Jack Bell Dies In Auto Wreck

Car Turns Over on Brice Highway About 2 A. M. Monday Morning

A number of relatives gathered here Sunday at the home of Jack Bell's sister, Mrs. P. B. "Dude" Gentry, Jack was among them. About 1:30, he is said to have begun the trip home to the Bell ranch, accompanied by his brother Walter Bell.

As the young men went down the Brice highway, Walter fell asleep and Jack was driving. Indications show that the car skidded, then was turned into the bank and turned over near the W. E. Davis ranch gate. Jack was pinned beneath the car and evidently met instant death from head injuries. Walter suffered painful though not serious injuries.

The first parties to come along the highway were members of the H. T. Warner crew of tank builders, Lucian Bones, W. F. Wardlow and others, shortly after daybreak.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis were notified at their ranch home a short distance away. Mrs. Davis called Buntin's mortuary and then she and Mr. Davis went to the scene of the wreck. Walter Bell knew nothing of the wreck since he was asleep when it happened, and regained consciousness after daybreak.

Mrs. Davis brought Walter Bell to town for medical aid. Mr. Davis and the other men, stand with the body of Jack Bell until the ambulance arrived.

The wrecked car was brought to town by Elmer Palmer of the Palmer motor company.

Jack is survived by his father, Mitch E. Bell, a sister and four brothers. The sister is Mrs. P. B. Gentry. The brothers are Walter, Charley, Richard and Houston.

At the time of his death Jack was 22 years of age, having spent the major portion of his life on the Bell ranch, and some few years here in Clarendon where he was born.

Funeral services were conducted late Monday at the home of his sister, Mrs. P. B. Gentry in Clarendon. Rev. F. A. Foster, pastor of the Episcopal church in Amarillo officiated.

Attending the casket were former classmates, except the last named. They are Mike Stricklin, Marty Kelly, Fred Bourland, Bill Montgomery, Ray Palmer and Horace McCreath of Leslie.

MERCHANT PRINCE OF TELL WAS HERE TUESDAY

Some years ago a farmer in the Goldston community, Howard Rhodes became a partner with Ben Hill in conducting a grocery at Goldston, and later at Tell. After a time, Rhodes became owner of the Tell store through purchase of Hill's interest. Since that time, he has built up a wonderful business. Located in a two story brick in which his family occupies a portion, the entire building is air conditioned. He says crops have a good prospect down there, and that with a fair share of moisture, his section will have a bumper crop.

Prof. Silvey has added a room to his residence, and A. W. McLean is building some.

It is reported that Al Holland, sheriff of Carson county, was drunk and did some promiscuous shooting on the train near Claude Tuesday night.

Mystery Veils Boston Death Of Canyon Teacher

Scientist Was Well Known Over Entire Southwest

C. Stuart Johnston, instructor in geology, paleontology and archaeology in West Texas State College of Canyon, was found in a comatose condition in a cheap boarding house in Boston, Massachusetts early Monday by Edward M. Maisel, Harvard student. Johnston was taken to a hospital where he expired within a short time without regaining consciousness.

On the basis that no signs of external violence were discovered, a verdict of death from natural causes was given, but a full report was withheld, and an autopsy was performed.

Johnston was found by Edward M. Maisel, Harvard student, who said he knew Johnston very well. Maisel sent him to a hospital, where he died.

Police search of the room in which Johnston was found indicated he apparently was without funds. A necktie clasp and an inexpensive watch were the only articles of value found in the quarters which he had occupied since July 13th.

No reason for his presence there could be assigned by Johnston's wife, police said. At Norman, Prof. J. W. Stovall of the University of Oklahoma, where Johnston had been studying for a Ph. D. degree, said he left there under peculiar circumstances July 8. Stovall said the instructor left Norman with another man in a car.

"He took no clothes and apparently had only about $1.50," the professor related. "He was in good health when he left and apparently in good spirits."

Johnston was considered one of the outstanding archeologists in the Southwest. He had been at West Texas State since 1934.

Dr. Johnston was well known here having directed crews in securing fossil material for the Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon. Many of those who worked under his instruction came to the Leader office Monday and Tuesday sadly inquiring for further information as to the cause of his death.

The body of Dr. Johnston is being brought back to Canyon to be buried in Dreamland cemetery near the work he loved so well, and the institution he honored and helped build with his high degree of skill. The exact date has not been determined for the funeral today.

