Two Local Residents Drown In Flash Flood At Martin Wednesday Night

J. C. Perdue, 66, and his sister, Mrs. Van Roy, were both drowned in a flash flood Wednesday night, May 16. Both had been residents of Donley County over fifty years.

Mr. Perdue and his sister were leaving the Martin Community Baptist Church house 5 miles west of town about 9:30 last Wednesday night when Perdue's pickup became stuck in the draw a short distance west of the church. The water in the draw was running about 18 inches deep at the time and other vehicles had already crossed. As friends were watching, a headrise, caused by a five inch rain to the west, swept down on the victims and the pickup. The pickup was washed underneath a railroad bridge immediately to the south and lodged against a highway 287 bridge a short distance beyond. The water in the draw was estimated at 10 feet deep and ran over the highway at this point and at another point farther east where the draw crossed the highway again to the north.

The two occupants were apparently swept out of the pickup and carried downstream as the windshield was broken and the right door open when the pickup was recovered from the draw. Mrs. Roy's body was found at 1:45 a.m. Thursday by searchers on the F. J. Hommel place about three miles downstream on Kelly Creek. Mr. Perdue's body was located at 6:15 a.m. by searchers on horseback upstream from where Mrs. Roy's body was found.

Approximately fifty persons, including law officers from four counties, the Randall County Emergency Corps, and volunteers assisted in the 8½ hour search under the direction of Sheriff Truett Behrens.

All rural correspondents are asked to bring their items in as early Monday morning as possible and all club and society news should be in no later than noon Monday.

Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Plans Shaping Up For Annual July 4th Celebration Here

Bill Porter, President of the Clarendon Outdoor Entertainment Association, yesterday that plans were shaping up exceptionally well at this time for a bigger and better July 4th celebration here this year. The date for the celebration has been set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 2-3-4.

At a meeting of directors of the association last Thursday night, a change in policy was decided upon in regard to the barbecue on July 4th. In view of future plans, it was decided to charge for the barbecue at the rate of $1.00 for adults and 50c for children. Fifty percent of the profits from the barbecue and the rodeo performances will go into a permanent improvement program. This program includes improvements of present facilities with possible addition of seating capacity and the possibility of covering the stands. One of the foremost plans is for considering the construction of a public swimming pool and other recreational facilities.

Here-to-fore the rodeo has barely broke even with the improvements that have been made so far and it is the hopes of the directors to broaden the facilities of the rodeo grounds to furnish more varied recreation for everyone.

Old Settlers, shut-ins and hospital patients will be served the barbecue in the usual manner and without charge, it was reported.

Porter said Ranchers and individuals were already donating the beef for the barbecue and the needed amount of beef should be pledged within the near future. Flip Breedlove and his crew will do the barbecuing job.

Committee heads and members were named as follows: Old-timers, Ernest Kent; Beef, Bill Porter; Tickets, Ray Palmer; Parade, Jaycees; Saddle donations, Bud Knorpp; Buckles, Horace McClellan; Merchant donations, George Benson, Cap Morris and C. A. Pitts; Car Parking, Pete Borden; Publicity, G. W. Estlack, Dick Shelton and Flip Breedlove.

Plans had been discussed to hold a head & heeling here soon but the date was changed to September 1st, the Saturday night preceding Labor Day and also holding a dance in conjunction.

The Pre-Western Week Celebration Kick-Off Dance has been set for June 23rd at the Legion Hall. A good dance band is to be secured for this event.

The Rodeo Headquarters will be set up at the Legion Hall again this year and Secretary Walter B. Knorpp will be in charge of rodeo contestant entries.

WAR AGAINST CRIME

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce of the House of Representatives is presently engaged in final action on a bill which will contribute measurably to breaking the back of crime. Several measures have been passed in the last year directed at the very roots from which crime feeds. These have been aimed at curtailment or shutting down of wire services furnishing information which the bookies, sports pool betting, and lay-off operators must have to operate on a big time scale. Cutting off this information is in effect cutting off the very source upon which gambling feeds. Without gambling and the enormous profits reaped therefrom, criminals are unable to finance big time crime. It has been the profit from gambling that has enabled the crime syndicate to flourish. It makes no difference whether it is a small, local syndicate, a national syndicate, or an international group. In recent years some of these associations have become so rich and powerful that they have completely outgrown local authority. There has been evidence of collusion between public officials and the syndicates that effectively blocked law enforcement. There has been evidence of arrogant flouting of local authority and enforcement officers, due to flaws and loopholes in the present laws.

