WHY AN EDITOR WENT FISHING
An Oregon editor recently wrote the editor of a Kansas weekly newspaper asking why he was no longer receiving that paper in exchange. The reply: "We suspended publication several months ago. Its demise was brought on by labor trouble, the More Abundant Life, the New Thought, the economy of plenty, Marxian liberalism, punitive idealism and the New Frontier handcuffs which I found even more irksome than the Modern Republican straitjacket. I managed to save enough through the years to keep me away from the poor farm so I shut down and went fishing." That tells a long and tangled story — with admirable brevity and point!

ually the damage has been done. Of course we can always say that we are sorry, but these are such hard words to speak. When we know someone who speaks gently and kindly most of the time we find folks hunting out their company. They become like the cool shade in the summertime, a haven from the strokes of the burning sun. They make one feel better like the cooling breeze from a mountain lake as it fans our worried brow. We all know the value of kind words, and we all enjoy hearing them. It is such a mystery why it becomes so difficult to form the habit of using them.

I believe that it was Hambone who said recently; "We can get most everything in cans these days, ceptin' religion." He is so right. We are all looking for something that can be had easily and quickly. We like it instant and push button.

Almost everyone knows the difference between right and wrong, but the problem develops in that we hate to make the decision.

There are a few things that most folks agree on; they like to sit in the front of the bus, at the back of the church, and drive down the middle of the way.

Two butchers were in stiff competition for the business of a small town; one placed up a sign reading "Meat fit for a King." The other came back with a larger sign reading; "God Save The King."

A good way to remember to think of your wife's birthday is to forget it once . . . We almost did it again . . .

Housing must have been serious when "The old lady lived in a shoe," but with all the complicated problems of modern day living many of her descendants find themselves living on a shoestring, and even that has to be re-financed every now and then.

Most anyone can figure out the rules for success; now if someone could find a way to make them work out without our having to work, then things would really be looking up.

Most of us are not satisfied just to get our rights, we even want to get by with our wrongs. Nothing could be more tragic than to get our just rewards. We all are hoping for a bonus. Even at the mighty judgment day our longing will be for mercy and not justice . . . One of the easiest ways to get caught in the act is to stop and look at the way our neighbor is behaving . . .

GRASS ROOTS OPINION
DUBLIN, GA., COURIER-HERALD: "The formation of the European Common Market is not only posing a gigantic headache for the United States; Soviet Russia sees in the pact, that starts as an economic alliance, a potential of military unity the Reds don't like. While we are trying to tailor our economy to fit into the pattern of the future of the European Common Market, the Reds are taking the offensive in an effort to disrupt it before it gets really united and operating."

COURTS COULD ROCK "MERIT" PLAN — If the Texas Supreme Court inherits a recent traffic law case from the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals, State Board of Insurance's merit-rating plan of auto insurance rates, as well as the whole driver license suspension law, could be upset.

Court of Appeals upheld a Bexar County court ruling that when 28-year-old Billy Van Williams mailed in his payment for a traffic fine, it was not a "conviction" on which his driver's license could be suspended.

When Insurance Board Chairman Ned Price learned of the decision, he said: "My quick opinion is that if the courts finally hold such are not convictions, then they would not be, for purposes of the point system of the safe driving insurance plan."

If the Department of Public Safety appeals the case to the Supreme Court and that court approves the appellate court's decision, a driver then could avoid the "extra punishment" of higher insurance rates and loss of license by paying his fine by mail.

INSURANCE RATES UNDER REVIEW — State Board of Insurance is studying statistics on Hurricane Carla, and other wind-storm and fire losses for 1961, with an eye to deciding how high Texas insurance rates should run for the year beginning July 1.

All Carla claims weren't paid off in 1961, but it's been estimated that total losses may come to about $110,000,000. Insurance companies paid off $94,674,715 for 1961 windstorm losses in the inland area, compared to 1960 losses of $24,769,844. Losses on coastal property came to $63,086,902 in 1961, compared to the 1940-61 total of $148,478,305.

These figures barely begin to cover the field, because they reflect standard fire and windstorm policies only. They do not include new homeowners' or comprehensive dwelling policies.

SCHOOL LANDS CALLED TAX-SAVERS — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler referred to Texas' 2,500,000 school children as his "special clients" when he gave a report on state lands Friday.

He said that public school land, which is administered by the Land Board, has produced nearly $600,000,000 for the public schools. The college and university estate has rendered an additional $400,000,000.

Sadler stated that the two school domains already have saved Texans a billion dollars in direct taxes. He predicted that his office — which also runs the Veterans Land Program — will do a land-slide business this year: buying and selling 3,500 farms; checking 9,000 oil and gas leases, and leasing $18,000,000 acres of land.

PINK BOLLWORMS UNDER CONTROL — Some 4,800 cotton planting permits have been issued in Cameron, Willacy, Hidalgo and Starr counties under the pink bollworm cotton escrow program. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said early surveys show good control of the pink bollworm so far.

Escrow program is a voluntary plan by Valley farmers in which they deposit $7.50 for each bale ginned. Money is returned if their cotton fields are cleared of insect-protecting stalks by the plow-up deadline.

