Threshed By The Tribulum

By: Weldon Rives, Pastor
First United Methodist Church

John 16:33 - "In the world you have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

Take three or four planks about four feet long, lay them side by side, fasten them together and drive a lot of iron spikes through the planks so that the sharp ends come through. Its a murderous-looking instrument, one which un-knowledgeable persons may believe to be an instrument of war. But, it is not; it is a tribulum. It is the instrument once used for threshing wheat or other grain from the stalk. You drag the sharp spikes over the sheaves which have been spread upon the threshing floor. That separates the wheat from the straw. A primitive model of a tribulum is mentioned in Amos 1:3.

Thus says the Lord: "For three transgressions of Damascus and for four, I will not revoked the punishment; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing sleds of iron."

The activity is known as inflicting pressure to harvest the grain, e.g., to clean the grain from the sheaves which is good for nothing but to be cast into the fire. A simpler definition is "tribulation," you bring tribulation upon the grain with a tribulum.

Jesus transferred this from the harvest of grain to the trials of man which cleans his spirit, heart and soul from all the sheaves of life that he may be proven to be that good and pure seed that the sower goes forth to sow that the Word Of The Lord might be planted in the hearts of all men. Thus, he ends his communing with his followers in the Upper Room and goes out to face his own tribulation. This tribulation would be his testing because his best friends were about to fall him, making his training of them seem meaninglessly lost and implying that even they were ready to add to his agony because they failed to stand by him and for him, and this because they wanted an easier less demanding mission where they could enjoy the pleasures of the world and share in the Kingdom of God.

In this light Jesus could say, in effect, "Even as I have my tribulation, so when you have repented and been empowered from on high by the Holy Spirit, you will have your tribulation also. Thus, he makes no attempt to hide the cast of discipleship but sternly warns that enemies are massing themselves to fall upon the loyal disciple even and they are about to fall upon him. So it is even today. For many, if they are to be disciples the cost must be reduced, the requirements of discipleship must be lessened. It must be on their terms which provide them temporal pleasures which God in Christ Jesus condemns. If they must meet the requirements as set forth by Jesus, then they will have no part of it. Yet, if we "water down" the gospel to meet their lustful desires, then they will be his "disciples."

Christ knew men would fall in their obedience to him. To those who remained faithful, tribulation would come, tribulation would go, and perhaps life with it. In any case, to these faithful few - the Old Testament identifies them by saying, "A remnant remained", to these he has this word of victory - "I have overcome the world!" That is a faith which cannot be defeated and is worth following into the fiery furnace, into the lion's den, out on the open desert, into the catacombs, etc; any place where the Savior leads us.

Farm Accidents Take 2,200 Lives

CHICAGO—Approximately 2,200 people were killed in all public nonmotor-vehicle agricultural accidents in 1973, according to preliminary estimates by the National Safety Council. About 1,500 of the victims were residents of farms and ranches, and the remaining 700 were non-residents. Although the final totals have not been confirmed for 1973, little change is expected from 1972.

The 2,200 accidental agricultural work deaths are part of an estimated 14,200 total work deaths in all occupations. A total of more than 6,000 farm and ranch residents died in accidents last year. More than half of these, however, were victims of traffic mishaps. Farm work accidents are ranked second as a cause of now approaching $3 billion accidental deaths to farm annually in the United States.

Accent On Health

J. E. Peavy, M.D.,
Commissioner of Health

What happens when you're recovering from an illness and are not sick enough to stay in a hospital and yet not quite well enough to completely care for your self?

If you're lucky, you live in an area served by a Home Health Agency and can receive the needed services in the friendly confines of your own home, says the State Health Department.

Skilled and specialized care is given daily to thousands of Texans through one of the 45 Home Health Agencies in the state. The individual agencies may be small, from a minimum of two or three employees to more than a hundred, but they add up to a network of home care services covering a large segment of the state's population. Most of the patients are elderly.

What exactly does a Home Health Agency do?

Take the case of a man who suffered a stroke and was totally bedridden, could not talk and didn't recognize family members, the choices for his family were these: extended, expensive hospitalization; a nursing home, which also is expensive; or, home care with skilled health personnel from a Home Health Agency.

The patient was brought home. Acting under a physician's written orders (necessary in all cases), the patient was placed under the care of a nurse, physical therapist and speech therapist and soon was able to walk with a quad-cane, talk to a limited extent, recognize relatives and friends and was able to remember.