STATE DEPARTMENT PLANS HIGHWAY WORK HERE

At the meeting of the Highway 18 boosters in Turkey last week, Jim Douglas of Amarillo, district highway engineer who accompanied the Pampa group from Clarendon to Turkey, told the members that the 1941 state program carried provisions for five miles of road from Clarendon south, which would make 10 miles completed. Turkey members also revealed that provision will also be made for five miles of road north of Turkey which will leave only 25 miles of unimproved road between Clarendon and Turkey.

At the same meeting, it was revealed by district engineer Douglas that the 1941 program called for an underpass at Clarendon. Should such an underpass be prepared, local enthusiasts believe that it would mean a completion of Highway 18 from the Sawyer corner to town.

4-H Club Calves Net Nice Profit

County Agent, H. M. Breedlove announced this week that final report for the 4-H Club Beef Calf Demonstrations, ending with the Amarillo Fat Stock Show in March were now ready to be submitted to the A&M College Extension Service in Texas, twenty-one boys feeding a total of thirty calves for the 1939 Amarillo Fat Stock Show. The net profits on the thirty calves, which included premium money at the Donley County Fat Stock Show and the Amarillo Fat Stock Show and also actual profits from sales of the calves at auction was $1874.13, which gives an average of $624.7 net profit per calf, fed and shown by the 4-H Club boys. The total premium money won by boys feeding beef calves at both the Donley County Fat Stock Show and the Amarillo Fat Stock Show was a total of $203.00, leaving a profit of $1671.13 as actual profit from feeding the calves exclusive of premium money won by the boys at the shows. Johnnie Leathers, 4-H Club boy, also fed a champion of the Junior division, which was calves under 800 pounds at Amarillo, and this calf was also judged as the best Panhandle calf at the show, for which Johnnie received a beautiful Hamilton wrist watch.

Breedlove states that calves on feed at the present time seem to be doing as good, if not better, than the calves of last year, and he expects to have some of the best calves at the show next year that the 4-H Club boys have ever had.

Palmer Praises Boys Ranch As Going Affair

Clarendon Folks Eat With Boys At Tascosa Sunday

"That is a swell affair Cal Farley and other Amarillo men are putting over at Boys Ranch at old Tascosa," was the statement of Doss Palmer after spending Sunday there.

With Mr. Palmer were Mrs. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. John McMahan and Ernest Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thompson here.

They saw the boys enjoy swims and other sports. They ate dinner in the old courthouse, the home of the boys. They saw discipline that was kind but firm. The boys do not play all the time. Fences are being built. The lads even wash dishes and help about the "home" at certain hours.

Looking over the general quarters, our visitors saw toothbrushes on the wall above cards bearing the names of the owners. Beds were ready on the sleeping porch and inside the upstairs of the building.

It is the plan of sponsors of the Boys Ranch to make it an ideal stock farm in the near future. Lots of people visit there through the week and more on Sunday. It is a place where enthusiasm is in the air. There is something doing all the time, and all the time safeguards protect the occupants from danger.

While in bathing, boys are paired in twos. Every time the man in charge blows a whistle, each boy must see that his "partner" is safe. That prevents accidents in the pool, Mr. Palmer stated.

The meal was wholesome and a delight to eat with hungry boys. Mr. Palmer provided a treat for them and came away feeling that Boys Ranch is a most worthy institution.

EDITORS ARE DRINKERS, LIARS AND CUSSERS

After having given his readers the pedigree of editors, an exchange allows as how an editor may not cuss, but will lie like the devil when he says nobody cusses in his shop. Then he goes on farther and prints the following 40-year-old story to prove a part of his allegations:
'A friend sent an editor a few bottles of hooch down in Hopetown, Mo. The same day he received for publication a wedding notice, also a public sale advertisement with the following result: Mr. William Anderson and Miss Smith were disposed of at public auction at my barn one mile east of a cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about seventy guests, including two milk cows, 6 mules and one hob-sled. Rev. Jackson tied the knot with two hundred feet of hay rope and the bridal party left on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one good baby buggy and a few utensils after ten months from date of sale, to responsible persons and some fifty chickens or more.'