Big time criminals are dealing with millions, if not billions, of dollars. By the use of these funds they can employ the best brains available to circumvent statutory prohibitions. An excellent example of this has been the manner in which the Johnson Act, which is sometimes referred to as the "slot machine law," has been conveniently avoided. The requirement of the certainty with which a crime must be spelled out in a criminal law makes it possible for these criminals to work out methods of obtaining a result without actually violating the law. The Johnson Act which was passed in 1951 outlawed the interstate transportation of slot machines. In that Act, gambling devices referred to had to be defined. It was this definition which afforded the loophole for the gamblers. They simply shifted their operations from the slot machine defined in the Johnson Act to the "pinball" machine, which had been used primarily for amusement only. By making some intricate changes in the operations of these machines, they were able to perfect a method of continuing their gambling operations, and in fact increase their take in many areas.

The American Bar Association took a leading role in instituting action to stem this tide. Out of their activities and the activities of the lawmakers who have long fought the gambling syndicates, a bill referred to as S. 1658 came into being. As could be expected, much pressure has been brought to bear on Members of Congress, from many directions. The gambling syndicates themselves do not lobby directly, but do their best to obtain help from every segment of the economy to which they can appeal. Usually, this help is innocently provided by those who do not suspect what is behind the scenes. For instance, I have received quite a number of communications opposing this legislation on the ground that it is designed to concentrate power in Washington, and to infringe upon the rights of American citizens. Any more than I do. However, I would point out that these arguments against S. 1658 are fraudulent in every detail. Unless legislation like S. 1658 is passed, there will certainly be a concentration of power. This concentration will not be in Washington, but will be in the hands of the vicious criminals throughout this land and the world who have no inhibitions about preying upon American citizens, whether they be business people, teenagers, or little children. Unless this type of legislation is passed, the rights of American citizens will be infringed upon; but this infringement will not be by a division or agency of the government. It will be by those same criminals who have no regard for human rights and who contribute to the destruction of the very inner character of human beings, and whose activities have throughout history destroyed homes and churches and entire nations.

HANDCUFFS & HANDOUTS

Just about everyone has heard the old saying that "he who pays the piper calls the tune."

A perfect example is found where government does the paying — and it's true of small matters as well as big.

Oregon, for instance, once used yellow dividing stripes on its highways. These, most motorists found, were easier to see at night and under bad weather conditions. They were distinctive, too, and acted as guides to tourists.

No more. For the federal government is paying most of the costs of major highways — and Uncle Sam says that all highway stripes must be white. Uncle — taxpayer-filled pocketbook in hand — is the boss.

It's also been proposed, in order to brighten the landscape, that Oregon bridges be painted in bright colors. But Uncle, with his 50-state rule book, wouldn't accept that either.

The point is that handcuffs come with the handouts.

BILLIONS CAN BE SAVED

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has recommended a $5.2 billion cut in the federal budget, and has spelled out the details of how and where, in its view, this can be accomplished.

Among other things, it urges that the Rural Electrification Administration's loan authority be reduced by $170 million, charging that "REA has extended its activities far beyond the original goal servicing farm areas." It also calls for a reduction of $26.9 million for the Bonneville Power Administration, and $10 million for the upper Colorado Storage Project of the Bureau of Reclamation. The reason given for the last is that construction of proposed transmission lines would duplicate existing investor-owned lines.

These are specific proposals, tied to specific budget items. Beyond that, they illustrate a principle that certainly needs to be followed now. That principle is simply this: Government — whether the project involves electric power or anything else — should scrupulously refrain from doing anything that taxpaying private industry can do.

Application of this principle would save us billions — and save them at a time when, under present circumstances, the chance of a balanced budget appearing in the foreseeable future gets more and more remote. And it would shore up the structure on which American freedom rests.

That structure is weakened whenever government goes beyond its Constitutional duties, and moves into realms that properly belong to private citizens and private enterprises.