In another instance, a woman in her early seventies underwent surgery for cancer of the lower intestine and had a colostomy performed. Her children were married and lived elsewhere and her husband was older and partially blind. Through a Home Health Agency in her small town, she was able to receive visits at home from nurses and home health aides who taught her how to care for herself while she regained her strength.

What happens if you live in an area not served by an agency? It's possible that one nearby may be able to extend services through a branch office or sub-unit of an existing agency. In some cities and counties, the local health department operates such an agency.

Can a Home Health Agency be formed in your community? Definitely yes, says the State Health Department. Information may be obtained from D. T. E. Dodd, director of Home Health Services Division 1100 West 49th St., Austin 78756.

What must a Home Health Agency have for certification? The requirements are many, says Dr. Dodd, but they basically are these: Each agency must have a physician or registered nurse as director and have an advisory committee. It must be a non-profit organization, or a public organization like the health department, and must offer skilled nursing plus one additional therapeutic service such as physical therapy.

The Home Health Services Division will work with a fledgling agency in getting started and send out a consultant to assist in filling out the required forms. When the paper work is completed, notice is sent to the Certification and Consultation Division and an inspection of the facility is requested. If approved, a recommendation is made with Social Security that the agency be certified.

Since Home Health Agencies are non-profit organizations, pay-

GREETINGS: AUSTIN, TEXAS

Accidents on Texas farms and ranches continue to take a heavy toll in spite of advances made in recent years in agricultural technology. These accidents are a great loss to the agricultural economy of our state. Each year thousands of Texans suffer painful injuries as a result of rural accidents of all types and hundreds more lose their lives.

Although the farm and ranch environment contains many hazards experience has shown that caution, common sense, skill and protective equipment can counter these hazards and keep accidents and injuries to a minimum. Texas farmers and ranchers, their families and employees need to dedicate themselves to the task of safely producing the commodities needed by an entire nation.

The needless waste of human economic resources caused by rural accidents is a matter of national as well as statewide concern, and The President of the United States has proclaimed the week of July 25 to 31, 1974, National Farm Safety Week, in order to focus attention on the problem.

During this special week, a statewide farm accident prevention and education program will be undertaken by the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America, and Young Farmers of Texas. Such a campaign can do much to call attention to the need for accident prevention among our rural residents.

WHEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of July 25-31, 1974, as

and urge all farm and ranch families in Texas to put safety first, to take advantage of modern methods designed to remove many of the hazards in agricultural enterprises, and further urge all persons, organizations and particularly those working in agriculture, to unite in a strong and purposeful effort to reduce farm and ranch soil, home, recreational and highway accidents.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 12th day of July 1974.

Home Eye Test For Preschoolers

One in every 20 preschool-age children in the U. S. has a vision problem. But help is now available for these children, according to one authority.

Dr. Barbara Sears, health education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas University System, reported the Home Eye Test Kit which parents can use to do a vision screening of their preschoolers at home is now available.

The kit is free from the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 3617 Fannin St., Houston, Tex. 77004, and is also available in Spanish.

"Any vision screening only indicates that a child may have a visual defect," Dr. Sears said. "Vision screening is not diagnostic and does not take the place of a professional eye examination," the specialist said. But the Home Eye Test Kit is the chance to locate children who have never had their vision tested, who show no outward signs of eye or vision abnormality, but will show readily in a screening that they are nearsighted, that they are using only one eye effectively, or that they can "read" the chart with each eye separately but not with both eyes together," the specialist explained.

The Home Eye Test Kit includes a scale version of the E chart, directions for training the child to take the test, for giving the test, and for interpreting the results.

A report form, to be returned to the Society, asks the parent whether the child passed the test, and if not, whether an appointment has been made for an eye examination, and with whom.

"We hope this will be an inducement for parents to obtain early visual care for their young children," Dr. Sears said.

You can help restore clean water, fresh air, and a beautiful countryside to all Americans. Support local soil and water conservation programs.

IRS Reports On Fed. Highway Use Tax

Owners of certain trucks, truck-tractors and buses that use the public highways are liable for federal highway use tax and IRS has announced that notices of possible delinquency have been mailed to about 5,000 Texas truck and bus owners.

The tax applies to trucks weighing 13,000 pounds or more, truck-tractors of 5,000 pounds or more, and buses that use the public highways. Bus tax is figured on gross weight starting at 26,000 pounds. For trucks, the amount of tax depends on the number of axles and weight of the vehicles.

The nation's tax collectors matched their highway use tax records with state truck registration records to come up with the listing of potential nonfilers. The return is due by the end of the next month after a truck is driven on a public highway.