Taxes

Taxes are impoverishing the people of America.
Taxes are impairing the people's purchasing power.
Taxes are closing shops and factories and putting people out of work.
Taxes are increasing prices and lowering the American standard of living.
Taxes taken from the industrious and thrifty are wasted on the lax and lazy.
Taxes are plundering useful industry.
Taxes are robbing productive labor.
Taxes are subsidizing non-productive politicians.
Taxes are supporting politicians' entire families.
Taxes are supporting politicians' obedient henchmen.
Taxes are building a dangerous parasitic bureaucracy.
Taxes are creating despotism.
Taxes are promoting militarism.
Taxes are projecting America into foreign wars.

Taxes are financing foreign conflicts.
Taxes are involving America in alien political, social and racial disputes.
Taxes are destroying faith in the practicability of self-government.
Taxes are weakening faith in the elemental wisdom of the people.
Taxes are on everything you eat.
Taxes are on everything you wear.
Taxes are on everything you use.
Taxes are on everything you see.
Taxes are destroying prosperity.
Taxes are destroying liberty.
Taxes are destroying opportunity.
Taxes are destroying the land you live in.
Taxes are destroying the things you live by and the people you live with.
Taxes! Taxes! What are you going to do about them?
Taxes! Taxes! Taxes! Are you going to be a shorn sheep and endure them, or an independent American and end them?
Undesirable taxes - Unendurable taxes - Unnecessary taxes - Unjust taxes - Unamerican taxes, are bearing us down - Breaking us down.
Your forefathers knew what to do about such taxes. Why do YOU not know what to do?
Taxes once wrote a great declaration of independence which set men free.

Taxes today should write another if we are of the same mettle as our fathers.—San Antonio Light.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

COVERED WAGON GROUP.

There is a movement on foot to enlist into an organization boys and girls of any age in the Panhandle. The only requirement is that you must have, at some time, moved with the family in a covered wagon. That calls to mind many a trial. Many of those who read this will recall the pungent odor of the chuck box that aroused appetites such as nothing else could. Onions, bacon, coffee and such always carried an entrancing aroma. There was not always to be found the fortunate combination of wood, water and grass at a camping place. Wood and water went together fairly well, but grass was generally scarce near waterings because stock would drink, then graze or tramp out all vegetation except bear grass and gyp weeds. Many watered teams, threw in wood or cow chips and made a "dry camp" after filling the water kegs fastened to the side of the wagon at the pond where the teams were watered. Children were cautioned about rattlesnakes as the wagons came to a stop. A hole was dug to make a campfire draft. Dutch ovens came to light and the lid of the chuck box at the back end of the wagon was let down, the hinged 2x2 making a brace leg to the ground. Some used two such sticks to make sure no accident to food would cause any discomfort. Summer camping was great! Winter called for a wagon-sheet. This device was arranged along side the wagon for a wind-break. All the while cooking was in progress, the men folks—and often women helped—hobbled or staked out the teams. A gray mare with a bell on her neck was the champion herder of all creatures. Most all animals simply like to follow a gray mare and the tinkling bell. Many 'movers' simply staked the old gray mare. The other stock stayed right near, filled up and laid down to rest. Many times hobbled animals hopped all night going nowhere, but coming away from some place. They were tired next morning when tracked down and returned to camp. Sometime, for days and even weeks, teams were searched for when they ran away from the campers. Women and little folks staid at the lonesome camp while one or more men hunted the team. Often the team was stolen. In isolated places the husband and father was killed by thieves when he began a search for his team. Such an experience came to the Dawson family near Tascosa in the winter of 1881. Cowboys found the family almost frozen and half starved, but managed to pull the wagon by their saddle-horns to Tascosa. The brighter side of wagon moving came with the changing scenery, the game and fishing. It was great sport, few cares and no sorrows. The family was anxiously looking for a new home—or perhaps going a long distance to see relatives or friends. That was a day in which friendship covered great spans of distance. It was the day and age when, as some expressed it, a friend would "stay with you until hell froze over, then skate on the ice!" When the 'movers' happened to find a clear body of water, the wash-tubs and washboards were brought into play. At such times a camp was 'made' for two or more days. There was a general cleanup. Few families endured unclean conditions for long. A box fastened to the side of the wagon, or right under the driver's feet on the front end of the wagon "box" was the receptacle for carrying "cow chips" for fuel. The front and back bows extended out prairie schooner fashion at each end of the bed. Over the bows was a wagon sheet that meant shade and shelter from the weather. Often a stove was placed in the wagon for heat in winter, with the stovepipe sticking out the back end of the wagon. Wagon tires came off at times, or possibly double trees or other articles would break. Every man was a mechanic. Conditions forced him to it. The true westerner was jack of all trades. A wobbly wagon wheel could be braced by weaving heavy green poles in and out through the spokes. The pioneer man was a 'weaver' when necessary. No matter what happened, the man or woman could and did, fix it and continue on. The resourcefulness of the individual was never excelled by the resourcefulness of the section he sought in which to make a home. Fearless women—mothers with babes—staid at home for months while the husband and father sought employment to replenish the family food and clothing supply. A shotgun and a dog were the breastworks guarding the fatherless camp. A woman with a shotgun was the most dangerous "army" in the land when she went into action in defense of her rights. Otherwise, she was the most considerate, kind and affectionate woman that God ever made. The same man who would "charge hell with a bucket of water," was a kind husband and father, loyal to his family and friends, but he knew his rights and sternly demanded that such rights be respected should occasion demand. Yes, lets have a "Covered Wagon" organization.

