By JOHN PAYNE The Clarendon Little League held their initial workouts Sunday and Monday. Much enthusiasm was noted by the turnouts this early in the season and the workers of the Little League are positive of a better and stronger League this year than ever before.

If any boys haven't signed with a team, they may contact Bill Hicks, J. B. Melton or Horace McClellan and they can give you the needed information.

To date, the Pony League hasn't got into full swing so any boys between 13-15 years of age wish to play baseball this summer, may contact Johnny Grady and he will give you the necessary information. Rita Joyce Barrett Dies In Fire That Destroys Family Home Thursday

Miss Rita Joyce Barrett, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barrett, lost her life when fire destroyed the family home here about six o'clock last Thursday morning. Mr. Barrett is in Adair hospital where he is reported improving from severe burns suffered over approximately 40 percent of his body. Mrs. Barrett suffered injury to her right hand and severe shock. A son, Jerry, received minor injuries and another youth, Jerry Wright, who was making his home with the Barretts, received no serious injury.

Mr. Barrett reported that gas escaping from a hot water heater or possibly a floor furnace apparently filled the portion of the house near Rita's bedroom and a terrific explosion occurred. Due to the fact that Rita's little Bulldog was lying on the bed with her, indicated that both Rita and the dog had been overcome by fumes prior to the explosion.

Mr. Barrett suffered his injuries when he made two attempts through the blazing inferno to save his daughter. The fire enveloped the house so fast that it was impossible to reach her. The entire two-story structure burned so fast that nothing was saved and the entire group barely escaped the flame with nothing but their night clothes.

The flame engulfed the house so fast that firemen were unable to check it. A strong wind assisted the blaze and endangered homes across the street. Residents were busy putting out grass fires and wetting the roofs of their homes as large sparks filled the air for several hundred feet.

The Barretts have expressed their deep appreciation for the manner in which local residents came to their assistance in this great time of sorrow and misfortune. We certainly would never want to leave a community comprised of people as fine as we have here, Mr. Barrett stated. We plan to re-establish our home here just as soon as feasible, he added.

Shown here is what remains of the two-story home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barrett after a fire early Thursday morning that took the life of their 12 year old daughter, Rita Joyce.

Damage Done to Cause of Freedom By Inappropriate Labels

An immense amount of damage is being done to the cause of freedom in America by a successful campaign to divide Americans over labels. This campaign has enlisted the aid of many outstanding citizens of this country; it is evident in the daily newspaper accounts of speeches given across the country.

Many outstanding Americans are being trapped into making statements which can be twisted into something other than the intention of the speaker. We hear a great deal of talk about extremists, talk which is used to cast a shadow over the integrity of many groups of loyal Americans who are not afraid to speak their minds on subjects concerning the future of freedom, though their views may be in the minority. Efforts are being made to shame all Americans from outward displays of patriotism by the use of sneer words and smear words.

This campaign has its origin within the inner councils of the psychological warfare school of the Mistaken. It is tragic that many Americans forget that our country and the freedom we now enjoy came about by the efforts of extremists. It is tragic that Americans cannot disagree honestly about any issue concerning our government and its course without recourse to a tactic which was originated by the international communists conspiracy—the tactic of vituperation for anyone who disagrees.

This land of the free has always been big enough even to tolerate error, so long as reason was left free to combat that error. Free Americans will not let the present campaign of intimidation succeed. Now is the time for all Americans to speak up, for in the dull, gray area of silence and conformity lies the total surrender of freedom as we know it.

There must be respect for the right of others to hold opinions which differ from ours, just as there must be courage to espouse those principles which we believe vital to the continuation of freedom. When Americans who disagree on political, economic, social or religious matters fall to the level of castigating each other rather than standing firmly and logically for the principles in which we believe, then we have truly reached "the maximum hour of danger" to freedom.