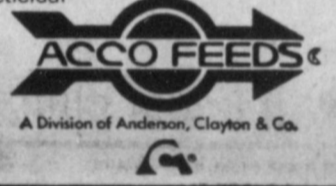

The mailing is the first stage of a nationwide compliance program, the Internal Revenue Service says. In a few days, the names of truck owners who do not respond to the notice will be referred to district offices. Truck owners will then be personally contacted to clarify the tax status of the vehicles in question.

According to the federal tax agency, a person who receives a notice but is not liable for tax should provide the information requested in the notice and return it to IRS.

Truck owners who recognize that they are delinquent should

Although the final impact of the original and subsequent GI Bills has not yet been evaluated, it has already gone down in history as one of the most enlightened programs ever provided those who served any nation.

Hundreds of members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives, past and present, readily acknowledge the role of the GI Bill in providing opportunities to seek and hold public office.

Permanent Care Labeling Of Fabrics

Proper labeling is the only hope today's homemaker has for proper care of modern fabrics, according to Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Modern fabrics may be deceiving - fiber content as a clue to care isn't always obvious from the look or feel of the fabric. Synthetics may look like fabrics from natural fibers but require different care," she said.

The Federal Trade Commission now requires that specific care instructions be permanently attached to ready made in a conspicuous place and remain legible for the life of the garment.

"This eliminates the need to save hang tags and takes the guesswork out of clothing care," Miss Rhoades explained.

Completely washable items that sell for $3 or less may be exempted by FTC along with headwear, handwear, footwear (except hosiery), no care apparel, and items whose use or appearance would be greatly impaired by a permanent label, she noted.

On yard goods, the number in a small triangle appearing on the end of the bolt provides a clue to permanent care information.

With each fabric purchase, a small, numbered label should be provided which gives necessary care instructions for maximum performance of the fabric.

"The label number should correspond to the number on the bolt end," the specialist reminded.

Sew the label into the garment during construction or affix it with a fusible for permanent reference, she said.

During the 12 years of the original GI Bill 7.8 million World War II veterans, out of a total of 16.5 million, used their GI education and training benefits at a program cost of $14.5 billion. Vietnam veterans are exceeding that rate.

Taiso Chairman Urges Motorists To Check Insurance Before Trips

Summer is here - and the living is easy. And often, for Texans anyway, this is the time for automobile trips to the coast, to any number of tourist attractions, to the lakes and to state and national park facilities.

"Unfortunately, many motorists will be almost driving blind when it comes to basic automobile insurance knowledge," O. A. Edgeworth, chairman of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office (TAISO), said recently.

"Whether for a vacation or any trip, short or long, drivers need to know what type of auto insurance coverage they have," Edgeworth said. "Most wait until there's an accident to find out how much and what kind of protection they have."

Edgeworth urged Texas motorists to double check with their agent or company representative before leaving on a trip to see what their own coverage is as well as what might be needed in other areas.

Mexico, for instance, honors only those automobile policies issued by a company based in Mexico. In Canada, a special card is needed as evidence of insurance.

TAISO is licensed by the State Board of Insurance to assist that agency in gathering statistical data concerning auto insurance, driver hazards, driver classifications and auto insurance rates.

Edgeworth is regional vice president, State Farm Insurance Companies, Austin, in addition to serving as chairman of TAISO.

Mobile Home Safety

Potential mobile home buyers should be particularly aware of safety considerations, one housing and home furnishings specialist pointed out this week.

Patricia Brashaw, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, suggested this checklist for mobile home safety:

Are there at least two outside doors, preferably on opposite sides of the unit in case of overturn?

Does each bedroom have a window large enough for escape in an emergency?

Do you have to pass the furnace to escape from any bedroom?

Are there different floor levels which could be dangerous in darkness?

Does the unit have built-in anchorage straps for anchoring against wind damage?

"Safety should be the most vital factor when choosing a mobile home," Miss Brashaw said.

Young Men Reminded To Register For SS

John Rankin, Chairman of Local Board No. 52, advises all young men that, although inductions into the Armed Forces have ended, they still must register with Selective Service at age 18.

A young man may register 30 days before or 30 days after his 18th birthday—but he must register. Failure to do so makes the young man liable for an extreme penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Mr. Rankin urges young men to keep their records clean by timely registration with Selective Service, and added, "If a young man has reached the age of 18 and has not yet registered he should do so as soon as possible."

Local Board No. 52 serves Gray, Wheeler, Roberts and Donley counties and is located in the Post Office Building, 120 E. Foster, Pampa, Texas. Registrars are located in the Courthouse of each county and in most of the Post Office building for convenience.