Worry? Why worry? What can worry do? It never keeps trouble from overtaking you. It gives you indigestion, and sleepless hours at night. It puts a frown upon your face, and sharpness in your tone; We're unfit to live with and unfit to live alone. Worry? Why worry? What can worry do? It never keeps a trouble from overtaking you.

praying do? Praying really changes things, arranges life anew. It's good for your digestion, gives peaceful sleep at night. And fills the grayest, gloomiest day with rays of glowing light. It puts a smile upon your face, the love note in your tone. Makes you fit to live with others, and fit to live alone. Pray? Why pray? What can praying do? It brings God down from Heaven to live and work with you . . .

The above came to us from our good neighbor and friend Mrs. Gertrude Ashworth. We do not know who wrote the poem but they knew about life. Worry within itself only complicates the problem, but prayer and action finds the solution. Turning to God in hope is our beginning step. He opens the door to a brighter day. Through Faith we can walk forward into the glowing light. Thanks to this good neighbor for sending along this beautiful thought in poem . . .

If you can attend Sunday School naturally that would be your duty, but if for some reason you are shut-in during the 10 to 11 o'clock hour next Sunday listen to the sacred hymns as played by a long time friend of this column Maurine Seale. She is a shut-in and this program over KFDD originates from her bedroom.

Even in this day of great development in plant growth we read someplace that in the case of gardening a green thumb is not nearly so important as black and blue knees and calloused hands. This explains all too well why we never claimed any degree of success in the gardening field.

The fellow who is always boasting that he deserves everything he gets should be careful lest he should get everything he deserves.

The hand of the child is spanked gently at first as it ventures to bother some object that is a "no, no" . . . In the years that follow the punishment becomes a bit more severe. With each bit of knowledge gained comes increasing responsibility and as a just father or mother we use the

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Three more memorial gifts have been given in memory of Mrs. J. L. McMurtry.

In "Nine Hours To Rama," Stanley Wolpert has given a logical explanation to the question, people have been asking since the afternoon of January 30, 1948, why was Mahatma Gandhi assassinated?

The author says . . . "For while a historical incident triggered my imagination, and while my book retains a skeleton of his-rod a bit more freely as the years go by. This accounts for the severe tannings that most of us received when we did the things we knew were wrong and got caught . . .

This same sense of justice holds true as we live in this world as children of God. The Bible tells us that whom He loveth He chasteneth, and each of us who have known His love has felt at times the chastening rod . . . At first perhaps only the tinge of a guilty conscience as we walked along the road of life in rebellion. Later, a feeling of condemnation or lack of fellowship would bring the greater punishment . . .

To the young Christian God may only speak a gentle no, no, but when we are grown up He may say no with a firmness we will remember . . .

As it raises the question just how far we advanced since the days of Christ in our thinking?

Mahatma Gandhi was a man who practiced and lived his life by loving kindness, non-violence and turning the other cheek to name a few. He also proved these same principles worked by doing something years of bloody wars had not done, winning India's independence from England. Yet a band of his own countrymen assassinated him! This brings to mind, in Plato's sense that nobody ever did an evil deed because he first convinced himself it was not evil.

A friend of the library gave six books to the library, all of them good fiction. A book was given to the library in memory of Mr. Jim Patman. A memorial gift has been given to the library in memory of Mrs. Frank Johnson. Few readers have read more and as long out of the library as Mrs. Johnson did.

Meet a fellow Texan: Preston Smith.
Preston Smith's story is in the best Texas and American tradition—a farm boy who worked his own way to an education and a place of honor in his business and community life.

Born in the heart of Texas, at Georgetown, he moved with his family to Dawson County in 1923 when he was 10 years old. He went to school at Sunset, Lamesa, and Texas Tech. In his adopted home town of Lubbock, with his wife Ima and their two children, he now carries out the full responsibilities of a typical Texas business and civic leader.

A steward at St. John's Methodist Church—member of the Salvation Army Board, the Kiwanis Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Farm Bureau—these are some of the activities close to the heart of Preston Smith, citizen.

He did not stop there. In his daily pursuits Preston Smith came to realize that business and government are closely related in the American system—and that without good government we cannot have a favorable climate for good business. A man of direct action, Preston Smith went into the business of government. He served six years in the Texas House of Representatives and six in the Senate.

