Bronchos Take Game With Sunray To Win Bi-District

The Clarendon High School Bronchos as winners of Bi-District play last year defeated Sunray 59-49 at Borger Monday night to retain the Bi-District title and enter the UIL Regional playoffs at Lubbock Saturday.

The game was tight with the Bronchos lead cut to one point during the game. The greatest lead the Bronchos were able to muster was 16 points; however they were never trailing throughout the entire game.

Clarendon took the lead marking the first score on the board and by the end of the first period of play led by a score of 18-9. At halftime the tally was 32-23 and the third quarter closed 44-37. The ball changed hands many times and at one point in the third quarter the count was 35-34. At the final play of the game the score stood at 59-49.

Charles Louis played an outstanding game dropping in 26 points and taking 25 rebounds. Jim Moore hit 10, Adams 9, Carter 8 and Reese 6.

Sunray had a fine team though most of the breaks seemed to fall their way. Eldon Ware was high point man with 17. Allen Mullins played one of his finest games of the season.

In a warm-up game Friday night Clarendon defeated Adrian 64-63 by playing two overtimes. This was perhaps the Bronchos' greatest challenge of the season. By quarters the score was 11-9, 27-27, 41-43, and a tied 61-61 at the end of regular play. Charles Louis was high point man for Clarendon with 30 points. Carter dropped in 14, and Reese hit 11. Joel Brownlee was high for Adrian with 19 points.

Free shots were credited in Clarendon's win with three hit in the last 2 minutes of regular play to bring about the tie. During the game the score was tied 27 times and the ball changed hands 13 times.

Let's all give the Bronchos our support in Regional play and if possible accompany our fine team to the playoffs.

Texas Public Schools Week Set March 2-6

Parents — Patrons — help us to celebrate this week which is dedicated to our Youth—the future of our Land.

Do you know your children's teachers, their daily schedule of classes, their strengths and their weaknesses, and what you as a parent could do to help them to develop to the limits of their abilities? The answers to these and many other questions can only be obtained by your close cooperation with our teachers. Come to see us not only during Public Schools Week, but often, in your quest for a good basic education for your child.

The following, it seems to me is a very inspiring definition of our Public Schools:

I am the backbone of the nation, the bulwark of Democracy; I reach beyond the limits of present knowledge;

I foster the development of individual capacities for Fifty Million Young Americans;

I enable them to become the best they are capable of becoming, for I impart the gift of seeing;

"I am the chief instrument for keeping this nation the fabled land of opportunity it started out to be,"

I am looking for leaders with vision, men and women with confidence, who believe in the future and who know how to make the most of it, for themselves and others.

"You are invited to visit the local public schools at any time and particularly during Texas Public School Week, March 2-4", stated Superintendent Arling Cordell.

CUB SCOUT BANQUET MON. NITE. MARCH 2

CORRECTION

WHAT ANSWERS DOES THE FUTURE HOLD?

(AN EDITORIAL)

Numerous questions regarding the election to create a hospital district and vote bonds for the purpose of building a new hospital can not be answered on a positive basis until the outcome of the election is known but projected answers are possible.

Many have asked if the hospital will have an open staff. The bill passed by the Legislature created an open staff hospital and gave the power to the hospital board to name members of the staff. It is the general presumption that the hospital board will appoint any resident physician, that is licensed by the state, to the hospital staff, regardless of affiliation. The fact that you, as a taxpayer, have the same choice as anyone else can not be ignored by the hospital board.

The hospital board will have the power to name a person as administrator of the hospital. A facility, the size of that proposed for Donley County, will require the full time services of a person qualified to handle the job. It would be unreasonable to assume that it could be managed on a part time basis. It will be up to the hospital board to locate and hire a person trained in this field of work.

Would you want to live in a community without schools or churches? The same question applies to hospital and medical facilities. It costs money to have either. It costs money to progress and be able to enjoy or receive the things we want or need.

In this case, as most of us agree, a modern hospital facility is needed. This point can be accomplished by voting for the two propositions March 14. With the passage of this issue, it will take time for planning and construction. Should the issue fail, it would mean waiting another 12 months before another election could be held, and another period of time for planning and construction. During this time, without medicare patients and revenue from the same, chances would be that the present facility could not continue operation.

