Christmas Suits For Boys Ranch Home

The annual goal to provide each of the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package through the Christmas Suit Fund is now underway.

Providing new suits for the boys has become a favorite way of Christmas giving for many of their friends who contribute $25.00 for a suit. Amarillo merchants permit the boys to select suits or clothing combinations according to their preferences at a special discount. Ages of all the boys are from four to 18, and the difference in the prices of the clothing for the younger and older boys will make the average cost approximately $25.00. In many cases, they are the first new suits the boys have ever owned, and for others the suits replace those that have become worn or outgrown.

"All during the week the boys wear their work or school clothes, and they look forward to Sunday because they get to dress up for that one day or for their Saturday town trips," Virgil Patterson, Ranch president said.

"These will also be suits worn by graduating seniors next spring and those who get to return to their hometowns for Christmas will also be all dressed up. Even more important, the suits are year-round reminders to the boys that there are those who really care."

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch office, P. O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas or taken to the office at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo.

However, the 116 hunters confessed firing 664 times to down the 179 birds they took home, no doubt hoping their wives wouldn't ask how many they saw or shot at.

The prairie chickens were plentiful. Shotgunners saw an estimated 2,060 birds during the 326 hours they spent in the field.

Other county offices coming up for the primaries in '72 are County Attorney and County Commissioners of Precincts No. 1 and 3.

ROUGH WEATHER

"Rough Weather" is the main topic for residents of the area this week as farmers need to get in the big middle of harvest operations and others are making preparations for the holiday season.

The snow and rain that started falling last Wednesday netted .85 inch of moisture and an approximate 8 inches of snow. This brings the yearly total to 22.47 which is above the yearly average.

The sun broke out the first of the week and thawing was coming along real good until another system moved in Tuesday night and local residents found a coating of ice when they emerged Wednesday morning. More snow was in the forecast Wednesday night and Thursday with much colder temperatures.

Wheat farmers like the moisture real well but those with hundreds of bales of cotton in the field have a different attitude. They certainly don't look forward to a "White . . ." from now til Christmas."

XMAS LIGHTS GO UP ON MAIN THIS WEEK

Through the cooperation of the City employees and the West Texas Utilities Company employees, the lights were strung up in downtown Clarendon to help bring forth the Christmas spirit as the holiday season swiftly approaches.

Local stores were dressed up for the season the past two weeks and trees and lighting are beginning to appear more numerous in the residential area.

Those taking in the task of putting up the strings of lights are to be complimented on their efforts as the lighting gives our little town a more friendly glow.

A new 10 foot star was constructed by the City and erected on the water tower this week. Some of the lights were broken in the raising of the star but it was much too icy to try to replace them Wednesday morning, was the report from City Administrator W. B. Knorpp.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher's bribery trial site switched abruptly from Austin to Abilene, with February or March now the expected date.

With both the defense and state filing rival motions for change of venue, Austin District Judge Tom Blackwell concluded extensive publicity in the capital City area made a transfer of the case advisable.

He sent it to the 10th district court of Judge J. Neil Daniel in Taylor County, along with indictments of co-defendants Rep. Thomas C. Shannon of Fort Worth and S. Rush McGinty of Austin, a Mutscher aide.

Defense attorneys had contended widespread news coverage made a fair trial of the speaker in the Central Texas area impossible. The indictment grew out of Mutscher's and co-defendant's 1969 profits on Natinal Bankers Life Insurance Company stock. State alleges he received the stock tips and loans for purchases in exchange for helping pass bank deposit insurance legislation favored by Houston banker Frank Sharp.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith turned the defense argument around. He said Mutscher has so much power in Austin, where many citizens work for the state, that finding a jury free to give the state's case open consideration there may be difficult.

Blackwell didn't buy either argument entirely, but conceded Austin newspapers, radio and television stations had covered the case rather enthusiastically since last January. Further, he stated the coverage blanketed counties surrounding the capital city.

Mutscher said he was satisfied with Abilene as the trial site. "The only thing that we have ever asked is that we be afforded a fair trial," Mutscher commented after the brief court hearing. "I feel that the citizens of Taylor County will afford us as ample opportunity to establish my innocence."

Along to Daniel went a stack of defense pre-trial motions, including one to quash the indictment. Mutscher's attorney predicted a February or March trial date. January 10 had been set originally.