Senator Smith has supported sound statewide legislation for better schools, roads, welfare and conservation. He took the lead in establishing a permanent building program for state colleges. He had the integrity to support necessary state spending and the courage to oppose extravagance and waste. In government, as in business and at home, Preston Smith believes in meeting our obligations and paying our bills.

Having proved himself as one of the best-rounded, best-equipped, best-informed and most highly respected Texans in both his private and public careers, Preston Smith was a logical candidate to succeed Ben Ramsey as Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

Voters in 102 counties gave Preston the lead over four opponents in the First Democratic Primary. Now he is in the runoff. He got there without the support of any self-serving group or power bloc. His opponent has the endorsement of labor leaders and other special interests who want to dominate our state government.

Preston Smith asks only for the votes of individual Texans who want a Lieutenant Governor without any strings attached. He is depending on independent-minded Texans everywhere to vote for him on June 2.

Elect your independent candidate for Lieutenant Governor—

AUSTIN — Eight weary candidates who fought their ways into the finals of the democratic primaries now have June 2 as their next immediate target.

John Connally and Don Yarborough, two men who never have held an elective office, battled their way into the runoff for governor.

Gov. Price Daniel ran third and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson fourth. Marshall Formby, former chairman of the Highway Commission, was next and ex-Gen.

Edwin A. Walker came in last. It was clear that Texas democrats were ready for a change, and that they felt experience in state government was not the most important factor.

Jack Cox won the Republican primary and will take on the Democratic nominee on November 6.

Speaker Jimmy Turman of the Texas House of Representatives led five candidates in the race for lieutenant governor. State Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock faces Turman in the runoff.

Bill Hayes of Temple won the Republican nomination for this important office.

The GOP will have no runoff for state office on June 2.

County Judge Woodrow Bean of El Paso and former Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas went into the runoff for Congressman-at-Large on the democratic ticket.

Former Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock and Tom Reavley of Austin are in the runoff for attorney general.

No matter how the four top races come out — Texas will have an entirely new set of top state officials starting next January.

Some 114,000 Texans felt it was time to change parties and cast their ballots in the Republican primary. State republican officials were "amazed and delighted" at the vote, and felt it will grow to many times that by November 6.

TEXTBOOKS BACK IN LIME-LIGHT — After seven months of hot controversy in Board of Education and House Investigating committee hearings over textbooks recommended by the 1961 State Textbook Committee, a new cycle of interest began Friday, the 11th, as the newly-appointed 1962 committee held its first meeting.

The committee, made up of 15 educators from various congressional districts in Texas, has the awesome task of studying every book offered by textbook publishers. Five books on each public school course due for new material will be submitted to local school boards for selection.

Committeemen will study the books with the aid of some 700 advisors and readers during the summer months. Hearings on objections from organizations and individuals are set for September.

According to adoption procedures, anyone may protest a book. But no one can defend a protested book, except the publisher. He can file a written rebuttal after applications for hearing objections are received in August.

One step toward blanket censorship was taken by the Board itself when it refused to accept Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar's recommendation to re-adopt five high school economics texts. Some board members felt the books were anti-capitalist.

R. W. Byram of Austin ignored Rep. W. T. Dungan's request to hold action on the matter until the House Textbook Investigating Committee, which he leads, has time to evaluate the disputed books more carefully.

64 BILLION QUESTION — Officials at the Texas Highway Department started tossing statistics around like confetti as Governor Daniel proclaimed the week of May 20-26 as "Highway Week."

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer called Highway Week "an appropriate time to pose the 64-billion-mile question," which means he's worried about meeting expected needs of Texas motorists who will travel 64 billion miles over state highways in 1970.

Today owners of Texas' five million vehicles drive about 43 billion miles a year. Ten years ago, they traveled only 27 billion miles.

The department began paving the way for the anticipated increase this week as Highway Commissioner Herb Petry, Jr. announced approval of the 1962 Farm-to-Market Road program.

A total of 1,216 miles of new FM roads will be built at a cost of $23,500,000. Bids were received on 889 miles of highway repair which will run about $16,700,000.

COSTLY CARELESSNESS — Highway Department figures it could build a lot more road mileage — 72 miles of farm-to-market roads or 24 miles of two-lane primary highways — if the $2,000,000 that was spent to remove highway litter and repair vandalism damage last year was available for construction.