An immense amount of nonsense has been poured out over the words "liberal" and "conservative." Like a flock of timid sheep we have been stampeded by it. Every candidate for public office shouts his liberalism or his conservatism and beats his breast to prove that he is more liberal or more conservative than his opponent. Thoughtless Americans have tried to smear into silence everyone who asked what it means to be a liberal or a conservative. The words, "radical," "tory," "extremist," "super-patriot," "left-wing," and "right-wing" are filling the air.

Americans who permit themselves to be coerced into silence or intimidated into inactivity by this broadside of a Mistaken ideology are letting freedom go by default.

CARL ALLMOND, CANDIDAT FOR COMMISSIONER OF PRECINCT 2 DISCUSSES POINT NO. 7

Conservatism:

Conservatism seems to be catching on in the last few years. However, I am afraid some are using the word loosely. There are the left and the right conservatives, which I do not take much stock in. I do not believe in being radical on any question. There are times that being too conservative can cost extra money in the long run.

My definition of being conservative is the use of good sound judgment and adhering to sound principles. My policy will be to weigh each problem before a decision is made, and that decision should be in the best interest for all concerned.

GOOD MINNOW HOLDERS

When wade fishing you can make good use of your wife's old nylon stockings. They make great minnow holders.

Fasten the sock to your waders and cut a hole near the top of the stockings so you can reach in after the bait.

First, however, be sure to single lightly around the openings so the fibers won't run.

Flashlight Holder

Ever have trouble keeping a flashlight beam shining where you want it when camping out and you need both hands free?

Try this: Drive an axe into the ground, then tape or tie the flashlight to the axe handle.

All that's necessary then is to adjust the handle to focus the beam where you want it.

At a joint meeting of the Governor's Highway Safety conference and the Texas Safety Association, Gov. Price Daniel said that good traffic safety legislation is still lacking because citizens "have never taken enough time and trouble to tell their legislators exactly what they want."

He said that five bills which have failed to pass will be introduced in the January session, "regardless of the identity of your next governor." These concern:

1. State financing to pay the salaries of driver-education teachers in public schools.
2. Complete revision of the driver-licensing law.
3. A chemical test law for use in cases of driving while intoxicated — designed to free the innocent and provide medical evidence against the guilty.

4. Adequate city and county traffic courts of record to handle traffic cases with efficiency and justice.

5. Authorization for additional highway patrolmen and additional pay for Department of Public Safety personnel.

Although the Legislature lately approved 51 additional highway patrolmen, a $300 increase in pay and set a floor of $4,947 annual salary, the governor reported the patrol still is 150 men short of its authorized strength of 804. He feels the pay hike was insufficient.

Teachers Quizzed

Texas school teachers are pretty good at answering their examinations.

Texas Education Agency sent out questionnaires to about 95,000 school people. They expected a 30 per cent return but 92,000 answered.

Questions were part of a Tex-er Legislative Council study of teacher training.

Results will be fed through computers to give alwmakers an idea of what school people think about the way public schools are run and how teachers are trained.

PLANTING TIME FOR TEMPORARY PASTURES

Summer temporary pastures are a good bet for anyone owning beef or dairy cattle, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. These pastures produce better quality forage than permanent pastures and this results in more beef or milk per acre.

In addition, they permit resting of permanent pastures and ranges, and they often provide a source of hay.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Loula G. Erdman to Speak Here Monday

Perhaps the best known author in the Panhandle, Miss Loula Grace Erdman, will speak to the college and high school students at an assembly program next Monday morning at 10:20. Miss Erdman has been writing books and novels since 1944 and is a long time teacher of creative writing at West Texas State College in Canyon.

Miss Erdman's first book, "Separate Star," was published in 1944. It was a career-type book for girls about teaching. It was such a success that she published a sequel, "Fair Is the Morning," the next year. One of her most outstanding books, "The Years of the Locust," was published in 1946 and won the Dodd Mead-Redbook $10,000 prize. It is a story of her native Missouri. However, perhaps her greatest book, so far as the people in the Panhandle are concerned, is "The Edge of Time," published in 1950. This book deals with people of this part of the country and tells a stirring story of the early ranchers and homesteaders. Among her most recent books are "The Good Land," "The Short Summer," and "Many a Voyage."