Laying all differences aside, it would be a deplorable situation for a community to allow such a thing to happen here where we hope to continue living and rearing our families.

The determination as to staff, management, and other details in question remain with you, the VOTER. After the facility is made available it will be up to YOU to talk with, write letters, or if necessary to petition the Hospital Board or even go so far as to petition the Commissioners Court to see that the hospital is operated in the interests of the people who support it through taxation and use.

You can be among those who find fault, gripe and do nothing, or you can exert your rights as a taxpaying citizen and join together to accomplish what is needed, or correct any evils that may arise.

Nothing stands still — if there is no progress toward growth and improvement — then the alternative is deterioration and eventually a wide place along a busy highway.

A Bit Of Advice For Home Gardeners

It is time for home gardeners to start planning their spring gardens, reminds a Texas A&M University horticulture professor. "Most important is to be sure that you have good seed and that this seed is the proper variety for your area," Dr. Homer Blackhurst, vegetable breeding specialist said.

It is important for the home gardener to determine the family needs and preferences when choosing the types of vegetables and the quantity of each vegetable to be planted, he said. The person planning a garden should also determine what the quantity, price and quality of vegetables in the market will be when he is harvesting the same vegetables in his own garden.

"The home gardener should determine if it is profitable for him to plant and care for each vegetable," he said.

Land should be prepared well in advance of planting, the vegetable breeding specialist said; explaining that this is usually done as soon as the weather will permit.

It is a good idea to put part of the fertilizer under the beds as they are being prepared for planting. This will make the fertilizer readily available when the plants need it.

The precise kind and amount of fertilizer to be used can only be determined by a soil test, he noted. The method of taking a soil test as well as information concerning the seeds best suited for the gardener's own area can be obtained at the county agricultural agents office.

In lieu of a soil test, a rough rule of thumb is to use a complete fertilizer (i.e. 12-24-12) at a rate of 300 pounds an acre.

"When seeding, it is generally best to follow the directions on the seed package," he explained. "But because of frequent early rains, a fine mulch such as cotton seed hulls or sawdust should be put over the rows to avoid compaction of the soil before the seedlings emerge."

It is very important to thin plants to the distances recommended on each individual package, he said. If the plant package has been lost or discarded, this information is also available at the county agent's office.

"It is very important to control weeds in the garden," he noted. "This can be done by the conventional methods of pulling and hoeing, but is best done with the use of a mulch around the plants."

Sufficient water is most important for vegetables, Blackhurst said; noting that vegetable crops will require approximately 1 1/2 inches of water a week either by rainfall or irrigation.

"Above all don't allow vegetable crops to go into water stress. This will seriously affect the quality of the vegetables," he said.

A $27,800 federal grant will go to Portland for a city park development.

Prunes have lost their wrinkles. Because many of these wrinkles have disappeared with new methods of processing, today's prunes are soft textured and rich flavored. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, suggests prunes as a healthful snack food.

Know Pesticides And How To Use Them

When properly handled and applied, pesticides provide an effective and inexpensive means for minimizing and controlling the damage and discomfort caused by pests in the home.

Proper use, points out Dr. Jack Price, Extension leader-agricultural chemicals, is more easily achieved if the user has certain basic information about chemicals, formulation equipment, application, handling procedures, storage and disposal.

Organic and inorganic compounds are used for pest control; however, organic chemicals are the major source for insecticides. Organic materials are also used as herbicides and even metal containing organic compounds are used in fungicides. Plant derivatives are also used as pesticides. Therefore, says Price, it is important to recognize that many different chemicals are used as pesticides and that different products may require different use procedures.

Pesticides are available singly or in combination with other chemicals. Formulations include emulsifiable concentrates, wettable powders, dusts and granules. Dusts and fine sprays are generally more susceptible to drift and if this is a problem granules may be the formulation of choice if the desired pest control can be obtained.

Wettable powders, continues Price, may be less hazardous than formulations containing oil if protective measures are less than optimum. An oil soluble formulation is in many cases more easily absorbed through the skin than water soluble formulations or wettable powders that are mixed with water. In all cases, cautions Price, select the pesticides recommended for a specific use by a competent authority and follow label directions to the letter.