DRUG REFUNDS DUE — Texans who filed claims under an anti-trust case may receive up to 60 per cent refunds on purchases of broad spectrum antibiotic drugs purchased during 1954-66.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said refunds will be made probably no later than March, 1972. Tax supported hospitals and other state agencies which bought the $4.6 million recovery against five large drug companies named in the anti-trust suit. The U. S. Supreme Court denied the companies' last appeal October 12.

Martin and his staff are working on an allocation formula. A New York federal court will hold a hearing after notice to all claimants, hopefully in January. Th drug case is the pioneer "treble damage" anti-trust case allowing individual consumers to be represented by the Attorney General and recover damages for overcharges paid as a result of price-fixing conspiracies.

LEGAL OPINIONS — Candidates who moved into new districts before Nov. 7 (a year prior to the 1972 general election) are eligible to run for House and Senate seats in those districts, Secretary of State Bob Bullock held in an opinion prepared as chief state election officer.

Atty. Gen. Martin released a long list of opinions including the following: "The time natural gas is produced under "take or pay" purchase contracts actuates accrual of production taxation on deficiency payments. The total price paid under contracts is the measure of the market value, based on the tax rate in effect at the time of actual production.

Donald Eastland of Hillsboro will serve as acting chairman of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission. A 26-member State Advisory Council on Alcoholism has been named to advise on a state plan for combatting alcoholism.

SPANISH TREASURE APPRAISED — Appraisers have completed the preliminary process of putting a value on treasure recovered from four-century-old shipwrecks off Padre Island.

Final reports will go to District Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville who directed the appraisal be made as the result of a lawsuit.

Platoro Inc., the Indiana firm which recovered the treasure in 1967, seeks title to at least half the artifacts. The state claims all of them, and has threatened to take its case for possession to the U. S. Supreme Court.

POLITICAL FIELD EXPANDS — Dallas attorney Barefoot Sanders stepped into the U. S. Senate race, slugging from the opening bell at Republican Sen. John Tower.

Sanders, 46-year-old former federal district attorney, U. S. assistant attorney general and White House aide, is the first Democrat to announce for the Senate.

W. L. (Bill) Jones Jr., Odessa businessman, entered the Democratic primary for lieutenant governor and set up campaign headquarters here.

SAFETY TIPS OFFERED — Texas Safety Association warns holiday tipplers that 70 driving drunks may end up dead in traffic crashes.

Along with the verbal warning, TSA sent out charts showing how much alcohol by weight a driver can consume before reaching the state legal "drunk" test level of .10 per cent blood alcohol concentration.

"The motorists of Texas, for their sake and the sake of their passengers, need to recognize the potential dangers during the upcoming holiday season. They need to be alert, ready to take evasive action," said TSA.

Accent On Health
IMMUNIZATION

Immunization records, primarily of concern only to doctors, patients and parents in the past, have taken on extreme significance under the new compulsory school immunization law, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Also of more urgency now is the keeping of records for preschoolers. Pre-schoolers who attend a child care center are included under provisions of new laws which become effective January 1. Immunization records will be their ticket into regular school later on.

Public health experts point to the incidence of communicable disease among younger children in stressing the need for early immunization. Since immunizations will be needed later on anyway, health experts recommend starting a program early in the life of each child.

The importance of accurate, current and certified records will be brought home to you in a hurry if your youngster is ready for school or kindergarten. The health record can be of permanent value for the children's school records, insurance data and your family doctor's use.

Since many types of personal immunization records are in current use, any document listing each immunization received by year will be acceptable during the 1971-1972 school year for either initiating or updating school immunization records.

Signature or rubber-stamp validation of personal records by physicians or public health clinics is recommended but not required until the summer semester of 1972, after which validation of new records is required.

Many forms on which to keep personal immunization records are available, but you can keep all vital information in a tablet or notebook if desired. This can be taken with you on each trip to a doctor or health clinic for recording of the date, type of immunization and doctor's signature.

Make a section for each family member, listing birth date and place of birth and other pertinent information such as the presence of a chronic illness, physical handicap, allergies and RH factor if it is present.

The health record should include a check list of diseases which each family member has had and the dates. Have a section for immunization records of such diseases as measles, mumps, whooping cough, diphtheria tetanus, polio and rubella. Allow room for boosters.

Also write down any serious illnesses, accidents, surgical procedures and instances of hospitalization, including dates. Finally, list the family's health and accident insurance information for quick and easy reference.