SALVATION ARMY DIRECTOR IN CLARENDON TODAY

R. L. Portwood, campaign director for the Dallas division of the Salvation Army is here to meet the business men and various individuals to acquaint them with the late plans of the Army.

Mr. Portwood explains that the Salvation Army has only one drive annually now instead of the spasmodic type of solicitation for funds as in former years. All the funds contributed in this district will be kept in this district to further the work of the well known organization. The methods are being explained ahead of the campaign for funds later, the Salvation Army always being dependent upon free will offerings, and yet, few if any organizations accomplish the good that the Salvation Army does aside from the churches.

Miss Ruby Lee Landers of Amarillo visited homefolks Sunday.

F. F. A. CHAPTER BUYS REGISTERED BOAR

The local F. F. A. chapters bought a registered Poland China boar from the famous Tierra Blanca Hog farms of Canyon, Monday, July 24. The boar is a descendent of Showboy, a world champion Poland boar, and a world champion Messenger sow. The boar will be ready for service in October and will be used by F.F.A. members and Donley County farmers to build up the blood of Donley county hogs. Tierra Blanca Hog Farms have won more premiums in Texas for the past several years than any other hog farm in the state.

Carl Morris bought a 350 pound registered gilt bred for fall pigs. Carl has some of the best Polands in the county, but is attempting to build up his stock. He is feeding a litter of nine pigs at this time that he plans to exhibit at the local, Tri-State and State Fairs this fall.

Big Variety Of Building Stone Found In Texas

Choicest Marbles With Variety Of Granites Sadly Neglected

AUSTIN.—To the neglect of its own "back yard" supply—largest in the nation—Texas imports 90 per cent of its granite and all of its marble. G. A. Parkinson, University of Texas assistant testing engineer, disclosed here today.

For 25 years attached to the University's Bureau of Engineering Research, as Texas building materials expert, Mr. Parkinson exhibits within the testing laboratory a collection of 300 different types of granite, marble, limestone and sandstone in rough blocks and polished slabs. The stone was collected over the state during a seven-year joint project with the University's Bureau of Economic Geology.

"Of these 300 samples, 100 can be quarried on a profitable basis," he explained. "But they aren't. With an inexhaustible supply of this building stone inside our own frontiers, Texas is actually Newcastle buying coal."

He said some work was being done with Texas stone in production of Terrazzo chips, multi-colored marble chipped for ornamental flooring.

The most accessible fields for both granite and marble lie in the 100-mile-square plateau belt west of Austin, he said. Termed the Central Mineral Region, the section includes Llano, Burnett, Gillespie, Mason, San Saba and Blanco counties.

As an example of the section's unexploited resources, Mr. Parkinson cited the "enchanted rock" formation—one solid block of granite 700 feet high and two miles wide at its base.

To probe and test the state's building stone supply, the two University bureaus launched in 1932 their collection. Freeze and absorption tests designed to predict the lifespan of the stone are carried on inside the huge laboratory daily.

The completed display counts approximately 1,000 different stone designs—"depending on the direction of the cut"—ranging all the way from blood red and jet black marble to granites tinted with green, silver and blue.