When pesticides must be mixed do it in the open or in a well ventilated area, advises the specialist. Avoid spilling or splattering the pesticide and use special containers for mixing and use them for no other purpose, he adds. Wear natural rubber gloves when handling concentrates and other protective equipment as may be specified by label instructions. Maintain application equipment in good condition and always handle it with the same care as the pesticide itself, advises Price.

Accidental home poisonings are a serious problem and in a majority of cases children under five years of age are involved. The home, says Price, contains an arsenal of potentially dangerous chemicals which include medicines, silver polish, detergents, moth balls, petroleum solvents, cleaners and pesticides to name a few.

Storage of chemicals, out-of-reach of children, preferably should be under lock. Storage should also be away from food, either human or animal, and in an area of little traffic.

On disposal, Price says, do not save or reuse empty pesticide containers, promptly dispose of them. Do not puncture pressurized containers. Do not toss them into a fire; they can explode and may cause bodily injury or start fires. Wrap the empty containers, including bags and cartons, in heavy layers of newspaper or other paper. If trash collection is available, deposit them for trash removal. Otherwise, crush metal containers and break those made of glass; then take them to a public dump, or better, bury them at least 18 inches deep in a place where they will not contaminate a water source.

Regulatory surveillance programs, total diet studies and monitoring programs (soil and water) are utilized throughout the nation to insure that pesticides are being properly and safely used. Be sure, concludes Price, that your home measures up to the same standard.

INJURY RATE HIGHER FOR SENIOR LADIES

Elderly women have a higher injury rate than elderly men. The Texas Safety Association reports after preliminary analysis of a statewide study now being conducted for the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Females were treated in 64% of reported accidents, whereas elderly males accounted for only 36% of the total reported by hospitals and physicians through seven months of the year-long survey.

"Our study indicates that active senior women need to be particularly careful," states Lloyd F. Falmer, TSA General Manager. "Spry senior citizens may tend to overestimate their physical abilities and take chances when actually they should be just a little less daring for safety's sake."

He named the most common places of accident occurrence as the home and the most common cause as falls. Fractured and broken bones were listed as the most common serious injury.

For greater safety, Falmer suggested that conditions in the home be adapted to the needs of advancing age. Floors and floor coverings should be of non-slip type. There should be no loose rugs. All parts of the house, particularly stairs, should be well lighted.

Bathrooms should have stout handrails and nonskid surfaces.

Unless older Texans are absolutely certain they can climb in safety, they should stay away from ladders. TSA warns that overconfidence can lead to bone-breaking accidents.

COLOR AND EMOTION

Colors affect emotions and thus affect interior decorating. For example, some wall colors in eating rooms decrease the appetite; other colors increase it.

Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University, explains that while individual likes and dislikes for colors vary, emotional reactions to colors are quite consistent.

For example lavender interiors actually reduce eating time and the size of the meals ordered in a recent color conditioning study. In airplanes, air sickness was common where the interiors were painted in unappetizing colors.

These conditions were alleviated when proper colors were selected, reports the specialist.

The most appetizing light colors are peach, orange, red-orange, clear yellow and pale green. Blue

MISS SUZANNE MOORE

Local Student Named Good Citizen by DAR

Las Pampas Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution entertained with a Colonial Tea Sunday afternoon, February 22, at the St. Matthew Episcopal Parish Hall in Pampa and at that time named four area girls to be honored as Good Citizens of the Year. Miss Suzanne Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Moore of Clarendon, was one of the four honored.

The girls were chosen from the senior class of their high schools by a committee of the faculty and others for their qualities of dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism. They were presented a pin by their mothers at the Tea and will be presented a certificate at awards assembly at the various high schools. They are also eligible to compete for a scholarship offered by the National Society.

The Tea is held annually as a part of American History month observance.

was found to be fairly satisfying, but variations of yellow were very distasteful.

Goldenrod yellow seemed rancid while lemon yellow seemed acid. Deep yellow with a mustard or olive case were decidedly distasteful.

Of other deep colors, brown and tan seemed most compatible with foods. Deep green and blue were more appealing, although dark colors were generally not as appetizing as light ones.

Houston was called on by the Texas Water Quality Board to explain why its sewage treatment quality is not up to the conditions of its permit.