OUTDOORS
TEXAS
By Vern Sanford

Up in the Panhandle of Idaho is Pend d'Oreille, the state's largest lake. Its tributaries provide boating waters form the western boundary of Montana completely across the state and into Washington.

Pend d'Oreille is a fabulous lake with 111 miles of shoreline. It flows between towering cliffs that rise 1000 feet above the surface of the lake. Water depth is another 1000 feet.

Pend d'Oreille compares in surface size with some of our Texas lakes, like Whitney, Falcon or Livingston. But that is where the comparison ends. It has different fish and the method of fishing for them is different.

There are a few black bass in the water, but Lake Pend d'Oreille is famous for its lunker trout — Kamloops by name. I learned the unusual story about this lake on a very enjoyable visit up there only recently.

Something like 400 million years ago a small lake was created by the upturn of geology. This lake was first seen by white men about 1800 when they went into the area to compete with the Indians in fur trapping. These French-Canadians named the lake after the Indians, who wore ear pendants. Hence the name Lake Pend d'Oreille.

For many years this lake provided wonderful rainbow trout fishing, plus Kokanee, that small land-locked salmon which virtually infests the impoundment. Although the rainbows were beautiful and productive fish, some of the sportsmen came up with the idea of stocking it with Kamloops from British Columbia. This was done around 1941.

The Kamloops is an outside rainbow itself, but it had gained this enormous size in its own waters in British Columbia. At first it was not known whether they would even reproduce in the waters of the Idaho lake. But they did. And with the millions of Kokanee for food fish they began to take on size.

By 1945 one was caught that weighed 32 pounds eight ounces. This was a new world's record. The next year, the largest fish caught was a 31.8. But in 1947, an angler took out a 37 pounder on rod and reel, a record which still stands. Top fish in 1969 weighed 31.7.

These fish, as well as the Kokanee, usually are taken by trolling in big waters, although many are taken on rod and reel. The Kokanee, which produces something like our sand bass, and usually weighs about the same, are taken on trolling rigs behind big boats. The creel limit on them is 50 per day for sports fishermen. Commercial fishermen can take 200 a day for the first five months of the year.

Those fishing boats usually are equipped with two motors . . . a large one for getting there fast, a small one from trolling. Rods are carried on the back of the boats in outriggers.

Most of the boats also are equipped with "fish finding" devices. Schools are located and their depth determined with this electronic gear. Then, with 20 pound test line on salt-water equipment they troll through the schools and it is no trick for them to catch the limit in an hour or so once they locate the school.

Like the Texas coast there also are party boats, where tourist fishermen can have all the fun they want pulling in these little salmon, with the everlasting hope they may get one of those big Kamloops. Non-residents pay $5 for a 7-day license. Full information is available from the Chamber of Commerce at Sand Point, Idaho.

WHIPPED BUTTER — Words to the wise cook! Don't use whipped butter in a recipe, advise Extension home economists, since the shortening power is not the same as for unwhipped butter.

LUNCH BOXES — Don't let monotony creep into those lunch boxes you pack. Vary the kind of bread, spread and filling, suggest Extension foods and nutrition specialists. Interchange buns, rolls, wheat, rye and white breads.

such an unfriendly bunch!

It's true that Episcopalians don't make chit-chat during services. Or before. Or immediately after. Visitors occasionally go away saying, "What an unfriendly bunch."

Next time, don't rush away so fast.

Episcopalians don't mean to seem rude. They do mean to pay respect to God . . . until they're well outside the church proper.

Next time, give them a few minutes to "warm up." Stick around and get acquainted. Join them for coffee in the nearby parish hall . . . and perhaps some of their funny ideas will even make sense.

If you'd like to learn more about the Episcopal Church and its views, the nearest Episcopal minister would be flattered to discuss them with you . . . without "hivesting your arm." Who knows? He might even make sense.

The Clarendon College Drama Department presented the play with Norma Selvidge providing the accompaniment at the piano. The program was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. W. K. Hardin, Mrs. L. E. Holloway, and Mrs. W. W. Taylor hosted the festive occasion. Christmas decorations accented by red candles were throughout the club house.

Les Beaux Arts Club is beginning their Christmas decoration again this year following the western theme. Any volunteers of help will be appreciated.