Motorists toss everything from beer cans, to watermelon rinds, to milk cartons and cigarette packages along the state's 63,000-mile road system. Then the highway workers have to do the pick-up job.

Department officials compared this to a man throwing trash in his own yard and then paying someone else to pick it up. Damage to road signs accounted for $385,900 of the super cleaning bill.

INDIAN CARE TAKES WAMPUM — Texas spent $78,104 during the fiscal year ending August 31 to keep up the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation at Livingston. The reservation is managed under the direction of the State Hospitals and Special Schools Board.

The advent of eight papooses during the year helped increase the number of reservation dwellers in the tribes from 572 in 1960 to 585 in 1961. It's impossible to keep an accurate count of the number of Indians who are eligible to live on the 4,351-acre reservation, since the Alabamas and Coushattas are free to leave and return at will and many choose to live off the allotted land.

In spite of an annual legislative appropriation, the Indians are self-sustaining to a consider-

from County ASCS Committee

RURAL LIFE SUNDAY AND SOIL STEWARDSHIP

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman recently called attention to the annual observance of Rural Life Sunday and Soil Stewardship Week. Rural Life Sunday is May 27. Soil Stewardship Week begins on Rural Life Sunday and continues through the following Sunday, June 3.

"In observing these events," Secretary Freeman said, "all of us should reflect upon the blessings that have come from the richness of our land and the skill of our people."

"We should express special thanks for our great human and natural resources, be appreciative of our vast agricultural abundance, and seek ways of working together to improve and conserve these precious gifts of the Creator."

1962 WHEAT MARKETING QUOTA PENALTY RATE

The 1962 wheat penalty rate is $1.59 per bushel which is 65% of the May 1 wheat parity price. NO GRAZING AFTER MAY 1 ON DIVERTED ACREAGE

This is a reminder to producers who have wheat and feed grain diverted acreage that no grazing is permitted after May 1 on the designated area. Keep in mind that this provision applies on corn and grain sorghum diverted even though we have not measured the designated acreage. Measurements on corn and grain sorghum diverted acreage will probably begin about July 5th.

SOIL BANK FARMERS

In case you have some permitted acreage for planting some crops, check with the ASCS of rice and be sure of the acreage allowed before planting. Continue to keep all livestock off your diverted soil bank acres.

1962 ACP PROGRAM

We urge all producers who have been issued approval to finish this work within the time limit, or cancel. Our ACP funds are low at this time and any funds obligated that you will not use may be needed for additional approvals. The County Committee has added springing of Midland Bermuda to the 1962 ACP Handbook. Producers interested in this practice should come by this office for further information. Cost-share is limited to 10.0 acres per farm. You are especially invited to come by the ASCS office and discuss your farm problem and needs and let us explain the program to you. We are here to serve the farmers and ranchers of Donley County.

MAINTAIN EGG QUALITY FOR TOP PROFITS

College Station — Profit, service, customer satisfaction and good marketing management are four important objectives for poultrymen, retailers and other handlers of eggs. This is particularly true if their business is to be successful, points out F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. These people must be alert at all times for handling practices which will maintain the high quality that eggs have when laid.

Eggs are a perishable food item, thus heat is one of the most important factors affecting egg quality. This becomes especially important at this time of the year when the temperature is above 80 degrees almost every day. Careful attention must be given to the conditions under which eggs are kept if quality is to be maintained and consumers are to receive satisfaction, says Beamblossom.

Time elapsed from laying to use is another important factor in quality maintenance. Heat and time are sometimes referred to as the most important enemies of egg quality.

If poultrymen who produce and sell eggs on the basis of grade do the things that are necessary to maintain quality, then it becomes equally important that dealers, wholesalers and retail distributors keep eggs cool, handle them carefully and package them in clean, well-constructed containers.

If eggs are produced by hens bred for high quality egg production, and if eggs have been properly handled to maintain this quality, the poultryman should sell 90 to 93 percent AA or A quality, points out the specialist.

Market value and net profits will vary according to the percent of the different grades of eggs produced. This is true regardless of the price received, number of hens or rate of production. The producer who sells only 75 percent A quality will receive much less for his eggs than will the producer who sells 90 percent or more A quality.