Inaccessible Hell's Canyon, Deepest In United States, to Be Park Soon?

LA GRANDE, Ore.—A few miles northeast of here, on the Oregon-Idaho border, is the deepest chasm on the North American Continent—the little-known Hell's Canyon of the Snake River. Attention was recently called to it when Senator Charles L. McNary asked the National Park Service to survey the canyon as a prospective national park. The survey is expected to be completed in August.

Due to its inaccessibility Hell's Canyon has received little publicity. The Grand Canyon of the Colorado has, for nearly a century, been acclaimed the deepest gash on the continent. Actually, the wild Hell's Canyon stretch of water, that races thru a chasm between the Wallowa Mountains of Oregon and the Seven Devil Mountains of Idaho, is a third of a mile deeper, at its deepest point, than is the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

On the western side of this gash in solid rock the Wallows raise their snow-capped peaks 10,000 feet, while the Seven Devils reach heights of almost similar altitudes on the eastern shore. Between these rows of towering peaks, often called "the Switzerland of America," the Snake River roars through solid rock for more than 40 miles at an average depth of 6,000 feet below the peaks that guard the Canyon.

Unlike the Grand Canyon, Hell's Canyon is box type, extremely narrow throughout its length, although it spreads out at one point to a width of 10 miles. There is little color connected with it, other than profuse greenery on its slopes.

It has been more than 100 years since the first white man looked into yawning Hell's Canyon. The expeditionary party of Lewis and Clark are believed to be the first to have encountered this barrier and it proved to be the obstacle that caused the party to turn back and find a route around. Capt. William Clark wrote that they encountered "miles of white water and snow-covered mountains." He referred to "this formidable barrier." Although no mention is made by either Clark or Lewis, his exploring partner, of boats capsizing, it is believed that this happened or nearly happened, for a prospector recently found a branding iron in the canyon which bore the inscription "U. S. Capt. M. Lewis."

Following Lewis and Clark, Wilson P. Hunt, in 1811; Ramsey Crooks, the same year; and Capt. Benjamin L. E. Bonneville, in 1831, for whom Bonneville Dam was named, attempted to traverse the canyon and all failed. None of these expeditions ever more than half penetrated the rocky fastnesses. Amos Burg, youthful Oregon explorer, was the first person to navigate the entire length.

There are no roads for automobile transportation either on the rim of or in the canyon. One old wagon road exists on the Idaho side on which a car can be driven. One trip on this road suffices, those who have tried report, for the curves are so sharp that it often is necessary to back up and jockey the car around to make the turn. This with 2,000 feet of sheer canyon walls on the right side. Trails are almost negligible and ascent and descent must be made by hard mountain climbing.

Less than 200 persons live in the territory traversed by the canyon, these being mining prospectors and a few cattle raisers. The entire territory drained by the Snake is larger in area than New York State but the total population of the area drained is less than that of Milwaukee, Wis. This again is due to the territory's wild and inaccessible terrain.

F. F. A. REPRESENTED AT STATE CONVENTION

Joe Williams, Ray Bulls, Carl Morris, and Adviser J. R. Gillham represented the local chapter at the state F.F.A. Convention held in Temple, July 20, 21, and 22nd. Williams, Bulls, and Morris played in the Area I and State F.F.A. bands while attending the convention.

The group prepared the exhibit for Area I at the convention, and the local chapter received many compliments for its work the past year. The exhibit stressed the project program developed here during the past year, and the ribbons and trophies won during 1938-39 were also placed on exhibit. The chapter scrapbook, the newswriting scrapbook, and pictures of the 1938 summer tour were also exhibited.

Morris, Johnnie Leathers, Pete Morrow, and Ray Isham were four of the 139 of the 23,000 members of the Texas F.F.A. who were awarded gold Lone Star Farmer Keys at the annual Lone Star Gold Key Banquet, July 20th. Morris was the only one of the group present to receive his key. Clarendon was one of the fourteen chapters to be given a Lone Star Chapter Rating.

Adviser J. R. Gillham, served as chairman of the Swine Improvement Program Committee, which worked out the rules to be followed in determining the winner in the state swine production contest.