Miss Erdman does very careful research for all her writing. She searches out the primary source for any fact. Much travel, reading, and fact finding, even the mapping out of journeys are not uncommon to her in her preparation for writing.

All of her adult books have been reprinted in England, Australia and New Zealand. Most of them have been transcribed into Braille. She has had short stories and articles in many of the leading national magazines including Readers Digest, Woman's Home Companion, Ladies Home Journal, and Redbook.

Anyone interested in hearing Miss Erdman is invited to come to the College Auditorium next Monday morning at 10:20 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Dennis and W. C. also Herman Dennis of Memphis were visitors Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vallance and family.

Agriculture Clinic Draws Interested Crowd Here Monday

The agriculture clinic held here at the Mulkey theatre this past Monday was a big success says County Agent H. M. Breedlove. Lee Shaller acted as emcee for the occasion.

The biggest crowd for any one talk was sixty-five and over a hundred different farmers and ranchers visited for various parts of the program during the day.

Breedlove says that Mr. Gary Barnhill was a good host at the Mulkey theatre and everyone wishes to thank him for the use of the theatre. The Chamber of Commerce of Clarendon fed the group at noon. Many farmers and ranchers asked that the Chamber of Commerce be thanked publicly for this fine gesture toward the agriculture meeting.

Different parts of the program discussed by specialists from the Texas A&M College Extension Service were, irrigation, soils and fertilizers, cotton insect control, agriculture outlook, screw worm control and Brucellosis eradication in Texas by Dr. Upchurch, brucellosis project leader from Austin, Texas.

After the brucellosis program was discussed and a map of Texas was shown, on which it showed that about half the counties in Texas were now in the program. Ranchers discussed the program and asked Dr. Upchurch questions regarding brucellosis control. Mr. Schultz, one of the managers of the RO Ranch took the floor and requested Donley County to go into the program. It was put to a vote and all livestock men present were in favor of brucellosis control in Donley County. Dr. Upchurch said the program would probably start this fall.

Petitions will be circulated by livestock men on which seventy-five percent of the livestock owners in the county representing fifty-one percent of the cattle in the county must sign before the program starts. Spencer Sitter, chairman of the Donley County animal health committee will call the board of directors and all committeemen together in the near future to start work on the program.

A Brother's Account of Tragic Fire

By JERRY BARRETT

Wednesday night was very average. Rita and I had gone to choir practice which she enjoyed a lot. She seemed especially happy on this night, full of energy and mischief, playing with the other children.

At 9 p.m. she was singing songs, trying to choose one for the coming Sunday. Later, after the rest of the family had gone to bed she and I were still up. I was foraging for food, but she was studying her Bible. I was the last person to ever see her alive.

The following account is the product of what I lived and what I was told. I have tried to gather the information as precisely as possible. This was complicated by the nature of the incident, the swiftness of its occurrence and second hand material, but here, as well as I can ascertain, is what took place.

For an educated guess, this is how the fire started: gas fumes from a hot water heater in the basement seeped under the house and into the house through a floor furnace in front of my sister's room. Apparently, according to the will of God, the gas made her totally unconscious or took her life, for her body and that of her beloved dog were found on her bed as though she had never moved. The pilot light strangely failed to ignite the gas, but when the whole furnace came on, the first explosion occurred. I don't know whether it was the explosion or mother beating on the window that woke me up. All I know is that I sat straight up in bed. The door to my room was nothing but a wall of fire, I knew that there were only two ways to get out; one was the door which was full of fire and the other was the window. I jumped out of bed and started beating on the window. Jerry Wright was up by this time. He asked me something but I can't remember what it was. I was in such a daze it seemed like a nightmare. I was still beating on the window when Jerry came up behind me and kicked it. It finally gave way and I dived out.

Jerry said that he ran back and tried to close the door. I guess he thought that it would keep the fire out. Just before he got to it, the furnace exploded again. It blew him back up against the bed. He said he then ran to the closet and grabbed some clothes and threw them out.