If you are interested in more detailed information on how to increase your profits, render greater service, give complete satisfaction and have good market management practices, Beamblossom suggests you contact your local county agent.

Why Doctors Leave England

Nationalization of medicine in England has been a mistake. It is reducing the quality of medical care and is causing hundreds of doctors to leave their country each year to practice in other countries.

That is the informed view of Dr. John R. Seale, a British physician, who recently visited this country on a lecture tour in which he described the operations of Britain's National Health Service — for which "socialized medicine" is a totally accurate synonym — and in which he dealt with the sorry effect of government control of medical practice.

The loss of doctors in Britain has reached serious dimensions. According to Dr. Seale, in the last 10 years the number who have left for Australia and North America has been well over five times that prevailing in the 1930's. And the total of 600 a year is equivalent to a third of the output of British medical schools. In his words, "The reasons for their departure is that in the countries of the New World the professional freedom of doctors is greater, the opportunity to practice medicine well is enhanced, and the financial rewards are more appropriate to the years of study, the long hours of work, and the heavy responsibilities which doctors carry."

Moreover, the cost of Britain's socialized medicine program has become a major national problem. Then, far more important, the quality of medical care has gone steadily downhill. Indeed, the situation has become so serious that, in Dr. Seale's view, within two years public discontent will require a major change in the health services, if not a complete elimination of the system.

That remains to be seen. Meanwhile, here is an outstanding case where the New World — notably the U.S. — can learn and profit from the Old.

"Once you've typed on an electric portable, you'll never type on a manual typewriter again!"

Coronet

- 5 repeat actions
- Fastest typing
- No pounding
- Even typing
- 10 clear carbons

Electricity lets you underline a full row of words just by holding down the key, rat-tat-tat, just like that. The same is true for dashes, spaces, dots and the letter "X" for crossing out.

Electricity lets you type as fast as you want even if you're a speed champ. And there's no jumbled letters, no jumpy lines, no uneven spacing.

Electricity does the work for you. There's no pounding the keys. And you can adjust the touch from featherlight to the same as a manual's.

Electricity gives you an expert's even touch on the keys. All letters are typed with the same even blackness... your typing looks perfect.

You adjust a dial and can make up to ten carbon copies. More important, the tenth is just about as clear and readable as the first.

SMITH-CORONA CORONET—Crisp, modern styling. Four decorator colors. Full office keyboard. Choice of many type styles. Lightweight all-steel carrying case. ONLY $10 DOWN.

SAVE WHISKEY CREEK!

Place-names are a profound part of a nation's past. They vitalize its history. Given, for the most part, by pioneers, they provide color, drama, life, to all of a country's varied regions.

But, sad to relate, in recent years there have been many efforts, some successful, to abandon the old, rude place-names in an apparent effort to "pretty" things up. The new names have been perfectly described by the late Lewis A. McArthur, who wrote a classic history of Oregon place-names, as "gutless expressions of today."

Take, if you have a strong stomach, just two examples. Once there was an Oregon road called Wolf Creek — named for the obvious reason that in the old days wolves abounded. It was renamed Sunset Highway — a name which is duplicated just about everywhere, and has all the character of a jelly fish.

Up in Victoria, British Columbia, there is a Foul Bay Road. It's a wonderful name, redolent of another, more vigorous era. But a group is trying to change it to something "prettier." Happily, other citizens are battling this effort — and may they succeed!

To sum up — next time you hear of a drive to change the name of Whiskey Creek to River-view — draw your guns, Partner!

The time has come for the people of Texas to go to the polls June 2nd and put an end to state government controlled by out-of-state political machinery representing the Eastern and Northern monopolies and their money bags.

DON YARBOROUGH is an independent and dedicated Texan who has nobody's ring in his nose.

DON YARBOROUGH has never had the Eastern and Northern political connections to be appointed to a high political office. His opponent for Governor in the run-off received an appointment which is a high honor in itself. WHY DID HE QUIT BEFORE HIS TERM EXPIRED? If elected Governor of Texas, HOW SOON WILL IT BE BEFORE THIS SAME NORTHERN AND EASTERN INFLUENCE DECIDE HE SHOULD RESIGN AS GOVERNOR?