TEXAS LEADER AMONG BEST FUR PRODUCING SECTIONS

AUSTIN, July 26.—While Texas is not generally regarded by Texans as a leader in trapping, the state ranked sixth in the Nation, a report for the 1938 fiscal year by the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey reveals. Texas was not only sixth with a total of 590,400 animals taken for their pelts, but leads the entire United States in five species, badgers, ring-tail cats, wolves, Canada Lynx and foxes. Ohio and Louisiana are tied for the lead in fur production.

Fifteen species of pelts are taken in Texas. A report for the 1939 fiscal year made by J. G. Burr, statistician for the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, shows an increase, the take being 729,344. However, trapping is declining almost annually in the state, the present output marking a decrease of 48 per cent over the 1933 crop, which was 1,407,884 pelts. The Biological Survey report reveals that 397,300 opossums, 75,900 skunks, 28,900 gray foxes, 2,500 badgers, 14,400 ringtail cats, 5,100 wolves, 1,000 Canada Lynx and 29,400 foxes were taken during the 1938 fiscal year.

Something to Advertise

How Is Your Subscription?

As a primary adjunct to advertising, circulation must be maintained. Circulation means subscriptions, hence the question: "How's your subscription?" After the names of subscribers of The Donley County Leader, will be found certain figures such as 4-20-39, which means that particular subscription is paid up to the 4th month (April), 20th day of 1939. Look right now at the expiration date following your name on the upper left hand corner of the front page of this paper and see how your subscription stands. If it is past due, we would appreciate renewal at the earliest convenience. Thank you.

While its range is of necessity somewhat limited, there is never any difficulty in finding something to advertise about The Donley County Leader. Actually four main groups cover the range of this business. But under each of these are numerous subdivisions. For instance, display advertising embraces virtually every item used by mankind—multitudes of things. Likewise, the Wantad Column serves as a clearing house for hundreds of items. Then, subscriptions could be expanded into an interesting message. Job printing, with its almost unlimited possibilities and wide usage, merits detailed treatment to tell of all its many features. For this occasion, however, attention is called to the following departmental titles.

- DISPLAY ADVERTISING
- WANTAD COLUMN
- SUBSCRIPTIONS
- JOB PRINTING

The reader is invited to supply his or her own interpretation and elaboration to accompany these departmental headings. Just a little thought will develop an amazing volume of information and sales talk on any one of them.

Colbert And Ameche Co-Star In Comedy "Midnight", Sat. Prevue

Claudette Colbert, as an American fortune hunter stalking her prey in international society, Don Ameche, as a taxi-driver who unexpectedly changes her grandiose plans, and Francis Lederer, as a handsome and gold-dripping Paris playboy—these are the romantic leads in "Midnight," Paramount's gay new comedy, which will be on view at the Pastime Theatre at the Saturday night Prevue.
Miss Colbert, who is the screen's chief expert in the field of sophisticated and brittle comedy, has a role tailored especially for her measurements. She plays "Eve Peabody," a shaken home. His wife, Mary Astor, is engaged in a flirtation with a handsome playboy, Lederer. If Miss Colbert will make a play for Lederer Barrymore will foot the bills. The arrangement promises to work out well for both sides, for Miss Colbert stands to win the sort of husband she wants, while Barrymore hopes to get back his wife's affections.

But the greater Miss Colbert's success the more she wonders why she ran away from the cab driver, Ameche, who made such a dent in her heart. Although her daring and cleverness enable her to outwit the "doubting Thomases" who challenge her "title" and her motives, she realizes she has been too successful when Lederer proposes to her. It's now up to Ameche, who arrives as the "countess's" "count" at a Versailles house party to straighten things out in an uproarious climax.
Barrymore, who shows his versatility by dividing his time between comedy, character and dramatic roles, plays the first-named in "Midnight," as the shrewd man-of-the-world, "cherchez la femme," to solve his own marital difficulties. In his new picture, he introduces to filmgoers his bride, the vivacious Elaine Barrie.