College Drama Class Entertains Book Club

1926 Book Club met in Patching Club House Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Loyd Johnson and Mrs. Otis Naylor as hostesses. Entertaining rooms were made festive with Christmas decorations.

Cran-Apple punch, coffee cake, stuffed dates and assorted nuts were served from a beautifully appointed table.

The president, Mrs. Frank White, Jr., called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. Leonard Selvidge, Drama Department of Clarendon College, who stated that the program would be in three divisions; a short drama, several carols, and a narrative ending.

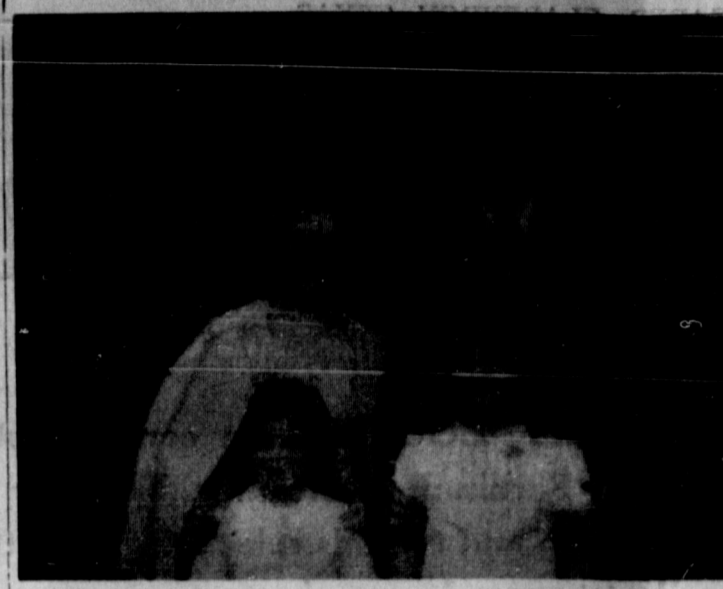

The drama, "Check Point Charlie," happened at Christmas time and was the story of the Berlin Wall. Christmas Carols were those old and familiar. Karen Gambin, a reader, gave the story, "Glory For Sale," a touching story of a young orphan boy who ran away with his baby sister and was trying to sell her at Christmas time. The story had a beautiful ending as both children found a home with a sympathetic young doctor and his new bride.

College students taking part in the program were Doug Price, Karl John Sarpalus, Guy Dell White, Cathy Jones, Karen Gambin, David Baade, and Paul Boethe.

Mrs. Julia Beck and Mrs. Esther Connolly were guests of the club.

NEWS FROM

Congressman Bob Price 18th District, Texas

Despite a show of public "unconcern" this country is on a collision course with the energy problem, Congressman Bob Price said Saturday.

"While we are not in the grips of an immediate energy crisis except in some locations in the East, we are facing a threat of an energy gap," Price told the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

"With energy demands threatening to outrun available supplies by larger and larger margins, we may encounter difficulty in keeping our homes, schools, and offices heated. In addition, we may find it impossible to satisfy our domestic needs and national defense needs at the same time," he said.

Price noted that one dry hole recently drilled in Alaska cost $4.5 million. "With this type of investment required and only a small percentage of the wells drilled being capable of producing marketable quantities of petroleum, it can be easily seen that additional incentives must be made available if the necessary funds are to be available for exploration."

"I have introduced two bills in Congress which some people call a give-away to the petroleum companies, but I call them consumer security bills. They are designed to assure the consumers of this country adequate supplies of petroleum to maintain the standard of living to which we have become accustomed," Price said.

One of the Congressman's bills would provide a 12.5 percent tax credit to individuals or companies for domestic exploratory drilling and secondary recovery operations. The other would remove the Federal Commission's authority to regulate the price of natural gas flowing in interstate commerce. This would allow the price of gas to be set on the basis of supply and demand.

Price pointed out the recent advertising program of the American Petroleum Institute as a good method of making the citizens of the U. S. more aware of the energy crisis.

"The theme of this advertising program — 'America runs on oil — and a country that runs on oil can't afford to run short' — is an accurate theme. I only hope it will have enough of an impact on the American people to force the necessary changes in public policy to encourage more petroleum exploration instead of discouraging it."

YOUNG PEOPLE

The young people of today have before them a phase of life which has often been overlooked, that of examining this Nation and its people, "not from the standpoint of what is wrong, but what is right," Congressman Bob Price said Friday.