The window. The fire was just beginning to get in the room and he thought he was on fire, so he came out the window and into the bushes.

I ran around to the front of the house where mother was. Jim, my dad, was just coming back out of the house where he had made two attempts to get into Rita's room. I know how he must have felt because the heat was all that touched me but he ran through the hall which was like a volcanic inferno. He said he couldn't find Rita and asked if she had gotten out. Until this time, I didn't realize that my little sister was still in there. My dad ran back into the house and was blown back out. The porch fell right after he got out from under it. I will never forget how the windows sounded as they popped out because of the heat. I can still hear those awful sounds at night.

I don't remember whether I ran to Rita's window or to the kitchen first, but both rooms were just coal black. The smoke was so thick I could just barely touch it. I couldn't get through the kitchen and when I was standing on Rita's window sill the smoke and heat was so bad it pushed me back to the ground. It seemed like hours before I could get to some fresh air. I didn't know the wind was blowing but I have been told that it was about 50 miles per hour. The grass was on fire and hot coals were blowing all over the yard.

I know that neither Jerry or I went through half what Mother and Dad did. Mother just beat her poor little hands to shreds. She tried to get into the living room window and couldn't because of the screen. Then she got on Dad's shoulders and tried to get into Rita's room. She blew the smoke from his nose and mouth and took her housecoat and smothered out the fire in his hair.

I am not writing this to make people feel sorry for me but to show how strong God is. I think God took Rita because she was best prepared to meet Him. I know that she and her dog went to sleep with us but woke up with her Creator, without knowing or feeling a thing. I also believe that if it wasn't His will that He would have let one of us reach her.

The morning of the fire, my sister-in-law became a Christian. Friday night God saved another soul and changed the lives of some of my friends. I have so much to be happy for . . . and I'll never forget the sound of all the people at the funeral, rising to pay their respects. As David once wrote, "Surely goodness and mercy will follow me for all the rest of my days."

"One Big Trouble with the American public these days is that they have come to believe that it is easier to vote for something they want than to work for it." — Okabena, Minnesota Press.

"The inclusive character of IRS tax collecting operations brought a cynical comment from a taxpayer who was called in to account for some items of his income. 'I don't know who will be our first man on the moon,' he observed ironically, 'but I do know who will be the second. He will be an IRS income tax collector.'" — Grants, New Mexico, Beacon

National FHA Week April 1-8

One week each year is set aside as National FHA Week so Future Homemakers of America all across the country can work together at the same time to promote and interpret objectives and projects. This special week gives us an opportunity to tell others about the many contributions F.H.A. makes to the improvement of personal, family and community living and to emphasize what is taught in homemaking classes. This national organization is for students studying Homemaking in high school and is co-sponsored by the Home Economics Education branch of the United States Office of Education and by the American Home Economics Association.

The Clarendon Chapter planned four major projects for the week. On Sunday the girls in each church contributed a red rose to a bouquet for the morning church service. The red rose is the flower of our organization and symbolizes youth's interest in community activities.

On Monday, officers for the school year 1962-63 were elected; an exhibit was displayed across the corridor from the school cafeteria; and ribbons were distributed for all F.H.A. members and schoolmates to wear, marking these important dates. In the business session of their regular meeting, secret pals were revealed and gifts collected for the Barrett family.

The local F.H.A. has an active membership of sixty-three members. Honorary members include Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Carol McClellan, Mrs. Barcus Antrobus and Mrs. Velma Bourland. The Advisory Council is elected each year. Five pairs of parents are selected. They include Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gilbreth, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crutchfield and Rev. and Mrs. Patterson.

Major projects of the Chapter include entry in County Fair, two planned programs a month, two joint F.F.A. - F.H.A. socials, and Sweetheart Banquet. They do volunteer service for other civic clubs. Thirty girls are working on Junior Degree, four Chapter degree candidates, and one State degree.

F.H.A. trains youth for leadership in the community. Rep.

