may then be submitted and side dressings can be applied if needed."

Accent on Health

Did you ever hear of EMPHYSEMA or CHRONIC BRONCHITIS? Chances are you have since it is one of the hazards of cigarette smoking.

The problem of chronic obstructive lung disease isn't new, but its prominence in the field of health is making itself known by the rapidly with which it is disabling people from one part of the state to the other.

Pulmonary diseases are the second most common cause of disability in the state and the number of cases is rising rapidly, according to Dr. Albert G. Randall, deputy commissioner for Tuberculosis Control Services with the Texas State Department of Health.

And here's another fact given by Dr. Randall: In the past 10 years the gross mortality from emphysema and chronic bronchitis has more than quadrupled in the United States and continue to grow faster than for any other disease. Put another way, deaths from emphysema and chronic bronchitis in this country have just about doubled every five years since 1952.

Why should this be of importance to you? You may be a candidate for a pulmonary disease even though you think you have no problem. Statistics gathered during a National Health Survey indicate that some three million Americans have limited activities due to emphysema and chronic bronchitis. And . . . the number is growing annually.

It has been estimated that some 25 per cent of those over age 40 have abnormal lung function. Although women and younger people suffer from emphysema, there are 10 men victims for every woman. Most of the more than 10 million victims are men past 40. And here's another shocker for you who haven't concerned yourself before with emphysema: There are more sufferers from emphysema in the United States than from lung cancer and tuberculosis combined, according to one estimate.

What marks you as a candidate for diagnosis as a sufferer with emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Frequent colds . . . a lingering cough . . . increasing shortness of breath with normal activities . . . frequent respiratory infections . . . general weakness and a tendency to tire easily . . . a feeling of tightness in the chest. These are signs which shouldn't be ignored but too often are ignored until serious problems develop.

American people have been inspired by actions of the grasshopper which eats everything in sight until it faces starvation, rather than by the beaver which repairs every break in the dam to protect his food supply.

Soil Testing Program Recommended

The soil is a good place to start farm income improvement for 1970. A soil inventory, points out County Agent Ronald Gooch, should include a close study of the acres to be farmed or grazed and what practices will make them even more productive.

Since soils even on the same farm may vary in their productive capacity and adaptability to grow crops, a logical starting point is a soil testing program. The determinations from the soil testing laboratory will give needed information on the amounts of plant food required to provide the crop with the nutrients needed to meet expected production. Thus, recommendations based on a soil test will cover only the field from which the sample was taken.

While many farmers in Donley County follow a program of soil testing, there are many others who could profit from the practice. There are few practices which annually return a greater profit than does the use of fertilizer. Demonstration results year after year continue to prove its worth, says Gooch.

Farmers desiring information on soil testing and instructions on how to take and mail samples for testing are invited to come by the County office for a visit, Gooch said.

Self Improvement (Aging)

"I don't feel any different than I did when I was 18," said an 83-year-old grandparent. "But I know I'm different when I look in the mirror."

Do you like what you see in the mirror? Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging at Texas A&M University, offers a winning combination for looking well: attitude, cleanliness, appearance, health and happiness.

Your attitude tells how old you are. Check yours. Cleanliness at any age is important. Older people should pay special attention to hair, face, hands and feet.

Cleanliness and walking are two good rules for foot care, says Miss Bell.

Good grooming begins with clean body and clean clothing which is void of wrinkles, rips and missing buttons. "Stand tall and wear a smile," advises the specialist, "Your total look from head to toe expresses you!"

Medical checkups, good nutrition and exercise can prevent many of the so-called "old age ills." Physical and mental fitness make leisure years happier.

As a final reminder, Miss Bell says learn to forget yourself and make others happy. Try not to talk about your ills all the time. Make others feel good and be a good listener.

For more information ask your county home demonstration agent for the Extension Fact Sheet, Seeing Yourself.

Long Range Patrol Rations Said Better

"Of course, they aren't like those meals Mom cooks, but I can't complain," a young combat soldier in Vietnam wrote about food packets now replacing infamous C-rations. The new packets are freeze-dried Long Range Patrol (LRP) rations.