Speaking to Amarillo College students, Price challenged the students "to identify that which is good and durable in America, that which is worth preserving, that which is worth making great sacrifices to protect."

"When you assume the managerial responsibility for this nation you are certain to be confounded as much by the successes of our system as its failures. You are likely to be dismayed that our national institutions which have been criticized for being so resistant to change, in fact permitted and even accommodated more change than you will be able to deal with in an orderly society," he added.

Price predicted that in the year 2000, Americans will be mining and farming the oceans and will have colonies on the moon. "You will conduct your lives across a greater expanse of territory; yet, one of your severe problems will be dealing with the estimated 6 billion human beings who will inhabit the earth."

"Of all the challenges before you, of all the adventures which you more than any other generation can expect, will be your great struggle to mature and grow as a human being. With this maturity will come the challenge to protect and preserve the durable spirit of democracy which has lasted through all our trials and tribulations," he added.

"Individual issues may temporarily divide us, but we will unite because of the continued existence of special opportunity and compelling responsibility which faces us in our churches, schools, and local, state, and national governments."

Peanut Butter Has High Protein Quality

The protein in peanut butter is of higher quality than most vegetable proteins and is a good supplementary food to include as often as possible in menu planning, according to Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Peanut butter also ranks near the top of the food list in energy, fats necessary for body balance, phosphorus, thiamine and niacin, she says.

Whole or halved peanuts can decorate the top of a butterscotch pie, other desserts and salads. And peanut butter can be used in soup, sauces, gravy, mashed potatoes and milkshakes.

Baked goods that can be made with peanut butter include pies, biscuits, muffins, rolls, cakes, coffeecakes, brownies and cookies.

For something new and different, a peanut butter pie crust might be a big hit with the family. Use 1 cup sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 1 tablespoons peanut butter and 2 to 3 tablespoons cold water.

Put shortening and peanut butter into salted flour. Add just enough water to form dough into a soft ball. Wrap in wax paper and chill about 15 minutes. Roll and shape into fluted crust.

Bake 10 to 15 minutes in a 400-degree oven. For the filling, try a peanut butter chiffon, vanilla, chocolate or butterscotch pudding. Garnish with finely chopped peanuts.

Or, a chocolate peanut butter milk shake will please children. To make four cups: blend or use electric mixer to smooth one pint of vanilla ice cream and a half cup cream peanut butter. Gradually add two cups of milk. Then stir in a half cup of instant chocolate flavored mix and serve.

Growth And Quality

Hay cut at an early stage of growth have a higher protein content than those harvested at a mature stage; so when making hay, don't forsake quality for quantity, advise Extension pasture specialists. Harvesting young plants means lower yield per cutting, but the total yields per year are, in many cases, just as high as if the crop had been allowed to grow tall.

Retailers Required To Post Base Prices

Retailers may not increase prices until they meet the base price posting requirements of Section 300.013(b) of the Price Commission's Regulations. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas stated that this requirement is mandatory for all retailers until they post their base price lists. Every retailer must post his base price list by January 1, 1972 whether he does or does not increase prices.

The retailers is required to prominently display his base price list at the place of sale. The posting requirement applies to all food products except those specifically exempt. It also applies to those 40 items other than food in each department which have the highest dollar sales volume or those items which account for 50 percent of the total dollar sales in each department, whichever is less.

Until the base price list is posted and thereafter, each retailer must display on each floor of the establishment at least one sign which reads, "Information regarding the lawful base price for any item sold by this store not posted may be obtained by filling in a Base Price Information Request Form available at (specify location) and by handing it to (fill in). You will receive a speedy answer by mail."

The sign should be a minimum of 22 inches by 28 inches. Mr. Campbell emphasized that the base price list must be posted before any price increases can be made.

VEGETABLES

Vegetables make good snacks. They score low on calories and high on nutrients. Extension foods and nutrition specialists suggest trying cucumber slivers, carrot curls, celery sticks, cauliflowerets, cabbage or tomato wedges.

Reduce Your Taxes With Good Records

Good records can save tax dollars at income tax filing time for North Texas taxpayers. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue in North Texas, said good records help you get all the deductions and credits you are entitled to.

A good system for keeping records is to label envelopes or folders according to the types of income and deductions you have, Mr. Campbell said. Bills and receipts should be put in the appropriate folder as they are paid. Taxpayers who itemize their deductions on Form 1040 must have available cancelled checks, receipts, statements, and other material to support the claimed deductions.