A memorandum to Senior Citizens of this Area:

Please make note of the News Release in this issue of The Leader regarding availability of the New SENIOR TEXAN SERVICE through Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas.

Already in 1962, 220,000 Texans, age 65 and over, have been provided Blue Cross coverage through the Old Age Assistance Program.

For those of you NOT UNDER OLD AGE ASSISTANCE, here is your chance to enroll in a comprehensive prepayment plan which includes hospital, doctor care — even nursing home care. It may be obtained by any Texan in reasonably good health, whether age 65 or 105.

The Hospital Business Office has application cards and will gladly assist you in applying. With this plan, needed protection can be obtained by the Aged not previously covered.

For the Board of Managers,
Jane Bownds, Sec'y-Treas.

Senior Texan Service Now Available

A completely new and comprehensive health care prepayment plan for Texans 65 and over, which includes not only hospital and doctor services but nursing home care as well, was announced recently by Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas.

L. H. Allen, Houston, president, and W. R. McBee, executive director, Texas Blue Cross-Blue Shield, announced this new coverage which is called SENIOR TEXAN SERVICE.

Much interest has been focused on the matter of health care for the aged and it is often erroneously stated that those persons over age 65 cannot obtain prepaid health benefit protection. President Allen stated, "We want it to be known by all people that we in Texas are vitally interested in this problem and we strongly feel that it can and should be solved at a local and state level and not through federal legislation and control." He further stated that this plan with its liberal benefits may be obtained by any Texan in reasonably good health whether age 65 or 105.

The Plan provides extremely broad benefits, not only for hospital and doctors' services, but recognizes the need and makes available services in qualified and approved nursing homes for medically required care. McBee commented, "We in Texas have always tried to make available prepayment plans to fit the needs of Texans."

McBee further stated, "Recent census figures indicate there are some 745,000 persons age 65 and over in Texas. On Jan. 1, 1962, 220,000 of them became covered by Blue Cross through the old age assistance vendor payment program—an additional 80 to 100,000 have protection through Blue Cross group and non-group contracts. Many of the aged have good protection through commercial insurance companies. With this new plan, VIRTUALLY ALL THOSE NOT NOW PROTECTED can now obtain coverage."

The SENIOR TEXAN SERVICE PLAN became available on March 18, 1962. J. R. Bartlett, President of Adair Hospital Board, stated, "This is no doubt a red letter day for those Texans, who, because of age, have been unable to obtain adequate prepaid health care protection. The business office of the local City-County Hospital has a supply of information sheets and application cards. The staff will gladly assist any applicant."

BASKETBALL TRYOUTS SET FOR APRIL 13

Clarendon Junior College will sponsor basketball tryouts on Friday, April 13th, at 3:00 o'clock. The purpose of these tryouts is to select boys for the Bulldog team next year. It is expected that at least 30 boys from 21 different high schools will be here for the tryouts. The tryouts will be conducted by C. R. Brown, who coached the Bulldogs this year after Don Dorman was called into the service.

At least five-ex-Bulldogs will bring players to the tryouts. Bob Garten from Arnett, Oklahoma, and Lloyd Stevens from Ron, Oklahoma, will bring some of their boys here along with Billy White of Hedley, Teddy Bedwell of Flomot and Don Johnson of Adrian.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK AT CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Bill Anderson, missionary to the Philippines will speak and show a film Sunday night at the Calvary Baptist Church. The public is invited to come and hear this man of God and to see his film. What do our missionaries go through with as they help carry out the Great Commission? Why are they severely persecuted? Why are the windows in their churches broken out during the worship service? For the answers to these questions, come and hear Bro. Anderson. He has a message that every Christian needs to hear. "It is hoped," said Rev. Hill, "that our church will be filled to overflowing Sunday night and that God will speak to those who need to make a decision for Him."

Bro. Hill wishes to thank everyone who made the Youth Fellowship Meeting a great success last Friday night. The Calvary Baptist Young People won the Attendance Banner again, with 19 young people from Clarendon being present. There was an overflow crowd present with some standing. Several young people came forward to dedicate their lives to God; one young boy accepted Christ. An estimated crowd of about 175 was present with over 60 young people present.