METHODIST CIRCUIT NOTES J. G. Walker, P. C. Good day Sunday at Lelia Lake. The young people had charge of the worship program for the Sunday school. Their teacher, Miss Daisy White, led the program, and did most excellently. The Lelia Lake Sunday school offers a fine opportunity for those willing to work, and many are taking advantage of the opportunity. Of course it is small in number, but the quality makes up for the small number. Rom. 1-27; "God has chosen the weak things of the world to confound the mighty." We use this scripture here illustrating our weakness in numbers and not otherwise. Had a good service at Naylor in the evening.
Get ready for the revival campaign! It is now on us. In my estimation, it is the most important work of the entire conference year. The next six or seven weeks will tell the whole story of our work this year. It is the harvesting time for the church. Will we reap a great harvest? It depends on our efforts. We beg for a united effort of all in the Clarendon circuit, one body composed of six (churches) members. Let's all be interested in the work as a whole, as well as our own individual church.
The eyes of all who know us are watching us this year, and we believe all are anxious to see us succeed. Make arrangements to be with us in the first revival, and visit each revival, and do your best to make each a success.
If we build up each individual church, it adds strength as a whole. We want to make the best report that the work has ever had. Not for our own glory, but for the glory of God.
The next six or seven weeks will be a great strain on the pastor, but we feel that we have the physical strength to go through. And if we have the spiritual strength to succeed, we shall be happy. People of all faiths are cordially invited to cooperate with us.

GARDEN GLANCES "America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners." There are so many unusually beautiful lawns to be seen in Clarendon, regardless of difficulties, that ones heart swells with civic pride when they are viewed.
The outstanding blooming shrub of the week is the crepe myrtle. They are gorgeous in dozens of yards, but some of the largest of these graceful shrubs are at the Crockett Taylor's. Tom Connolly's and Bert Smith's. When you see them you will feel that a part of south Texas has been transplanted in the Panhandle. Perhaps you had better let your glance linger for a while at the Bert Smith lawn, for it is developing into a show place of real beauty.
Among the perennials the phlox are leading in grace and beauty. They are graciously beckoning in the Bell's, H. Brumley's, Mrs. A. H. Baker's and other lawns too numerous to list. Their colors are shades of orchid, red and white.
It is restful, fascinating, and worth your time to drive by several continuous blocks of attractive lawns. For instance, Allen Bryan's, Breedlove's, Powell's, Boston's, Knorpp's, and others on that street. Then in another part of the town there is a block where McCraw's, Smith's, Herd's and Rhode's have neat lawns. Dawkins and Pud Bain have attractive adjoining lawns. The Jays, Hys, and FLEM Caraways are interested in their lawns.
There are some colorful flower beds and a porch box at the Dave Johnson's and the Latson apartments close by are planning an attractive place.

Some of our plants are doing extra service this year. Mrs. A. T. Cole's catalpa tree has bloomed twice, and a few of the locust have too. The mock orange has an unusual number of blossoms again. Some of the flowering peach shrubs that were always cultivated for their lovely blossoms are producing peaches. We shall have to secure a garden manual and see why all these exceptional happenings have occurred in Clarendon lawns.
Mrs. O. H. Johnson of Los Angeles, Calif. is visiting friends in Clarendon this week.

WHALE OF A CATCH APIA, British Samoa—Whales killed in the Antarctic in the 1937-38 season totaled 44,000, according to the Malayan Agricultural Journal. This was an increase of 10,000 over the previous season.

Milling Sanatorium MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS AN INSTITUTION WITH A NATIONAL REPUTATION FOR THE TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES
Our little girl seven years old was taken with what the doctors called Saint Vitas Dance. We tried a number of doctors without receiving any noticeable help. Our little girl was growing worse every day and our hearts ached to see her in such a pitiful condition. She could not speak, walk or even hold her head up; she was entirely helpless. A friend advised us to go to Dr. Milling of Mineral Wells, Texas. We did so and at the end of three weeks our little girl was able to walk and talk as she had before taking sick. At the end of five weeks we came away with our child entirely cured. We take pleasure in recommending Dr. Milling in any case of this kind, for we positively know what he did for our child. We can not say too much for him. We would advise any one who is sick to go there and be cured. We will answer any personal letter written us. MR. AND MRS. LEON NALL, Folie, Texas, Motley County

Mexico Ties Link In West Highway

Mexico realizes the economic and social importance of a West Coast Highway and is pushing construction of the Nogales-Mexico City link of the International Pacific Highway, which is to stretch from Alaska to Argentina.