SHORT SNORTS
Gov. Price Daniel said Texas "lost one of its most distinguished jurists and beloved citizens" when Judge John E. Hickman died recently. Judge Hickman served 34 years on appellate courts, including a tenure on the Eastland Court of Appeals and 12 years as Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, State Librarian, announced the reservation of 16 one-hour parking spaces for visitors to the Texas Archives and Library Building on the crowded capitol grounds.

Texas Association for Retarded Children gave Governor Daniel a special award for supporting expanded state services for retarded children.

When the Texas Navy passed in review for state officials at San Jacinto Day ceremonies, it was the largest procession in the little navy's history — some 200 boats.

DUAL PURPOSE—Units of the Army's new Mobile Assault Bridge are shown, in this artist's sketch, being linked together to span a river. Other units can be linked together as a ferry. Developed by the Army Engineers, the units are individually powered and can travel on land or water. The new equipment will be able to keep pace with modern, mechanized armies and speed river crossings of large forces.

BRIDGE UNITS—The ramp approach unit (top) and bridge deck section (bottom) of the new Mobile Assault Bridge, developed by the Army Engineers. Both units turn hydraulically to a position at right angles with the boat-truck so that as many units as are needed can be joined to span a stream.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

"The Rightist Crisis In Our Churches" in the April 24 issue of "Look" magazine is well worth reading.

If any of the Radical Rightists read it they will probably want to have J. Edgar Hoover investigated as he says, "Unfortunately there are those who make the very mistakes the Communists are so careful to avoid..."

"These individuals concentrate on the negative rather than on the positive. They are merely against communism without being for any positive measures to eliminate the social, political and economic frictions which the Communists are so adroit at exploiting. These persons would do well to recall a recent lesson from history. Both Hitler and Mussolini were against communism. However, it was by what they stood for, not against, that history has judged them."

The article closes with the following quote: "There is at least one group in America, however, that look with complete favor upon the campaign against the churches. The FBI has evidence that the real, Moscow-directed Communists are jubilant about the whole thing.

"This should not surprise anyone," a high FBI official says. "The Communists are in favor of anything that will weaken America's churches and discredit their leaders. Having failed themselves to infiltrate the churches on any substantial scale, they are naturally delighted to see someone else sowing as much discord and dissension in the churches as they would have done, had they succeeded in their own efforts."

Parents of high school and college students will be interested in the article, "Are The Colleges Killing Education" in the May "Atlantic Monthly." Always remember that book learning is only a part of the truly educated man.

One of the friends of the library gave three new books during National Library Week. Another gave a new children's book and another two big stacks of current magazines. Many thanks to each of you.

IMPORTED BIRDS BEING STUDIED IN LAMAR COUNTY

AUSTIN — Some 400 French redlegged partridges have been released in the prairie grass and meadows of Lamar County in recent weeks, according to W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

This is a European import, native to France, and the birds have been successfully transplanted to England. Brood stock was obtained from England about four years ago, through the cooperation and recommendation of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The purpose of the releases is to make a study of the exotic game bird, to determine if it is adaptable to the Texas environment, and if it will be a suitable game bird. The release site in Lamar County was selected because conditions appear to be similar to the native habitat in France and England. To date, approximately 700 have been released in the study area.

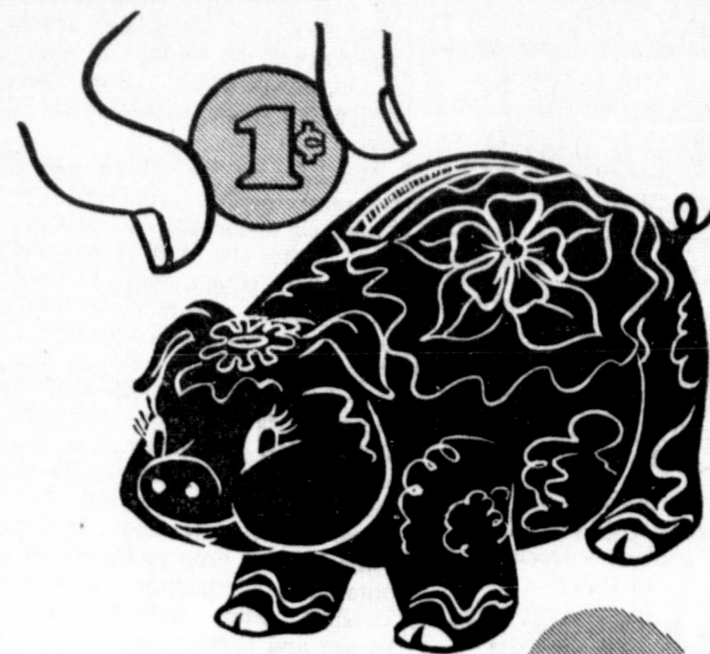

The redlegged partridge is from three to four times the weight of the bobwhite quail. They are reported to eat a considerable amount of green foods, and because of their preference for more open range with a minimum of escape cover, they are not likely to compete directly with bobwhites for available food.

A check of the banded birds shows that to date they have remained within the study area. A limited number of redlegs are being raised at the Tyler game bird farm for this study, and none of them will be available for general release until such time as the study has accomplished its purpose.