MOISTURE FOR YEAR BELOW PAR

According to our local weather observer, we have received only 1.16 inches of moisture so far this year thru Wednesday morning with showers in prospect later this week. At this same time last year we had received a total of 4.32 inches. No moisture was recorded in February and only .09 inch was recorded in March. Maybe the much needed moisture will arrive during April.

to find out the depth of love which the baby monkey had for his mother. Surely this is going too far.

One cannot give what he doesn't have. For instance we must be happy before we can pass happiness along to others. We usually gain by giving, even in the realm of happiness . . .

Someone has said that the safest way to double your money is fold it once over and put it in your pocket.

When our new book, Plowin' Out The Corners came from the press just about two months ago we let ourselves in for a bad situation. Upon being needed by our wife about the printing bill we pledged to sell so many in the first three months or eat "one" copy. We have one month to go and about 300 to sell to avoid being told, "I told you so." Don't feel too sorry for us though, because we will find some way to save face even if they don't sell by then. Why, even last week she fed me a new-fangled cake that was supposed to contain three grated raw carrots. It tasted good. If you know of a recipe that could have inserted into it 64 pages of printed matter, please send it to us before May 3rd.

In the last three months we have had a chance to observe first-hand the workings of Faith City Mission in Amarillo, Texas. Their mission is to the down-trodden who are discouraged, hungry and broke; many times not even sober. In front of the Mission hangs this sign, "Don't beg or steal, come to us for a meal." On top of a meal there awaits a clean bed, and perhaps even some better clothes. During any given month as many as 4,000 may come for meals and other helps. In this ministry of mercy something far more precious than food is given out. To each one who comes that way is given some testimony about Jesus, or a message from His Word about salvation. You would need to go and see for yourself in order to believe some of the blessings and results that come from this work. Along with your food and clothing which they pass out for you, goes also the story of Jesus and His Great Love . . .

Mrs. Daisy White of Waka, Texas sends us some good thoughts along with a beautiful poem about old friends. We quote the first verse from this lovely thought called —

OLD FRIENDS
 There are no friends like old friends,
 And none so good and true;
 We greet them when we meet them,
 As roses greet the dew.
 No other friends are dearer,
 Though born of kindred mold;
 And while we prize the new ones,
 We treasure more the old.

We say Thank You to Mrs. White who reads our column in the Donley County Leader. Many of you will remember when she was for so long a resident of this area. Another good thought from her letter goes like this —
 "A friend is a present you give yourself."

What has become of the old time Indian peach? We are thinking of the luscious red cling that grows from a seedling and is so deliciously good for peach pickles. Several times we thought that we had found them again but it turned out to be a bit different. The peach we remember was blood red all the way to the seed. At least, until this week we thought this fruit might be a thing of the past. However, we were talking with Mrs. A. L. Stevens of Rt. 1, Happy, Texas and she tells us that she has a small tree which in spite of the late freeze has about a half dozen blooms. A friend gave her two seed which she planted and one has grown into reality. We already have our request in for some of the seed if and when the tree produces. The very thought makes our mouth water . . .

The good old days: Back when the only thing your wife owed was a cup of sugar, to the next door neighbor.

"Up until recently, one of the many things which has made this country great has been the way we handled our local problems here at home. Here we all know what's going on, and we maintain control of them, not leaving it to a group of bubble-headed bureaucrats in Washington to tell us how to run our community. If we strive, slave and work, and still can't solve our community problems, we try the next best thing. "Let's tell our senators and congressmen we want them to choke off this latest move of big central Federal government getting into our home town affairs, and stop this Department of Urban Affairs!"—Benton, Missouri, Democrat.