Mr. Campbell said that, in addition to having tax dollars, good recordkeeping makes preparation of the tax return a much easier task.

Butter — Be sure to cover butter or margarine when you store it in the refrigerator, remind Extension foods and nutrition specialists. Both butter and margarine will absorb odors.

AG Producers Should Make Tax Check

It's not too early for farmers and ranchers to take a look at their tax situation and make certain management decisions before the end of the year.

"Make an estimate of income and expenses to get an idea of your income tax liability," suggests James I. Mallet, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"If your taxable income for the year is above that anticipated for next year, you may want to delay any additional sales until 1972. Also, consider buying supplies such as fertilizer, feed and chemicals for next year to reduce this year's income."

Machinery purchases will also cut your income by a substantial margin, and you can benefit from first-year depreciations and possibly investment credit if it becomes effective once again, points out Mallet.

Other items which could reduce your 1971 income tax are income averaging and advance payment of interest on loans. According to the economist, income averaging is a tool for leveling income over a five-year period. To qualify for income averaging this year, your income must be 20 percent above the 1967-70 average and at least $3,000.

"If, on the other hand, your income is down for 1971, then you will want to delay some deductions until next year," adds Mallet. "This can be done by delaying all possible purchases and payments until after January 1. This practice is especially sound if you expect a higher income in 1972."

Mallet has a word of caution regarding decisions to alter your tax situation for this year. "Don't make sales or purchases simply to juggle income and expense in order to save a few tax dollars. Be sure all decisions are sound from a profit management standpoint."

Where It Comes From—About 80 percent of the nearly $10 billion added to the Texas economy by agriculture in 1970 was generated from the manufacture and supplying of tools for production and the processing and distribution of agricultural commodities. The remaining $2 billion consisted of values added in farming and ranching and government payments to agriculture, according to Charles K. Baker, Extension marketing specialist.

In making his announcement, James stated that he was seeking his first four-year elective term, having been elected previously for a two year term to finish out an unfinished term. I have been serving the people of Donley County as a peace officer for both the Sheriff's office and the Tax Office and I will continue to serve to the best of my ability in the interests of everyone concerned. Shopping Time For Christmas Toys

The key to shopping for Christmas toys is to choose them wisely and to select them according to age and interest of the child, reminds Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

For children under three years old, Mrs. Myers says to avoid toys with sharp or rough edges that might cut or scratch. Don't choose toys with small attachments that could become loose and be put in ears, nose or mouth such as glass or button eyes or small wheels. Also check for poisonous paints on objects and toxic, heavy breakable toys.

Brightly colored objects that can be hung out of reach but in view are excellent gifts for children under one, the specialist says. Or look for squeak toys; sturdy, nonflammable rattles; wash stuffed non-breakable objects that can be chewed.

Children one to two-years-old are safe with squeak toys and soft stuffed dolls or animals, she continues. Also consider blocks with rounded corners, push-and-pull toys with strings or rounded handles, and nests of blocks.

For the two to three-year-old child, Mrs. Myers suggests buying wooden animals, push toys, tip-proof kiddie cars and tricycles. Don't forget large crayons; low rocking horses; sand box with buckets, shovels and spoons; large peg boards; small chair and table; or simple musical instruments, she adds.

If you're shopping for the three to six-year-old, avoid gifts too heavy for the child's strength, the specialist says. These include electrical toys; poorly-made objects that come apart, break or splinter; costumes, ill-balanced mobile toys and shooting or target toys that could endanger eyes.

Some gift ideas for three- and four-year-olds are small brooms and carpet sweepers, toy telephones and dolls with simple wrap-around clothing, Mrs. Myers suggests. Doll buggies and furniture, dishes, trucks and tractors, non-electrical trains, trams and building blocks are also safe gift ideas.

The child four to six years of age is safe with simple construction sets, paints and paint books, modeling clay or a doll house and furniture. The specialist adds that other safe toys for this age group include skip ropes, small sports equipment, paper doll sets with blunt scissors, blackboard and dustless chalk, and flame-retardant costumes.

For the six to eight-year-old, Mrs. Myers says to avoid non-approved electrical toys, anything too large or complicated for the child's strength and ability, sharp-edged toys, poorly made skates and shooting toys. Instead choose well-constructed, light-weight usable tools, sleds, construction sets, roller skates or approved electrical toys. Also check for kites, playground equipment, puzzles and games, sewing material, and dolls and doll equipment.