Different types of fondue pots fit different kinds of fondues says Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University. Metal pots usually are used for beef fondue but can be used for cheese fondue if the temperature is kept low enough so cheese will not stick or burn. Earthenware pots should be used for cheese or chocolate fondue only. Earthenware can withstand temperatures required for these but it tends to crack under higher temperatures used for meat.

MILK COW NUMBERS UP—Milk cow numbers in Texas on January 1, 1970 stood at 381,000, up 2% from a year ago. One and two year milk heifers numbered 85,000 head, up 4% and milk type heifer calves totaled 110,000 head, up 5% from Jan. 1, 1969. The figures were released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

NEED A LIGHT? FORGET BLUE

Blue may be your favorite color, but it might be a good idea to give some second thought to dressing your boat up with a blue light.

It's against the law.

Texas Parks and Wildlife police boats manned by game management officers, and police vessels are authorized to display a rotating blue beacon, but other boat owners must settle for the standard red, green and white light, dependent upon the class of boat, which are more than mere decorations.

Lighting diagrams are included in the Water Safety Act request accompanying each registration certificate mailed to a boat owner.

Customers in Mexico and Central America are buying more Texas livestock than ever before. State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reports, but he also issued a warning that Mexico has increased its health requirements for Texas cattle.

Bulldogs Lose To LCC, Host 3 Games

The Clarendon College Bulldogs traveled to Lubbock last Saturday night to play the Lubbock Christian Chapparrels, and found the reception to be quite unfriendly. The Chaps, who are battling for the conference championship, blistered the Dogs to the tune of 81-60.

Jim Hollis of the Chaps, gave the visitors a taste of what was to come as he drilled his first four shots he put up. Hollis, an all-conference choice, wound up the night with 34 points, 32 of them coming from the field. The Bulldogs clung close to the hosts for fifteen minutes of the first half before the Chaps spurred to a nine point lead, 39-30.

The Bulldogs came out the second half and changed their defense to a man to man, but the Chaps were not to be denied as they quickly built a 14 point lead with fifteen minutes to go in the contest. Hollis again led the surge for the Chaps. Switching from a 1-2-2 zone to a 1-3-1 zone to a half court press, the Bulldogs tried vainly to get some momentum going but could only muster short spurts as LCC built their lead to 20 points with 5 minutes remaining. The Dogs played them even the last five minutes but never threatened a come-back.

The Bulldogs were led in scoring by Tony Moya and Juan Villarreal, both freshmen, with 15 points each. Rene Ornes, the only Sophomore on the club, followed with 11.

The Bulldogs, who have only 8 players left on the squad, battle the league leaders this Thursday, February 26 at the Bulldog gymnasium. The following night they host the Jayhawks of Howard County. On Monday, March 2, the Dogs wind their season up with another home game with South Plains.

WALTER L. KNAPP JR. IS CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

The Leader has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Walter L. Knapp, Jr. for State Senator of the 31st District.

Knapp, a resident of Amarillo, has served for four terms in the House of Representatives and is a veteran of eight Legislative sessions. He has practiced law in Amarillo the past eleven years.

In making his announcement he stated that "There are only 31 members of the Texas Senate!—doesn't it seem wise to promote a veteran House Member to the Senate rather than send a novice? Texas government is your public business—How would you handle the replacement of the Key man in your private business?" "I want to serve You and will appreciate your help," he added.

Apologies From Clarendon College

The Student Senate of Clarendon College wishes to extend a most sincere apology to the general public of Clarendon and the surrounding area for the non-appearance of Mr. Hank Thompson. It seems due to circumstances beyond the control of anyone but the Almighty that the Star of the Show was weathered in at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and could not fly into Amarillo to be picked up there for the appearance at the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center on the night of February 23rd.

Town Hall Program March 2 At College

Clarendon College extends a cordial invitation to all businessmen of this area to attend, and to feel free to participate in a question-and-answer session. We are certain that visitors will have questions of interest because of experience in the business fields.

The Texas Manufacturers Association and the Phi Beta Lambda business club of Clarendon College are sponsoring a panel assembly called, "College Town Hall" on March 2, 1970, in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center on CC campus.