Soldiers add water to the food or eat it dry like popcorn for light - to - carry, more nutritious and tastier meals. LRP rations weigh half what C-rations do, reports Sally Springer, Extension food and nutrition specialist, Texas A&M University.

The advantage: LRP's are quick, easy to reconstitute, and are able to withstand free-fall delivery by helicopter. If other conditions permit, servicemen on patrol missions in the DMZ area, their counterparts in the Central Highlands and men in comparable situations elsewhere can whip up a dinner in less than five minutes by just adding hot water.

Food scientists at U. S. Army Natick Laboratories in Massachusetts developed the food packets specifically for troops engaged in "unconventional warfare operations in remote areas." U. S. Department of Agriculture researchers helped in technical studies and research on freeze-drying techniques which made production of the packets possible, Miss Springer says.

Each menu features one of these meat entrees: Chicken and rice; beef and rice; beef stew; pork with scalloped potatoes; beef hash; spaghetti and meat sauce; chili con carne and chicken stew. The latter three are especially popular.

Each meal includes a dessert, usually a cereal, fruit or chocolate bar, freeze-dried coffee and often a cocoa beverage mix.

Each flexible film-packed Long Range Patrol food packet has more than 1,000 calories.

When first used in 1964, 300,000 experimental food packets went to Vietnam. The number increased each year. More than 4 million packets went to Vietnam in fiscal 1967.

CC SPRING AND SUMMER SCHEDULE RELEASED

Clarendon College resumed full schedule Monday, April 6th, after Students and Teachers enjoyed a week of Spring Vacation. The Spring Term is due to end with final exams scheduled for May 25, 26 and 27, 1970. Graduation will be on May 28th at 8:30 p.m. Summer School begins the first week of June with registration set for June 4, 5, and 6th at 6:30 p.m. with classes beginning June 7th.

By 1980 health care services will hire more people than any other field, reports Extension Specialist Minnie Bell. The industry's growth is based, she says, on more people, universal use of and programs like Medicare and health insurance of U. S. families Medicaid.

1969 COTTON CROP IS SHORT 2,000 BALES

According to the latest Census report, Donley came up 2,063 bales short on the 1969 cotton crop as compared with the 1968 figure. The total number of Running Bales, linters not included, ginned in Donley County from the 1969 crop was 6,252 and the 1968 crop totaled 8,315.

This total number was considered much better than first anticipated considering the elements that plagued the cotton farmer vesting period, throughout the growing and har-

VETERAN'S QUESTIONS

Q—I am a veteran. Can I receive a free medical examination from the VA for a job?

A—No. The VA is not permitted to give the veteran an examination for anything except in connection with a VA benefit.

Q—I receive a pension from the VA. What office of the Treasury should I advise now that I have moved?

A—Your change of address must go to the VA regional office where your records are kept; never send it to any other Government agency except your post office.

Q—Must a veteran occupy as a home the house he purchases through a GI loan?

A—Yes. The veteran applicant, both at the time he applies for the loan, and at the time the loan is closed, must certify that he intends to occupy the property as his home.

Q—May a veteran receiving disability compensation also receive Social Security disability payments, or will the disability compensation be reduced by the Social Security payments?

A—Disability compensation will not be reduced by the amount of any Social Security benefit.

Q—I am a veteran who served three years on active duty from 1958 to 1961. I am totally disabled because of an automobile accident. Am I entitled to a non-service connected pension?

A—No. In order to be eligible, you must have had 90 days of active duty, any part of which was during wartime. Your active duty was during peacetime.

Q—I will be discharged from the service this month. What must I do to establish entitlement to educational benefits through the VA?

A—You should apply immediately to the nearest VA office for a certificate, present immediately to the registrar of the school you plan to attend, or to the employer where you plan to receive on-the-job training or apprentice training.

Q—Can I use my dividends to pay my National Service Life Insurance?

A—Yes. You may authorize the VA to automatically apply your dividend each year to premium. The VA will then take your dividend and apply it to future premiums. You may also tell the VA to keep your dividend as a credit to your account, and use it to pay a premium in case you forget.