The peoples of the world are today confronted with a choice between two basic philosophies of government — the Communist philosophy on the one hand, and the philosophy of the free world on the other hand. These two philosophies are as diametrically opposed as two opposites could be. Either can be brought into clear focus as to its application to the individual. If those peoples who are trying to make a choice at this time would simply direct their attention to specifics, their decision would be easy. It makes little difference as to what segment of the economy or other area is used for comparative purposes as between these two ideologies. For the purpose of example, let us employ one of our most troublesome problems and compare it with the problem surrounding that same segment of the economy in the Communist world. I have reference to the farm problem. At the present time, the Agriculture Committee of the Congress is wrestling with this gigantic undertaking, and soon the Congress must adopt legislation designed to correct troubles and difficulties which have occurred because of obsolescence of certain provisions in former programs, and because the ingenuity of Man under the free enterprise system has created other problems. The major trouble involved is the simple fact that we in this country, under the incentive theory, a free enterprise economy, and the ingenuity of a free mind, are able to produce more food and fiber than our markets can absorb. The problem of the Soviet countries — Russia, Red China, and all of their satel-

FROM THE HIP—M/Sgt John W. Metz (Mannington, W. Va.) of the 2nd BG, 19th Inf, 25th Inf Div, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, instructs Pvt. Hollis R. Norrid (LaGrange, Ga.) in firing the U. S. Army's new M-60 machine gun from the hip in the standing position. This is part of an orientation on this weapon now underway in the division. Saco-Lowell Shops, Inc. produces the M-60.

lites — is the complete opposite of our problem. They have been wholly unable to produce enough food and fiber to meet the needs of their people. Summed up in one word, our problem is "feast," theirs is "famine." With all of the technology and advancements in farming practices in this country, which have been available to the other people all over the world, and to which the Soviets had access, they have not been able to find even a beginning of the solution of their problem. Last year their production goals fell short by 16.3 million tons of grain, 16 million tons of milk, and 3 million tons of wheat. The per capita meat consumption in the Soviet Union is less than half of the American level. Just the other day, word came that Canada had agreed to sell 39 million bushels of wheat to Red China at an estimated price of $75 million. It was alleged in the story that this wheat was for the purpose of feeding the Red army and the high officials in Red China. This has great significance, because anyone who has ever been in a Communist country readily recognizes the fact that the first to sit down at the table are the Soviet officials and the military. If there is no food for them, then the people don't eat. Hence, it can be concluded that the food situation in Red China is probably more serious than many have believed. The Chinese can turn to Russia, but they will receive no help because Russia is in the same plight. Their problem is one that must be solved, or at least alleviated, promptly because Man Cannot live without food and fiber. If all the grass crops should fail for one year, every living creature on earth would perish. Theirs is a problem the solution of which cannot be delayed if their people are to live. Of course, ours is also a serious problem and every effort must be made toward its solution. However, by comparison ours fades into insignificance. If we fail to solve it this year, we can be assured that there will be plenty to eat and plenty to wear while we continue to work on it. As problems go, I think we would all prefer the one that seems to be plaguing us.

WE WILL SEE WHAT WE WILL SEE

President Kennedy's recent order to top officers of the government, including those at the Cabinet level, to cut expenses wherever possible clearly resulted from the irresistible force of circumstances. The deficit for the current fiscal year is now expected to reach $6,900,000,000, and that will come on top of the $3,900,000,000 deficit for the fiscal year that closed at the end of June.

The President said: "The current outlook re-emphasizes the necessity to conduct the necessary work of the government at the lowest possible cost, to eliminate or defer low priority activities, and to limit the number of government employees to the absolute minimum."

The Presidential order was couched in general terms. Now we will see what happens in specifics. The agency heads must be held to close account — for, as sad past precedent so abundantly proves, it is one thing to talk about economy in government, and a very different thing to achieve it.

One more point: The President's order, of course, applies only to the executive branch if the government. Just what will be the attitude of the next Congress when all the not-yet-passed, multi-billion dollar welfare state proposals appear again?

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Mr. T. C. D'Spain and 20 Years with his Conservation Plan

Mr. D'Spain now operates about 2100 acres of rangeland in the Alanreed community. He is a member of the Donley County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors and has been a member continuously since it was organized in 1947. He has been and still is a faithful worker in promoting conservation work in the district.