The College Town Hall is a forum or panel type program with a panel of four businessmen and a moderator. The content of the program will be determined by the questions presented by the audience on any subject pertaining to business, economics, the private enterprise system, labor-management relations, and government. The program consists of logic and fact. Panel members answer only the questions directed by the audience.

Panel members may include a lawyer, accountant, plant manager, industrial engineer, industrial relations specialist, or a public relations expert. You obtain diversified views of successful executives who take time off from their business throughout the state of Texas to appear on such panels.

Texas Manufacturers Association sponsors College Town Hall programs so that students and local businessmen may have an opportunity to learn first-hand the opinions of businessmen on issues of vital interest and importance.

The program starts at 9:45 a.m., and will be concluded by 12 noon.

Senior Days To Be Held on CC Campus

The Public Relations Office of Clarendon College announced today that three future dates have been set aside for High School Seniors over a 33-county area. They will be invited to Clarendon College campus for a Senior Day.

Invitations will be sent to 85 high schools within this 33-county area and it is anticipated that 750-1000 graduating High School Seniors will visit the beautiful campus of Clarendon College.

We thank God for our sincere friends and for your part in the "Housewarming" given us February 20. We appreciate, with profound memory, all of you. God bless you in our prayer.

Sincerely,
Malcolm and Lillie Glass

1970 Compliance
As in the past years, it will be necessary for farmers to report their wheat, cotton, feed grain and diverted acreages. An incorrect report could mean the loss of program payments. Don't take chances; be correct. Inquire at this office about our measurement services.

CCC Loans
All 1968 and 1969 warehouse stored wheat loans are eligible for a one-year extension. CCC will pay the storage for the extended period.

1967 wheat now under is not eligible for extension. This will require settlement of all 1967 wheat loans.

Alternate Crops
Eight alternate non-surplus crops which may be grown on acreage diverted from production of wheat or feed grain under the 1970 programs were announced recently by the USDA. They are: castor beans, guar, sesame, plantago, mustard seed, cramble, sunflower and safflower. Castor beans have been added to the list for 1970.

Six of the alternate crops can be grown on any acreage diverted from wheat or feed grain production. Two of the crops, safflower and sunflower, may be planted only on additional acreage diversion eligible for payment. When these non-surplus crops are planted on diverted acreage, a per acre reduction will be made. Where safflower or sunflower are planted, this deduction will be 100 percent of the applicable diversion payment rate for the farm. On any of the other six crops, the reduction will be 50 percent.

Producer sign-up in the voluntary programs is scheduled to continue through March 20. The cotton program sign-up is also now underway, but there is no provision for acreage diversion under the cotton program.

Homer entered into a Great Plains Conservation Program contract in 1968 for assistance in developing conservation measures on his 480 acre farm north of Clarendon. During 1969, 21,879 feet of parallel terraces, 21,000 feet of conventional terraces, and two diversion terraces of 6,381 feet were constructed. Currently 35,000 feet more of parallel terraces are scheduled for 1970 along with seeding of rough cropland to weeping lovegrass.

Sound management practices used by Homer include rotation of high and low residue crops and the retention of adequate residues for protection against wind erosion.

Homer received his Bachelor of Arts degree from West Texas State University before returning to his native county to farm. He, his wife, and three children live on his farm south of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Phillips and daughter of Midland visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Helton the latter part of last week.

PREHISTORICAL FOSSIL TORTOISE BEING RESTORED AT WTSU

Restoration of a prehistoric fossil tortoise, estimated at 10 million years old, is being carried out by members of the vertebrate paleontology class at West Texas State University. Dr. Gerald Schultz, professor of geology, said.