Ask yourself this question before you vote June 2nd.

Control of a man is a bad thing!

When it comes time to cast our ballots for Governor June 2nd, it will be up to the people to make up their minds as to who is the best qualified. Moisture Past Week Spotted With Damaging Rain And Hail Donley County is still short of moisture with the planting season at hand. Some parts of the county received too much moisture at one time while other parts received a little or none.

The area west of Martin received a 5 inch deluge last Wednesday night that washed out crops and damaged fields. This streak of moisture traveled to the northeast with the Country Club receiving nearly two inches. Hail also accompanied the storm.

Sunday afternoon, hail damaged crops in the area around Lelia Lake, Clarendon and northward where Jericho reported 2½ inches with destructive hail. Here in town our official weather observer recorded .26 inch. The rains have been of the section line calibre and in most instances have been accompanied by strong winds which have also caused considerable damage. The wind last Wednesday night caused considerable damage to barns and other structures along the east part of Clarendon and north through the Midway community and the area east and north of Hedley experienced a similar wind.

Farmers are still looking forward to a good rain of the general soaking nature with no hail. Earl Butler of Borger visited Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butler.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP

person as citizens of our great country of the importance of conserving our soil. All churches in Donley County have received literature, and plan special sermons concerning this great problem which we must all become interested in.

Man was created and placed in "the Garden of Eden to dress it and keep it" (Gen. 2:15). As time passed, man departed from God in all the things which God had created him for. This departure still continues not only in the spiritual realm, but the physical as well. Man continues to rebel against God's plan for man. We have only to look at history to see how plain the story is of man's self destruction through his abuse of what God has so greatly blessed him with.

It has been said, "YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF, YOUR CHILDREN AND YOUR COUNTRY TO BE A GOOD STEWARD OF THE SOIL." As a land owner you have been entrusted with such land only for a relatively short time. And the responsibility applies in every case "YOU ARE TO DRESS AND CARE FOR IT." Could it be a sin against God and men yet unborn to abuse the soil? This should prompt us all to look, and take a careful look at our soil and learn what we can do to be the proper kind of steward.

The Donley County Soil Conservation District was organized for the sole purpose of helping land owners learn what they can do to conserve their soil. We ask your help in accomplishing this goal, in making this a better place in which to live.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw attended the STABSQSA, Barber Shop Quartet singing, in Amarillo Saturday night.

numbers have been changed, it is going to be a difficult job for the clerks to get the mail put up. You are asked to check the items over good that you receive in your box and see if the mail belongs to you as many pieces of mail are directed to a box number. If it does not belong to you, please leave it at the postal window before leaving the post office as it is much more trouble to return mail that you have taken home or to your business and many times possible important mail for someone is never returned. That someone might be you the next time, so if everyone will be considerate, all mail will be delivered to the proper person.

When you are writing some person or business, be sure to give them your new box number as this will certainly help speed up mail delivery. Locate your new box and learn your new box number as putting up of the mail will be delayed every time you make a request at the window.

Post Office employees have been moving items to the new location and getting set up the past two days and burned the midnight oil last night in an effort to give you the best service possible. Your cooperation and patience will certainly be appreciated by these men who have a big job set out before them... learning the new arrangement of boxes and getting them together with the patron or patrons receiving their mail in that box.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carter attended graduation exercises at West Texas State Sunday afternoon where their son, Jimmy, was a member of the graduating class.

Periodic Spraying Recommended For Screwworm Control

Periodic spraying of livestock every 2 to 3 weeks will aid greatly in the prevention of screwworm infestations, County Agent H. M. Breedlove emphasized today.

Stockmen are urged to spray their livestock regularly to prevent as many screwworm cases as possible. Every screwworm case which is prevented or controlled by chemical treatment will also aid greatly the effectiveness of the overall screwworm eradication program.

Although several insecticides will effectively control screwworms, County Agent Breedlove said spray of Co-Ral or ronnel (Korlan) give better protection from screwworm attack. These sprays also will give good control of most other external parasites such as horn flies, lice and ticks.

Stockmen also are urged to inspect all livestock regularly and treat all wounds promptly. Ten or more worms should be collected from deep in each wound and taken to your local county agricultural agent or mailed to Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program, Box 969, Mission, Texas.