In a meeting of Soil Conservation District Supervisors in the Panhandle area held at Clarendon, Texas March 29, 1962 Mr. D'Spain made the following statements about his conservation program. He took over this land or about 1400 acres from his dad over 20 years ago. At that time 522 acres were in cultivation and the man who had been working it told D'Spain that it didn't hurt the land to blow, because it would blow one way one day and back the other way the next day but D'Spain said he knew that this wasn't true and he began trying to study out ways to save and improve his land. One of the first things he did was to start building terraces at the top of the slope in the cultivated land. Terracing was continued till 17 miles were constructed in all.

Today all the cropland has been seeded back to grass except about 40 acres. In the beginning D'Spain stocked this place with about 50 mother cows. Today he can carry about 100 mother cows.

While D'Spain was improving this place he leased about 700 acres of grassland so he could rest his own land and let the grass regain its vigor and growth. D'Spain grazes his grass so as to leave about 50 percent of the grass growth on the land at all times.

By leaving this amount of grass on the land he can catch all the rain that falls and let it soak into the soil where it falls. He said that if he allowed cows to graze grass down to the ground that all that valuable water would run off the slope and leave none to grow grass the coming growing season. Also it would cause the soil to erode and blow. Other things that he has done to conserve water and protect the land is to construct dams. He has constructed 12 dams for livestock water and 5 erosion control dams since starting his conservation program over 20 years ago. He said that each time he constructs a new dam that the water table around and below the dam site rises and that the best grazing on his place is below the dam sites where there is extra water. He plans to keep building dams as long as he can find sites and sees a need for them.

Mr. D'Spain's main objective is to conserve and make what he has better for the future for his son to use if he wants to or for whoever it might fall to if his son doesn't want to ranch. He encourages each and every one of you to help conserve our natural resources in every way possible.

THE UNMANNED, JET-POWERED DRONE used in the U. S. Army's AN/USD-5 combat surveillance system is fired from its flat-bed trailer-launcher. Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp., Hagerstown, Md., was recently awarded a $7,875,000 contract for three multi-purpose drone systems. The systems, under development by the U. S. Army Signal Corps Research and Development Laboratory, Ft. Monmouth, N. J., will allow battlefield commanders to learn instantly, without risking a single soldier, what is going on in enemy territory.

Terracing

Do you plan to construct terraces on your cropland before planting time this spring? If so, now is the time to start planning and making arrangements to get the work done.

There is significant erosion control benefits from terracing the gentle slopes. The cultivated land with steeper slopes cannot be row cropped without serious erosion unless terraces are constructed at proper intervals and then is farmed on the contour.

Terraces vary in number, height, and width according to the slope of your land. Terraces should not be constructed on land not suited for cultivation. Also, terraces vary as to type or kind, just as soils vary in texture here and in the nearby communities.

Terracing is one important structural method of preventing erosion on cultivated land suitable and profitable for farming. It is by no means the whole solution to our erosion control problem on cropland. If used with cover crops and soil improving crops, terraces can assist in maintaining soil fertility and will improve the productivity of the land by holding water on the land until it has been absorbed by the soil. Also, terraces help prevent gully and sheet erosion, but cannot be substituted for a good cropping system. Terraces properly constructed is the beginning of sound land use.

The Northern Star Seed Farms Has broken all of their previous records in cotton production this year.

The Northern Star No-5 has produced up to 2½ bales per acre. With restrictions off on skip row planting and with the high price on cotton it will be wise for the farmer to plan to plant the latest improved Northern Star No-5 cotton. No 5 is strictly a variety for machine stripping and hand snapping. All operations in connection with planting and harvesting this cotton can be done with machine.

Northern Star No. 4-11 is a variety recommended for spindle picking or hand pulling.

All seed were stored early. They are well cured and high in germination. They will be on hand at the gins and C. W. Bennett in your vicinity. It pays to plant good seed — Book your order now.