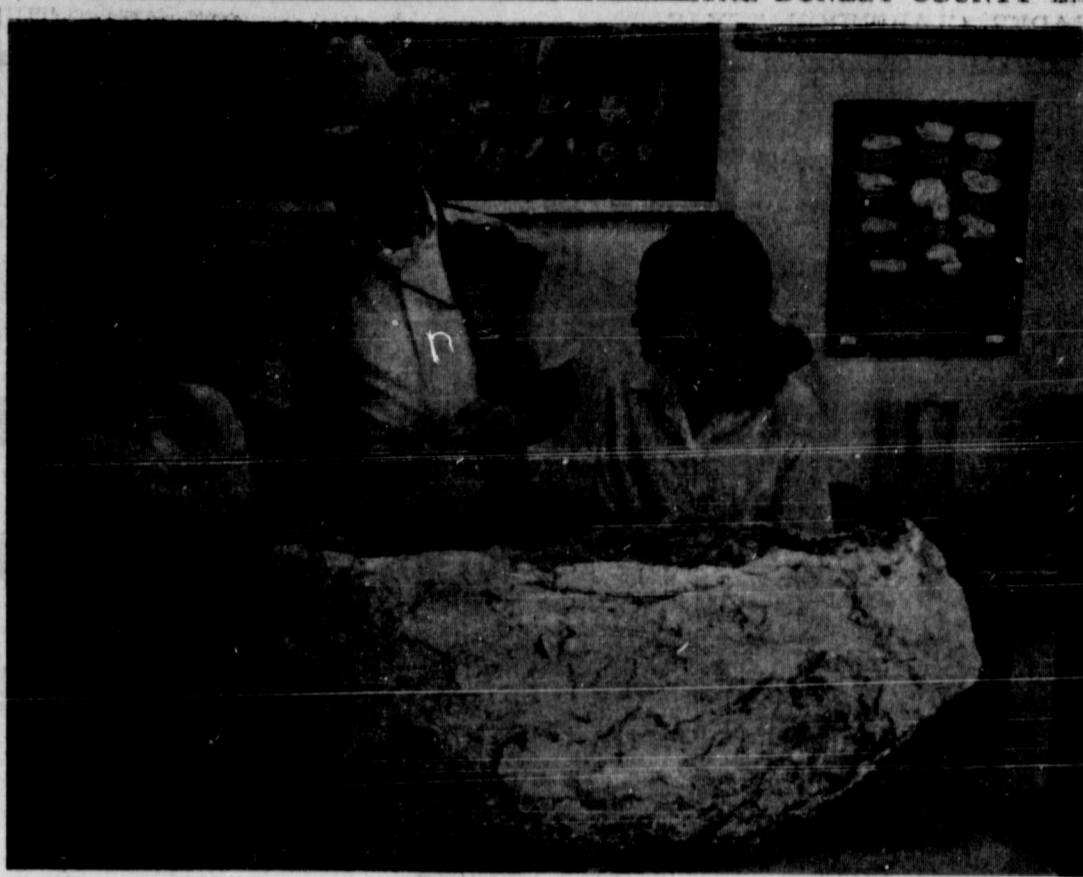

The specimen was found last summer during a geologic prospecting trip at a ranch north of Clarendon in the Panhandle. Byron Nesbitt of Canyon, junior geology major, made the discovery when he spotted a portion of the fossil weathering out of a sandstone formation.

Some fossil fragments at the base of the formation led to the discovery of the skull and lower jaw of a prehistoric otter, about the same age as the tortoise, Schultz said. The otter skull is only the second of its kind to be found in North America, he said.

Members of the field crew returned to the ranch site at the end of the summer and excavated the tortoise. As the shell was unearthed, the otter skull and the remaining half of its lower jaw were uncovered. These fossils, found against the back side of the tortoise shell, were cleaned and restored by Schultz.

After the excavation, shellac was applied to the tortoise shell and a plaster jacket was prepared. However, attempts to transport the fossil to Canyon were unsuccessful when a makeshift stretcher of burlap and wooden tent poles was not strong enough to life the shell in its cast.

The group returned to the site before the Christmas holidays with steel poles for the stretcher and loaded the shell into a truck.

Three geology students at West Texas State University, Shirley Shadix, Byron Nesbitt and Edie Campbell, all of Canyon, begin preliminary restoration work on fossil tortoise discovered this summer. Nesbitt made the find at a site north of Clarendon.

The fossil was brought to the campus and placed in the paleontology laboratory of the science building.

Schultz said discovery of the tortoise in the Panhandle indicates tropical conditions existed during its lifetime in the early Pliocene era. He referred to an experiment in the 1920s where land turtles were taken from the Galapagos Islands off Ecuador and transplanted in the southern United States. The turtles evidenced difficulty in survival because of problems in adjusting to the climate, he said.