If you're shopping for the youngster eight to 12, don't choose air rifles, chemistry sets, dart games, bows and arrows, dangerous tools and electrical toys unless they will be used under parental supervision, the specialist cautions. Instead, or coin and stamp collections. Children this age also enjoy puppet shows, musical instruments, bicycles, gym and sports equipment, model and construction building sets, and electrical trains that have the underwriters Laboratories' approval.

Remember, Mrs. Myers points out, a child's safety is your responsibility.

For Christmas Buy Economical And Thoughtful Gifts

If Christmas shopping has just about exhausted your ideas and your money — there are other ideas, other places to last-minute shop, and without demanding lots of spending in dollars.

A willing hand and a few things around the house can combine to produce last-minute gifts at reasonable cost. Also, try your supermarket, hardware or drug store and the five and dime. Some suggestions:

1. Box an assortment of mixes for a little girl who likes to cook.
2. Order Christmas plants through your supermarket's produce department, then deliver them yourself.
3. Make a loaf of date or nut or fruit bread from packaged mix. Wrap in clear plastic, attach a piece of holly for trim, and take to a friend for Christmas breakfast.
4. Give a teenager a box full of snacks or a case of soft drinks.
5. Pack your own basket of fruits or cheese or gourmet foods. Pick the nicest they have at your supermarket — by packing your own you'll have a much less expensive gift basket and it will have your personal touch.
6. Pot several plants together and make a handsome arrangement for a friend's table.

Christmas Swindlers Appear Each Year

From Thanksgiving to Christmas each year, an unusual band of enterprising and crooked businessmen seem to appear from out of nowhere. That's the time when Americans shop for their loved ones, it is also the time when "Christmas Swindlers" swing into action, so it is a time to be wary.

Beware of the Christmas crook who shows up at your home or business with a fantastic bargain. The profit will be all his — not yours.

Be cautious in accepting packages for your neighbor. The variations on package delivery fraud are endless and include many "unsorted merchandise" gimmicks. When a legitimate looking delivery man asks if you will accept a package for your neighbor that has a small delivery fee to be paid, you may become the victim of one of the most lucrative of all swindles. The package could be filled with wadded newspapers, and your neighbor will not have ordered anything from the company.

Unfortunately, not all charity solicitations at Christmas time are legitimate. Give generously to your local well known and established charities if you wish — but don't be too quick to give your cash or check to mail solicitors you have never seen. Some con men solicit contributions by telephone — unless you know the person and the organization or have any doubts about a charity — contact the Better Business Bureau.

The legitimate Christmas charity deserves to be supported and the itinerant collector deserves to be stopped.

Social Security

Q—I am attending school under VA's Dependents' Educational Assistance program. May I work at the same time?

A—Yes, since there is no limit to the amount of income you may earn.

Q—I draw 60 per cent disability compensation from VA. Does this make my dependents eligible for special educational benefits available to disabled veterans?

A—No. Only children of veterans rated by VA as totally and permanently disabled from service connected causes are entitled to this benefit.

Q—I just heard I might be eligible for a VA burial allowance for my husband who died 14 months ago. Is this true?

A—Yes, provided your husband received an other than dishonorable discharge. Claim for a maximum $250 burial allowance may be filed within two years of permanent burial or cremation.

Q—Will the recent Social Security increase affect VA pension and dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) payments to dependent parents? A—For those on VA rolls on the date of approval of the Social Security increases, pension or DIC will not be reduced or discontinued, where required, until Jan. 1, 1972.

Q—I am a Vietnam veteran interested in training under the G. I. Bill, but am not sure what courses to take. Can VA assist me?

A—Yes. Eligible veterans may receive vocational counseling from VA at no cost to help them derive greater benefits from their training. Application should be made to the VA office nearest the veteran's home.

Q—In 1948, I purchased an automobile with special adaptive equipment with a grant for disabled veterans from the Veterans Administration. I now plan to buy a new car. Will VA pay for the adaptive equipment?

A—Yes. You should apply for this equipment on VA Form 10-1394. VA will provide an eligible veteran with adaptive equipment necessary for the safe operation of his automobile or other conveyance, so as to comply with the standards of licensure of his state.