This is the report of Luis Montes De Oca, Director-General of the Bank of Mexico and former Minister of Finance and National President of the Association Mexicana Automovilistica, to the Automobile Club of Southern California, in a recent visit. He reported that the 413-mile section between Mexico City and Guadalajara is already paved, the road through the once impassable barrancas has been realigned and the grades reduced from 29 per cent to 9 per cent, he added, saying that daily stages are traveling over the graded road between Guadalajara and Tepic.

New WPA Law Fully Explained

Information Is Based On Bulletin Received From San Antonio Office Recently

The last Congress passed a law which affects Works Progress Project workers in the entire United States, which has been discussed at length by the press, and personally and otherwise, throughout the nation. Naturally there has been quite a bit of misunderstanding, or rather lack of knowledge of the exact facts of this new law, until at this time. A great deal of apprehension has also been felt among all the workers as this law has to do with the removal of thousands of workers in the Nation from WPA work, for a minimum of at least 30 days, effective not later than August 31, 1939.

In discussing the features of this new ruling with J. A. Warren, Supervisor of the Indexing Project at the Courthouse, he is of the opinion, and showed us the information bulletin released from the San Antonio office of the Works Projects Administration, bearing out his version of the matter, that this new ruling will affect a very few workers in this county for the reason that all Projects, so far as he is able to ascertain operating in this county, have within the last 18 months been suspended for various reasons, with the possible exception of one Project. This law as it applies to workers is as follows:

"There shall be removed from employment of Works Projects Administration Projects, all relief workers, excepting veterans, who have been continuously employed on such Projects for more than 18 months."

"Eighteen months continuous employment is defined as employment on Projects for 18 months or more without missing one, complete pay roll (two weeks) period."

Therefore, it is seen that all workers who have been certified for work less than 18 months, and all persons certified who have been employed on these Projects for any length of time, and who within the last 18 months have been suspended from work for one entire pay roll period, then and in that event, such workers time will date from his first employment date immediately following such suspension.

This information is being printed for the benefit of those interested, and who may not be in possession of the facts, with the hope that it will be of some value to all in being able to figure their status under this new law.

Fire Rate Cut Is Turned Down

Legislative Committee Refuses Request of Fire Association

A committee appointed by the House of Representatives last session to investigate fire insurance rates in Texas, in Austin Tuesday voted 5 to 3 to turn down a request of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshalls' Association request for a ten percent reduction.

Rep. De Witt Kinard of Port Arthur made the motion which was opposed by Committee Chairman Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg and Rep. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene on grounds there had been no objection to the rate slash, even from insurance companies.

The State Firemen's and Fire Marshalls' Association is an organization that is sixty-three years old, composed of fire departments and Fire Marshalls of the State, about 90 percent of whom are strictly volunteers. They have nothing to sell, no one to promote for public office nor are they asking for any "Donations." They are strictly a non-profit, civic organization which, seeing that no one ever represented the fire insurance rate payer before the State Fire Insurance Commission and realizing the great inequalities that exist in fire insurance rates as are being charged in Texas, determined to do before the Commission and request reductions in those rates. Not one cent of money is asked of the public—the Association has its own funds.

The Association in March, 1939, requested that the Fire Insurance Commission place upon the agenda for the April 17th meeting several requests made by the Association for adjustments and corrections in the basic schedule and the Key rate. This was granted and for the first time the insurance paying public was represented at a statewide hearing of the Fire Insurance Commission.

It was shown to the Commission by the Association that according to the Commission's own report covering the five year experience upon which the Commission is supposed to set rates that the Insurance Companies had made a NET PROFIT of 18.3 per cent, while the rules of the Insurance Commission only permit a maximum underwriting profit of five per cent (5%).

The report of the Fire Insurance Commission shows that in classification 23, which is "Dwelling," that the companies made a NET PROFIT of TWENTY-THREE (23%) per cent. Classification 46, Mercantile buildings, made a NET UNDERWRITING PROFIT of nineteen and seven-tenths percent (19.7%). Classification 47, Mercantile stocks, made a NET UNDERWRITING PROFIT of sixteen and three-tenths per cent.

NO EASY JOB

It ain't, I think, an easy job To smile when things go wrong, But then, it ain't the easy job That makes a body strong. It's kinda like a dream that's gone But might come back again, If we can but hold ourselves Against the hopeless pain. Things have a way of turning out From wrongs into the right. If we can smile and grit our teeth And try with all our might.