"I'm watching calories so I use a cream substitute." But wait, warns Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University. Cream substitutes do not have fewer calories than their authentic counterparts. A current study of cream substitutes showed these new products to have more saturated fat content than cream.

Dear Lord please guide our life today
And keep our thoughts from sin;
That we may better know the way
To joy and peace within.

It seems a shame that just when our country needs to be on its knees in prayer the courts outlawed it.

The whole world is willing to share our smiles but most folks have only a very few friends that will share their tears.

No matter how thin we slice anything it still has two sides—this even goes for an argument.

Duty will make one do things well, but love will make us do those things beautifully.

The husband that puts his foot down around the house is likely to get it stepped on.

A credit card is a good way of putting it off 'til tomorrow that which we shouldn't have spent at all.

It's the things we learn after we know it all that really helps.

If you want every word you say to be believed, then whisper them ever so gently.

Love is said to be the only fire for which there is no insurance policy.

The way of a transgressor is hard but he always has lots of company.

As ornery as most of us are we may be the best person that someone knows.

If everybody was what they ought to be, and all things were like they should be, then there wouldn't be a place in the world for you and me.

Homemakers of the future, throw away that shopping cart and cookbook. They someday may be replaced by dial-a-recipe or televised, quick-teach cooking demonstrations and automated food warehouses.

Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University, says that as products become more highly standardized, there will be less need and desire to buy all food on a personal inspection basis. Phone-a-vision and television may help make purchasing decisions in the home.

NEWS FROM

Congressman Bob Price

18th District, Texas

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price called tonight for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the principal that government should do only what the people cannot do for themselves.

"We are now tapping the harvest of recent years — years in which the Federal government thought in terms of programs rather than people. Individually was stifled. Government promised more than it could deliver. We undertook to reform the world while American cities decayed. We regimented private enterprise," Price told Republicans attending a Lincoln Day dinner. The Congressman read from the 1864 Republican Party platform which Abraham Lincoln helped draft.

"The shape of the future is our paramount concern. Much of today's moral decline and shift — much of the prevailing pre-occupation with physical and material comforts of life — much of today's crass political appeals to the appetites of the citizenry — can be traced to a leadership grown demagogic and materialistic through indifference to the national ideals founded in devoutly held religious faith."

Price noted that in recent decades a growing Government establishment, "has expanded its demands for redistribution of the national wealth — sometimes with dubious results — at home and abroad. The Government has reached a magnitude where it is taking nearly one dollar out of every three earned by Americans."

"There is much for Government to do . . . But Government cannot become a substitute for the human spirit, the individual initiative that built America. That strength of this country remains in the productive capacities, and commitment of its people," Price said.

The Republican Congressman noted that the American people should demand that Government takes some actions, however, and "stop playing political games with public safety."

"It is no secret that vital crime fighting and narcotics control legislation has been scuttled by the Democratic leadership in Congress. The President's objective is to alleviate the climate of fear and frustration that developed during the 1960's."

"It is not a time for faint-hearted political compromise. It is a time for decision and action. Change carries with it political peril. But we cannot afford to avoid change. It is up to us to reassert our self-respect as Americans, to assume mature responsibility, and to grow," Price said.

We want to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Billingsley and children to our community. They moved Saturday to the Roach Ranch.

New Camaro. Feb. 26th.
We've never announced a car at this time before.
But then nobody's ever announced a car like this before.

Super Hugger
If it were an ordinary sportster, we'd have introduced it at the ordinary time.
Instead, we took the time to build a whole new Camaro.
We started with a sleek new shape and a low road-hugging stance.
And added more hood. A faster fastback. Wider doors. And new deeply contoured bucket seats.
The instrument panel wraps around you. With enough dials to make you think you're piloting a 747.
There are four transmissions. And six power plants up to the Turbo-Jet 396 V8 that you can order.

Pick the one that best suits your driving. Then go pick on an open road.
And make it one with plenty of twisting turns. Because Camaro has a remarkable new suspension. And standard front disc brakes for a leech-like grip on the road.
New Camaro. The Super Hugger.
Other sportsters always feared it might come to this.
And they were right. Only their timing was wrong.
Putting you first, keeps us first.
